CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Boys' Athletic Association will meet at the First Baptist church tomorrow night to complete details for the coming athletic meet.

"What Is Success?" will be the topic of the Christian Endeavor Society meeting at the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow night.

The Junior Society of the Congregational church will meet in the church this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. A programme of interest has been prepared.

The Pastor's Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church, which recently elected officers, is planning to hold an entertainment in the chapel in the near future.

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church will hold a sewing meeting in the chapel tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

"The Nehemiah Brooks' Musical Trio," of Atlantic City, will give a benefit entertainment for the Salvation Army at the local barracks on East Second street, Wednesday night, March 20, at 8 o'clock.

The officers of the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday-school will give a reception on Thursday night, March 21, to the classes taught by Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Finn. An elaborate programme will be presented.

The Ladies' Missionary and Aid Society, of Warren chapel, will hold its annual meeting in the chapel tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. There will also be an address by Mrs. Adrain Lyon, of Perth Amboy, on immigration.

Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, of Grace church, will preach at St. Stephen's church, tonight and on Friday night, March 22, Rev. S. P. Simpson, former rector of the church, but now of St. Clement's church, New York, will preach.

Interest is increasing in the movement to organize a Young Women's Christian Association in Plainfield, and it now looks as though it would succeed. Several hundred women have signed petitions asking that such an association be formed.

An Epworth League literary and social meeting will be held in the First M. E. church tomorrow night under the direction of the social committee. It will be called "An Evening with China," and those in charge promise as interesting a time as at the "Belated Picnic," last month.

"From the Schoolhouse to the Pulpit," will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Rev. E. E. Roberson at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church. It will be given under the auspices of the Epworth League, and in addition there will be an entertainment by the Musical Stewarts. A silver offering will be received.

Under the auspices of the Boys' Mission Band, of Trinity Reformed church, an excellent musical and literary entertainment will be given in the lecture room tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. There will be piano selections, recitations and selections on a Victor talking-machine by Elston M. Leonard and Henry Brose.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the First M. E. church, held its annual meeting Tuesday afternoon in Vincent chapel and elected these officers: President, Mrs. L. M. French; first vice-president, Mrs. Henry A. McGee; second vice-president, Mrs. James H. Robley; secretary, Mrs. Charles H. Lyman; treasurer, Mrs. Nelson Y. Hull. The annual reports showed that the society had a successful year.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

You can always get artists' materials at the Plainfield Art Store in the Y. M. C. A. building; also works of art.

William Hand & Sons, of East Second street, are reliable truckers and all work left in their charge will be attended to promptly.

Harry K. Lister, of North avenue, has a full line of all the latest records for the phonograph and Victor talking-machine. He also sells both the Edison phonograph and Victor machines.

A. M. Griffen's store on East Front street is headquarters for the best hardware, farming implements and ctulery. He also contracts to install all kinds of heating systems and to do sanitary plumbing.

Don't forget that the Woodhull & Martin Company, of East Front street, can furnish you with anything you want in the housefurnishing, men's furnishings, carpets, laces, embroideries, white goods, etc., at prices that will meet the limitations of your purse. The firm buys only one grade of goods—the best and you are always sure of getting the one kind.

Mrs. Bostwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Eoff, of Crescent avenue, and wife of Dr. Bostwick, of Gibraltar, is a passenger on the Steamer Carpathia, of the Cunard Line, en route for Plainfield, where she will visit her parents. She is accompanied by her two-months-old son and a Spanish maid. They are due to arrive tomorrow in New York. Owing to business engagements, Dr. Bostwick was unable to return with his family this time.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Perhaps the most popular plays today are those which introduce characters taken from life, from familiar localities with which one is acquainted or of which one has heard. Such a play is the "Queen of the Kidnappers," which is the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. In the play the characters all seem to be flesh and blood creatures, somewhat exaggerated in their stage appearance, but easily recognized. The play itself is chuck full of new specialties and contains a number of the latest features.

"In Old Kentucky," the popular and always welcome drama of Southern life, will be presented again at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night. This play is certainly one of the most remarkable melodramas ever written. Time—that frightful ravager of dramatic life—does not harm it, fate always plays with it. It stands in the front rank, and holds its own with the best of the modern plays of the day. The charm of the piece lies in its perpetual freshness and vigor. Its heart interest is simple and direct, its scenic attractiveness does not depend upon any passing fad, and its most thrilling scene has for its foundation that most stirring contest, the horse race. The tale of the wild flower maid of the Kentucky mountains, Madge Brierly, is nearly as well known as that of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which is probably as generally known as any play on the stage. Any detailed description of how Madge saves her lover's life by swinging across a chasm on a slender rope and later saves his wealth by riding his jockeyless racehorse to victory is quite unnecessary. Equally uncalled for are any remarks as to the wonders of the race track scene, when a half-dozen thoroughbreds tear across the stage abreast, or of the wonderfully entertaining pickaninny scene, in which a score or more of juvenile darkeys disport themselves in a barnyard scene in singing, buck and wing dancing, baton whirling and playing enough different brass instruments to constitute a full fledged brass band. The same wise judgment in furnishing an adequate production and a competent cast that has always marked the presentation of "In Old Kentucky" will be maintained as long as it continues its career on the American stage.

The affection with which Joseph Jefferson's memory is cherished and the admiration with which his name is spoken throughout this country is a broad and sufficient evidence that Thomas Jefferson, or, as he is known, Jefferson the Fifth, will be given a hearty welcome by the host of admirers whom his father had in this city. Thomas Jefferson was, during the life of his father, has ablest assistant, and was in many instances the only living person who thoroughly studied the golden art of the past dean. To his son Thomas the elder Jefferson confided every secret of his art, and his years of association so well fitted him to succeed as Rip Van Winkle that he has been playing the character for the past eight years. He is the acknowledged successor of the dean, and is holding the proud title as successor with well deserved prosperity. Mr. Jefferson comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night, after a most prosperous engagement at Wallack's theatre, New York city.

An unsurpassed ensemble of comedians and singers, two and a half hours of song and fun, superb scenery and costumes, and all the original appointments of metropolitan success, are the distinguishing features of "The Rogers Brothers in Ireland" in which the very popular Rogers Brothers will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. As is well known to observing theatregoers that the Rogers Brothers for the past nine years have been preeminent in the list of musical attractions and have repeatedly made runs in New York, Chicago and Boston of from 100 to 200 nights. It may therefore be deducted that both play and company possess exceptional merits. The company this season contains many of the original cast as well as new names of acknowledged popularity. Miss Marion Stanley is the leading lady.

"The Mayor of Tokio," earned enough applause and popularity last night at the New York theatre to have selected him the mayor of Greater New York, said the N. Y. Herald the morning after the piece was produced last season. Chicago liked "The Mayor of Tokio," where it played for almost 200 nights and it was one of the most successful musical pieces offered in New York. It is full of the quaint humor for which Richard Carle is famous. The dialogue is witty and the lyrics are funny, lending themselves readily to the tuneful music with which the opera abounds. Manager Gaites has given the piece a new dress of scenery and costumes and a company of seventy people. It will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday afternoon and night.

Miss Grace Carroll, the contralto soloist of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, was the soloist at the concert given in Aeolian Hall, New York, yesterday.

Mrs. Henry W. Brower and daughter, Miss Brower, of East Ninth street, have returned from New York, where they attended the marriage of John I. Brower and Miss Josephine Louise Gillmore on Tuesday night.

STATE GAZETTE'S BRAIN STORM.

The Trenton Daily State Gazette, which appears to be the official apologist and white-washer for the so-called leaders who would run the State's affairs to suit their own interests and not the interests of the sovereign people, pitches into Herman B. Walker today. The Mr. Walker in question is generally conceded to be by all odds the best informed political writer in the State. His correspondence constitutes the most accurate and instructive information on questions effecting the State and Nation to be found in any paper in the East. But the State Gazette is "sore." Walker's exposures of the machinations of the gangs at Washington and at Trenton have put the friends of the machine in a panic time and again. More than one plot has been shown up by him and the bosses know full well that he is a man to be feared.

Mr. Walker should clip that editorial "roast" and place it among his letters of testimonial. To have the State Gazette as an enemy is no reflection on any good Republican.

PERMANENT PAVEMENTS.

The action of the Councilmanic street committee in deciding that permanent pavements be laid in the business section of the city without further delay will meet with the hearty approval of the public. Particularly will the merchants and shoppers welcome the improvement for they realize only too well what a sad condition the macadamized streets have presented especially in wet weather. There are other street improvemnts considred quite necessary, among them being a storm sewer for Palinfield avenue, but none is so much needed at the present time as a proper pave for the heart of the city.

The Plainfield judge who sentenced a prisoner, charged with drunkenness, to one year in Newark, really ought to be ashamed of himself for placing such a premium on intoxication.—Newark News.

Such belief might be pardonable, had the editor never had to exist in that city.

Mr. Perkins won't exact a Carnegie medal for his heroism; he'll be satisfied with the next Congressional nomination.

JAMES ROOSEVELT LATHROP DIES AT ROOSEVELT HOSPITAL.

James Roosevelt Lathrop, who was superintendent of Roosevelt Hospital, New York, for twenty-three years, and who had a stroke of paralysis while visiting his brother-in-law, John H. Harris, on East Front street, the latter part of February, died yesterday at Roosevelt Hospital. It was largely due to his admirable administration that Roosevelt Hospital is today one of the best managed and equipped hospitals in the country.

Mr. Lathrop had planned to leave New York March 1 for California, where he hoped to make his future home and renew his health. He spent his boyhood in Pittsfield, Mass., and Rochester, N. Y. When he was seventeen years old he enlisted in the 6th United States Cavalry. After his service he was appointed as chief clerk of the Lincoln Hospital, where he remained until the latter part of 1865. He then became cashier of the Miners' and Mechanics' Savings Bank at Carbondale, Pa., where he remained for several years, when he went to New York and accepted an official position in Bloomingdale Asylum. He resigned in 1883 to become superintendent of Roosevelt Hospital.

VAN DYKE WILL NOT LEAVE PRINCETON

WITHDRAWS RESIGNATION FROM FACULTY OF UNIVERSITY.

All is happiness in Princeton at the announcement that the Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, Murray professor of English literature at Princeton, has decided to withdraw his resignation from the faculty of the university. The word was passed personally by Dr. Van Dyke last night, who, when seen at his home in Bayard lane, was smiling and happy. His library was swamped with telegrams and resolutions which he has received since the day his resignation was sent in.

Cleveland B. Dodge, of New York city, a personal friend of Dr. Van Dyke, was in conference with him last night when a reporter called at the house. Dr. Van Dyke was quite willing to talk, and gave out this statement:

"Avalon, Princeton, N. J.,
"March 13, 1907.

"To the President, Faculty, Alumni and Students of Princeton University:

"Gentlemen—You have overwhelmed me by the warm and earnest way in which you have all urged me to reconsider my purpose of withdrawing from the University to devote my time entirely to other work. Your friendly words and actions have altered my feelings and changed my mind. It will be necessary to trouble the trustees to consider my resignation. If you say that Princeton wants and needs me, I stay, and gladly do my best to serve her.

"Faithfully yours,
"HENRY VAN DYKE."

The trustees of the university will meet today, and will, in all probability, issue a set of resolutions thanking Dr. Van Dyke for his action. In a few days Dr. Van Dyke will leave for his trip abroad. He will return in time to resume duties here next fall. In the meantime, Professor Stock Taxson is delivering the course, for the two alternate, eaching taking half a year.

There is no truth in the reports that Dr. Van Dyke has been at variance with the policy of administration in Princeton. His reason for wanting to give up his duties here was that he wished to devote all his time to literary pursuits.

STOKES HAS NOT NAMED THE STATE ASSESSORS.

Samuel D. Dickinson and Theodore Strong Will Likely Be Named by Stokes.

Although Governor Edward C. Stokes did not send the names of Secretary of State Samuel D. Dickinson and State Assessor Theodore Strong to the Senate for reappointment, the opinion at Trenton last night was that he will do so in a week or two.

In regard to the appointment of former Senator Strong there is less doubt than in Mr. Dickinson's case, because of developments during the day. It was confidently asserted that Gov. Stokes is decidedly in favor of sending the name of Frank Crowther, an anti-Strong man, to the Senate for appointment as a member of the Middlesex County Board for the Equalization of Taxes to succeed George J. Heaney, a Strong man, now a member of that board.

Assemblyman Drake, another anti-Strong man, said today that under certain conditions he would not oppose the reappointment of former Senator Strong as member of the State Board of Assessors. He was in favor of harmony, and if the anti-Strong wing of the party in Middlesex was recognized in the appointment of Dr. Frank Crowther as member of the county board for the equalization of taxes, no opposition would be made to Mr. Strong. Dr. Crowther is a member of the Assembly, and resides in Perth Amboy, which also is the home of George J. Heaney, a Strong man, whose term expires soon. Governor Stokes makes the two appointments by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. As Mr. Strong is a former member of the Senate his nomination, if made, will be promptly confirmed.

Mr. Drake was in conference several times during the day with the Governor over county conditions in Middlesex, and he, as well as others who usually know which way things are going, say that Governor Stokes has refused to act on the suggestions of the Strong men to reappoint Mr. Heaney.

The Governor is trying to promote harmony in Middlesex, and since the anti-Strong men will not oppose Mr. Strong if his followers allow certain concessions, it seems likely that Mr. Strong will be reappointed. The Governor, however, is uncommunicative over the coming appointments.

It is considered probable that Secretary of State Dickinson will also succeed himself. While there is considerable opposition to Mr. Dickinson, it has not so far materalized in the form of the candidacy of any one for the place.

Improvise Ferry in Streets.

New York, March 14.—Residents of the Ridgewood section of Williamsburg established yesterday a ferry with rowboats owing to the overflow in Myrtle avenue from a point in St. Nicholas avenue, near the borough line, and then across the line to Cypress avenue. The sewers failed to carry off the water. Cars were unable to pass through the water, which in some places was five feet deep. Persons who desired to reach the borough line were obliged to make a wide detour.

There is a report current that a well known local man will build a hotel near the car barn at Dewey Park and apply for a liquor license. The report is not confirmed, and the feasibility of the scheme is doubted.

The Athletic Club, having slain the rumor that it is encouraging gambling, is energetically arranging to establish new quarters and go on as a wholesome social resort for the young men of the borough.

The street committee has made arrangements to clean up all the borough gutters, and to engage on a thorough overhauling of the roadways as soon as spring becomes an established fact.

The fourth quarterly conference was held by the Methodist church last night. Rev. Dr. Halloran addressed the congregation before the meeting.

Mrs. A. G. Nelson and Miss Alice Pierce have completed the compilation of the Baptist fair cook book. The work will be a valuable kitchen aide.

It is rumored that the Baptist deacons have fixed on a successor to the pastorate. The name of the preacher, however, has not been hinted at.

George Schenck says his ice crop is as fine a one as he ever cut. Some of the blocks are fifteen inches thick.

The Dewey Park car barns are expected to be opened tomorrow. No ceremonies have been planned.

Fred Morton went to New Brunswick yesterday to see the ruins of the big wallpaper factory fire.

The household and farming goods in the Goddu place will be sold at auction tomorrow afternoon.

The baseball club has issued an attractive schedule of the Inter-City League.

Mrs. Frank Hartley, of Greenbrook, is confined to the house by illness.

Silas Dewey Drake, who has been very ill for weeks, is recovering his health.

RAHWAY.

Six letters were found Tuesday in the different collection boxes with no stamps on them. Two stamps thrown in loosely were found in one box. There was no way to find out on which letters the stamps belonged, so all are held at the postoffice.

Rev. Dr. T. C. Mayham assisted in stopping a runaway horse Tuesday and rescuing the driver from a snowbank, into which he had been hurled when the sleigh overturned, at Milton avenue and Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ward and daughter and Miss Edyth Bracher are expected home from Florida next Saturday.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

A little span of years bounded by measureless mystery before and behind and all around—such is this existence of ours. We came here, we do not remember when, we do not know whence or how. We go, how soon none can tell, whither? Who can answer?

Ah, but it is not so important whither we go as what we are when we go. Myself is the thing of moment and not the place I chance to be in, not the garments I have for the time being put on. Whether hither or yon I may go, the one thing that abides is myself. And life is not in place or things so much, not the outward, but the inner, thinking, feeling and doing one. I am I whether at home or over seas in distant lands, among friends or strangers.

And life is not in years so much either. Life is in the fullness of our thinking, feeling, doing. Life is just simply being me. But which me? It is not true life to feel the ugly, vengeful, proud, boasting, coveting, lusting, evil loving, hateful powers and feeling growing more powerful and clamorous and choking down all the sweeter and gentler elements.

It is to feel the good and bright and joyous and excellent gaining strength and filling increasingly all the channels of existence. It is in getting more of the God power and love within and working out in all our activities that is living.

What, then, is immortality? Is it simply the extension of time, the adding to earthly years a greater number, the piling up of earthly sensations and experiences a greater stock? Is that immortality? Hardly.

Immortality is a new existence, different in quality from the sensuous and earthy. It is of the inner spirit. It has thought and feeling and action of spirit in doing. But it has love and joy and sweetness of hope and all the heavenly goods which a human spirit can receive from God the Father of Spirits. It is communion with God in all that pertains to spirit life. This is what is meant when in the New Testament eternal life is represented as begun here in time on this earth. But there is more to it than can ever be developed on earthly soil.

These bodies are earthly and mortal. When these have been laid aside, then the spirit, freed from this body of corruption, is to be clothed upon with that body which is from heaven, like unto the glorious body of our blessed Lord Jesus Christ.

What is that to be like? we ask. But who can answer? And if one could describe it, who could understand the meaning of it all?

You have seen fish and you have seen the flesh of animals. You have seen how these live. If you had seen only these among living creatures, would you ever be able to imagine what a bird was like if any one should describe one to you?

That glorified body is to be different from anything we have ever seen or that has ever been except once, as it now is in the possession of our Lord. We are to be like Him. No fancy can picture it rightly. What use to attempt the task?

Enough for us that we shall have the body fitted for the purified spirit and shall be with the Master in the mansions of our Father's house.

Our care should be to so cultivate the eternal life now within that we shall be ready when this tabernacle is dissolved to receive the new one, the building of God.

Rejoicing In God's Goodness.

Why should we not rejoice in the good things of God? If the day is pure and serene, we enjoy its gladness. Why should we not rejoice in the serene light of truth that shines from heaven upon us? We find a joy in the presence and cheerful greeting of our friends. Why should we not look up to heaven, where so many pure and most loving faces look upon us with divine affection and with most tender desire to cheer and help us? Having an almighty and most loving Father, in whom we live and move and have our being, let us rejoice in Him. Having a most loving Saviour, who has made Himself our brother and feeds us with His life, we ought surely to rejoice in Him. Having the Holy Spirit of God with us, making us His temples and pouring His love into our hearts, we ought certainly to answer His love and rejoice in His overflowing goodness. "Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say, Rejoice."—William Bernard Ullathorne.

Christlike.

How easily and contentedly we speak of Jesus Christ as our example. Do we realize what it means? If we did, it would revolutionize our life. Do we begin to know our Bible as He did? Do we begin to pray as He did? How thoughtful He was for others, how patient toward dullness, how quiet under insult! Think of what it meant for Him to take a basin and towel, like a slave, and wash the disciples' feet! Do we stoop to serve? Can any one say of us, as was said of Him, that we go about "doing good?" Think of His words, servants of His, "I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you."

"Christlike" is a word often on our lips. Do not speak it too lightly. It is the heart of God's predestination. It is our high calling.—Maltbie D. Babcock.

Sacrifice.

Very few of us will have the chance of heroic self devotion, but every day brings the petty, wearing sacrifice which weighs full weight in God's scales.—Osgood.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 17.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—What is success?—Prov. iii, 1-18.

Success in a purely technical sense "is the attainment of a proposed object." In this sense the man who makes it the object of his life to win a great fortune and does so is successful in that he accomplishes what he has aimed for. But the word as used in our topic has a much broader meaning. It refers to success in life. Who is a successful life? To this question varied answers would be given by different people. It all depends upon our conception of life. To many people the amassing of wealth is success, to others the attainment of high position, and to others again it is the winning of fame in one form or another. But life is made up of many interests, and the reaching of no one goal will necessarily mean success. Many men have reached positions of wealth, of high honor and fame, and yet their lives have been failures. They themselves in no few instances would be the first to pronounce them so. Let us then get no false idea of success.

What, then, is success? If compelled to answer this question simply and plainly, what better answer could be given than that success is the faithful performance of all the duties of life that devolve upon us. God brings every human being into this world for a purpose, and he who comes the nearest to the fulfillment of that purpose is successful, whether he dies rich or poor, occupying high or humble position or his name be known or unknown to the world. He is successful who at the end of life can look back and say with the Master, "I have finished the work which Thou gavest me to do." And nothing else is success. Honors won in one direction will not make up for failure to perform the duties of life in other directions.

Success in this highest and truest sense embraces the duties owed to God, to our fellow men and to ourselves. God must stand first in every successful life. The life that ignores or neglects God is the saddest of failures. To neglect God is to neglect the soul, the highest, the immortal part of our being, and of course there can be no success in such a life. Then we sustain various relations to the rest of the people of the world. A selfish life is never a successful life. The man who thinks not of his duties to others, or, even worse, mistreats them for the accomplishment of his own personal ambitions, cannot be looked upon as successful. We also owe duties to ourselves, and these are not to be neglected or abused.

Solomon was most competent to speak with authority upon the subject of success. His experiences in those things which the world commonly looks upon as success make his words of especial value upon the subject. He had wisdom, wealth, pleasure, power honor, fame. Perhaps he has never been surpassed in the glory and splendors of earthly honors that were his. And yet he does not declare that these things spell success. He ignores them and exalts especially obedience to God, the right treatment of our fellow men and the cultivation of the personal virtues that make a good character as the essential things in life. As his life drew to a close he looked back upon it all, and, forgetting all earthly splendor and glory, he declared: "Fear God and keep His commandments. This is the whole duty of man." Do this, and your life will be successful. Otherwise it will be a failure. Which will you choose to make it?

BIBLE READINGS.

Prov. i, 7; iv, 1-9; vii, 1-4; xi, 1-8; xxii, 1, 2; Eccl. ii, 1-11; xii, 1, 13, 14; Matt. v, 1-12; vi, 24-34; John xvii, 1-4.

The New General Secretary.

At a recent meeting of the board of trustees of the United Society of Christian Endeavor William Shaw of Boston, who has been identified with the Christian Endeavor movement for more than twenty years, was chosen general secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor in the place of Von Ogden Vogt, who has resigned the general secretaryship in order to take up a position with the Presbyterian home mission board. Mr. Shaw is unusually gifted for his new position. During the last year alone he has traveled tens of thousands of miles, addressing not less than 125 unions in twenty-eight states. During the past three years there has been a net gain of over 5,000 Christian Endeavor societies, as shown by the records in the general secretary's office at Boston.

WILLIAM SHAW.

Patriotic Endeavor.

The Christian Endeavorers of Winnipeg, Canada, showed their patriotic spirit in the erection of a monument in front of the town hall to the memory of Queen Victoria. The C. E. monogram is carved on the stone at either side of a buffalo head, and the pillar is surmounted with a bust of the queen.

Conventions Mean Work.

In preparing for the recent Australasian Christian Endeavor convention 3,500 items of correspondence were issued by the convention secretary.

The Recruiting Office.

The Christian Endeavor society should be the recruiting office of the church to draw outsiders into it.—Smith Baker, D. D.

At that moment my eyes, sweeping the broken outer doors, saw the face of Pickering. He had come to see that his orders were obeyed, and I remember yet my satisfaction, as, hemmed in by the men he had hired to kill me or drive me out, I felt, rather than saw, the cowardly horror depicted upon his face.

Then the trio pressed upon me. As I threw down my club and drew my revolver, some one across the room fired several shots, whose roar through the room seemed to arrest the fight for an instant, and then, while Stoddard stood at my side swinging his chair defensively, the great chandelier, loosened or broken by the shots, fell with a mighty crash of its crystal pendants. The sheriff, leaping away from Stoddard's chair, was struck on the head and borne down by the heavy glass.

Smoke from the firing floated in clouds across the room, and there was a moment's silence save for the sheriff, who was groaning and cursing under the debris of the chandelier. At the door Pickering's face appeared again anxious and frightened. I think the scene in the room and the slow progress his men were making against us had half-paralyzed him.

We were all getting our second wind for a renewal of the fight, with Morgan in command of the enemy. One or two of his men, who had gone down early in the struggle, were now crawling back for revenge. I think I must have raised my hand and pointed at Pickering, for Bates wheeled like a flash and before I realized what happened he had dragged the executor into the room.

"You scoundrel—you ingrate!" howled the servant.

The blood on his face and bare chest and the hatred in his eyes made him a hideous object; but in that lull of the storm while we waited, watching for an advantage, I heard, somewhere in the wall, that same sound of footsteps that I had remarked before. Larry and Stoddard heard it; Bates heard it, and his eyes fixed upon Pickering with a glare of malicious delight.

"There comes our old friend, the ghost," yelled Larry.

"I think you are quite right, sir," said Bates. He threw down the revolver he held in his hand and leaned upon the edge of the long table that lay on its side, his gaze still bent on Pickering, who stood with his overcoat buttoned close, his derby hat on the floor beside him, where it had fallen as Bates hauled him into the room.

The sound of a measured step, of some one walking, of a careful foot on a stairway, was quite distinct. I even remarked the slight stumble that I had noticed before.

We were all so intent on those steps in the wall that we were off guard. I heard Bates yell warningly, and Larry and Stoddard rushed for Pickering. He had drawn a revolver from his overcoat pocket and was about to fire at me when Stoddard sent the weapon flying through the air.

"Only a moment now, gentlemen," said Bates, an odd smile on his face. He was looking past me toward the right end of the fireplace. There seemed to be in the air a feeling of something impending. Even Morgan and his men, half-crouching, ready for a rush at me, hesitated; and Pickering glanced nervously from one to the other of us. It was the calm before the storm; in a moment we should be at each other's throats for the final struggle, and yet we waited. In the wall I heard still the sound of steps. They were clear to all of us now. We stood there for what seemed an eternity—I suppose the time was really not more than 30 seconds—inert, waiting, while I felt that something must happen; the silence, the waiting, were intolerable. I grasped my pistol and bent low for a spring at Morgan; and every man in the room was instantly on the alert.

All but Bates. He remained rigid—that curious smile on his blood-smeared face, his eyes bent toward the end of the great fireplace back of me.

That look on his face held, arrested, numbed me; I followed it. I forgot Morgan; a tacit truce held us all again. I stepped back till my eyes fastened on the broad paneled chimney-breast at the right of the hearth, and it was there now that the sound of footsteps in the wall was heard again; then it ceased utterly, the long panel opened slowly, creaking slightly upon its hinges, then down into the room stepped Marian Devereux. She wore the dark gown in which I had seen her last, and a cloak was drawn over her shoulders.

She laughed as her eyes swept the room.

"Ah, gentlemen," she said, shaking her head, as she viewed our disorder, "what wretched housekeepers you are!"

Steps were again heard in the wall, and she turned to the panel, held it open with one hand and put out the other, waiting for some one who followed her.

Then down into the room stepped my grandfather, John Marshall Glenarm! His staff, his cloak, the silk hat above his shrewd face, and his sharp, black eyes were unmistakable. He drew a silk handkerchief from the skirts of his frock coat, with a characteristic flourish that I remembered well, and brushed a bit of dust from his sleeve before looking at any of us. Then his eyes fell upon me.

"Good morning, Jack," he said; and then gazed with mild curiosity about the room.

"God help us!"

It was Morgan, I think, who screamed these words as he bolted for the broken door, but Stoddard caught and held him.

"Thank God, you're here, sir!" broke forth in Bates' sepulchral voice.

It seemed to me that I saw all that happened with a weird, unnatural distinctness, as one sees, before a storm, vivid outlines of far headlands that the usual light of day fails to disclose.

I was myself dazed and spellbound; but I do not like to think, even now, of the effect of my grandfather's appearance on Arthur Pickering; of the shock that seemed verily to break him in two, so that he staggered, then collapsed, his head falling as though to strike his knees. Larry caught him by the collar and dragged him to a seat, where he huddled, his twitching hands at his throat.

"Gentlemen," said my grandfather, "you seem to have been enjoying yourselves. Who is this person?"

He pointed with his stick to the sheriff, who was endeavoring to crawl out from under the mass of broken crystals.

"That, sir, is the sheriff," answered Bates.

"A very disorderly man, I must say. Jack, what have you been doing to cause the sheriff so much inconvenience? Didn't you know that that chandelier was likely to kill him? That thing cost a thousand dollars. Gentlemen, you are expensive visitors. Ah, Morgan,—and Ferguson, too! Well, well! I thought better of both of you. Good morning, Stoddard! A little work for the church militant! And this gentleman?"—he indicated Larry, who was, for once in his life, without anything to say.

"Pleased, I'm sure," said the old gentleman. "Glad the house has a friend. It seems to have had enemies enough," he added, and eyed the wreck of the room ruefully. The good humor in his face reassured me; but still I stood in tongue-tied wonder, staring at him.

"And Pickering!" John Marshall Glenarm's voice broke with a quiet mirth that I remembered as the preface usually of something unpleasant. "Well, Arthur, I'm glad to find you on guard, defending the interests of my estate. At the risk of your life, too! Bates!"

"Yes, Mr. Glenarm."

"You ought to have called me earlier. I really prized that chandelier immensely. And this furniture wasn't so bad!"

His tone changed abruptly. He pointed to the sheriff's deputies one after the other with his stick. There was, I remembered, always something insinuating, disagreeable and final about my grandfather's staff.

"Clear out!" he commanded. "Bates, see these fellows through the wall. Mr. Sheriff, if I were you I'd be very careful, indeed, what I said of this affair. I'm a dead man come to life again, and I know a great deal that I didn't know before I died. Nothing, gentlemen, fits a man for life like a temporary absence from this cheerful and pleasant world. I recommend you to try it."

Our New "Elbeco" Machine Club.

The average machine sold on the so-called "club" plan is a nameless affair of uncertain origin. Our "Elbeco" machine bears the name plate of one of America's largest makers. On the old-fashioned "club" plan you would be obliged to pay an "initiation" fee (which was clear profit to the dealer) and sundry "extras," such as interest, cost of delivery, etc. Our "Elbeco" club is a clean-cut, straightforward business proposition; and no interest is levied upon you, nor are you compelled to pay any membership fees or other dues. Our new "Elbeco" machine is positively the same as the maker sells under his own name and by his own agents at from $45 to $60. Before joining our club you pay $2 as a guarantee of good faith, whereupon the machine is delivered to your home. The $2 applies directly to the cost of the machine, and the balance ($20.50) may be taken care of in weekly amounts of $1. Have you ever heard of a more generous offer? $45 to $60 machines in the strictest sense of the word. 5th floor.

Senators Receive Protests Against Bill Menacing the School Fund.

Trenton, March 14.—Twenty-five additional bills introduced in the Senate, an hour devoted in the same body to an attempt on the part of several Senators to show their regard for the old soldier vote by making it appear that they wanted an appropriation of $10,000 for the location of a monument to the Fifteenth New Jersey Volunteers at Salem Church, Va., while they all voted to make the appropriation $6,500, to which it had been reduced by the Appropriation Committee, and the fact that the latter has, according to the members thereof, only commenced its labors, makes it apparent that the Legislature, if it proposes to adjourn this month, will have to work at a more vigorous and sustained pace than any shown during the nine weeks of the session already passed and the opening night of the tenth week.

PLANS FOR RAHWAY BRIDGE.

Rahway, March 14.—City Treasurer C. H. Angleman reports the purchase by the city of the right of way for the extension of Church street from its present terminus to Central avenue, a distance of 800 feet. The price is about $1,300. The object of the purchase is to permit the erection of a bridge across the Robinson branch of the Rahway River, the construction of which will be commenced as soon as the freeholders so decide.

Filling in of the lowlands to the required high-water level has been going on since options were secured two weeks ago. The tops of the banks at each side are to be graded. The average filling in required will be about four and one-half feet. The proposed bridge will, it is expected, be about seventy-eight feet long, though it may be 100 feet in length, with an abuttment in the centre.

Will Celebrate Fifteenth Anniversary

William C. Carl will celebrate his fifteenth anniversary as organist and director of the music in the Old First Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue and 12th street, New York, Monday night, March 18, with an organ concert. Mr. Carl will be assisted by Adele Laeis Baldwin, contralto, and Hans Kronold, 'cellist. The concert will be free to the public and no tickets will be required.

Mrs. A. D. Edgar, of East Front street, has returned from a visit with her mother at Lebanon, Hunterdon county.

P. H. S. GIRLS' TEAM WINS.

The girls' basketball team of the Plainfield High School journeyed to Westfield yesterday and defeated the girls' High School team of that place by a score of 16 to 6. Although the game was fast and interesting throughout, frequent fouls were called. This is the last out of town gave the P. H. S. five have scheduled. The team will now be divided, some additions made, and basketball will go on, the teams being known as the Red and Blue. With this arrangement closer games are anticipated; the girls' team has not lost a game this season.

The local line-up: Forwards, B. Fleming, G. Moody; guards, B. Alpaugh, E. Crampton; center, F. Smalley. Referee, Charles Morse; umpire, Miss Ferry.

HIGHLAND PARK BOOM IS WELL UNDER WAY.

French Buys Five Houses and Others Purchase Desirable Tracts Intending to Build.

The five houses now in course of construction at Highland Park, north of the Netherwood station, started by L. W. Spear, have been purchased by Elston M. French for the Highland Park Realty Co., and are now rapidly nearing completion. Many more houses are under contract to be erected this spring. The water company has agreed to lay mains through the Park and the pipes have been delivered to be laid as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

Many additional street improvements are to be made this sping. Among the recent purchasers at Highland Park are John Cotter, who has bought several lots on Leland avenue as well as a house on that street which has been recently completed; D. J. Galbraith, who has bought four lots on George street; William W. Wright, of New York, four lots on Leland avenue; Louis Beck, of this city, two lots on George street; Ralph Bullman, of this city, two lots on East Second street, and Benjamin Snyder, of East Front street, two and one-half lots on Emerson avenue.

IT WAS NOT ALIMONY BUT A DIVORCE SHE WANTED.

Rutherford Kirk was arrested in Bloomfield yesterday by Officer Shorter on complaint of his wife Lillian, of Brookside place, who complained that he did not support her. When arraigned before Recorder Cadmus the prisoner said he was willing and able to contribute to her support, and even agreed to furnish a bond to fulfill his part of the agreement.

"We don't want your money," said the wife and her mother in chorus.

"What!" said the court. "You don't want his money?"

"No," answered Mrs. Kirk, "I dont."

"Then why did you have him arrested for non-support?" the recorder asked.

"I want a divorce, that's what I want, and the sooner I get it the better," Mrs. Kirk replied.

"I can't give you a divorce," the court said.

"You cant'?"

"No, I can't, and inasmuch as you don't want his money I will have to discharge the prisoner."

"You can go, Kirk," said the court, and the prisoner made a bee line for the door.

LETTER FOR "MR. STORK."

Little Girl Writes to Central Park Requesting Baby.

New York, March 14.—When Secretary Frank Loughman, of the park department, opened his mail Tuesday he found a letter addressed to "Mr. Stork, Central Park, New York," written in a slopping, childish hand, and reading as follows:

"23 Pinfiree Avenue, Detroit.

"Dear Mr. Stork—Please bring Frances Stevens a baby boy, a white baby. Do you bring clothes, too?

"Yours truly,
"FRANCES STEVENS.

"P. S.—I like you, Mr. Stork."

Mr. Loughman, touched by the appeal, wrote a reply, which read:

"Dear Little Friend—We are out of babies, but expect a new lot in soon. We shall not forget you when they come.

"FRANCIS LOUGHMAN,
"Secretary Park Department."

Open Schools to Japs.

San Francisco, Cal., March 14.—The San Francisco Board of Education, keeping its word with President Roosevelt, unanimously rescinded yesterday the resolution of last October by which Japanese were segregated in the public schools, and adopted an alternative resolution in accordance with the understanding reached at the Washington conference. The Board notified President Roosevelt by telegraph of its action. Mr. Roosevelt having telegraphed Mayor Schmitz that he would direct Mr. Devlin to dismiss the suits against the Board of Education in the United States Circuit Court and in the Supreme Court of California as soon as the action stated should be taken by the board, members of that body look on the Japanese incident as now closed so far as San Francisco is concerned.

For State Ship Canal.

There was a brief discussion in the State Senate at Trenton yesterday on what is known as "Bradley's ship canal bill," which provides for a canal 250 feet wide through the State. The bill was passed, 16 to 0.

CLOSED PORTALS.

One candidate was initiated and several propositions were received at last night's meeting of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E. The committee in charge of the arrangements for the Philadelphia trip reported progress.

At the next meeting of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will begin to plan for the observance of Memorial Day in the usual manner. Committees will be appointed to secure a speaker for the day and arrange for the parade and other details.

Friendship Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, at its meeting this week, took suitable action relating to the recent death of the grand lodge secretary of Odd Fellows. It was also planned to hold a series of entertainments this spring, commencing with a Lenten social on Tuesday night, March 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hicks, 824 West Third street.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Preparatory services will be held at Hope chapel tonight at 8 o'clock. Rev. L. R. Howard, the pastor, will deliver an address on the subject of "The Lord's Supper a Rebuke to Indifference." After the meeting the pastor will meet those who intend to unite with the chapel. Communion services will be held Sunday night.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will have charge of the meeting at the Hunter Avenue Tabernacle, tonight, and Rev. A. E. Finn will lead.

RAILROAD BILL ADVANCED.

It Refers to Charge for Delay in Unloading Cars.

Trenton, March 14.—When Assemblyman Henry J. Earle's bill amending the present law providing that no railroad company shall be entitled to any charge for delay in unloading goods until after the expiration of two days from the time such car has been placed in position for unloading, as amended in committee, so that four days would be the limit, came up for passage yesterday in the House of Assembly, Assemblyman William W. Smalley moved that the bill be recommitted for amendment.

"I think that the limit should be three days," he said.

Assemblyman Charles E. Hendrickson, Jr., of Hudson, speaking for Mr. Earle, who was absent, said that the absent member was in favor of the amendment. The bill was recommitted for the purpose of amendment and was later advanced to a third reading in the amended form.

TOWN HALL FOR MONTCLAIR.

Bill Passes Assembly With Referendum Clause Attached.

Trenton, March 14.—Montclair may have a new town hall, so far as the lower house of the Legislature is concerned, for yesterday Assemblyman Daniel J. Brady's bill authorizing an appropriation not to exceed $100,000 took a quick course through the House.

The bill, it is said, had not met with the approval of some of the residents of Montclair. Several prominent citizens asked Mr. Brady to insert a referendum clause in the bill, and he did so. The clause allows the Common Council of Montclair to hold a public hearing on the proposition and order an election to determine whether or not the residents of the town desire the new town hall. The towns of Kearny and Bloomfield were also interested in the passage of the bill, because in a year or two the authorities of these municipalities will avail themselves of the measure. The bill will undoubtedly pass the Senate and become a law.

Bridge Goes Down.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 14.—Three men drowned, a railroad bridge washed away, a county bridge in danger of following the railroad bridge into the Allegheny River and an engine and five cars in the water are the first results of the rapid rise during Tuesday night of Deer Creek, near Harmarsville, Pa., on the West Penn Railroad. A freight train eastboard entered on the bridge about 5 o'clock yesterday morning, but had not got further than the second pier when the pier suddenly gave way. Before the engine driver, fireman or a brakeman on the front part of the train could realize what had happened the bridge went down, carrying the engine, trainmen and five feight cars with it.

OBITUARY.

John K. Mulford.

John K. Mulford, a resident of Roselle since 1856, died at his home there last night, aged 63 years. He was born at Albany, N. Y., and moved to Roselle before that place was so named. Originally the town was named after Mr. Mulford's father, and was known as Mulford Station. He had been ill five years. A wife, son and daughter survive him.

Miss Gertrude Hankerson.

Miss Gertrude Hankerson, daughter of Alfred Hankerson, colored, died last night at her father's home on Midway avenue. She had been ill a long time with a lingering complaint. The funeral will be held at the father's house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Edward R. Scheller.

Edward R. Scheller, son of Mary and the late Richard Scheller, died in Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday afternoon. The young man was in his eighteenth year and was formerly employed as collector for the Courier-News circulation department. He was taken sick last July and underwent an operation at the hospital. It was thought to have been successful and he resumed his position last February, but only worked two weeks when he was again taken ill and a second operation was performed. He failed to recover from its ects. The funeral will be held at his mother's home on Arlington avenue, Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Maria Kellogg.

Mrs. Maria Kellogg, widow of John Kellogg, died in Muhlenberg Hospital, Monday night, aged eighty-nine years. She was an old resident of Plainfield and lived for many years in what was known as the "Octagon" house at Fifth street and Park avenue, recently demolished to make way for a modern structure. Her husband was a sea captain and is remembered by the older residents of the city. Mrs. Kellogg leaves one son, Samuel Kellogg, who lives in New York. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

TWO-CENT FARE BILL UP IN STATE SENATE.

Senator Gebhardt Wants It Referred Back, But Withdraws Motion.

At the opening of the afternoon session of the State Senate at Trenton yesterday, Mr. Gebhardt moved that his 2-cent railroad fare bill, which had been adversely reported by the committee on railroads and canals, be referred back to the committee. Senator Lee, who is chairman of the committee, moved to amend by indorsing the adverse report. Mr. Gebhardt explained his object in making the motion by saying that he had understood that commuters of the State had found great fault with his bill, and were blaming him for introducing a bill which might cause the railroads to raise their commutation rates in retaliation. He wanted, he said, the opportunity to place himself in the right light before the commuters.

Mr. Lee objected again when Mr. Gebhardt restated his unpleasant position, and said that if he could not get the courtesy which he believed was right in one way, he would get it in another, which would be by the introduction of a new bill. He then withdrew his motion to recommit the bill.

The Senate laid over the House bill, which repeals the State Board of Arbitration, in order to give Senator Wakelee, who was absent, an opportunity to present some proposed amendments to it.

Amendments to Senator Colby's civil service bill were presented, which make it applicable to the State government, to first class cities and counties, and eliminating school teachers and laborers.

Senator Avis offered amendments to the constitution providing for biennial sessions of the Legislature—members of the House to be elected every two years—Governor to be elected every four years. State and county elections to be held in even years, municipal elections in odd. This was in the shape of a concurrent resolution, and was referred to the committee on judiciary.

$175,000 DIVORCE FEE.

Anna Gould Receives Bill from Her Lawyer for His Services.

New York, March 14.—Mme. Anna Gould now has a divorce bill of $175,000 to settle. This is the charge made by Edmond Kelly, the former New Yorker, now a Parisian advocate, for securing for the countess a divorce from her former husband, Count Boni de Castellane.

The countess turned the bill over to her brother, George J. Gould, who is trustee of her estate, and the latter declared in forcible English that he would not pay any such sum.

Mr. Gould in turn sent the bill to the firm of Coudert Brothers, who represent the Gould interests in France, and Lorenzo Semples, a member of the firm, is to try to get the expensive Paris lawyer to shave down the bill.

Mr. Kelly was formerly connected with the firm of Coudert Brothers and lied in this city many years. He was a prominent member of the Reform Club while a resident here.

INCREASE COCAINE PENALTY.

Corish Bill Passes House Without Dissenting Vote.

Trenton, March 14.—The bill making it a misdemeanor punishable by fine of not more than $200, or one year's imprisonment for selling cocaine or any remedy containing cocaine, except by prescription or notice that such remedy contains cocaine, presented by Assemblyman Patrick H. Corish, of Essex, was passed without a dissenting vote.

The present penalty is $100 fine and three months' imprisonment in the county jail.

New York School Children.

New York, March 14.—Statistics of the thir biennial census taken by the Board of Education of children in this city between the ages of four and eighteen years have been compiled and make most interesting data, as set forth in the report of the Board of Superintendents to the Superintendent of Schools, made public yesterday. The total is stated to be 953,485, of which the boys and girls are practically in equual numbers. Those attending public schools are reported to number 557,383, equally boys and girls; attending other than private schools there are 131,044, with 4,000 more girls than boys on this list. Those under eighteen and more than ten years old who cannot read or write English are reported to number only 829, the girls 522 and the boys 307. Those between ten and eighteen who cannot read or write any language are: Boys, 138; girls, 189. Total, 307.

Valuable Horses Burned.

New York, March 14.—Twenty-four valuable horses and ten expensive vehicles were destroyed by a fire which burned the stable and coach house of Edward D. Morgan at his country place, Wheatley Hills, Long Island, about nine o'clock last night. Before the flames were controlled they had attacked the garage and seriously damaged several automobiles and scorched the extensive greenhouses. Fourteen grooms who made their home on the second floor of the building were compelled to jump for their lives, and several of them are nursing broken and sprained ankles and bruises as a result. The fire is attributed to the explosion of a boiler.

N. Y. Law School Plans to Build.

New York, March 14.—The New York Law School has outgrown its old quarters in the German-American building at 35 Nassau street, and is to put up a building of its own opposite St. Paul's churchyard at 172 and 174 Fulton street, a plot measuring about 53x77, at present occupied by two old business buildings. These will be torn down and replaced by a modern structure. The part of the new building not occupied by the law school will be rented out to business firms. The Century and Alliance Realty companies bought the property at auction less than a year ago for $232,000 and shortly afterward turned it over to the Admiral Realty Company, which disposed of it to the New York Law School for about $325,000. The law school is now located at 35 Nassau street.

Rain Saves $1,000,000.

New York, March 14.—Jupiter Pluvius saved $1,000,000 for the city of New York by sending the rain of Tuesday night and yesterday morning, according to the officials of the snow removal office. The downpour flushed many streets that had not yet been reached by the department and carried off tons of dirty snow and slush. At the same time the authorities kept at the work and 7,500 men were working for the contractors yesterday morning. Some of them got so wet that they quit about noon, but there were reinforcements later and the work went on apace.

Fishing With Shovels.

Winsted, Conn., March 14.—Fishermen, as well as persons who never were known to catch a fish before, are fishing in Norfolk with axes and shovels and getting bushels of fish. All they have to do is to chop through the ice on Wood Creek and horned bullheads come to the opening in hundreds, to be scooped up in shovels. The fish are taken away from the creek in sleigh loads. Meat dealers there are complaining because the people are eating fish three times a day. It is the cheapest Lent Norfolk ever had. The creek being frozen near to the bottom, the fish will rush to the smallest opening in the ice.

Mumps Restore Sight.

Millersburg, Ohio, March 14.—The mumps have restored Miss Bertha Tilock's eyesight. She is a music teacher, and a short time ago became afflicted with eye trouble. She consulted numerous oculists and wore various kinds of glasses, but her sight gradually became weaker until she was unable to see. Miss Tilock became ill with the mumps three weeks ago, and as the swelling in her face began to disappear her sight began to return, and now she can see as well as ever.

—Orders have been issued for an election of officers at the meeting of Co. K. on Monday night. At that time Harry B. Kitchell will be chosen captain; Charles Peterson, first lieutenant; Albert I. Littell, second lieutenant; O. R. Pearson, Jr., first sergeant.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The Jolly Twenty-four Club will give a dance in the Camera Club rooms tomorrow night. Music will be furnished by a stringed orchestra.

—The John Schenck who was fined by Recorder Dolliver in the borough court Monday night, is a colored man. The similarity in names has caused some confusion to borough residents.

—Edwin R. Toense, having completed his term of enlistment in the navy, has returned to Plainfield, where he will be associated with his father, R. G. Toense, in the management of the Plainfield Cab Company. During his enlistment he served on the Cruiser Raleigh and Battleship Ohio.

RIDDLES.

What was Joan of Arc made of? Maid of Orleans.

What is that which by losing an eye has nothing left but a nose? Noise.

Why is a man who makes pens a wicked man? Because he makes men steel (steal) pens and then says they do write (right).

If a young lady fell into a well, why couldn't her brother help her out? Because, how could he be a brother an assist her (a sister) too?

Why is music cheaper on Sunday than during the week? Because during the week you get it by the piece, and on Sunday you get it by the choir.

Why is it more dangerous to go out in the spring than any other time of the year? Because in the spring the grass has blades, the flowers have pistils, the leaves shoot and the bullrushes out.

The Girl With Thin Arms.

A private pointer for the long, slender armed girl:

Don't fall into the snare of dressing your bony elbows with what the fashion books call "softening frills of lace."

Don't you believe it.

That frill will fall over the very curve you wish to display and fall away from the hollow you wish to hide.

Fix the bottom of your elbow sleeves with a close band of black or dark colored ribbon. Let it be quite snug, so that what little flesh there is there will swell out impressively.

The plain turn back elbow cuff gives the same effect, and there is bound to be s ome taper to your arm if the outlines are clearly defined.

Try it and see.

Little or Much.

Bobby—"Mamma, will you give me five cents if I'm good all day today?"

Mamma—"But don't you think it would be nicer to be good of your own accord?"

Bobby—"I guess not. The teacher said it was better to be good even for a little than to be good for nothing."

Keeping It Dark.

A little girl saying her prayers was asked by her mother why she had not asked God's forgiveness for some act of disobedience. "Why, mamma, I didn't suppose you wanted it mentioned outside the family."

Half Price.

Bobbie—"What does it cost to make a letter go?"

Postman—"Two cents."

Bobbie—"Don't you take 'em for children at half price?"

HOLDS BIBLE VINDICATED

Modern Chriticism, Declares Dr. Lewis, has made Holy Writ Stronger than Ever.

A BOOK OF HISTORY

Able Exposition By Leading Divine of Seventh-Day Baptist Faith Before Presbyterian Club.

"The Bible Vindicated by Modern Criticsm" was the subject of a address made by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, editor of The Sabbath Recorder, before the Men's Club of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, last night.

"So many important and fundamental lines of thought," said Dr. Lewis, "converge in my theme that I am 'embarrassed with an abundance of riches.' First of all is that greatest of facts, that God's presence and overruling determine all permanent events and all final results in human history. The human side of history is made of the successes and failures, the experiments and struggles of men to learn and do God's will, or to remain in ignorance and disobedience. Over and beyond what men plan or do, the eternal plans of God determine all larger results. God is constantly striving to reveal Himself to His children in love, mercy and justice. This revelation of the Divine One appears everywhere and in all things, even when men are blind, indifferent and disobedient. Human knowledge, the development of human character and destiny come through experience. Each generation of men furnishes something toward the sum of the experience of the whole family. The permanent and enduring elements in history are wrought out slowly, often painfully. These remain, the permanent inheritance of the race, while the mass of minor experiences and temporal events pass out of sight.

"The Bible is the recorded history of our race through political, social, moral and religious expeience. Religion is the core of it,—its central thought,—its one and ultimate purpose. Whatever of human experience appears in it, is therefore religious ends. It speaks with the authority of eternal truth concerning spiritual things. It does not attempt to speak with authority on any other theme.

"The Old Testament enshrines the revelation of God through the experience of the Hebrew race. Renan described the Hebrews imperfectly when he called them 'The supreme inventors of religion.' The Old Testament grew slowly, through many centuries. It is made up of the sifted gems and purified gold of Hebrew experience with God and of God. It forms the highest mountain range of eternal truths, known to men. Christianity received the Old Testament from the Hebrews. It was the central element in the world's highest religious thought when Jesus the Christ was born. He was first and keenest of critics, concerning the traditions and interpretations which men associated with the Old Testament. He was not understood, and but few, very few of those to whom He spoke were prepared to comprehend His treatment of the Old Testament, and grasp the deeper truths he sought to unfold from it.

"Early Christianity accepted the Old Testament with most of the imperfect conceptions and unwarrantable additions that the Pharisees had associated with it. Instead of rising to highest grounds, after the Apostolic Age, Christianity descended, under the added influence of Pagan philosophy and the Pagan State-Church idea of religion, and passed into the long stifling darkness of the Middle Ages, during which a double load of imperfect notions, superstitions, and traditions were heaped on the Bible.

"The Protestant movement disturbed the stagnation of ten centuries of Christian history and forced the Bible to the front. This compelled new inquiries. It was unavoidable that men should ask whence came this book when they were asked to accept it as the ultimate standard of Christian faith and practice. Why was it written? Does it teach what the Church has taught us? Endless questions came. They had to come. God was behind them. He guided the revival of historic and literary criticism of His Book. Crude, and in some respects destructive criticism began as early as the fifteenth century. It increased with the centuries. The scope broadened. Methods improved. Facts were unearthed indicating best lines of proceedure. Devout scholars entered the company of critics. The first general stage is from 1650-1800. The more immediate modern stage began in South Africa, with Bishop Colenso; then Robertson Smith of Aberdeen; then our own Dr. Briggs and his fellows.

MAYOR ASKS $2,500 FOR WATER COMMISSION

FISK GETS IN ON COUNCILMEN BY PUTTING LICENSE UP TO THEM.

The members of the Common Council did not appear to be very anxious to transact business at the adjourned meeting, last night, for it was nearly 9 o'clock before they got together, and then the various matters introduced were considered in a sort of half-hearted way. The actual amount of business left over from the regular meeting was small.

Mayor Fisk communicated with the body requesting that the sum of $2,500 be appropriated for the use of the engineering work of the water investigation commission to carry on its work, and the matter was referred to the finance committee, as was also another communciation from the directors of the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room certifying that $7,500 would be needed to maintain the library and reading room for the coming year.

Councilman Buxton moved that the license of Joseph A. Meyers to conduct a lunch-wogan on East Second street, adding that the wagon had been located there for fourteen years. He explained that it was at the request of Mayor Fisk, to whom has been delegated the authority of granting licenses, that the Common Council act on this one. The license was granted without a dissenting vote.

The oath of office of the Board of School Estimate was presented and filed, according to the usual custom.

Mr. Ginna, as chairman of the street committee, to whom was referred several matters, reported them back to the Common Council. One was in reference to the petition of the Board of Trade urging that permanent pavement be laid in the business part of the town. Other petitions were from H. A. Williams, of Kensington avenue; J. D. Loizeaux, of Hillside avenue, and the Central Park Realty Company asking that streets be macadamized. Mr. Ginna instructed the clerk to inform the petitioners that the improvements asked for are being incorporated into ordinances to be introduced soon.

Regarding the petition of the Plainfield Riding and Driving Club, asking that Randolph road be widened, Mr. Ginna stated that it incorporated two matters that might complicate matters and he requested the club to present the necessary signatures for each separately.

Mr. Ginna also reported on the matter wherein Peter Morgan, of Poughkeepsie, who has the new sewer contract, has delegated the power of attorney to Thomas J. Cussack. He stated that the same had been approved and instructed the clerk to furnish a certified copy to the city treasurer.

A resolution offered by the chairman of the street committee and which was adopted gives the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company the right to make openings on East and West Front street, West Sixth street, East Fourth street, Kensington avenue, Franklin place and East Fifth street for its underground work. Mr. Ginna and Mr. Gloak took occasion to speak of the satisfactory way in which the company repairs streets after opening them and complimented the company for it. On motion of Mr. Ginna the ordinance adopted on first and second readings which provides for the establishing of grades on certain streets, was adopted on final reading.

P. H. S. Exam. Standard.

The regular weekly debate of the Plainfield High School Debating Society was held yesterday in the high school, the question for discussion being, "Resolved, That 60 per cent. is a more desirable passing mark than 70 per cent. in the Plainfield High School." Arthur Titsworth led the affirmative, assisted by William Lambert, and the negative was upheld by Sallo Kahn as leader, assisted by Isadore Rotberg. After a discussion it was decided that, for the Plainfield High School at least, the present standard of 70 per cent. is preferable. Miss Mary Lock, instructor in English, acted as critic, and Adelbert VanBrackle as judge. The debate was presided over by the president of the society, George H. Fisher, Jr.

Arcanumites Dined.

Following the regular business meeting of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, last night, the members adjourned to the banquet hall where supper was served by D. Demolli. Fifty Arcanumites were present and enjoyed the spread. The affair was in celebration of no particular event but was none the less enjoyable.

Tickets for Jubilee.

Father Miller, of St. Joseph's church, has issued tickets for the silver jubilee service to be held on Sunday, April 7. The pew-holders of the church will be given first choice of tickets and the seating capacity will not be exceeded.

TO EXTEND THE SEWERS

Public Hearing Set For Proposed Ordinance Enlarging Sanitary System.

IN THE EAST END

Hearing Also On Another Ordinance To Build Storm Sewer in the West End.

An ordinance providing for further extension to the sanitary sewer system was introduced at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, by Mr. Ginna, chairman of the street committee, and after it was read for general information it was announced that a public hearing would be granted at the regular April meeting, it being the intention of the Common Council to pass it.

The proposed extension of the sewers include the following streets, some of which are incorporated in previous ordinances, and which it is the intention of the Common Council to build. They are as follows:

Leland avenue, from Front street to Columbia avenue; Netherwood avenue, from Front street to North avenue; Jackson avenue, from Front street to North avenue; Johnson avenue, from Front street to North avenue; McKinley place; Hill street from North avenue to George street; outlet for Netherwood Park sewer; East Seventh street, from Leland avenue to a point 940 feet east thereof; Prospect avenue, from Park to Hillside avenues; Thorton avenue, from Park to Hillside avenues; Kensington avenue, from Watchung to Prospect avenues; Edgewood avenue; Union street, from Randolph road to a point 500 feet south of Arlington avenue; Madison avenue, from Stelle avenue to a point 400 feet south of Randolph road; Central avenue, from Randolph road to a point 1,200 feet south of Randolph road; Randolph road, from Central avenue to a point 280 feet west thereof; Fillmore avenue, through private property from Berkeley avenue to East Seventh street.

After a recess taken for the purpose of discussing with City Treasurer William F. Arnold matters pertaining to the tax budget to be presented at the April meeting, Mr. Ginna presented an ordinance for general information providing for the construction of a storm sewer in Plainfield avenue to Randolph road and the city line. It was accompanied with a map and a resolution was also adopted authorizing the publication of the legal notice providing for a public hearing at the regular meeting in April, when it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt the ordinance on first and second readings. Councilmen Buxton, Gloak and Frank Randolph voted against the resolution, while Councilmen C. C. Randolph, Tyler, Ginna and President Daniel voted in the affirmative.

It was decided to hold another adjourned meeting on Tuesday night, April 19, when further action will be taken regarding the proposed tax budget and the sewer bond issue.

PINK SOUVENIR PARTY.

Farewell Reception Given to Miss Grace Ulrick By Associates.

Another original social function arranged by the saleswomen of the Woodhull & Martin Company, was given last night at the home of Miss Sara Hopewell, of East Fifth street, in honor of Miss Grace Ulrick, who will remove soon to Brooklyn. The affair was a "Pink Souvenir Party," and Miss Ulrick was the recipient of various gifts, each article being pink or tied with pink ribbon.

The rooms were decorated in pink. Vocal and instrumental music and games helped to pass a pleasant evening and after refreshments were served the guests departed wishing Miss Ulrick a happy future in her new home. Those present were the Misses Grace Ulrick, Sara Hopewell, Anna M. Hopewell, Edna Ryan, Elizabeth Bartlow, Carrie Van Arsdale, May Day, Florence Carver, Nora Schenck, Ursula Auten, Minnie Young, Ethel Young, Anna M. Kelly, Ella Mullen, Hattie Squires, Mrs. McQuinness and Mrs. Lance.

Testimony In Divorce Case.

The medical testimony on the part of the defendant in the divorce case of Mrs. Olive Dunn against her husband, Wesley Dunn, was taken yesterday afternoon before John H. Van Winkle, special master in chancery, at his office in the presence of William G. De Meza and Winfield S. Angleman representing the petitioner and Codington & Swackhamer representing the defendant. Mr. Dunn has filed a cross bill.

PISTOL IN A CAR ROW

Drawn by Riotous Negro, It Cleared a Crowded Conveyance.

WHITES WHIP BLACKS

Two of the Latter Arrested and Sent to Jail—One With the Gun Gets a Heavy Dose.

William Blanchard and William Accroo, both colored, were sent to jail by City Judge Runyon this morning, the former for thirty days and the latter for fifty days, with a $50 fine in addition, for fighting on an eastbound main line trolley car between Richmond and Berckman streets, shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. Accroo drew a revolver in the row, and that incident figured when it came time for the magistrate to pass sentence. A third colored man, unidentified, who started the racket, escaped.

The colored trio were on the car when a number of Scott Press Works employees boarded it at Richmond street. The man who escaped, who was drunk and surly, had one arm thrust out over the back of the seat. He growled when some passenger brushed against his hand, and grew ugly when J. V. Coles, of Scotch Plains, one of the Scott men, protested against the oaths he was using. He cursed Coles, and struck at him. Coles dodged the blow and felled him and in a minute a general row was threatening.

The motorman, John Bailey, came into the car and said he would do all the hitting that was necessary. He ordered the negro to quiet down, and emphasized his command with an admonishing wave of his controller.

Accroo jumped to his feet and drew a revolver. He waved it threateningly, and held the crowd in the car at bay for a second or two. Then there was a rush, and a general fight was on. Accroo is said to have pulled the trigger of his revolver, but the weapon did not explode. Coles received another rush from the unidentified negro, and knocked him down again. With the appearance of the revolver there was a general movement to evacuate the car by all the passengers not mixed in the row. Henry Guerrier, of Scotch Plains, one of the men nearest the negroes, who was attacked with Coles, clipped one of the blacks on the head, and the trio ran from the car. The unidentified negro screwed up his courage when he reached the street, and started back for the car to trim Coles. Coles met him again, and the negro got the same kind of a bump as before. Then the trio took to their heels.

At about that time, Patrolman George Dobson, who had noticed the crowd piling out of the car from Richmond street, came running up. When he heard the story, he ran to head the negroes off, and intercepted them in a field near Third street. He managed to hold Blanchard and Accroo, but the third negro slipped away and made good his escape.

Blanchard and Accroo tried to lay all the blame on the missing colored man when they were arraigned before Judge Runyon this morning. They wanted the court to believe that he did all the fighting, and they did nothing but try to quiet things. The testimany of four witnesses was against them at every point, however, and the sentences followed. Blanchard escaped with a comparatively light penalty, because the witnesses agreed that he at first tried to act as peacemaker, and only allowed himself to be drawn into the row in the heat of the second battle.

In passing sentence, Judge Runyon said:

"You men have come to a city where fighting on trolley cars seems to be a favorite amusement with men of rowdy temperament. They seem to have an idea that if there is one place where they can fight without fear of interference it is on a trolley car. It is necessary that something be done to discourage that notion. You have also come to a city where the colored people have evinced too ready a tendency to use revolvers. It is necessary that something be done to discourage that also."

Party for Anna Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, of Duer street, gave a birthday party Tuesday afternoon, for their daughter, Miss Anna Johnson, who was seven years old. The afternoon was spent playing games and there were phonograph selections. A feature was a large birthday cake, adorned with fancy candles. Little Miss Johnson received many pretty and useful gifts. Before the company of young people departed refreshments were served. There were eighteen guests.

LODGE PLANS CARNIVAL

WILL LAST FOR A WEEK

John J. Kenney Has Been Appointed Press Agent, and He Is On His Job—What Is Coming.

By J. J. K.

Definite announcement of what had been rumored for several weeks, that the Knights of Columbus were to conduct an elaborate carnival on the lines of the hospital affairs of the past two years, was made this morning. The enterprise will be conducted for a week on the carnival grounds, beginning June 3. The Hippodrome Company, of New York, a big carnival concern, will furnish the equipment and attractions.

The various committees of arrangement which will be necessary to the execution of the carnival scheme have not yet been appointed. John J. Kenney has, however, been placed in charge of the publicity department, and he got on his job with the eclat of a professional press agent this morning. He gave out this restrained and quiet statement, with an air that would have driven the advance man of a three-ring circus green with envy to see it:

"The biggest and most expensive amusement event to be held in our city this coming summer season will be had in the coming of the great Hippodrome Amusement Company, for a period of one week under the auspices of the Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus.

"This knowledge is indeed a pleasurable surprise, bringing as it does within our reach an opportunity of beholding what is without a doubt the most elaborate amusement enterprise of its kind extant.

"The management of this attraction, through vast experience, and ample capital, have been enabled to produce a positive novelty in the way of attractiveness and worth and best of all, the company comes to us bearing the stamp of claenliness and morality. Every objectionable unclean and unsightly feature has been eliminated, and this carnival, as we may appropriately name it, will be conducted on a higher plane than any heretofore presented in our community.

"It has been the aim of the management from the beginning to have only such features and attractions as will appeal to the higher senses and to the better element of people.

"The Hippodrome Company comes to us with the heartiest approval of press, clergy and public. Miniature palaces of amusement whose golden entrances are adorned with rare creations of the carver's art, plentifully supplied with beautiful electrical decorations, cosy, comfortable little up-to-date opera houses will spring up as if by magic, enchanting riding devices, death defying, breath catching free acts, and a score or more of miniature amusement and sale booths will go up to make up the one grand collosal attraction. There will be amusement for the old folks, entertainment for the young folks, and fun for the children.

"The K. of C. are to be congratulated upon their effort in securing an attraction of this character and our citizens should not fail to take advantage of the opportunity presented to them the week of June 3 to enjoy a little high class, clean, moral and wholesome amusement and recreation."

The proceeds of the carnival will be devoted to the building fund of the Council. The lodge has had plans for the erection of its home for some time, and it is hoped to give the project a winning impetus through the big affair.

Gift of Library to Somerville.

Uuon the condition that the same be maintained as a free library under the provisions of the State Library Act, High K. Gaston and John V. Reger, representing the Somerville Public Library Association, have offered to turn over to the town the handsome new library building and the large and valuable collection of books, now the unencumbered property of the library association.

Miss Carroll the Soloist.

Miss Grace Carroll, of Westervelt avenue, was the contralto soloist at the forty-second recital given at Aeolian Hall, New York, yesterday afternoon. She had three numbers on the programme, being selections from Gluck, Foote and Harris.

Lecture on St. Patrick.

An illustrated lecture will be given at St. Joseph's church Sunday night by Father Miller. A series of views of Ireland and on religious topics will be shown in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

—Strictly fresh eggs and high grade butter are two feature offerings at Neuman Brothers'. They have reduced the price on both.

PLAINFIELD WOMEN INTERESTED IN BILLS

ENLISTED IN FIGHT FOR PASSAGE OF CHILD LABOR MEASURES.

The Plainfield branch of the Consumers' League has interested itself in the bills the Legislature has under consideration for the betterment of women and children workers' conditions and is urging personal letters to senators and assemblymen.

The bills that the League wants to have passed are No. 90, which prohibits the employment of children under sixteen years old in factories at night; No. 204, which prohibits the employment of children under sixteen years of age at night in mercantile establishments, except one night in the week for ten days before Christmas; No. 205, extending the provisions of the present factory law to children working in mercantile establishments; No. 316, prohibiting the employment of any child under fourteen years of age during school hours and permitting truant officers to search for such children in all places where gainful occupations are carried on; No. 203, which requires that suitable seats shall be provided for female employes.

These bills have already passed the assembly and the League members have asked all interested to take prompt action. Bills No. 90 and 204 will be referred to the Senate committee on labor and industries, of which Senator George L. Shinn is chairman and the following are members: Thomas J. Hillery, John Hinchcliffe. Letters may be addressed to either the chairman or members.

An inspection of all local mercantile establishments has been made in Plainfield and in several cases it has been found that girls of fourteen are being employed. Furthermore, it is said that girls are employed whose hours of work are ruinous to their health.

VOCAL ARTISTS PLEASE.

The Delightful Musicale at Mrs. Marsh's Nets $250.

The musicale and tea given by the Benevolent Band of The King's Daughters yesterday afternoon taxed the generous capacity of Mrs. Craig A. Marsh's handsome home on West Eighth street, with an audience of Plainfield's musical coterie. The programme was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Marshall Waterhouse, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McIntyre, of this city, and fulfilled every promise of artistic excellence and enjoyment. The music occupied an hour, after which tea and refreshments were served. The whole affair was a delightful one and credit is due Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin and Mrs. Craig A. Marsh, who had it in charge. The home was attractively decorated with white and pink roses and lilies.

At the tea which followed the musicale, Mrs. DeWitt C. Ivins, Mrs. Charles W. King and Mrs. Josiah Browne poured, and they were assisted by some of the daughters of the members of the band and a number of their young friends.

The proceeds from the affair will be used for the King's Daughters work and it is expected that at least $250 will be realized for this purpose.

W. C. RUNYON NON-SUITED.

Loses Case Brought Against Stepmother, Mrs. Lavinia Runyon.

In the action of W. Cleveland Runyon against his stepmother al*leging that she destroyed a life insur*ance policy, brought in the district court at Newark, yesterday, before Judge Raymond, the plaintiff was non-suited on the ground that it was not properly instituted. It was the contention of the defendant's counsel, Alonzo Church, that the husband of Mrs. Lavinia Runyon should be joined in the suit.

In the Chancery suit of Mrs. Lavinia Runyon against Walter G. Runyon, her husband, the Chancellor has given the defendant two weeks to make up his mind whether he will take his wife back or pay her alimony. A peculiar fact about these suits is that W. Cleveland Runyon, who was his own counsel in the action against his step-mother, represented her in the suit in which she seeks to secure alimony from his father.

No Trace of Young Ellis.

The police have been unable to find any trace of Howard Ellis, the 17-year-old boy who ran away from his home on Spooner avenue three days ago. They have learned that he started for New York, but have been unable to find his trail beyond he corner of Watchung avenue and Fifth street, where he was seen to board an eastbound main line trolley car.

Plainfield Counril, No. 711, R. A., held a quarterly entertainment last night. After an hour of informal sociability, refreshments were served in the banquet room.

ARRESTED AS FIRE BUGS

Charles T. Vail and Miss Ellen Gillen Held in Heavy Bail.

BOTH PLAINFIELDERS

They With a Man Named Hummell Alleged to Have Fired Building—Gillen and Hummell in Jail.

Charles T. Vail, formerly of this city, now postmaster at West Portal, sometimes called Valley, has been held in $4,000 bail to await the action of the Hunterdon county grand jury, it being charged that he, with Miss Ellen Gillen, also of Plainfield, and a Joseph Hummell, a mail carrier, with having been implicated in the burning of the old Cornish property in that place. The arrests were made severad days ago and the hearing took place before Justice of the Peace Opdyke, at West Portal on March 9. Miss Gillen and Hummell are both lodged in the jail being unable to furnish $2,000 bail apiece.

The Cornish property, which Vail owned, was sold on February 19 and was bought in by Miss Gillen. Vail held a heavy mortgage on it as well as the insurance policy. On February 24 the building was burned and the insurance adjustors refused to pay after an investigation. The three arrests followed. The policies aggregated $6,700.

A lawyer from New York, representing one of the insurance companies, and accompanied by an expert stenographer, attended the hearing. Miss Gillen's story was very disconnected. She said she had been attracted to the place while driving through West Portal last summer and desired to purchase it. Asked how she came to know of the sale in February, she stated that she had seen a poster advertising the sale. She said she had seen the poster in a store in Plainfield but refused to state what store it was.

She said the name of the man who attended the sale with her was Harry King. Vail stated at the same hearing that the man was Harry Vail, a brother of his, who lived in Plainfield. There were many other conflicting statements made.

Vail was away when the fire took place. He says he was in Plainfield and had left Hummell in charge. The latter claims that he had gone to the building to fix the fire and that the stove upset.

Miss Gillen is a respectable appearing woman, fairly attractive, and about 25 years old. Hummell, who is in jail with her, is about 54.

Mr. Vail's wife still lives in this city.

STRIKEBREAKERS' BEER.

Illicit Canteen Arrangement Leads to Trouble at Krom Works.

John Sweeney, one of the strikebreakers employed at the Krom Machine Works, was arrested at 1 o'clock this morning, at the works, on complaint of Patrick Nugent, the watchman, who charged him with disrderly conduct. When his case was called this morning, in the city court, there was no one to appear against him. Arthur Krom, head of the plant, told the judge that the watchman, the cook and the cook's helper, had disappeared from the strikebreakers' camp as a result of the arrest.

From Sweeney's story is appears that the cook had been in the habit of selling him beer bought on the outside by the chef. Sweeney thought he was paying a little too high for the beer last night, and a fight resulted. Sweeney said the cook was licked.

It is supposed the men back of the arrest had Sweeney taken out to get square with him, and then, realizing how embarrassing it would be if the story of beer selling came out, decided to get away while the going was still passable. Sweeney told his story of the beer dealings reluctantly, but in a way that left no doubt of its truthfulness. No on being present to press the complaint, the case was dismissed.

Is Now a Member of the Firm.

Coffin & Co., the well-known bond firm having offices in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, announced yesterday that Walter S. Place, formerly of Grove street, and son of former Mayor Charles Place, has been admitted to full membership in the firm, his interest dating from January 1, last. Mr. Place will continue in charge of the Boston office.

Reception and Dance.

Local young men have arranged for a reception and dance to be given in the Camera Club rooms on Thursday night, March 26. The committee in charge of the arrangements consists of Clarence Young, Albert Harris and Raymond Guinn.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The concert at the Presbyterian church last night, by the Ithaca Conservatory of Music artists, was a decided success. It was largely attended.

B. K. Burke is actively engaged in departmental work at the Dunellen Lumber and Stone Co. A. A. Gray is busy with banking work.

Lakeside Council will have a social hour after each meeting hereafter. The first affair will be conducted next Thursday.

The Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church is preparing a barrel for the Deaconesses Home, Newark.

Frank Brown has given up his position with the railroad to go into the Bond Tool Works.

Terence Quinn has moved into the house he rented recently from Mrs. Helen Farrier.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Merkel have returned from a visit to relatives in Bangor, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Huff have returned from a visit to friends in New York.

St. Patrick's Day will be observed at St. John's church Sunday.

A. A. Gray was confined to the house yesterday by illness.

Suckers are running big in the New Market pond.

Mrs. C. H. Thornton has been ill for several days.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

In the death of William C. Stanbery, which occurred at his home yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the town lost one of its oldest and best known residents, one who had been identified with the town interests for eighty-four years, and until his last illness had always taken an active part in every movement which concerned the interest of the township or village. While all did not agree with him upon questions which were brought before the residents, still none ever doubted the honesty of his opinion and his advice was always given consideration. Mr. Stanbery was a life-long Democrat of the Jeffersonian school and has served his party upon a number of occasions. No one was better qualified to quote Scotch Plains history for one hundred years back than he, one of his greatest pleasures in late years being to talk reminiscently of the town, whenever friends called or some question of the past was brought up. His familiar form will be missed upon the streets of the town. His death, although not unexpected, was a shock to every resident of the town.

Just as soon as the weather will permit, Township Committeeman Theodore Bruchmann will begin the work of putting the sidewalks on Park avenue in presentable condition once more.

The Misses Brouchers, who have conducted "The Homestead" in the borough for a number of years, have purchased the property of The Central N. J. Land Improvement Co.

Captain Saunders, of "Hawks' Nest," Washington Valley, is spending several weeks on a business trip along the coast of the New England States.

Patrick Fitzgerald, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Ferdinand Schmidt, of Forest avenue, has returned to his home in Philadelphia.

The Bible class connected with the Methodist church meets tonight at the home of Miss Marion Goodwin, of Stanbery avenue.

Mrs. John G. Cook has sold her property, corner of Stout and Westfield avenues, to an out of town party.

Mrs. Charles Frentz and son, of Boston, Mass., are visiting friends and relatives in town.

Rev. T. Moore-Smith will lead the prayer and praise meeting tonight in the Baptist church.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

RHEUMATISM

Old Mr. Rheumatism hangs on tight and bites and pinches when he takes hold. It's quite a job to shake him off. It's hard to believe that all the pain and trouble he causes comes from such a little thing. Just a tiny bit of acid in the blood the kidneys haven't taken care of. But the kidneys aren't to blame. I used to think they were. Now I know better. It's that over worked and over crowded stomach giving the kidneys part of its work and the kidneys can't do it. I found this out with Cooper's New Discovery. It puts the stomach in shape, that's all it does, and yet I have seen thousands of people get rid of rheumatism by taking it. That is why I am positive that rheumatism is caused by stomach trouble. Here is a sample of letters I get every day on the subject.

LAWRENCE TUSCANY.

"For a long time I have been a victim of sciatica and inflammatory rheumatism, and my suffering has been too great to describe. For weeks I lay helpless with every joint in my body so tender and sore that I could not bear to move. The slightest touch would cause me the greatest agony. Several doctors treated me but they failed entirely. I tried many remedies but nothing seemed to reach my case, so I continued to lay helpless. My kidneys and stomach were affected also. I could eat but little, digest less and gradually my strength left. I lost flesh rapidly."

"I began the use of the famous Cooper medicines of which I heard so much. To my surprise and delight I improved immediately, and after using several bottles I felt like another person. My strength and appetite returned. The pain and soreness left me and now I feel better than I have for months." Lawrence Tuscany, 1122 Aldrich Ave., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

We sell Mr. Cooper's celebrated preparations.

87 CASKS OF CHINA

FROM THE CHARLES FIELD HAVILAND POTTERIES

IN THE MOST NOTEWORTHY CHINA SALE NEWARK HAS KNOWN.

The strength of the great Hahne & Co. organization was never more clearly demonstrated than in this purchase of China from the famed Haviland potteries in France. No ordinary concern would have thought of such a transaction thru which we aided the potteries to keep their forces going thruout the dull winter months, and by which we secured this tremendous lot of china—enough to fill an ordinary china store—so much under price that we are now enabled to sell it to you at

ONE-HALF TO ONE-THIRD BELOW USUAL COST.

All this china is strictly first-class quality and nearly all are open stock patterns. There are enough pieces in any individual pattern to make up complete dinner sets, tea sets, chop sets, ice cream sets, salad sets and fruit sets. The decorations, which were our own selection and which we promise you are superb, are in great variety. The sale offers lovers of good china a rare opportunity to restock their china closets most economically.

DEMOREST SEWING MACHINES

The same as sold by agents at $50 to $50 for only $25. No machine equal to it at the price named

The name "Demorest" has been blazoned high on the banner of industry these many, many years. It is a name to conjure with. It stands for sewing machine superiority, for progress, for economy and for reliability.

No sewing machine that you know of has been held in higher regard by the women of America than this selfsame Demorest. Doubtful if any machine has had a greater sale—and of late years with the tremendous improvements, and the lowered prices made possible by the generous method of handling adopted by such stores as ours, the sales have enormously increased. Carload after carload of the Demorest Machines have been distributed by us to our patrons, and wherever we have placed one of them—whether in a private house where only home sewing is done, or in the shop of a professional dressmaker, it has invariably given the most complete satisfaction. Few women would consent to part with their Demorest.

OUR CLUB PLAN BY WHICH IT IS EASY TO POSSESS A FIRST-CLASS SEWING MACHINE.

Our Club Plan is unique and thru it anyone, even those with the most limited income, can possess themselves of a really first-class sewing machine without feeling the strain that a cash payment might entail.

When this club membership is so easily attained it is worse than folly for anyone to buy a so-called "cheap" or inferior machine. A sewing machine is something you do not expect to buy often, and you will not have to buy more than one in a lifetime if you secure one of the splendid New Demorest Machines which we now offer at the remarkably low price of $25.

A STRONG GUARANTEE WITH THE DEMOREST MACHINE.

With every Demorest Machine we sell goes a positive guarantee and our promise that for ten years we will keep the machine in perfct running order entirely free of charge.

There is nothing so annoying, so aggravating to the woman who sews as a machine that is constantly out of gear in some way. Women therefore should be very particular about the machine they invest in and about whom they buy it from. The dependability of the Demorest is to begin with a sufficient guarantee of goodness to most people, and our promise to keep it in good working order simplifies the situation and makes anyone safe in buying.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW DEMOREST.

The Demorest Sewing Machine, Style 16, which we offer at $25, is built of quartered oak in the 16th Century finish, with half cabinet front, round corners, beveled front, with four ordinary drawers and one wide centre drawer. The raising and lowering of the head is automatic, raising and lowering PERPENDICULARLY with the raising and lowering of the leaf. The stand and brace are especially designed for the machine and are of a very handsome pattern. From the filler to the last operation of rubbing down and polishing the final coat of varnish, the woodwork has gone through the number of operations necessary to produce HIGH-CLASS furniture. The machines are ball-bearing thruout. They are extremely light running and practically noiseless, are self-belting, have high arms and all hardened steel parts. They have all the latest improvements, automatic bobbin winder, new thread releaser, self-threading shuttle, etc. With every machine comes a complete set of the most up-to-date attachments enabling you to do any kind of sewing it is possible to do on a machine.

GERMS CAUSE DYSPEPSIA

IF YOU DON'T KILL THE DISEASE GERMS THEY WILL KILL YOU. PEPSOIDS DRIVE THE GERMS OUT OF THE STOMACH AND REBUILDS IT. WRITE FOR A FULL SIZED BOTTLE—FREE.

A noted physician of Pittsburg, Pa., in a recent letter to Dr. Oidman says:

"In your prescription known as 'Pepsoids' you have given the medical world the greatest and most valued discovery in medicine of the present century. You have at last solved the problem that has baffled the skill of the best physicians of recent times; how to cure permanently all Acute or Chronic Stomach Diseases known as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Catarrh of the Stomach and Digestive Weakness. I have used your prescription, 'Pepsoids,' in hundreds of cases without a single failure. I attribute the success of your treatment mainly to the fact that the disease germs of the stomach cannot resist Pepsoids. Your theory that most Stomach Diseases are brought about by multitudes of nefarious disease-breeding germs must be correct, judging from the remarkable results attained from the use of your 'Pepsoids.' I consider 'Pepsoids' the best and most valuable remedy yet discovered, for the treatment of stubborn stomach ailments."

Pepsoids cure Dyspepsia and all Stomach Diseases, in a new way, by repairing the wornout lining of the Stomach and at the same time, destroy all disease-breeding germs. Dyspepsia and the worst forms of Stomach Disorders once cured in this way never returns.

If you have not used Pepsoids before, we will send you a 50-cent bottle FREE. Send us your name and address and you will receive promptly, a full sized bottle. You do not obligate yourself to pay a cent. All we ask, after Pepsoids have cured or greatly benefitted you is, that you recommend Pepsoids to your friends. Try Pepsoids to-day—they will cure you. LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Playgoers of this city will have an opportunity tonight to witness that stirring American drama, "In Old Kentucky." Few plays have stood the test of time like this justly famous romance of the blue-glass country. There are not many plays on the boards today that have been presented continuously for fourteen years without a break. The long life of "In Old Kentucky" is a tribute, not alone to the play, but to the wise discrimination of the threatre-going public in recognizing genuine dramatic worth. The piece is just as full of heart interest, pathos and humor today as it was when it was first produced away back in 1892.

The passing of Joseph Jefferson has left the honored Jefferson name in the possession of Thomas Jefferson, who is the eldest actor son the beloved dean had. It has always been the desire of Joseph Jefferson that his son Thomas should inherit his play of "Rip Van Winkle," and with this idea in view Thomas Jefferson began playing Rip some eight years ago, with such success that he has continued ever since and is now the successor of his father. The engagement of Mr. Jefferson at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night takes an additional importance on this account. The play in which Mr. Jefferson will appear is "Rip Van Winkle," whose chief figure is one of the most delicious and satisfying of stage creations. The Jefferson name and fame are inseparably linked with it. At the present moment Thomas is at the summit of his career; his art has reached its ripest and richest point; his characterization of Rip Van Winkle has all the delicacy and strength, all the exquisite beauty and subtle power of paintings upon which the master, his father, has labored lovingly and unceasingly for years.

The Rogers Brothers in their big musical comedy success, "The Rogers Brothers in Ireland," will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. As is well known this attraction was the most successful of last season, and has led in the field of this style of popular amusement for a period of nine years. The entire original production will be brought here and will be seen with every detail, every song hit, every comedy feature and stage accessory just the same as at the Liberty theatre in New York city, where it achieved a run of over 200 nights.

"The Mayor of Tokio," Richard Carle's most successful farcical opera, has been secured for a special return engagement at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday afternoon and night. This excellent farcical opera enjoyed a run of 110 performances in Chicago, where it played throughout the summer season of 1905 and subsequently made a run of seven weeks as a special attraction in the New York theatre. The company also played highly successful and prolonged engagements in Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. It is said that during the season of 1905-6 it was one of the best farcical operatic productions that was en route. The newspaper reports throughout the United States are highly favorable and it might be said were all full of praise of this latest and best success of Richard Carle's. "The Tenderfoot" and "The Maid and the Mummy" as well as "The Mayor of Tokio," are all from the pen of this gifted author, which to a large majority of theatregoers is quite enough to guarantee to them the character of the fun and amusement for any evening's entertainment.

Eduard Waldmann's acting in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" has been described as something never to be forgotten. His polish, ease and professional aplomb as "Jekyll," who wins a charming girl's love by his personal graces, are most fascinating, while his wickedness and diabolical traits as "Hyde" in the next breath, as it were, call forth admiration for the actor's art. Mr. Waldmann and an excellent company will be seen in "Jekyll and Hyde" at the New Plainfield theatre on Friday, March 22.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Mrs. Guy Bender has been engaged for another year as the soprano soloist at the Unitarian church.

The Boys' Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church will hold an entertainment in the lecture room of the church tonight at 8 o'clock.

"The Seven Last Words," a musical service, will be given by the choir of the First Baptist church on Thursday night, March 28. The choir will be assisted by stringed instruments.

Frank McGowen, of Grace church, Orange, will sing at the free Lenten recital in the Church of the Holy Cross, tomorrow afternoon. He is the boy soloist in the Orange church and has a particularly sweet voice.

There will be several novel features introduced at the entertainment to be held in Vincent chapel, tonight, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church. It will be "An Evening With China."

Elston Leonard, of Arlington avenue, has recovered from an attack of the grip.

Edward Laing is detained at his home on East Front street by illness.

Mrs. Hannah Flanders, of Grove street, is visiting friends at Scranton, Pa.

Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., will meet tonight to discuss important changes in the bylaws.

FIXING THE TEETH OF SULTAN'S WIVES

MRS. BOSTWICK WILL STAY HERE WHILE HUSBAND IS THUS ENGAGED.

Because it will take her husband a little more than a month to fix the teeth of the wives of the Sultan of Morocco, Mrs. Frank Brown Bostwick, of Gibraltar, Spain, will journey over 3,000 miles to return to her home in this city with her baby for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Eoff, of Crescent avenue. Mrs. Bostwick was formerly Miss May Eoff, and her marriage was the sequel of a romance on a steamship in the Mediterranean in the summer of 1905.

Dr. Frank B. Bostwick is a surgical dentist of Gibraltar, Spain. He came to this country last January and left with his bride. He has fixed the teeth of many royal personages and will be royally entertained while fixing the teeth of the wives of the Sultan. Mrs. Bostwick will arrive here today from her long trip. She will stay with her parents for two months and then return to Gibraltar.

William C. Stanbery's Funeral.

The funeral of William C. Stanbery, who died at his home in Scotch Plains, yesterday afternoon, will be held at the late residence Sunday afternoon at 2:15. Interment will be made in the Scotch Plains cemetery.

Results.

"The Old Testament is seen to be made up of the gems of Hebrew ideals of eternal religious verities. Its central thought is One God, Yaveh, the Everliving, Everloving, Everredeeming One.

"The New Testament is nearer to our time and more easily grasped. It is the immediate and direct product of the Old Testament. The central character is Jesus, the Jewish Messiah, all of whose credentials are in the Old Testament. Neither he nor his disciples had any 'scriptures' except the Old Testament. They quoted it built upon it, exalted it. The New Testament grew slowly. The Epistles were written first, from 57 to 70 A. D. First Thessalonians is probably the oldest book in the New Testiment. The historic books, the Gospels and Acts, date from 70 to 100 A. D. These came slowly into equality with the Old Testament as sacred and authoritative books. The present canon of the New Testament was not fixed by official action until 397 A. D. by the Third Council of Carthage. That was a Provincial Council and its action was not ratified by a National Council until 691 A. D. by the Quiniset Council at Constantinople. Christianity was nourished for almost four hundred years on the Old Testament alone, or mainly.

"Through all criticism by foes or friends, the Bible comes to us stronger, clearer, brighter than ever before. The dross of human misconceptions and interpretations has been removed, but the gold is purified. The outer crust of the diamonds and gems has been cut away by the lapidary of historic criticism, but the stones shine in their true lustre.

"Revelation is progressive, through human experience. Hebrew ideals of the Old Testament, revealed and exalted by Jesus, the Christ, stand forth as Eternal Verities giving firm foundation for our common faith. Meanwhile the sands of Egypt and the mounds of Babylon yield fact after fact to vindivate Biblical history as human experience vindicates the power of its spiritual truths. The Book of God is not endangered by criticism. It is endangered more by the ignorance of its friends than by anything its enemies can do or have done."

Dr. Lewis also discussed the probable effects of modern criticism upon the Bible as the center of the Protestant movement, and the future of that movement as related to Catholicism. He said: "The issue between Catholicism, backed by sixteen centuries of history, and Protestanism the child of yesterday, is scarcely begun. The attitude of Protestants toward modern Biblical criticism will have much to do with the future history of that issue."

Marshall & Ball Clothing
The Highest Type of Ready-to-Wear.

Distinctive Clothing

For Spring Days

Spring, in all her gay attire, is just hiding around the corner ready to make her bow on the slightest provocation.

The Marshall & Ball Store made its Spring bow last Saturday, and many discriminating dressers provided themselves with the necessary Easter toggery.

Every day the new Spring garments are coming in from our factory, some of them extreme, showing the season's radical ideas, pleasing to young men who follow the fashion; others in the conservative models that appeal to the more modest dressers.

Our showing of weaves and colorings is unusually attractive this season. And in every garment there is that touch of clever tailoring that characterizes M. & B. Ready-to-wear.

Spring Suits, Overcoats and Raincoats, $12 to $35.

"CENTRAL PARK"

Was — Is — Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm.

IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences.

Lots selling rapidly—Prices very low—Great investment or speculative opportunities.

Bowling and General Sports

PERSEVERANCE BOWLERS DEFEATED BY NEWARKERS.

Plainfielders Dropped Three Games in Return Match on Empire Alleys.

The bowling team representing Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., went to Newark, last night, and rolled a return match with Team A of the Newark lodge. The games took place on the Empire alleys but the Plainfielders never got a look-in. They dropped all three, the first by a margin of seventy-eight pins, the second by 115 and the last, the nearest they got to winning, by seventeen.

The visitors claimed that that the alleys were in bad shape and there must be some reason like that for the low scores made. The best for the evening was 177 put up by W. Coburn, who is good for a 200 almost any time. While the Plainfielders rolled fairly well, the averages were not up to their best. The Perseverance team was made up of John Cose, Alex Muir, George E. Firstbrook, Louis Sweeney and V. W. Nash, Jr. A supper and social time followed the match.

The scores:

PERSEVERANCE LODGE.
Cose	162	135	161
Muir	163	163	128
Firstbrook	127	110	148
Sweeney	150	129	175
Nash	158	155	146

THE TIE BROKEN.

Gaddis and Dilks Once More Leading Tourney Bowlers.

The tie for the lead in the bowling tourney at McLaughlin's was broken last night through Gaddis and Dilks taking two games out of three from Mullen and Conklin. It put them in the front again but only that many ahead of Kiely and Runyon who will have an opportunity next week to recover lost ground. In the games last night, Mullen was handicapped by a bad thumb and failed to strike his gait until the last brush. He then did some nice shooting and piled up 209, the best score of the night. "Steady Bill" Dilks started off with 202 and then got 192 and 174, an average of 189.1. Conklin was not up to form and Gaddis' scores were kept down by splits.

The scores:

Mullen	134	138	209
Conklin	145	165	150
vs.
Gaddis	175	135	169
Dilks	202	192	174

HADLEY FAVORS FOOTBALL FOR UNDERGRADUATES

In Address to Local Yale Men He Says Roosevelt Talked of One Thing and Eliot of Another.

COLLEGE LIFE PROBLEM

President of Yale Declares Great Game Takes Students Away From Evil Forms of Amusement.

The Yale Club held its annual dinner at the Casino last night. Fifty members of the organization attended. President Arthur T. Hadley was the guest of honor and the chief speaker.

The diners sat at a long table that stretched down the center of the ballroom. The decorations were simple.

City Judge William N. Runyon was the toastmaster. Besides him and President Hadley at the speaker's table were: Leighton Calkins, Albert H. Atterbury, Dr. Leonard Waldo, John M. Whiton, C. F. Abbott, John Leal, S. St. John McCutchen, Samuel Huntington, Rev. Dr. John Sheridan Zelie, W. D. Murray, all of this city, and Dickinson W. Richards, of Orange.

Joseph M. Shellabarger, who was to have responded to "Princeton," and Mayor Charles J. Fisk, who was down for a response to "The City of Plainfield," were unable to attend. The mayor telegraphed his regrets from Atlantic City.

The speechmaking was started by Thomas M. Day, the club president, with brief introductory remarks. He said in part:

"The Plainfield Yale Club is doing what it can for Yale and Plainfield. I don't think our getting together is all we should do. Clannishness is not good; we should go out and make Yale men known and respected by the country at large. What we want to do at an affair of this sort is to start off a progressive force."

City Judge William N. Runyon, the toastmaster, followed. He spoke feelingly of the spirit of Yale, and evoked warm applause by his eulogy of the university.

Dr. Hadley's Talk.

President Hadley followed Mr. Day. He said:

"A university has to deal with two classes of students: those who have chosen their profession and those who have not. There is an advantage in teaching the two side by side. The professional students give examples of thoroughness to the undergraduate students; the life of the undergraduate students exercises its broadening influence on the professional students. But the problems of the two classes and the methods for dealing with them are essentially different.

"The problem of the professional student is much the simpler of the two. He has a definite end in view. He wishes to be able to practice his calling as intelligently and efficiently as possible. All that he asks of the instructor is to organize his work toward that specific end as efficiently and economically as he can. The athletic, the literary and the social activities of the place have but a secondary importance to him. They are minor diversions, not important elements of his education.

"The problems of the undergraduate who has not yet chosen his profession are more complex. He does not know what he wants. We are trying to help him to find out. This makes the problem of his instructors much harder. Moreover, the tests of the powers which he can make in the class room cover but a small part of his education. His social and literary and athletic activities are coordinate elements in his training with the lectures and books.

Roosevelt vs. Eliot.

Most of the misunderstanding about educational topics arise from confusing the needs of these two groups—from talking as though we had only one kind of men in the university instead of two. There has been some newspaper discussion as to certain utterances of President Roosevelt and President Eliot of Harvard. Some people have said that they were in agreement. Others have said that they differed. The truth is that they neither agreed nor differed. They were talking about separate things. President Eliot was thinking of a university where the students were predominantly of the graduate or professional type. President Roosevelt was thinking of one where the students were predominantly of the undergraduate or non-professional type. If you have a university of the former type in mind you do right to prohibit football. It takes time and is a substraction from professional energy. But if you have a university of the latter type, you do wrong to prohibit football. The time and attention given to football are not taken away from the studies. They are taken away from forms of amusement and dissipation whose good is far less and whose evil far greater than football is or is likely to be.

The Elective College.

"Again, if you have a university composed predominantly of professional students, you do right to let them study what they please. They have reached a point where they can adapt their studies to a definite end. If you have a university composed of non-professianal students, you do wrong to let them study what they please. They have no definite end to which they are able to adapt things. They look to you for guidance. It is indeed wise to give them considerable freedom of choice. It is better to give the guidance in the form of advice than in the form of a fixed curriculum. But the doctrine that a student can study anything he pleases in the high school, and make proficiency in those indiscriminate studies a basis for entrance to college, and then spend two or three or four years at college getting what is supposed to be general culture, is not, in the judgment of most of us, either a sound or a safe one. Not intellectual culture, but intellectual dissipation—and perhaps some other forms of dissipation—represents the normal result of such a process.

"I take it that the problems in whose discussion you are most interested are those that affect the undergraduate or non-professional students; partly because these students constitute two thirds of our list at Yale and partly because their solution is more difficult and uncertain than the others.

Colleges Better Today.

"When we left the old curriculum and introduced the elective system, we of course made some mistakes. From the extreme of indiscriminate compulsion, whereby a man was made to study a little of everything, we passed to the extreme of indiscriminate freedom, which allowed him to study of little of anything. We have, I think, realized that mistake. We see that the only justification of a good elective system will be that it should teach more than the system that it supplanted. I am confident, not only from my own observation but from the testimony of parents, that if we compare the class room work today with that of twenty or thirty or forty years ago, we shall find that the students do more studying and the teachers do more teaching. This increase of interest has produced increased contact between teachers and students. Many parents are afraid to send their sons to a large college, such as Yale is now, because they say that they will see less of their instructors than in a small college. My experience is that they see a great deal more. The students in Yale thirty years ago, in their intercourse with the faculty, tended to look at them a good deal in the same critical way that a man scans his opponent in a contest—between the bars of his visor, as it were. The men of today in very large measure look at their instructors as helpers toward a common end.

"For not only is there increased interest; there is increased intelligence in this co-operation. The use of the library as a means of teaching has increased greatly in recent years, and under the efficient administration of Mr. Schwab is bound to increase very much more in the near future. While we were in college we made a great deal of use of the library, but we did it by ourselves, in isolation. A strong effort is now being made to render the library a part of the teaching system.

Aim of Colleges.

"Another thing which we are beginning to recognize and utilize is the public purpose in college training. If a man thinks that he is sent to college to get culture, the aim is a little indefinite and rather demoralizing. Culture as an end of education is, after all, rather a selfish idea. It is not one that appeals to boys of the best class. Public spirit is a better one. If you tell a boy that he is given liberty, not to serve himself but to serve the public, he is ready to take that view and assume the responsibilities that go with it. He will arrange his course intelligently if he understands that that course is being made a test of the lines in which he can best serve his fellow men. He will do hard and even disagreeable work if he knows that that hard work is an incident of his duty to society. He is content to accept high ideals and difficult standards if he can be sure that the standards have been set intelligently and that the ideals are highly patriotic and farsighted. To a boy taking up his college course in this spirit the very difficulties of the work increase

SKILLMAN'S TRIAL SET FOR TUESDAY APRIL 30

WILL BE TRIED IN SOMERVILLE ON A CHARGE OF FORGERY.

In the Somerset County Court at Somerville yesterday Prosecutor Reger asked Judge Schenck to set a date for the trial of William H. Skillman, of Blawenburg, who is charged with forgery. The case was set down for Tuesday, April 30, although Alvah A. Clark, counsel for the defence, objected to a time being arranged because of the serious condition of the defendant's health.

The defendant is a prominent horticulturalist, and was formerly president of the State society. It is alleged that he forged a document purporting to be the last will of William Lanehart, a well to do farmer and neighbor. By this paper he was to receive half of the estate, valued at about $20,000. A former will does not mention him.

In the County Orphans' Court a year ago the "Skillman will," as it is called, was not admitted to probate, the Court declaring it was not the last will of Lanehart. An appeal was taken to the Chancery Court, which, when decided, may have an important bearing on this case.

EPWORTHIANS SPEND "AN EVENING WITH CHINA."

Young People of First M. E. Church Arrange Pleasing Affair in Vincent Chapel.

"An Evening With China," was a novel form of entertainment enjoyed by the Epworth League of the First M. E. church in Vincent chapel last night. It was arraigned by the social committee, of which Miss Helen M. Whitney is the chairman. The rooms were appropriately decorated with Chinese draperies, and the young women assisting wore native costumes. Burning joss sticks made one think that they were in China among the old temples.

The first part of the evening was devoted to a flower guessing game, and then Dr. Harold Corbusier, of Watchung avenue, gave an informal talk on "China," and he exhibted a great many curosities collected by him in that country, while a surgeon with the U. S. Army during its invasion at the time of the Boxer troubles. Miss Helen Meeker Whitney sang two songs, "Ching-a-ring-ching-ching," and a Japanese Love Song," accompanied on the piano by Miss Leila Druse.

PLAINFIELD IMPRESSED HIM.

Prominent Theatrical Manager Viewed the City and Wants to Return.

Daniel Considine, one of the country's best known theatrical men, came to Plainfield yesterday, in his capacity as manager of "The Old Kentucky" and was very much impressed with what he saw of the city in his walk from the North avenue station to the theatre. He expressed a desire to see more of it and Manager Counihan and his assistant, Michael Shannon, were only too willing to show him around.

They procured a carriage and with Mrs. Considine made a tour of the residential sections of the city and borough. Both were very much impressed, so much so that Mr. Considine expressed his intention of returning a spend the summer here and perhaps to remain permanently. His home is in Nashville, Tenn., but he has been travelling nearly all his life. He declared after the ride that he had never viewed a city that was laid out better or had more handsome homes for its size than Plainfield.

Will Be Married April 10.

Miss Ruth W. Steele, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. Nevitt Steele, of New York, and Joseph Castleton Borden, of South Orange, will be married in Trinity chapel, Manhattan, Wednesday, April 10. A reception will follow the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in West Seventy-third street. Among the ushers will be L. Spencer Steele, a brother of the bride, and Charles H. Theriot, of South Orange, whose parents resided on Mercer avenue, this city, a number of years ago. The prospective bride is a sister of Mrs. Leon Moran, of Grove street.

A Birthday Surprise.

In honor of the eighteenth anniversary of his birthday, Frank Meyer, of East Fourth street, was tendered a surprise party by a dozen of his friends last night. The affair was arranged by his sisters, the Misses Josie and Emma Meyer, George Marsh and James Ennis. Those who were present in addition were the Misses Ethel Gulberg, Eleanor Dolliver, Mabel Seals, Catherine Moore and Florence Cooley, George O'Neil, Eugene Caffrey, Charles Ryder, Joseph Sullivan and George Muir.

CHARGES POLICEMAN WITH FOOL SHOOTING

MRS. COMISKEY WANTS CITY TO PAY FOR GLASS HIS BULLET BROKE.

When the police board meets next week it will have a case of alleged indiscreet and senseless shooting by a policeman to consider. The officer involved is Patrolman Nicholas Meyers, who is charged by Mrs. Joseph Comiskey, of 1219 North avenue, with having shot into the parlor of her home early Wednesday night. No one was hurt, but a $5 pane of French plate glass was shattered, and Mrs. Comiskey wants the city to pay for it.

The shot was fired at about 7:30 o'clock. There was no one in the front part of the Comiskey house, but the family heard the shot and the crash of glass that followed it. They found one of the parlor windows smashed, and a .38 calibre bullet, of the sort in the police revolvers, flattened in the wall of the room.

The shot was heard by the neighbors and several of them came out to see what was happening. One of them, James Brown, who lives on the corner near Mrs. Comiskey's house, has told Chief Kiely that Meyers passed his house as he came out. He says he asked Meyers what the shooting was about, and the policeman told him he had fired at a dog. John Hensey, Mrs. Comiskey's next door neighbor, says there was a dog on his stoop about the time the shooting occurred. The Hensey house is fifty feet away from the Comiskey place.

Meyers has denied shooting at anything on Wednesday night, it was said this morning at police headquarters. Chief Kiely has the bullet, which Mrs. Comiskey brought with her when she made formal complaint against the officer Thursday morning. The case has been reported to the police committee for disposition.

25 YEARS MARRIED.

Mr. and Mrs. George Celebrate Silver Wedding.

In honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, more than fifty members of the First Presbyterian church gave a surprise party to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. George, of Craig place, last night. The surprise was complete, Mr. and Mrs. George not having the slightest intimation of the intended visit. During the evening the couple were presented with a Morris chair and they received a number of other gifts.

Vocal, instrumental music and games helped to pass a pleasant evening. The couple is numbered among the most active workers at the First Presbterian church, Mr. George holding the office of elder. They have been residents of the borough for a number of years.

THREE YALE CUPS.

Offered by the Plainfield Sons of Eli to Local Schoolboys.

At the Yale Club dinner last night three cups offered by the organization to the schoolboys of the city were displayed. The cups, which are of similar design, massive and handsome, are offered to the pupils of Leal's, Plainfield High and North Plainfield High schools, as the prizes for the best record in both scholarship and athletics.

John Leal, head of Leal's, was at the dinner, and thanked the club, in the name of his boys, for the cup offered them. The cup was filled later in the evening, and passed among the diners.

Funeral of Miss Krom.

The funeral of Miss Stephanie Krom, whose death occurred Wednesday, was held at Truell Court yesterday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. A. C. Nickerson, pastor of All Souls church, and was attended by a small gathering of relatives and friends, the intention being to make the service private. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Somerset Club to Start Anew.

The Somerset Club held an important meeting last night and decided not to accept the offer for its furniture and possessions. The club will instead take a new lease of life and will broaden in its aims and objects. Several of the present officers will be replaced by others and the membership will be weeded out.

Helicon Hall Burned.

Upton Sinclair's Helicon Hall, near Englewood, was burned to the ground today following a mysterious explosion which tore the front part of the building away and sent flames to every corner of the structure. One person is missing and twenty-five are seriously injured.

CHASED AND SHOT AT FREIGHT CAR THIEVES

LEHIGH VALLEY DECTECTIVE INTERRUPTS FOUR CROOKS IN S. PLAINFIELD

Wire and freight car thieves have been active at South Plainfield, along the Lehigh Valley Railroad this week. Besides wire-cutting along the railroad in the Bound Brook district, the thieves pulled off an easy job on a telephone lineman at South Plainfield. He left a big coil of copper wire at the foot of a pole, while he went up the line to look for a break, and the copper-hunters picked it up and got away with it.

The next day Detective Reilly, of the railroad police, discovered four hoboes rifling a freight car at South Plainfield. They started to run, and the detective went after them. He fired several shots, but the men escaped. After the chase fourteen boxes of silk yarn, taken from the car, were found wrapped in two greasy coats in a hiding place near the Harris coal yards. In one of the coats a child's silk dress lay beside the yarn boxes. It is not known where the thieves got that.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL MEET.

Schedule of Events Prepared by the League Committee.

The schedule of events for the second meet of the Sunday-school Athletic League, at the Y. M. C. A., April 12, was decided upon by the track and field committee last night. It is as follows:

Senior: Running broad jump, running high jump, potato race (quarter-mile), sack race, 12-pound shot. Intermediate: Running hot-step-and-jump, 8-pound shot, standing broad jump, 4-man relay race. Junior: Standing broad jump, 15-yard dash, pin race (five boys). Boys: Three-legged race, 15-yard dash, potato race. A tug-of-war will be a special event.

Entries will close at the Y. M. C. A. on April 8. Mr. Listman is in charge of the list.

Billiard Champion Coming Here.

Calvin Demarest, of Chicago, who won the national amateur billiard championship at 14-inch balkline, two shots in, in the last game of the tournament at the Liederkranz Club, New York, Thursday night, is a nephew of Mrs. Frank W. Runyon, of Madison avenue. He expects to come to Plainfield in a few days to visit Mr. and Mrs. Runyon. It is predicted by billiard experts that it will not be long before Mr. Demarest will be in the class with William Hoppe, with chances of defeating him.

Mayor Harrigan on the Job.

Bright and early this morning, residents of East Fourth street were greeted by the sight of two large flags stretched across the road. One was the Stars and Stripes and the other Ireland's emblem, placed side by side by Joseph Harrigan, East Fouth street's mayor, who makes this an annual custom. They will be kept up over Sunday for the purpose of rousing patriotism and Blarney stone enthusiasm among the residents.

Dr. Mitchell to Visit Here.

Rev. Dr. Charles B. Mitchell, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church, but now of the First M. E. church, Cleveland, will be in Plainfield on April 17 for a few days. He will be en route for New York, where he will sail on a pleasure trip to Spain. He will be abroad several weeks. Dr. Mitchell is now one of the most prominent preachers in the Methodist church and has accomplished great things since doing west.

Will Celebrate Silver Anniversary.

Arthur L. Titsworth will complete twenty-five years of continuous service as organist at Trinity Reformed church on May 1, and on Sunday night, April 28, there will be a special musical service in honor of the event, the choir assisting, the consistory of the church having granted Mr. Titsworth the privilege of arranging the service.

Funeral of Mrs. Kellogg.

The funeral of Mrs. Marie Kellogg, widow of Captain Kellogg, who died in Muhlenberg Hospital, was held at Runyon's undertaking parlors this afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. Doctor Rodman, rector-emeritus of Grace church. Interment was at Hillside.

Represents His Father.

W. Cleveland Runyon, Esq., represents his father, Walter G. Runyon, in his defense against the action brought by his step-mother for alimony in the Chancery Court, and not Mrs. Runyon, as stated.

There will be a special rehearsal of Easter music at Hope chapel tonight at 7:45 o'clock.

Mrs. A. G. Stevens, of Manning avenue, has gone to Boston for a few days on a combined business and pleasure trip.

MRS. ADRIAN LYON TALKS ON IMMIGRATION

PRESBYTERIAL SECRETARY OF THE C.E. URGES WORK AMONG THE FOREIGNERS.

Election of officers, reports for the year, together with an address by Mrs. Adrian Lyon, of Perth Amboy, on "Immigration," were the features of the annual meeting of the Missionary and Aid Society of Warren chapel, held at the chapel, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Joseph O. McKelvey conducted the devotional exercises, after which the business was taken up. These officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman; first vice president, Mrs. Charles Harring; second vice president, Mrs. William Bacon; secretary, Mrs. Gibson Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joseph W. Gavett; treasurer, Mrs. John Schenck; secretary of literature, Mrs. A. C. Jenkins.

The reports were most encouraging. It was stated that $153 was raised in cash last year through free-will offerings, and $20, part of the monthly salary of a missionary at Ellis Island, was raised, Hope chapel paying the other half, and in addition the society made entire outfits for twelve babies at Ellis Island. There was also the box work for the mission school in the south, twenty yards of rag carpet being included in the articles sent there.

Besides the society has accomplished much work toward the furnishing fund for the new chapel. Sometime ago a special gift of $100 was given with the understanding that the society was to raise a like amount. This was done and a second special gift of $100 was given under similar conditions, it being necessary to raise $100 by yesterday. This and more to was done, and it was reported that the total amount in this fund is now $840. The society desires to make it $1,000.

Mrs. Lyon sounded a note of alarm when she stated that one-tenth of the population of the United States resides within a radius of twenty-five miles of New York, and that there was a goodly proportion of foreigners among them who needed the Gospel brought to them. Another statement of interest was that during the past year New Jersey has received the largest proportion of immigrants than any other State in the Union.

Among those attending the meeting were delegations from the missionary societies of the Dunellen Presbyterian church, Hope chapel and the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

Tea and refreshments were served after the meeting, Mrs. J. H. Snyder and an able corps of assistants being in charge.

Whines Over Being Beaten.

Displaying its usual stupidity, another paper, said last night in excusing itself to its readers for missing the story of the day, as is its habit: "With a scare head another paper had a supposed account of the decision of the street committee with reference to the permanent pavements and the cost of them." It adds that the news was a revelation to the councilmen.

Poor gullible blind contemporary! Maybe, some day it will wake up and give its readers some local news, instead of wasting its time attempting to get people to deny The Daily Press' daily "beats."

After the next regular meeting of the Common Council, the other paper will tell its readers the story about permanent pavements which The Daily Press readers received last Thursday afternoon. Of course it won't be able to escape finding the story when the matter comes up in open council meeting.

Hope Chapel Boys' Club.

The Hope chapel Boys' Club held its third annual meeting, last night, and beside receiving reports and closing up the business for the year, the following officers were installed: President, Allen Snyder; first vice-president, Robert Cozzens; second vice-president, George Reade; secretary, Harry Kenney; treasurer, Morris Hunter; librarian, Thomas Heron; chairman entertainment committee, Donald Mortimer; chairman lookout committee, George Meade; chairman membership committee, Clinton Firstbrook; chairman house committee, Alexander Doig.

Plainfielders Admitted to the Bar.

Among those who have been admitted to the New Jersey Bar are J. P. W. Taylor and Robert Newton Crane, of this city, as attorneys, and Clarence E. Case, of Somerville, as a counselor. Mr. Taylor studied law in the offices of Isaac P. Runyon, Esq., at Park and North avenues.

Gave Progressive Heart Party.

Mrs. Georgianna Coles, of West Front street, gave a progressive heart party to a dozen friends at her home last night. Following the play a musical programme was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

CHARLES T. VAIL'S FIRE EXPERIENCES

Plainfielder Arrested as Alleged Conspirator Said to Have Sustained Losses in This Vicinity.

WHO MISS GILLEN IS

She Worked As a Domestic In Local Family Before Going to West Portal—Vail Got $5,000 From Trolley Company.

The arrest of Charles T. Vail, the former well known Plainfielder, together with Miss Ellen Gillen, of this city, and Joseph Hummell, as exclusively told in yesterday's Daily Press, has given Hunterdon county its greatest sensation in years and has also caused widespread comment locally. The residents at West Portal, or Valley, where the three were taken into custody and where Vail was postmaster, are convinced that a huge conspiracy to defraud insurance companies has been unearthed and are aiding the officials in clearing it up. Hummell and Miss Gillen are now in the jail at Flemington in default of $10,000 bail, while Vail put up $2,000 and is out. He is in Plainfield at the present time awaiting the next session of the Hunterdon County Grand Jury.

It is rather inexplainable why Vail's bail was fixed at $2,000 and the others at $10,000. It is said, however, that Vail is regarded as the principal conspirator and that it was done in order to impress upon Hummell and Miss Gillen the seriousness of their position, in the hope that they might turn State's evidence and convict him. Hummell belongs in the West Portal vicinity, and Miss Gillen was formerly employed in the family of Levis M. Booth, of Watchung avenue. She worked there three years but left a short time ago. She is about twenty-five years old and attractive in appearance. Hummell is fifty-four and was employed by Vail to carry the mail between the Asbury station of the New Jersey Central and the West Portal postoffice.

Vail was born and brought up in this city and when a young man was engaged in the grocery business with his father. They had a store on West Second street in a frame building torn down to make way for George Cole's livery. The son afterward engaged in the dairy business, having a place on lower Plainfield avenue near the South Plainfield pond. Ten years or so ago, the main barn and all the outbuildings caught fire in a mysterious manner one day and were completely destroyed. Soon after that Vail moved to West Portal, as it is known on the Lehigh Valley tables, or Valley on the New Jersey Central's. He bought what the people there called the Squire Smith mill property and for a time ran a small store in one room of the building.

One night in July, now nearly seven years ago, the mill burned down. Vail had it insured in one company for $1,000 and in another company for $2,000. He was not at home the night of the fire. Trouble was had in getting the insurance company to adjust the loss and the company in which he held a policy for $1,000 finally settled with him on an eighty per cent. basis. The other company refused to settle on any basis.

It appears that the same night that Vail's place was burned, he sustained injury in a trolley accident in Dunellen, or set up that claim at any rate. He got Senator Gebhardt of Clinton to bring suit against the trolley company and was awarded damages in the sum of $5,000. Following the accident, the neighbors say, Vail went about on crutches and continued their use until after the verdict had been given in his favor, when he put the crutches aside in quick order.

Vail bought the old Cornish store property at West Portal about two years ago. It is thought that he secured the money to make this purchase out of the damages that he received from the trolley company. He made the purchase of Dr. Petrie, of Phillipsburg. It included the store building, a dwelling house adjoining and a tract of mountain timber land.

Another fire in which Vail was interested occurred last November. This was a small, unused tenement house in the heart of the village owned by Vail, which, in its condition

SPRING MILLINERY.

Our recent opening of Smart and Chic Millinery created a sensation by reason of its superb superiority. The unexampled beauty of the exquisite hats for spring has been proclaimed from the housetops in stentorian tones.

It has been freely acknowledged by visitors the models displayed, taken individually and as a whole, are the most exquisite exhibited in Plainfield. Prices, too, are remarkably low. Be convinced—comparison.

WOMEN'S SPRING SUITS AND JACKETS.

Our new line of Suits and Jackets are ready for inspection. Our styles are the newest and most up-to-date only.

$12.50—Our new line of suits in black, brown, navy blue and fancy checks and plaids are the best value ever offered for the money and would be good value at $15.98.

$5.00—Women's Spring Jackets, the best value ever offered for the money, cut in the newest styles and really worth $7.98.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Manager Briant Johnson is anxiously awaiting the coming of settled weather so that the material for the local ball team can be put through the usual spring practice sprouts. Manager Johnson has good available timber to select from and the town should have a strong team entered in the Inter-City League this season.

Services tomorrow at the Baptist church will be held at the usual hours: Morning preaching, 10:45; B. Y. P. U. meeting, 7:15; followed by the evening preaching service at 8 o'clock.

The funeral of William C. Stanbery, who died at his home Thursday afternoon, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence, Mountain avenue.

"Willie" Deegan left today to join the Jersey City Eastern League team, which starts preparatory work for the opening of the baseball season early in April.

There will be but few changes among the residents on April 1, for the simple reason that the supply of houses for rent is as scarce this year as in the past.

The defeat of the Sunday selling bill at Trenton, Tuesday, seems to meet with the approval of the majority of the residents here.

The drawing for the watch and mandolin being chanced off for the benefit of the ball team will be held April 1.

The weekly praise and prayer meeting will be held at the Methodist church tonight.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The annual school meeting will be held at 8 o'clock next Tuesday night in the borough hall. The business of the meeting will be to elect three members of the Board of Education for a term of three years; one member for two years; one member for one year; to receive the annual report of the Board of Education, and to make appropriations of such sums of money as the voters shall deem best for the support of the schools during the coming year. The retiring members of the Board are President Augustus F. Todd, Jr., Vice President Lewis Schneider, Mahlon R. Dayton, John R. Campbell, who was appointed a year ago to take the place of William Hamilton, who resigned, and Charles B. Mattis, who resigned at the last meeting of the Board. The budget of appropriations to be asked for amounts to $5,600, being $5,000 for current expenses and $600 for repairs. This is $1,000 more than the appropriation last year, but members of the Board say the added expense of a greater number of pupils sent to the Plainfield High School than was anticipated and the engaging of an extra teacher in the first grade will make it necessary to expend that much during the coming year.

The Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will send its barrel offering to the Deaconesses' Home on March 26.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of L. D. Walker and Mrs. Lina Dayton. The wedding will take place next Wednesday.

The Methodist Sunday-school will hold its Easter celebration on Easter Sunday night. Mrs. E. E. Dutcher will have charge.

Joseph Penrose has succeeded Frank Brown as assistant station agent at New Market.

Miss Cora Elliott is ill with scarlet fever. The house has been quarantined.

Mrs. Sanford Ramsey has returned from a visit to relatives at Marlboro.

Rev. Frank Fletcher will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow.

Benjami Dodwell has been ill for several days with tonsilitis.

Robert L. Pierce is suffering with a severe cold.

RAHWAY.

The tearing down of the old Baptist church has commenced. The structure will be removed to make way for the Pennsylvania Railroad to spread out the tracks in its elevation scheme.

Adolph Bartholomae will celebrate his seventy-third birthday Monday night at his Main street residence. Julius Adler and Oscar Schwarze will be in charge of the entertainment.

The trees along the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad southward from Milton avenue are being cut down.

The National Protection League will elect officers for the Rahway branch next Wednesday night.

"The Resurrection" cantata, by Manney, will be rendered by St. Paul's choir Easter morning.

Mrs. James G. Commars has sold her Commerce street residence to Arthur Wilcox.

Mrs. W. G. Runyon, formerly of this city, but now of Newark, is visiting relatives in town.

Miss Florence Hinman, of Somerville, has been spending the week in town with relatives.

Councilman Daniel F. Ginna, of Watchung avenue, has gone to Boston on a business trip.

Louis Kepler Hyde, president of the City National Bank, has returned from a business trip to New Mexico.

Mrs. Edward A. Meyers, of Somerville, has been entertaining Miss Irene Dunham, of West Front street, for a few days.

George S. Dufford and daughter, Marjorie, of West Front street, have returned from a visit with relatives at Middle Valley.

Mrs. W. G. Besler, of Rockview avenue, is detained at home by illness, contracted while in the South on a pleasure trip.

Col. H. B. Masters, of West Seventh street, who was stricken with paralysis three weeks ago, remains in the same critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Tetsuka, of Belvidere avenue, and their daughter, Miss Keo Tetsuka, are stopping at the Hotel Dennis, Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Waterhouse, who assisted at the musicale given at the home of Mrs. Craig A. Marsh Thursday afternoon, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin, of Hillside avenue, while in Plainfield. Mr. Waterhouse is a Harvard graduate and while in college was prominently identified with the glee and musical organizations.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The annual offering for the Missionary Union will be received at the First Baptist church tomorrow.

"An Evening With Robert Burns," a lecture to be given at Hope chapel by Rev. William A. Smith, of Groton, N. Y., will be on Friday night, March 22. There will also be a musical programme.

The Sunday-school of the Park Avenue Baptist church will rehearse their elaborate Easter programme tomorrow afternoon after the session of the school. Charles L. Lewis will be in charge.

The Women's Home Missionary Society met in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday, to prepare boxes to be sent to the mission schools at Tucson and Good Will.

George L. VanEmburgh, senior elder of the Consistory of Trinity Reformed church, has been elected chairman of that body and will serve as such at all meetings of the Consistory during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck.

The service to be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon, March 23, under the auspices of the Benevolent Band, of the King's Daughters, in memory of Margaret Bottome, will commence at 3:30 o'clock. In addition to the addresses to be made at that time, Everett Marshall Waterhouse, tenor soloist of All Angels' church, New York, will sing.

DEMOCRATS WILL HOLD A CAUCUS ON MONDAY.

Democrats Will Then Decide if Silzer Bill Is to Be Made a Party Measure.

Assemblyman Abram Klenert introduced the "Silzer" excise bill in the House of Assembly at Trenton Wednesday just before adjournment was taken for the week.

Because of the absence of several of the Democratic members the proposed Democratic caucus on the "Silzer" bill was not held. An effort will be made to hold the caucus next Monday. Whether or not the bill will be made a party measure is doubtful, but the Democrats are making every effort to have it made so.

One of the Essex Assemblymen, when asked by a correspondent what chance the new bill had, said: "I think that we can get all the Democratic votes in the House, except that of Mr. Morris."

"Even then," ventured the correspondent, "you could not pass the bill."

"You have forgotten the Republican votes that have been promised on the 'Silzer' bill," he replied.

When asked who the Republicans might be, the Assemblyman suddenly became silent, and no more information could be obtained.

Besides the new excise measure several other bills were introduced as follows:

House 411, Mr. Tumulty—Provides that lands belonging to any county within the limits of another county shall be taxed at its true value in the taxing district in which it is located.

House 412, Mr. Tumulty—Makes it lawful for any city in localities having local boards of health to make complaint for violation of the health code.

House 414, Mr. Morris—Extends the jurisdiction of Common Pleas Court so as to include all sections of a civil nature.

House 413, Mr. Morris—Extends the jurisdiction of circuit courts into all counties of the State.

RIPARIAN REPORT NEXT WEEK.

Trenton, March 16.—The final meeting of the riparian investigating committee will be held on Monday, March 18.

The report of the committee is practically finished, but, inasmuch as several of the members desired to consider further two or three important features, it was decided not to issue it until next week.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

The famous "Rogers Brothers in Ireland" will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. This most successful organization numbers 100 people and promises to mount the same equipment used at the Liberty theatre, New York city. Although the piece, in a general way, is different from anything the Rogers Brothers have previously presented, musical features will be conspicuous for novelty and excellence. There will be fourteen big specialties introduced by principals and chorus in very elaborate costuming. There will also be several novelties introduced in each act in such a way as to add to the general attractiveness of the play.

"The Mayor of Tokio," a jolly old fellow, with both scenes laid in the ancient city of Tokio, Japan, a Russian spy and the remnants of an American comic opera company, there is plenty of local color and many amusing situations in the Richard Carle farcical opera, "The Mayor of Tokio," that will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday afternoon and night. The music which is by W. F. Peters is said to be unusually tuneful with more catchy numbers than often fall to the lot of present day comic opera. Among the numbers that have achieved the most popularity are: "Pity My Pitiful Plight," "When the Ocean Breezes Blow," "The Silver Sea of Love," "Foolishness," "Tokio," and "I Like You." This merry bit of tuneful nonesense will be presented here with practically the same company that made the long New York and Chicago runs last season, but a new and costly dress of scenery and costumes has been given the production for the current year.

One of the principal and most delightful parts in Zaza, which will open at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night, is Rosa Bonne, the bibulous Aunt Rose of Zaza, the French provincial concert hall singer, impersonated by Miss Blanche Hall, one of America's youngest stars. Manager George B. Hunt has engaged Miss Katherine De Barry, well and favorably known for her many brilliant impersonations in Boston and Providence stock companies, for the part. Miss De Barry has played Rosa Bonne for two seasons and her delineation of the half-sees-over-all-the-time character has placed her in the five hundred column.

Among noted European actors who are playing in this country this season is Eduard Waldmann, who comes to the New Plainfield theatre on Friday, March 22, in Robert Louis Stevenson's interesting drama, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." This gifted young German-English artist has probably no superior in such characters. He is painstaking as a player and a splendid reader of all the classic dramas. Endowed with an expressive face, a voice full of feeling, sympathy and power and a dramatic temperament, coupled with unremitting industry, he has climbed to the top of the dramatic ladder.

Among the most important attractions that will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre this season is Henry W. Savage's splendid production of George Ade's best and most brilliant comedy, "The College Widow," which will be presented next Saturday afternoon and night. This football comedy was the particular success of two seasons ago in New York city, its vogue being such that it remained at Mr. Savage's Garden theatre the entire season, and last season it was most enthusiastically received in all other large cities. The companies presenting it, and the effete East, the rugged West, the sunny South and the frozen North, have in turn capitulated with ready grace and enthusiastic acclaim emphasizing the original New York verdict. That it is the best work that George Ade has given to the stage. People who have seen the play once, go again and again and declare that they can always find something new to laugh at and enjoy.

Borough School Meeting.

The annual borough school meeting will be held at the Public School on Somerset street, Tuesday night, March 19, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of making the the annual appropriation and the election of three trustees to succeed Dr. J. H. Cooley, R. S. Johnson and James R. Joy. The amount thought to be necessary for maintaining the schools for the coming year is $24,900.

Y. M. C. A. Competition.

All three of the leaders in the standing high jump event, in the all-around athletic championship, at the Y. M. C. A. last night, broke the association record. The mark, made by Harry Scull last year, was 4 feet 3 inches. Lueder made 4 feet 5½ inches, last night, Lawrence made 4 feet 4½ feet and Burgess made 4 feet 3¼. Burgess leads in the competition.

—Daily Press want ads. pay.

—Eugene Brokaw, a brakeman on the New Jersey Central, who was recently injured in an accident, has recovered and returned to his position.

—The Rasores Club will meet Tuesday morning with Mrs. J. Wesley Johnson, of East Seventh street. The subject will be "George Meredith."

—Joseph Weaner, the baseball pitcher with the West Ends of Somerville, last summer, is employed at the Walter Scott Printing Machine Works.

CLOSED PORTALS.

The Woodmen of the World, of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, at their annual convention at Franklin, Pa., elected the following officers: Head consul, W. T. Gordon, Rochester; head adviser, J. H. Bowman, Johnstown; head banker, G. T. Lauffer, Warren; head clerk, F. A. Jackson, Chicago; head escort, George D. Dickets, Latrobe; head watchman, J. M. Schatz, Elizabeth, N. J.; head sentry, F. W. Zeinheimer, Paterson, N. J.; head managers, George N. Cook, Peckville; John J. Miles, Wilkinsburg; E. P. Cuthbert, Homestead; J. E. Richey, Franklin; A. C. Garvin, Philadelphia. Newark, N. J., was selected as the next convention place.

Alfred T. Turner, who is so ably filling the office of supreme secretary of the Royal Arcanum, has been an active member of the fraternity many years and done much to promote its growth. His record shows that he is well qualified to serve as supreme secretary. He was initiated in 1878 in Boston and shortly afterward joined the grand council of the Bay State, where he served on the committee on finance and as grand treasurer for nine years. He was a representative to the supreme council from Massachusetts for four years, chairman of the committee on finance of the supreme council for six years and served as supreme auditor for thirteen years. The duties of these offices and painstaking in a most efficient and painstaking manner. Mr. Turner is also editor of the Royal Arcanium Bulletin, one of the brightest fraternal papers published.

Since organization the Royal Arcanum has paid out over $106,000,000 to the beneficiaries of deceased members.

There are 19,000 members of the order in the jurisdiction of New Jersey, with 119 councils.

The order began the year 1907 with 2,071 councils and 244,000 members in good standing.

During the past twelve months $1,000,000 has been transferred to the emergency fund, thus increasing that fund to $2,844,145.97.

Annual reports of the Knights of the Golden Eagles being received by the grand master of records show that large gains have been made by the order. The net increase in membership is placed at 2,080. Two of the wealthiest of local castles are Waverly, No. 13, and Harris, No. 20, the former being worth $21,206.38 and the latter reporting assets amounting to $22,500.14.

The reports of Fraternal Order of Eagles for 1906 show that large gains in membership have been made. It is expected that at least 50,000 Eagles will soar at the Jamestown exposition on Sept. 16 to 19, inclusive, the days that have been set aside by the exposition company to be known as "Eagle days."

The old Masonic hall in Richmond, Va., is the oldest building erected in America for Masonic purposes and is still in a remarkable state of preservation. In fact, it was the second Masonic building ever built in this country. The hall as it now stands was finished Dec. 10, 1787, at which time all work or business was transacted in the first degree. Among the most interesting exercises ever held in the hall were the funeral obsequies of George Washington, Saturday, Feb. 22, 1800. It was a union meeting of lodges and was very impressive. Another notable event was the reception tendered to General Lafayette on Saturday, Oct. 30, 1824. The record shows that "Worshipful Brother Lafayette was unanimously elected an honorary member of the lodge." The body then joined in a procession to Union hotel, where a dinner in honor of the distinguished Frenchman was given.—Tyler-Keystone.

AN ORDINANCE

To Provide Separate Sewers Or Drains To Carry Off the Surface Water in a Portion of Plainfield Avenue.

WHEREAS, The city finds it necessary, and the Common Council hereby so determines, to provide separate sewers or drains to carry off the surface water in a portion of Plainfield Avenue hereinafter specified, and the water flowing into the brook near the city line, through said portion of said street, and the Common Council has determined, and doth hereby determine that the public good requires the construction of the sewers or drains hereinafter specified:

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby direct and order that separate sewers or drains to carry off the surface water in said portion of Plainfield Avenue and the water flowing into the brook near the city line, as aforesaid, be constructed in and for said City of Plainfield in Plainfield Avenue from Randolph Road to the brook near the city line, as shown for said portion of Plainfield Avenue on a map on file with the City Clerk of the City of Plainfield, entitled "Map for Separate Sewers or Drains to Carry Off the Surface Water in a Portion of Plainfield Avenue, City of Plainfield, N. J., March, 1907," made by Andrew J. Gavett, City Surveyor (to which map reference is hereby made and the same made a part hereof) said separate sewers or drains to be constructed on said portion of Plainfield Avenue between the above mentioned points, as shown on said map, with the necessary manholes and appurtenances to complete the same, and to be of the dimensions and materials, and to be laid along such lines and at such grades and in such manner as indicated and specified on said map.

Sec. 2. That the costs and expenses to be incurred under this ordinance shall be paid with money to be raised by taxation (by general tax for street improvements) pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, as other moneys are raised in said city.

was presented, read and ordered to be considered and acted upon by said Common Council at its next regular meeting to be held at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in said City of Plainfield, on Monday, the first day of April, 1907, at the hour of eight o'clock in the evening of that day, and at such meeting ample opportunity will be given to all parties in favor of or opposed to the improvement contemplated by said ordinance, to present their views with reference to the same, in writing, or otherwise, as the Common Council may at that time direct; and public notice is hereby given of the intention of said Common Council to cause said improvement set forth in said ordinance to be made; and such persons or corporations as may object thereto are requested to present their objections in writing at the City Clerk's office (No. 151 North Avenue, in said City of Plainfield, N. J.) at or before the expiration of ten days from the date of this notice, or to the Common Council at its first meeting held after the expiration of said ten days; and said Common Council at such meeting to be held on the first day of April, 1907, as above stated, or afterward, may proceed to consider and pass such ordinance, notwithstanding any objection.

By direction of the Common Council,

J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.

Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March 14, 1907.

Corporation Notice.

Public notice is hereby given that at a regular adjourned meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey held on Thursday, the fourteenth day of March instant, an ordinance of which the following is a true copy, to wit:

AN ORDINANCE

To Provide For the Construction of a Further Addition to the System of Sewerage Already Constructed in the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, There has been constructed in said city a system of sewerage and such action in relation thereto has from time to time been taken as is set forth in the preamble to the ordinance of said city entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the construction of an addition to the system of sewerage already constructed in the City of Plainfield," approved November 6, 1897, to which preamble reference is hereby made for greater certainty; and

WHEREAS, In the opinion of the Common Council the public good requires that a further addition, as herein described, to the system of sewerage already constructed, should be now constructed in and for said city under the provisions of the Act in said preamble referred to, and the Common Council has so determined and does hereby so determine; therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby direct and order that a further addition to the system of sewerage already constructed under said Act and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, be constructed in and for said city under the provisions of the Act of the Legislature above referred to, with all the appurtenances necessary to complete the same, and of such dimensions and material and according to such plan as the said Common Council may hereafter direct, in and through the following described avenue, property, land and right of way described, mentioned and referred to in this ordinance, to wit.:

STATE F. & A. M. MEETING

Masonic Fraternity's Lodge to Convene on Wednesday at Trenton.

PLAINFIELD DELEGATES

A Two Days' Session—A. H. McGregor Likely to Succeed Walter Chandler.

Members of the Masonic fraternity throughout the State are interested at present in matters which are to come up for consideration at the 119th annual session of the grand lodge which is to be opened at Trenton next Wednesday morning.

The delegates from Anchor Lodge, No. 149, are J. T. Sutphen, William Taylor and James Dodd, and the past masters; the delegates from Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, are Robert Reif, Samuel W. Fish, William G. Hutchcroft and the past masters.

The session will last for two days and will come to close after the election of officers for the ensuing year. The various committees and officers will reach Trenton Tuesday night, according to the present programme, and hold meetings in preparing for the work at the regular session which will be opened by Grand Master Walter Chandler promptly at 11 o'clock the following morning.

The first order of business Wednesday will be the reading of the grand master's report, as well as those of all the standing committees. In the evening the various committees will give hearings on the various recommendations made to them so as to enable them to report at Thursday's session. Much speculation is going on in connection with the election of officers. In accordance with a custom which was established about three years ago, Grand Master Chandler having served his term, will retire, and his successor will, in all probability, be Austen H. McGregor, at present deputy grand master. It is said there is some electioneering being done by others for the office, but Mr. McGregor's friends say that all doubt as to the success of the deputy grand master has been removed.

There are several candidates in the field, however, for the offices of senior and junior grand wardens, and it is rumored that there will be two vacancies to be filled instead of one, as the present senior grand warden may decide not to remain in the running. Among the candidates for elective offices are John C. Cassidy, of East Orange; Alton H. Sherman, of Orange; Leslie A. Burritt, of Bayonne; Henry J. Ronalds, of Rutherford; Cooper H. Crickett, of Camden, and Robert H. Ingersoll, of Atlantic City.

Application will be made to the grand lodge for a warrant for a new lodge which it is proposed to organize in East Orange.

Thursday's part of the session will be taken up by the installation of the new officers and the transaction of whatever business is left over from the day before.

"RENOVATED" BUTTER WOULD NOT DO AT ALL.

Miss Josephine Cohan Goes Up Against a New Table Delicacy and Is Vanquished.

New York, March 15.—Fred Niblo, the monologist, and his talented wife, Josephine Cohan, while in Boston last week, discovered an ideal little apartment, and decided to take a flyer into the realms of domesticity, as they did a few years ago, when their boy, Fred, Jr., was a baby.

Papa Niblo accordingly rented the furnished dove-cote for a week, and they installed themselves, the maid and their baggage. Miss Cohan, proud of her new position, hastened for the corner grocery to lay in a supply of edibles. The first purchase she made was a pound of "renovated butter," for thirty-two cents.

When she arrived home she gleefully told her husband of the purchase, gloating over the bargain. At dinner her pride was doomed to tumble, for the butter was vile. Mr. Niblo hastened to return the villainous conglomeration of cow food to the grocer.

"What on earth is this stuff you call 'renovated butter?'" he asked as he threw it on the counter.

"A mixture of all the tub scrapings from the ten-cent brand to the thirty-five," replied the honest German, and Nible acknowledged that the drinks were on him.

Want Railroad Engineer.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—Secretary Taft is hunting for a well equipped railroad engineer to strengthen the weak spot in the Panama canal policy caused by the resignation of Chief Engineer Stevens and the turning over of the work to the army engineers. Neither the army nor navy engineers nor the civilians thus far appointed to the Isthmian Canal Commission have had much railroad engineering experience, and it is considered vitally necessary that there be on the commission a railroad engineer who will supply this deficiency, as the canal enterprise is largely a transportation problem.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Moriss, of New York, who have been visiting relatives here, have returned home.

VAIL'S FIRE EXPERIENCES

at that time, was worth little or nothing. Joe Hummell, his right hand man, went there a few days before the fire and opened up a store. Neighbors say he got only a very few boxes of goods, or boxes supposed to contain goods. The place burned down on a Sunday morning almost immediately afterward. He had $1,000 insurance and it was rumored at the time that he was obliged to take $200 in settlement with the insurance companies.

Next came the fire which destroyed the old Cornish store property and which led to the arrests of the trio. This occurred on Sunday morning, Feb. 24, of this year, starting at about 7:30 o'clock. Vail was away on this occasion also, claiming that he was in Plainfield. Hummell was in charge of the store during his absence, and had gone there, he says, to fix the fires. He claims that the stove upset, and thereby started the blaze. The building was totally destroyed with its contents.

Vail had stocked the store last May. It is stated by the people that he carried a very small and incomplete stock. He carried an insurance of $3,000 on the stock and $3,700 on the building. The companies carrying the policies were the Westchester, of New York; the Standard, of New Jersey, and a Michigan company.

Adjusters of the insurance companies came to West Portal and instead of settling the claims, caused Justice of the Peace George E. Opdyke to serve summonses upon Vail, Hummell and the mysterious Miss Gillen to appear before him at an investigation to be held at the West Portal Hotel on Saturday of last week. The hearing of the case took place then and occupied practically the whole of the day. Prosecutor George Large was there in attendance and was accompanied by constable Elmer E. Hann.

What came out of the hearing before Justice Opdyke seems to have been sufficient to cause the Justice to issue warrants under the belief that the last fire, at least, came as the result o fa conspiracy between three or more persons.

It came out that Vail had, on Feb. 19, last, held a public sale of the old Cornish property, including the store building, the dwelling and 110 acres of mountain land, with timber reserved. The sale was held at the West Portal Hotel in the afternoon and the auctioneer was Henry Stevens, a man of the neighborhood, whom the village people had never known to have cried a sale before.

Just before the hour that the sale began, a strange man and woman got off the cars. It was understood that they were from Plainfield. The woman subsequently gave her name as Miss Ellen Gillen. She said the man with her was Harry King. They attended the sale and the woman bid on the property. Who bid against her is a mystery to West Portal people, but the property was finally struck off to her for $6,050. The terms of the sale were one-sixth down in cash, and the balance on bond and mortgage at six per cent. The deed was transferred to her following the sale. Vail thereby held a heavy mortgage on the property and it is a significant fact in the eye of the people of the village that mortgagee holds possession of insurance policies.

If a conspiracy was entered into, it is the supposition of people there that he became owner of the property in order to avert suspicion from Vail in the matter of securing the insurance money. Miss Gillen stated that following the sale she made arrangements with Vail, the former owner, that he should continue in charge of the store for her until such time as she could assume control. She agreed to pay him $20 a month for his services.

Vail married Miss Amoretta Hall, of this city, daughter of Wallace Hall. She returned to Plainfield with her three children several weeks ago and is living here now. The children are attending the local schools. Vail has two brothers in this city and other relatives.

Mission Band Entertains.

Under the auspices of the Boys' Mission Band, of Trinity Reformed church, a fine entertainment was held in the lecture room of the church, last night. The programme included recitations by Raymond Stevens, and Percy Diehl; piano duet by Harold Storr and Millard McAfee; piano solo by Ernest Stevens; violin solo by Millard McAfee; phonograph selections on the Victor machine by Andrew Jackson. A feature of the evening was a sketch by Edson Woodhull, who appeared as alias "Sammy Snowball," a negro, just arrived from the south.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The regular services will be held at the Baptist church tomorrow. In the morning the topic will be "God Our Dwelling Place," and in the evening the pastor will preach on "An Old Gospel." The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 7 o'clock in the evening and the topic will be "What is Success?" Miss Nevius will lead.

John Lindaberry shot a mink a few days ago near this place. These animals are rare and the one shot by Mr. Lindaberry is a fine specimen.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Baptist church, is planning for a social to be given at the church before Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, of Easton, Pa., will spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lindaberry.

Herbert Heinbeck is spending a few days with his parents at Fullerton, Pa.

Miss Caroline C. Egel, of Somerset street, a trained nurse, is quite ill at her home, and will be unable to resume her profession for the next two months.

THE WIFE'S ALLOWANCE.

Should the married woman have an allowance?

Well, rather.

The husband who will make his wife run to him before he will give her $5 ought to be sent to the rock pile.

Said one man:

"When my wife wants her pet terrier to bark she gives him candy. I train her the same way."

It is the old harem idea brought down to date.

Many a man will write out checks to pay a $100 bill and not give the matter a thought, but watch him grunt when his wife asks him for a little $5 piece.

The really independent woman nowadays is not the wife of the prosperous merchant nor the petted daughter of the real estate man—no, indeed. The woman who can afford to buy two—two—well—er—lemonades and not have to give an account for the item is the woman who is out in the world earning her own living. Then men growl because the girls nowadays want to get away from home to earn a living.

And every once in awhile some fellow rises up before the world to have his say about woman's litle evasive ways. Who teaches her to do this if not the man who trains her to go on her pretty knees every time she wants to have two bits of her own?

"What do you want m oney for? Isn't my credit good?" asks her lord and master pompously.

How would he like to be compelled to charge every ten cent cigar and the drinks for himself and the other fellow?

On allowance? Well—just ask any married woman.

No man who has the least respect for himself or his wife will force her to beg for money or even humiliate her by compelling her to ask for it.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

Kyrle Bellew will return to the New York stage at Wallack's theatre Monday evening, April 1st, in Klaw & Erlanger's production of Hartley Manners' new play, "A Marriage of Reason," founded on Mrs. Mrs. Arthur Kennard's novel, "The Second Lady Delcombe." He will be supported by Fannie Ward and a notable company.

Klaw & Erlanger's production of Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders' new musical comedy, "The Grand Mogul," will receive its New York premiere at the New Amsterdam theatre Monday evening, the 25th inst. This piece excels in brilliancy of music and cleverness of book these authors' previous greatest success, "The Prince of Pilsen," which made the phenomenal record of twelve engagements in New York. "The Grand Mogul" received its first presentation in Rochester early last November, and, after brief engagements in smaller cities, was presented for a long run at the Colonial theatre in Chicago, where it scored a great hit.

Daniel Frohman's production of "The Spoilers," a four-act play by Rex Beach and James MacArthur, founded on the former's famous novel of the golden fields at Nome, Alaska, was given its premiere at the New York theatre last Monday evening and scored a marked success. The story is presented in four acts, the scenes showing the deck of a steamer bound for Alaska, the law office of the United States District Attorney at Nome, the gambling hall of the "Broncho Kid" at Nome, a room in an isolated tavern outside of Nome and "The Midas" kold mine. "The Spoilers" as a novel proved a most graphic description of conditions existent in Alaska attending the looting of the mines at Nome by a corrupt gang of political highbinders, who, allied with a corrupt judiciary, attempted to take forcible possession under the guise of law of the richest mines in the Nome district.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST MANHATTAN SONG BIRDS.

Oscar Hammerstein Engages Calve, Nordiac and Schumann-Heink for the Popular House.

Calve will sail from France on La Provence tomorrow, and on March 27 she will appear at the Manhattan as Carmen, surrounded by the cast now supporting Bressler-Gianoli. Campanini will conduct. She will sing eight times this spring—in "Carmen," "Faust," "Cavalleria" and "La Navarraise," which will be revived for her. Mr. Hammerstein has an option on her services for next year also.

It may also be announced that Mr. Hammerstein will give "Tristan und Isolde" in German next season, with Dalmores as Tristan, Nordica as Isolde and Schumann-Heink in the contralto role. The rest of the cast is at present problematical. He has not signed with the great contralto yet, and she will sing largely in concerts next season anyway. But the two are in daily negotiation and the contract may be signed any day for a limited number of apearances. It is possible that "Lohengrin" will also be sung in German, and even "Siegfried." The roles are all familiar to Dalmores.

Meanwhile De Cisneros is ill, and "Marta" will not be revived till the Saturday matinee, March 23. Tonight the opera will be, instead, "Elisir d'Amore," with Bonci, Gilbert and Mme. Pinkert. Both men are at their best in this opera, but it has not been frequent in the repretory this winter.

THE WEAKNESS OF MANKIND.

One of the strangest paradoxes in human nature is that men and women, struggling apparently with all their might to succeed, are yet constantly doing things, saying things, and thinking things which drive the very success they are after away from them.

They are all the time counteracting their efforts by some indiscretion.

Men work like Trojans to get a coveted position, and then, by getting puffed up with conceit, or by some foolish or weak act, knock the scaffolding out from under them and down they go.

Their lives are a series of successive climbs and tumbles, so that they never get anywhere, never accomplish anything worth while.

There are thousands of men who are working in very ordinary salaried positions who might have been employers themselves but for some unfortunate weakness, some little deficiency in their natures, or some peculiarity—something which might have been remedied by a little discipline and self-study in youth, says Home Chat.

Others are always driving success away from them by their doubts, their fears, their lack of courage, their lack of confidence—driving it away by thoughtless habits which repel success conditions.

Election of Trustees.

The annual meeting for the election of trustees will be held at the First M. E. church Monday night, March 25, at 8 o'clock, when three trustees will be chosen to succeed John Corey, J. C. Peck and George M. Rittenhouse, whose terms expire April 1; also to elect a trustee to fill the unexpired term of George H. Burgess, resigned because of ill-health.

—For the best results try a Press Want ad.

He walked about the room with the quick, eager step that was peculiarly his own, while Stoddard, Larry and I stared at him. Bates was helping the dazed sheriff to his feet. Morgan and the rest of the foe were crawling and staggering away, muttering, as though imploring the aid of heaven against an evil spirit.

Pickering sat silent, not sure whether he saw a ghost or real flesh and blood, and Larry kept close to him, cutting off his retreat. I think we all experienced that bewildered feeling of children who are caught in mischief by a sudden parental visitation. My grandfather went about peering at the books, with a tranquil air that was disquieting.

He paused suddenly before the design for the memorial tablet, which I had made early in my stay at Glenarm House. I had sketched the lettering with some care, and pinned it against a shelf for my more leisurely study of its phrases. The old gentleman pulled out his glasses and stood with his hands behind his back, reading. When he finished he walked to where I stood.

"Jack!" he said, "Jack, my boy!" His voice shook and his hands trembled as he laid them on my shoulders. "Marian,"—he turned, seeking her, but the girl had vanished. "Just as well," he said. "This room is hardly an edifying sight for a woman." I heard, for an instant, a light hurried step in the wall.

Pickering, too, heard that faint, fugitive sound, and our eyes met at the instant it ceased. The thought of her tore my heart, and I felt that Pickering saw and knew and was glad.

"They have all gone, sir," reported Bates, returning to the room.

"Now, gentlemen," began my grandfather, seating himself, "this little secret of mine was shared by only two persons. One of these was Bates,"—he paused as an exclamation broke from all of us; and he went on, enjoying our amazement,—"and the other was Marian Devereux. I had observed for years that at a man's death his property often gets into the wrong hands, or becomes a bone of contention among lawyers. Sometimes,"—and the old gentleman laughed,—"an executor proves incompetent or dishonest. I was thoroughly fooled in you, Pickering. The money you owe me is a large sum; and you were so delighted to hear of my death that you didn't even make sure I was really out of the way. You were perfectly willing to accept Bates' word for it; and I must say that Bates carried it off splendidly."

Pickering rose, the blood surging again in his face, and screamed at Bates, pointing a shaking finger at the man.

"You impostor,—you perjurer! The law will deal with your case."

"To be sure," resumed my grandfather, calmly; "Bates did make false affidavits about my death; but possibly—"

"It was in a Pickwickian sense, sir," said Bates gravely.

"And in a righteous cause," declared my grandfather. "I assure you, Pickering, that I have every intention of taking care of Bates. His weekly letters giving an account of the curious manifestations of your devotion to Jack's security and peace were alone worth a goodly sum. But, Bates—"

The old gentleman was enjoying himself hugely. He chuckled now, and placed his hand on my shoulder.

"Bates, it was too bad I got those missives or yours all in a bunch. I was in a dahabiyeh on the Nile and they don't have rural free delivery in Egypt. Your cablegram called me home before I had finished reading the letters. But thank God, Jack, you're alive!"

There was real feeling in these last words, and I think we were all touched by them.

"Amen to that!" cried Bates.

"And now, Pickering, before you go I want to show you something. It's about this mysterious treasure, that has given you—and I hear, the whole countryside—so much concern. I'm disappointed in you, Jack, that you couldn't find the hiding place. I designed that as a part of your architectural education. Bates, give me a chair."

The man gravely drew a chair out of the wreckage and placed it upon the hearth. My grandfather stepped upon it, seized one of the bronze sconces above the mantel and gave it a sharp turn. At the same moment, Bates, upon another chair, grasped the companion bronze and wrenched it sharply. Instantly some mechanism creaked in the great oak chimney-breast and the long oak panels swung open, disclosing a steel door with a combination knob.

"Gentlemen,"—and my grandfather turned with a quaint touch of humor, and a merry twinkle in his bright old eyes—"gentlemen, behold the treasury! It has proved a better hiding place than I ever imagined it would. There's not much here, Jack, but enough to keep you going for a while."

We were all staring, and the old gentleman was unfeignedly enjoying our mystification. It was an hour on which he had evidently counted much; it was the triumph of his resurrection and home-coming, and he chuckled as he twirled the knob in the steel door. Then Bates stepped forward and helped him pull the door open, disclosing a narrow steel chest, upright and held in place by heavy bolts clamped into the chimney. It was filled with packets of papers tied neatly with tape.

"Jack," said my grandfather, shaking his head, "you wouldn't be an architect, and you're not much of an engineer, either, or you'd have seen that that paneling was heavier than was necessary. There's $200,000 in first-rate securities. Bates and I put them there just before I went to Vermont to die."

"I've sounded those panels a dozen times," I protested.

"Of course you have," said my grandfather, "but solid steel behind wood is safe. I tested it carefully before I left."

He laughed and rapped the floor with his staff, and I laughed with him.

"But you found the Door of Bewilderment and Pickering's notes, and that's something."

"No; I didn't even find that. Donovan deserves the credit. But how did you ever come to build that tunnel, if you don't mind telling me?"

He laughed gleefully.

"That was originally a trench for natural gas pipes. There was once a large pumping station on the site of this house, with a big trunk main running off across country to supply the towns west of here. The gas was exhausted, and the pipes were taken up before I began to build. I should never have thought of that tunnel in the world if the trench hadn't suggested it. I merely deepened and widened it a little and plastered it with cheap cement as far as the chapel; and that little room there where I put Pickering's notes had once been the cellar of a house built for the superintendent of the gas plant. I never had any idea that I should use that passage as a means of getting into my own house, but Marian met me at the station, told me that there was trouble here, and came with me through the chapel into the cellar, and through the hidden stairway that winds around the chimney from that room where we keep the candle-sticks."

"But who was the ghost?" I demanded, "if you were really alive and in Egypt?"

Bates laughed now.

"Oh, I was the ghost! I went through there occasionally to stimulate your curiosity about the house. And you nearly caught me once!"

"One thing more, if we're not wearing you out—I'd like to know whether Sister Theresa owes you any money."

My grandfather turned upon Pickering with blazing eyes.

"You scoundrel, you infernal scoundrel, Sister Theresa never borrowed a cent of me in her life! And you have made war on that woman—"

His rage choked him.

He told Bates to close the door of the steel chest, and then turned to me.

"Where are those notes of Pickering's?" he demanded; and I brought the packet.

"Gentlemen, Mr. Pickering has gone to ugly lengths in this affair. How many murders have you gentlemen committed?"

"We were about to begin actual killing when you arrived," replied Larry, grinning.

"The sheriff got all his men off the premises more or less alive, sir," said Bates.

KNOW IT WELL.

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Plainfield Citizens.

A familiar burden in every home,
The burden of a "bad back."
A lame, a weak or an aching back
Tells you of kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Here is Plainfield testimony to prove it:

Rhoda A. Martin, of 24 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I had a pain in my back and loins for about a year or more, no doubt caused by my kidneys being out of order. I felt it more in the morning, just after getting up or if I did any stooping of lifting. Notwithstanding the fact that I took all kinds of medicines I never found anything which helped me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at L. W. Randolph's drug store. They not only removed the pain, but they strengthened me in other ways." (Statement made in January, 1901.)

Statement Confirmed.

On July 22, 1905, Mrs. Martin's daughter said: "The testimonial given for publication four years ago was true in regard to the benefit my mother derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, and today she is as ready and willing to repeat what she therein said as she was after using your medicine."

E. M. FRENCH AGENCY REPORTS SALES AND RENTALS.

Continued Activity In Real Estate Looked For By Well Known Broker.

The real estate agency of Elston M. French has made a large number of sales and rentals this year. William McIntosh, of College place, has purchased the house formerly belonging to Mrs. Amelia L. French, No. 25 Willow avenue, and expects to remove there this spring; J. J. F. Randolph has rented the house owned by Mrs. J. M. Burnet, No. 908 Madison avenue, and will take possession April 1; Dr. W. J. Norfolk, of New York city, who has recently returned from abroad, has rented the house owned and formerly occupied by J. W. Reinhart, on Belvidere avenue, one of the handsomest properties in Plainfield; the First National Bank, of this city, has purchased of Philip Mitze the property directly in rear of the building on the northerly corner of East Front and Somerset streets. This was formerly a portion of the property owned by the estate of P. M. French, who has also sold the bank a strip of land about twenty feet front on Somerset street, immediately adjoining the first mentioned property. Richard J. Letcher, of Bayonne, has purchased the property formerly owned and occupied by John Cathcart, No. 749 Belvidere avenue, and after making extensive alterations will occupy the house sometime late in the spring.

William H. Wootton, of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, has rented the house No. 333 East Seventh street, owned by S. H. Voorhees. Mr. Whitney, of New York city, has rented the house, furnished, owned by T. W. T. Maxwell, No. 960 West Seventh street.

James B. Hodgskin, of the Title Guaranty and Trust Company, of New York, has purchased the house No. 161 Grove street, corner Rockview avenue, of Miss Laura Boorman. This is the house occupied at present by Mr. Arnett, of the Siche Gar Company. Andrew H. Lipsett has bought the property No. 32 Myrtle avenue, of Mrs. Emma C. Harbaugh, and will make it his home in the future. Albert H. Tilney, of the banking firm of Harvey Fisk & Sons, has removed from his home in Boston to the house No. 1001 Central avenue, formerly occupied by John L. Jewett, who is at present in Japan.

J. Van Wyck Du Bois has purchased the house No. 1121 Putnam avenue of J. J. H. Poillon.

HOW NEW YORK WOMEN FURNISH THEIR HOMES.

They Carry Mural Decorators, Upholsterers and Architects Into the Latest and Most Artistic Hotels.

New York, March 16.—If one would know the secret of the artistic and elaborate furnishings and fittings of the new palaces of the "400," which are going up on Fifth avenue and the Riverside drive, he must look for the solution in the corridors and parlors of the big new hotels, the multi-million-dollar caravansaries of the metropolis.

There, day after day, the observant seeker after knowledge will find the grande dames of society, accompanied by upholsterers, architects and mural decorators, carefully noting the beauties of the hotels, and adapting the same in pencil sketches and in written notes to the dimensions of milady's palace (in process of erection).

In verification of this, James B. Regan, proprietor of New York's latest and great caravansary, the Hotel Knickerbocker, had this to say:

"Yes, these ladies are always welcome. Many of them are dinner or luncheon patrons of ours, and still others arrange musicales and club banquets here. Even those who do not, are welcome. I spent two years abroad, studying the best things in decoration, comfort and convenience, and if the fruit of my labors will make it easier for some American householders, I am very glad. One of the most prominent society leaders in New York is now spending a part of each day here for the purpose."

Many Going Abroad.

New York, March 16.—Notwithstanding the fever that has come to Wall street the troubles of that erratic canyon do not seem to have affected any considerable portion of the rest of the well to do of this country. For years the unfailing index of generally well lined pockets has been in the volume of bookings for spring and summer travel abroad. During dark days of depresssion and eras of hard times the veryfi rst to feel the effect are the transatlantic steamship companies whose bookings tell of general prosperity or of general depression with unfailing accuracy. All those who might have been made apprehensive by the slump in Wall street should be reassured by the bounding optimism of the steamship agents, who are unanimously agreed that never before in the history of transatlantic travel have the bookings been so heavy as this season.

The Admired White Gown.

Men like whatever contrasts most with their own sober though practical attire. They may accept tailor-made gowns and sensible hats, but they appreciate feminine beauty most in distinctly feminine settings picture hats, soft plumes, delicately colored gowns. A white dress, be it the simpliest muslin or richest silk, always catches the masculine eye.

the affection with which he looks upon the place. It is not the easiest times in our lives that we look back with affection. You know the old Harrow song:

"'The time will come
As the years go by
When your heart will thrill
At the thought of the hill,
And the pitiless bell with its piercing cry.'

Public Spirit.

"There is this same poety in American college life. Some people have thought that it was bound up with the old dormitories and the old fence. But it can center around new dormitories and new fences as long as the public spirit is there. Some have thought that it was bound up with the old debating societies; but in an age when it can centre around the Yale News, if the Yale News is made a real organ of public opinion, whose duty is to inform and to moderate rather than to pander to the craving for sensation. It is the property of no one department and of no one generation. You, as alumni, feel this poetry of Yale life more strongly today than you did when you were undergraduates. Among your many duties and among the varied services which you can render to the college, it is your highest duty and your most efficient service to keep alive this tradition of public spirit, of work to a common end, which shall inspire our whole college life, graduate and undergraduate, and make Yale a place which we love because it has taught us to forget ourselves in the pursuit of things larger and better."

Leighton Calkins, responding to "Harvard," said, in part:

"Yale and Harvard are natural rivals and competitors, but they have much in common. We face today problems of more serious import than those of other days. We face, today, an abhorrent thing called 'honest graft.' It is more truthful to call it commercial dishonesty. The colleges must do their part in correcting those conditions. Let us exalt the truth and abide by it always."

Albert H. Atterbury, speaking on "The Plainfield Yale Club," said, in part:

"When college men assemble to break bread together their bond of unity is a liberal education. We belong to that intellectual sphere, and I plead guilty to a Pharasaical feeling. We are not exactly as other men are. We have that which mere wealth cannot buy. The culture to be achieved at college is a valuable asset, and will smooth over the last quarter of a man's life as nothing else will."

Leander N. Lovell, who has sent four sons to Yale, was called upon to speak in Mr. Fisk's place. He spoke briefly. In closing, he said:

"This town has always shown the effect of college spirit. It has never been afflicted with graft, and has enjoyed the activity of a thoughtful and voting populace. You college men cannot help but add to the nobility of Plainfield's civic spirit and attract others like you."

Dickinson W. Richards, of Orange, brother of Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, in the course of his response to "The Alumni of Yale" said:

"College men have more ways than one of standing together. One of the advantages of Yale education is the commonsense it gives to the students. We are hearing constantly that there is a spirit of unrest in the air. It seems to me that if we look among the educated class we find the majority afraid to do anything and the minority trying to do too much.

"We find a tendency to tinker with the corporation laws of the State. I believe that the present laws in New Jersey are the best on the statute books for the incorporation of honest business. But that there are evils in the business life cannot be denied. College men are of the sort that can best lead the people rightly in their effort to correct the evils. They can do much to put the country on a surer foundation."

"CENTRAL PARK"
Was—Is—Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm.

IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences.

Central Park is that beautifully situated tract bounded by Park, Prospect, Hillside and Thornton Avenues.

INDIVIDUALISM CRIMINAL

Selfishness of People Cause For More Murders Than in Other Countries.

A SERMON ON HATREED

Rev. L. R. Howard Gives Some Startling Figures—Social Rich As Criminal As Outcast Class.

At the communion service at Hope chapel, last night, Rev. L. R. Howard delivered the fifth of his series of sermons on "Things to Oppose." The special subject of this address was "Hatred and Murder," the text being I John 3:15,—"Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer."

"If there is one thing more than another," Mr. Howard said, "which we ought to desire in connection with the communion service it is that it should touch and influence our every day life. It ought to make us stronger to fight life's battles, and to oppose the evils that exist in society. Among the worst of these evils are hatred and murder, and these it is peculiarly fitting to consider in this connection because they were in a sense the direct cause that our Lord's body was broken and his blood shed in the course of his loving service of mankind.

"The fact that murder is far from our intention," said Mr. Howard, "does not show that we may not be in great danger from the spirit of murder, or from some share of responsibility for it. There were persons in Jerusalem who share to our minds the responsibility for the crucifixion of Jesus although they lifted not a finger against him. There are persons in Plainfield who are responsible for murder, although they have never shed a drop of human blood. They have failed to stand for anything but self and such failure it is which leads to the spirit of murder and its fruits."

Quoting some recent studies on the subject, Mr. Howard at this point declared that there are more men killed by other men in the United States than in any other of the great nations of the world. A man is twenty-five times more in danger of being murdered in this country than in Germany. Even Japan, to which we send missionaries, has a record of only a little over one-tenth as many homicides per million people a year as our own country. What is worse, the homicides in America are on the increase and not especially among the foreign or the negro populations, but among the American born whites. A cause which has been assigned for this state of things is the excessive individualism of Americans, their lack of a social conscience, which, Mr. Howard said, were other ways of saying their extreme selfishness.

"We have been living altogether too much," said Mr. Howard, "on the plan of 'every man for himself,' and no man for the community. There is no one section of the land which is especially at fault and no one limited criminal class. The mountains of Kentucky vie with the slums of Chicago, and New York's 'tenderloin' with the Nevada plateaus in this disreputable record. The rich and socially respectable furnish as large a proportion of the murder news as those who are social outcasts. Many a murderer has been brought up in a so-called Christian home and almost all of them have lived for years within the proper range of influence of the church."

"The conclusion is plain then," said Mr. Howard, "that it is a serious and solemn duty for Christians to condemn in every possible way all that sort of selfish action whose ultimate fruitage is hatred, all sorts of 'sin which when full grown bring forth death.'" "Why do we Christians count so little in this beautiful land?" asked Mr. Howard. "Beceuase," he answered, "we have not stood true to the Christ who died to teach the lesson of love. Because we have nto yet resisted unto blood." In conclusion he urged those present to take the covenant anew tonight in the blood of Christ, the covenant to give self without reserve to unselfish service, and to unhesitating opposition to all that makes for hatred between men."

MRS. BOSTWICK HERE; HER HUSBAND AT FEZ

WHILE DENTIST FIXES TEETH OF SULTAN'S WIVES, SHE VISITS PARENTS.

Mrs. Frank M. Bostwick, her son and a Spanish maid arrived in New York on the Carpathia, Saturday, from Mediterranean ports. She came at once to Plainfield to spend two months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Eoff, of Crescent avenue. Mrs. Bostwick's husband, Dr. Bostwick, is an American dentist residing at Gibraltar and he recently was summoned by the Sultan of Morocco, Muley Abdul Aziz, to the royal residence at Fez, the capital of Morocco. Members of the royal household, it seemed, had need of Dr. Bostwick's professional services, and forthwith the dentist departed by steamship for Tangier.

Mrs. Bostwick wished to accompany her husband, naturally enough perhaps, as there are many beauteous damsels in the seraglios of Muley Aziz, but then the voracious bandit, Raisuli, is at large in the Moroccan foothills or thereabouts and the Government of Muley Aziz, it is said, would not guarantee personal safety to Europeans. Therefore, it was decided mutually that Dr. Bostwick should undertake the journey without his wife. Raisuli is a dangerous bandit—he roams about with a retinue of wild followers who, it is understood, stop at nothing. The journey is regarded as practically safe for Dr. Bostwick, but the presence of a woman in the caravan migh, of course, have complicated matters.

Dr. Bostwick travelled from Gibraltar to Tangier by steamship and then joined a caravan going across the desert to Fez, the capital, where are the royal palaces and the many comely members of the household whose dainty teeth need tinkering. In the caravan accompanying Dr. Bostwick will be seven men and seven mules, and for siv days the caravan was to wind across the hot sands before it comes within sight of the white spires and gleaming minarets of Fez, the sturdy mules laden, perhaps, in part with souvenirs that the enterprising American dentist may be taking as gifts for the excellent Abdul and his attractive household.

Whether Dr. Bostwick will be able to escape from Fez without receiving decorations at the hands of royalty—being made perhaps Lord High Tooth Tapper to his most brave Majesty, the most far famed sovereign, Muley Aziz. His stay will be made agreeable, dark-eyed maidens will wait upon him, bringing Oriental viands, rare tobaccos and many costly gifts. The visit of the Yankee dentist to royalty will be memorable; but let him beware, lest through some royal jealousy he be handed over to that wicked bandit, Raisuli.

In the meantime his wife will visit on this side, receiving letters, doubtless, from Dr. Bostwick, in the interior of Morocco, describing, perhaps, the manfild delights of Fez, royal city and residence of Muley Abdul Aziz.

HONORED PATRON SAINT.

St. Patrick's Day Whist Party Given by Mr. and Mrs. Homan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Homan, of Plainfield avenue, gave a St. Patrick's Day whist party at her home, Saturday night. There were five tables and the house was elaborately decorated in honor of the "Patron Saint," there being a profusion of green, combined with countless little shamrocks. The score cards also bore a picture of a shamrock and each guest received a shamrock pin a souvenir. The refreshments were unique in that the color scheme of green was carried out.

Mrs. James P. Homan won the first prize for the women and Mrs. Marcus L. Clawson the second prize. Frank H. Smith received the first prize for the men and John B. Cottrell the second, while Dr. Marcus L. Clawson was presented with the consolation prize.

WHAT THE PEOPLE READ

Miss Emma Adams, of the Public Library, Says Plainfielders Prefer History.

TRAVEL BOOKS NEXT

Great Demand For All Kinds of Works Contrary to Popular Idea Fiction Is Not the Most Eagerly Sought.

That Plainfield people appreciate their free Library is shown by the large number of books constantly out in circulation. During twenty days from January 25 to February 13, inclusive, which includes four non-circulating days, there were out in circulation in round numbers 2,000 volumes. It will be interesting to learn something of the character of these 2,000 books; what kinds of books are read, and what authors are being read in the community.

"It is sometimes alleged that libraries are used mostly by readers of fiction," says Miss Adams, the librarian. "Let us see what the facts are: Taking history first. As one would expect, the history of our own country is by far the most read about. Among them are Trevelyan's American Revolution, European Background of American History, Source books of American History, a large number of the Indians, among which were 'The Indian Dispossessed,' 'Century of Dishonor,' several on our own State, as 'Early Germans of New Jersey,' histories of various counties, &c.; while of the histories of other countries we find such books as 'Salve Venetia,' 'Scenes of the Middle Ages,' 'The Crusades,' 'Papal Monarchy,' 'Saint Simon's Memoirs,' 'Ancient Greeks,' 'Story of Ireland,' histories of Japan, England, Holland, &c.

"The department of Travel, closely akin to history, and always a most popular department, is used for a variety of purposes," says Miss Adams. "Persons contemplating a trip abroad who read up in advance, as well as those who revisit through the aid of books the countries through they have travelled; the pupil to supplement his geography lesson, and always the 'general reader.' Beside the charm of a really good book of travel, many of the modern books of this class are, with their beautiful colored illustrations or careful drawings a delight to the eye, and even the inveterate novel reader is, now and again, lured away from his favorite field by the attractiveness of these books. Among those circulated in this class are 'Letters from a Chinese Official,' 'Northward Over the Great Ice,' 'The World's Children,' 'Lily of the Arno,' 'Feudal Chateaux,' 'Tour in France,' 'Yesterdays in the Philippines,' 'Soul of the Far East,' 'English Hours,' 'Ranch Life,' 'Land of the Boxers,' 'Flash Lights in the Jungle,' all of the fascinating 'Little Cousin Series,' 'Boots and Saddles,' 'Bluegrass and Rhododendron,' 'From Panama to Patagonia,' 'Strange Corners of Our Country,' 'Voyage of the Discovery,' 'Wanderer in London,' 'German Life in Town and Country,' 'Stoddard's Lectures,' 'Mountaineering in the Sierra Nevada,' &c., &c.

"Biography is another department closely akin to history. These books also tempt the novel reader to follow the fortunes of a real, rather than an imaginative hero or heroine. Historic, literary, artistic, religious and scientific biography all have their readers. The one character most read of within the time dated was Lincoln, all the shorter lives of Lincoln having been out in circulation. Some of the other historical biographies circulated were those of Washington, General Lee, Sumner, William and Silent, Lucretia Borgia, Charles II; of literary biographies there were Stevenson, Dickens, Walt Whitman, Emerson, George Eliot, Lewis Carroll, Lowell, &c.; among religious biographies the 'Oxford Reformers,' 'Reminiscences of a Missionary Bishop,' 'Missionary in the Great West,' Luther, &c., while of artists and musicians there were the lives of Gellini, Beethoven, Millet, Romney, Reynolds, Gainsborough,, &c.

"Among the books in general literature, which includes essays, poetry, books of poetry and drama, decidedly lead in popularity, among those are Homer, Shakespeare, Goethe, Schiller, Ibsen, Longfellow, Alice and Phoebe Cary, Whittier, Stephen Phillips and Bernard Shaw. Among the essaysists there were Matthew Arnold, Benson's 'Upton Letters' and 'From a College Window,' 'Fiona Maclead,' Omar Khayyam, Bliss Perry, Ruskin, 'Mr. Dooley,' Macaulay, Mabie, &c., with a goodly sprinkling of books of recitations, 'toasts,' books on letter writing, &c., &c., and a considerable number of books in French and German.

JOURNEYMEN WANT INCREASE IN WAGES

REPORTED THAT PLUMBERS, TINNERS AND PAINTERS ARE DISCONTENTED.

Rumors of impending trouble in the various trades have been heard during the past week, it being stated that the journeymen are preparing to ask for an increase in wages. A committee from the journeymen plumbers recently sent a communication to the master plumbers asking for a conference. This was held a few days ago and a report will be received from the committee at a meeting of the Master Plumbers' Association tonight. While no idea cannot be learned as to what this report will be, it is understood that it will contain a request for more money.

It is also said that the journeymen painters, as well as the tinners are seeking a raise. The carpenters, it is reported, have an agreement for another year and therefore no trouble is expected in that trade.

The master builders take the position that it is better to let well enough alone than to break up the present harmonious relations and upset the building in prospect. They claim that it is far better to have steady work at the present rate of wages than to work only half time at a higher scale. On the other hand the journeymen who want a raise, insist that people intending to build will do so anyway whether the wages remain as they are or go higher.

SURVIVORS OF 11TH REGT. PLANNING FOR A REUNION.

N. J. Veterans to Gather at Truell Hall on Saturday, May 11.

Captain William Hand, Captain W. C. Smith, Chief T. O. Doane and Isaac Randolph, the committee in charge of the arrangements for the annual reunion of the 11th Regiment, N. J. Vols., to be held in this city, Saturday, May 11, met yesterday to discuss plans. The committee received from Mrs. J. R. Truell an offer to hold the reunion at Truell Hall, formerly Netherwood Hotel, and it was decided to accept it. The cent will be of special significance because the occasion will also mark the golden wedding anniversary of Captain and Mrs. William Hand, and they are anxious to make the celebration a fitting one. For this reason most of the plans will be arranged by them.

The 11th Regiment was formed at Trenton, and the Plainfield members, Chief Doane, William Payne, Henry Molleson, John Goodwin, Isaac Randolph, Captain Hand joined Company B of that regiment in 1862. The enlistment was for three years and Chief Doane, William Payne, Henry Molleson, Isaac Randolph and Captain Hand served the entire time. About fifty members of the regiment, including its last commanding officer, Col. Schoonover, of Trenton, are expected. Captain W. H. Meeker, of Company B now residing in Elizabeth, will also be here.

Ceremony Performed at the Home of the Bride's Parents by Rev. C. L. Goodrich.

Miss Josie Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Green and Henry Jackson, of this city, were married last night at the home of the bride's parents, 215 Pond place. Rev. Chas. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, performed the ceremony. The affair was a quiet one, being witnessed only by the relatives and a few intimate friends.

Miss Sadie Hoffman, of Clinton avenue, was the bridesmaid, and Lyman Gillson, of Lynn, Mass., the best man. The bride's gown was of white brocaded satin trimmed with chiffon and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of old rose chiffon taffeta, with Persian trimming and carried pink roses.

An informal reception followed. The bride received a number of valuable gifts. After a honeymoon the couple will reside on Clinton avenue.

Pugnacious German Find.

While sampling the wares in Bobby Leach's lunch wagon on East Second street, Saturday afternoon, Theodore Krueger, a pugnacious German, and William Smith, an upholder of Yankee traditions, got into an argument. Inside of a moment or two they jumped at each other and there was a mix-up that threatened to wreck the interior. Bobby sent a huppy call for a cop and the belligerents were hauled off to jail. In court today it was shown that Krueger was the aggressor and he was fined $5. Smith escaped with a reprimand.

EULOGIZED ST. PATRICK

Ireland's Patron Saint the Subject of Sermon in Three Churches.

WAS A MAN OF GOD

Fathers Bogan and Miller Tell of His Greatness—Rev. Mr. Herring Also Discourses On Him.

In both St. Mary's and St. Joseph's churches, yesterday, special sermons on St. Patrick were preached. In the First Presbyterian church, also, the patron saint of Ireland was the subject of the discourse.

Father Bogan, at St. Mary's last night, said in part:

"It is my privilege tonight to review with you a cherished memory, to live again in the days gone by when God came to Ireland through the mission of St. Patrick. Full well you know the story. That many lands claim the honor of his birthplace: that late in the fourth century the boy of noble birth was brought a captive to Erin; that on the bleak hillside of the North Counties he spent the six years of his captivity; that in the providence of God 'Who orders all things well,' his knowlege of the language and customs of the people grew with advancing years. That he escaped and returned to his parents' home, where a yearning for the eternal destiny of the land of his captivity prompted a ready acceptance of the vocation from on high to give his life to plant and foster the seeds of Christian truth among the pagan people whom he had already learned to love—that after years of study and with the sanction of the Sovereign Ponatiff. He finally landed in Erin to begin the work of its conversion.

"In Ireland's history there was a chapter of death, and to that was added a chapter of exile. Five hundred Irish emigrants have turned with tear-dimmed eyes and aching hearts from the home of heir fathers, and then God gave to these poor outcast Irish exiles, whom tyranny first smote and then despised a mission like the mission of the Apostles of Christ. They went, turned their backs forever on the land that held their fathers' graves, they sailed towards the sunset, away from the grasp of tkranny and the insolence of oppression, but they bore with them the Cross of Christ, and, spreading in their thousand, through the solitudes of an unpeopled land, they built in another hemisphere the altar of their God. And today beyond the western wave is rising, nay, has risen—in a new land, and on a free soil a new, free Ireland. And it has been given to these Irish exiles to bear in their generous hands, and in their faithful hearts the destiny of the American Church.

"Ireland may have had to stand aside and let the prizes of the world go by, but Ireland has still one jewel shining in her crown, that makes it, crown of thorns though it be, the noblest crown that God and history have ever bound about a nations' brow—the jewel of unshaken fidelity to the one true Church of God. We are accused of making too much of our ancesters, they say we talk too much of our past. Let them who have no past be satisfied with the present, as for myself I believe that I help to form the littlest though by no means the last link in that golden chain that runs back and brightens in the distance until in flames of living fire it coils itself around the crosier of St. Patrick.

"Today from every altar in the land ascends a people's tribute to the throne of God. Today no matted where their lot hath been cast, no matter what soil may be beneath their feet, or what sky may be above their heads, the Sons of St. Patrick assemble around one altar of the one true faith—assemble to pay the worship of hearts which never grow cold, of souls which never forget the glories and the holy memories of the past—assemble to sing the song of praise and exultation, which, rising at the first in fitful and uncertain strainsfi from lips that tremble with very excess of love gathers strength and volume as it rolls along till, in one great yearning act as love and joy, it is wafted up to God—the sweet smelling incense of a faithful people's prayer.

"And how have you, my people, proved your faithfulness to the trust imposed upon you, how closely have you gathere about your mother, to show in these days of grace your loyal love for the old, old faith? To your honor be it said, you have given in numbers nearly over fourteen hundred during this week of preparation for this festal day by the worthy reception of the Sacraments, your cordial appreciation of the faith transmitted through the centuries. God keep you true to your convictions. May the sense of its responsibility keep you ever true to the

PERKINS CALLS BURKE "PICAYUNE LOBBYIST"

ASSEMBLYMAN TELLS ANTI-SALOON HEAD WHAT HE THINKS OF HIM.

In answer to a letter taking him to task for alleged refusal to consent to a report on the local option bill introduced in the Legislature some weeks ago the following letter was received Saturday by J. Frank Burke, of Newark, president of the Anti-Saloon League of New Jersey, from Assemblyman Randolph Perkins, of Union county:

"Dear Sir—I am in receipt of a very insulting letter which you have written under date of March 7. The letter itself does not merit a reply. My only purpose in answering is to express to you my contempt for you as a picayune lobbyist. My judgment of you is that you have the nerve of a typewriter. You can pound a letter out on a typewriter which you would not dare say to a man's face. If you will kindly present yourself in the Assembly next Tuesday, I will do what I can to give you a chance to explain yourself and the charges you have made against the judiciary committee before the bar of the House of the Assembly.

"Respectfully yours,
"RANDOLPH PERKINS."

Mr. Burke said that after the bill was referred to the judiciary committee consisting of Assemblymen Perkins, of Union; Klenert and Alexander, of Hudson; Wright ,of Essex, and Jones, of Camden, Jones and Wright were willing to report it to the House so that a vote could be taken on it, But Perkins, Klenert and Alexander were against reporting the bill.

Mr. Burke wrote to Assemblyman Perkins, expressing his disappointment over the action of the committee and referred to what he chose to call a "conspiracy" to kill the bill in committee. He denounced the action of the committee as unfair, unstatesmanlike and in violation of the primary principles of representative government. He said he knew that Perkins had been opposed to local option, but he had hoped that he would have at least been willing to report the bill.

Mr. Burke telegraphed the following message to Assemblyman Perkins in reply to his letter:

"Will be present on Tuesday and will be delighted to discuss my letter and your reply before the bar of the House."

FREEHOLDERS WILL MEET TO OPEN BIDS FOR BRIDGE.

Plan to Construct Fifty Foot Wing Walls on the West End Avenue Bridge.

The bridge committee from the Union County Board of Freeholders will meet the Somerset County Board of Freeholders, at the Hotel Iroquois on Wednesday, to open bids for the construction of the proposed wing walls on the West End avenue bridge. According to the plans there will be four walls, two on each side of the bridge and they are to be fifty feet long. This will make it possible to continue the sidewalk that distance and it will greatly improve the structure.

Just as soon as the frost is thoroughly out of the ground, Mayor N. B. Smalley will put a large gang of men at work on the avenue in the borough to complete the improvement started last year.

Benefit Tickets on Sale.

Tickets for the first annual benefit to Assistant Treasurer Leonce Texier and the ushers at the New Plainfield theatre, have been placed on sale and are already being bought up. Bickel, Watson and Wrothe in "Tom, Dick and Harry," have been secured as the attraction and the production will be seen on April 15. The show was presented at the New Plainfield theatre shortly after the house was opened and scored a big hit.

Meeting of Common Council.

The Common Council will hold its second adjourned meeting for the month tomorrow night to consider matters pertaining to the sewer bond issue and the tax budget for the coming year. It it customary for the Common Council to act on the budget at the regular April meeting and the finance committee is now busy with the details with the idea of completing the work by that time.

Smith Has Not Signed.

"Phil." Smith has not signed to pitch for the Elizabeth Athletic Atlantic League team, as reported by another paper, which generally garbles things up. W. C. Stanbery Bequeathed His Estate to 12-Year-Old William R. Stanbery.

CODINGTON, TRUSTEE

Boy Will Not Come Into His Inheritance Until He is 25 Years of Age—Estate Will Then Be Worth $135,000.

Though it has not been admitted to probate, the will of William C. Stanbery, Scotch Plains' well known citizen who died at his home there last week, specifies that the entire estate shall eventually become the property of his grandson, William R. Stanbery. It is valued at about $80,000 and everything is to remain intact until the boy, who is now but twelve years old, reaches twenty-one. Lawyer W. R. Codington, of this city, has been made sole executor, and at that time, if he deems it best, the property can be sold and the estate settled. The boy is not to receive everything, however, until he is twenty-five years old. It is estimated that when he comes into the possession of the estate the property will be worth about $135,000.

A clause in the will specifies that all the servants who have been in Mr. Stanbery's household shall remain and that when the estate is settled up that some provision be made for them in a money way, the amount to depend upon the time they had been in his employ. Several had been with him for nearly twenty-five years. The grandson will continue to live at the house.

William R. Stanbery is the sole surviving member of the family that has been identified with Scotch Plains for nearly a hundred years, and provision has been made for the disposal of the estate in the event of his death but in what way has not been made public. W. C. Stanbery owned the greater part of the land at one time where Scotch Plains is located and the bulk of the fortune was made by sales of property. He was also engaged in farming and was very successful in this respect. His son, W. R. Stanbery, father of the legatee, died a year ago.

The funeral of the senior Stanbery was held at the late home on Mountain avenue, yesterday afternoon, and was in keeping with the quiet life of eighty-five years. The house in which he had been born and in which he had died was filled with friends and neighbors, many of them coming from distant points. The Asbestos Club, of Plainfield, of which he was a member, attended in a body.

The simple Episcopal service was used and it was conducted jointly by Rev. T. Moore-Smith, pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, and Rev. William True, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, both of whom had been his warm, personal friends. Miss Etta Raybert, of this city, sang two of Mr. Stanbery's favorite hymns, "There Is a Land of Pure Delight" and "There Is a Blessed Land." The floral display was large and included several set pieces from friends.

Interment was made in the family plot in the Baptist cemetery, porters acting as pall bearers.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Rahway Friends Help James Duncan to Celebrate the Occasion.

In honor of his birthday anniversary, about twenty-five friends from Rahway gave James Duncan, of West Third street, a pleasant surprise, Saturday night. He formerly resided in Rahway, and the friends together with Mrs. Duncan planned the eent. Mr. Duncan was sent from the house on an errand and when he returned he found the house filled with guests including many Plainfielders.

Among those present were Former Councilman Lints and family, Former Fire Chief P. H. Ghring and family, Mrs. Varigault and daughters, of Rahway, and W. E. Smith, of New York. During the evening Mr. Lints presented Mr. Duncan with a fine rocking chair, on behalf of the guests. Mrs. Duncan was assisted in entertaining the company by Mrs. Usher, of Rahway. Supper was served late and it was early yesterday morning when the guests departed for home.

Progressive Heart Party.

A progressive heart party was held at the home of Mrs. Georgianna Coles on West Front street, Friday evening. About forty were present. The first woman's prize was awarded to Miss Lizzie Schulein, the second to Miss Mame Winkler and the "booby" to Miss Gertrude Fremoyer. The first men's prize was won by Millard Wright, the second by Herbert Bilyen and the "booby" by Clarence Rittenhouse. Vocal solos by George Seigfried, Elmer D. Cutting and Miss Anna Boss, and piano selections by Miss Eva Whitlock and Miss Nellie Winckler were enjoyed.

Eduard Waldmann to Return.

One of the positive theatrical successes of the season in this country, more particularly in the East, has been that of Eduard Waldmann in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." This is not to be wondered at for although until recently unknown in this country, his rank among the foremost of famous actors in Germany and England has been seldom obtained by the oldest, and never before by one so young as the above artist. Mr. Waldmann will present "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in which he will be seen in the celebrated dual role on next Friday night when he comes to the New Plainfield theatre.

SEVEN MACHINES A MINUTE.

Singer Company to Employ 2,500 More Workmen.

With the completion of its sixstory addition, the Singer Manufacturing Company, at Elizabeth, N. J., began today turning out sewing machines at the rate of 22,000 a week, eclipsing all records. The rate maintained at present is 18,000 each week, or an average of about five and one-half machines every minute of the working day.

The addition to the plant, which is only the first step in a series of extensive improvements, will necessitate the hiring of nearly 2,500 extra men, raising the total of employees in the Singer plant to about 11,000.

The necessary machinery has been installed, and it is expected that next week seven machines will be turned out every minute of the working day.

Onions Got Drunk.

Mike Onions, which is really his name and not a joke, was arrested last night for drunkenness. Judge Runyon suspended sentence on him in the city court Saturday. The same piece of good fortune befell John Stanley, an Elizabethport man, arrested on a similar charge.

16,000 CHARTERS REVOKED.

Governor Acts Against Corporations That Failed to Pay Tax.

Trenton March 18.—Goxernor Stokes has issued his annual proclamation revoking the charters of companies incorporated under the laws of this State which have failed to pay their franchise taxes. This year there are about sixteen thousand such corporations.

Many of them have had existence only an paper, having failed to actually begin business. Others have wound up their careers in bankruptcy, while some have seemingly neglected to comply with the statute. No big concerns are represented on the list.

Shook Lafayette's Hand.

After being confined to his bed since last December, when he fell and sprained his ankle, Eldridge G. Worster, ninety-five years old, died Friday at his home in Beverly, N. J. Worster cast his first vote for Andrew Jackson for President, and had never missed voting for a President since that time. He was born in Boston and, with a number of other school-boys, saw Lafayette lay the corner-stone of the Bunker Hill monument in 1824. He also shook hands with the French patriot.

BEQUEATHS $1 TO SON.

George W. Meigs, in Will, Leaves It to Child by First Wife.

Surragote Russell admitted to probate Saturday the will of George W. Meigs, of Newark, who died March 2. The instrument provides that Robert Meigs, a son by his first wife, shall receive $1. Two other children, Lois DeWolf Meigs and Nathan C. Meigs, get the residuary estate in equal shares.

Dr. E. M. Richman and Anna Smith are named as executors, and the latter is made the guardian of the children.

WILL BE AN ACTRESS.

Miss Edna Barbour, daughter of Prof. E. L. Barbour, of Rutgers College, New Brunswick, will make the stage her life work. The young woman is pretty and accomplished.

She is a graduate of a New York dramatic school, and for the past few months has been obtaining experience with small companies on the road before finally making up her mind whether or not to follow the profession regularly. She has decided to do so and will have a minor part in a production about to go on the road.

NEW YORK AUTOMOBILE MAN MAKES THREAT

RECOGNITION BY NEW JERSEY OF EMPIRE STATE'S CERTIFICATES.

Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen, author of the motor-vehicle law of 1906, and of an amendment to the law introduced on February 27 last, is in receipt of a letter from General Counsel Thaddeus Terry, of the New York State Automobile Association, requesting a change in the New Jersey law, recognizing certificates and numbers issued in accordance with the New York law, threatening retaliatory legislation unless the request is granted.

The letter directs attention to the fact that New Jersey automobile owners are not required to take out a special license in New York and adds that it is not the annual license fee of $3 to $5, according to the rating of the vehicle, as much as the annoyance incident to the hold-up of New York auto owners who are ignorant of the requirements of the New Jersey law. These persons, it is pointed out, are frequently subjected to grave and serious annoyance when they enter upon a road within the precints of this State.

To this line of argument the Senator has written a reply stating that for every resident Jerseyman who runs an automobile over the roads in New York State, such as they are, many hundreds of New Yorkers use the roads of this State, which on the whole are regarded as the best constructed and maintained in the country. In fact, he added, it is his belief that more residents of New York than New Jersey use the roads of this State.

To keep these roads in proper condition, Mr. Frelinghuysen adds, costs money, and the small license fee charged, netting in the aggregate about $80,000 a year, while paying but a share of the cost, shows to what an extent New Jersey roads are used by autoists. Referring to his present bill, the Senator says it provides a nominal license costing $1 only and good for three days. This is for those who might with reason object to taking out an annual license while intending only to pass through the State.

As for retaliatory legislation, Mr. Frelinghuysen says to Mr. Terry go ahead and he adds his conclusion that if any New Jersey owner of a $5,000 automobile is unable to pay a New York license fee of $5 he will pay it for him.

A POUND FOOLISH POLICY.

In its Jersey comment today, the New York Herald discusses the short-sighted idea of those who in their misguided zeal are holding up vast improvements on the meadows on the Passaic and Hackensack rivers and along the Newark bay. Somehow or other, many intelligent persons have gotten an impression that if the State only holds on to the riparian rights in that section, private capital will improve the waste land, a good part of which is now under water, and millions will be made for the State. In other words they have an idea that private capital will bear the entire expense of all necessary improvement for the sake of seeing the State reap the profit. But it seems reasonable, unless a more broad minded and businesslike policy is speedily adopted, a great and valuable territory will remain a waste in every sense of the word. No capitalist or syndicate is fool enough to spend a million or so in developing these meadows when it knows that it can make no sales to private parties unless riparian rights in fee are included in the deeds. Foolish, indeed, would be a manufacturer, for instance, who would buy a shore front for a factory site when he knew that he would be forever at the mercy of the State regarding his rights as to its use.

These meadows will be of immeasureable value to the State in other respects, if the authorities adopt a saner policy; one that will attract capital to its development. The homes and factories, which will rise up in quick order, not to mention the thousands of people who will settle there, will be the means of bringing added riches to the State's treasury. Not only this but the trolleys and other public utilities will result in increasing the public revenues.

"Some persons talk in a glib way about the duty of the State to hold on to its rich domain and keep it out of the hands of selfish interests," says the Herald. "The simple truth is that this land under water is worth nothing to the State or anybody else until it has been improved by private capital. Private capital stands ready to improve the shore of the Passaic river and Newark bay, but it will be driven away to other States if New Jersey refuses to sell. Millions that wanted to locate there have already been thus driven away, and some short sighted Newark people seem to want to drive other millions away. The State will not improve and build docks and warehouses on these lands, the municipalities cannot because they do not own the abutting upland, and yet it is proposed that both shall play the dog in the manger role and prevent private capital from improving them. A more shortsighted and idiotic proposition has never been exploited in this State."

Elizabeth VanWyck Horton.

Miss Elizabeth VanWyck Horton, daughter of the late Jacob and Anna VanWyack, died yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. W. Brower, of East Ninth street. The funeral will be held at Mrs. Brower's home tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and interment will be at Fishkill, N. Y.

Edward Fitz-Randolph Kellogg.

Edward Fitz-Randolph Kellogg, the two-months-old son of Frank R. and Mertie M. Kellogg, died at the parents' home on Plainfield avenue, South Plainfield, Saturday. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

moral code that shall inevitably win for you the confidence you deserve. May you ever be a credit to your faith, loyal to the memories of the past, a synonym of honor among your fellow-men, a God-fearing, God-serving people to the end."

At the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Charles F. Herring said in part:

"We are interested in the life of St. Patrick not simply because he is the patron saint of Ireland, but because he was one of the first missionaries of Christianity.

"Legends innumerable have gathered about his name, but there is enough real history, that we know, to make the study of his life worth while. He did towards the end of his life write his autobiography which he called his 'Confession.'

"His birthplace, some say, was Dumbarton, Scotland. Bury in his recent work on St. Patrick says he was born in the year 389 A. D., in Bonnaventa in southwest Britain. Let other continue to fight this battle. To Patrick these facts were of little moment.

"His Confession or autobiography was the description of his spiritual experiences. He had been captured and taken to Ireland as a slave when but sixteen years old; and it was during the six years of his slavery, which he spent in feeding pigs, that he says, 'the Lord opened the sense of my belief.' He describes his rising from his bed 'before dawn, to pray in hail, rain or snow.'

"This experience of bondage affected his whole after life and he looked upon his conversion as the most important period of his life.

"God seemed to speak to him—and one voice said: 'Behold, thy ship is ready,' Patrick considered these voices the voice of God, and he made his escape from North Ireland and travelled nearly two hundred miles to the mouth of the Vartry, near Wicklow. The ship was there and ready to sail. Repulsed at first, Patrick prayed and then he heard a voice from the ship, 'Come quickly, for they are calling you.'

"Patrick then journeyed to France, Bourdeaux, Tours and finally back to his home. He did not long remain there, for, in a dream, he heard this cry of the Irish people, 'We pray thee, holy youth, to come and again walk with us as before.'

"'I was pierced to the heart,' he says, 'and could read no more and thereupon awoke.' The result of the dream was that he went to Ireland and labored there the rest of his life.

"The snakes that he drove out of Ireland were probably the Druidical worshippers who worshipped the sun and whose symbol was a snake. The contest of Patrick with the Druids was evry spectacular, according to the legends.

"When he landed in Ireland, he lighted the Paschal fire on the Hill of Slane. That same night King Loiguare held a solemn festival in the palace of Tara. The custom was that no other fire should be kindled that night until the king's fire had been started. The Druids then made this remark, 'Unless this fire which you see be quenched this same night, it will never be quenched,' and so it was, for Druidism and its magic passed away and Christianity was established. To Patrick belongs the credit, not for first bringing Christianity to Ireland, but for extending Christianity and establishing it.

"This is what his Confession emphasizes—not his sins, nor the articles of faith, but the wonderful ways of God in dealing with his whole life.

"The true follower of St. Patrick is not the man who wears the green spring on his coat in memory of the patron saint of Ireland, but the man who carries Patrick's spirit in his heart, for Patrick was a man of prayer.

"It is true that Patrick's Mountain, in the west of Ireland, was the mountain where God revealed Himself to Patrick.

"He was a man who was so energetic that Dr. Bury says of him: 'He was the most efficient of those who took part in spreading Christianity in the regions beyond.'

"St. Patrick was a man of whom it might be said:

"'His contemplation was above the earth,
And fixed on spiritual object.'"

In St. Joseph's church, yesterday morning, Father Miller delivered a sermon appropriate to St. Patrick's day, dwelling on his life and achievements. In the evening, views of Ireland's best known historical parts were shown by moving pictures, the story of each place being told by a lecturer.

Mrs. Sarah A. Voorhies.

Mrs. Sarah A. Voorhies, widow of John Delas Voorhies, died yesterday at her home in Oak Tree, where she had resided for a long time. She had been an invalid for the past three years but had been a patient sufferer and displayed a warm, Christian spirit despite her affliction. Mrs. Voorhies was seveinty years old and formerly lived at Friendship, N. Y. She was a member of the First Congregational church at that place but while at Oak Tree had manifested an interest in the work at Marconnier chapel, though unable to engage in it actively. She is survived by four children, Henry D. and Edwin R. Voorhies and Miss Lottie Voorhies, of Oak Tree, and Mrs. Hattie Carrington, of Hornell, N. Y.

Mrs. Flanders, of Grove street, is visiting friends in Scranton, Pa.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"The Rogers Brothers in Ireland," with the famous Rogers Brothers at the head of the organization will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. "The Rogers Brothrse in Ireland" was the most successful musical comedy of the past season as evidenced by the record attendance that it received in the various cities in which it was presented. It was originally presented at the Liberty theatre in New York where it achieved a run of 200 nights and subsequently played to the capacity of the Chestnut Street theatre in Philadelphia at every performance. This season the stars have the support of that excellent comedienne Marion Stanley and a big aggregation of comedians and dancing girls. They will present every detail of the original production which is considered conspicuously gorgeous even in these days of stage lavishness.

Marian Stanley, with "The Rogers Brothers In Ireland," at New Plainfield Theatre Tonight.

The music of Richard Carle's "The Mayor of Tokio," which will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night, is by W. F. Peters and is unusually pretty. Among the numbers that have become most popular and which may be heard wherever an orchestra plays popular music are: "Pity My Pitiful Plight," "Silver Sea of Love," "Tokio," "When the Ocean Breezes Blow," "I Like You" and "Foolishness." The company is a very large and well balanced organization numbering seventy people with a chorus christened by a Boston critic "The Blue Ribbon Chorus of America." New scenery and costumes have been provided and the production is said to be one of the most pretentious of the year.

Scene from "The Mayor of Tokio," at the New Plainfield Theatre Tomorrow Afternoon and Night.

David Belasco's great play, "Zaza," is coming to the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night. This is Miss Blanche Hall's second season as "Zaza," the French provincial concert hall singer, and it may be the last, as Miss Hall has four offers to go to England and Australia with it. If she accepts any of these offers, what will be gain to the other side will certainly be our loss, for we are not exactly blinded with stars of Miss Hall's magnitude. Miss Hall may laugh good naturedly at that, for she is as modest as she is handsome and talented, but nevertheless it is a big black fact. The stage of this country hasn't been so poor in real talent among the stars in many, many years. There are stars today who should be playing minor roles in stock companies, instead of getting our money under false pretences, and seeing their names and colored pictures six feet high on the walls around vacant lots. We say "vacant lots," because such over-rated stars suggest vacant lots, and not only vacant lots, but vacant job-lots. However, let's cheer up, for a real star is about to swim into our ken, and its front name is Mademoiselle Blanche Hall, the great Zaza!

One of the most finished dramatic performances of the season will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre on Friday, March 22, when Eduard Waldmann will present a dramatization of Robert Louis Stevenson's romance, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Mr. Waldmann, who is a German actor of note, has been compared with Richard Mansfield and Sir Henry Irving and critics who have seen his impersonation of Jekyll and Hyde assert that he is second to none in these trying characters. That Mr. Waldmann is a gifted artist is evidenced by the numerous Shakespearean and classic characters he has successfully portrayed. The announcement of his engagement here has already awakened considerable interest.

"The College Widow" from its initial performance took rank, and has since held it, as one of the very best American plays. It is one of the very few comedies that has been able to renew upon return engagements its original vogue in theatrical centres like New York, Boston and Chicago. There seems to be no limit to its popularity in all sections. Capacity audiences enthuse just as energetically over the fascinating "widow" and her interesting coterie, as they did on the occasion of her first visit, and the engagement at the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night is certain to be one of the conspicuously successful ones of the season.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Buy your coal of John Johnson, South avenue, and be sure the fuel will be entirely satisfactory.

John Winzenreid, of Lee place, is always ready to move your goods at short notice. His charges are reasonable.

When you buy your coal at Boice, Runyon & Co's. yards you are sure of getting the best and at the lowest market prices.

The Bell Mead Sweets are the de luxe candies. They are the best money can buy. Sold by P. B. Hodge, East Front street.

D. Demolli & Co., Front street and Central avenue, will fill any commission for catering you may give them. Fine confectionery.

A. H. Enander, the Watchung avenue plumber, can always be relied upon to do the best work and his charges are reasonable.

Tender and juicy and of fine flavor are all the meats sold by Fred Endress, West Front street. His poultry is of the selected kind.

There is a wealth and almost a waste of suggestion in the line of shoes shown by M. C. VanArsdale, East Front street. The VanArsdale shoes are always built for wear.

With the approach of spring you will want seasonable goods and the place to get them is at "The White Store," on West Front street. Anticipating a big trade the firm has made ample provision and an inspection of the goods will convince you that it will pay you to trade at this store.

MADE IT THREE STRAIGHT.

Meyer and Mack Trim Sheelen and Alberts in Bowling Tourney.

"Lucky" Charlie Meyer and Dan Mack took a try at Sheelen and Alberts in the bowling tourney, Friday night, and bested them three straight games. Meyer and Mack were in fine trim and put up good scores all through. Sheelen and Alberts were not bad, either, and the games were taken away from them each time by close margins. Meyer got two scores over the double century and Mack got a 204.

The scores:

Sheelen	172	174	191
Alberts	171	171	195
vs.
Meyer	174	210	211
Mack	204	167	180

THE HOUSE OF A THOUSAND CANDLES

By Meredith Nicholson

Copyright 1906 by Bobbs-Merrill Co.

"That is good. It was all a great mistake,—a very great mistake; I had no idea such things could happen,"—and my grandfather turned to Pickering.

"Pickering, what a contemptible scoundrel you are! I lent you that $300,000 to buy securities to give you better standing in your railroad enterprises, and the last time I saw you, you got me to release the collateral so you could raise money to buy more shares. Then, after I died"—he chuckled—"you thought you'd find and destroy the notes and that would end the transaction; and if you had been smart enough to find them you might have had them and welcome. But as it is, they go to Jack. If he shows any mercy on you in collecting them he's not the boy I think he is."

Pickering rose, seized his hat and backed away toward the shattered library door. He paused for a moment, his face livid with rage.

"You old fool!" he screamed at my grandfather. "You old lunatic, I wish to God I had never seen you! No wonder you came back to life! You're a tricky old devil and too mean to die!"

He turned toward me with some similar complaint ready at his tongue's end; but Stoddard caught him by the sohulders and thrust him out upon the terrace.

A moment later we saw him cross the meadow and hurry toward St. Agatha's.

CHAPTER XXV.

Changes and Chances.

John Marshall Glenarm had probably never been so happy in his life as on that day of his amazing home-coming. He laughed at us and he laughed with us, and as he went about the house explaining his plans for its completion, he chaffed us all with his shrewd humor that had been the terror of my boyhood.

"I Wish to God I Had Never Seen You."

"Ah, if you had had the plans of course you would have been saved a lot of trouble; but that little sketch of the Door of Bewilderment was the only thing I left,—and you found it, Jack,—you really opened these good books of mine."

He sent us all away to remove the marks of battle, and we gave Bates a hand in cleaning up the wreckage,—Bates, the keeper of secrets, Bates, the inscrutable and mysterious, Bates, the real hero of the affair at Glenarm.

My grandfather led us through the narrow stairway by which he had entered, which had been built between false walls, and we played ghost for one another, to show just how the tread of a human being around the chimney sounded. There was much to explain, and my grandfather's contrition for having placed me in so hazardous a predicament was so sincere, and his wish to make amends so evident, that my heart warmed to him. He made me describe in detail all the incidents of my stay at the house, listening with boyish delight to my adventures.

"Bless my soul!" he exclaimed over and over again. And as I brought my two friends into the story his pleasure knew no bounds, and he kept chuckling to himself, half a dozen times shaking hands with Larry and Stoddard, who were, he declared, his friends as well as mine.

The prisoner in the potato cellar received our due attention; and my grandfather's joy in the fact that an agent of the British government was held captive in Glenarm House was cheering to see. But the man's detention was a grave matter, as we all realized, and made imperative the immediate consideration of Larry's future.

"I must go—and go at once!" declared Larry.

"Mr. Donovan, I should feel honored to have you remain," said my grandfather. "I hope to hold Jack here, and I wish you would share the house with us."

"The sheriff and those fellows won't squeal very hard about their performances here," said Stoddard. "And they won't try to rescue the prisoner, even for a reward, from a house where the dead come back to life."

"No; but you can't hold a British prisoner in an American private house forever. Too many people know he has been in this part of the country; and you may be sure that the fight here and the return of Mr. Glenarm will not fall of large advertisement. All I can ask of you, Mr. Glenarm, is that you detain the fellow a few hours after I leave, to give me a start."

After a late luncheon,—for which the amazing Bates produced champagne—the others left us—Stoddard to help Larry get his things together—and my grandfather and I talked for an hour.

"You will stay on here,—you will help me to finish the house?" the old gentleman asked with unmistakable eagerness of look and tone.

It seemed harsh and ungenerous to tell him that I wished to go; that the great world lay beyond the confines of Glenarm for me to conquer; that I had lost as well as gained by those few months at Glenarm House, and wished to go away. It was not the mystery, now fathomed,—nor the struggle, now ended,—that was uppermost in my mind and heart, but memories of a girl who had mocked me with delicious girlish laughter,—who had lured me away from the Indiana woodlands that I might see her transformed into another, more charming, being, only to shatter my faith at the end. It was a comfort to know that Pickering, trapped and defeated, was not to benefit by the bold trick she had helped him play upon me. His loss was hers as well and I was glad in my bitterness that I had found her in the passage seeking for plunder at the behest of the same master whom Morgan, Ferguson and the rest of them served. I did not mention her to my grandfather; I resolved never to think or speak of her again.

The fight was over and there was nothing more for me to do in the house by the lake. After a week or so I should go forth and try to win a place for myself. I had my profession; I was an engineer, and I did not question that I should be able to find employment. As for my grandfather, Bates would care for him, and I should visit him often. I was resolved not to give him any further cause for anxiety on account of my adventurous and roving ways. He knew well enough that his old hope of making an architect of me was lost forever; and now I wished to depart in peace and seek some part of the world where the trails were new and there were tracks to lay and bridges to build.

These thoughts so filled my mind that I forgot that my grandfather was patiently waiting for an answer.

"I should like to do anything you ask; I should like to stay here always, but I can't. Don't misunderstand me. I have no intention of going back to my old ways. I squandered enough money in my wanderings, and I had my joy of that kind of thing. I shall find employment somewhere and go to work."

"But, Jack,"—he bent toward me kindly,—"Jack, you mustn't be led away by any mere Quixotism into laying the foundation of your own fortune. What I have is yours, boy. What is in the box in the chimney is yours now—to-day."

"I wish you wouldn't! You were always too kind, and I deserve nothing, absolutely nothing."

"I'm not trying to pay you, Jack. I want to ease my own conscience, that's all."

"But money can do nothing for mine," I replied, trying to smile. "I've been a reckless spendthrift all my days, and now I'm going to work. If you were infirm and needed me, I should not hesitate, but the world will have its eyes on me now."

"Jack, that will of mine did you a great wrong; it put a mark upon you, and that's what hurts me; that's what I want to make amends for! Don't you see? Now don't punish me, boy. Come! Let us be friends!"

He rose and put out his hands.

"I didn't mean that! I don't care about that! It was nothing more than I deserved. These months here have changed me. Haven't you heard me say I was going to work?"

And I tried to laugh away further discussion of my future.

"It will be more cheerful here in the spring," he said, as though seeking an inducement for me to remain. "When the resort colony down here comes to life the lake is really gay."

I shook my head. The lake, that pretty cupful of water, the dip and glide of a maroon canoe, the remembrance of a red tam-o'-shanter merging afar off in an October sunset!—my purpose to leave the place strengthened as I thought of these things. My nerves were keyed to a breaking pitch and, losing control of myself, I turned upon him stormily.

"So Miss Devereux was the other person who shared your confidence! Do you understand,—do you appreciate the fact that she was Pickering's ally?"

"I certainly do not," he replied coldly. "I'm surprised to hear you speak so of a woman whom you can scarcely know—"

WANTS NEW JERSEY IN THE MANEUVERS

WAR DEPARTMENT INVITES THE STATE MILITIA'S PARTICIPATION.

Governor Stokes received from the War Department yesterday a letter inviting the New Jersey militia to participate in the coast artillery maneuvers planned for next summer.

If the invitation is accepted New Jersey will be represented at Fort Hancock and Fort Mott. The letter to the Goernor, signed by Assistant Secretary of War Oliver, says:

"To put this plan to a practical test camps of instruction will be held in the artillery districts of southern New York and Delaware from July 1 to 15, or at such time as may be most acceptable to you. And you are invited to co-operate with the regular forces of designating organizations of the National Guard of your State to report for duty to the commanding officers of said artillery districts for one week or ten days during that period.

"As the strength of the various companies of your National Guard is below the number of men required for each battery, as specified, it will not practicable to furnish the force, so far as strength is concerned, but the following detail is suggested:

"Fort Hancock, four companies of infantry, to act as coast artillery reserves at the batteries. Eight companies of infantry as supports.

"Fort Mott, two companies of infantry to act as coast artillery reserves at the batteries; four companies of infantry as supports.

"All field, staff and non-commissioned staff officers of regiments from which companies may be detailed are invited to take part in the course of instructions.

"This duty will be without the expense of the State, and full instruction will be given by the chief of artillery should you decide to assign your troops to these camps of instruction."

The advisability of New Jersey's acceptance of the War Department's offer will be taken up at a conference of the State Military Board, with which the Governor will communicate later.

The idea of the War Department is to create a coast artillery reserve, made up of militia. Companies of militia will be used to supplement the regular forces.

FORMER TRENTON BELLE IS SEEKING A DIVORCE.

Mrs. Agnes Mace's Grounds Are "Personal Abuse and Such Conduct as Makes Life Oppressive."

Trenton, March 18.—Mrs. Agnes Mace, formerly of this city, has instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, Dr. Lloyd K. Mace, of Philadelphia, on the ground of "personal abuse and such conduct as makes life oppressive and burdensome." The suit will be heard during the June term of the divorce courts of Pennsylvania.

The marriage, which occurred in February of last year in this city, was one of the most brilliant church nuptials Trenton has ever known. Immediately after the wedding the couple left this city for Chicago, and it is claimed that when they got there the finances of Dr. Mace were gone and the bride and bridegroom were practically stranded.

The first inkling of the troubles between Dr. and Mrs. Mace was when a notice appeared in a local paper, which read: "Notice is hereby given that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by any one other than myself. (Signed) Lloyd R. Mace, M. D., Philadelphia."

This notice was directed toward Mrs. Mace, and when her attention was called to it she commented that her husband had bought nothing for her since they were married but a pair of shoes.

FOR BATTLESHIP NEW JERSEY.

State's $10,000 Silver Service Gift May Be Presented at Jamestown.

Trenton, March 18.—The commission having in charge the $10,000 silver service which New Jersey has bought for the battleship named after the State will probably meet next week to make final arrangements for the presentation. The Navy Department has advised the Governor that the New Jersey will be among the vessels lying off Jamestown, Va., at the opening of the exposition on April 26.

After that time it is more than probable that she will be assigned to foreign waters, so that the opportunity of present the service while she is in the vicinity of Hampton Roads will undoubtedly be taken advantage of.

It is expected that the Governor, with his staff, will be at the New Jersey building on the opening day of the exposition, and that within a few days thereafter the service will be formally presented to the officers of the battleship.

WIN TWO DUAL MEETS

Plainfield Y.M.C.A. Victorious in Athletic Contests With Other Associations.

HUDSON CITY SWAMPED

Seniors Take Championship Cup By 38 Points to 7—Juniors In Nip-and-Tuck Battle With Summit Boys.

Both of the chief divisions of the Y. M. C. A. physical department won in intercity dual athletic meets Saturday. For the third successive time the seniors captured a championship cup, defeating the athletic team of the Hudson City association, of Jersey City, by 38 points to 7. The juniors won a hotly contested meet from the boys of the Summit Y. M. C. A., by 25 points to 23. The juniors had to battle hard all the way, and the result of the meet was in doubt up to the last event. Their contest was distinguished by the breaking of the local boys' record for the high jump, Averill leaping 4 feet 11 inches, an inch and a half better than the standing mark.

Both meets were held at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The juniors competed in the afternoon and the seniors at night. In both meets silver cups and ribbons were up.

The seniors had some close events, in spite of the apparent ease with which the meet was won. Several times the Hudson City athletes made plucky and close bids for the chief places, and it was only by hard work that the Plainfielders garnered their big total.

The events were won as follows:

Standing broad jump: Lueder, Plainfield, 9 feet 5 inches; Burgess, Plainfield, 9 feet 4 inches; Banks, Plainfield, 9 feet 3¼ inches.

Three standing broad jumps: Burgess, Plainfield, 27 feet 5 inches; Banks, Plainfield, 26 feet 11½ inches; Washman, Hudson City, 26 feet 5½ inches.

Shot put: Collier, Plainfield, 34 feet 8¾ inches; Collins, Plainfield, 33 feet 2 inches; Leiser, Hudson City, 32 feet 3 inches.

High jump: Steiner, Plainfield, 5 feet 2 inches; Lueder, Plainfield, 5 feet 1 inch; Burgess, Plainfield, 5 feet ½ inch.

Potato race: Washman, Hudson City, 1:45 4-5; Templin, Viebrock, tied, 1:47.

Officials: W. H. Flood, Jersey City, referee; G. L. Listman, Plainfield, director of games; A. B. Rumsey, Russell Lawrence, Plainfield, judges.

The points in the nip-and-tuck contest of the boys were garnered as follows:

Standing broad jump: Morris, Plainfield, 8 feet 6½ inches; Underwood, Summit, 8 feet 5¾ inches; Aylesbury, Summit, 8 feet 3⅝ inches.

Three standing broad jumps: Underwood, Summit, 25 feet 5½ inches; Caldwell, Plainfield, 24 feet 7 inches; Morris, Plainfield, 24 feet 5 inches.

Running high jump: Averill, Plainfield, 4 feet 11 inches; Turner, Summit, 4 feet 10 inches; Burgess, Summit, 4 feet 8 inches.

High dive: Aylesbury, Summit, 5 feet 3 inches; Freeman, Plainfield, 5 feet 2 inches; Miller, Monroy, tied, 5 feet 1 inch.

Potato relay race, won by Plainfield: Freeman, Richardson, Lindzey, Miller, Plainfield; Ithell, Underwood, Thompson, Aylesbury, Summit.

Both the visiting teams were entertained at lunch after the meets.

Gavett Will Row No. 3.

Leonard W. Gavett, '08, Cornell, has been changed in his position in the 'varsity crew, from No. 5 to No. 3, C. C. Brinton, '08, taking Gavett's place at No. 5. The general changes made by Coach Courtney have caused much surprise among the student body, as they say, it looks as though he must think he can turn out a stronger crew than has heretofore represented Cornell.

Joseph Dultmere.

Joseph Dultmere, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dultmere, of West Second street, died at the parents' home, yesterday. The funeral will be held at the house tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. T. N. Field and Miss N. F. Rimland, of this city, are registered at the Chalfonte, Atlantic City.

for them has been very great. Here are some of the books that circulated during that time: Japanese Architecture, Old Pewter, Bartolommeo, Rembrandt, Old China Book, Indian Basketry, History of American Art, Colonial Furniture, How to Make Pottery, Art of Illustration, Whistler, American Painting, History of Furniture, Seven Lamps of Architecture, Woman's Hardy Garden. Music and amusements are also included in this department; of the former class among others there were circulated 'Ten Singing Lessons,' 'Guide to the Opera,' 'Chamber Music,' 'Music Study in German,' &c.

"The dividing line between Fine arts and Useful arts is not always very distinct. There is a growing demand for books along the lines of business and trades. Among books of this class there were circulated: 'Architects and Builders' Pocket Book,' 'Metalic Alloys,' 'Principles of Agriculture,' 'American Machinery,' 'Practical Paper Hanging,' 'Care of the House,' 'Clocks and Watches,' 'Building Construction,' 'Household Hygiene,' 'Mixed Metals,' 'Practical Polish and Varnish Maker,' 'Boys' Book of Inventions,' 'Machine Design,' 'Plumbing and Gas Fitting,' 'Stair-building,' 'Machine Molding,' 'Dynamoes,' 'Alternating Currents,' 'Mine Ventilation,' 'Gas Engine,' &c.

"On another side useful arts is akin to science, from which department there were circulated, among others, 'Service Chemistry,' 'New Knowledge,' 'Man's Place in the Universe,' 'Experimental Science,' 'Chemical Lectures,' 'Atlantic,' 'Familiar Trees,' 'A B C of Electricity,' 'World's Inhabitants,' 'Trees in Winter,' several books on astronomy, a large number in natural history, management of the aquarium, &c., &c.

"Of social sciences the number was somewhat less. Among these were several books on the negro question, 'The Long Day,' Roosevelt's 'American Ideals,' several on banking and stock speculation, and a good number relating to legends and customs of various peoples.

"Of books on religious subjects, by far the greater number seem to be books of practical religion though there were several in historical christianity, such as Christian Missions, Oxford Movement, &c. Of the former class, among others, there were out in circulation 'Hidden Life of the Soul,' 'Holy Living and Holy Dying,' 'Saints' Rest,' 'Pilgrim's Progress,' 'Quiet Talks,' 'Pursuit of Holiness,' 'Problems of Living,' 'God's Choice of Men,' 'Greatest Thing in the World,' 'When the King Came,' 'Divine Immanence,' &c.

"Among philosophical books were circulated 'Subconscious Self,' 'Modern Spiritualism,' 'Quest of Happiness,' 'Psychical Research,' 'Children of Good Fortune,' Psychology, &c.

"Of the ever popular department of fiction, the problem novel whether it be sociological, psychological, religious, ethical; the novel of incident; or, of manners, all our read. Interest seems the one thing necessary, and to this qualification some add style. Of the elder writers it is evident that they are holding their own, from the large number circulated of Thackeray, Trollope, Jane Austen, George Eliot, Scott, Dickens, Richardson, Marryat, Balzac, Dumas, Victor Hugo, Cooper, Wilkie Collins, &c. And among the best of the present day writers the names of Mrs. Deland, Winston Churchill, Howells, Kipling, Mrs. Wharton, Stevenson, Hewlett, Page, Crawford, James, Meredith, Hopkinson Smith occur most frequently. Among other popular storytellers were Cap. King, Miss Murfree, Irving Bachellor, Daskam, John Fox, Glasgow, Gordon, Weyman, Wiggin, Roe, Couch, Craik, Myrtle Reed, Stuart, Yonge, Aldrich, Eggleston, Austin and many others.

"As to what books the children read most is another story. But enough has surely been given to show to what good purpose our Public Library is being used, and that along with the reading done for pure recreation, certainly a most legitimate purpose, there is an unusual proportion of reading with a purpose; self education, better equipment for one's work, or inspiration. It is to be remembered too that this is the record of but 20 days. This work is going on constantly, and it cannot be otherwise than that such books constantly circulated in the homes of the people are having an incalculable influence for good."

YOUNGER JEFFERSON IN "RIP"

Son of the Famous Joseph Jefferson Appears in the Father's Play.

Thomas Jefferson, son of Joseph Jefferson, appeared at the New Plainfield theatre, Saturday afternoon and night, in "Rip VanWinkle," the play made famous by his father. He was greeted by two large audiences that showed their approval of his work by frequent and enthusiastic applause. He played the part for eight years previous to his father's death and is the acknowledged successor of the dean of the profession.

The supporting company was excellent and the production was mounted precisely as it was during Mr. Jefferson's long runs at Wallack's theatre, New York, and in Boston.

CARD OF THANKS.

To all neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during our recent bereavement and for the many expressions of sympathy received, we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks.
MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL HARPER.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Catherine Bleeker Voorhees, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. H. Voorhees, of Madison avenue, was baptised by Rev. Dr. Johnson in Trinity Reformed church, yesterday morning.

The joint annual meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Mission Societies and the Ladies' Aid Society for the election of officers will be held at the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

These persons were received into membership of Hope chapel at the communion service, last night: On confession of faith, Miss Emily Noyse Ryder, Miss Edith Lilly Mague, Miss Alice Agnes Leighs and Thomas Heron; from other churches, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sharp Johnman, Mrs. William S. Terry, Mrs. Mary Ross and Miss Queena Force.

Little Miss Buxton Celebrates.

Ruth Buxton, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. Herbert Buxton, of West Front street, celebrated the fifth anniversary of her birthday on Saturday, and features appropriate to St. Patrick's Day made the occasion a pleasant one for the children, who were present with their mothers. The house was decorted in green and a large shamrock adorned the table in the dining room. Little Miss Ruth received a number of gifts which made the day a particularly happy one for her.

Planning for Memorial Day.

The Memorial Detail from Winfield Scot Post, No. 73, G. A. R., having charge of the plans for the observance of Memorial Day, held its first meeting Saturday night and discussed briefly an outline for the usual celebration. Another meeting will be held Saturday night to appoint the various committees who will in turn commence the work of arranging the various details, such as securing an orator, engaging a hall, music and planning the parade.

Miss Osgoodby Entertains.

As a continuation to a number of sleighing parties that were held during the winter, Miss Gladys Osgoodby, of Grant avenue, entertained twenty friends at her home. Dancing was the feature of the gathering and in addition there were games and an informal musical programme. Solos were rendered by John V. Todd, Robert Reid and Lester Hamilton and Taylor Mehaffey recited. Supper was served at midnight and dancing continued afterward.

Nolan Again in the Toils.

Released only a few days ago after serving a two months' sentence, George Nolan, of East Third street, was arrested by Sergeant Overbaugh, Saturday night. The officer found him in the East End in the final stages of a souse and took him in for safe-keeping. When arraigned in the city court, this morning, Judge Runyon gave him some wholesome advice about remaining on the water wagon and suspended sentence.

Funeral of Miss Harper.

The funeral of Miss Elizabeth Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harper, of South avenue, was held at the parents' home yesterday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church. Interment was at Hillside.

JUMPERS SMITE PASTORS

This Queer Religious Sect Thinks It Has a Rich Field For Work Here.

"THE ONLY TRUE FAITH"

Leader Sees Nothing Good in Present Day Church Methods—Colony at Bound Brook.

With the announced purpose of coming into Plainfield to cleanse it from all sin by new methods, a religious sect strange to local people has invaded the city and is holding forth in Reform Hall. It is represented by a small band of constituents garbed something like the Salvation Army officers and they style themselves the "Pentecostal church," or "Pillar of Fire People." The names are a little too much for the ordinary citizen, however, and they are commonly known as "Jumpers," because of the fact that they jump about the platform when religious enthusiasm strikes them.

The "Jumpers" have a colony at Bound Brook where there are a hundred or more converts and they have mapped out a campaign for the surrounding country. Plainfield was one of the first cities selected and they have been coming to the city for the past two weeks and holding street corner meetings. Passersby at first mistook them for Salvationists but they attracted big crowds by emitting something like an Indian war-whoop every few minutes and leaping in the air. Last night the band moved from Madison avenue and Front street to Reform Hall and a crowd of 150 followed in their wake to watch proceedings.

The meeting was called to order by one of the "missionaries" and Rev. Henry C. Huffman, one of the leaders of the Bound Brook colony, was introduced. He didn't waste any words in letting the audience know what they were there for and as he is an interesting speaker he held the crowd for nearly an hour. He referred to Plainfield as a "two by four" town and expressed sympathy for the Christians who followed blindly in the wake of ministers who preached only because they got good salaries.

"Our religion," he said, "is based on faith. We believe the Lord will look out for us and he does. When we come into a town our carfare is paid and we start our meetings without a penny, but God always provides what we need. I feel sorry for the poor, misguided seekers of religion who go to the churches for it. The Gospel is preached there just so long as the pastors are paid for it; cut off their salaries and it stops. With us it is not a matter of dollars and cents. We are sincere in our belief; when a convert is made everything is given to the Lord. We are called the 'Jumpers,' perhaps in derision, but it is because we have received the spirit and everyone who joins the Pentecostal church will do so all their lives."

The speaker related a story to demonstrate the alleged fact that church people follow their paid pastors without using any judgment. A friend of his in the south had an old gray mare and when she had become practically unfit for anything else, he put her to work grinding tan bark. Day after day she went around in a circle performing the task until he took pity upon her and decided to let her end her declining years in peace. He accordingly took her away from the task of grinding bark and put her in a fine pasture. She had become so accustomed to going around in a circle, however, that she found it impossible to do anything else and kept going around the same way as she ate the grass. Instead of getting new, fresh blades each day, she continued to move around in the same ring and nothing her owner did could make her get out of the habit.

"That's just the way with the average Christian," said the speaker; "he has gotten so used to following around after people paid to tell him things that he goes over barren ground all the time and fails to get the fresh inspiration that his soul craves. I only wish that I could get the ministers of Plainfield to come here to listen to me and I would tell them just as I am telling you now."

All through Rev. Huffman's remarks he was greeted with "glories" and "hallelujas" from the followers seated on the platform and when he asked them if what he said wasn't right they replied with affirmative shakes of the head and cries of "yes," "yes." At intervals during the meeting the band led in singing that was almost as fervent as that given by Prophet Crowdy's followers during the "foot washers" convention but without the harmony. The meetings are to continue all this week and through no converts were secured last night, the leaders are hopeful that the compaign in Plainfield will not be devoid of results.

CO. K BOYS CHOOSE H. B. KITCHELL CAPTAIN

CHAS. PETERSON AND A. I. LITTELL NEW LIEUTENANTS.

Major William B. Martin, of Elizabeth, formerly captain of Co. K, conducted the election of the organization last night, at which time Harry B. Kitchell, of Westfield, was chosen as his successor to the position of captain, as exclusively predicted in this paper sometime ago. The other officers elected were as follows:

First lieutenant, Charles A. Peterson; second lieutenant Albert I. Littell; sergeants, Clarence H. Bilyeu and A. R. Phillips; corporals, B. J. Ford, Harry Manning and Ferris R. Pearsall.

Major Martin gave notice that the batallion drill will be held in the armory at Trenton on Friday night, April 5.

The newly-elected officers took charge immediately after their election. The fact that the company was able to pick a captain from among its membership, is a source of gratification to it. Captain Kitchell was a charter member of the company and has always been closely identified with the organization. He is especially interested in rifle practice and it is believed that under his direction the company will maintain its present high standard among the companies of the State.

HIBERNIANS' ANNUAL BALL A BIG SUCCESS

CROWD OF NEARLY 500 ATTENDS THE THIRTY-SECOND YEARLY AFFAIR.

With few short of 500 people in attendance, Division No. 4, A. O. H., held its thirty-second annual ball in Saengerbund Hall, last night. It was one of the most successful affairs the organization has yet conducted and the participants were highly pleased with the arrangements.

The grand march was held at 10:30 with John J. Leahy and Miss May Moran leading. A large number of couples were in line and the various figures evolved were witnessed by a crowded balcony. Suhr's Imperial orchestra furnished the music for dancing and it kept up with intermissions until an early hour this morning. An added feature was the appearance of Joseph Hennessey, of New York, America's champion bagpipe player, who rendered selections during the evening. John J. Leahy acted as floor manager, while James J. Tobin was his assistant.

TRINITY COMMANDERY ELECTS.

Officers Chosen at a Regular Conclave Last Night.

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., at a regular conclave, last night, elected the following officers for the coming year:

Eminent commander, George Kirkner; geralissimo, Clarence Goss; captain general, William A. Pinto; senior deacon, F. W. Butler; prelate, B. Frank Coriell; assistant prelate, Henry Woodland; treasurer, C. H. Rugg; recorder, Maze Edwards; warder, Thomas Hanna; sword bearer, Matthew H. Ewart; standard bearer, William Sherwood; sentinel, Caspar Bolsterle; representative to Masonic Hall Association, Jacob Kirkner. The committees will remain the same as last year.

Short Session of District Court.

There was a brief session of the District Court, this morning, three landlord and tenant cases being called as follows: Elston M. French, agent for Mrs. Florence Abernethy against W. G. Osgoodby; Hannah Linke against Mrs. John Conroy and William G. Thickstun against James Harding. If at the expiration judgment and possession of the premises is desired, it will be granted by the court. The contract cases of Boynton & Co. against the Craig Manufacturing Company and that of J. Eustein against M. A. Rose were not called.

Colby Wants Investigation.

Senator Colby, of Essex, introduced in the Senate last night a joint resolution calling for an investigation of the State Board of Assessors and their methods of assesting railroad and canal properties.

FELL ON CIRCULAR SAW; HE'S DYING IN HOSPITAL

HUNGARIAN LABORER RECEIVED PROBABLY FATAL INJURIES IN SAW MILL.

John Melaco, a Hungarian laborer, employed at J. F. TenEyck's saw mill at South Plainfield, received probably fatal injuries while at work in the mill this morning. He is now at Muhlenberg Hospital, suffering from severe lacerations about the lower part of the back and his condition is critical. Doctors say he cannot live.

Melaco was engaged with some work about a circular saw, when he stumbled over a log and fell backward against the saw, which was moving at a terrific rate of speed. The man's piercing screams were heard throughout the mill and immediately brought him assistance. A fellow-workman stopped the saw as quickly as possible, but not until the sharp teeth had frightfully torn the flesh on Melaco's back.

With all possible speed the Hungarian was hastened to the hospital in the hopes of saving his life, but his condition is such that recovery is doubtful.

The injured man resides at Oak Tree. He is forty-five years old and married. He has been employed at the saw mill for some time and was considered a careful workman.

P.S. C.'S NEW CAR HOUSE AT DUNELLEN

SUPT. GEDDIS SAYS IT WILL BE MODEL OF CONVENIENCE FOR THE MEN.

Superintendent Geddis, of the Public Service Corporation, said today that the new car house, erected at Dunellen will be taken possession of April 1, and that it is a model institution. The buildings cover about two acres. There every appointment for the convenience and comfort of the employes is to be found. There is a reading room, and billiard room, where the men can pass away the time while waiting. Already some of the men have removed to Dunellen, but there is a lack of houses there for all. The company will furnish transportation to the employes to and from Dunellen and their homes.

Superintendent Geddis says everything to make the change satisfactory and convenient has been arranged, and the company fears no dissatisfaction from the employes.

Mr. Geddis denies that the furniture of the Plainfield office was taken to Dunellen and then carted back because of rumors of the discontent of the men. There was, he says, a small safe taken back to Plainfield when it was found that the new car house could not be ready until April 1.

ROOSTER HAD A FREE RIDE.

But in All Probability the Trip Cost Him His Head.

While car No. 1909 was bowling along at a high rate of speed just west of Westfield Sunday afternoon it ran into a flock of chickens that was picking about the road. They scattered in every direction but one big rooster that failed to step lively was struck and knocked into the fender. He recovered himself in a couple of seconds but as the car was still moving along at a rapid rate he resolved to make the best of the situation and clung to one of the steel braces.

He was evidently badly frightened as when the conveyance made several stops he held to his perch like grim death. The motorman failed to notice him until almost in this city and then let him remain until Watchung avenue was reached. At the terminus he caught hold of the dazed and frightened passenger and made him a prisoner.

Motormen are as fond of chicken as other people and it is possible the lord of the barnyard was the feature of a dinner yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Colby's Plans.

Just as soon as he can arrange his business affairs after April 1, State Senator Evertt Colby intends to go abroad with his wife for the benefit of her health. Mrs. Colby, who was formerly Miss Edith Hyde, is slowly recovering her health at Atlantic City but her physicians advise that a complete change of climate would be better for her. The Senator and his wife will be abroad all summer, but he will return in time to take an active part in the Gubernatorial campaign.

INDIAN LAUDS HIS RACE

Dr. Eastman Says Their Virtues are Inborn; Their Vices Acquired from White Man.

THE REAL INDIAN GONE

Red Man Has Reverence for Great Spirit Says Lecturer Before the Monday Afternoon Club.

No lecture before the Monday Afternoon Club has attracted so large an audience as that which greeted Dr. Charles A. Eastman, yesterday, at the Casino. Dr. Eastman is a Sioux Indian, who some years ago married a Puritan wife, Elaine Goodale, the missionary poetess. His theme, "The Real Indian," was treated with comprehensive understanding. He affirmed at the beginning that the real Indian was gone; the character loving every tree, every rock and river and who was the real child of nature did not exist. Writers, he said, had not portrayed him correctly.

Dr. Eastman paid high tribute to the Indian woman who was taught to be simple, dignified, true and chaste, gentle as a child and possessing a strength with which warriors could not compete. Further, he said, she owns the home, made by her own hands as well as everything in it, and over it she is the absolute ruler, regarding all the toil as play. According to Dr. Eastman, she would call it a low life to ask a sister woman to do her work, or care for her baby. "She is right up to her business," the speaker put it tersely.

The training of the children into self-control of the tongue, the appetite and temper were dwelt upon by the lecturer who believed that half the troubles of life would be avoided by control of the tongue alone. The child, he said, was taught to be a student of nature, all the senses being trained to acuteness. With the eye he knew the footprints of men and animals, seeing far and sharply, and with the ear he knew the trees by the rustling of the leaves, as well as the call of all animals. The training of the girl in industry, modesty and dignity until her "coming out" was also fully described, the graces of generosity and hospitality also being inculcated.

Of the real Indian's religion, Dr. Eastman said, he had implicit faith in the Great Mystery and a reverence for supreme power, but he used no word when he addressed the Great Spirit, the soul bowing in adoring thought. Further, he said, the real Indian never speculated on the hereafter. The happy hunting grounds of which some author had written as the hope of the Indian after death, he said, existed only in the imagination of the writer. The only happy hunting ground the Indian ever dreamed of had been taken from him by the white man. The Indian's creed put in language was: "Honor the Great Mystery; love your brother; honor honesty."

With these simple children of nature of the olden time, Dr. Eastman contrasted the show Indian of the present day who had tasted the white man's philosophy and the white man's drink. Treachery to, he stated, had been learned from the wrong dealing of a people who claimed civilization. For a future generation he believed they would be capable of taking their part in a civilization that had been more than 1800 years in its growth.

Dr. Eastman is in the employ of the government, revising the laws of some of the reservations, and his home during the winter is in Amherst, Mass.

Preceding the lecture, a petition favoring the child labor bill now before the Senate, was presented for signatures.

SENIOR TEACHERS ORGANIZE.

Will Meet Once a Week for Study of Sunday-school Lesson.

Teachers from the main department of the various Sunday-schools in the city have organized a local union, under the direction of Miss Nettie Beeching, who is president of the Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union. The organization was effected at a meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. last night, eight Sunday-schools being represented by those present.

The plan proposed is to have different Sunday-school workers teach the lesson each week, and all interested, especially Sunday-school teachers, are urged to attend. The need of such an organization has been apparent for sometime among the senior teachers, the proposition being presented at a recent meeting of the Primary and Junior Union.

COMPLAINT AGAINST PRINCIPAL WITHDRAWN

SOUTH PLAINFIELD TROUBLE SETTLED—BOY RETURNS TO SCHOOL.

Following a conference yesterday afternoon between the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Saverd and Principal Frank Meskill, of the New Market Police School, the complaint against the latter was withdrawn. It was also agreed that the boy should return to school. He had been accused of alleged abuse and ill-treatment of Michael Saverd, son of the complainants.

The hearing took place before Justice vonMinden at the New Market school. Michael Saverd was then with his parents, and Principal Meskill, accompanied by his counsel, Surrogate P. Francis Daly, of New Brunswick, was also on hand. Arthur Tappan, George Harris, David Perrine, Harry Pennington, William Biller, Eugene Veghte and Abram Nelson, members of the Board of Education, were present.

Justice vonMinden suggested that the parents and the principal talk the matter over privately with a view of settling the differences. In less than five minutes Mr. Saverd stated that he was willing to withdraw the complaint and send the boy back to school. The complaint was dismissed.

Michael Saverd, over whom the trouble arose, was allowed to tell his story, which was substantially as published exclusively in The Daily Press the day after the disturbance at the school. He briefly recited the facts, telling how he and a couple of companions were driving along Park avenue, when they met the principal. He said that on one side of the road there was plenty of snow, while the other side was bare. The boy said that he did not see Mr. Meskill until almost on top of him and there was no intention of driving him out of the road into the deep snow and no disrespect was meant. He then told how the following day the principal ordered him to leave the school several times and go home and how he refused. Then, he declared, the principal put him out of the school by force and struck him on the head with a bell, besides choking him. He exhibted a cut on the head and a shirt, the collar of which was covered with blood, to substantiate his statements.

Mr. Meskill said that he might have struck the boy with the bell, but was not sure. He explained that his reason for sending the boy home was that he considered him disrespectful and his actions not conducive to maintaining discipline in the school.

After the hearing of the two stories, Justice vonMinden said that three important facts should be noted. First, that when the principal told the boy to go home, he should have obeyed, and any differences could have been settled by the Board of Education. In the second place, Principal Meskill exceeded his authority in pushing the boy out of the school and attempting to punish him for an act committed out of school hours. His redress was with the parents of the boy and he should have reported any act of disrespect to them.

Lastly, that when the boy was instructed to leave the school and go home he should have obeyed and then if the action was unjust he should have reported the matter to his parents and they had their redress by complaining to the Board of Education.

Considerable complaint was heard about the apparent indifference on the part of the Board of Education in the matter. It was argued that the trouble was one that should have been settled by that body instead of allowing it to go to a court of law.

Daab Bill Dead.

So much opposition developed against Assemblyman Daab's grade crossing abolishment bill at a hearing before the house committee on municipal corporations yesterday afternoon that the committee decided not to report the measure, but instead prepared a committee substitute. Mr. Daab's bill, which is known officially as house 93, provides that in first and second-class cities no railroad crossing at grade shall be hereafter permitted, and that wherever there are any such grade crossings the same must be abolished by July 1, 1908.

Will Revise By-laws.

James C. Calvert, Edward Bauer and James White, members of the Union County Republican Executive Committee, have been appointed a committee to revise and correct the bylaws of the organization and report at the next meeting.

County Tax Board Re-appointed.

The re-appointment by Governor Stokes of F. H. Andrews, of this city; Mulford Scudder, of Westfield, and C. C. Pollard, of Elizabeth, as members of the Union County Taxation Board, was confirmed last night by the Senate.

PLUMBERS WANT $22 AND HALF-HOLIDAY

MASTERS ASSOCIATION TO ACT ON DEMANDS ON MONDAY.

The Master Plumbers' Association met last night to receive a report from the journeymen plumbers, in which the latter seek to get a raise in their wages. The report was not ready for presentation and the matter was referred back to committee with the understanding that it would be received at a meeting to be held next Monday night.

Inquiry among the master plumbers this morning failed to disclose what the journeymen want, but from other sources it was learned that they want the Saturday half-holiday with pay the year round, instead of three months, according to the present agreement. The journeymen now receive $21 a week, and if paid for the Saturday half-holiday it would give them $22.

The journeymen plumbers are the only members of the various local trades not receiving the half-holiday through the year. Heretofore, the master plumbers have allowed this time off during three months of the year, but there has always been more or less dissatisfaction with this arrangement, while the other trades seemed to have such an advantage over the journeymen plumbers. Just what answer the master plumbers will make to their employees is not known, but it is understood that the request will be granted.

GRANTED A LICENSE WITHOUT ANY RIGHT

AFTER MAYOR WAS ADVISED THAT NO ONE HAD POWER, CITY FATHERS ISSUE

In the face of an unequivocal opinion from Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh that a Common Council has no power to make such use of public streets, the city fathers renewed the license of Joseph Myers to conduct a restaurant on the thoroughfare in Second street near Park avenue. There was not a dissenting voice among the councilmen when Herbert W. Buxton on presenting the application argued that as Myers had occupied Second street in such manner for fourteen years he should be granted a renewal of his license. The logic of the argument appeared to be sound for every member present cast his vote in favor of allowing the lunch-wagon to obstruct the street for another year.

From an unquestionable source, a representative of The Daily Press has learned that Mayor Charles J. Fisk declined to grant the application of Myers. When the Common Council delegated to the mayor the power to act on all applications for licenses other than those for the right to sell liquor, Mr. Fisk asked Mr. Marsh for his opinion on the lunch-wagon application. The corporation counsel is reported to have filed with him an opinion that neither the mayor nor the Common Council had any legal right to grant such a privilege.

Such use of the highways had not struck the mayor favorably and when he received the Corporation Counsel's opinion, he at once notified District Court Judge William Newcorn, Myers' counsel, that the application would not be granted him. The mayor subsequently referred back the application to the Common Council.

In Mrs. Bottome's Memory.

A memorial service for Mrs. Margaret A. Bottome, who founded the International Order of the King's Daughters, will be held in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church, on Saturday afternoon, March 23, at 3:30 o'clock. An address will be made by Mrs. Isabelle Davis, secretary of the National Council in New York, and by Mrs. John C. Bliss, wife of one of the former pastors of the Crescent Avenue church, who will speak of the beginning of the King's Daughters in Plainfield. Mrs. F. G. Mead and Mrs. C. A. Reed will speak of the growth and present work of the City Union of the King's Daughters in this city. A large attendance is expected.

Herbert Buxton Endorsed.

The Union County Republican Executive Committee at its meeting in Elizabeth, last night, recommended and endorsed Councilman Herbert Buxton, of this city, for appointment on the State Arbitration Commission, and Henry Schmidt, of Elizabeth, for appointment on the Rahway Reformatory Commission.

Board of Agriculture to Meet.

The Union County Board of Agriculture will meet in the Court House, Elizabeth, room 95, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The subject for discussion will be "Fertilizers." All farmers are invited to attend.

ANNEXATION FIRST; THEN CONSOLIDATION

Such It is Stated Will Be Recommendation of the Bi-Municipal Merger Commissioners.

BOTH SCHEMES DEAD

Annexation Would Never Go Through, Hence Consolidation Never Will Come to Pass, It Is Argued.

Annexation and consolidation are dead—just as dead as they were five years ago—the two municipalities will continue to paddle their own canoes. The bi-municipal consolidation commission has about completed its work, now being engaged in shaping its report for the governing bodies of the two places. The sum and substance of the commissioners' investigations have been that consolidation without being preceded by annexation is both undesirable and impracticable.

Not swayed by sentiment, the commissioners have heeded the legal advice given them by lawyers on both sides of "the brook." Speaking for Plainfield in his official capacity, Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, and speaking as a private citizen and taxpayer, Counsellor Winfield S. Angleman, have both declared to the commissioners that many laws of the State would have to be changed if the two places were merged without first changing the county lines. Mr. Angleman holds, moreover, that the present consolidation act is unconstitutional, but Mr. Marsh has given no opinion on that phase of the subject. He has confined himself to the legal aspects of a municipality in two different counties; and that be believes undesirable and legally impracticable, so it is said.

According to good report, the commission will advise that before the city of Plainfield and the borough of North Plainfield are merged, the borough's territory be annexed to Union county. No one can be found who believes that there is any more chance of secession of the borough from Somerset county than there ever has been in the past, and therefore the conclusion is drawn by those in a position to know whereof they speak that both consolidation and annexation are dead.

It is said that the commission is anxious to have its report completed in time for the April meetings of the two governing bodies. Even then it is hardly likely that a bill can be rushed through the Legislature before adjournment providing for an annexation referendum. The annexation bill was killed five years ago when the scheme was defeated at the polls; therefore another has to be passed. But before the commission's report is made known to the governing bodies of the two places, it may be that an annexation bill will be introduced at Trenton. Consolidation is dead; annexation is deader.

MR. AND MRS. FORCE SURPRISED

Employees of the "White Store" Pay Them An Unexpected Visit.

A surprise party of a unique character was tendered Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Force at their home on West Front street, last night. The entire force of employes at the "White Store" were the participants, each one wearing in some original way the hue of the Emerald Isle, the idea being to remember the St. Patrick's day occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Force were totally unprepared for the coming of the self-invited guests but within a short time after their arrival, the rooms were decorated with potted plants and shamrocks until they resembled a Fairyland. Afterward a delightful programme of games, songs and recitations were enjoyed and in conclusion refreshments were served.

Cost Him a Five Spot.

Fred Randolph, colored, whose powers of oratory under the influence of liquor would make a congressman jealous, was arrested by Patrolman McDonald on Watchung avenue, last night. Fred had a beautiful jag aboard and was stirring up the neighborhood with a tale of woe about something when the officer hove in sight. He was given his preference of $5 or twenty days in the city court this morning and took the former.

We have brought together this season the most elaborate display of Spring Wash Goods from foreign and domestic mills that you could conceive. The season now at hand promises to be the greatest wash goods season in history. Every year brings forth more elaborate and beautiful designs than the previous year, so that this spring seem to have reached the acme of perfection in the magnificent, artistic line of wash materials brought out. Our line embraces Shadow Checks, Drap De Linde, Swiss Applique, Clyde Zephyr, Mercerized Checks, Silk Tissue, Poplins, Lucerne Tissue, Lawns, Dotted Swiss, Batiste, Eolean, Moussaline De Soie and many other styles equally as popular.

BELATED TRIAL OF BATTLESHIP NEW JERSEY.

She Has Been Undergoing Acceptance Tests for Nearly Whole Year.

Washington, March 19.—The new battleship New Jersey, which began its government tests almost a year ago, will soon be formally accepted by the United States navy officials, the recent forty-eight-hour run of the great fighting craft, it is reported, having been satisfactory to those in charge. Considerable gossip concerning the ability of the New Jersey to come up to the required mark has been heard of late, due, perhaps, to the long delay over the acceptance tests. It is claimed, however, that the craft is seaworthy in every respect, and that she is just as formidable as her designers had planned.

Within the next few weeks the Board of Inspection and Survey of the Navy Department will have completed its report of the final trial.

Some persons had begun to believe that there was "something queer about the New Jersey." She was sent to Cuba at the time of the American intervention last fall, and on other expeditions, but during this time had never been even tentatively accepted. The facts, as given to a correspondent at the Navy Department, are these:

At the time of the preliminary trial, on March 29, 1906, there were some small defects discovered, such as hot boxes and the like, that are almost, if not quite, inevitable in the running of new machinery, and yet the ship developed a speed of 19.18 knots, while the contract only called for a speed of nineteen knots. After due consideration the department announced its preliminary acceptance on May 12 following, the time intervening between the preliminary trial and preliminary acceptance having been much less than has elapsed between the two in the cases of several of the other battleships. The Louisiana was first tried on December 14, 1905, while the preliminary acceptance was on May 21, 1906 the Vir- 1905, and the preliminary accept- 1905, and the p reliminary acceptance was on May 5, 1906. It is a hard and fast regulation in the department that no ship or vessel of any kind shall be finally accepted until six months after the preliminary trial, and then not until another and more severe test shall have been had, so as to establish beyond all question the efficiency of the ship.

The New Jersey is one of five sister ships—the New Jersey, the Virginia, the Nebraska, the Georgia and the Rhode Island, each of which is precisely similar to all the others, and all of which will soon be completed and accepted.

The general dimensions and chief characteristics of the New Jersey are: Length on load water line, 435 feet; breadth, extreme at load line, 76 feet 2½ inches; trial displacement, 14,948 tons; mean draft at trial displacement, 23 feet 9 inches; greatest draft, full load, 26 feet.

The construction of the ship is almost entirely of steel, and the deck planks and other small quantities of wood are all fire proofed. The New Jersey is manned, or will be when she is placed in commission, by 812 men, comprising the officers and crew and sixty marines. The vessel will be lighted and the machinery propelled by electricity, while everything in and about the ship is as modern and perfect as money could make it or inventive skill devise it. In short, the department explains that she embodies all the latest developments in naval architecture, and that she "will prove a most formidable addition to the fighting strength of the navy."

The New Jersey was built by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, at Quincy, Mass. She was about seven years in building, Congress having made the first appropriation for such construction in March, 1899.

BOOM FOR FAIRBANKS.

Chicago's Irish Fellowship Club Names Vice President for the Nomination of Chief Executive.

Chicago, March 19.—An Illinois "boom" for the Presidential candidacy of Vice President Fairbanks was started Sunday night at an informal banquet tendered Mr. Fairbanks at the Auditorium Annex by the Irish Fellowship Club. Among those present were Congressman William Lorimer, Charles G. Dawes, Edward Shurtleff, Speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives; John M. Harlan, former Judge Elbridge Hanecy and others. In introducing the Vice President, former Judge Hanecy, toastmaster, said that Chicago, "in bringing out Mr. Fairbanks for the Presidency, would be found to prove once more 'a picker of the winner,' just as other Chicago clubs had distinguished themselves by picking winners." Other speakers, including Lorimer, Harlan, Dawes and Shurtleff, seconded Judge Hanecy's sentiments. Vice President Fairbanks said:

"I am so overcome with gratitude at the kind reception that I cannot find words to express myself."

MILLION ANNUAL BASEBALL OUTPUT

NATIONAL PASTIME IS NOW ONE OF COUNTRY'S LARGEST INDUSTRIES.

The season of 1906 was a notable one in baseball. Values ascended to such a height that only a well-financed concern may now pose as a baseball owner, as was shown by the sale of the Boston Nationals' franchise, George D ovey forking over $275,000.

At no time during the history of the great American soprt were such princely salaries and such phenomenal prices paid for good players, the deals involving the shift of "Cy" Seymour, "Spike" Shannon, Jack Taylor, and prices offered for such players as "Young Cy" Young, Tim Jordan and other stars being more numerous and far higher than any recorded in major league baseball with the exception of isolated cases, such as Mike Kelley and a few others.

There was a surprising endeavor on the part of the big league managers to corral the best players in the game. Money was no object. The skill of the player was sought to strengthen the team. All along the line, from the majors down to the minors, money was freely used for the procuring of skillful players.

All this enormous outlay of money surely had a meaning. Baseball today is one of the big industries of America. As much money is yearly invested in the pastime and as much revenue is derived from the sport as accrues from somet of the important business interests of America.

Just how much money is tied up in baseball at present, how much it takes in and pays out, and what the salary lists of the country amount to, it is impossible to say, but the figures run high. Take the big leagues, which are at the top of the list. Rough estimates place the average salary list of the clubs at close to $40,000 a year.

If this is true it means that the sixteen clubs in the two leagues spend something like $640,000 a year in paying salaries to players alone. This does not include the money spent for the purchase of players, which will come clost to averaging $10,000 a lone. This means $160,000.

What it costs to run a park during a game it is hard to say, but gatekeepers and park employes usually run up a good figure, outside of incidentals. In addition to this there is ground ren to be considered, and interest to be made on stands and figures. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars is a low estimate on the amount each club is incorporated at, and, taking everything into consideration, the financial end of the game in either the American or National league cuts into the $1,000,000 mark.

Baseball never experienced a more successful regime, and it is safe to say the following years will witness the gold era of the game. Magnates and public are beginning to cry for pennant winners, and the public's desire for this great honor is goading the baseball owners the country over to greater effort in the way of securing the best talent on the market.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Dunellen Baseball Association, members of the Inter-City Baseball League, has issued a neat schedule of games for the season to be distributed among the followers of the team.

"Phil." Smith will probably decide to pitch Wednesdays and Saturdays during the season, as he did the latter part of last season. He holds a good position with the Edison Electric Company, of New York, and it would not pay him at present to give that up for professional baseball.

"Warry" MacLaughlin, who will pitch for the Springfield Connecticut State Club, this season, will leave Plainfield about the middle of April to join his team-mates. The league season will open April 25. "Warry" is in fine condition and expects to make a good record this year. There will be four pitchers on his team.

It is rumored that Minford and "Ted" Overton will be the battery this season for the Y. M. C. A. team, and if this is true, the association nine will have a strong pair to help it win games. Minford has everything in the twirling line, and is exceptionally steady.

Nothing has been heard from Dave Driscoll lately about Plainfield's Lackawanna League Club, and it is not known just what he proposes to do.

Jimmie Bertwhistle, the hard-hitting fielder formerly with the Plainfield team, is looking for a place to play the game this season. Jimmie would like to be in Plainfield, if a team of his class is organized.

It is practically settled that Howard Craig will be with the Y. M. C. A. team this season and that he will play an infield position. He is one of the best amateur short-stops in town and an almost sure hitter.

In the makeup of its team the Y. M. C. A. will have the advantage of securing most of the material from the Camp Bowser nine. That aggregation played fine ball last year.

AN EFFICIENT CAPTAIN.

Company K went to Westfield this time to get a captain and it got just the right man for the place. Harry R. Kitchell is a worthy successor to William B. Martin, who was so deservingly promoted to a majorship, and with him as their captain, the boys of Company K look with confidence to a continuation of their high ranking in the Second regiment. Mr. Kitchell will be ably assisted in the persons of First Lieutenant Peterson and Second Lieutenant Littell.

"THE SUN DO MOVE."

The unanimous action of the Legislature last night in extending its felicitations and good wishes to former President Grover Cleveland upon his seventieth birthday anniversary is certainly creditable to the members of that body and particularly to the Republicans. The day of the narrow-minded and bitter partisan has passed, and in this respect at least the country is better off than it was a few decades ago when such a thing would have been impossible.

NEW USE FOR HIGHWAYS.

Any merchant who does not desire to rent property might be able to get a license from the Common Council to conduct his business in the middle of the street. It is a very accommodating body in this respect for without a dissenting vote it issued a permit for a lunch wagon to block up Second street for another year.

ASSEMBLY PROBING BURKE'S ACCUSATIONS

AT PERKINS' REQUEST HOUSE INVESTIGATES CHARGES AGAINST HIM.

Members of the New Jersey House of Assembly sit at two o'clock this afternoon as a committee of the whole to investigate charges of conspiracy made by J. Frank Burke, secretary of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League, against Assemblymen Klenert, Perkins and Alexander, members of the Judiciary Committee of the House, whom he has accused publicly of conspiring against the local option bill recently introduced by Assemblyman Buck, of Cumberland county, at the instance of the league. The bill has not been reported, and Mr. Burke has declared orally and in letters to clergymen and other temperance workers that Messrs. Klenert, Perkins and Alexander used undue influence over the other members of the committee to keep the bill off the floor.

Mr. Perkins last night, immediately after the opening of the session, arose to a question of personal privilege and called attention to the charges made by Mr. Burke. He referred to him as a "lobbyist who has been operating on the floor of the House," and then introduced a resolution providing for the House investigation. Mr. Alexander seconded the resolution and declared that if Mr. Burke sustained his charges the members of the committee should be severely reprimanded by the House; if he failed he should be excluded from the floor of the House for the rest of the session.

Mr. Burke, it is understood, will accept the opportunity of appearing to sustain what he has alleged and a heated session is anticipated. The fight for a local option bill is becoming warmer each year. The scheme was defeated on the floor last winter, but its advocates will not let it rest. They promise to continue the fight until a local option law is secured.

Mrs. Samuel P. Case, of Madison avenue, is registered at the Chalfonte, Atlantic City.

The colony at Bound Brook was established a year ago and is located in what is known as the Peter Garretson homestead. It comprises several buildings and the eighty acres of ground, all of which was deeded the sect by the owner. The place is called "Zarephath" by the "Jumpers" and now includes a training school for missionaries and a children's home. The farm is operated for the purpose of keeping the older people actively employed outside of their religious work and the proceeds help in paying the running expenses. The property is described in detail in the year book of the "Jumpers," which has just been issued and includes the following paragraph:

"The location is a very desirable one; just thirty miles from New York and sixty from Philadelphia. Within a radius of seventy miles there are 500 cities, towns and villages, and a population of nearly ten million people. Here, in all this region, there is a great spiritual dearth, the old denominations having long ago departed from the faith and refusing to preach the word of God. Here also are to be found hungry souls, who, failing to find any spiritual sustenance in the churches, are ready to receive our missionaries with joy."

THE GIRLS PAID DEAR FOR THEIR LITTLE JOKE.

Horse Taken in a Prank Ran Away, and the Jokers Were Hurt.

Miss Nettie Drake, of Valley street, South Orange, and Miss Florence Ricker, of Mountain View, thought it would be a joke to steal a ride in a buggy which belongs to the latter's brother and which was left standing in front of the Drake home Sunday night. The girls were sorry, yesterday, they did it, for they are laid up and the carriage is a wreck, the horse having run away.

"I thought I could hold the horse," Miss Ricker said after the accident, "but now what will brother say?"

The two girls intended to return the horse and buggy in good shape after taking a short ride, but the horse shied at a passing trolley. There was a crash with a coach belonging to Noonan Brothers and the horse broke loose from the rig.

Miss Ricker hung on to the reins and was dragged a considerable distance until a trolley employee caught the frightened animal. The girl's clothing was torn, and her face, hands and arms were cut and bruised. Miss Drake received a bad gash over one eye.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE PLANS IN CRANFORD.

Fine Church to Be Built at Cost of $50,000 on Osborne Property.

The first Christian Science church to be erected in Union county will occupy the site of the Osborne homestead, at Milan street and Springfield avenue, Cranford. The edifice will cost $50,000 and be constructed of stone. Work will be started early this spring.

Allen Wood, of Cranford, has bought the Osborne homestead and will have it moved from its present site at once.

ROGERS BROTHERS GET AN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

Their Sayings and Doings In Ireland Pleases a Capacity Audience at the New Plainfield Theatre.

Though the announcements asserted that it was "The Rogers Brothers in Ireland," there was every indication that it was "The Rogers Brothers in Plainfield" last night and local theatregoers gave them just as fine a reception as though they had been in New York, Philadelphia or anywhere else. When the curtain went up on the first act of the clever McNally-Hobart-Hoffman musical comedy, the New Plainfield theatre held a capacity audience that witnessed one of the jingliest, jolliest productions of the season.

The Rogers Brothers, Gus and Max, are newcomers to the local field in a certain sense and their method of hadling out Teutonic humor was a revelation to a large part of the gathering that believed the style had passed out with the separation of Weber and Fields. In their original sayings and parodies it is no exaggeration to say the team made the audience scream with laughter and in the course of the comedy their actions brought a guffaw twice a minute.

Miss Marion Stanley appeared in the leading feminine role and beside being able to sing and act with rare distinction, appeared to be the prettiest young woman who has appeared on the local stage in many moons. She appeared in a stunning green gown at one time that made the women turn the same hue with envy and caused the men to crane their necks a foot nearer the stage. Bessie Deoie added to the enjoyment by dancing gracefully and there were several chorus groupings that bore the stamp of originality. The show was unusually gratifying oll through and no matter what the Rogers Brothers appear in they will be royally welcomed again.

"DOUBTING" THOMASES SENT BACK TO JAIL.

The Kennys Might Have Gone Free but for Alertness of Court Clerk Dorman.

Two men, each named Thomas Kenny, were arraigned for trial in the Court of Special Sessions, Brooklyn, yesterday. Each had been held upon two charges of assault. One of the charges against each man had been referred to the Grand Jury and the other to the Court of Special Sessions.

The men look alike, although they are not related. Their cases in court were so similar that every one was at sea, and both men were discharged and told to go home, although orders had been given that no matter what the disposition of the cases against them in Special Sessions, both should be returned to the jail, to be held pending the investigation by the Grand Jury of more serious charges than those on which they were arraigned.

The two Thomasses themselves were thoroughly confused. But they did not go home as the court told them to. Deputy Court Clerk Dorman stood by his orders to send them back to jail, despite assurances from all sides that no further litigation was pending.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

DISTINCTIVELY A CREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER

It does not contain an atom of phosphatic acid (which is the product of bones digested in sulphuric acid) or of alum (which is one-third sulphuric acid), unhealthful substances adopted for other baking powders because of their cheapness.

With a record of 200 nights in Chicago and 250 in New York the rollicking new farcical opera, "The Mayor of Tokio," will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight. The book is by Richard Carle and the music by W. F. Peters. The scene of the new opera is laid in Japan and deals with the adventures of a comic opera organization stranded in the Nippon metropolis. Marcus Orlando Kidder, impressaric of the luckless troupe, is played by J. L. Kearney, who was selected by Mr. Carle as being the only comedian in the country whom he felt could follow him in the part. Mr. Kidder and the remnants of his Komigues have arrived in Tokio with sadly depleted treasury and wardrobes. In addition to Kidder himself, all that remain of a troupe that left San Francisco 60 members strong for the tour of the far east are a sour-faced wardrobe mistress, a love-sick song-book boy, a soubrette with Shakespearian ambitions and nine little girls called the "Peanut Ballet."

When the curtain rises at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night, Miss Blanche Hall, Mrs. Leslie Carter's rival, will be seen in her dressing room making up for her appearance in the French provincial concert hall. Then, for nearly three hours, the audience will follow her through Zaza's joys and sorrows, to the beautiful renunciation, at the end. The emotional intensity of Miss Hall's acting in the tremendous fourth act of this powerful play can only be compared with Bernhardt's, Mrs. Carter's, and the great Salvini's genius. She dwarfs the room in which she plays it. She holds the audience in this act in a grip of steel. There is no escaping her. One sits spellbound. She runs the whole gauntlet of the emotions, from childish joy to intense despair. She is like a tigress robbed of her young, and it looks at moments as if she would kill her lover, who has so cruelly wronged her. It is masterly art, painful, yet great. Only the most gifted of actresses can ever hope to do anything like justice to it. It is one of the marvels of dramatic art. There is nothing finer on the stage here today; nothing so fine in all England, Ireland, Scotland or Australia.

Eduard Waldmann, who will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre Friday night in the fascinating play, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," is a German actor with an established reputation in his own country. He has been associated with Suderman and enjoys a reputation at once enviable and remarkable in such roles as "Hamlet," "Othello," "Shylock," "Richelieu," and kindered characters, creations of the great masters. His impersonation of the dual role in "Jekyll and Hyde" has been compared most favorably with that of Richard Mansfield and Henry Irving. His engagement here will heartily commend itself to all real lovers of the drama.

There have been several remarkable theatrical successes that are staple favorites in the amusement menu within the past two years, but the one that probably stands pre-eminently among them is Henry W. Savage's famous production of George Ade's comedy masterpiece, "The College Widow," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night. The almost unprecedented demand for this typical American comedy has been so great many cities have been slighted in the itinerary arranged by Manager Savage, so that this city is fortunate in being located on the line of travel chosen for this organization. A company, which by the way, is said to be the best that Mr. Savage has ever had in this play.

THREE TO ONE FOR ROOSEVELT.

Postal Card Poll Favors His Renomination.

New York, March 19—About 1,000 replies have been returned to 3,464 postal cards sent out to four Republicans in each of the 866 election districts of Manhattan and the Bronx, by The Evening Mail, last week, asking whether President Roosevelt should be urged to run again, despite his refusal to do so, or whether, if he were renominated, the third term objection would apply, and whether he is as strong with the people now as he was in 1904.

The replies showed 198 voters in favor of the President's renomination and 201 against it, a percentage of three to one, approximately. This percentage has been maintained with only slight variations since the first of the return cards had been received, permitting the presumption that the total return would show about the same result.

Most of the favorable replies on the renomination question contained the statement that he was as popular as ever, and many went further and declared he was more so. Any number of the 798 used such terms as "emphatically for him" and "no one else."

Those who went on record as against renomination urged the third term argument for the most part.

THE HOUSE OF A THOUSAND CANDLES

By Meredith Nicholson

Author of "The Main Chance," "Zelda Dare," etc.

Copyright 1906 by Bobbs-Merrill Co.

"Yes, I know her! My God, I have reason to know her! But even when I found her out I did not dream that the plot was as deep as it is. She knew that it was a scheme to test me, and she played me into Pickering's hands. I caught her down there in the tunnel acting as his spy, looking for the lost notes, that she might gain grace in his eyes by turning them over to him. You know how I always hated Pickering,—he was too smooth, too smug, and you and everybody else were forever praising him to me. He was always held up to me as a model; and the first time I saw Marian Devereux she was with him—it was at Sherry's the night before I came here. I suppose she reached St. Agatha's only a few hours ahead of me."

"Yes, Sister Theresa was her guardian. Her father was a dear friend, and I knew her from her early childhood. You are mistaken, Jack. Her knowing Pickering means nothing,—they both lived in New York and moved in the same circle."

"But it doesn't explain her efforts to help him, does it?" I blazed. "He wished to marry her,—Sister Theresa told me that,—and I failed—I failed miserably to keep my obligation here—I ran away to follow her!"

"Ah, to be sure! You were away Christmas eve, when those vandals broke in. Bates merely mentioned it in the last report I got from him in New York. That was all right. I assumed, of course, that you had gone off somewhere to get a little Christmas cheer: I don't care anything about it."

"But I had followed her—I went to Cincinnati to see her—don't you understand? She dared me to come—it was a trick, a part of the conspiracy to steal your property."

The old gentleman smiled. It was an old trick of his to grow calm as other people waxed angry.

"She dared you to come, did she! That is quite like Marian; but you didn't have to go, did you, Jack?"

"Of course not; of course I didn't have to go, but—"

I stammered, faltered and coased. Memory threw open her portals with a challenge. I saw Marian on the stairway at the Armstrongs'; I heard her low, soft laughter; I felt the mockery of her voice and eyes; I knew again the exquisite delight of being near her. My heart told me well enough why I had followed her!

"Jack, I'm glad I'm not buried up there in that Vermont graveyard with nobody to exercise the right of guardianship over you. I've had my misgivings about you; I used to think you were a born tramp; and you disappointed me in turning your back on architecture,—the noblest of all professions; but this performance of yours really beats them all. Don't you know that a girl like Marian Devereux isn't likely to become the agent of any rascal? Do you really believe for a minute that she tempted you to follow her so you might forfeit your rights to my property?"

"But why was she trying to find those notes of his? Why did she come back from Cincinnati with his party? If you could answer me those things, maybe I'd admit that I'm a fool. Pickering, I imagine, is a pretty plausible fellow where women are concerned."

"For God's sake, Jack, don't speak of that girl as women! I put her in that will of mine just to pique your curiosity, knowing that if there was a penalty on your marrying her you would be wholly likely to do it,—for that's the way human beings are made. But you've mixed it all up now and insulted her in the grossest way possible for a fellow who is really a gentleman. And I don't want to lose you; I want you here with me! These rich Americans, who go to England to live, don't appreciate the beauty of their own country. This landscape is worthy of the best that man can do. And I didn't undertake to build a crazy house out here but one that should have some dignity and character. That passage around the chimney is an indulgence, Jack,—I'll admit it's a little bizarre,—you see that chimney isn't so big outside as it is in!"—and he laughed and rubbed his knees,—"and my bringing foreign laborers here was really to make it easier to get things done my way. Wait till you have seen the May-apples blossom and heard the robin sing in the summer twilight,—help me to finish the house,—then if you want to leave I'll bid you Godspeed."

The feeling in his tone, the display of sentiment so at variance with my old notion of him, touched me in spite of myself. There was a characteristic nobility and dignity in his plan; it was worthy of him. And I had never loved him as now, when he finished this appeal, and turned away to the window, gazing out upon the somber woodland.

"Mr. Donovan is ready to go, sir," announced Bates at the door, and we went into the library, where Larry and Stoddard were waiting.

CHAPTER XXVI.

Shorter Vistas.

Larry had assembled his effects in the library, and to my surprise, Stoddard appeared with his own hand-bag.

"I'm going to see Donovan well on his way," said the clergyman.

"It's a pity our party must break up," exclaimed my grandfather. "My obligations to Mr. Donovan are very great—and to you, too, Stoddard. Jack's friends are mine hereafter, and when we get new doors for Glenarm House you shall honor me by accepting duplicate keys."

"Where's Bates?" asked Larry, and the man came in, respectfully, imperturbably as always, and began gathering up the bags.

"Stop—one moment! Mr. Glenarm," said Larry. "Before I go I want to congratulate you on the splendid courage of this man who has served you and your house with so much faithfulness and tact. And I want to tell you something else, that you probably would never learn from him—"

"Donovan!" There was a sharp cry

They Clasped Hands.

in Bates' voice, and he sprang forward with his hands outstretched entreatingly. But Larry did not heed him.

"The moment I set eyes on this man I recognized him. It's not fair to you or to him that you should not know him for what he is. Let me introduce an old friend, Walter Creighton; he was a student at Dublin when I was there, a poor boy with nobody to help him; but I remember him as one of the best fellows in the world."

"For God's sake—no!" pleaded Bates. He was deeply moved and turned his face away from us.

"But, like me," Larry went on, "he mixed in politics. One night in a riot at Dublin a constable was killed. No one knew who was guilty, but a youngster was suspected,—the son of one of the richest and best-known men in Ireland, who happened to get mixed in the row. To draw attention from the boy, Creighton let suspicion attach to his own name, and, to help the boy's case further, ran away. I had not heard from or of him until the night I came here and found him the defender of this house. By God; that was no servant's trick,—it was the act of a royal gentleman."

They clasped hands, and with a new light in his face, with a new manner, as though he resumed, as a familiar garment, an old disused personality, Bates stood transfigured in the twilight, a man and a gentleman. I think we were all drawn to him; I know that a sob clutched my throat and tears filled my eyes as I grasped his hand.

Father Time Tests All Things

Hallet & Davis Pianos Are Time Tried.

It isn't worth while for you to experiment with unknown makes of pianos and unknown piano quality. Many persons have found it not only vexatious, but costly as well. There is no need or excuse for so doing—not even from a price stand-point. Hallet & Davis Pianos passed the experimental stage many years ago and they have been time tried and tested. This assurance of good quality is fully supplemented in the preference given the Hallet & Davis by many of the greatest living musicians for public and private use.

QUALITY AND PRICE.

Please remember that the "quality" of your piano will be remembered long after the price is forgotten.

The one price at which Hallet & Davis Pianos are sold is lower, quality considered, than can be secured elsewhere. The popular demand making this possible.

Great bargains now in used pianos.

Many old time makes included.

OBITUARY.

Miss Kate Dunn.

Miss Kate Dunn, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Philemon Dunn, and an aunt to Mrs. J. F. Garretson, of West Fourth street, died at her home in Somerville, yesterday, aged 74 years. She was a most devoted Christian woman, always doing good, visiting the sick and in many other ways helping those who needed assistance. She was a member of the Second Reformed church, Somerville, and a faithful attendant. She was the last member of the family, her parents, brothers and sisters passing away some time ago. The funeral services will be held from the late home, South Bridge street, Somerville, tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Mrs. Craven Warrick.

Mrs. Louisa Warrick, wife of Craven Warrick, died at her home on West Fourth street early this morning. The funeral will be held at the house tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and interment will be at Carlisle, Pa.

Bank Charge Dismissed.

Trenton, March 19.—Judge Lanning in the United States District Court dismissed yesterday the indictment which was obtained in 1903 against George F. Kroehl and Albert C. Twining, charged with conspiracy in connection with the failure of the First National Bank of Asbury Park. In dismissing the indictment Judge Lanning said the men ought to have been tried on the indictment long before this, and it was apparent to him that there was to be no prosecution. There still is one indictment pending against Twining.

Lawmakers Honor Cleveland.

Both branches of the Legislature last night joined in extending hearty felicitations and good wishes to former President Grover Cleveland, upon the celebration of his seventieth birthday anniversary yesterday. In both the House and Senate the vote was unanimous.

He Is George A. Sears, and Lives in Elizabeth.

In Elizabeth lives the only negro who ever held a field officer's commission in a State National Guard. This man is Lieutenant Colonel Geo. A. Sears, who was on November 23, 1872, appointed to that position in the Eighth Regiment, N. G. N. J. (colored), by Governor Joel B. Parker. This regiment had been organized about two years previously and was made up of companies from Elizabeth, Jersey City, Newark, Camden, New Brunswick, Trenton and Rahway. Colonel Sears was promoted from the captaincy of Co. A, of Elizabeth. He remained lieutenant-colonel of the regiment until it was disbanded by the order of Governor Beadle some years later.

Col. Sears is a veteran of the Civil War, having served as a private in Company D, Eleventh U. S. Colored Heavy Artillery, from '63 to '65. He saw service with his regiment both in Louisiana and Texas.

Upon his return to Elizabeth he was employed as mason's helper under Joseph Davis, a mason and builder who did the masonry work on the present City Hall. He afterward went into the express business in Newark and later teh hack business. He returned to Elizabeth and in the late sixties opened a saloon at Martin and Division streets. He later was employed by the Elizabethport Cordage Company.

Sears was thrifty. He saved some money and this, with his pension from the government, enabled him to give up work recently. He now lives in rooms by himself in Public lane—he and his wife having separated by mutual consent several years ago. Colonel Sears is a native of Elizabeth. He is 69 years old. Besides a wife the Colonel has three children living—a son and a daughter in New York, and a daughter, Mrs. Milton Kane, of Elizabeth.

LOOKS LIKE DUNGAN FOR SECOND REGIMENT HEAD.

Election Ordered for Successor to Col. Collins—Former Lieutenant-Colonel.

Assistant Adjutant General Frederick Gilkyson, by command of Brigadier General Collins, has ordered an election for colonel of the Second regiment and to fill any vacancies for field officers that may occur by reason thereof. The election will take place in the armory at Trenton next Monday night at 8.

There is no doubt but what Lieutenant Colonel Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville, will succeed Colonel Collins as commander of the Second regiment. Major George L. Forman will probably be advanced to lieutenant colonel and Captain John H. McCullough may advance to the rank of major.

Lieutenant Colonel Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville, who is slated for colonel of the Second regiment, is one of the most popular officers of the national guard of New Jersey. He enlisted in Company H, Third Regiment, July 28, 1891, and became a corporal in August of the same year. He was elected first sergeant in 1893; battalion sergeant major in 1894; captain and judge advocate in 1894. He retired in 1899 and re-entered the service in 1900 as captain of Company M, of the Second regiment. He was elected major in 1901 and became lieutenant colonel upon the death of Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Clime, of Burlington.

BIG REINDEER SKIPS ABOUT THE COUNTRY.

Thought to Have Gotten Away From Washburn's Circus Winter Headquarters.

Freeholder George S. Bunting, of Piscatawaytown, while on his way to New Brunswick yesterday morning to get his mail came across a reindeer on the Stelton and New Market road. The deer looked excited and was traveling along the road at a fast gait.

The deer leaped fences and creeks without any trouble and several women who saw the animal were somewhat scared by the capers of the frisky animal.

No one seems to know who owns the deer, but Freeholder Bunting thinks it belong to Washburn's circus, which has winter quarters along the river road. No one attempted to stop the animal as it was going so fast that it was impossible for anyone to get within reach of it.

When Mr. Bunting arrived in town he wrote a postal to Mr. Washburn telling him that he thought one of his reindeers had broken loose.

Tablet to Cleveland.

Bloomfield, March 19.—A bronze tablet commemorating the birth of Grover Cleveland was unveiled yesterday in the room in which the former President was born in the old parsonage of the First Presbyterian church at Caldwell, four miles from here. Today is the 70th anniversary of ex-President Cleveland's birth.

He loved her she knew,
She could tell it with ease,
For he kneeled till his trousers
Were bagged at the knees.

FAVOR PURE FOOD BILL

Many Citizens Pronounce the Frelinghuysen Measure Better Than Federal Laws.

SUGGEST AMENDMENTS

One Is to the Effect that Proprietary Medicines and Foods On Hand Should Be Exempted from Its Provisions.

The State Senate public health committee, Senators Colby, Frelinghuysen and Price, held a hearing yesterday afternoon at Trenton on what is known as the "Pure Food Bill," and which was introduced by Senator Frelinghuysen.

Hugh Gordon Miller, a New York lawyer, gave a history of the Federal pure food act, and pronounced the pending bill even better in some respects than the United States law. He suggested, however, that some safeguards were necessary to perfect the bill, one of which was in relation to the power of the State Board of Health in making the standard of weight and measurement which the bill provides.

Dr. Mitchell, secretary of the State Board of Health, advocated the passage of the bill, the purpose of which was, in part, to perfect a revision of all the present statutes and the methods of collecting the penalties prescribed.

Dr. Kebler, of the Federal Department of Agriculture, was introduced, but said that he would prefer to defer his remarks until Miss Alice Lakey, chairman of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs' pure food committee, and who, Dr. Mitchell said, represented about 800,000 women, had spoken. She suggested that New Jersey should follow along the lines of the Federal law, until something better could be had. The bill under consideration, she said, was a good one. She said the national law was passed because there was not a member of Congress who dared to oppose it. The sentiment of the women of New Jersey was solid in favor of the Frelinghuysen bill, she said, and wanted it passed and the members of the Legislature would be "most miserable men if they opposed it."

She advocated an inspection of the slaughter houses of the State, and the women wanted the bill to go into operation as soon as passed because it meant the immediate protection which was demanded by the families of the State.

George White, of Jersey City, and a member of the State Board of Pharmacy, spoke generally in favor of the bill, but suggested a few amendments to perfect it.

Mr. Barringer, of Camden, also indorsed the bill in the main, but thought that the fact should be fully shown that a drug was adulterated before any prosecution could be made. This the pending bill did not require or provide. He added that if the bill should be passed in its present form, every druggist in the State would find that his interests were imperilled. The book issued by the Federal government on the subject of drugs was never intended to be regarded as a legal standard.

The Board of Health signified its willingness, through Mr. Frelinghuysen, to cut that part of the bill which indorsed the Federal formula, and Mr. Barringer then took up that feature of the bill which refers to proprietary medicines. He suggested that the second prevision of section four of the bill should be made to differentiate between proprietary articles and physicians' prescriptions.

Dr. Mitchell objected to the changes proposed by Mr. Barringer.

Dr. Kebler, after saying that he represented no individual or prejudice, but only the Federal government, said that there were men in this country who were advertising proprietary medicines for the cure of all sorts of diseases, and who called themselves physicians. It was of vital importance, he said, that these men, purporting to be d octors, were trafficking in deadly drugs to the almost universal detriment of those who were induced to use them. Referring to the homeopathic pharmacopoeia, Dr. Kebler said that he was not in favor of the introduction of it into any law.

Mr. Barringer defended the homeopathic pharmacopoeia, because he believed it had been accepted by the Federal government as a standard authority. He advocated an amendment to the bill which would compel all persons trafficking in proprietary medicine to submit the formula thereof to some recognized State board or other competent board of health. Mr. Barringer than asked for an amendment to the effect that proprietary medicines and goods on hand should be exempted from its provisions.

Dr. Mitchell explained that if the bill did not take effect until October, 1908, the druggists would have suf-

AGED BANKER DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

FATHER OF H.P. TALMADGE SUCCUMBS AT THE AGE OF EIGHTY-TWO.

After an illness of three weeks Henry Talmadge, who, until a few years ago was senior member of the banking firm of Henry Talmadge & Co., with offices at No. 50 Pine street, New York, died yesterday at his home, No. 538 Madison avenue, New York. He leaves one son, Henry P. Talmadge, of this city.

Mr. Talmadge was born in Westfield, Mass., eighty-two years ago. He was a trustee of the Central Trust Company, vice president and director of the Cossitt Land Company, and a director of the Mechanics' National Bank, both of New York. Mr. Talmadge was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Society of Mayflower Descendants, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and for more than thirty years had been a member of the consistory of the Collegiate Reform church of the City of New York. His son, Henry P. Talmadge, who is president and director of the Augusta Lumber Company, president and director of the Haviland Lumber Company and president and director of the Southern Pine Company, of Georgia.

At one time Mr. Talmadge was the partner of the late Joseph Myers in the Jackson Insurance Company, of Memphis, Tennessee.

PREACHER EXPELLED FROM HOUSE FLOOR

ANTI-SALOON AGITATION ROASTED—ASSEMBLYMEN EXONERATED.

Practically all of yesterday afternoon was spent by the House of Assembly at Trenton sitting as a committee of the whole to investigate charges made by the Rev. J. Frank Burke, secretary of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League, to the effect that Assemblyman Perkins, of Union, Republican, and Assemblymen Kienert, of Passaic, and Aleander, of Hudson, Democrats, had conspired as members of the Judiciary Committee to kill the League's Option bill, recently introduced by Assemblyman Buck, of Cumberland county. The final decision of the House was that the charges were not proven; that the accused members were fully exonerated and that the privileges of the floor should be forever denied to the Rev. Mr. Burke.

The three Assemblymen were received with cheers when they returned to their seats after the verdict of the House had been announced, while the condemned clergyman left a seat he was occupying in the gallery and quitted the Capitol.

Seldom if ever before has such a rebuke been administered to any man and never to a minister of the Gospel. A remarkable feature of the case was that Mr. Burke was entirely alone at the hearing, save for the men he brought to Trenton as witnesses, no clergymen or fellow temperance workers appearing with him, although the time and place of the hearing had been widely advertised.

Previous to the formation of a report on the testimony as presented, Assemblyman Tumulty, of Hudson county, made a strong speech in condemnation of the preacher, calling him "a scandal monger, who had sought to blacken the reputation of honest legislators." Mr. Sullivan, also of Hudson, spoke in the same vein, declaring that Mr. Burke was seeking to intimidate legislators for campaign purposes. Dr. Crowhter, Republican Assemblyman, of Middlesex, declared that last winter, while the local option bill was pending, he was seriously ill at home, yet Mr. Burke's paper, the Issue, published a story to the effect that he was pretending to be sick so as to dodge the question of voting on a temperance measure. He then moved that Mr. Burke be expelled from the floor.

Runaway Strikes Another Rig.

A horse attached to a runabout, belonging to John H. Keely, the city street sprinkling contractor, ran away on Park avenue near the railroad bridge shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. Near Fourth street the rig collided with James Hansen's paint wagon and when the mixup had been straightened out, the latter vehicle was pretty well banged up. The runaway was stopped by Hansen, who jumped from his own wagon in time to catch it from keeping on after the crash.

N. J. MASONS IN SESSION

PLAINFIELDERS THERE

27,000 Members of the Order in New Jersey—There Are One Hundred and Eighty Lodges Altogether.

The New Jersey Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons convened in Masonic Temple, Trenton, this morning, for their 120th annual communication. It is conjectured that Austin H. McGregor, of Newark, the present deputy grand master, will be elected grand master to succeed Walter Chandler, of Elizabeth.

The delegates from Anchor Lodge, No. 149, are J. T. Sutphen, William Taylor and James Dodd, and the past masters; the delegates from Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, are Robert Reif, Samuel W. Fish, William G. Hutchcroft and the past masters.

There are about 500 members present at the session, there being three delegates from each of the 181 lodges, and 100 past masters entitled to attend the session. The business transacted today included the reading of Grand Master Chandler's report, the reports of the standing committees, the reports of Grand Secretary Thomas H. R. Redway, of Trenton; Treasurer Bechtel, Deputy Grand Secretary W. F. Rutan, of Newark, and the reports of the Masonic home committee.

The report of Grand Secretary Thomas H. R. Redway shows that there are more than 27,000 members of the Masonic order in the State and that number is just double what it was seventeen years ago when Mr. Redway was first made secretary of the grand lodge, after he had served seventeen years as deputy grand secretary. The number of lodges in the State now number 180. It is expected that several new lodges will be added at this session of the grand lodge. The session that starts tomorrow is the one hundred and twentieth annual meeting of the grand lodge. Trenton Lodge, No. 5, of Trenton, is the oldest lodge represented at the grand lodge, having received its charter 120 years ago.

Street Commissioner William F. Burk is acting grand treasurer and is also district deputy grand master of this Masonic district.

The annual meeting of the royal and select masters took place yesterday afternoon in the chapter room in the hall, and the business for the past fiscal year was wound up. These officers were elected: Grand Master, J. Edward Blackmore, of Newark; deputy grand master, John Neilson, of Camden; principal conductor of work, John W. Johnson, of Camden; grand recorder, John B. Bertholfs, of Jersey City, and grand treasurer, Gilbert B. Slack.

The Washington association, a social organization made up of 20 members from the various lodges throughout the State, held their thirty-second annual banquet in the Colonial dining room of the Trenton House.

Prior to the serving of the colation the annual election of officers for the ensuing year was held, and the following were elected: Venerable President H. C. Cannon, M. D., was re-elected for the twenty-third time. Hamilton Walks, of Jersey City, was re-elected venerable vice-president, as was also William D. Rutan, of Elizabeth, as venerable secretary.

COURT REFUSES ALIMONY PENDING AMENDED PETITION

Counsel for Mrs. Wesley J. Dunn Obtains Permission to Make New Allegations.

In the divorce case of Mrs. Olive B. Dunn vs. Wesley J. Dunn, which came up before Vice Chancellor Emery at Newark yesterday on an application for alimony, the medical testimony which was taken before Special Master John H. VanWinkle in this city last week brought out new facts not alleged in the petition. Counsel W. S. Angleman, therefore, on behalf of Mrs. Dunn, applied for leave to file an amended petition covering the medical features of the case and to lay over the application for alimony until the amended pleadings were filed.

The court granted Mr. Angleman's application. Codington & Swackhamer are the solicitors for Mr. Dunn and William G. DeMeza for Mrs. Dunn.

Mayor Smalley in Livery Business.

George Cathers has given up the livery business on Somerset street, the borough, and moved to Newark. Mayor N. B. Campbell and William Campbell have formed a partnership and will engage in the livery business at the same stand.

Miss Amy Alpaugh, of Perry, N. Y., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Corra Ryno, of Codington avenue.

ICE CONCERN ORGANIZES

Rival Company Which Will Lower Prices Chooses H.C. Wicker President.

SMALLEY, VICE-PREST.

Men of Financial Standing Directors—J. F. McDonald Selected As Treasurer.

Henry C. Wicker, treasurer and secretary of the Nassau Bond Company, New York, has been elected president, and Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, vice president of the Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company, which was incorporated at Trenton several weeks ago, the story concerning which was exclusively published in The Daily Press sometime ago. J. Fred MacDonald, director of the City National Bank, is treasurer and John J. Lordan, a New York lawyer, secretary. The directors are Newton B. Smalley, J. F. MacDonald, C. M. Wicker, H. C. Wicker, secretary and treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company and E. G. F. du Mazuel, president of the Consolidated Engineering Company, of America.

The company has been organized for the purpose of engaging in the ice and cold storage business. It is proposed to erect a dam and accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, where ice will be harvested and also to erect houses where ice will be stored. The lake thus formed will be about one mile in length and a quarter of mile at its widest point and is expected to yield a large quantity of ice.

It is the purpose of the company to reduce the cost of ice so that the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield can purchase it at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the surplus to the outside market at a price which will net a substantial profit. The company will sell the shares of the capital stock to residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield and thus make it possible for them to get ice at a reasonable price. No bonds will be issued against the property and all shareholders will be amply secured and will have first claim on the property and the plant, which will be free of all incumberance.

PAST CHIEF RANGERS RECEIVES GOLD EMBLEMS.

Court Watchung Provide Pleasing Entertainment and Smoker for the Members.

One candidate was initiated and four applications received at the meeting of Court Watchung, No. 3871, Independent Order Foresters, last night. Officers from Court Plainfield were present and addressed the meeting. At the close of the business session an entertainment and smoker were provided for the members. In the absence of the High Court officers from Elizabeth, Lewis T. Titsworth made a few appropriate remarks in presenting to the past chief rangers gold emblems as tokens of the court's appreciation of their services.

Those who received emblems were W. L. Remsen, 1898-1899; John R. Naylor, 1900; Thomas H. Stafford, 1901; George M. Townley, 1902-1903; John Knight, Jr., 1904; Chas. S. Hayes, 1905-1906. Mr. Remsen and Mr. Stafford were not present, but the other recipients voiced their appreciation of the court's action. The members were then entertained by the Four H quartette and a liberal supply of the fragrant weed. The programme was concluded with the usual games of bowling of quoits.

A Pleasant Surprise.

A boy having been recently born to them, John Brunn, 415 West Second street, were given a surprise party a few days ago. Mr. Brunn has been employed for eleven years as steam hammer operator at the Pond Machine Tool Works, and his associates took advantage of the opportunity to show their esteem for him. They called upon him in a body and presented him with a complete outfit for the baby. Mr. Cran, the foreman of the blacksmith shop, made the presentation and expressed the good wishes of the men in a few well-chosen remarks. Mr. Brunn made an appropriate reply and thanked the men in behalf of Mrs. Brunn and the baby.

Fourteen Men Laid Off.

Fourteen helpers in the foundry at Ponds quit work yesterday. The men allege that they were compelled to work overtime without compensation. An official of the company said today that they did not walk out but were discharged. He said that their work had been unsatisfactory.

—Levy Brothers will have their spring opening on Saturday, March 23, and on that day will give free to each purchaser of $1 or more a beautiful growing potted plant.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING

C. L. Nichols, J. R. Joy and Dr. J. H. Cooley Chosen Trustees in the Borough.

THE ANNUAL REPORTS

Condition of Finances Made Known By the Annual Report of the President of the Board of Education.

North Plainfield's annual school meeting for the election of members of the Board of Education and vote for appropriation was held in the Somerset street building last night. The attendance was unusually small, probably because of the weather and the fact that no especial interest was attached to the proceedings.

The meeting was called to order by President James R. Joy and Mayor Newton B. Smalley was made chairman, with J. Herbert Case secretary. The latter read the call for the meeting and the following nominations for trustees were made: James R. Joy, Charles L. Nichols and Dr. J. H. Cooley. Mr. Joy and Dr. Cooley were nominated to succeed themselves while Mr. Nichols was named in place of John S. Johnston, who was elected to complete H. E. Needham's unexpired term and who did not care to serve again. The total appropriation asked for was $24,900, divided as follows: Repairs to buildings, $1,500; manual training, $1,900; current expenses, $21,500. This is an increase of about $3,000 over last year.

The polls were declared open at 8:15 and remained so for one hour. The appropriation was declared unanimous and the vote for trustees was as follows: Messrs. Joy and Nichols, 32; Dr. Cooley, 31. J. W. A. Bauersachs and Arthur Humble acted as tellers for the vote on trustees and T. E. Currin and J. A. Powlison acted in the same capacity for the appropriation.

According to the usual custom, the full school report of the year was read. It included statements from President Joy, Superintendent Krebs and District Clerk Albert Steiner. After it had been heard and accepted President Joy took occasion to speak upon it, principally in regard to the increase in money needed for the coming year. He informed the voters that the $1,500 for repairs was really for the installation of improvements in the Somerset street building that had been omitted originally because of the expense. It has since been found that they are absolutely necessary. The remainder, he said, was asked for in anticipation of the increase in teachers' salaries that has been under consideration. Plainfield, he concluded, had granted substantial increases and North Plainfield must do the same if it expects to maintain an efficient corps.

S. St. John McCutchen took occasion to remark that in the event of the State railroad tax law being upheld, the district would receive $7,000 in school monies. The borough, however, has not counted upon this fixing its budget and if it should be paid over, it will lower the amount needed next year.

According to President Joy's report the land and buildings in the borough occupied for school purposes is valued at $128,860, while the furniture, books, apparatus and supplies are worth $18,360, making a total of $147,225.

The bonded debt of the district on January 1, 1907, was $67,000, as follows:

Loan of 1893, $4,500, interest 5 per cent. matures 1908; loan of 1898, $20,000, interest 4 per cent. matures 1914; loan of 1900, $2,500, interest 5 per cent. matures 1912; loan of 1905, $36,000, interest 4 per cent. matures 1920; loan of 1905, $4,000, interest 4 per cent. matures 1921; total loan, $67,000.

The b oard was authorized to borrow $3,325 by special district meeting, June 28, 1906, on notes to run not exceeding four years. This amount added to the bonds makes the total indebtedness $70,325.

With reference to the projected advance in teachers' salaries Mr. Joy had the following to say:

"The general advance in the cost of living in recent years, as represented to the teacher by the weekly board bill, has been such as to render an improvement in our salary schedules not only just but imperatively necessary, if we are to retain the services of experienced and successful teachers. Neighboring districts are placing their schedules much above ours, but this borough cannot yet meet its wealthy neighbors on a footing of financial equality. We have fixed upon a schedule which is fair and yet prudent in view of our resources. Had the action of the new tax law not been questioned by the railroads about $7,000 additional would have been apportioned to this district for next year by the

ONLY 1 SEWER BOND BID RECEIVED BY THE CITY

SO COMMON COUNCIL MEN DO NOT PUT IN APPEARANCE AT SESSION.

The adjourned meeting of the Common Council set for last night was not held, it being previously understood by the members that matters would not be in shape for action. City Clerk James T. MacMurray and Stenographer George B. Wean were the only ones present. The clerk called the meeting promptly at 8 o'clock and in the absence of a quorum declared that no session would be held.

It was understood that the meeting was to have been held for the purpose of disposing of $68,000 worth of sewer bonds, but the finance committee had received but one bid and it was decided to secure other bids before doing anything.

Another matter that was to have been considered was the tax budget, which is usually presented at the regular April meeting. The finance committee has been at work on this and will no doubt have it ready by the April meeting. As far as can be learned the general amount to be raised will not be much in excess of last year's appropriation. There are several amounts to be determined upon yet before the complete budget can be presented before the Common Council for adoption.

PARK AVE. SOCIETIES IN ANNUAL SESSION

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS IN BAPTIST CHURCH SELECT OFFICERS.

Encouraging reports and election of officers comprised the chief business at the joint meeting of the Women's Home Missionary and Foreign Missionary and Ladies' Aid Societies of the Park Avenue Baptist church, held yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. Although the attendance was small owing to the weather, there was great interest in the progress made during the year.

The Foreign Missionary Society meeting was held first, when these officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. E. Finn; vice president, Mrs. C. W. Tennant; secretary, Mrs. S. A. Krom; treasurer, Mrs. John H. Doane. The report of the treasurer showed that $103.10 was raised during the year for foreign missions.

The home society then convened and elected these officers: President, Mrs. Charles F. Dayton; vice president, Mrs. J. S. Pray; secretary, Mrs. Nelson Runyon; treasurer, Mrs. A. D. Thompson; assistant treasurer, Miss Adele Runyon. The treasurer of this society reported that $146 was raised for the home mission work.

The Ladies' Aid Society elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Frank T. Ostrom; first vice president, Mrs. H. H. Moore; second vice president, Mrs. Lottie A. Udell; secretary, Mrs. Walter H. Freeman; treasurer, Mrs. J. Wesley Johnson.

This society, devoting its efforts entirely to the church, accomplished much during the year. It raised $292.75, from which amount a new carpet was purchased for the church and the edifice was cleaned. All three societies reported an increase in membership. After the meetings a social hour was enjoyed by the women of the church.

"The Oakes" on Exhibition.

Miss Caroline Minturn Hall, the artist, has placed on exhibition at the Academy of Fine Arts, New York, which opened Friday, her painting, "The Oakes," which caused such favorable comment when exhibited in the Salon of the Societe Nationale des Beaux Arts, Paris. At that time the Paris newspapers devoted considerable space to comment on the painting. The pcture represents a familiar scene at the home of Miss Hall's grandmother, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe in Newport.

Will Speak of Noted Woman.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall will give an informal talk concerning her mother, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe and her work in the interest of women's suffrage, at a meeting of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield to be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William M. Sandford, Jr., on Second place.

The Misses Manning to Build.

Th Misses Sarah and Harriet Manning, who purchased the property on West Front street, opposite Emwood place, have decided to build a handsome dwelling there at a cost of $11,000. The general contract has been awarded to James C. Manning and ground will be broken within a short time for the erection of the house.

ACKERMAN'S TIMELY ACT

Prevents Passage of Measure Which Would Seriously Effect Plainfield.

CHANGE GOVERNMENT

Hutchinson Bill Would Place Control of City In Hands of Six Men—A Strange Measure.

Through the timely action of State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, of this city, Plainfield is saved from running the risk of having its entire form of government upset, which it would be, with the voters consent, had a bill passed on second reading in the State Senate yesterday been allowed to be shoved along unobstructed. The measure in question, introduced by Senator Hutchinson, is intended for the relief of conditions said to exist in Bridgeton, but as it applies to all cities under 20,000 inhabitants it would equally affect Plainfield. Senator Ackerman, however, consulted with President Minch and Senator Hutchinson today and obtained their consent to have the bill amended.

The Hutchinson bill covers sixty pages and a careful reading of it shows that should any city adopt its provisions the place would be controlled absolutely by six men in whom the entire government is vested. It provides for the election of five taxpayers of three years residence each to act as the Council, the terms of office being graduated. It also provides for the election of a mayor. The Council by a four-fifths vote resolves itself into commissions, there being one such berth for each man, namely, a commissioner of finance, a commissioner of streets and highways, a commissioner of parks and public buildings, a commissioner of public works and a commissioner of safety. They take office on January 1 and have power to fill all vacancies in their body. In case they fail to agree on the commissionerships, the mayor has the power of appointment. The mayor, himself, is the pooh-bah of the city under the bill's provisions. The council has the right to pass any measure by a four-fifths vote over the mayor's veto and it can borrow any sum or negotiate any loan it desires without ordinance or consent of the people. The salaries of the councilmen are $500 each and no official is allowed to engage in other business nor receive any passes or gratuities. The council has also power to erect and maintain a hospital, city hall and lots of other things without the consent of the people. A local option clause is also contained in the bill.

MISS GRACE A. MUNSON WEDS FRANKLIN D. MOONEY.

Ceremony Pefromed by Rev. C. L. Goodrich at Home of Bride's Sister.

Miss Grace Ann Munson, of Philadelphia, and Franklin Drake Mooney, of Elizabeth, were married at 8 o'clock, last night, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas F. Hylan, 941 West Sith street. Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss A. Norma Munson, of Philadelphia, as bridesmaid, and the best man was H. T. Huntting, of Elizabeth. A reception followed the ceremony and the couple left later in the evening on a wedding journey. Upon their return they will live in Elizabeth, where the groom is engaged in business.

MUSICALE AT ORANGE.

Young Women of Bible Class to Give Attractive Entertainment.

An attractive entertainment programme has been prepared for a musicale to be given tomorrow night in the Miller chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Orange, N. J., under the auspices of the young women of the Rev. Frank MacDaniel's Bible class.

Among those who will play or sing are Miss Alvina Wesslan, Miss Blanche L. Mattice, Miss Henrietta Allison Mather, Mrs. Dalos Holden, Miss Bessie C. Volckmann, Charles Vanderhoof, Charles Weberaiski and Andrew J. Egner. Prof. Warner W. Miller is down for readings.

D. A. R. to Entertain.

The officers of the Continental Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of this city, are planning to hold an entertainment here this spring, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the fund for the erection of a suitable monument at Washington Rock. As soon as some of the officers, who are now away, return, definite plans will be made for the affair.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The annual school meeting was held last night in the assembly room of the building. Owing to the weather the attendance was much smaller than usual. The report of District Clerk Thomas J. Nichol showed the school was in a flourishing condition, the enrollment of scholars the largest in the history of the school, the regrading of the school work, which was done with the beginning of the term, has worked to advantage and the graduates of the grammar school grade are now enabled to enter the Plainfield High School. To Principal Daniel T. Hendrickson and his corps of assistants much of the success of the work is due. Perfect harmony between pupil and teacher has been the motto; the result has been good work and the usual high standard of the school maintained. The Board recommended that the appropriation for the school for the year be $5,000. This was passed. The vote for members of the Board of Education resulted in the election of Edward V. Goodman, A. D. Beekon and William B. Noble.

Ernest Thompson Seton's lecture last night at the First Presbyterian church, Westfield, upon "Wild Animals," was attended by several from here.

There will be an election of deacons at the close of the morning service at the Baptist church Sunday

Edward L. Hand has taken a position with the Plainfield Stone and Cement Block Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Alberts have been entertaining relatives from out of town.

WHITEHOUSE.

A special school meeting will be held in the public school building at Larger Crossroads Wednesday, March 27, at 2:30 p. m., for the purpose of voting on the proposition to raise an additional $4,000 for completing the brick school building in Peapack. Recently the bids were opened and it was found that the lowest was that amount in excess of the original appropriation.

Frederick Bush and Miss Edna Manning, of Whitehouse Station, went to the parsonage of the Methodist church in Whitehouse Saturday night and were married by Rev. S. D. Decker, the pastor. The couple will make their home at Whitehouse Station.

A "box" sociable, the last of a series of entertainments for the benefit of the Methodist Episcopal church at Centreville, will be held Friday evening at the home of Frank Bahr.

Two rural free delivery routes have been ordered established May 16 at the Neshanic Station postoffice. They will accommodate 216 families, with a population of 972.

Rev. Henry T. Jones, pastor of the Reformed church in Whitehouse Station, went to Somerville Monday to attend the monthly meeting of the Raritan Ministerial Association.

Rev. Oscar L. Joseph, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Gladstone, will conduct special services in the schoolhouse at Union Grove tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, of the Central Hotel, Whitehouse Station, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bonham, in Bound Brook.

Miss Eudora Wortman has returned to her home at Pottersville, after a visit of several weeks in Raritan.

Miss Althea Davis, of Pottersville, has been spending a week with relatives at Farmersville.

Mrs. Lydia Hoyt, of Lebanon, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Terriberry, at High Bridge.

Lewis F. Gray and family are about to move from Bound Brook to Lebanon.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

INTERNAL PARASITES.

Cooper's New Discovery has taught me many things. Not least of which is that parasites or tape worms as they are called are responsible for an immense amount of suffering. Thousands of these creatures have been brought to me by people who have taken the New Discovery and I now know that an immense amount of supposed stomach trouble is caused in reality by one of these parasites. A man or woman may be afflicted in this manner for years and not realize the true cause of their suffering. When I first sold Cooper's New Discovery I did not know that the medicine would remove this trouble. I have since found that it invariably does so. The following letter is a fair sample of the symptoms as experienced by an individual thus affected:

NICK EMMERICK.

"I was always tired. My stomach bloated and the slightest exertion made me sick, weak and dizzy. My appetite was variable and a good nights sleep was unknown to me. When I awoke in the mornings I had a bad taste in my mouth and a coated tongue. I heard of the wonderful benefits that were being derived from Cooper's New Discovery, and decided to try it."

"The horrible tape worm, sixty feet long that had been sapping my life away, passed from my system alive and squirming after I had taken three doses. Now I have a splendid appetite, every trace of stomach trouble has disappeared and my digestion is good. I sleep well and am gaining in strength every day." Nick Emmerick, 1344 Louis Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

CONSTITUTION AND RAILROAD MEASURES.

Democrats Make First Move for a Constitutional Convention.

Assemblyman Sullivan, of Hudson county, made for the Democrats last night the first move for the holding of a convention for the remodelling of the State constitution, the idea being to accomplish this instead of adopting the numerous amendments now pending. He introduced a concurrent resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of three Senators and three Assemblymen to draught a bill for presentation to this Legislature for the holding of a constitutional convention.

Among the House bills introduced was one by Senator Buxton, of Morris, for the regulation of power boats above tide water and one by Assemblyman Groel, of Essex, for the establishment of a school at the State prison.

Assemblyman Wright's bill providing for the creation of a State Railroad Commission came up on second reading last night and was torn to pieces by amendments offered by the Committee on Railroads and Canals. There was a lively fight on the amendemtn providing for the election of the Railroad Commissioners by a vote of the people instead of their appointment by the Governor.

The Republican leader, Mr. Barber, resisted this move, declaring that it was doubtful if the people would take sufficient interest in such a commission to elect good men. The Democratic majority prevailed, however, and the amendment was adopted. The measure will now be reprinted for a third reading. Its form has been greatly modified by the action of the committee. Part of the expense has been eliminated, and other radical changes have been made.

SINCLAIR COLONY TO TRY TENT LIFE.

Members Vote to Continue the Co-operative Home Started in Helicon Hall.

Upton Sinclair's co-operative colony is not to be disbanded because of the destruction of its home, Helicon Hall, by fire. This was decided yesterday afternoon at a meeting of about forty of the colonists held in the stable on the grounds of the co-operative colony near Englewood. Mr. Sinclair was not present, being confined to his bed in the home of Gaylord Wilshire, at 301 West 106th street, Manhattan. Immediately after the meeting, however, one of the colonists went to him with a full report of the proceedings.

Mrs. Emma Hahn, the Financial Superinendent of the colony, reported that the treasury had sufficient funds to pay all debts. When Mr. Sinclair was asked if there was enough money to build a new home, he answered that that would depend entirely on the size and style of the home, which had not yet been determined.

A prominent colonist said last night that her associates expected that the new colony would be larger and in every way more elaborate than the present one, and that so many assurances of sympathy and offers of support had come since the fire that it seemed certain that funds would not be lacking for any sort of enterprise they might wish to establish.

At least one group of colonists made homeless by the fire will live in tents this summer, probably on the Helicon Hall grounds. The suggestion was made by one, and several others took it up enthusiastically. Possibly a large number of the colonists will camp out until winter, by which time a new home may be ready for them.

VETERAN EDITOR 88 YEARS OLD

Josephus Shann, Still Vigorous, Celebrates Birthday in Rahway.

Josephus Shann, the veteran editor, yesterday celebrated his 88th birthday, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Apollas Potter, 59 Fulton street, Rahway, by quietly receiving his friends. Mr. Shann, in 1840, established the Democrat Republican, now the Union Democrat, in Rahway, and continued to publish and edit it until 1865, when he disposed of the plant to Lewis S. Hyer.

Mr. Shann served as postmaster of Rahway under President Martin Van Buren, and for two terms was a member of the New Jersey Legislature. Mr. Shann does not appear to be more than 60, and bids fair to reach beyond the century mark. He is one of the directors of the Rahway Savings Institution.

BAYONNE THEATRE UNDERWAY

Ground Broken for New $175,000 Opera House.

Bayonne, March 20.—Ground was broken yesterday afternoon at Avenue C and Twenty-sixth street for the erection of the Bayonne Opera House, which will seat 1,700 persons, and will cost about $175,000. Despite the storm there was a large attendance, including many city officials.

The first shovelful of earth was turned by Manager E. A. Schiller, of the Bayonne theatre, who will also manage the new house. Mayor Pierre Garven, Recorder Hyman Lazarus and other prominent men also turned some of the dirt. It is expected the new theatre will be ready for occupancy by October 1 next.

Opening Days

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Everybody Is Invited.

The Lids Are Off. The Hats Are Out.

Out from their boxes into full view came today a thousand or more Hats that have been, as it were, standing in the wings awaiting their cue to advance to the centre of the stage into the full glare of the calcium. As they made their bows today, the new hats—some dressed boldly, some modestly, some fearful lest their oddity and newness meet with jest, some with full confidence in their beauty—all sought the plaudits of those to whom we cater.

It is a truly grand display of Hats that we are making in these Opening Days.

Whether the hats we show are more beautiful than those you see in other good shops is a matter of judgment, and we are satisfied to let our public judge our hats. There is no beauty except that which pleases your taste. Every woman has her own ideas of beauty and by her taste we must abide. We have made a big effort to please our patrons and we hope for your good opinion.

Women who have complained that in the past few seasons the hat fashions have been most trying will have little cause for such complaint this year, for the shades, while being distinctly new, are such as will prove immensely becoming to the vast majority, and trimming possibilities have been opened up to the clever milliner that our artists have grasped and used with splendid results. The diversity of treatment evidenced in the trimming is most marked and reveals the resourcefulness of our corps of designers and trimmers.

We feel that our hats are very beautiful and extremely charming. We believe and hope that you will like them. At all events we are very glad to have you come in to see the show and to see the display that others are making that you may make intelligent comparisons and decide for yourself which store has best interpreted the season's fashions.

Some of the hats that strike the writer as particularly effective are briefly told of below:

One of the popular Mushroom shapes is of Bronze Green Braid with an exquisite band of black straw braid in imitation of bead and iriedscent beads surrounding the entire crown, trimmed with bronze maline and blue and pink shaded ostrich plumes—an extremely beautiful creation of which we are very proud. Price..... $45

A gorgeous beauty in black is this Empire Hat made of Neapolitan braid with one immense feather, caught with a jet buckle and velvet ribbon, running round the crown and falling down the back—a plume probably 40 inches long; truly one of the richest hats we have seen in many a day, and, elaborate though it is, a hat that can be worn by many women with stunning effect. Price.. $55

A dream in white and pink is a Hat of White Maline with white marabout and ostrich boa plume which flows gracefully over the back of the hat, delicate pink roses surround the crown and are grouped under the brim. The price of this hat is $35

A Toque of Black Braid ornamented with Maise and Black Jet with a rich maise plume caught with jet ornament and black velvet ribbon trimming; a very striking design, for.. $17.50

A Mushroom Hat of Braid, trimmed with pink and green thistles around the crown, with a large cassawary aigrette falling over the side, trimmed with brown ribbon tied in an Alsatian bow. This hat sells for..... $15

A pretty Empire Effect is covered with white Valenciennes lace with a crown of Neapolitan Silk Braid; a rich white willow plume beautifully tipped with black is the conspicuous feature, the plume being caught with ball shaped rhinestone ornament; black velvet ribbon trimming adds to its beauty. The price is..... $40

A charming Turban is completely covered with flowers—Roses, Sweet William and Pansies, in rarely beautiful combination. From the centre of this hat project two light green wings, giving a dashing and charming effect. The hat will sell for $22.50

An English Turban is of green satin braid, with ribbon and wings which spread out from the front and are held by large ball ornaments—the ribbon running around the crown and binding the feathers close to the side in a novel way. There is a large ribbon bow on the back. Everything about the hat is green. The price is..... $15

CONSTIPATION CURSE OF MANKIND

Dr. Oidman's Liv-r-oids never fail to cure Constipation, Billiousness and all Liver Complaints. They destroy the germs and thus remove the cause.

You May Try a Full-Sized Bottle Free.

Constipation is the starting point of all kinds of dangerous and distressing diseases, such as Appendicitis, Piles, Billiousness, Sick Headaches, Dyspepsia Female Troubles and scores of others. If your bowels are strong and healthy they will act properly and disease cannot enter or remain in the system. A sound Stomach means sound lasting health.

The true way to cure constipation, Billiousness, Sick Headache and all those diseases arising from a Torpid Liver, has been discovered by Dr. Oidman, and his prescription is known as Liv-r-oids. We ourselves know that Liv r-oids will cure the worst forms of constipation and all the dangerous diseases of the Bowels and Liver, which are such a great menace to life. If you have never tried Liv-r-oids before, we will send absolutely free to every one sending name and address, a 25 cent bottle of this great remedy. Liv-r-oids make you feel right, and make you look on the bright side of life. Liv-r-oids are not a patent medicine but an eminent physicians prescription in tablet form (formula on bottle). There is no element of doubt in the curing power of Liv-r-oids. They are not a miracle, but only science working along on natural lines assisting nature. We want you to try Liv-r-oids to-day, they sell at 25c. a bottle, but if you have not tried them before, send your name and address and you will receive a full sized bottle free—no obligations—nothing to pay—merely recommend them to your friends if they do what we claim. Another reason—why gas is a home comfort.

It displaces the oil lamp in the bedroom, where it not only adds to ease of illumination, but may be used to heat the curling iron.

To the woman with straight hair this is a boon.

No chimneys to clean each morning; no lamps to fill with greasy oil; no trouble at all if you use gas.

Union Surrogate's Sister Dead.

Elizabeth, March 20.—Mrs. Katherine Saltonstall, sister of Surrogate George T. Parrot, of Union county, died Monday at her home, 217 Edgar place, here, from pneumonia, after an illness of one week. She was born in Union Township, and her ancesters were of Revolutionary stock. She was a member of St. James' Methodist Episcopal church, and also of Boudinot Chapter, Daughters American Revolution. Her husband, Henry L. Saltonstall, is a New York broker. She also leaves a son and daughter, three brothers and three sisters.

DIAMOND DUST.

The manaement of the Clinton Avenue Baseball Club believes that this season's lineup will be the strongest and it will make a great fight for the pennant in the Inter-City Amateur League.

The fans do not want to lose sight of Bound Brook in the amateur league race. That town will put a team of exceptional strength in the field and intends to land the pennant if fast playing will do it.

"Phil." Smith, who it was reported nad signed with the Elizabeth Atlantic League, told a reporter for The Daily Press that he had not signed a contract as yet, that Manager Nuebeck had sent him a contract, but that it was not satisfactory. Futhermore, he said that he did not expect to play with Elizabeth, preferring to pitch occasionally for independent teams.

No doubt arrangements will be made whereby the Y. M. C. A. and Clinton Avenue teams will use Crescent Oval jointly during the season, thus giving the fans a game every Saturday on the home grounds.

Howard Craig, who will play an infield position for the Y. M. C. A. team, this season, has decided to remain in the amateur class this year. He was tempted to join the semi-professional ranks, but wisely turned the offer down.

GOLF.

The golf committee at the Plainfield Country Club, this season, will be composed of Thomas R. VanBoskerck, chairman; E. B. Shoemaker, C. B. Morgan, W. Lester Glenney and W. L. C. Glenney, which is practically the same as last year, with one or two exceptions.

Charles W. McCutchen is expected home from a southern pleasure trip about April 1 and then the Park Golf Club will elect officers for the year. Mr. McCutchen is now president.

One of the dates selected by the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association, of which Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers is the president, for its one-day tournaments is May 28 at the Plainfield Country Club.

Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, president of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association, will devote considerable time this season to the game of golf and will enter several of the big tournaments.

It is predicted that the number of important golf tournaments this season will exceed that of any previous year in the history of the game in this country, and Plainfield players will undoubtedly be found among the contestants.

MAN STOOD ON REDHOT STOVE.

Insane Glen Gardner Resident Also Gave His Wife a Brutal Beating.

Glen Gardner, March 20.—Standing on a red-hot stove in his residence in this place, and peering into the chimney hole looking for the cars to come out, Jacob Kornberger, about forty years old, was found yesterday by neighbors whom Mrs. Kornberger had summoned to the house to protect her from her insane husband. Kornberger is employed in the steel works at High Bridge, but had been suffering from grip for several days. He became demented and gave his wife such a beating that she is confined to her bed. He also made threats that he would kill several of his neighbors.

Mrs. Kornberger managed to escape from the house and call for help. Kornberger was with difficulty overpowered and taken to the Easton (Pa.) Hospital, where, it is said, an operation will be performed on him.

ELEPHANT BOWLING TEAM.

Washburn Circus Herd Are Experts On the Alley.

New Brunswick, March 20.—A herd of four elephants, a part of Leon Washburn's circus, which has its winter quarters on the River road, near this city, are spending their time while waiting for the advent of the tents and the sawdust ring in bowling games. Mr. Washburn has built a big bowling alley for them at his place and twice a day the elephants amuse themselves by knocking down the pins.

At first they used Little Jumbo, the baby elephant, as pinboy, but he got tired of the job and made a vigorous protest for recognition and now he is a regular bowler and has the best score. The elephants expect soon to issue a challenge to any elephant bowling team in the country for a series of games.

Elizabeth Guardsmen Elect.

Elizabeth, March 20.—Company C, Second Regiment, New Jersey National Guard, of this city, has elected an entirely new staff of officers. The present heads of the company are: Captain, Richard F. Cross; first lieutenant, Robert J. Montgomery, and second lieutenant, Russell R. Moore, of Woodbridge. The new officers will take command at once.

MINISTER REBUKED.

Rev. Mr. Burke, the local option agitator, will now be good. He has been censured by the Assembly of the State and has been denied forever the privileges of the House. Assemblyman Perkins and other members whom he accused were fully exonerated after a complete investigation and resumed their seats amid cheers. The preacher evidently belongs to that class of temperance people who do that splendid cause more harm than good.

A NEW RECORD.

The city fathers are not to blame because the meeting of the Common Council was called to order promptly at 8 o'clock because none was present to delay the call being deferred for half an hour or so. There was something significant, however, in the remark of the City Clerk when he said "The hour of eight having arrived, this body will now come to order."

ficient time to dispose of the goods described, and therefore need not fear proscription by the authorities.

George H. White, of Jersey City, spoke generally in favor of the bill, but advocated the adoption of the changes suggested by Mr. Barringer as mentioned above as a protection and in justice to the druggists of the State.

Dr. Mitchell thought it would be wise to incorporate in the act a provision to the effect that whenever a sample of any drug or drug preparation that had been put upon the market should be found to be adulterated prosecution should be followed up until the crime was properly punished.

Mr. Barringer suggested an amendment providing for a pure food commission to be appointed by the Governor, and to consist of the Attorney-General, secretary of the State Board of Health, two members of the State Board of Pharmacy and two persons representing the procery, drug and confectionery trades.

VERTICAL HANDWRITING GIVES POOR RESULTS.

So Says Principal Krebs, of the Borough, In His Annual Report.

In his annual report, Supervising Principal H. C. Krebs, of the North Plainfield schools, has this to say of methods of handwriting:

"It is the unanimous opinion of our teachers that the system of vertical writing, which has been in use for about eight years, does not produce as good results as we should like to see. The tendency to backhand is manifest, and the writing is labored. In the seventh and eighth grades pupils are allowed to use either the vertical or the slant, and are given instruction and exercises in whichever they select. It is, however, a matter for serious consideration whether a modified slant should not be introduced into all the grammar gardes, and indeed into the entire school. It is believed by many that better movement, form, and clearness can be obtained in this way than through the vertical system. The Spencerian slant, thirty-two degress, was excessive. Perhaps a slant of twelve or fifteen degress would be the most acceptable."

The meeting to be held at the Congregational church tonight will be of special missionary interest as Rev. R. B. Talbott will tell of his work among the lumbermen of Michigan.

Wings and Flies

By Tom Muir.

Double importance has been lent to the announcement that the screamingly funny trio, Bickel, Watson and Wrothe, are to return to Plainfield on April 15 in their laugh production, "Tom, Dick and Harry." They were seen in this city early in September, 1905, shortly after the local playhouse was opened and made one of the most lasting impressions that has ever been left by three joint stars. Manager Counihan has repeatedly sought to get them back but without success until the present time, and now that he has secured them they will appear for the first annual benefit of Assistant Treasurer Leonce Texier and the ushers of the Leonce Texier, Assistant Treasurer at the New Plainfield Theatre.

New Plainfield staff. It promises to be a "rousing" turn-out as aside from the drawing powers of Bickel, Watson and Wrothe, Mr. Texier and the ushers have a host of friends who are determined to have the curtain go up on a crowded house. The assistant treasurer has been attached to Manager Counihan's staff since he became Plainfield's amusement purveyor and patrons know him as an extremely obliging and courteous young man. The staff of ushers has also done much to add to the popularity of the house and it was in recognition of their faithful services that their employer arranged the benefit.

Manager Savage's original production of "The College Widow," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, formerly had a well known Plainfielder in the cast and the present leading woman, Miss Dorothy Tennant, is the niece of Mrs. Eugene A. Gross. Miss Tennant was the first actress to essay the role and she scored a personal hit in the piece when it had its long run at the Garden theatre in New York. Her home is in California, but she is known professionally in all the territory between the two Portlands. The former Plainfielder in the company is Wyatt Barnes, who had the part of "Billy Bolton," leader of the football squad. Mr. Barnes retired from the cast last season and two weeks ago commenced a tour in vaudeville, being assisted by three other young men in a specially written musical sketch.

Oliver Doud Byron, who played the "lion" in "The Lion and the Mouse" when it was presented here last fall, will be seen in the same part when the company returns to Plainfield next Friday night. Miss Flora Juliet Bowley, who appeared as the "mouse," is now playing the part in the company appearing at the Hudson theatre, New York.

It is no unusual thing for a leading man, playing in stock, to play a different part each week, but they are old parts in revived plays. The chances are that the actor has played half of them before and the rest he has seen played by other actors. It is a different matter to create new parts in new plays and one or two a season is considered enough. James Burkin, who was the leading man of the New theatre in Chicago, has had a record in the last few months. In four months he played many parts and actually created six, no easy task for a leading man. From October to January, the parts created were Richard Burbank in "Clothes," Ernesto in "The Great Galeoto," Roy Glenister in "The Spoilers," Count Starchenski in "Elga," the Counsellor von Wittinghof in "The Masquerade," and Allan Tyce in "The Whole World."

Express Rig in a Runaway.

The express rig belonging to Edward Martin, porter at the North Avenue station, figured in a runaway accident on Somerset street, yesterday afternoon. The horse was left standing untied and got frightened at something. It struck down the street at full speed and at Jackon avenue collided with a pole holding a letter box. Uncle Sam's receptacle was smashed to smithereens and the horse was stopped long enough for William Conway to catch it. The rig was badly damaged.

MRS. REUBEN KNOX HEAD OF HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Chosen President at Annual Meeting of First Baptist Women's Association.

The annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the First Baptist church was held in the lecture room of the church, yesterday afternoon. These officers were chosen for the year: Honorary president, Mrs. David J. Yerkes; president, Mrs. Reuben Knox; first vice president, Mrs. Susan Wilson; second vice president, Mrs. Hannah Y. Flanders; third vice president, Mrs. Morris A. Zook; secretary, Mrs. George H. Robins; treasurer, Mrs. Frank W. Jones; treasurer of contingent fund, Mrs. Frank Biglow; collectors, Mrs. Manning Runyon, Mrs. Aretta H. Manning, Mrs. John D. Runyon, Mrs. T. S. Armstrong, Mrs. George White, Mrs. William R. Codington and Mrs. John I. Brokaw.

After the business a most interesting paper was presented by Mrs. Morris A. Zook on "The History and Belief of the Mormons." The subject was treated in an entertaining manner giving the society comprehensive insight into the life of Mormons.

Resolutions were adopted upon the death of Mrs. Jennie Brady, who was a member of the society for many years. The reports were withheld until Friday, March 29, when the anniversary meeting of all three missionary societies will be held at the church. At that time all of the reports will be presented and the other societies will elect.

THINK THEY BELONG TO BAND OF COUNTERFEITERS.

Paterson Police Regard as Important Arrest of Two Men with Much Spurious Coin.

In the arrest yesterday of Tony and Roy De Franco the police of Paterson, N. J., believe they have the leaders of a band of counterfeiters that has been operating extensively in that part of the country for two months.

Their capture was brought about by former Assemblyman Raymond Bogart. The brothers entered Bogart's bakery store on North Main street, and after making small purchases each gave the girl cashier a spurious half dollars. The cashier later summoned Mr. Bogart and he found the two men in a saloon. He called Detective Sautter.

Several newsboys were summoned to Police Headquarters and all identified the prisoners as the men who gave them spurious quarters and half dollars Saturday night. The newsboys figured that their loss through the counterfeiters was $6.

A quantity of spurious coin was found on the prisoners, how much the police did not make public. The prisoners were committed to await the action of the government authorities.

LITTLE GIRL'S FUNERAL.

Large Gathering of Schoolmates at Angels' Mass Over Alice Mattox.

With a large gathering of schoolmates and other friends in attendance, the funeral of Alice M. Mattox, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Mattox, of Spruce street, was held in St. Mary's church, this morning. The members of the Angels' Society, a children's organization connected with the church, were present in a body, all garbed in white. An angels' mass was said by Rev. Father Delehanty.

There was a large number of floral tributes from friends of the family and classmates and they were carried by two flower boys, Edwin Sullivan and William Clarkson. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, the pall bearers being James P. Casey, William Sullivan, Patrick Powers, Garret Keating, Joseph Devier and Francis Donnolly.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Al. W. Martin's big scenic production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight. It was presented in this city last year and made a very favorable impression. The company has been selected with especial care and the scenic mounting is unusually elaborate.

"Zaza," which comes with Miss Blanche Hall as a heroine to the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, is the masterpiece of Pierre Berton and of French dramatic literature during the past decade, if not generation; for since the "The Two Orphans" of thirty odd years ago, no French play has so gripped its audiences, none has taken so firm a hold upon the heart and senses, none has been so unforgetable, so haunting, so sad, so cruel, so merry, so jolly, so kind, so passionate, so human. All the emotions in Zaza, the woman, and in Zaza the play. Zaza, the woman, is worthy of Hugo or Balzac. She is greater than Camille, for she is nearer to our great Mother Nature. There is nothing so artificial in the character of Zaza, for she never has risen above the horizon of a French Provincial concert hall, when we are introduced to her, while Camille was the synosure all Paris in life as Dumas knew her, and in art where he made her immortal. Zaza is a carefully, a wonderfully drawn character. She breathes, lives, laughs, jokes, loves, cries, sobs, sighs, and almost dies before our eyes, and after we leave the theatre it is hard to realize that she is simply a creature of the dramatist's brain, and that we shall not meet her some day when we go to Paris and have an old Parisian point her out and say, "There goes Pierre Berton's Zaza, that sad, that sweet faced lady, who just went by in her landau.

The strange case of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre on Friday night. Eduard Waldmann, the noted German-English actor, will be seen in the dual role. Supported by an excellent company, Mr. Waldmann's production of Robert Louis Stevenson's interesting romance will be one of the dramatic treats of the season.

Fascinating in its spontaneity and simplicty, exciting from its first moment to its last, creating liveliest attention and interest "The College Widow" which comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night is a sure substantial success. Henry W. Savage is the fortunate owner and producer of George Ade's comedy masterpiece. Mr. Ade delivered his manuscript to Mr. Savage with confidence that it is doubtful whether even his most sanguine hopes had pictured the exceptional success with which the play has met. Mr. Savage whose sure good judgment has become almost proverbial, has supplied the Ade company with every auxiliary advantage. Nothing has apparently been left undone from the selection of artists to the most minor details, to provide correct atmosphere and proper embellishment. Mr. Savage's general stage manager, George Marion, has worked in beautiful harmony with the author, and the result is a series of unique situations and effects in accentuation of every verbal point of the book.

The announcement of the coming engagement in this city of Billy Kersands' Famous Minstrels on next Tuesday night carries with it a great deal of interest to the theatre-goers, and this interest is intensified by the fact that the performance is bigger and better than ever this year. Billy Kersands will have most adequate aid in a very excellent company which he has selected and the splendid scenic equipment and electrical effects furnished by his management. The sensational first part this year is a magnificent novelty, representing a mammoth watermelon, and where the company has played was the talk of theatre-goers for weeks, and is said to be the most beautiful and novel act ever carried by a minstrel company. The olio is a large and strong one, consisting of eight clever acts, and handled by the following artists: Arthur Maxwell, trick bicyclist; Campbell Bros., black aristocrats; Alonzo Moore, magician; the Comedy Four, Langford; Smith, Johnson and Camerron; the Imperial Drill, by Prof. Thomson; the famous mimic, Billy Nichols; the original and only Billy Kersands, and the world-known Alabama Quartette; L. Johnson, hoop roller, and Travelle, the human frog.

Keeping Shoes Dry.

An old fashioned method of keeping the shoes impervious to water in rainy weather was to rub the welt stitches with a piece of beef tallow. But this is objectionable, as traces of the grease can be seen in the white particles of the fat left.

Castor oil applied with a small brush is very much better. Only a little should be used, and the brush should preferably have stiff bristles. The kind that comes with a bottle of glue will answer.

Black kid gloves generally wear out at the finger tips and then assume a rusty brown tint, which is anything but pleasant, although the other part of the glove may be perfectly good. When this happens, take a little black ink, mix it with a small quantity of olive oil and apply it to the finger tips. Leave it until dry, and the gloves will be very much improved in appearance.

LOTS OF COMPANY.

This Is Not an Isolated or Individual Case in Plainfield.

What is told by this resident of Plainfield will prove invaluable to many people who go through the same daily experience. This short statement of the relief obtained from far too prevalent annoyances should convince the greatest skeptic that the merit of the article referred to is just as represented.

Mrs. J. Mottley, of 546 Sixth St., Plainfield, N. J., says: "About two months ago I was seized with a severe backache and dull pains in the top and back of my head. I could not rest nights, and had little desire to do housework and my strength seemed to be about all gone. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Randolph's drug store and can truthfully say that they gave me relief from my sufferings. My back and head do not ache and I am strong and vigorous, rest well at night, and have some ambition again. I am convinced that Doan's Kidney Pills are a first-class remedy for troubles arising from the kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WOMEN ACCEPT FOOD BILL.

State Federation Withdraws Opposition to Measure.

The State Federation of Women's Clubs have withdrawn its opposition to the Frelinghuysen pure food bill in which there was nothing regarding meats and inspection of slaughter houses. The women are now urged by the Federation to use their influence with the Senators and Assemblymen to secure the passage of the bill.

Miss Alice Lakey, of Cranford, chairman of the pure food committee of the State Federation, was at Trenton today, and will be given a chance to be heard upon the bill by the committee on public health if which Senator Colby is chairman, next Tuesday. The pure food bill is now in the hands of this committee. The women have withdrawn the opposition to the Frelinghuysen bill and expect to have another bill introduced which will cover the meat question and inspection of slaughter houses to prevent the sale of tubercular cattle.

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

"But what in the devil did you do it for?" blurted my grandfather, excitedly twirling his glasses.

Bates (I still call him Bates,—he insists on it) laughed. For the first time he thrust his hands into his pockets and stood at his ease, one of us.

"Larry, you may remember that I showed a fondness for the stage in our university days. When I got to America I had little money and found it necessary to find employment without delay. I saw Mr. Glenarm's advertisement for a valet. Just as a lark I answered it to see what an American gentleman seeking a valet looked like. I fell in love with Mr. Glenarm at sight—"

"And I with you!" declared my grandfather. "I never believed your story at all,—you were too perfect in the part!"

"Well, I didn't greatly mind the valet business; it helped to hide my identity; and I did like the humor and whims of Mr. Glenarm. The housekeeping, after we came out here, wasn't so pleasant"—he looked at his hands ruefully—"but this joke of Mr. Glenarm's making a will and then going to Egypt to see what would happen,—that was too good to miss. And when the heir arrived I found new opportunities of practising amateur theatricals; and Pickering's efforts to enlist me in his scheme for finding the money and making me rich gave me still greater opportunities. There were times when I was strongly tempted to blurt the whole thing; I got tired of being suspected, and of playing ghost in the wall; and if Mr. Glenarm hadn't got here just as he did I should have stopped the fight and proclaimed the truth. I hope,"—he said, turning to me,—"you have no hard feelings, sir." And he threw into the "sir" just a touch of irony that made us all roar.

"I'm certainly glad I'm not dead," declared my grandfather, staring at Bates. "Life is more fun than I ever thought possible. Bless my soul!" he said, "if it isn't a shame that Bates can never cook another omelette for me!"

We sent Bates back with my grandfather from the boat-house, and Stoddard, Larry and I started across the ice; the light coating of snow made walking comparatively easy. We strode on silently, Stoddard leading. Their plan was to take an accommodation train at the first station beyond Annandale, leave it at a town 40 miles away, and then hurry east to an obscure place in the mountains of Maryland where a religious order maintained a house. There Stoddard promised Larry asylum and no questions asked.

As my two friends waved farewell to me from the rear platform of their train a mood of depression seized me; I had lost much that day, and what I had gained,—my restoration to the regard of the kind old man of my own blood, who had appealed for my companionship in terms hard to deny,—seemed trifling as I tramped back over the ice. Perhaps Pickering, after all, was the real gainer by the day's events!

I tramped on back toward the Glenarm shore, and leaving the lake, half-unconsciously struck into the wood beyond the dividing wall. The melted snow of mid-day was now crisp ice that rattled and broke under my tread. I came out into an open space beyond St. Agatha's, found the walk and turned toward home in the gathering night.

As I neared the main entrance to the school the door opened and a woman came out under the overhanging lamp. She carried a lantern, and turned with a hand outstretched to some one who followed her with careful steps.

"Ah, Marian," cried my grandfather, "it's ever the task of youth to light the way for age!"

CHAPTER XXVII.

And So the Light Led Me.

He had been to see Sister Theresa, and Marian was walking with him to the gate. I saw her quite plainly in the light that fell from the lamp overhead. A long cloak covered her, and a fur toque capped her graceful head. My grandfather and his guide were apparently in high spirits and their laughter smote harshly upon me. It seemed to shut me out,—to lift a barrier against me. The world lay there within the radius of that swaying light, and I hung aloof, hearing her voice and jealous of the very companionship and sympathy between them.

But the light led me. I remembered with bitterness that I had always followed her,—whether as Olivia, trailing in her girlish grace across the snow, or as the girl in gray, whom I had followed on that night journey at Christmas eve; and I followed now. The distrust, my shattered faith, my utter loneliness, could not weigh against the joy of hearing that laugh of hers breaking mellowly on the night.

I paused to allow the two figures to widen the distance between us as they traversed the path that curved away toward the chapel. I could still hear their voices, and see the lantern flash and disappear. I felt an impulse to turn back, or plunge into the woodland; but I was carried on uncontrollably. The light glimmered and her [illegible] through the keen winter dark like a memory of spring; and so her voice and the light led me.

Then I heard an exclamation of dismay followed by laughter, in which my grandfather joined merrily.

"Oh, never mind; we're not afraid!" she exclaimed.

I had rounded the curve in the path where I should have seen the light; but the darkness was unbroken. There was silence for a moment, in which I drew quite near to them.

Then my grandfather's voice broke out cheerily.

"Now I must go back with you! A fine person you are to guide an old man! A foolish virgin, indeed, with no oil in her lamp!"

"Please do not! Of course I'm going to see you quite to your own door! I don't intend to put my hand to the lantern and then turn back!"

"This walk isn't what it should be," said my grandfather, "we'll have to make a better one in the spring."

Then they were silent and I heard him futilely striking a match, when suddenly the lantern fell, its wires rattling as it struck the ground, and the two exclaimed with renewed merriment upon their misfortune.

"If you will allow me!" I called out, fumbling in my pocket for my own matchbox.

I have sometimes thought that there is really some sort of decent courtesy to me. An old man caught in a rough path that was none too good at best! And a girl, even though my enemy! But these were not, I fancy, the reflections that crossed my mind at the moment.

"Ah, it's Jack," exclaimed my grandfather. "Marian was showing me the way to the gate and our light went out."

"Miss Devereux," I murmured. I have, I hope, an icy tone for persons who have incurred my displeasure, and I employed it then and there with, no doubt, its fullest value.

She and my grandfather were groping in the dark for the lost lantern,

"I Wanted You to Come, Squire Glenarm?"

and I, putting out my hand, touched her ungloved fingers.

"I beg your pardon," she murmured frostily.

Then I found and grasped the lantern.

Father Time Tests All Things

Hallet & Davis Pianos Are Time Tried.

It isn't worth while for you to experiment with unknown makes of pianos and unknown piano quality. Many persons have found it not only vexatious, but costly as well. There is no need or excuse for so doing—not even from a price stand-point. Hallet & Davis Pianos passed the experimental stage many years ago and they have been time tried and tested. This assurance of good quality is fully supplemented in the preference given the Hallet & Davis by many of the greatest living musicians for public and private use.

QUALITY AND PRICE.

Please remember that the "quality" of your piano will be remembered long after the price is forgotten.

The one price at which Hallet & Davis Pianos are sold is lower, quality considered, than can be secured elsewhere. The popular demand making this possible.

Great bargains now in used pianos.

Many old time makes included.

HOMESEEKERS RUSH TO NEW JERSEY.

They Seem to Prefer This State to New York — Long Island Real Estate Men Confer On Matter.

An informal meeting of several Long Island real estate men was held in New York a few days ago. Its object was not divulged at the time, but it has developed since that the purpose of the gathering was to consider means of attracting the attention of homeseekers in New York and elsewhere to Long Island.

"From present indications," said one of the men who took part in the recent conference, "and basing our estimate on the transactions that have taken place and the inquiries that have com eto us, it seems probable that fully 50 per cent. of the new business that we had expected to come to us this season will be diverted to New Jersey. There are a number of reasons for this. One is that the tunnel connections between Manhatatn and New Jersey are being pushed to completion with great rapidity, while the connections under and over the East River are advancing more slowly. People k now that in moving to New Jersey they will soon be assured of real rapid transit to the city, while they think that on Long Island the provision of such improvements will be a slower and more doubtful matter.

"Another factor is the undoubted advantage that New Jersey has over Long Island in the mater of transportation. The troubles that have affected the service of the Long Island Railroad are well known, and there seems to be little prospect that these will end until the electrification of its lines is completed. New Jersey has occasional troubles with her railroad service, too, but the city residents have become acquainted with the fact that New Jersey does not have to rely on a single line, as there are six great steam lines crossing the State, with numerous branches, and comparatively few places are compelled to rely on the services of one road."

FOREIGN ANNOUNCEMENTS.

"A famous firm of furnishers advertisers, I see," observes a correspondent, "that the hair in our bedding is teased by hand, not cut short by machinery and rendered lifeless." Can you tell me if lively bedding is becoming the right thing now? Perhaps I am too thin skinned, but I don't like the idea."

There is so little style about most advertising of "situations" that it is quite pleasing to find the "mot juste" so successfully sought as it is in the following, from a Hertfordshire paper: A Comfortable Cook Wanted in clergyman's family in North London. Personal reference necessary.—Apply, etc.

This, from a Brighton paper, is a development of advertising of which we have noted more than on example lately: To Electrical Contractors in Brighton.—Young fellow, untrustworthy, indolent, no capabilities, knows nothing about electrical work, seeks situation, preferably as assistant to manager of goods department; must have good salary and soft job. Those willing to take risk and fellow, write, etc.

"I don't think you have had an announcement of this kind yet," writes a lady in Vienna. "I saw lately the following notice in a shop (the announcement is a little confusing, and makes one feel uncertain as to whether one ought to date one's letters 1907 of 907): 'The medal of Saint —— can be obtained here. It protects the wearer from all manner of accidents, and is particularly suited against motor cars.' The medal is quite small, and only costs 6d."

The Original Fruit Canners.

We are indebted to Pompeii for the great industry of canned fruit. Years ago, when the excavations were just beginning, a party of Cincinnatians found in what had been the pantry of a house many jars of preserved figs. One was opened, and they were found to be fresh and good. Investigation showed that the figs had been put into jars in a heated state, an aperture left for the steam to escape and then sealed with wax. The h int was taken, and the next year fruit canning was introduced into the United States, the process being identical with that in vogue at Pompeii twenty centuries ago.

DUNELLEN ATHLETIC CLUB TO HAVE NEW HOME.

Young Men's Organization to Have Rooms in Bank Building.

Since the organization of the Dunellen Athletic Club its membership has doubled and at present most of the young men of the town are members, either active or prospective. They expect to go into their new quarters in the bank building about April 1, and a committee has been hustling around for the last week purchasing equipment. The boys are going to fix up a library and have same as a reading room and general reception room. In the rear they will have a pool table for the use of the members and also a portion fixed up as a "gym." It is well that those who wish to join the club and enter with them into their new rooms present their names to any of the officers before the first of the month.

The club will hold a smoker on Thursday night, March 28, and from reports of the committee getting the affair up and the pleasant time passed at the previous smoker, it will no doubt be one of the rare occasions to be looked back upon by club members and from the number of invitations to be issued and the programme to be presented club members hardly think any will leave the rooms with other than a pleasant smile.

The rooms are open nightly and you can always find an enthusiastic gathering enjoying themselves in gentlemanly ways and it is to be hoped more of the citizens of the borough visit the rooms and see for themselves the progress that has been made. Prospects are good in the athletic line, especially among the baseball talent and if the prospects of the club are to be counted for anything, the pennant will no doubt be scared and torn before it goes in any other direction.

KIELY AND RUNYON LOSE TO KOONS AND SKINNER.

Drop Two Games in Series and Fall Back from Leaders in the Tourney.

Gaddis and Dilks gained another lap in the bowling tourney lead, last night, through Kiely and Runyon dropping two games to Koons and Skinner. The municipal team is still in second place but it is now four games behind the head men. In the games last night, Chief Kiely did some good rolling but his partner fell to the amateur ranks. His best score was 155 and the others 132 and 133. The chief rolled 223, 192 and 245. Koons and Skinner bowled steadily and kept in the lead with the exception of the last game.

The race may be made close by the result of a series of games to be played tomorrow night between Gaddis and Dilks and Nash and Skelly. In the event of the former making a sweep it will place them seven games to the good but on the other if they lose they will again be crowded by Kiely and Runyon.

Kiely	223	192	245
Runyon	132	133	155
	355	325	400
vs.
Koons	215	176	168
Skinner	165	174	175
	380	350	343

Candidates for the Plainfield High School baseball team are now engaging in daily indoor practice. As soon as the weather permits the outdoor practice will begin and the regular team selected.

P. H. S. SCHEDULE.

Manager Reid Announces His Season's Games.

Fred Reid, manager of the Plainfield High School baseball team, has about completed the season's schedule of games. It is as follows: Saturday, March 30, Camp Bowser; Monday, April 1, Camp Bowser; Saturday, April 6, North Plainfield High School; Wednesday, April 10, open; Saturday, April 13, Westfield H. S., at Plainfield; Wednesday, April 17, open; Saturday, April 20, Adelphi Academy, Brooklyn, at Plainfield; Wednesday, April 24, open; Saturday, April 27, Rutgers Prep., at Plainfield; Wednesday, May 1, North Plainfield High School; Saturday, May 4, Morris Academy, at Morristown; Wednesday, May 8, open; Saturday, May 11, Rutgers Prep., at New Brunswick; Wednesday, May 15, Leal's; Saturday, May 18, Montclair High School, at Plainfield; Wednesday, May 22, open; Saturday, May 25, Newark High School, at Plainfield; Wednesday, May 29, North Plainfield High School; Saturday, June 1, New Brunswick High School, at Plainfield; Wednesday, June 5, Leal's; Saturday, June 8, open.

ROD AND GUN.

Several shooting matches have been arranged to take place at Brantingham's clubhouse on Park avenue tomorrow afternoon. S. F. Sabbacher, of this city, and F. C. Bissett, of South River, will shoot 100 birds at $50 a side; Sabbacher will shoot Joseph Booream, of New Brunswick, 100 birds at $25 a side, and Brantingham will shoot Booream 50 birds at $25 a side. There will be sweepstakes after the shooting.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Admirers of Scotland's great poet, Robert Burns, will have a treat at Hope chapel Friday night, when Rev. William A. Smith, of Groton, New York, a Scotch clergyman, who has attained some recognition as an authority on the "Ayrshire Bard," will give readings from his works. A musical programme beginning at 8:15 o'clock consisting of solos and choruses will be given by the Plainfield High School Musical Club.

OBITUARY.

Thomas Dufficy.

Following an illness of about ten days with pleuro-pneumonia, Thomas Dufficy, aged forty-five years, died this morning at his home on Kensington avenue. He was a blacksmith by trade and had been employed by J. E. Flannery, of East Third street, for twenty-two years. He leaves a wife and three children. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

DAN S. ROBERTS VERY ILL.

Attack of Blood Poisoning Which Developed Last Week May Prove Fatal.

Former Councilman Dan S. Roberts, for many years proprietor of the livery on North avenue now known as the Plainfield Cab Company stables, is critically ill at his home on Prospect place. He became afflicted with blood poisoning in the feet early last week and though proper medical attention was quickly secured he has continued to grow worse steadily. The members of his family have been summoned as the physician in charge holds out but little hope for the day.

Mr. Roberts is in his eighty-third year and previous to the present illness enjoyed unusually good health for a man of his age. He retired from business a short time ago but has always maintained an active interest in municipal affairs. His friends are numbered in every part of the city and to all he is familiarly known as "Uncle Dan."

Will Observe "Neal Dow Day."

Tomorrow the W. C. T. U. will observe "Neal Dow Day," and the local union will have a special meeting at the rooms on Madison avenue, which will be in charge of Mrs. W. F. Hamilton. The members of the union who can arrange it are asked to meet at 2 o'clock and spend an hour in sewing. The other meeting will be held at 3 o'clock.

State. This would have enabled us to fix a liberal salary schedule while materially reducing the burden of the local tax. Until the constitutionality of this act has been affirmed by the highest court we cannot count upon receiving the larger appropriation. However, under the new rules of the State Board doubling the apportionment of the district for High School teachers the borough will receive next year about $1,900 more than in the current fiscal year. This amount added to the amount raised by local taxation should enable us to make a moderate salary increase."

Correspondents' Banquet.

Senator E. R. Ackerman and others of Plainfield, including George J. Tobin, attended the seventeenth annual banquet of the New Jersey Legislative Correspondents' Club, held in Trenton, last night. The scribes issued for the occasion a paper called "The Evening Meal," which contained "roasts" on persons prominent in the State government. Plainfield's representative in the upper brand of the Legislature was referred to as follows: "Don't find fault with Senator Ackerman as he turns down his wine glass. He's simply standing on his riparian right."

Freeholders in Town.

The Freeholders of Union and Somerset counties will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the office of F. J. Hubbard, county engineer, to receive open bids for the building of the wing walls on the West End avenue bridge. It is believed that the contract will be awarded and that the work will be started within a short time.

Reunion of Former Officers.

The New Jersey State Federation of Women's Club will hold a reunion of former officers in Newark on Wednesday, April 10, and among those who will attend is Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city. Luncheon will be served at Davis' on Broad street, followed with short addresses by the various officers.

L. L. Manning Awards Contracts.

L. L. Manning, who has decided to erect a large apartment house at West Front street and Central avenue, has awarded the general contract for the work to James C. Manning. Townley Brothers, of North Plainfield, have the mason contract. Work will be commenced the latter part of the month.

School for Plainfield.

Included in a dozen bills introduced in the State Senate last night was one by Mr. Hutchinson, intended for the benefit of Trenton, which will permit Plainfield and other second-lass cities to build industrial schools on the plan of the Newark Technical School.

Will Sing the "Crucifixion."

The choir of Grace church, under the direction of W. E. MacClymont, organist, will give Stainer's "Crucifixion" at the church on Monday night. The choir is also making great preparation for an elaborate Easter service.

"CENTRAL PARK"
Was—Is—Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm.

IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences.

Central Park is that beautifully situated tract bounded by Park, Prospect, Hillside and Thornton Avenues.

$350,000 FOR HOUSES

PLANNING A BIG BOOM

Central Railroad of New Jersey May Be Behind the Undertaking —F. W. Morse Is Interested.

Plans are out and bids are being made for the building of 100 houses in Westfield and Garwood that are to be constructed soon by J. R. Maxwell, who is connected with the Central Railroad of New Jersey. They are all to be residences, and all one family houses. Some are to be of two stories and some will be of the bungalow type. F. W. Morse, former Mayor of Garwood, will represent Mr. Maxwell, and will have charge of the building. The houses will be of cement construction and cement coating. The suggestion has been made that the Central Railroad is behind the plan to build the houses with a view to developing its commuter traffic. Nothing has been learned to credit this belief or discredit it.

The cost of the houses will range from $2,500 each to $4,500, making an average cost of $3,500, and a total expenditure of $350,000. Just as soon as the contractors are selected work will be started and pushed as rapidly as possible, so that the 100 houses will likely be completed before the summer is over. The plans have been drawn by Oakley & Son, of this city.

Mr. Oakley has been kept busy with plans for other houses in this city and out of town. Santiago Porcella, of Cranford, has made plans for costly additions to his residence. Oscar Frommel, a New York merchant, has purchased 104 acres at High Bridge near the place of ex-Governor Voorhees, and he has had plans drawn for an extensive country home that is to cost about $75,000. The building will be on top of a hill, and will have a view of all the surrounding country.

CONSTITUTION DRAFTED CHARITIES CONSOLIDATION.

Relief and Organized Aid Associations Are To Be Merged Next Month.

The committees from the Plainfield Relief Association and the Charity Organized Aid Association, appointed to draft a constitution to be considered and adopted by the members of the two organizations in accordance with the plans of the merger, have completed their work, and it is expected that the constitution will be presented at a meeting to be held next month.

At that time all the details of the merger will be decided upon, as well as the name to be chosen for the combine organization. It was found that the work of the two societies were practically identical and that in some cases charity work was being duplicated. It was then suggested that a merger be made. The idea was favorably considered by each organization and by vote it was decided that there should be consolidation. Then followed the appointment of committees to draft a new constitution. It is the opinion of all the members that under the combined organizations will do far more work and will be able to eliminate much unnecessary effort heretofore made by the charity workers.

Only a Sooty Chimney.

A sooty chimney at the Hotel Iroquois caught fire from the kitchen range shortly before 6 o'clock last night and someone outside turned in an alarm from box 13. There was really no need for the fire department but the fact was not discovered until the building was almost surrounded by apparatus and hose was laid in every direction. The rumor had spread that the hotel was in serious danger and by the time the chimney was cleaned out, about thirteen million people were on hand to boss the job.

Sought Help, Was Arrested.

George Malken, who says his home is in Hoboken, was arrested last night on complaint of Mrs. Morris Abrams, who said he was begging. The prisoner told Judge Runyon in the city court this morning that he had been told to come here by Hoboken friends, who said he could get the help he was seeking in an effort to go to Philadelphia. Sentence was suspended.

Complaint Against P. S. C. Dismissed

Because the Board of Health, of Elizabeth, in its complaint against the Public Service Corporation, charging filthy condition of trolley cars, cited but two instances of alleged violation of health rules, Judge C. Addison Swift dismissed the complaint against the company prior to leaving for the South this week.

BOOM DE WITT C. IVINS FOR THE STATE BOARD

FRIENDS OF PLAINFIELDER WANT HIM APPOINTED ON BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Plainfield has a candidate for the vacant position on the State Board of Education, the friends of DeWitt C. Ivins being actively at work in his behalf. Elizabeth's candidate is Judge P. H. Gilhooley. Both are Democrats as is Benjamin J. Campbell, who resigned from the board. It is said that friends of both Gilhooley and Ivins are endeavoring to get Senator E. R. Ackerman to take up their battle but it is not known that he has made any promises as yet.

Mr. Ivins is one of the most prominent men in the community. He is a member of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital and is a member of the Plainfield Country Club and other local organizations. In addition to large local business interests he is identified with several big concerns in New York. Mr. Ivins was a member of the police commission appointed by former Mayor Buckle, but has not held any other public office.

The power of appointment is vested in Governor Stokes.

BOOM FRELINGHUYSEN FOR THE GOVERNORSHIP

NEW BRUNSWICK BANQUET SPEAKERS ENDORSE SOMERSET'S SENATOR.

A boom was launched last night at New Brunswick at the annual banquet of the Brunswick Club for Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen for Governor of New Jersey. The boom was set in motion by ex-Senator William H. C. Jackson, of Somerset county, and was quickly taken up by all the other speakers at the banquet. Former Senator George S. Silzer helped forward the boom in an excellent speech.

Senator Frelinghuysen was the guest of honor at the banquet. In his speech in reply to the boom he neatly side-stepped any declaration and spoke on political conditions of today, saying that the most essential thing in present day politics was conservatism, both in the reform movement and in regular Republican circles. The idea, said Senator Frelinghuysen, in all dealings with corporations is to go slow and not to be too rapid in reaching a conclusion.

MRS. ELVIRA DAYTON BECOMES THE WIFE OF L. D. WALKER.

Ceremony Performed By Rev. Frank Fletcher at Home of the Bride's Father.

Mrs. Elvira Dayton and Lewis D. Walker, both residents of Piscataway township, near Stelton, were married last night at the home of the bride's father, Peter Benward, by the Rev. Frank Fletcher, former pastor of the Baptist church at New Market. The affair was attended only by the immediate relatives and a few friends of the couple. An informal reception followed the ceremony.

Both the bride and groom have been residents of Piscataway township for a number of years and they have several relatives in this city. The groom recently purchased Stephen Brown's residential property at New Market and they will reside there.

Entertained Their Neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Martin, of Lincoln place and Duer street, who have purchased the property at 818 Park avenue, where they will move next week, entertained about thenty-five of their neighbors Monday night. The evening was given up to sociability and an informal musical programme, including piano selections by Miss Beth Martin.

Team for State Meet.

The make-up of the Y. M. C. A. team in the association's State meet at Paterson, March 30, will be made public by Physical Director Listman tomorrow. The entries must be in by Saturday. Mr. Listman knew pretty much who the members of the team were to be this morning, but he was not ready to make the names public.

School Meet.

The athletic circles of the three secondary schools of the city are aflutter with preparation for the interscholastic meet on April 9. The teams have not been picked yet, but it is known that Lawrence will be the mainstay of the Leal's team and Murphy of the city High School.

Sheridan Jones Fined.

Sheridan Jones, colored, arrested for drunkenness and disorder, was fined $5 in the city court this morning.

A. H. M'GREGOR CHOSEN F. & A. M. GRAND MASTER

WM. D. WOLFSKIEL ELECTED DEPUTY BY GRAND LODGE.

The 129 annual communication of the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Free and Accepted Masons of New Jersey in session in the Masonic Temple, Trenton, today, elected Austin H. McGregor, of Newark, to succeed Grand Master Walter Chandler. William D. Wolfskiel, of Elizabeth, was chosen deputy grand master. There are about 700 members of the craft present.

Governor E. C. Stokes gave the address of welcome yesterday. He spoke on "Masonry."

Grand Master Chandler's report was lengthy and instructive. In part he said:

"The year which is past has been one of continued activity and usefulness, not only on the part of the grand master and the grand officers associated with him, but by all other lodges. Prosperity, harmony and a proper spirit of fraternity and good will have been most prevalent in our jurisdiction, but with sincere regret the statement must be truthfully made that in a few of our lodges discord and internal dissension have marred that peace and harmony which should prevail among brethren, by an improper and unmasonic use of the blackball by personal animosities growing out of disappointed ambitions and petty strife."

A large number of members of Ashlar Lodge, No. 76, went to Philadelphia yesterday afternoon to pay a fraternal visit to a lodge at that place. The visitors were given a banquet.

GOVERNOR URGES REFERENDUM CLAUSE

STOKES WOULD PROTECT EVERY MUNICIPALITY AFFECTED BY ANNEXATION.

Governor Stokes sent to both Houses of the Legislature yesterday a special message calling attention to the numerous bills now pending on the question of division and annexation of territory among the various municipalities of the State.

He says a referendum clause should be embodied in every bill providing for the annexation or division of property; that when two or more municipalities are to be annexed the people of each should be allowed to vote on the question, and that no municipality should be forced into annexation without the consent of the majority of the voters of the place; that when a part of the territory of a municipality is to be taken from or to be made into another municipality the people of the municipality affected should have the right to vote upon the question, and the referendum should not be confined to the people of the seceding or separating territory, to the end that all the people may protect their rights.

MANAGER OVERTON ISSUES N. P. H. S. BASEBALL SCHEDULE.

A Strong List of Games Arranged For the Season By Borough Pupils.

Tone Overton, manager of the North Plainfield High School baseball team, has completed a schedule of games for the season. Harry Smith is the captain of the team and the season will open on April 6 with the Holy Cross church nine. The schedule follows:

April 6, Holy Cross; 13, Plainfield High School; 17, open; 20, Westfield High School at Plainfield; 24, Roselle High School, at Roselle; 27, Westfield High School at Westfield; May 1, Plainfield High School; 4, Westfield High School at Plainfield; 8, Roselle High School at Plainfield; 10, Battin High School, of Elizabeth, at Plainfield; 15, Leal's; 18, Roselle High School, at Plainfield; 22, Somerville High School, at Somerville; 24, Battin High School, at Elizabeth; 29, Somerville High School at Plainfield; 31, Plainfield High School; June 1, Somerville High School, at Somerville; 5, Leal's; 8, Somerville High School, at Plainfield.

Elks "Old-Fashioned" Social.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., held an old-fashioned" social in the club rooms, last night. It brought out a large number of members and many visitors from nearby cities. The programme was informal in nature and was in charge of Exalted Ruler George O. Stevens. Supper was served at midnight by Caterer Timbo. The house committee arranged the affair.

Commissioners of Deeds.

In the State Senate yesterday commissioners of deeds, appointed by Governor Stokes, including a number of Plainfielders, were confirmed.

UNION GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE IS ARRANGED

REV. MR. FINN CHOSEN TO PRESIDE—AT CRESCENT AVE CHURCH.

The Plainfield Ministers' Association in session at the parlors of the Seventh-Day Baptist church yesterday afternoon decided to hold the Union Good Friday service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Friday night, March 29.

Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will preside, and Rev. A. C. McCrea, of the First M. E. church, will read the Scriptures. It is expected that Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, of Grace church, will be the first speaker on the sentences from the "Seven Words on the Cross." As arranged the programme will be as follows:

"Father, Forgive Them for They Know Not What They Do," Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson; "Verily, I Say Unto Thee, Today Thou Shalt Be With Me in Paradise," Rev. Dr. C. W. Parsons; "Behold Try Son, Behold Thy Mother," Rev. E. E. Roberson; "My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me," Rev. L. R. Howard; "I Thirst," Rev. C. E. Herring; "It is Finished," Rev. J. W. Musson; "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit," Rev. C. L. Goodrich.

Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie will offer the closing prayer, and the offering will be for the Children's Home, as usual.

GRANTED ABSOLUTE DIVORCE.

Application of Augustus Blume Acted On By Vice Chancellor Today.

In the Chancery Court at Newark, this morning, Vice Chancellor Stevens granted an absolute decree of divorce to August C. Blume, of this city, against his wife, Mary L. Blume. Statutory grounds were named in the petition with Edward Fogerty, a former Westfield policeman, as co-respondent.

The petition had been heard previously and at that time the wife made application for alimony and counsel fees. The court refused the alimony but granted fees to the lawyer. The petitioner renewed his application for absolute divorce without this payment and when the matter was called today neither the defendant or her counsel appeared. The chancellor called the case, however, and after hearing the testimony gave the decree favorable to the petitioner.

Mr. Blume was represented by Paul Q. Oliver, of Westfield, assisted by Craig A. Marsh, of this city, while an Elizabeth lawyer had been retained by the defendant.

WANTS PLAINFIELD SCENES.

Jamestown Fair Man Asks Postmaster For Local Pictures.

With ninety-nine other men in similar positions, Postmaster E. M. Bird has been asked to send pictures of local scenes to Francis B. Lee, New Jersey's representative at the Jamestown exposition. Mr. Lee asks for postcards, or pictures of any sort, showing buildings of historic interest or local scenes of more than passing attractiveness.

Mr. Lee made the request after efforts to secure such a collection from dealers in postcards or photographs in Trenton, had failed. The replies to the latest appeal are expected to form a most interesting and instructive pictorial array of matter relating to the State.

Women's Society Elects.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Wallace, of 312 Stebbins place, when these officers were elected: President, Mrs. Robert Hanglighter; vice president, Mrs. Gertrude Rittenhouse; secretary, Mrs. M. W. Clark; treasurer, Mrs. L. R. Howard. The treasurer reported that the total amount of money raised during the year was $423.59, and out of this sum $313.36 was contributed toward the fund for the new organ to be put in the chapel in memory of the late Henry C. Squires.

Lenten Recital.

A Lenten recital will be given at the First Baptist church, Thursday night, March 28. The choir will sing the "Seven Last Words," by Dubois and selections from Gounod's Messe Solennelle. The Schill String Quartette and Mr. Setaro, harpist, will assist in the service. No cards of admission are required.

Jonas Lie Exhibitor.

Jonas Lie, the artist, who has a studio in the Babcock building, has some of his landscapes hung in the exhibition of the National Academy of Design, New York, which is being held at the present time.

James E. Martine Will Speak.

James E. Martine will be the principal speaker at the annual banuet of the Young Men's Democratic Club, of East Orange, tonight. His subject will be "The Possibilities of Democracy."

MAYOR MAKING DIGEST OF 2D CLASS CITY LAWS

ARTHUR MURPHY ENGAGED IN THE WORK UNDER MR. FISK'S DIRECTION.

For the purpose of thoroughly acquainting himself with all the laws and ordinances affecting the many city departments in second class cities, Mayor Charles J. Fisk has engaged Lawyer Arthur Murphy to compile in convenient form such sections of the laws and ordinances under which the city government is conducted. Mr. Murphy has been busily employed on this work for several weeks.

The research includes laws relating to the police and fire departments, streets and sewers, finance, lights and trees, alms, licenses, and in fact every one of the city departments. There has been a more or less vague idea as to the application to these laws in second class cities, but it is Mr. Fisk's idea to have them put in such shape that ready reference will be possible.

He is also having the laws referring to the granting of franchises to public utility corporations and their rights and priveleges, as well as those of the city, compiled so that he will know exactly the relationship between the city and corporations operating here. This was no doubt brought about as a result of the investigation now being made concerning the water supply of the city, and the possible acquisition of an independent supply for the city.

The extracts of the laws affecting second class cities are now being put in typewritten form, but it is quite likely that they will be printed and put in a book or pamphlet form of a more endurable character.

PROPOSED LAW TO LET ANY ONE LICK EDITORS

PENNSYLVANIA BILL MAKES IT LEGAL TO THRASH NEWSPAPERMEN.

If a bill introduced in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, Pa., yesterday by a member from Philadelphia becomes a law, any person in Pennsylvania shall have the right to assault proprietors, editors or reporters of newspapers that publish defamatory matter against the offended person.

The bill provides that the defendant in any suit for assault and battery shall be acquitted if he proves that the person upon whom the assault was committed wrote or published, within one year previous to the assault, any false or defamatory matter concerning the defendant or any parent, child, sister, wife or fiancee of the defendant.

The provisions of the bill extend to civil actions for damages arising out of a case for assault and battery. If the person who committed the assault proves the fact concerning the publication, the one assaulted can get no damage.

Chauffeur Stops Runaway.

While Charles C. Graves, the roofer, was removing some tin from the back of his wagon on West Front street, yesterday afternoon, the rattle and bang frightened his horse and the animal ran away. It had gotten under good headway when it approached an automobile coming in the opposite direction. The chauffeur brought his machine to a halt and jumping out captured the runaway. He refused to give his name when Mr. Graves arrived and quickly sped away. The rig was not damaged.

Brooks Trio Gives Good Concert.

A fair-sized audience attended the concert of the Nehemiah Brooks Trio in the local Salvation Army barracks last night, but it was worthy of a much larger attendance. The trio is composed of experienced musicians who perform on nearly a dozen different instruments with rare skill and in a very pleasing manner. The concert was given for the benefit of the local barracks. Tonight the trio will furnish music at the annual reception to Dr. and Mrs. Chambliss at the First Baptist church.

Miss Grace Carroll to Sing.

It is expected that Miss Grace Carroll, contralto soloist at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will assist F. Clinton Lee, organist, at the free Lenten recital to be given at the Church of the Holy Cross Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The last recital will be held Saturday afternoon, March 30.

Thomas Dufficy's Funeral.

The funeral of Thomas Dufficy, who died at his home on Kensington avenue, yesterday, will be held in St. Mary's church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. A high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

TELLS THE PASTOR TO GIVE UP HIS PULPIT

PILLAR OF EBENEZER CHURCH SERVES NOTICE ON REV. MR. MORRIS.

Rev. P. T. Morris, pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist church, has been served with the following notice:

"Dear Bro.—Your services are not any longer needed with us as pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist church.

"Respectfully,
"PRINE YETTMAN,
"Trustee."

Mr. Yettman says Rev. Mr. Morris has not been serving the congregation in a way satisfactory to the eight "pillars" of the church. Mr. Yettman is a pillar. Mr. Morris is said to have given more attention to the former members of Calvary Baptist church who followed him to the Ebenezer church after his trouble over the Calvary pastorate than to the founders, the pillars, of the church. So the pillars met, Mr. Yettman says, and delegated him the task of apprising Mr. Morris with the fact that he was to go.

Ebenezer church is a small organization, and meets in a store on East Third street. It was founded by survivors of the defunct Filmore Baptist church, which was evicted by Aleck Kane.

END MAN FIRSTBROOK ENTERTAINS GOLD MEDALS

THE MINSTREL TROUPE AFTERWARD SPRINGS SURPRISE ON THE HOST.

Instead of entertaining as has been their custom during the past winter, the members of Muir's Gold Medal minstrel troupe were entertained last night, the host being Bertram C. Firstbrook, an end man in the company. The occasion was in the nature of a housewarming in honor of Mr. Firstbrook's marriage and took place at his home on Madison avenue. Twenty of the artists were in attendance and they enjoyed themselves for several hours in various ways.

Every contribution to the programme was done in whiteface but the minstrel men showed their versatility by giving numbers not generally included in the show programmes. Features were imitations of "Kidder" and "Madame Stitch" from "The Mayor of Tokio," by Archie Davie; a recitation, "Some Citizens We Could Spare," by Jack Todd; another recitation by Thomas DeMezo entitled, "Three Out, All Out," and a monologue, "Slow Horses and Fast Companions," by Cecil Pittis. In addition all the members rendered solos and the "Essence of Ole Virginny" was danced by Host Firstbrook, T. M. Muir and Harry Blimm. Judge Runyon acted as accompanist during the evening and the piano was also operated by Thomas DeMeza and Horace J. Martin, Jr.

Supper was served at midnight and during the intermission just previous, the troupe sprang a surprise on the host. He was addressed in a congratulatory manner by Judge Runyon and in conclusion was presented with a handsome Morris chair, the gift of the company. It had been smuggled into the house and was kept out of sight until the opportune moment. Though he is used to facing audiences of all sizes, the recipient was completely at a loss for words at first but afterward responded fittingly.

TO GET LEAGUE CUP.

P. H. S. Basketball Team Will Receive Trophy Tomorrow Afternoon.

The cup offered in the interscholastic basketball league will be presented to the winning team, the Plainfield High School five, at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tomorrow afternoon. The presentation will be made between the halves of the last game of the schedule, between Plainfield High School and Leal's.

The game will not affect the league standing. Plainfield High School has won all its games, and can't be dislodged from the leadership. The champions will work just as hard to win, however, in an effort to keep the 1,000 per cent. intact. J. W. Gavett, president of the Y. M. C. A., will present the cup, and Manager Bert Leggett will accept it with a carefully chiselled speech.

Arrested Freight Car Thieves.

Thomas A. Linaberry, freight agent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad at South Plainfield, caught three young hoboes robbing a freight car near the South Plainfield station last night. He arrested them all, and shipped them on to the county jail at New Brunswick.

—Levy Brothers will have their spring opening on Saturday, March 23, and on that day will give free to each purchaser of $1 or more a beautiful growing potted plant. ***

FREEHOLDERS AWARD JOB

Union and Somerset Boards Give Bridge Wall Contract to Joseph E. Kelly.

THE LOWEST BID $2,460.

Borough Engineer Hubbard's Estimate On Lowest Cost of Work Higher Than Successful Bid.

Joseph E. Kelly, of New Market, who had charge of the work of building the new West End avenue bridge, last year, was awarded the contract yesterday afternoon by the freeholders of Union and Somerset counties to build the wing walls, his bid of $2,460 being the lowest for plans No. 2, which call for four solid concrete walls, two on each side of the bridge.

Two plans were considered, No. 1 calling for reinforced concrete, the same material of which the bridge is built, and No. 2 calling for a solid concrete wall. The difference in the cost was approximately $300, the reinforced work costing about that much more than the other style.

The bids were opened in the parlors of the Hotel Iroquois, the bridge committee from Union county, of which Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur is the chairman, meeting the members of the Somerset county board, of which Director Baird is the head. There were eight bids in all. According to the specifications each bidder submitted a bid on each plan, and then a price per cubic yard for any changes that might be made after the adoption of either plan. The bids submitted were as follows:

Richards & Gaston, New York, plan No. 1, $3,300; $15 per cubic yard for changes; plan No. 2, $3,250; $12 per cubic yard for changes: Arthur E. Smith, Plainfield, plan No. 1, 02,800; $10 per cubic yard; plan No. 2, $2,545, $8 per cubic yard; Warren B. Travell, Plainfield, plan No. 1, $3,260; $8 per cubic yard; plan No. 2, $2,972; $7 per cubic yard; Commonwealth Roofing Company, Jersey City, plan No. 1, $4,747; $18 per cubic yard; plan No. 2, $4,601; $12 per cubic yard; Joseph E. Kelly, New Market, plan No. 1, $3,475; $16 per cubic yard; plan No. 2, $2,460; $7.85 per cubic yard; Serrell Contracting Company, New York, plan No. 1, $2,785; $12 per cubic yard; plan No. 2, $2,669; $8.25 per cubic yard; J. H. B. Spier, North Plainfield, plan No. 1, $4,338.67; $11.82 per cubic yard; plan No. 2, $3,953.67; $10.77 per cubic yard; T. J. McGovern, Trenton, plan No. 1, $3,800; $12 per cubic yard; plan No. 2, $3,400; $10 per cubic yard.

The Union County Board appropriated $1,300 last December as its share for building the walls, it being understood that the cost would be at least $2,600, but the Somerset county freeholders were looking for the cheapest contract. There was a discussion among the freeholders, W. J. Buttfield and Mayor N. B. Smalley as to some method of compelling the contractor to complete the work within the specified time under a penalty, but it was agreed that this could not be done, unless a bonus was offered.

Mr. Buttfield and Mr. Smalley said that they were particularly anxious to have the walls completed as soon as possible so that the extensive improvements planned on the borough side could be undertaken. They suggested that the contractor be asked to build the walls on the borough side first if there was no serious objection, and Freeholder Wilbur assured them that he would do all in his power to have this done and to have the walls completed on time. July 1 next is the time limit for completion of the work.

Mr. Buttfield said that he would be willing to take the contract for $2,200, and when asked why he did not submit a bid, he replied, "That is not my business." It was his plan to make the contract price $2,200, with a $200 bonus, the latter sum to be deducted if the work was not completed by July 1. This, it was decided, could not be done unless all bids were rejected and others advertised for.

The walls are to be fifty feet long. On the borough side the two walls will be curved to correspond with the 100 foot street and on the city side they will be straight.

Engineer Hubbard's estimate of the actual cost of the work was $2,502, and it is significant that W. B. Travell's figures for actual cost were $2,476, while Mr. Kelly's bid for the contract, including profit, was $2,460. Of course, Mr. Kelly had charge of building the bridge, is well acquainted with the conditions and in this respect he has an advantage over other bidders.

In the regular business session of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., last night, W. DeLa Anderson, Fred Hand and Alonzo Brower were initiated in the mysteries of the order.

MILLINERY OPENING

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday

If Tuesday's storm kept you away, don't fail to come some day this week

You are cordially invited to visit our parlors on second floor (take elevator) and examine our display of strikingly original adaptations of Parisian models. Hats of every conceivable shape, being made with superior taste from high-grade materials. Many of the hats are exact reproductions of those shown in Paris and New York, while others have been fashioned by our own Millinery experts. The success and prestige gained last season has encouraged us to make a much larger display this season. Our trimmers are the best to be had, and our work and Prices are guaranteed. (Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Flanagan and Miss J. Menard.)

Opening of Subscription Sale.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the subscription sale at the Manhattan Opera House which opened this morning for the season of 1907-08 began with a rush which taxed the box office facilities to the utmost. Two hundred thousand dollars was taken in during the course of the day. An extra subscription department was opened in the balcony foyer in order to expedite the work. Beside the opening of the regular subscriptions the sale for the farewell of Melba and that for the Calve debut in "Carmen" were in lively progress throughout the day.

SPRING MILLINERY.

Our recent opening of Smart and Chic Millinery created a sensation by reason of its superb superiority. The unexampled beauty of the exquisite hats for spring has been proclaimed from the housetops in stentorian tones.

It has been freely acknowledged by visitors the models displayed, taken individually and as a whole, are the most exquisite exhtbited in Plainfield. Prices, too, are remarkably low. Be convinced—comparison.

WOMEN'S SPRING SUITS AND JACKETS.

Our new line of Suits and Jackets are ready for inspection. Our styles are the newest and most up-to-date only.

$12.50—Our new line of suits in black, brown, navy blue and fancy checks and plaids are the best value ever offered for the money and would be good value at $15.98.

BLACK HAND WORK OR FOOLISH JOKE?

Kidnapping and Death of Son Threatened Unless $500 Is Handed Over.

The police of Elizabeth have in their possession a letter which may have come from some Black Hand source or be the work of a joker. It was received some days ago by Matthew Benz, of No. 836 Rebecca place, but was not turned over to the police until yesterday.

The writer demanded $500. The penalty for non-payment was the life of Benz's son, John, who is sixteen years old. The boy is employed in the Bronze Powder Works at Elizabeth and is sent daily to the main office in New York City.

The writer says he knows the boy makes daily trips to New York, and that if the money is not forthcoming the boy will be kidnapped and put to death.

The letter directed that the money be placed in the Reid street tunnel of the New Jersey Central Railroad. The date set for leaving the money in the tunnel was March 15 and the hour 11, though whether night or morning was meant the letter did not say.

The money was not placed in the tunnel on the date named, but Mr. Benz has since become nervous about the matter and decided to place the case in the hands of the police. Benz is employed in the Singer works. The police are inclined to look upon the letter as the work of some joker, but nevertheless they are making an investigation.

Farewell Banquet to Melba.

Oscar Hammerstein today issued invitations for a farewell banquet to be tendered Mme. Melba after her last appearance for the season on Monday night next. The supper will be served on the stage of the Manhattan Opera House at the conclusion of the performance of "La Boheme."

WOMAN'S BODY IS TO BE EXHUMED.

Alleged that She Was Only Attended by Woman, Not a Physician.

Presecutor Young, of Essex county, after a long conference yesterday with County Physician Mills and County Counsel Crane, formerly Prosecutor, advised Dr. Mills to have exhumed the body of Mrs. Rose Rienze, who died last Friday at her home, No. 41 Cutler street, Newark.

Dr. Mills accordingly notified Morgue Keeper Kunz, of Orange, to have the body disinterred and brought to his morgue, where an autopsy will be performel later.

According to information obtained by Health Inspector Schalk, the woman, who was forty years old, had been receiving treatment from Mrs. Carmelia Baldi, of No. 90 Mount Prospect avenue. The death certificate, which was dated March 17, was signed by Dr. Francesco A. Caruso, of No. 69 Garside street, who gave "endocarditis" as the cause of death.

Dr. Caruso says he was called in by the woman's husband the day before her death and that he hesitated about signing a certificate until he had seen Dr. Friero, of No. 26 Sixth avenue. Dr. Friero, he says is an Italian, who understands medicine, but has no license to practise in Newark.

Two physicians reported the case to the authorities. They alleged that the only treatment the woman had received had been from Mrs. Baldi. It is said that Mrs. Baldi has had a large practice.

According to the health authorites, there are quite a number of persons in Newark who have been practising medicine without a license.

SECRET SOCIETY LEADER MISSING FROM HOME.

Said to Have Eloped With Woman, and His Business Is Sold to His Wife.

Charles A. Gischel, a prominent lodge man of Phillipsburg, N. J., who disappeared about ten days ago, is said to have eloped with a well-known young woman. He was expelled from membership in North End Castle, No. 27, K. of G. E., Monday night, the vote being unanimous. Gischel was the proprietor of a printing plant which was sold yesterday by Sheriff Merrick to Mrs. Gischel.

Gischel was financial secretary of the P. O. S. of A. and the Knights of Friendship. He was not under bonds by the Sons of America, and they assert he is a defaulter. He was bonded by a New York surety company for the Knights, but he is believed to have left their finances in good condition.

Gischel is said to have known the Sons of America were not likely to trouble hi mif he remained outside the jurisdiction of the Warren County Court. Gischel and the women are believed to have gone to Canada.

BIG HERD OF DEER MENACES THE FARMERS.

Animals Escaped from Estate of O. A. Havemeyer in Jersey.

Waldwick, March 21.—A herd of deer belonging to the O. A. Havemeyer estate, two miles from Mahwah, escaped yesterday from the park and ran to the woods near Saddle River, a distance of nine miles, and near this village. It is said some one cut the wire fence which surrounds the park and the deer made their escape.

Five of the deer are near Hooper's Creek and one was seen to jump from a high bridge and break its neck. The farmers in this locality are very anxious to have the animals taken away, and fear if they are not they will ruin much of their property. They will sue their owner should any damage be done.

The property owners are taking up the matter with John Myers, son-in-law of the Havemeyers, and will order him to take care of the animals, as he is foreman of the estate. The deer would have been shot by many had it not been that the law is on prohibiting that.

PITCH OVER HIS TROUSERS.

Odd Street Mishap Befalls a Dignified Banker.

Atlantic City, March 21.—Contractors in charge of a pipe laying job on Atlantic avenue will be requested to furnish a new pair of trousers for Vice-President Levi Albertson, of the Second National Bank, because of the clumsiness of an employee who stumbled and emptied part of a big dipper of pitch all over the nether extremities of the dignified banker.

The two men crashed as Albertson left his office in the bank, and the banker did a war dance as the hot pitch burned through his pants and down his legs.

Repeals Promoters' Liability Act.

Trenton, March 21.—The Senate yesterday passed the Colby bill repealing the act of 1903, familiarly known as the Promoters' Liability law. The act repealed by the Colby bill limited the time of prosecutions of promoters for fraud. The Colby bill restores the provisions of the common law on the subject, which is that the prosecutions may be started any time within a year after fraud has been discovered.

Mrs. Frank T. Ostrom, of Carlton avenue, is detained at home by illness.

SPECIALS

Fresh Jersey Eggs

At this season of the year almost every grocer makes a special drive on eggs. Many people wonder why there is such a variety of prices. Here is one reason—The prices of eggs are made according to their freshness upon arrival at the market. Most of the eggs in this market are received from the West, South and nearby Jersey. Now suppose I bought a case of each kind. I would receive the Westerns and Southerns in twenty to thirty days, while the Jerseys would be in my store and on sale tomorrow. Do you see the point? There would be a dozen shipments of Jerseys sold and consumed while the others are in transit. We receive all of our eggs direct from Flemington every day or two. We will make you a special price for Saturday of 23c per dozen.

Fine Potatoes

We have done a lot of talking this winter about our potatoes. We have the quality to back it up. Fine mealy cookers, "Finest in town," is the verdict from all the buyers.

Price per ½ bushel basket 39c
Price per 3 bushel barrel 2.30

Fancy Butter

We have as fine a piece of butter as comes to this city, 100 per cent. better than you get from most dealers. We buy from one of the largest receivers in New York and pay them a premium to ship us from their finest lots. Quality is the first consideration and then the price. We will quote you special prices for Saturday only.

Finest table butter, per lb 35c
Very good butter, per lb 30c
Pullman Print Butter, per lb 38c

Flour Special

We will offer you for Saturday only a lot of Gold Medal and Pillsbury flour at a very low price.

LIMITED FRANCHISE FOR P. S. C.

New Brunswick Special Election Gives 40-Year Grant.

New Brunswick, March 21.—A special election held here yesterday to decide the question of whether a forty-year franchise should be given to the Public Service Corporation for extensions on Dodwise and Livingston avenues resulted in favor of the franchise.

The vote on Dodwise avenue was 74 against and 105 for, and on Livingston avenue 67 against and 106 for. This is one of the few elections which have been held under the limited franchise act of last year's Legislature.

—John Melaco, the Hungarian laborer who was so severely injured at TenEyck's saw mill at Oak Tree on Tuesday, is reported as being about the same. His condition is critical.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

This is Miss Blanche Hall's second season as Zaza, the French provincial concert hall singer, and it may be the last, as Miss Hall has four offers, to go to England and Australia with it. If she accepts any of these offers, what will be gain to the other side will certainly be our loss, for we are not exactly blinded with stars of Miss Hall's magnitude. Miss Hall may laugh good naturedly at that, for she is as modest as she is handsome and talented, but nevertheless it is a big black fact. The stage of this country hasn't been so poor in real talent among the stars in many, many years. There are stars today who should be playing minor roles in stock companies, instead of getting our money under false pretenses, and seeing their names and colored pictures six feet high on the walls around vacant lots. We say "vacant lots," because such over-rated stars suggest vacant lots, and not only vacant lots, but vacant job-lots. However, let's cheer up, for a real star is about to swim into our ken; and its front name is Mademoiselle Blanche Hall, the "Zaza." She will be seen in the part at the New Plainfield theatre tonight.

The cast, supporting Eduard Waldmann, who appears in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, includes, besides Mr. Waldmann, who appears in the dual role of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," J. Murton Strock as Lawyer Utterson, W. E. Bostwick as Dr. Lanyon, Henry Hahbro as Sir Danvers Carew, John Wilton as Inspector Newcomen of Scotland Yard, Henry Sloan as Policeman O'Brien, T. D. Landers as Detective Henderson, Frank Worthers as Detective Wilson, Roy Walters as Poole, Miss Perla Landers as Clara Carew, Miss Carrie Davids as Lady Carew, Miss Marie Wolf as Bridget, the Irish cook, and Miss Marie Mantell as the hag. This company has been specially selected by Mr. Waldmann and will support him when he plays the Bijou theatre, New York, as well as the other large cities of the East. Mr. Waldmann made a host of friends in Plainfield when he appeared here two years ago in Faust and David Garrik Garrick, and the season before when he appeared at the Stillman Opera house in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

The success of "The College Widow," George Ade's delightful comedy, which comes to the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, is in no sense a surprise to those who have kept in touch with the theatrical situation. "The College Widow" is one of those plays, produced perhaps once in a decade, over which there is little if any difference of opinion. There are many excellent theatrical properties which have been varingly successful, that is, that have been received enthusiastically in one section, while not apparently appealing to another. But not so with "The College Widow." Its New York vogue has been ratified by Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, Washington and in fact in all parts of the country. In "The College Widow" George Ade has struck a note that rings true from curtain to curtain. The action of the play is spirited and continued. Things are doing all the while, not intermittently as in most comic plays. The people who walk, talk and run through the four lively acts are the Toms, Dicks and Harrys, the Marys, Janes and Sarahs of our boyhood days.

Lovers of the best minstrel performances are finding fault, not only here but in other cities, of the too-frequent appearance of the cheap and vulgar minstrel companies, and are clamoring for the best. It is a pleasure to announce in this connection the early appearance here of the only and original Billy Kersands' Famous Minstrels with a brilliant company of thirty-five people and Prof. Lacy's Challenge Cornet Band, and a stupendous scenic and electrical equipment and all the details needed to insure an absolutely perfect performance. Everywhere that Billy Kersands' Minstrels have appeared the local press has teemed with praise of the ability of the whole company and of the magnificent performance, and it will be a real pleasure to welcome a good minstrel production to this city. The engagement is announced for next Tuesday night and promises to be a big event in the theatrical season here.

FOOTPADS CAUGHT TARTAR.

Tackled a Ball-Player Who Could Fight and Shout.

Clarence H. Flynn, of Beverly, N. J., a popular outfielder on the Grubb baseball team, was held up last evening by highwaymen. Flynn, when not playing baseball, is employed in a position which causes him to carry about in his clothing considerable sums of money.

Two men set on him and demanded the money. Flynn started to fight and shout and held off his assailants until the shouts brought a constable. Between the ball player and the constable one of the highwaymen was captured, but his companion escaped.

Councilman Herbert Buxton, of West Front street, left yesterday for Cleveland, Ohio, on a business trip. He will return home Saturday.

Mrs. Daniel Smalley, of West Second street, who has been quite ill at the hospital with pleuro-pneumonia, is greatly improved and expects to go home tomorrow.

THE DAILY PRESS.

Plainfield, N. J., March 21, 1907.

A dispatch from New Brunswick says that Republican politicians there were the original boomers of Frelinghuysen for the Governorship. "It is to laugh."

It now appears that Mayor Fisk, to whom was delegated the power to act on all applications for licenses other than those for the privilege of selling liquor, did not refer back to the city fathers the lunch-wagon petition. He absolutely refused it and in the face of his action, the Common Councilmen voted unanimously to grant it. This leads to the question, why delegate a power to the mayor and then reverse his doings?

Pennsylvania's law making it a prison offense to cartoon any man in public life having proven to be a farce, the Keystone State lawmakers are debating over a bill giving anyone the right to thrash the editor who publishes things reflecting upon him or his relatives. If every newspaperman was pumelled as often as people threaten to do it, there wouldn't be one above the sod today and it is safe to say that all the legislation in the world aimed to protect the wrongdoer whose acts are exposed will not put the newspaper worker in any more danger than he has been for the last hundred years.

In a "dissenting opinion," State Senator James F. Minturn says in the report of the Legislative committee appointed to investigate the granting of riparian rights, "I would limit the making of grants to lands upon which manufacturing plants are to be erected. In other cases I would limit the Riparian Commission to the making of leases." Mr. Minturn is to be congratulated on his courage in coming out fearlessly for what he considers the best interests of the State especially when his colleages allow themselves to be blinded by the radical views of those who think that the vast meadows better remain as they are rather than be developed by private enterprise.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. Mr. Dutcher, of Dunellen, will speak in the Plainfield Rescue Mission tonight in the W. C. T. U rooms on Madison avenue.

The newly-organized Sunday-school Teachers' Union will defer the first meeting for the study of the lesson one week. The lesson for Monday night would be that used on Easter Sunday, but inasmuch as many of the Sunday-schools will have special services on that day, which will necessitate the omission of the regular lesson the programme committee decided to change the arrangement. The first regular meeting will be held Monday night, April 1, in the Y. M. C. A. parlor at 8 o'clock. The purpose is to render the same help to Sunday-school workers in the advanced departments that the Primary and Junior Union gives to those in the younger grades. Inasmuch as no individual Sunday-school conducts a meeting of this character, it is believed that the union will meet the need.

Child Labor Bill Indorsed.

Orange, March 21.—Assembly bill No. 90, designed to prevent the employment of children under sixteen years in factories at night, was indorsed yesterday by the New Jersey Association of Neighborhood Workers at their annual meeting in the Orange Valley Social Settlement.

Paterson Five Cancels.

Three of its men disqualified for playing with an unregistered team, the Paterson Y. M. C. A. basketball five has had to cancel the game scheduled with Plainfield for Saturday night. The game was to have been played in Paterson.

No Sunday Ball.

The House by a non-partisan vote was killed Assemblyman Daab's bill to permit baseball and other athletic games on Sundays. The bill lacked three of the majority required in spite of the efforts of Mr. Daab to have the measure go through.

Preparing for Sewer Work.

Some of the material to be used in the construction of the southside sanitary sewer have arrived and the contractors, Peter Morgan, of Poughkeepsie; and W. B. Travell, of this city, are preparing to begin work.

—Miss Florence Randolph, of this city, has been engaged as assistant to Miss Kline, the cashier and bookkeeper at L. W. Randolph's pharmacy.

—The Cheerful Workers Circle of King's Daughters will give an informal musical programme on Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. D. H. Rowland, 511 West Seventh street. Tea will be served at 4 o'clock. There will be fancy articles for sale, also home-made cake and candy.

Asbury Park Temperance People Seek to Enjoin Hotelkeeper.

Asbury Park, March 21.—David Harvey, Jr., the attorney who has been retained by the temperance faction here to represent its interests, has announced that he will begin court proceedings this week to prevent Colonel S. A. Bly, of the Hotel Plaza, from opening the cafe for the Easter trade.

The colonel is the first hotelkeeper in the resort to get a liquor license, and is fitting up a place in his hotel for the dispensing of intoxicants in anticipation of opening it a few days before Easter. Mr. Harvey contends it will not be necessary to wait until liquor is sold to act, and that he can get an injunction temporarily restraining the sale whenever application is made to the courts.

RUTGERS COLLEGE IS 141 YEARS OLD

KNOWN AS QUEEN'S COLLEGE FOR THIRTEEN YEARS.

Dr. W. H. S. Demarest, president of Rutgers College, announced at chapel services yesterday that it was the 127th anniversary day of the granting of the second charter to Queen's College, now called Rutgers. The first was granted November 10, 1766, and the second, with modified provisions, in 1779, by Governor William Franklin.

A copy of the second charter was recently found in a collection of books and valuable samples of artistic printing in the library of Dr. Purple, of New York. Through the efforts of Dr. E. L. Stevenson, this copy had been reproduced and was handed to Dr. Demarest yesterday morning.

Dr. Demarest, in closing his remarks, spoke of the intense interest and excellent service of the Frelinghuysen family in the college. There have been six of the members of this family interested in the college from the time of the founding to the present; from Theodore J. Frelinghuysen, who, with Hendrick Fisher, was the first to found the college, to Frederick Frelinghuysen, of Newark, who is today the chairman of the finance committee of the trustees.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE

Topic.—Things you have learned from noble men and women outside the Bible.—I Thess. i, 2-8.

The first epistle of Paul to the church at Thessalonica is of particular interest for the reason that it was the first letter ever written by the great apostle to a church which he had organized. The Thessalonian Christians of this early church must have possessed the Christian graces to a remarkable degree. What greater tribute to their lives and characters could the apostle have paid than when he said he "remembered without ceasing their work of faith and labor of love and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ in the sight of God and our Father?" In what manner could higher praise be expressed than when he said of them, "Ye are examples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia;" and again, "In every place your faith toward God is spread abroad?" Of few churches, indeed, could such tributes be paid, and we are deeply impressed with the possibilities for good of a genuine Christian life.

What Paul and others learned from the lives of the Christians at Thessalonica we may learn and probably are learning from the lives of noble men and women, not only in the Bible, but out of it. The lives of Bible characters are simply human lives. The men and women of whom we read there had their weaknesses, and the Bible makes no attempt to ignore these. In all the Christian ages noble men and women have lived, and there are many saints of God in the world today whose lives are an example and an inspiration to others.

As we think of the lessons we have learned from such lives we may classify them under the heads used by the apostle in describing the influence of the Thessalonians. Some lives have taught us lessons on the work of faith. Who has not known or known of some men and women whose lives teach this lesson? All true Christian work is work of faith. God's children live by faith. They suffer sacrifices and practice self denials in advancing the kingdom of God because they believe in God and in Jesus Christ, His Son. The "labor of love" is another lesson that comes to us from the lives of others. The saints of God do His work not in hope of reward, but in loving gratitude to Him for all He has done for them. In any Christian church many examples of this character may be seen, and they have existed in all the Christian centuries. Again, the lives of others teach us patience and the "patience of hope." Many of us are impatient and especially anxious to have all our hopes in life realized. But here and there, especially among the aged saints of God, we find examples of the sincerest trust and patience. Their lives are a benediction to us as they patiently wait the will of God in all things. But above all there are those whose lives reveal the Master to us. As we look upon them we can see that "they have been with Jesus and have learned of Him." The spirit and mind of the Master seem to surround them as a halo, and being with them is like being with Him. This topic suggests to us the importance of association with the good and the noble both in literature and in daily life. The lives of others are by example molding our lives, and we should want only the best influences about us. And what we want others to be to us we should be to those whose lives are influenced by us. Let us live more closely to Christ that His life may be more and more exemplified in ours.

BIBLE READINGS.

Endeavor's Influence In Armenia.

After Dr. Clark left Philippopolis the pastor of the Armenian church in that city sent him a document signed and sealed by the Armenian evangelical church council, part of which he shares with his friends as follows:

Knowing with heartfelt gratitude of the great service that the Christian Endeavor societies have rendered to the church of Christ and thus to humanity at large, we, the Armenian community in Philippopolis, enjoying freedom in Bulgaria, appeal to you to give vent to the drowned voice of our fellow countrymen in Turkey, and through you we appeal to these societies all over the world, especially those in the United States, Great Britain and continental Europe, to make the Armenian question a special subject for prayerful consideration in their conferences and conventions and to have it in their lists of printed and designated objects for prayer until this question, one of unspeakable human suffering, is solved and the great stumbling block in the way of Christian religion and progress has been removed from Armenia. So, wishing you godspeed in your grand Christian Endeavor, we ask you kindly to take with you the greetings of the exiled Armenian Christians, numbering many thousands, wherever Providence may lead you among the children of God.

[Signed and sealed.]

THE ARMENIAN CHURCH COUNCIL.
Philippopolis.

As Dr. Clark adds: "Who would not heed this restrained but piteous appeal for prayer and sympathy? It is a cry from the heart, which, I believe, will reach many hearts."

Told in Briefs.

Ireland now has six district unions.

Cork, Ireland, now has three Junior societies.

Glasgow, Scotland, has 178 societies, with 5,029 active and 1,484 associate members.

"The more unselfish an Endeavor society is the more it will grow."—Rev. Smith Baker, D. D.

The British national council has already commenced the arrangements for the 1907 convention, which is to be held in the Isle of Man.

March 24: "The Resurrection."

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

I Cor. xv, 25, 58; I Thess. iv, 13-18; Rev xx, 11-15; xxi, 1-8.

"He that overcometh shall inherit all things."

"Be of good cheer. I have overcome the world."

A few facts in each life are of momentous consequence. The greatest of these are, first, one's birth; second, the new birth into spiritual life; third, the death of the body, and, fourth, the resurrection.

Over the first we had no control. It was of profound consequence to us in every way. When, where, of whom, into what circumstances, with what nature and equipment and also with what disadvantages and drawbacks—all this we must forever take just as it came to us and cannot by any struggle of our own change in the slightest degree.

Over the second we are master and decide when, where and how we will yield to the Lord's offers of mercy and be graciously born into new life of the spirit of God. This is more important in some respects than the matter of our physical birth. That introduced us to the physical world; this opens to us the whole life of God.

It is also of some importance how and when and where we die in body. And yet not nearly so momentous a fact as most of us seem to think. To many the pain of passing is what gives most concern. Others are more occupied with the thought of the unfathomed mystery beyond and with dread of the vast unknown which stretches the other side of death.

The most glorious fact which is connected with human life we take to be that of the resurrection. It is the culmination of all past existence and the gateway into the unexplored and illimitable realms of all worthy and desirable being. It is the termination of all peril of the earthly and the triumph of all the divine elements which have through all the past contended for mastery within us.

No other religion the world ever saw or will ever see has another such day as this. Death has stood from the beginning of human history as the dread mysterious fact from which there was no escape. No gods of any nation have been able to give any hope or any ray of light in the gloom. The glory and strength of Christianity are in the fact that she has a Redeemer from present sin who can give perfect peace of soul here and now and who is Lord also of life itself not only in this world, but also in all worlds. He is resurrection and life.

The glory of resurrection for us lies in the fact that Jesus was the eternal fullness of the Godhead before He was man and possessed all power. He became perfect man, the race man, the head man, who knows us altogether and has lived the one only true manly life which the world has ever seen. He has died the death as we must die. But He has been raised by the power of the Father and placed at the right hand of power in the heavens—our Saviour. In the likeness of His resurrection shall we be raised if we share his life here on the earth.

Let us hold fast our profession of faith. I believe in the resurrection of the dead. This is the glad tidings we have for all men. This is the hope which holds us fast in all the troubles of life. Because He lives we shall live also and be like Him.

Beat a Charge.

God calls you to go forward now. I have heard the story of a day of battle when the tide of defeat was rising and a general called a drummer boy to his side and said, "You may beat a retreat." The boy looked one moment at the yielding standards of his people and answered quickly, "Sire, the marshal never taught me to beat a retreat, but I can beat a charge most gloriously." "Beat a charge, then," said the general, and together they rushed along the line of the fugitive troops. And the thrill of it caught the souls of the soldiers; back turned the lines, and the banners were planted on the enemy's stronghold because one boyish heart had been true and quick to beat a charge at the critical moment.—Rev. Ozora S. Davis, D. D.

The [illegible]

We hear much in these days about what men will do for money, but the lust of gain is, after all, not the mightiest force at the heart of human achievement. Men have done and will do more at the call of love than any other call, and that fact should make a man an optimist all his days.—Forward.

Gems of Sermons.

Love is the quality that appreciates values.—Dr. Rainsford.

The soul is not so much where it lives as where it loves.—Ralph Venning.

God estimates us not by the position we are in, but by the way in which we fill it.—Edwards.

The youth who surrenders himself to a great ideal himself becomes great.—Emerson.

And for success I ask no more than this—to bear unflinching witness to the truth.—Lowell.

Patience means the readiness to wait God's time without doubting God's truth.—Arthur T. Hadley.

Every sin journeys forward fully equipped with instruments for its own punishment.—Hillis.

When I speak let me think first: Is it true? Is it kind? Is it necessary? If not, let it be unsaid.—Maltbie D. Babcock.

I should infinitely rather feel myself the most miserable wretch on the face of the earth, with a God above me, than the highest type of man standing alone.—Tennyson.

"One moment," I said, "and I'll see what's the trouble."

I thought my grandfather took it, but the flame of my wax match showed her fingers clasping the wire frame. The cloak slipped away, showing her arm's soft curve, the blue and white of her bodice, the purple blur of violets; and for a second I saw her face, with a smile quivering about her lips. My grandfather was beating the ground impatiently with his stick, urging us to leave the lantern and go on.

"Let it alone," he said. "I'll go down through the chapel; there's a lantern in there somewhere."

"I'm awfully sorry," she said, "but I recently lost my best lantern!"

To be sure she had! I was angry that she should so brazenly recall the night I found her looking for Pickering's notes in the passage at the Door of Bewilderment!

She had lifted the lantern now, and I was striving to touch the wax taper to the wick, with imminent danger to my bare fingers.

"They don't really light well when the oil's out," she observed, with an exasperating air of wisdom.

I took it from her hand and shook it close to my ear.

"Yes; of course, it's empty," I muttered disdainfully, and threw it from me.

"Oh, Mr. Glenarm!" she cried, turning away toward my grandfather.

I heard his stick beating the rough path several yards away. He was hastening toward Glenarm House.

"I think Mr. Glenarm has gone home."

"Oh, that is too bad!" she exclaimed.

"Thank you! He's probably at the chapel by this time. If you will permit me—"

"Not at all!"

A man in the sixties should not tax his arteries too severely. I was quite sure that my grandfather ran up the chapel steps; I could hear his stick beating hurriedly on the stones.

"If you wish to go farther"—I began.

I was indignant at my grandfather's conduct; he had deliberately run off, leaving me alone with a young woman whom I had resolved never to see again.

"Thank you; I shall go back now. I was merely walking to the gate with Mr. Glenarm. It is so fine to have him back again, so unbelievable!"

It was just such a polite murmur as one might employ in speaking to an old foe at a friend's table.

She listened a moment for his step; then, apparently satisfied, turned back toward St. Agatha's. I followed, uncertain, hesitating, marking her definite onward flight. From the folds of her cloak stole the faint perfume of violets. The sight of her, the sound of her voice, combined to create—and to destroy!—a mood with every step.

I was seeking some colorless thing to say when she spoke over her shoulder:

"You are very kind, but I am not the least afraid, Mr. Glenarm."

"But there is something I wish to say to you, now that we have met. I should like—"

She slackened her step.

"Yes."

"I am going away."

"Yes; of course; you are going away."

Her tone implied that this was something that had been ordained from the beginning of time, and did not matter.

"And I wish to say a word about Mr. Pickering," I added.

She paused and faced me abruptly. We were at the edge of the wood, and the school lay quite near. She caught the cloak closer about her and gave her head a little toss I remembered well, as a trick compelled by the vagaries of woman's headdress.

"I can't talk to you here, Mr. Glenarm; I had no intention of ever seeing you again; but I must say this to you—"

"Those notes of Pickering's—I shall ask Mr. Glenarm to give them to you—as a mark of esteem from me."

She stepped backward as though I had struck her.

"You risked much for them—and for him—" I went on.

"Mr. Glenarm, I have no intention of discussing that, or any other matter with you—"

"It is better so—"

"But your accusations, the things you imply, are unjust, infamous!"

The quaver in her voice shook my resolution to deal harshly with her.

"If I had not myself been a witness—" I began.

"Yes; you have the conceit of your own wisdom, I dare say."

"But that challenge to follow you, to break my pledge; my running away, only to find that Pickering was close at my heels; your visit to the tunnel in search of those notes—don't you know that those things were a blow that hurt? You had been the spirit of this woodland to me. Through all these months, from the hour I watched you paddle off into the sunset in your canoe, the thought of you made the days brighter—steadied and cheered me, and awakened ambitions that I had forgotten—abandoned—long ago. And this hideous struggle here—it seems so idle, so worse than useless now! But I'm glad I renewed you—I'm glad neither fortune nor duty kept me back. And now I want you to know that Pickering shall not suffer for anything that has happened. I shall not punish him; for your sake he shall go free."

A sigh so deep that it was like a sob broke from her. She thrust forth her hand entreatingly.

"Why don't you go to him with your generosity? You are so ready to believe ill of me! And I shall not defend myself; but I will say these things to you, Mr. Glenarm: I had no idea, no thought of seeing him at the Armstrong's,—it was a surprise to me—and to them—when he telegraphed he was coming. And when I went into the tunnel there under the wall that night, I had a purpose—a purpose—"

"Yes?" She paused and I bent forward, earnestly waiting for her words, knowing that here lay her great offending.

"I was afraid—I was afraid that Mr. Glenarm might not come in time; that you might be dispossessed—lose the fight, and I came back with Mr. Pickering because—that was the easiest and quickest way—and I thought some dreadful thing might happen here—to you—"

She turned and ran from me with the speed of the wind, the cloak fluttering out darkly about her. At the door, under the light of the lamp, I was close upon her. Her hand was on the vestibule latch.

"But how should I have known?" I cried, "when you had taunted me with my imprisonment at Glenarm: you had dared me to follow you. If you can tell me—if there is an answer to that—"

"I shall never tell you anything—more! You were so eager to think ill of me—to accuse me!"

"It was because I love you; it was my jealousy of that man, my boyhood enemy, that made me catch at any doubt! You are so beautiful—you are so much a part of the peace, the charm of all this! I had hoped for spring—for you and the spring together!"

"Oh, please—!"

Her flight had shaken the toque to an unwonted angle; her breath came quick and hard as she tugged at the latch eagerly. The light from overhead was full upon us, but I could not go with hope and belief struggling unsatisfied in my heart. I seized her hands and sought to look into her eyes.

"But you challenged me—to follow you! I want to know why you did that!"

She drew away, struggling to free herself.

"Why was it, Marian?"

"Because I wanted—"

"Yes?"

"I wanted you to come, Squire Glenarm!"

My history of the affair at Glenarm has overrun the bounds I had set for it, and these, I submit, are not days for the desk and pen. Marian is turning over the sheets of manuscript that lie at my left elbow and demanding that I quit work for a walk abroad. My grandfather is pacing the terrace outside, planning, no doubt, those changes in the grounds that are his constant delight.

Of some of the persons concerned in this winter's tale let me say a word more. The prisoner whom Larry left behind we discharged after several days with all the honors of war, and (I may add without breach of confidence) a comfortable indemnity. Larry has made a reputation by his book on Russia—a searching study into the conditions of the Czar's empire, and, having squeezed that lemon, he is now in Tibet. His father has secured from the British government a promise of immunity for Larry, so long as that amiable adventurer keeps away from Ireland. My friend's latest letters to me contain, I note, no reference to The Sod.

Bates is in California conducting a fruit ranch, and when he visited us last Christmas he bore all the marks of a gentleman whom the world uses well. Stoddard's life has known many remarkable changes in the three years that have passed, but they must wait for another day, and, perhaps, another historian. Suffice it to say that it was he who married us—Marian and me—in the little chapel by the wall, and that when he comes now and then to visit us, we renew our impression of him as a man large of body and of soul. Sister Theresa continues at the head of St. Agatha's, and she and the other Sisters of her brown-clad company are delightful neighbors. Pickering's failure and subsequent disappearance were described sufficiently in the newspapers, and his name is never mentioned at Glenarm.

As for myself—Marian is tapping the floor restlessly with her boot and I must hasten—I may say that I am no idler. It was I who carried on the work of finishing Glenarm House, and I manage the farms which my grandfather has lately acquired in this neighborhood. But better still, from my own point of view, I maintain in Chicago an office as consulting engineer, and I have already had several important commissions.

Glenarm House is now what my grandfather had wished to make it, a beautiful and dignified mansion. He insisted on filling up the tunnel, so that the Door of Bewilderment is no more. The passage in the wall and the strong box in the paneling of the chimney-breast remain, though the latter we use now as a hiding place for certain prized bottles of rare whisky which John Marshall Glenarm ordains shall be taken down only on Christmas Eves, to drink the health of Olivia Gladys Armstrong. That young woman, I may add, is now a belle in her own city, and of the scores of youngsters all the way from Pittsburg to New Orleans who lay siege to her heart, my word is, may the best man win!

Marian—the most patient of women—is walking toward the door, eager for the sunshine, the free airs of spring, the blue vistas lakeward, and at last I am ready to go.

The End.

BAMBERGER'S
"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"
MARKET, HALSEY & BANK STS.

"ELBECO"
Sewing Machines

WE ARE GLAD TO COME OUT OPENLY AND PRINT THE DETAILS OF OUR CLUB PLAN, BECAUSE WE CONFIDENTLY BELIEVE IT TO BE THE MOST LIBERAL OFFER OF ITS KIND BEFORE THE PUBLIC TODAY. OUR PROPOSITION IS SIMPLE—LIBERAL—AND WE COURT THE CLOSEST INVESTIGATION.

Four Reasons Why the "Elbeco" Should be in Every Home

Our club plan exacts nothing from you—we ask no "club fees"—no interest. There are no "extras" or veiled clauses to disturb you. Our "Elbeco" sells for $22.50—you simply pay $2 down and the balance as you sew, $1 a week, or by the month if you so desire.

Our price is $22.50. The maker, whose capacity, by the way, is only exceeded by one other concern in the world, is obliged to ask from $45 to $60 in order to protect his "agents." You save from one-half to two-thirds.

The "Elbeco" is the only machine in the world having adjustable ball bearings and ball retainers the same as a bicycle. Can you imagine what this means to a busy all day sewer?

Our "Elbeco" has the latest automatic drop head, improved lock stitch; positive feed and take-up; self-threading shuttle; automatic tension; automatic bobbin winder; friction roller beneath feed; capped needle bar—all points of cardinal interest.

WE HAVE SOLD HUNDREDS OF THESE MACHINES DURING THE PAST FOUR WEEKS—SIMPLY ASK SOME ONE WHO HAS BEEN WISE ENOUGH AND FORTUNATE ENOUGH TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OUR OFFER, $22.50. . . . . .

COFFIN-SHAPED JOKE.

Barber Pole Stolen in Atlantic City Expressed to Ohio.

Atlantic City, March 21.—Practical jokers who stole a barber-pole from in front of the Reed apartment house shop here are being searched for by the owners of the building, who declare there will be arrests.

The pole was expressed in a coffin-shaped box to New Howson, formerly bandmaster at the Inlet here, and at Willow Grove, but now in Alliance, O. The surprised musician had paid the expressage before he opened the box and discovered the gift with an accompanying note.

He sold the pole to a barber there to get back his money, and the irate barber here appealed to the police to recover the cost of a new pole.

The Rev. Stanley White Elected.

Orange, March 21.—Notice of his election as one of the secretaries of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions was sent yesterday to the Rev. Stanley White, pastor of the Hillside Presbyterian church, Orange. That he was likely to be chosen to fill the place leaked out last week. Mr. White has not made public his intention in regard to the call. This will give the board two secretaries from the Oranges, the other being the Rev. Dr. Arthur J. Brown, who has been connected with it for many years.

MISS WARRICK THE BRIDE OF FREDERICK SQUIRES.

Son of Mrs. Henry Squires Married New York Girl Yesterday.

Miss Ethel Warrick, daughter of Mrs. William Warrick, of New York, and Frederick Squires, of this city, son of Mrs. Henry C. Squires, of Watchung avenue, were married in the Church of the Ascension, New York, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the rector of the church and was witnessed by 300 guests.

Lewis Squires, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were G. Harry Squires, Dr. Charles Squires, Walter Squires, brothers of the groom, and Frank Warrick, brother of the bride. The bride was unattended.

Miss Warrick was gowned in white satin and wore a hat to match. She was given away by her uncle.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Grosvernor Hotel and later Mr. and Mrs. Squires left on a trip. At its conclusion they will make their home at Truell Court.

Champ Clark On Mud.

Champ Clark created indignation in the New England House delegation in general yesterday, and that of Massachusetts in particular, by solemnly asseverating thus:

"Enough mud is carried from their banks annually by the Missouri and Mississippi rivers to make a state of the Union bigger than Massachusetts—and maybe a better one, too."—Washington Herald.

MONEY BURIED MARTINE

Famer-Orator Warms Up on Purchased Elections Which Defeated His Ambitions.

SPEAKS AT EAST ORANGE

"I've Been Buried Out of Sight By Money"—Willing to Run For Governor.

"Farmer Orator" James E. Martine, the Gubernatorial possibility, was the principal speaker at a well attended meeting of the East Orange Democratic Club, last night, and incidentally explained that, while he had not expected to run for office again, he would be a poor American citizen were he to refuse the nomination for Governor if tendered him by the Democratic convention should that body-to-be decide it was wisest and for the best to name him. Mr. Martine, incidentally, promised, if named, to make the most aggressive contest for the office that was within his nature to do.

The declaration was not down on the programme, but former School Commissioner Julian A. Gregory, who was the Democratic nominee against Senator Everett Colby, put the question "up to" Mr. Martine in a positive manner after the latter's speech.

In his address to the club Mr. Martine waxed eloquent and had some hot shot for subjects of his criticism. He was frank in speaking of the uses of money in political caucuses and at elections, and said: "I've been buried out of sight by the pernicious money." He told of an incident when an old railroad man came to him and said: "Money you've got to have, and we've got it." The result was that Mr. Martine, then a candidate for office, replied that the money of the corporation the man represented would take out manhood and "to hell with it."

He said it was not always that vote purchasing was directly made, but when it was suggested that if a certain opposition occurred on the part of the voter, his mortgage would be foreclosed or other results would be accomplished; it was bribery "damnable and cruel, unholy and unjust." He added:

"Much as a man needs money for himself or for the wife he loves dearer than his own life, or for the babe at her breast, when the tempter comes say: 'This is the proudest day of my life.' Say to the proudest, 'You are but my peer," and to the highest, 'You are no more high. My place is the peoples' hal.'"

Mr. Martine had a word to say in criticism of the voting machines, and a hard word it was, too. He criticised the United States Senate as no more representative of the people than he was of the Protestant Episcopal church. He declared the members were seekers for special privileges. Of the defeats of his party he declared that, while the saying that the voice of the people is the voice of God might be literally right, it was not always true. He remarked of the railroads that when they first sought charters the people supported them, but the corporations had finally become dictators and controllers of the State legislatures.

It was largely attributable, he said, to the voice of William J. Bryan, referring to railroads and the rights of the public, that President Roosevelt had impelled, if not compelled, the teeth of the railroad men to chatter and their bones to rattle. Wall street, he said, was clamoring about collapses. The cause of the people and humanity was being aided, though, he said, and the corporations must not think the people, without a whimper, would stand for these "pirates" enriching themselves at their expense.

In the Borough Court.

A stranger from Plainfield with an unpronouncable name was arraigned in the borough court, last night, charged by Marshal Flack with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. It cost him $3 to get the chance to cross back over the brook. Another unknown fell into the hands of Marshal Pope last night and was released for appearance tonight by depositing $5 bail.

Ambrose Campbell to Resign.

Ambrose Campbell, who has been a driver in the borough fire department for over a year, has decided to quit the place and will tender his resignation at the next Council meeting. He will enjoy a vacation for a short time and after that has a new position in view.

Charles Sebring to Build.

Charles P. Sebring has resumed operations on his new building, adjoining the Babcock building on West Front street. He has plans for making the structure three stories in height and it will be in keeping with the adjoining property, with an attractive front.

DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION FOR PASTOR AND WIFE

CONGREGATION ATTENDS FUNCTIONS IN HONOR DR. AND MRS. CHAMBLISS.

The annual reception of the members of the First Baptist church and congregation to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, held last night in the Sunday-school room, proved a delightful social affair. There were no formalities and the large number of people present spent a pleasant evening. The rooms were attractively decorated, chiefly with beautiful flowers from the conservatories of Charles W. McCutchen. These included American Beauty and other kinds of roses, while a number of palms were furnished by Mrs. L. J. Denton.

Dr. and Mrs. Chambliss received the guests, assisted by these wives of the officers of the church: Mrs. E. L. Bonny, Mrs. George H. Batchelor, Mrs. George F. Brown, Mrs. B. J. Shreve, Mrs. Samuel P. Case, Mrs. T. B. Aldrich, Mrs. Reuben Knox, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen, Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph, Mrs. J. Herbert Case, Mrs. L. W. Randolph, Mrs. T. S. Armstrong, Mrs. David J. Yerkes, wife of the former pastor, was also among those who received the best wishes of the church people with whom she has been associated many years. The greetings on the part of the pastor and his wife and people was hearty, showing the cordial relations existing between them. Mrs. Chambliss was the recipient of beautiful flowers from the women of the church. The forepart of the evening was devoted to receiving the guests, and an added feature was a fine programme by the Sagamore Musical Club. Later in the evening refreshments were served under the direction of several committees.

Mrs. B. J. Shreve was the general chairman of the affair; Mrs. George H. Robins secretary, and Mrs. J. Herbert Case treasurer. The refreshment committee comprised Mrs. Samuel St. John McCutchen, chairman; Mrs. Harold Serrell, Mrs. George H. Robins, Mrs. George H. Batchelor, Mrs. W. R. Codington, Mrs. S. W. Dunning and Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins. They were assisted by these waitresses, the Misses Ada Fountain, Pauline Denton, Helen Robins, Annis Kinsman, Helen Armstrong, Margaret Chambliss, Bessie Flanders, Marion Hall, Marguerite Serrell, Josephine Serrell, Elizabeth McGee, Marion Rocap, Amy Moore, Gladys Leland, Helen Adams, Marguerite Lee, Mabel Cubberly, Ethel King, Arline Carver, Edna Cronce, Bertha Miles, Hazel Grant and Adelaide Harrison.

The decorating committee comprised Mrs. Walter M. McGee, chairman; Mrs. Edward T. Wilson, Miss May Shreve, Miss Ella Serrell, Miss Ida Yerkes and Miss Pauline Denton. Mrs. George A. Chapman and Mrs. Robert Lowry arranged for the music and Mrs. Harold Serrell planned for the flowers. Others who assisted were Mrs. Frank W. Jones, Mrs. J. A. Powlison, Mrs. George White, Mrs. Charles H. Smith, Mrs. George F. Brown and Mrs. Reuben Knox.

THREE HOURS DEVOTION AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

Good Friday Services Arranged by Rev. George A. Warner.

The services at Holy Cross church on Good Friday will be of the same devotional character as last year. The first services will be morning prayer and ante-communion at 9:30 o'clock. At 12 o'clock noon will begin the "Three Hours of Devotion" service, terminating at 3 o'clock. The boy choir will assist throughout this service. The short sermons and meditations given by the rector will be as follows: The first word from the Cross: The Sanctification of Human Relations; the second word: The Sanctification of Influence; the third word: The Sanctification of The Home; the fourth word: Pain; the fifth word: Desire; the sixth word: Work; the seventh word: Rest.

It is generally understood that one may come in or go out quietly for a part of the service during the three hours. A leaflet with printed prayers, meditations and familiar hymns will be found in the pews. Christian people generally, whether members of Holy Cross or not, are welcome at this service.

At the close of the service an offering will be taken and the amount given to the choir boys who have assisted at the services during Lent.

The evening service will be at 7:45, with a brief address by the rector.

FEARED COWBOY TROUPE

Mrs. Ohl Asked For Police Protection After Getting Attachment.

LIEN ON HIS MULES

Said to Have Eaten Corn Shucks, Hay and Parts of Mrs. Ohl's Barn—Rumor of Rescue Upset Her.

The troupe of trained mules owned by Edward Conway, who exhibited them here last summer, has been attached by Mrs. Caroline J. Ohl, of Central avenue, at whose stock farm the animals have been boarded during the fall and winter. Mrs. Ohl claims they have done $300 damage to her place.

Mrs. Ohl got out the attachment in the district court on Wednesday. She said the mules had eaten up all her corn shucks, a lot of hay, and had made her barn look as if a cyclone passed through it. She heard Conway was making ready to remove the mules from the State and she wanted an attachment to check him.

She heard later in the day that Conway had hired an Indian and three cowboys at the Hippodrome, New York, to take the mules away after dark, and Wednesday night she sent her daughter, Adel von Ohl, who rode at the Hippodrome last year, to police headquarters with a call for help. She understood that the wild western troupe was to come for the mules at midnight, and that the cowboys had been instructed to lasso everybody who tried to interfere and tie them to trees. Sergeant Overbaugh said he would keep himself in readiness to send out assistance when it was needed.

No call came, and the mules were still within reach this morning. It was said that the claim was being settled. Conway said he had men go to repair the barn yesterday. At the district court it was said that, the case being in process of settlement, the attachment had not been served. V. W. Nash, Jr., is Mrs. Ohl's lawyer.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES ARE IN A DELEMMIA

NOT UNTIL CONSOLIDATION AGITATION IS SETTLED CAN ACTION BE TAKEN.

"According to the statement of James R. Joy, president of the North Plainfield Board of Education, published in the annual report, the residents of the borough are confronted with two important things. One is that at the present normal rate of growth the taxpayers will within two years at the furthest be confronted by the necessity of half-time classes, or of erecting additions, or new buildings—unless indeed within that time consolidation with Plainfield in some form shall be brought about.

"The other alternative," says Mr. Joy, "is that in the failure of such a union I believe we should soon take into consideration plans for erecting a worthy High School building of our own, designed for this special purpose, and provided with the necessary laboratories, gymnasium and assembly room. Such a building would relieve our High School of some of its existing disadvantages, and would vacate sufficient space in the Somerset building to accommodate the probable annual increase of primary and grammar grade pupils for a dozen years to come.

"This problem is fortunately not one to be decided this year, but it is offered for the consideration of those citizens who are interested in the welfare of our schools. We cannot much longer postpone the question of providing the best accommodation for the boys and girls of today, upon whose proper training rests the future of the commonwealth."

Amateurs in Comedy.

An amateur play was acted by members of Lakeside Council, D. of L., of New Market, last night, at a social session. A one-act comedy entitled "A Love of a Bonnet," was presented, with the following in the cast: Mrs. Fanny Coriell, Mrs. Chas. Day, Miss Mabel Cole, Miss Kate Coriell, Miss Irene Day, Mrs. Ogden Meeker. The playlet scored a great success. Refreshments were served after the play.

"Uncle Dan" Roberts' Condition.

The condition of former Councilman Dan S. Roberts, who has been seriously ill at his home on Prospect place, was reported today as being very low. He has retained consciousness all along but he has been so weak the past two days that it is not possible for friends to see him.

TEAM FOR STATE MEET

Y. M. C. A. Athletes Who Will Represent Plainfield Association Picked Out.

POTENTIAL CHAMPIONS

Only One Other Association Is Feared By Physical Director Listman and He Thinks It Can Be Passed.

Names of nine athletes who are to represent Plainfield in the State meet of the Y. M. C. A. at Paterson on March 30 were made public by Physical Director Listman this morning. The team has been picked carefully, after rigorous try-outs in local and dual intercity competitions, and Mr. Listman expects his men to bring he championship to this city.

These are the men who will battle for Plainfield's supremacy against the pick of New Jersey Y. M. C. A. athletes: C. D. Burgess (captain), in running high jump, standing broad jump, 220-yard run; E. M. Templin, 15-yard dash, 220-yard run; Henry Viebrock, fence vault, 220-yard run; William Banks, 15-yard dash, 220-yard run; Walter Lueder, running high jump, fence vault, standing broad jump; Harvey Douglass, 15-yard dash, 220-yard run; William Odell, running high jump, shot-put, 220-yard run; Paul R. Collier, shot-put; R. H. Collins, shot-put; R. J. Lawrence, standing broad jump, shot-put, fence vault.

Orange is the only association Plainfield fears. The Orange athletes are dangerous, but Mr. Listman is confident his men can outpoint them. He has doped about eighteen points for the winning total, and he can see his team piling that much without straining his dope shee: any. Three firsts would put the Plainfield team on Easy street, or a couple of firsts and a bunch of seconds to weight the bag would do the trick.

MR. DEPEW MAKES ANSWER TO COUNCILMAN

HE SAYS MR. MONTGOMERY RUSHED INTO PRINT TOO HASTILY.

President R. Henry Depew, of the Plainfield Protective Association, sent a letter to The Daily Press today in answer to Councilman Montgomery's statement in respect of the publication of the P. P. A. report on lighting conditions in Plainfield. Mr. Montgomery pointed out that he had not received the report as soon as he understood Mr. Depew to have averred he did get it.

Mr. Depew's letter is as follows:

"I have recently returned after an absence of several weeks and I note Mr. Montgomery's remarks in your issue of February 19.

"I regret being obliged to have any further correspondence over the matter but as Mr. Montgomery has insinuated that my statement that the report of the expert was sent to the Council before being published, was not correct, it is due to myself and the Protective Association that I should correct the impression conveyed.

"It is true that a copy of the report was not sent to Mr. Montgomery on the same day the others were sent out, owing to the fact that his name was not on the list—he not being a member of the association. I discovered the omission the next day and immediately sent him a copy. Notwithstanding this delay my statement was perfectly correct, as copies had been sent to the Mayor and four members of the Council, who are members of the association.

"As I could have no possible reason for holding back Mr. Montgomery's copy, other than the oversight mentioned, I am sorry that he also should have rushed into print without first ascertaining the facts."

Mission Workers Will Speak.

E. C. Mercer, assistant superintendent of the Jerry McAuley Mission, Water street, New York, himself a product of the mission, together with three men from the mission, will speak at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Sunday night. Mr. Mercer has recently been holding meetings at Yale and other colleges, speaking in the different fraternity houses and other places on the evils of social drinking. The reports show that Mr. Mercer exerted a great influence for good among the students.

Mrs. Thomas T. Terroll.

Mrs. Nora Terroll, wife of Thomas T. Terroll, died yesterday at her home on Manson place. She was forty-two years old and leaves several children. The funeral will be held at St. Mary's church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

SEAMON SON CO. FAILS

Contracting Firm Building Telephone Structures Makes an Assignment.

AND THE WORK STOPS

Will Pay Local Creditors Dollar for Dollar—Workingmen Paid In Full.

Notice was given to creditors and employees in this city, yesterday, that the L. W. Seaman Son Company, of Brooklyn, which has been erecting the new telephone building on East Fourth street, had made an assignment. A representative of the firm came to Plainfield and paid off in full all the men at work on the telephone structure. He also visited the creditors, most of whom have supplied materials, and stated that the company's embarassment is only temporary and that within a short time the affairs will be righted. He declared that every claim would eventually be paid in full.

The suspension of the firm's business will delay the completion of the telephone building but very little as it would have been finished inside of two months. At the present time the upper floors are in the hands of the telephone men who are installing the wires and switchboards and the Seaman employees were only engaged in completing the ground floor. An official of the telephone company said today that in the event of the contractors finding it impossible to go ahead they would take hold of the work themselves.

The Seaman Son Company is a Brooklyn concern and has put up a large number of telephone buildings for the New York and New Jersey Company. At the present time, in addition to the Plainfield structure, it is erecting a much larger one for the same people at Flushing, L. I. The contract price for the local building was about $52,000. The Seamans took it entire and sub-let the heating, plumbing, etc., to local firms, though a member of the concern has exercised entire supervision. The Seamans are one of the biggest building companies in Greater New York and frequently take contracts at $1,000,000 and over.

REV. MR. BRIDWELL SAYS WE ARE TOO PROUD

AND THAT OUR PASTORS SQUIRT COLOGNE AT US.

Rev. C. W. Bridwell, the Denver exhorter brought here by the Pillar of Fire folk to lead their campaign in Plainfield, spoke again last night at a meeting in Reform Hall. He scolded the churches and society. His audience was large enough to fill the lower floor; many colored people were in it.

Mr. Bridwell said Christ couldn't be sure of a welcome anywhere in Plainfield, if He came. The great majority of the homes would not receive Him and not one of the churches.

Mr. Bridwell launched forth against the town and became rather breathless before he finished. He said Plainfield was full of nasty, low, mean and contemptible pride, cursed with so-called aristocracy. What, in the name of High Heaven, Mr. Bridwell wanted to know, had Plainfielders of which to be proud? The fact that they had blue blood and belonged to the bon ton tea-drinking set would not save them from hell.

Mr. Bridwell said the pastors of Plainfield were too easy on the people. They squirted cologne. He, Bridwell of Denver, who had travelled 2,000 miles without money and without price, didn't purpose to squirt cologne. Then he went on to substantiate his declaration of independence.

One of the brethren who seemed to be in charge told a reporter that the meetings might be continued after Sunday. They would be held until Sunday, at least, and there was a chance that the crusade woud be carried on for another week.

Trio Issues Challenge.

The Nehemiah Brooks Trio, which has been appearing in this city the past few days, is open to contest with any all-round musicians for the world's championship in performing on different instruments. JUNIORS' MINSTRELS GIVE INITIAL SHOW

FRANKLIN COUNCIL'S TROUPE APPLAUDED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Talented members of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., provided a minstrel entertainment for friends of the organization, last night, and made a reputation for themselves that will last a long time. The audience was one of the largest that has ever been in Junior Hall and proof that it was pleased was found in hearty applause and spontaneous laughter.

The curtain was thrown back on the customary first part half circle, all the members being in blackface and appropriate costume. William C. Smith, Jr., presided at the piano and under his direction the musical numbers were rendered faultlessly. Harry Knight was in the center as interlocutor and the end men were George D. Wilson and Harry Hoffman, bones; William J. Firstbrook and Joseph M. Sweeney, tambos. In this part the following numbers were rendered: "The Songs of the Rag Time Boys," by the end men; "Good-bye, Mr. Greenback," Harry H. Hoffman; "When the Sonwbirds Cross the Valley," Clarence Rittenhouse; "Niggah Lubs His Possum," Joseph M. Sweeney; "In the Old Familiar Nook Down by the Brook," Harry Knight; "I've Got a Vacant Room in My Heart For You," William J. Firstbrook; "I Kinder Likes to Have You Fussin' Round," George D. Wilson; "He's a Cousin of Mine," George Townley; "If the Man in the Moon Were a Coon," Firstbrook and Wilson; finale, "Good-bye Glory," entire company.

Following the first part, olio numbers were furnished by Ira C. Bowers, Plainfield's popular song and dance artist; the Musical Stewarts and George D. Wilson, who gave a monologue, "Is Everybody Happy?" The entertainment closed with an afterpiece entitled "No Pay—No Cure," in which William J. Firstbrook, Harry Hoffman and Harry Knight took the principal parts and William Hartpence, George Townley, LeRoy DeCamp and Bordman Mosher acted as patients.

The show was arranged by the good and welfare committee of the council, composed of LeRoy DeCamp, chairman; William J. Firstbrook, George D. Wilson, Ephraim Compton and Clarence Bilyeu. The troupe was instructed and rehearsed by William C. Smith, Jr., to whom credit is due for the greater part of the entertainment's success. Russel Hazzard acted as stage manager and in addition to the interlocutor and end men the chorus was composed of the following: LeRoy DeCamp, Stephen Millwater, Borman Mosher, Budd Strader, Clarence Rittenhouse, William Hartpence, Clarence Bilyeu, George Rittenhouse and Joseph Penbrook.

CONGREGATION'S RECEPTION FOR REV. AND MRS. FINN.

Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school Greets Pastor and His Wife.

The informal reception and entertainment tendered by the officers of the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday-school to the two adult Bible classes taught by Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Finn, was a pleasant affair at the church, last night, and was largely attended. The platform was decorated tastefully with potted plants and flowers.

The programme was made interesting by the appearance of the Nehemiah Brooks Trio, of Atlantic City. These entertainers play twelve different instruments with much skill. Two little girls also sang several selections. The programme included two vocal selections by Mrs. Thomas MacDonald, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Lewis.

An auction sale afforded much amusement. Harry C. Runyon acted as auctioneer. The names of all the members of the two classes in whose honor the social was given had been previously written in fancy letering upon the blackboard by Charles VanWinkle.

During the evening Superintendent George E. Hall presented Mr. and Mrs. Finn with a bunch of jonquils and a handsome vase. A feature was the distribution of candy through the audience at various times by Miss Arline Brown. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee were served. The whole affair was planned by Superintendent George E. Hall. The committee consisted of Mrs. Nelson Runyon, Mrs. John DeLany, Mrs. Charles VanWinkle, Mrs. Wheaton S. Lowry and Miss Florence G. Hawkins. The watiresses were the Misses Emily Runyon, Bessie Giles, Mary E. Clark, Florence Cuming, Nellie Giles, Lulu Stryker, Viola Hillyer, Cora Brokaw, Elizabeth Van Winkle, Madeline Fisher and Arline Brown.

Miss Florence Ackor will sing at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon.

WOMEN HUNT FOR NEGRO

Wallace Had Terrorized One of Them, After Behaving Indecently.

SIXTY DAYS IN JAIL

After Gross Behavior the Man Tried to Force His Way Into House Where Unprotected Woman Was.

For acting in an indecent manner and terrorizing a woman, Grant Wallace, colored, who describes himself as a hod-carrier, 25 years old, living at Cranford, was sent to the county jail by City Judge Runyon this morning for sixty days.

Mrs. Patrick Connolly, whose home is near that of George H. Burgess, of 1057 Central avenue, where her husband is employed, telephoned for the police from the Burgess house yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. She said the negro had been acting in a disorderly way about her house for nearly a half an hour. Roundsman Higgins and Driver O'Gorman went out in answer to the call in the patrol wogan, and ran Wallace down near Mrs. Connolly's house.

When the policemen reached the scene several of the domestics in the Burgess house and women of the neighborhood had armed themselves with brooms, pokers and mops, and were just starting out after the negro with Mrs. Connolly. She had seized a poker when she first realized that the negro was intent on mischief. Wallace had been cornered, and Higgins said he stood a good chance of rough usage as the patrol wagon came up. Wallace ran from the officers, but was caught without much trouble.

Mrs. Connolly told the court that Wallace, after acting in a filthy manner, had sought to force an entrance to the house. Seizing a poker with which to protect herself, she fled to the Burgess residence, and telephoned to the police.

Wallace told a whining story of sudden illness to Judge Runyon, but Chief Kiely discredited it with a statement from Dunellen residents, who had reported that a negro answering Wallace's description had behaved in an indecent manner in Dunellen on Wednesday night.

TRINITY CHURCH SOCIAL AFFORDED AMUSEMENT.

Endeavorers Have Lots of Fun in all Sorts of Games.

Under the auspices of the social and reception committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church, an entertainment was held in the lecture room last night. There was a large attendance of Endeavorers and their friends. The first part of the evening was devoted to what was called a "spiral shake-down," which was intended to give all an opportunity to get acquainted.

An amusing game consisted of distributing ten clothes pins to each person, the object being to get rid of them as quickly as possible, which they did by answering "yes" or "no" to any question propounded. The advertisement game afforded lots of fun. Numerous advertisements were displayed about the room, the young people being required to guess the names. Another unique feature was a boat race. Curious shaped card board was placed on strings stretched across the room and they were made to move by blowing at them. The objects were made to represent various countries and there was considerable merriment on the part of the young people in testing their lung power. Ireland was the winner. A potato race closed the evening's entertainment, after which refreshments were served. During the social hour following the society engaged in singing popular songs.

The committee in charge consisted of Miss May Randolph, chairman; Miss Eva Dunavan, Miss Eliza Dufford, Mrs. William Lindsay, F. M. Smith and Charles M. Dolliver.

New Ice Company Offers Stock.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company, recently organized for the purpose of engaging in the ice business at Watchung, offers a limited number of shares of stock for sale at $25 a share. Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock at the office of W. dela R. Anderson, 208 Park avenue, and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park avenue, where detailed information can be obtained about the company.

Boys' Entertainment.

G. E. Garretson, a "novelty" entertainer, amused a large audience last night at the last of the Boys' Star course. He played a half a dozen different instruments, told stories and did magic. He was much enjoyed and warmly applauded.

Dividend Notice!

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the NATIONAL MINING AND LEASING COMPANY held in the office of the company in the city of New York on the 19th day of March, 1907, a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum, payable monthly at one per cent. per month, commencing April 1st, 1907, was declared from the amount received from royalties advanced on mining contracts. Dividends will be paid on the par value of the shares issued from the treasury to stockholders of record on March 28th, 1907. Checks will be mailed. New Jersey office, 211 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

REV. E. E. ROBERSON CALLED TO ORANGE CHURCH.

Pastor of Monroe Avenue M. E. Church Accepts Invitation to a Large Field.

If the arrangement meets with the approbation of the Bishop who will preside at the Newark Conference to be held at Morristown, commencing April 2, Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will be appointed to the pastorate of the Methodist church at Orange, succeeding Rev. Frank McDaniels, who has received a call to the Methodist church at Passaic.

After Mr. Roberson told his people that he would remain with them another year, he received the flattering call to the Orange church, which is one of the largest in the conference. He explained the situation to his people and they kindly consented to release him from the previous agreement. Mr. Roberson came to Plainfield from Bound Brook a year ago, succeeding Rev. George Mooney, who was sent to South Orange. He has had a successful year, increasing the church membership to a large extent. While the church regrets to lose its pastor, it does not feel justified in standing in his way of securing a more lucrative charge.

Burglars Make Big Haul.

New York, March 22.—Driftwood, the summer home of Henry Siegel, at Oriental Point, Mamaroneck on the Sound, was entered by burglars on Wednesday night, and valuable paintings were cut from their frames, rare articles stolen from cabinets, costly rugs taken away and the entire place was turned topsy turvy. Mrs. Siegel said yesterday, after she arrived from New York on a hurried trip by automobile, that the loss would amount to nearly $100,000. The house was in charge of a gardener, who lives in a lodge several hundred feet away at the rear. Mrs. Siegel believes the robbery was committed by persons who were familiar with the interior of the house, and suspicion points to a former employe who was discharged. The only clew left by the thieves were two shirts, which were discarded during the night's work for better ones, found in one of the bedrooms. One of these, of good quality, has the name of "Muller" written in indelible ink on the neckband and the othe ris a coarse garment which might have been worn by a laborer.

'Frisco Boss Carefully Guarded.

San Francisco, March 22.—With two armed men watching him, who have orders to kill him if any attempt is made at escape or rescue, Abraham Ruef, indicted on sixty-five counts Wednesday for bribery in this city's graft cases, and whose bail was fixed at $650,000, is guarded more thoroughly than any prisoner in the United States. With the action of the Supreme Court the question of a place of detention for Ruef has again arisen. Distrusting the police and the Sheriff, Ruef has been kept in the St. Francis Hotel pending the decision of the Supreme Court as to the legality of his detention, in the custody of Elisor Biggy. Now that this question has been dropped by Ruef, the prosecution is casting about for a place of detention for Ruef. It has been decided to take an apartment or a private house.

Zelaya Is Winning.

Managua, Nicaragua, March 22.—The forces of Honduras and Salvador, numbering five thousand men, attacked the Nicaraguan positions at Namasikuo, but after three days and two nights of furious fighting the allied troops were completely defeated, leaving hundred of dead and wounded on the field. Many prisoners were taken, some of them important, and 2,000 rifles and war material were captured. The Salvador officers defeated were Generals Presa, Avelar, Colocho and Licona. Many Nicaraguans were wounded and a few were killed. Honduras revolutionists with Nicaraguan troops defeated General Lopez Garcia and Colonel Pedro Nelasco at Maraita, capturing many prisoners and much war material. The Nicaraguans are in possession of Ceiba, an important Honduran port.

Whale Wins 15-Mile Chase.

Amagansett, L. I., March 22.—A mammoth sperm whale was sighted yesterday morning a mile off shore opposite the Amagansett life saving station, and in less than a half hour five whaleboats and two power boats were in pursuit. They chased the whale fifteen miles along the coast, then lost it ten miles off Montauk Point, when it disappeared under the water. Captain "Josh" Edwards and his fleet, after watching for an hour for the whale to reappear, returned home. The captain thinks the whale settled down for a nap of eight or ten hours, and they are now waiting for it to bow again.

Bar Monument From Grave.

Rutland, Vt., March 22.—The grave of Mary Rogers, who was hanged in Windsor on December 8, 1905, for the murder of her husband, cannot have a monument to mark its place in Hoosick Falls, N. Y. A wealthy woman placed an order with Eugene Sullivan & Sons, of Barre, for a $600 granite shaft to adorn the grave. The monument is all ready except putting on the inscription, but the firm received word yesterday from the Augustinian Fathers that no stone of any kind can mark the grave. As the Augustinians have sole charge of the cemetery their word is final.

The House that GIVES the BEST Values on the Lowest Terms Without Deceptive Advertising

Our rapidly increasing Furniture business shows conclusively the values we are giving. Nowhere else are such values seen—and nowhere else are the terms so liberal.

Many furniture houses deceitfully advertise: "No Money Down"—but you soon find a deposit is required—that this is simply a bait.

Our customers ALWAYS find that we advertise only what we can actually fulfill—that every word is true.

We frankly say "A small deposit" will send your purchase home—that

OUR TERMS ARE THE MOST ACCOMODATING OBTAINABLE

That you can pay in small amounts that suit your circumstances—and all without "red tape" or other nuisances.

And we MEAN IT—EVERY WORD OF IT.

The one thing that has built up this tremendous business is our STRAIGHTFORWARD, HONEST METHODS—AFTER you buy as well as BEFORE you buy.

A GREAT ADVANTAGE

ONE ACCOUNT INSTEAD OF TWO AND THREE.

Here you can buy EVERYTHING—Clothing, Millinery, Shoes, Hats, Dry Goods, etc., and have only ONE creditor to satisfy, a splendid proposition when you are prosperous and still better when you meet with reverses.

We guarantee satisfaction to every customer and will at any time take back or exchange any article not satisfactory.

81-83 Market Street, NEWARK

The Largest and Most Popular Credit House

TO THE PUBLIC!

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company offer for subscription its stock in amounts to suit purchasers from $25 upward.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of erecting a dam to accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, for the purpose of ice cutting, and also erecting houses for storing the same. The lake thus formed will be approximately a mile long and a quarter of a mile at its widest part, and will yield a large quantity of ice.

The company, under the management of a Board of able Directors, will endeavor to reduce the cost of construction, maintenance, etc., to a minimum, and thus be able fo fill the demand of the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the remainder of the ice to outside markets at prices which will yield large profits.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors to sell the shares of the capital stock of the Company to residents of Plainfield, North Plainfield and vicinity, and thus allow them the privilege of sharing in the profits of the Company in the shape of dividends at the end of each year. To place this plan within the reach of all consumers of ice and to carry out the idea of a mutual Company, the Company will issue its stock in $25 shares.

As the Company is not to issue any bonds against its property it is obvious that each and all share holders will be doubly secured and will have first claim on the property and the works, the same being free and clear in every respect, and further are assured against loss in each step that the Company takes in bringing the project to completion as follows: First. The Company has already received offers for lake site at a considerable advance on the price that the stockholders will pay for it.

Second. The price paid for building dam will be over four times secured by the lake thus formed, a body of pure water of this size within so short a distance of New York being extremely valuable.

Third. Money expended for icehouses will complete the plant. The completed plant such as is proposed to erect should be worth on conservative estimation three times the total capitalization of the Company.

In securing the Directors of this Company, special effort was taken to get men of financial standing and ability, of character and good repute; men not only at the head of different prosperous corporations but also men holding public respect and confidence. This was done as the Company intends to be a People's Company, and, therefore, wishes to be directed by men of the people and by the people themselves.

The officers of the Company are:

President, Mr. Henry C. Wicker, Treasurer and Secretary of the Nassau Bond Company.

Vice-President, Mr. Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

Treasurer, Mr. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Treasurer, Mr. J. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Secretary, Mr. John J. Lordan, a Lawyer in New York City.

The Directors of the Company are:

Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

J. F. MacDonald, Director of City National Bank.

H. C. Wicker, Secretary and Treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company.

C. M. Wicker, President of the Nassau Bond Company.

E. G. F. du Mazuel, President of the Consolidated Engineering Company of America.

Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock of the Company at the office of Mr. Wadela R. Anderson, 208 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., at which offices subscription blanks and all detailed information relative to the above may be obtained.

The Company has chosen a local bank in which all funds, securities and moneys are to be deposited and through which all the Company's business is to be done.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Brotherhood of the First M. E. church will hold a business and social meeting in Vincent chapel tonight.

The free Lenten recital at the Church of the Holy Cross tomorrow afternoon will be the last one as next week will be Holy Week.

J. Edmund Skiff, organist at the First M. E. church, is preparing an elaborate programme to be rendered by the vested choir on Easter Sunday.

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, of Grace church, has consented to speak at the Union Good Friday service to be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. He will speak on the sentence, "Father Forgive Them for They Know Not What They Do."

The Schill String Quartette will assist at the Lenten musical service to be given at the First Baptist church on Thursday night, March 28, by the choir. "The Seven Words," by Dubois, and other selections will be given. Harp accompaniment will be a feature.

Rev. S. P. Simpson, formerly of this city, but now of New York, will preach at St. Stephen's church, tomorrow night. The rector, Rev. A. S. Peck, will preach on Friday night, March 29, and Bishop Scarborough will visit the church on Easter Sunday to confirm a large class.

Rev. Phillip M. Kerridge, of Easton, Pa., was the special preacher at Grace church Wednesday night. On Wednesday night, Rev. Charles Fiske, of Somerville, will preach, and a Passion service will be held Friday noon, March 29, which will be in charge of Rev. Melville K. Bailey.

PERSONAL.

C. C. Burke, Jr., of Belvidere avenue, has opened an office in New York for the practice of law.

Miss Irene Dunham, of West Front street, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Edward A. Myers, of Raritan.

Edward Mundy, of Stone street, who has been seriously ill at his home, has recovered sufficiently to be out again.

Mrs. Preston B. Goodfellow, of Netherwood avenue, who is quite ill with pneumonia, is reported as slightly improved.

Mrs. A. A. Tilney, Mrs. Townsend Rushmore and Mrs. William N. Nery, of Plainfield, are registered at the Chalfonte, Atlantic City.

Henry Warner, brother of Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, who has been seriously ill with blood poisoning at St. Luke's Hospital, New York, is much improved.

Roy Phillips, of Madison avenue, who received a severe injury to his knee a few weeks ago while getting off a Pennsylvania Railroad train at New Brunswick, was able to go out yesterday for the first.

WAS BALLOT BOX STUFFED?

Montclair, N. J., March 22.—"Oh! Who stuffed the ballot box?" This question was freely asked in Glen Ridge yesterday, and it is intimated that a trick has been played on the School Board. A school meeting, held in the borough Tuesday night, voted upon a proposition advanced by the Board to issue bonds in the sum of $35,000 for the erection of a New wing containing four rooms and a laboratory to the present school building.

Assembly Hall, where the meeting took place, was packed with voters, including about one hundred women who had braved the storm to exercise their legal right to vote on school matters. In the recent election on the post office question the women voted in the air, their ballots being placed in a separate box, but this time they were on an equal footing with the men and their tickets were triumphantly deposited in the one and same box—and counted. As there was much discussion, no vote was taken until after midnight.

It was nearly one o'clock when the ballots were all counted. The result showed that 270 votes had been cast, and of these 137 were in favor of the School Board's proposition and 133 against it, giving a majority of 3 for the School Board. Then one of the tellers discovered that, while 270 votes had been cast, only 266 names were on the list of voters, and that four ballots had been cast in excess of the legal number.

"That queers the whole business," shouted one of the School Board opponents. Former Assemblyman H. L. Johnstone, the assessor of the borough, entered a formal protest.

William Ford Upson, the President of the School Board, explained that they had recommended what they thought to be best for the borough. He did not state what further action would be taken.

—The improvements at Truell Hall are progressing so favorably that Mrs. Truell fully expects to open the remodelled hostelry early in May, as originally planned.

—The brick building on Somerset street, adjoining French' old mill, now used by Percy Dayton, is being town down and Mr. Dayton has moved his office into the mill. The building, which stood on ground purchased by the First National Bank, was removed to allow for extensive improvements planned by the bank directors.

HUNT NORTH BRANCH MAN.

Wife Tells Police Missing Husband Was Seen Here.

Mrs. Charles C. Sutphen, of North Branch, has asked the police of this city to help her search for her husband, who disappeared from North Branch six months ago. She says she has learned her husband was in Plainfield a week ago. The police had found no trace of him here up to noon today.

Will Hold Memorial Service.

Benevolent Band of the King's Daughters will hold a service in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in memory of Mrs. Margaret Bottome, who founded the International Order of the King's Daughters. An address will be made by Mrs. Isabelle Charles Davis, secretary of the National Council in New York, and by Mrs. John C. Bliss, wife of one of the former pastors of the Crescent Avenue church. She will tell of the beginning of the King's Daughters work here, while Mrs. Frederick G. Mead and Mrs. Charles A. Reed will tell of the growth and present work of the City Union of King's Daughters. All interested are invited.

Building Bridges.

The bridge gang which has been employed by the New Jersey Central repairing bridges in this city, has about completed its work in the east end and is now working on the Watchung avenue bridge, then the Park avenue bridge and so on through the city. The idea is to make the bridges sufficiently strong for the increased heavy traffic. The tracks are to be raised eight inches in front of the North Avenue Station. This will make the third time the bridges in this city have been rebuilt since Joseph A. Haynes has been connected with the company as station master.

Speeches at P. H. S. Debating Society

The weekly session of the Plainfield High School Debating Society was held yesterday. Several members delivered five-minute speeches. Louis de Bigard talked in the advantages of a law passing mark in examinations; a broad, comprehensive view of capital punishment was given by George H. Fisher, Jr.; an interesting account of the custom house methods of the United States and England was delivered by Stanley Fisher. "Wealth" was the subject of an article by Isidore Kunzman; that "It Pays to Advertise," was set forth in an able manner by William Lambert. Miss Lock, the faculty member, acted as critic. Arrangements were made for a mock trial which will be held in two weeks.

Entertainment at Christian Church.

An entertainment and social were held at the Christian church last night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. There were piano solos by Miss Seader and Miss Lydia Edgar; recitations by Miss Elsie Townley and Miss Ellen Thompson; readings by W. E. Gibbens and cornet solos by E. E. Townley. Refreshments were served afterward. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. E. E. Townley, Miss Nellie Bittle, Mrs. Martha Stryker and Mrs. Manchester.

County Chairman's New Home.

County Chairman F. H. Smith, of West Fourth street, has purchased I. N. VanSyckel's fine residential property at Madison avenue and West Sixth street, and will move there within a few weeks. In a short time, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will leave for California, where they will spend several weeks.

THE FORUM.

Church Flock Harmonious.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Allow me space in your valuable paper to say that the people of the Ebenezer Baptist church, of which I am pastor, are in perfect union. I reply to Mr. Prine Yettman's statement there is no truth in his assertions. The church had no knowledge of his action and were utterly surprised at such. In a conversation with Mr. Yettman last night about his statement he stated to me that he had been influenced to say what he did without knowledge and that he regretted what he did. Mr. Yettman has never joined the church as a member. But at my request he was added to the trustee board. The church has increased in membership wonderfully since my taking charge, and the congregation has outgrown the house of worship. At the meeting tonight Mr. Yettman will make a full statement to the board of his action. Thanking you for the space, I am, yours, respectfully,

P. T. MORRIS, Pastor.

Must Stop Slandering.

Samuel Isaacson, a paperhanger, was arraigned in the City Court this morning, on complaint of Jacob Sachar, who charged him with disorderly conduct. Isaacson was hired to paper some rooms for Sachar, and a dispute over the payment due arose. In the course of the wrangle Isaacson accused Sachar of having killed a man in the old country. Sachar resented that and swore out the complaint. Through an interpreter Judge Runyon told Isaacson that he must not say such things, and suspended sentence.

Funeral of Thomas Duffiey.

The funeral of Thomas Duffiey, who died at his home on Kensington avenue following a short illness with pleuro-pneumonia, was held in St. Mary's church this morning. A solemn mass of requiem was said by Father Bogan in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

"Ben-Hur" still remains the most stupendous dramatic production of the decade. The new and greater production is at the Academy of Music, New York city, and a pronounced success has been scored. At the Academy it is seen as on no other stage in the United States. Its spaciousness behind the footlights makes possible pictures, groupings and effects that are not to be obtained elsewhere. As a result the present revival is on a scale of colossal grandeur eclipsing all former efforts of the producers, Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger. Wallace had few peers and no superiors in the art of presenting to the eye the imagery of scriptural scenes. In "Ben-Hur," his masterpiece, he gave the life, the color, the feeling, of the time of Christ. With these he presents an intense heart story, a heroic drama, filled with the tenderest emotions, tinged with the romance of love and war, exalted by the evidence of divine miracles performed by the Nazarene. Although the sacred presence is not shown, it is felt; and throughout the play runs the strong current of religious feeling which distinguishes "Ben-Hur" from other dramatic offerings based on Biblical themes. The symbolism of Rome and Jerusalem, of Jew and Gentile, of peace and war, —are shown, surrounding the great mystery of the presence of Christ. Each scene unfolds as a perfect pictures, the whole blending into a living pageant.

"The Mills of the Gods" is a new sensation for Broadway. It is George Broadhurst's latest play, and is being presented now at the Astor theatre, New York. The thousands who have already seen it are of the one opinion that it is a far better play than any Mr. Broadhurst has written, not excepting his recent success, "The Man of the Hour." It came to the Astor theatre to stay and it has settled down for a run. Thus far it has drawn enormous audiences and the manner of its reception by the throngs who have witnessed it, demonstrate that it is very much to their liking. It is not only well presented, as to acting, but the Will J. Block Amusement Company has given something unusual in the matter of scenic environment. It has been called "stirring melodrama," but it is a melodrama that is real, interesting, life-like and absorbing. After the "big situation" at the end of the third act, the incessant, hearty applause is continued nightly, until the curtain is run up and down a dozen times. There is no mistaking this sort of applause. It is spontaneous and it rings true.

Elaborate proparpations are now being made at the New York Hippodrome by Messrs. Shubert & Anderson to celebrate the second anniversary of the opening of the big playhouse on Friday evening, April 12. The high jinks will commence immediately after the evening performance and will continue presumably throughout the night. A sweeping invitation that will include practically every member of the theatrical profession now playing in New York will be issued, and it is expected that the immense auditorium will be entirely filled with professional people and the friends of the Hippodrome company. A number of prominent artists appearing at the different Shubert theatres have volunteered to take part in the entertainment, which will be designed primarily for the benefit of the hard-working chorus of the Hippodrome, who give daily matinees and who, therefore, never have a chance to see any other production. This entertainment will be given first on the big Hippodrome stage, and will last for perhaps forty minutes. Louis Mann and Eddie Foy are two of the headliners for this feature of the programme. The Hippodrome tank will then be filled and a series of swimming races will take place. Prizes will be offered, and girls from other companies who wish to compete with the mermaids of "Neptune's Daughter" will be permitted to enter the tank. This celebration will be the red letter night of the entire season at the Hippodrome. Messrs. Shubert & Anderson will give away to each member of the audience that night a miniature reproduction of the Hippodrome building, done in bronze, as a souvenir.

Princess, Broadway and 29th street. Telephone, 2848 Madison. Evenings, 8:15; matinees, Saturday, 2:15. Margaret Anglin and Henry Miller in William Vaughn Moody's "The Great Divide." The greatest dramatic hit of the year. Of this play the New York Sun said: "A play of vital passions, consummately acted." The Eve Telegram: "A remarkable play." Mail: "The great American play."

Casino theatre, Broadway and 39th street. Evenings at 8:15; matinees Thursday and Saturday, 2:15. Louis Mann in Roderick C. Penfield and Gustave Kerker's musical comedy, "The White Hen." In this play Mr. Mann impersonates Hensie Blindner. The big supporting company includes Louise Gunning and Lotta Faust.

Majestic theatre, Broadway and 59th street. Telephone, 3500 Columbus. Evenings at 8:15; matinees, Wednesday and Saturday, 2:15 p. m. Henry Miller will present a military drama by Louis E. Shipman, "On Parole." This play when presented in the West was highly successful.

Lew Fields' Herald Square theatre, Broadway and 35th street. Telephone, 2485 38th. Evenings, 8:15; matinees, Tuesday and Saturday, 2:00. Evelyn Greenleaf Sutherland and Beulah M. Dix's play, "The Road to Yesterday," with Minnie Dupree, opened at Lew Fields' Herald Square theatre on New Year's Eve. This play is one of the chief dramatic novelties of the year. "The Road to Yesterday" has achieved a very great success.

General Collins to Review Third.

General Collins will go to Camden on April 2 to review the Third Regiment N. G. N. J., at the invitation of Colonel John A. Mather. The occasion will be an extraordinary one for the men and members of the Third Regiment as a whole, as it will be the first review of a State organization by General Collins since his election to his present rank. It is expected that there will be a large gathering of military officials present.

—The annual school meeting will be held in the town hall at Warrenville Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WHY

IT PAYS TO OPEN AN ACCOUNT WITH THE World's Largest Credit House

Because Credit, As We Extend it, is the Greatest boon to ANYONE. It Would be Just That to YOU.

THERE ARE THREE GOOD REASONS WHY:

FIRST—Because then you have a chance to buy the BEST, since you can take plenty of time to pay. And the BEST is always the CHEAPEST in the end.

SECOND—It is not necessary for you to understand quality or value—for could we WAIT FOR OUR MONEY if we did not give you BOTH?

THIRD—Thinking and progressive people always find it far better not to use their savings, but rather to leave them intact for a "rainy day"—By paying with their future earnings.

In a word it PAYS to buy here simply because we treat you RIGHT and because of our HONEST, STRAIGHTFORWARD METHODS.

Nowhere else can you get such liberal terms. Nowhere else is there such a total lack of "red tape" or fuss of any kind.

Men's Clothing for Easter.

Only days now until Easter formally ushers in Spring. So it's high time that every man started his dress preparations. All the new Spring suit styles as fashioned by the Watson tailors are here and in fabric patterns that are the cream of the season.

Brown is the color that will be popular, but scarce, this season. It will be found most entirely in high-class custom shops, but the Watson assortments are well supplied with many handsome effects in brown. So if this is your color then your suit should be Watson made.

Watson Made Suits $10 to $25

Yes, it's Spring, but it is too early to leave off Overcoats. Safety for your health demands an overcoat. A light-weight, the kind Watson is selling at $15, is the best you'll find in town. Dressy and warm, but not enough to be a burden, these coats come in the 1907 styles in diagonal gray cheviots and gray herringbone cashmeres, velvet collars. Just the kind you'll need for Easter.

Watson Made Overcoats $10 to $25.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Eduard Waldmann's acting in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" has been described as something never to be forgotten. His polish, ease and professional aplomp as "Jekyll," who wins a charming girl's love by his personal graces, are most fascinating, while his wickedness and diabolical traits as "Hyde" in the next breath, as it were, call forth admiration for the actor's art. Mr. Waldmann and an excellent company will be seen in "Jekyll and Hyde" at the New Plainfield theatre tonight.

There seems to be no hesitation on the part of those who have seen the performance of George Ade's famous comedy, "The College Widow," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night, in declaring that it is presented by one of the strongest and most perfectly balanced companies that Henry W. Savage has ever organized. Nearly every member of the big cast has had from one to two years experience and personal success in his or her role, and the fact that Mr. Savage originally selected these artists with a view to their physical as well as histrionic fitness to best portray George Ade's delightful types is significant. When Mr. Ade finished the manuscript of "The College Widow" he is said to have remarked: "There, if this play is not a success, I'll never try to write another. It's the best I can do." Its tremendous vogue in New York, Boston, Chicago and in fact everywhere that it has been presented is well known. Henry W. Savage's famous production of this remarkably successful play comes to the New Plainfield tomorrow afternoon and night.

The Kansas City Star has the following to say about Billy Kersands' famous minstrels, which will appear at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night: "For a real negro to be as good a negro minstrel as a white man is, according to the general belief, impossible, and such a spectacle is uncommon. But the persons who constitute the Kersands' Minstrel Company, headed by Billy Kersands, contain a number of men who are real comedians, and whom nature, as well as art, make colored entertainers of genuine merit. Billy Kersands at the Gilliss this week has chiefly his commodious mouth for all his equipment, but he possesses also a vein of humor which grows richer as the years pass. His company is a very large one this season, it being the largest colored minstrel that has ever shown in Kansas City, and half a dozen of his supporters are first-class."

Everyone who is keenly alive to the machination of trusts and kings of finance cannot but appreciate "The Lion and the Mouse," which production is announced for the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night. The play is by Charles Klein and makes a distinct innovation in the development of the American drama, for Mr. Klein has utilized a phase of national life which has never before been used for stage purposes, and which as a result proves of intense interest. He has taken one of the money kings of the country the type of a financier who manipulates the destinies of the nation and made him one of the central figures of his plot, stern in his attitude to all, even to his wife and children and relentless towards his enemies. The other vital element is a young and beautiful daughter of a Supreme Court Judge, who is being driven to the wall with impeachment and disgrace as the result of his righteous decisions which are adverse to the interests of this money king. To save the honor of her father and his life, the daughter enlists her services against this financial giant and the plot reveals the struggle of two keen brains for the mastery. The play is one of exceptional interest and dramatic force and while it is serious in aspect it contains a fine galaxy of wit, humor and pathos.

HOUSE BARS FOREIGN BANKERS FROM JERSEY.

The House of Assembly was in session more than five hours Wednesday, most of the time being consumed in the investigation of charges of conspiracy against three of its members.

Prior to going into committee of the whole, the House gave its sanction to House bill No. 101, which prohibits banking houses, savings, trust or safe deposit companies of any other State or country from transacting business in this State, unless similar corporations of New Jersey are permitted to transact business in such kingdom, State or government. Other bills passed were:

H. 18, Incorporates the borough of South Bound Brook, Somerset county; H. 154, gives shippers or consignees of freight three days in which to load or unload freight cars; H. 155, companion bill to H. 154; H. 269, permits Newark to build and maintain a city stable; H. 307, increases the salary of Newark's overseer of the poor; H. 347, authorizes Newark to establish and maintain public docks; H. 226, provides that deposits made in any banking institution in the name of two persons, whether the other be living or not; H. 308, fixes the fee of constables in counties of the first class for attendance upon court at $3.50 a day in lieu of fees and mileage.

H. 212, requiring resident citizens to take out a license to gun, was lost, 12 to 41.

RAMLEH

TURKISH CIGARETTES

Most smokers prefer mildness in fine cigarettes, if it can be secured without sacrificing the tasty flavor and delicious fragrance of Turkish Tobacco.

That's why you like the mildness of mild cigarettes and the flavor of strong cigarettes—but you seldom find both in one cigarette.

It is because RAMLEH Cigarettes are "tasty" without being heavy and smooth without being too mild, that they suit the taste of smokers of all classes.

You'll probably find RAMLEH the very cigarette you've been looking for. Why not try them to-day?

Output Last Year Worth Thirty-two Million Dollars—In All 118 Plants Were Engaged.

Last year in this State 118 plants were engaged in the production of various kinds of machinery, and the increased value of the stock used over the preceding year exceeded twenty-five per cent. The machinery produced was valued at nearly $32,000,000, an increase of more than $6,300,000, or about twenty-five per cent. over the preciding year. The employes in these 118 establishments numbered about 20,000, an increase of more than 31 per cent. over the year before.

It is easy to see, therefore, not only the great importance of this industry, but the gigantic strides with which it is forging ahead. A community could hardly show an annual increase of more than twenty-five per cent. all around unless it had special attractions, so that New Jersey would seem to have a right to be among the leaders in this industry. Of course one reason is found in the greatly-increased use of mechanical power in the State, for more than 50,000 horse-power was added last year to the total used by its industries. The use of electricity for power in manufacturing—and of this 50,000 horse-power added last year more than 48,000 was in electrical machines—is calling for much new machinery. This is true of the territory outside of New Jersey as well as in it, but this State seems to be somewhat ahead of many others in this respect. Its proportionately-larger trolley system not only makes living conditions more attractive to the employe by allowing him to get away from the city, but also furnishes the groundwork of great mechanical and electrical development. With good transportation facilities one generally finds machine shops to supply them, and with great industrial activity in many lines and plants, factories turning out machinery to supply them. New Jersey has both of these, and for that reason it is safe to prophesy that the State is bound to become a leader in the production of machinery.

SOME NEW YORK FIRSTS.

The first Governor was Peter Minuit. He was appointed in 1626.

The first male child born of European parents was Jean Vigue (1614).

The first female child born of European parents was Sarah Rapalja (1615).

The first physician was Dr. Johannes La Montague, who began practicing in 1636 and who for many years was the only doctor.

The first engineer was Kryn Frederick, who was authorized by the Governor in 1626 to superintend the construction of a permanent fort on Manhattan Island.

The first warehouse was erected in 1626. It was a rude, in artistic structure, one corner of which was set apart as a village store. Here the Indians came for a drink of the white man's "fire water."

The first meeting room for religious services was (1626) in the loft of the horsepower mill located on what is now South William street, near Pearl.—New York Herald.

STATE RIPARIAN RIGHTS ARE BADLY MANAGED.

Legislative Joint Committee Indicates Gross Mismanagement of Grants.

Senators Wakelee, Avis and Minturn, and Assemblymen Crowther, Reed, Jones, Holcombe and Barber, the joint committee of the Legislature appointed last winter to investigate the State Board of Riparian Commissioners, reported Wednesday. The report shows gross mismanagement of riparian interests of the State, with hundreds of thousands of dollars lost to the school fund, to which the riparian income is devoted. The report says:

"The committee believes the evidence shows a lax and, to say the least, a questionable administration of the riparian interests of the State, both as to policy and practice."

It was shown at the hearings that grants on the Hudson River front, the most valuable in the State, were made at varying prices for which no explanation was made, in some instances at a quarter of the prices afterward readily paid. It was also shown that in some instances the Riparian Commissioners were directly interested in making grants.

The services of George L. Record as counsel to the Board until a few years ago are condemned by the report, it being asserted that he did not serve the best interests of the State in his work.

After a sharp debate in the House a resolution was adopted to allow the Legislature to pass bills over the Governor's veto instead of adjourning and allowing the executive to do as he pleases with measures passed. The Senate will likely pass the resolution.

If House bill No. 20 gets through the Senate as it did through the House yesterday with only four votes against it, the railroads in this State will be compelled to pay their men wages every two weeks, instead of monthly as at present.

The Senate defeated the bill authorizing Paterson to condemn land for the erection of a sewage disposal plant. The bill was wanted by the city of Paterson, where sentiment is strong against the proposed trunk sewer for the Passaic Valley.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

The Plainfield Art Store in the Y. M. C. A. building is headquarters for works of art and artists' materials.

Alex Lusardi, West Front street, has the best array of fruits to be seen in Plainfield, at all seasons of the year.

Thinking about moving? Let William Hand & Sons, of East Second street, do the work. All orders promptly attended to.

When you want a Victor talking machine or an Edison phonograph go to Harry K. Lister's store on North avenue. He also keeps a full line of records.

J. C. Hansen, of East Front street, is the man best fitted to do your painting and decorating as you would have it done. He is not only an expert himself, he employs none but experts.

A. M. Griffen wants his patrons to know that his store is headquarters for farming and garden implements, general hardware and cutlery. He also contracts for all kinds of sanitary plumbing.

The Woodhull & Martin Company is prepared for a large spring and summer trade and a visit to this commodious store will convince you of the fine line of goods with which it is stocked and the reasonable prices. Every department is filled with new goods of the best mnaufacture and you will make no mistake in trading there.

Jacob Riis and the Pretty Girl.

Jacob Riis, whose heart covers all suffering humanity, recently engaged a pretty, soft-haired girl to work his typewriter. While her face was pretty, he also saw that it was pale, and his heart at once went out to her as a suffering being. After watching the girl for half an hour one day he asked her in a tone full of sympathy:

"Don't you get awfully tired, sometimes, from that incessant click, click of the machine?"

"Yes, sir," replied the girl, "I do. It wears on the nerves dreadfully."

"I thought so," said Mr. Riis, warming up, now that he had found a suffering soul. "Don't typewriters ever graduate from their work?"

"They do," replied the girl, as a happy light broker over her face.

"And then what do they turn their hands to?" asked the warm-hearted reformer.

"Well," said the girl, as the prettiest pink blushes suffused her cheeks, "they generally marry their employers."

Then Mr. Riis turned hurriedly to his work.—The Caledonian.

That food and drink taken too hot damage the teeth.

That a good substitute for a linseed poultice, if no one is at hand to make the latter properly, is to heat a square of cotton wool very hot by holding it before the fire, place it on the skin, cover with oiled silk and bandage on with flannel.

That skim milk is very nutritious, but nevertheless it is not fit to take the place of "whole milk" altogether in the feeding of children, for fat (cream is the "fat" of milk) is absolutely necessary for the proper development of the growing body.

"CENTRAL PARK"

Was——Is——Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm.

IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences.

Central Park is that beautifully situated tract bounded by Park, Prospect, Hillside and Thornton Avenues.

Lots selling rapidly—Prices very low—Great investment or speculative opportunities.

BOWLING

In the tourney games at McLaughlin's last night, Gaddis and Dilks beat Nash and Skelly two out of three and W and J. Schaub took two from Sheelen and Alberts. The rolling in every game brought out only fair scores.

The Mutual Life bowling team, champions of the Insurance League of New York, will bowl a match with the Plainfield Bowling Club at the Plainfield Academy next Monday night.

Burgess Wins Broad Jump.

Burgess won the running broad jump event in the Y. M. C. A. athletic competition last night. He covered 17 feet 9¼ inches, a good indoor jump by every comparison. Douglass jumped second with 16 feet 7½ inches and Odell third with 16 feet 5 inches. Burgess still leads in the competition.

Prosperous Building Loan.

The annual report of the Union Building and Loan Association just issued shows the association to be in a prosperous condition. A series that has been running eight years is worth $65.94, and the present indications are that the series will reach the par value, which is $100, in about two more years. The earnings for the past eight years have averaged nine per cent. During the year the association loaned to its members to buy or build homes $2?,-358.74. The association is a purely local concern, conservatively and economically managed. It numbers among its directorate Plainfield's trading business men. The secretary of the association, J. V. E. Vanderhoef, will gladly given anyone interested one of the new reports or explain anything pertaining to the association.

By Tom Muir.

Though the past few weeks have seen many of the best musical and dramatic productions of the season come and go at the New Plainfield theatre, Manager Counihan has been reaching out like Oliver Twist "for more" and his contracts show that lots of good things are in store for local playgoers before the season closes. The coming Saturday brings the original "College Widow" company and next week the return of "The Lion and the Mouse," with Oliver Doud Byron. During April and the early part of May the following attractions will hold the boards: April 8, Miss Grace George in her new production, "Clothes;" April 18, Eugenie Blair in "The Woman in the Case;" April 20, Max Figman in "The Man on the Box;" April 26, Nat Wills in his new musical comedy, "A Lucky Dog;" April 29, Chauncey Olcott in "Eileen Asthore;" April 30, "The Old Homestead;" May 3, Robert Mantell in a Shakesperian role; May 7, Rose Melville in "Sis Hopkins;" May 11, McIntyre and Heath in "The Ham Tree."

A Chicago kinsman of George Ade's has in his possession and prizes very dearly an old fashioned photograph of Ade which tends to prove the once-made and denied assertion that Mr. Ade introduced a correct picture of himself when he drew "Bub Hicks" the bucolic freshman of "The College Widow." The photograph in question was taken about the time that Ade entered Purdue University from which he later graduated with high honors. The aforesaid kinsman has a lot of fun exhibiting the photograph to the city friends of the now very metropolitan writer of plays.

Ned Wayburn, the founder of Ned Wayburn's Training School for the Stage, has been so successful in this work that owing to the increase of pupils has been compelled to enlarge his school. Beginning March 1st, the school will graduate to the dignity of "College and Dramatic Arts," the very first of its kind in the world, and in order to properly launch it, the founder has purchased a five-story brown stone building adjoining the Hudson theatre and right in the heart of New York city, which building he is remodelling into one of the most complete dramatic schools in the world. A faculty experienced in every branch of the theatre, including acting, dancing, singing, elocution, delsarte, stage managing, make-up, instrumental music and physical culture have been engaged. Offices, class-rooms, a gymnasium and even a real theatre are to be installed, together with a complete staff of stage managers, stage hands and a full orchestra. Already the new college, although only in the course of erection, is pointed out to visitors as one of the show places of the city.

Arrangements were completed yesterday by which Mrs. Leslie Carter secures the Astor theatre in New York for a term of years. She will, according to present plans, inaugurate her season there, after a short road tour in November, in a play especially written for her. Mrs. Carter will start out next week on a long tour, which will begin in Norfolk, Va., on April 1, and wind up in Duluth in July. Mrs. Carter will be seen in "Du Barry" and "Zaza."

RAILROAD LIGHT BILL AMENDED

House Measure Changed to Abolish All Kerosene Lamps.

Trenton, March 22.—Only one bill was passed by the House at the afternoon session yesterday.

Soon after it had been called to order by Speaker Edgar E. Lethbridge, Assemblyman Archibald Alexander, of Hudson, offered an amendment to Assemblyman John Booder's bill making it unlawful for any railroad corporation to use kerosene oil or any other inflammable or explosive material for lighting the coaches of any passenger train.

Mr. Alexander's amendment was the result of a discussion indulged in at the morning session between Messrs. Alexander and Minority Leader Alfred N. Barber. The amendment provided for the abolishment of all kerosene lamps in railroad cars.

In that form the bill was passed, to take effect immediately. Mr. Barber asked that companies be allowed until September 1 to meet the requirements. This alteration was permitted.

HAS 12 TOES AND 13 FINGERS.

Baby Born at Trenton Runs Corner on Digit Market.

Trenton, March 22.—Mrs. Leon Shockley gave birth to a boy Saturday who has twelve toes and thirteen fingers. Six toes on each foot are perfect, as are also six fingers on one hand and seven on the other. The baby seems in good health and weighs about the average.

Dr. Seeds, who attended Mrs. Shockley, says the child will probably live.

SPECIALS

Fresh Jersey Eggs
At this season of the year almost every grocer makes a special drive on eggs. Many people wonder why there is such a variety of prices. Here is one reason—The prices of eggs are made according to their freshness upon arrival at the market. Most of the eggs in this market are received from the West, South and nearby Jersey. Now suppose I bought a case of each kind. I would receive the Westerns and Southerns in twenty to thirty days, while the Jerseys would be in my store and on sale tomorrow. Do you see the point? There would be a dozen shipments of Jerseys sold and consumed while the others are in transit. We receive all of our eggs direct from Flemington every day or two. We will make you a special price for Saturday of 23c per dozen.

Fine Potatoes
We have done a lot of talking this winter about our potatoes. We have the quality to back it up. Fine mealy cookers, "Finest in town," is the verdict from all the buyers.
Price per ½ bushel basket 30c
Price per 3 bushel barrel 2.30

Fancy Butter
We have as fine a piece of butter as comes to this city, 100 per cent. better than you get from most dealers. We buy from one of the largest receivers in New York and pay them a premium to ship us from their finest lots. Quality is the first consideration and then the price. We will quote you special prices for Saturday only.
Finest table butter, per lb 35c
Very good butter, per lb 30c
Pullman Print Butter, per lb 38c

Flour Special
We will offer you for Saturday only a lot of Gold Medal and Pillsbury flour at a very low price.

To Wash China Silk.

To wash black and fast colored china and taffeta silks pour a quart of household ammonia into a twelve quart pail of warm, not hot, water, in which suds have been made with castile soap. Wash the fadeless silks in this and rinse thoroughly in clear soft water. Before the material is quite dry smooth it on the wrong side with a moderately hot iron. A silk that is uot fast colored canont be wet without injury to the dye, but sometimes another color or a neutral tone that will be more artisic and satisfactory than the original tint may be produced by washing as above.

Labor Saving Embroidery.

Odd new initials have just been invented, an ingenious way of getting an effect without having to do the work usually associated with that effect. These are letters—big or little affairs, depending upon what you want them to mark—already embroidered, ready to apply to towel or sheet or napkin. A few careful stitches set them firmly in place, and the tip ends are embroidered in a soft cotton, the same sort as the initials themselves are done with.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

CONSTIPATION.

I can tell a person who is constipated on sight. Their complexion is pasty or yellow. Their eyes are dull, and they look and feel sleepy. No wonder they do. The bowels are a sewer. They carry away the poisonous refuse. If they dont act the poisonous matter is absorbed by the body, and headaches, dullness, bad complexion and eventually serious troubles result.

SAMUEL BOOREN.

There is no better rule for good health than that the bowels should move every day at the same hour if possible. Regularity can be acquired by making a habit of this. Foolish people neglect this and when chronic constipation effects them they take pills every few days to force the bowels to perform their natural function. As years go on they require more and more pills. This should be stopped. Cooper's New Discovery will build up the stomach and cause the bowels to act naturally. While taking the medicine get the habit of regularity, then gradually stop taking the medicine.

Here is a sample of letters from those who have tried it:

"For sixteen years I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic constipation. I had frequent headaches and always felt tired and worn out. I heard of Cooper's New Discovery and began its use, After I had finished one bottle I was wonderfully improved. Constipation gave way to a pleasing regularity of the bowels and I ate better, slept better and felt better than I had for months. It is the greatest medicine I have ever known." Samuel Booren. 1742 Munsey Ave., Scranton Pa.

Our customers who have used them say the Cooper medicines do the work. We sell them.

MORE GAMES FOR TIGERS ARE NOW ANNOUNCED.

Princeton Increases Size of Its Baseball Schedule.

Princeton, March 22.—Princeton's baseball management has announced the addition of three games to the team's schedule for the coming spring. In case of a tie with Harvard a third game will be played in Cambridge on June 14.

This is a radical change in the policy of the baseball management, for it places the series with Harvard on a par with the Yale games, something which has never been done in the past.

The other two games will both be played in Princeton; the first with the Trenton Tri-State League team, on April 23, and the second with the Pittsburg Nationals, on May 7.

The team will start on its Southern trip March 26 and will be gone a week. The squad now consists of thirty-three men, who go through a stiff practise every afternoon under Doyle, the coach.

Before picking the team for the Southern series Doyle expects to scratch about ten names off his list. The squad is still a trifle unwieldly on account of its size, but a good many of the candidates are prospective pitchers, and Doyle does not want to let any of them go.

The pitching staff promises to be very weak this spring. Heinzer is the only man who is making appreciable progress in the pitching art, but a team cannot expect to carry off a championship with only one twirler in the box.

In the infield positions there are two possibilities. Eddie Dillon will, in all probability, occupy second base, while Wister, of football fame, will make a strong bid for first base. He has fielded this position with scarcely an error against him while he has been working in the cage this spring, and his only rival for the place is W. McLean, who played right field last year. Eight candidates are fighting for the two empty outfield positions. Doyle has made no choice of fielders yet, but expects to keep them all busy fielding and batting, at least until the nine gets out of doors.

W. J. BRYAN PRAISES THE LABOR UNIONS.

No Other Force in Country Has Done So Much Good.

Chicago, March 22.—William Jennings Bryan, at the closing conference Sunday, in connection with the industrial exhibitions, expressed the opinion that trades unions have done more good for this country than any other force. His remarks were received with satisfaction by the audience of union men from the Federation of Labor, which attended the meeting. He said in part:

"The unions have made some mistakes, but they have accomplished more good. When we consider that through trades unions wages have been increased, hours shortened and comfort afforded the workingmen in greater measure, I think we have a right to say the benefits resulting from these unions cannot be overestimated. Perhaps no other force in the country ever has been so effective for improvement in the citizenship and general moral qualities of our people.

"The Australian ballot system, for one thing, is largely due in this country to the agitation of the trades unions. I almost feel safe in saying that had it not been for the interest taken in this reform by the organizations, we might still be employing the old system of voting.

"If the labor union had never done anything else than raise the age limit of employment for children in the mines and factories of the Nation, I believe that accomplishment alone would justify its existence. No influence in this country has ever been so evil in its effect as the tendency to crowd our workshops with children of tender years. It is a most destructive tendency and one that the public conscience should protest against."

Mr. Bryan said he believed women might accomplish as much as men through organization and unions.

MORE TIME FOR COMMISSION.

Trenton, March 22.—Governor Edward C. Stokes sent to the Legislature yesterday the report of the special commission appointed last year to codify the laws of master and servant.

The report called the attention of the Governor to the fact that the commission had made a compilation of the New Jersey laws on the subject. Because the work was so intricate the commissioners stated they were unable to complete it this year. The Governor asked the Legislature to give them another year, and the request was granted, and 500 copies of the report were ordered printed.

The report deals simply with the compilation of laws that had been thus far completed. This commission was asked for at the instance of Chancellor Magie, who said that master and servant laws in New Jersey were very conflicting.

The Small Boy's Pleasure.

A small boy will find infinite delight in hammering tacks into a block of soft wood. When one end is full he can turn it over and drive in more at the other, and so on, further employment being found in taking them out again, says Woman's Life. Small tacks, soft wood and a very light hammer, of course, are necessary.

"BOBBY" BURNS AT HOPE

DESCRIBED HIS LIFE

Groton Man Gives Readings from Scottish Idol's Works—Some Music By P. H. S. Boys.

Readings from Robert Burns and a sketch of the tragic life of Scotland's greatest poet were given last night in Hope chapel, by the Rev. William A. Smith, of Groton, N. Y. Mr. Smith is himself a Scotchman, a big minded, big hearted man, and a speaker of charming personality. Appreciating every mood and fancy of the "Ayrshire Bard," he portrayed the characters with all the musical charm of the Scottish dialect.

Mr. Smith spoke of Scotland as a land of craggy mountains, lowly vales, rushing torants, crumbling ruins of Abbey, and castle towers, around which cluster countless legends and traditions. In this poetic atmosphere Burns was born, bred, and there he died, having given voice to all the experiences of life.

Dr. Smith spoke of the humbleness of the poet's birth, and his ceaseless struggle in life; not for fame and wealth however; for, said he, Burns was a born poet, with the strong passions and vivid imagination which were prodigious in creating sensibility; sufficient, he said, for twenty common men. "Burns' loving nature," the speaker continued, "was no doubt more susceptible to women, but," he added, "this has happened before." He showed that although Burns was not fully appreciated when alive, interest in him as a man and genius has been increasing ever since his death. The Scotch, he declared, are true to their dead. His work is to them like a second Bible. Before Burns' time, said the Rev. Mr. Smith, the Scotch dialect was rapidly declining, but he revived it, and preserved it forever. He discerned beauty and meaning in everything; he wept, worshipped, and rejoiced with the people.

Dr. Smith quoted some eminent critics in saying that no poet except Shakespeare possessed the power of portraying so many varied emotions in so rapid transitions. The poet's genius, declared the speaker, is the gift of seeing and telling things as they really are. This Burns had, for he never looked for subjects, they were about him, everywhere.

Of all the national poets, said he, the most love is bestowed upon Burns, but the speaker seemed doubtful about the Americans' appreciation, as the strongest evidence he had noticed was in the advertisements which greet him on every hand, "Roberts Burns' 10 cent cigar." The last leter written by the poet was directed to a friend, asking for the loan of a five pound note. He was born in poverty, concluded Dr. Smith; his life was a failure until he died in poverty, at thirty-seven, and since then it has been a marvelous success. The sentiment and love of his work will live forever; he leaves a charm for every fancy, and music for every mood.

During the evening selections were given by the Glee Club of the Plainfield High School, the solo parts of which were taken by Miss Queene Tillotson and Guion Fountain, accompanied on the piano by Miss Marguerite Leggett. The singing was under the direction of Samuel B. Howe, Jr., who also introduced the speaker.

STOKES AT OCEAN GROVE.

Ocean Grove, March 23.—Announcement that Governor Stokes will preside at the great Fourth of July celebration to be held the coming summer in the auditorium, was made Thursday night by Dr. O. E. Ballard, vice-president of the Camp Meeting Association.

The Governor was elected a member of the association last summer. The Governor will deliver the oration. There will be other speakers of note, but negotiations for their appearance have not yet been closed.

Transfers of Real Estate.

The following transfers of real estate in the borough and township of North Plainfield were duly recorded in the County Clerk's office since January 1: Margaret S. Cadmas and husband to Marcus L. Clawson, $1; Laura Boorman to Eloise L. Hodgskin, $1; Ida H. E. Musgrave to Elizabeth M. Leonard, $1; John J. Heideloff et ux. to Amanda I. King, $6,600; Annette Beeching et al. to Margaret E. Johnson, $1.

Tomorrow Palm Sunday.

Tomorrow will be Palm Sunday, and the week it begins is known in church circles as Holy Week. It marks the last of Lent, as the Sunday following will be Easter.

P. H. S. FIVE KEEPS LEAGUE RECORD CLEAR

WINS THE LAST GAME OF THE SCHEDULE FROM LEAL'S.

The Plainfield High School basketball team kept its record in the interscholastic league clean, yesterday afternoon, by defeating the Leal's five. The score was 42 to 26.

The victory was the sixth straight league won for the champions. They had enough to keep them busy, but were never near enough to defeat for worriment.

Between the halves, President J. W. Gavett, of the Y. M. C. A., presented the championship cup to the winners. Bert Leggett, the team manager, was to have received the cup, but his modesty overpowered him, and Clyde Doane did the formal receiving.

The teams finished up as follows:

	W.	L.	Perc.
P. H. S.	6	0	1,000
Leal's	2	4	.333
N. P. H. S.	1	5	.166

P. H. S. CAPTURE CUP.

Defeats Leals in Final Game of Season 44 to 26.

The Plainfield High School basketball five played its last game of the season yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium when the Leal's team was defeated by the score 44 to 26. After the first half which ended with a score of 29 to 15 in favor of P. H. S., Joseph W. Gavett, president of the Y. M. C. A., presented the cup to the Plainfield High School five, winners of the interscholastic league. It was accepted in the name of the school by Captain Clyde Doane.

Caldwell, of P. H. S., made the first score, shooting a long distance goal, and Gavett played a star game throughout. Howard played exceptionally well for Leals. In the second half a clever backhand pass was made by Morris and Snyder, which resulted in a goal.

The line-up:

REPROVED JUSTICE.

County Judge Saves Man Committed by New Market Court.

Because he sentenced James Gaitwood, of Philadelphia, to ninety days in the county jail for loitering, Justice R. P. F. Von Minden, of New Market, was asked to explain by Judge Theodore Booraem yesterday. Gaitwood was on his way from New York to Philadelphia, and stopped at New Market for a couple of days. He was arrested for loitering. In commenting on the sentence Judge Booraem said:

"This man seems to be a pretty respectable sort of a person in hard luck, and you have given him the extreme penalty. The court will not interfere, because it believes the justices should have full power. It can, however, review the action, and it will do so."

C. H. Rogers, the jail warden, called the attention of the judge to the matter. After some persuasion the justice allowed the man to go, by remitting the sentence.

Fine Millinery Display.

One of the most attractive millinery openings in the city is to be found at "The White Store," A. E. Force & Co., proprietors. It is to be seen on the second floor, where Miss Flanagan, the head milliner, has arranged a display that is making every woman in Plainfield jealous. There is such a wide range of hats from which to select, from the smallest to the largest kind. The mushroom and Princess styles are perhaps the most popular and flowers in every conceivable shape are used, as well as all the colors of the rainbow. The latest hats can be seen here just as well as in New York. ***

Miss Grace Carroll Will Sing.

Miss Grace Carroll, contralto soloist at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will be the soloist at the last free Lenten recital at the Church of the Holy Cross, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. She will give two numbers.

Counsel for Newark Firm.

With Francis J. Blatz, of this city, as counsel, the Champion Pants Company, of Newark, has sued Susskind & Son, also of Newark, in the Newark District Court. The case will be heard next Friday.

Blue Ribbon Club Dance.

The Blue Ribbon Social Club will hold a dance in T. A. B. Hall on April 5. John Caulfield is chairman of the committee of arrangements.

WOMAN WHO DIDN'T KNOW ALL ABOUT WIRING MONEY

SHE THOUGHT IT WOULD BE EASIER TO TELEGRAPH ONE BILL.

A woman who had evidently had no experience with the telegraph caused considerable amusement in the city collector's office this morning. She tendered Collector John W. Murray, Jr., twenty one-dollar bills and asked him to give her a $20 note for them. She said she wanted the bill to send to her daughter in New York.

"What need have you for changing the bills?" asked Mr. Murray. "You are going to send the money by postal order, aren't you? Your twenty bills are just as handy for that as one."

"But I am not going to send the money by mail," the woman said with a superior smile. "I am going to telegraph it, and one bill will be easier to telegraph than twenty, wouldn't it?"

Mr. Murray had some trouble making her understand where she had not been so bright.

KING'S DAUGHTERS' MUSICALE AND SALE

HELD AT THE HOME OF MRS. DAVID H. ROWLAND.

The Cheerful Workers' Circle of The King's Daughters, of which Miss Margaret Leal is the president, held a successful musicale and sale yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David H. Rowland, on West Seventh street, from 3 to 5 o'clock, the proceeds being for the work of the King's Daughters, which includes The Day Nursery and the Baby Camp on the mountain.

During the afternoon there was a sale of cake, candy and fancy articles. Miss Margaret Mead had charge of the fancy table, Miss Eva Browne the cake table and Miss Grace Kaufman the candy table, assisted by the other members of the circle. Tea was also served, Miss Dorothy Fleming, Miss Bakewell and Miss Elsie Goddard being in charge.

The musicale proved to be most enjoyable. The programme included a piano duett by Miss Margaret Mead and Miss Margaret Leal; piano solo by Miss Leal; vocal selections by Miss Matie Hyde, Miss Elsie Goddard and Miss Ursula Rowland. There was also a vocal selection by a quartette comprising Miss Elsie Goddard, Miss Matie Hyde, Miss VanDeventer and Miss Ursula Rowland and another vocal selections by the Misses Hyde, VanDeventer and Rowland.

The circle will net about $100, which will go toward the pledge made for the support of the charity work carried on by the King's Daughters.

Women to Give a Concert.

The Treble Clef Club, a vocal organization composed of fifty women under the direction of J. Edmund Skiff, is planning to give a concert later in the season. The club meets every Wednesday at the Camera Club rooms for rehearsal. The organization would like to secure a few more altos, there being the desired number of sopranos, tenors and basses.

Approaching Marriage.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Rachel Daudt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Daudt, of Grove street, and F Mortimer Slater, son of Mrs. Frederick M. Slater, of Jackson avenue. The event will be celebrated on Monday, April 29, at the home of the bride.

Will Preach on "Gossip and Lying."

Tomorrow morning at Hope chapel the pastor, Rev. L. R. Howard, will deliver the last of a series of sermons on "Words from the Cross." The subject will be "The Triumph of Faith in Jesus' Last Words." In the evening his subject will be "Gossip and Lying."

John Owens' Recovery Slow.

John P. Owens, who received a severe injury to his ankle eleven weeks ago in a carriage accident, is improving so slowly that he will be detained at the hospital for several weeks to come.

Organ Recital at Grace Church.

The usual organ recital will be held at Grace church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, and on Monday night the choir will give "The Crucifixon," by John Stainer.

—Dr. Ralph M. Crane, osteopathist, of 220 Central Park South, New York city, will visit Plainfield Tuesdays and Saturdays. Those desiring appointments for consultation and osteopathic treatment, address, care of Rev. A. C. Nickerson, 768 Kensington avenue. 3 2 tf s m ***

"D. S. C.," MONTCLAIR'S VERY LATEST WRINKLE

WOMEN PLAN ONE KITCHEN FOR THE WHOLE TOWN.

The women of Montclair are about to organize a Domestic Service Corporation, "to do away with the drugery of the kitchen and substitute for it a perfectly equipped, skillfully managed central plant, which shall prepare all the family's food, bring it to the house three times a day, and take away the soiled dishes, leaving to the housewife only the pleasant task of adorning the table as may suit her fancy."

Among the advantages claimed for the plan are the solution of the servant girl problem, the combiantion of a first-class hotel service with the comforts and privacy of one's own home, absolute freedom for the housewife from the care and worry of providing for the table, and a cost to members for the highest grade of food, prepared in the very best manner, which probably would not exceed the usual cost for the average family table.

The corporation may extend its service so as to include, laundry work, house cleaning, lawn mowing, and gardening.

HEBREWS PREPARING FOR THE PASSOVER

JEWISH BAKERS ARE NOW KEPT BUSY BAKING MATZOTH.

The feast of the Passover will be celebrated by Jews all over the world this month, and the people who are busy making preparations for its observance are working night and day. There is much ceremony, which will be celebrated this year on the evening of March 29, and there is ceremony also in connection with cleansing the homes, storing away the ordinary table and kitchen utensils, so that the ones dedicated to service for the Passover time may not be contaminated. There are hundreds of quaint observances in connection with the festival commemorative of "the deliverance of Israel's first born from the judgment wrought on those of the Egyptians and the wonders liberation of the Hebrews from Egyptian bondage," but the best-known feature of the festival of a week is the unleavened bread — matzoth — the baking of which has kept hundreds of people employed for months in many bakeries.

There is one large establishment among these, which occupies a five-story building 100 feet long and ninety-two feet wide, where nothing is done all the year except to manufacture the crackers which are used in lieu of bread in the Passover season. This concern turns out about 2,500,000 pounds of motzoth and matzoth meal, which is made by pulverizing the matzoth, and is used instead of flour all through the Passover time. This concern sells its product not only to consumers and dealers in New York, but sends matzoth to all parts of the United States, and large quantities to Cuba, Porto Rico and South America.

The prices range from four and one-half to eight cents a pound, and deliveries are made to dealers and consumers in all forms, varying from "loose" or unpacked and in rough packing cases to pound packages in fancy boxes. In many of the Jewish homes the unleavened bread is placed on the table only as a symbol, but not for use, and in the homes of all the reformed Jews bread is not entirely dispensed with in Passover time. But among the orthodox Jews the custom to use nothing but unleavened bread is strictly adhered to, and the matzoth consumed by the orthodox Jews are nearly all made on the East Side, in New York, because the larger establishments do no conform strictly enough to the rabbinical laws governing their making.

Miss Adah VanHorne Entertains.

The S. I. 6 Crokinole Club was entertained last night at the home of Miss Adah VanHorne, of Richmond street. Miss Della Voehl won the prize for the women and Arthur Austin the prize for the men. After the play supper was served and dancing and singing was enjoyed, including a bass solo by Henry Hottinger, of New York. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Mabel Rose, of Elizabeth.

Mission Secretary to Speak.

Rev. W. G. Puddefoot, secretary of one of the Congregational mission boards, will preach at the Congregational church tomorrow morning.

Bishop Scarborough at St. Stephen's.

Bishop Scarborough will attend the morning service at St. Stephen's church tomorrow for the purpose of confirming a class.

CARRIE NATION HIS TRAVELLING COMPANIONS

MOLDENKE HAS AN INTERESTING EXPERIENCE WITH HATCHET WIELDER.

Travelling from Morristown to Philadelphia not long ago Dr. Richard Moldenke found himself in the same seat with an elderly woman. He engaged in conversation with her, and became much interested in her views. He thought she was a very interesting woman indeed.

There came a lapse in the conversation, and while Dr. Moldenke was ruminating on the interesting temperament of his travelling companion she stood up suddenly and waved a small book in the air.

"I am Carrie Nation," she proclaimed. "Who will give me five cents for my little book."

Dr. Moldenke found that he was sharing in the attention the reformer of the rum evil was attracting, and his idea of the exceeding interest attendant on his travelling acquaintance changed swiftly. He was game enough, however, to buy one of the little books.

ONE-DAY CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERSHIP GROWTH

Y.M.C.A. PLANS A SHORT BUE ENERGETIC INCREASE EFFORT.

The membership committee of the Y. M. C. A. laid plans last night for a short, spirited campaign for increase in association enrollment. Following energetic preliminary work, all the effort will be concentrated in one day, with the object of gaining 200 members.

One-day campaigns have been conducted in other cities with great success, and the Plainfield association hopes to duplicate those records. April 15 has been chosen as the day. Up to that time prospectuses, circulars and full information as to the details of the Y. M. C. A. will be sent out to eligible men, and on the fifteenth a corps of picked workers will go out to bring as many as will come into the association.

At the present stage the work is in the hands of the regular membership committee, of which S. A. Bingaman is the head. The committee will meet again Monday night. The Y M. C. A. membership is now 500.

"23" AND HOT.

Record of High Temperatures of 70 Degrees and Over Since 1894.

Today is the warmest 23d of March on record, the thermometer at 12 o'clock noon registering 78 degrees. A year ago today the minimum temperature was 28 degrees. These figures recorded by Weather Prophet John Neagle, show the maximum temperature of 70 and over during March since 1894:

71 degrees, date 19, 1894; 72, date 19, 1898; 71, date 29, 1902; 73, date 24, 1903; 82, date 29, 1905.

Plainfielders Go Abroad.

Mrs. Samuel Merwin, accompanied by her mother and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Stevenson, Miss Stevenson, of this city; Mrs. Rosa de Balsinde and family and tutor, Lieutenant Guy Rowlins, formerly of the British Navy, who have been residing on Willow avenue, were passengers today on the Cedric, of the White Star Line, which sailed from New York. Mrs. Merwin, mother and daughter will meet Mr. Merwin on the other side, he having preceded them for an extended stay in the interest of the Success magazine. Mrs. de Balsinde and family will remain abroad six months before returning to their native home in Cuba.

Police Hold Demented Man.

A demented man who drew a crowd at the trolley station on Watchung avenue at noon today is being held for identification at police headquarters. He is poorly, but neatly dressed, and looks and talks like a workingman. He was making ready to swim in a 2-inch puddle in the alley alongside the trolley station when Uncle Jess Hetfield ran out from Tony Garthwaite's place and stopped him. He was down to his shirt and trousers when Uncle Jess interfered. Uncle Jess and William Leland took him to the station house. He seems very much unbalanced.

Eduard's Waldmann's Return.

Eduard Waldmann, the well known tragedian, appeared at the New Plainfield theatre, last night, in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," under the auspices of the local Red Men. He was assisted by a well selected supporting company and the production as a whole was pleasing to the audience. After the performance Mr. Waldmann and the company were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Willard, of West Front street.

CHARGED WITH THEFT BY JERSEY CITY JEWELLER

WEST SEVENTH ST. RESIDENT ARRESTED FOR ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

Louis T. Grant, 36 years old, of Jersey City, who has lived with his wife and four children on West Seventh street, near Grant avenue, for the past six months, was arrested last evening at his home by Detective-Sergeant John Flynn on a warrant sworn out by Louis A. Rochat, a Jersey City jeweler, who charges him with embezzling $135. Grant was turned over to a Jersey City officer after a formal arraignment before Judge Runyon in the City Court.

Grant describes himself as a manager. He is said to have been in the jewelry business and stock farming, both recently. He will be arraigned in Jersey City today.

MULLEN AND CONKLIN MAKE A CLEAN SWEEP.

Take Three Straight Games from Willett and Britton—"Willie's" Fine Shooting.

By coming to the front with a bunch of good scores, last night, "Willie" Mullen was responsible for the Mullen-Conklin team taking three straight games from Willett and Britton. "Willie" was on deck with the wallo pthe moment he started in and ended his first game witn 183. After that he got a 211 and finished with 193.

Conklin was only in fair shape and the "ponies" would have lost the first game but for Conklin striking the right gait. There was only six pins difference between the two totals. Ed Britton got 190 in his first game but fell to 158 and 155, somehting unusual for him. Willett was also off-color and the best he did was 172. The games were witnessed by a big gallery and Mullen got a good hand on all of his plays.

The scores:

Mullen	183	211	193
Conklin	157	156	147
vs.
Britton	190	158	155
Willett	144	172	149

JAIL FOR SMALL BOY.

Colored Thirteen-year-old Will Probably Serve Sentence.

Ernest Waldron, a thirteen-year-old colored boy who has been arrested several times for aggravated mischief-making, was fined $5, or 20 days in the county jail, this morning, by Judge Runyon in the City Court. He was arrested for throwing stones at a white girl on Plainfield avenue last night. One of the stones hit the girl, who is Florence Gaeller, of West Third street, on the head and inflicted a painful cut.

If Ernest's father does not pay the fine by this afternoon the boy will be sent to jail. He was not hopeful of release this morning. "My father ain't got no five dollars to pay for me," he said sadly.

Only a Brush Heap.

The borough fire department was called out on a still alarm last night for a supposed blaze in Adam Fritz's barn at Grove street and Greenbrook road. When the men arrived they found it was only a burning brush heap some distance away from the structure. The flames were seen by a nearby resident who thought they were coming from the barn.

Will Start Work April 1.

Joseph E. Kelly, of New Market, who received the contract for building the wing walls on the West End avenue bridge, will probably start the work about April. Up to yesterday he had not signed the contract at the office of Engineer F. J. Hubbard. He is given until July 1 to complete the job.

Butcher Wagon Upset.

The butcher wagon belonging to W. F. Crook, of South avenue, was in collision with a trolley car on West Front street, opposite George Voehl's bakery, this morning, and the wagon was upset. With the help of two or three men the wagon was righted and it was found that no damage resulted.

Mrs. Carroll's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas Carroll, who died at her home on Manson place Thursday, was held in St. Mary's church, this morning. The mass was said by Rev. Father Bogan, a gathering of relatives and friends being in attendance. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Will Consider Request.

The Master Plumbers' Association will meet Monday night to receive a communication from the journeymen plumbers, who seek an increase of wages and a half-holiday on Saturday the year round. It is believed that the request of the journeymen will be granted.

SEEK FOR MISSING BAIL

Given to the Late Justice Mosher Just Before He Died.

CASE WAS THROWN OUT

Attorney J. Henry Crane Can Find No Trace of Missing Security —Belongs to Poor Woman.

Attorney J. Henry Crane is trying to find out what became of $50 given to the late Justice Joseph P. Mosher, a few months before he died, as bail for Cephus Floyd, colored, charged by William Jones, also colored, with the theft of a bicycle. Mrs. Susan Rogers, Floyd's aunt, put up the bail.

Floyd's case was not considered by the Grand Jury until October, when it was thrown out. In the meanwhile all trace of the $50 had been lost. Mr. Crane has seen the county prosecutor and all others connected with the case without gaining any clue as to where the money was placed. Mrs. Rogers is poor and cannot afford to lose the money.

It is known that when Justice Mosher accepted the bail, he consulted with the prosecutor as to what disposition should be made of it, and the latter told him to keep it in his possession. The justice asked for the privilege of placing the money in several different places in the city, but so far as can be learned no one wanted to hold the money for him.

GRASS FIRES KEEP CITY DEPARTMENT ON THE RUN.

Three Alarms for the Same Kind of Blaze Received at Headquarters Within Two Hours.

Grass fires that threatened serious consequences kept the city fire department on the jump this morning. Within two hours three alarms were received at headquarters and but for the prompt arrival of the apparatus one of them would have resulted in a big blaze.

The first alarm came in at 11:15 and was for a fire alongside of John Keeley's coal yard on South avenue. The flames had crept up to his barn and were just starting in on the structure when No. 2 hose wagon arrived. The men soon put an end to the trouble and had just returned to headquarters when they were sent out on the second alarm, received by 'phone for the same kind of a fire at 826 East Front street. A servant girl had gone into the yard to burn some papers and the grass became ignited by pieces flying about.

The girl and other servants were doing their best to beat out the flames with wet brooms, the best method of fighting a grass fire, but it was getting beyond them when the hose wagon reached the scene.

The last alarm came in at 12:10 and was for another grass fire in John Kenney's yard at 56 East Second street. No. 2's horses were played out by the previous runs and the wagon from No. 1 house was sent to the place by Chief Doane. They found a pretty hot blaze and a lot of scared people but had the last spark out in a few minutes.

Two more alarms for grass fires were received within ten minutes this afternoon. At 2:05 a call came for a blaze on Field avenue and at 2:15 another was received for one on Carlton avenue. No. 2 hose wagon took care of the first and No. 1 the second.

P. H. S. RECORD.

Basketball Team Win Twelve and Lose Ten Games During Season.

The record of the Plainfield High School basketball team during the past season shows that the five won twelve games and lost ten as follows:

S., 52 to 24; Leals, 44 to 26.

Frank Bird.

Frank Bird, the eighteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Bird, of Liberty Corner, died at his parents' home early this morning. He had been ill only since Monday with pneumonia, the first time he had been sick in his life. He was a frequent visitor to this city and had many local friends. A brother, Charles Bird, is employed by J. C. Manning, the builder.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

That the merits of "The College Widow," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight, are well known in this city is clearly demonstrated by the numerous inquiries for seats at the New Plainfield box office. Henry W. Savage's splendid production of George Ade's most famous comedy has manifold assurances of a patronage bounded only by the capacity of the theatre.

Billy Kersands' Famous Minstrels come to the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night, and is announced as the best attraction of its kind on the road. Among the new members of the organization is Billy Nichols, the world-renown mimic, a product of Alabama, whose imitations the most critical praise; Arthur Maxwell, the trick bicyclist, whose fears on the wheel are death-defying and at times so marvelous that it is beyond the conception of the audience how he can control himself from falling; Langford, Smith, Johnson and Cameron supply the comedy of the performance, and it is of a clean, side-splitting variety. The company comprises thirty-five people and Prof. Lacy's Challenge Band, the best cornet band in the country. A grand street pageant will be given at 11:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. on day of performance, a revelation in itself.

In "The Lion and the Mouse," which Henry B. Harris is to present here at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night, Charles Klein, the author has not only treated the sociological problem in a forceful, intelligent and convincing manner but he has written a play of compelling human interest telling a story so brisk in action, so replete in dramatic interest and so admirable in character portraiture that the attention and sympathy of his audiences is constantly retained. It may be said without the least fear of contradiction that "The Lion and the Mouse" as a drama stands paramount today in theatrical annals.

George Ade's famous musical comedy, "The Sultan of Sulu," wherever presented has met with nothing but the most enthusiastic reception. As suggested by the title, the action of the play is laid in the island of Sulu during the American occupation. The group of characters which furnish merriment in the story are the Sultan, his wives and retinue, a young American lieutenant and his sweetheart, a bombastic general, a hustling insurance agent, a female judge advocate and a coterie of dainty Boston school teachers. The production will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night.

The United States Marine Band is coming to the New Plainfield theatre Monday afternoon and night, April 1, in all its glory, accompanied by its famous soloists, both instrumental, vocal and its great sextette, all under the leadership of its brilliant leader, Lieutenant William H. Santelmann, sixty men in all not counting the soloists. It will appear in this city under the auspices of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The free Lenten recital at the Church of the Holy Cross this afternoon will be the last one of the series.

Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be given at Grace church Monday night by the choir under the direction of W. E. MacClymont, organist.

The annual meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held in the Sunday-school room of the church Wednesday night.

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will hold an all-day sewing meeting in the lecture-room Tuesday.

Rev. Phil. A. Parsons, pastor of the Christian church, will organize a men's club at the church on Thursday night, March 28. All men are invited.

The Men's Club of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church held an entertainment and social in Epworth House Thursday night. The affair was an informal one.

Mrs. H. J. Humphrey, a talented speaker, will have charge of the W. C. T. U. gospel temperance meeting in the rooms on Madison avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, will speak in the Westminster Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, Monday night, at the first of a series of union services to be held during Holy Week.

The anniversary meetings of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary and Young Women's Missionary societies of the First Baptist church will be held at the church on Friday afternoon, March 29, for the election of officers and presentation of reports.

Clifford A. Braider, organist at the First Presbyterian church, will endeavor to secure the services of the new soprano, Miss Anna Case, of South Branch, from April 5, instead of May 1, and if successful will arrange to give the Easter musical programme on that date, instead of Easter Sunday.

By reason of his acceptance of the call to the Methodist church at Orange, the pulpit committee of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church is now hustling to secure a possible successor to Rev. E. E. Roberson. No effort was made in this line until now as it was expected that Mr. Roberson would remain another year.

JUST IN TIME.

Some Plainfield People May Wait Till It's Too Late.

Don't wait until too late.
Be sure and be in time.
Just in time with kidney ills
Means curing the back
Before backache becomes chronic
Before serious urinary troubles set in.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this.

Here is Plainfield testimony to prove it.

A. C. Lazzi, stone-cutter and carver, of 244 East Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "For several years I was troubled with a distressing backache and with pains in the region of the kidneys. My head also ached severely and the secretions from the kidneys were not at all natural. I tried several doctors and some so-called kidney remedies, but none gave me any relief, and as my case became more and more persistent, I became somewhat discouraged because I could find no relief. I saw an advertisement regarding Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply at Randolph's pharmacy. Soon after taking them my troubles vanished like the mist and since then I have felt stronger and better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

The Judge Uses Forceful Language.

Judge W. B. Simmons, of Fincastle, Va., told the reporter that L. & M. Paint was used on his residence in 1882, and held its color well for 21 years; he furthermore said that 3 years ago he was induced to use another paint and is sorry he did, because the other paint didn't make good. The Judge will now always use L. & M., because he knows if any defect exists in L. & M. Paint the house will be repainted for nothing.

Corporation Notice.

Public notice is hereby given that at a regular adjourned meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey held on Thursday, the fourteenth day of March instant, an ordinance of which the following is a true copy, to wit:

AN ORDINANCE

To Provide For the Construction of a Further Addition to the System of Sewerage Already Constructed in the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, There has been constructed in said city a system of sewerage and such action in relation thereto has from time to time been taken as is set forth in the preamble to the ordinance of said city entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the construction of an addition to the system of sewerage already constructed in the City of Plainfield," approved November 6, 1897, to which preamble reference is hereby made for greater certainty; and

WHEREAS, In the opinion of the Common Council the public good requires that a further addition, as herein described, to the system of sewerage already constructed, should be now constructed in and for said city under the provisions of the Act in said preamble referred to, and the Common Council has so determined and does hereby so determine; therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby direct and order that a further addition to the system of sewerage already constructed under said Act and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, be constructed in and for said city under the provisions of the Act of the Legislature above referred to, with all the appurtenances necessary to complete the same, and of such dimensions and material and according to such plan as the said Common Council may hereafter direct, in and through the following described avenue, property, land and right of way described, mentioned and referred to in this ordinance, to wit:

McKinley Place;
Edgewood Avenue;
George Street, from Hill Street to Leland Avenue;
Prospect Avenue, from Park Avenue to Hillside Avenue;
Kensington Avenue, from Watchung Avenue to Prospect Avenue;
Thornton Avenue, from Park Avenue to Hillside Avenue;
Union Street, from Randolph Road to a point 500 feet south of Arlington Avenue;
Madison Avenue, from Stelle Avenue to a point 400 feet south of Randolph Road;
Central Avenue, from Randolph Road to a point 1,200 feet south thereof;
Randolph Road, from Central Avenue to a point 280 feet west thereof;
Fillmore Avenue;
In right of way through property of David Hand from the intersection of Denmark Road and Dixie Lane to Berkeley Avenue;
In right of way through property of David Hand, Sarah Henry, Ira L. La Rue and Edith H. Colby from Berkeley Avenue to East Seventh Street.

Sec. 2. That house connections shall be constructed from the above named sewers to the curb lines and also in the streets hereinafter specified as shown on plan now on file in the City Clerk's office, entitled "Plan showing House Connections with Sewers, City of Plainfield, N. J.," dated March, 1907. The streets last referred to are the following:

Randolph Road, from Central Avenue to Park Avenue;
Park Avenue, from Ninth Street to South End Avenue;
Arlington Avenue, from Union Street to Randolph Road;
Arlington Place;
Martine Avenue, from Park Avenue to Hillside Avenue;
Berkeley Avenue, from Park Terrace to Leland Avenue;
Leland Avenue, from Front Street to Columbia Avenue;
Netherwood Avenue, from Front Street to North Avenue;
Jackson Avenue, from Front Street to North Avenue;
Johnston Avenue, from Front Street to North Avenue;
Hill Street, from North Avenue to George Street;
East Seventh Street, from Leland Avenue to a point 940 feet east thereof,

was presented, read, and ordered to be considered and acted upon by said Common Council at its next regular meeting to be held at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in said City of Plainfield, on Monday, the first day of April, 1907, at the hour of eight o'clock in the evening of that day, and at such meeting ample opportunity will be given to all parties in favor of or opposed to the improvement contemplated by said ordinance, to present their views with reference to the same, in writing, or otherwise, as the Common Council may at that time direct; and public notice is hereby given of the intention of said Common Council to cause said improvement set forth in said ordinance to be made; and such persons or corporations as may object thereto are requested to present their objections in writing at the City Clerk's office (No. 151 North Avenue, in said City of Plainfield, N. J.), at or before the expiration of said ten days; and said Common Council at such meeting to be held on the first day of April, 1907, as above stated, or afterward, may proceed to consider and pass such ordinance, notwithstanding any objection.

By direction of the Common Council.

J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.
Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March 14, 1907.

TO THE PUBLIC!

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company offer for subscription its stock in amounts to suit purchasers from $25 upward.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of erecting a dam to accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, for the purpose of ice cutting, and also erecting houses for storing the same. The lake thus formed will be approximately 2 mile long and a quarter of a mile at its widest part, and will yield a large quantity of ice.

The company, under the management of a Board of able Directors, will endeavor to reduce the cost of construction, maintenance, etc., to a minimum, and thus be able to fill the demand of the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the remainder of the ice to outside markets at prices which will yield large profits.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors to sell the shares of the capital stock of the Company to residents of Plainfield, North Plainfield and vicinity, and thus allow them the privilege of sharing in the profits of the Company in the shape of dividends at the end of each year. To place this plan within the reach of all consumers of ice and to carry out the idea of a mutual Company, the Company will issue its stock in $25 shares.

As the Company is not to issue any bonds against its property it is obvious that each and all share holders will be doubly secured and will have first claim on the property and the works, the same being free and clear in every respect, and further are assured against loss in each step that the Company takes in bringing the project to completion as follows: First. The Company has already received offers for lake site at a considerable advance on the price that the stockholders will pay for it.

Second. The price paid for building dam will be over four times secured by the lake thus formed, a body of pure water of this size within so short a distance of New York being extremely valuable.

Third. Money expended for icehouses will complete the plant. The completed plant such as is proposed to erect should be worth on conservative estimation three times the total capitalization of the Company.

In securing the Directors of this Company, special effort was taken to get men of financial standing and ability, of character and good repute; men not only at the head of different prosperous corporations but also men holding public respect and confidence. This was done as the Company intends to be a People's Company, and, therefore, wishes to be directed by men of the people and by the people themselves.

The officers of the Company are:

President, Mr. Henry C. Wicker, Treasurer and Secretary of the Nassau Bond Company.

Vice-President, Mr. Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

Treasurer, Mr. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Treasurer, Mr. J. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Secretary, Mr. John J. Lordan, a Lawyer in New York City.

The Directors of the Company are:

Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

J. F. MacDonald, Director of City National Bank.

H. C. Wicker, Secretary and Treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company.

C. M. Wicker, President of the Nassau Bond Company.

E. G. F. du Mazuel, President of the Consolidated Engineering Company of America.

Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock of the Company at the office of Mr. W. dela R. Anderson, 208 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., at which offices subscription blanks and all detailed information relative to the above may be obtained.

The Company has chosen a local bank in which all funds, securities and moneys are to be deposited and through which all the Company's business is to be done.

SPRING MILLINERY.

Our recent opening of Smart and Chic Millinery created a sensation by reason of its superb superiority. The unexampled beauty of the exquisite hats for spring has been proclaimed from the housetops in stentorian tones.

It has been freely acknowledged by visitors the models displayed, taken individually and as a whole, are the most exquisite exhtbited in Plainfield. Prices, too, are remarkably low. Be convinced—comparison.

WOMEN'S SPRING SUITS AND JACKETS.

Our new line of Suits and Jackets are ready for inspection. Our styles are the newest and most up-to-date only.

$12.50—Our new line of suits in black, brown, navy blue and fancy checks and plaids are the best value ever offered for the money and would be good value at $15.98.

$5.00—Women's Spring Jackets, the best value ever offered for the money, cut in the newest styles and really worth $7.98.

DO YOU HAPPEN TO KNOW that Astigmatism is the cause of much suffering,

Because
- It causes headaches, dizziness and pains in the back of the head.
- It causes the temples to throb—the eyes to itch and burn.
- It causes a sleepy, unnatural and tired feeling and car sickness.

Do you know What
- Makes the memory of children at school so poor?
- The professors in the great colleges are advocating glasses for?
- Most physicians do when they have given you headache medicine in vain?

SMITH TO PITCH HERE SAYS "DAVE" DRISCOLL

TWO TEAMS TO USE CRESCENT OVAL THIS SUMMER.

Arrangements have practically been completed whereby the Y. M. C. A. and Clinton Avenue baseball teams, of the Inter-City Amateur League, will use Crescent Oval the coming season. They will alternate in playing on the grounds and these teams will meet each other there. This will give the local fans a game every Saturday at the oval. The management of the two teams have been in consultation with officers of the Plainfield Baseball Association and also with Philip Daab, who managed last year's team, and it is understood that those interested are perfectly willing that the two amateur teams should use the grounds.

This will interfere with the proposition made by Dave Driscoll, who secured a franchise for Plainfield in the Lacakawanna League, as he was hoping to secure the oval. That team, however, did not plan to play in Plainfield every Saturday, a series of about fifteen games being scheduled for Plainfield and an equal number away. If arrangements could be made whereby the Lackawanna League team could play here on the off dates of the other two teams it might work satisfactory. Driscoll will be at the Iroquois Hotel tomorrow night at 8 o'clock when he hopes to meet the fans and talk over his plans for Plainfield.

According to his idea the expense of a team here this season would be one-half of that of last year and the nine would receive a guarantee of $75 when it played away from home, which would be sufficient to cover its expenses. He estimates that by drawing a crowd of between 400 and 500 people this would meet expenses here and give a profit. Driscoll says that he has the agreement that "Phil" Smith will pitch for him and he has practically determined on the other members of his team, which he says will be the equal in strength of any other team in the Lackawanna League, and he feels sure that the rivalry between the several aggregations will result in a revival of interest in the national game.

THE FORUM.

Plainfield, N. J., March 23, 1907.
Editor, The Daily Press:

Dear Sir: I see in the columns of your paper last night a statement made by Rev. P. T. Morris, saying that there was no truth in my statement and also said that I was influenced to say what I did without knowledge and that I regretted what I did say, and at his request I was added to the trustee board. I was elected trustee and he had nothing to do with me becoming a trustee. His statement is untrue and I can prove every word I said in my statement on the 21st. He spoke of the church being in harmony. The few people who followed him from Calvary out of a row may be in union with him. The church that existed before he or them got there are not in union with him. Therefore the notice was served on him that his service was no longer needed as pastor by them of the Ebenezer Baptist church.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Services will be held in the Baptist church at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and 7:45 in the evening. The morning topic will be "The Eastern Question," and the evening topic, "Believe of the Lord Jesus Christ." The Christian Endeavor Society will meet in the lecture room at 7 o'clock. The topic will be "Noble Men and Women." Monroe Pyatt will lead.

The village streets have shown a decided improvement this spring. William Hamilton is the new town committeeman and credit is due to him.

There will be a musical service at the Baptist church on Easter Sunday morning. It will be equally as fine as the special Christmas service.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gaffney have returned to their home in Jersey City, after a visit with relatives here.

Mrs. Charles Soper, of Easton, Pa., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Daniel Randolph.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE'S EMPLOYMENT CAR PLAN.

Paterson, March 23.—The "employment car" made its first appearance here yesterday. The car is owned by the Public Service Corporation, and it is especially constructed to run over all lines of the North Jersey trolley systems. Superintendent Albert Eastman is in charge, and he has a couple of clerks to accompany him. Desks are arranged within the car so that an applicant for a position for motorman or conductor can make out his application in the car. The advantage of this method is that when a man employed with the corporation is compelled to resign, he cannot again get a position, because the only way he can again seek employment is by applying to Mr. Eastman and his clerks. They know him immediately and look up his record before he is appointed to a position.

Heretofore when a man lost his position in this city he could go to Newark, Jersey City or other places and seek a position and there would be no previous record of his former employment with the company. All applications for employment must be made through Superintendent Eastman. The car will be stationed at Jersey City on Mondays, Newark on Tuesdays, West Hoboken on Wednesdays, Paterson on Thursdays, Westfield on Fridays and New Brunswick on Saturdays.

Klaw & Erlanger's production of Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders' new musical comedy, "The Grand Mogul," will receive its New York premiere at the New Amsterdam theatre Monday evening. This piece excells in brilliancy of music and cleverness of book these authors' previous greatest success, "The Prince of Pilsen," which made the phenomenal record of twelve engagements in New York. "The Grand Mogul" received its first presentation in Rochester ealy last November, and, after brief engagements in smaller cities, was presented for a long run at the Colonial theatre in Chicago, where it scored a great hit. St. Louis, Cincinnati and Boston have since endorsed this verdict. Frank Moulan plays the leading comedy role. Other noted principals of the company are John Dunsmure, George Moore, W. H. Macart, Sager Midgeley, J. R. Williams, A. Seymour Brown, W. C. Schrode, Eugene Moulan, Maude Lillian Berri, Edith St. Clair, Elsa Ryan, Laura Clement and Pauline Thorne. The chorus is notable for a large number of very pretty girls.

Daniel Frohman's production of "The Spoilers," a four-act play by Rex Beach and James MacArthur, founded on the former's famous novel of the gold fields at Nome, Alaska, was given its premiere at the New York theatre last Monday evening and scored a marked success. The story is presented in four acts, the scenes showing the deck of a steamer bound for Alaska, the law office of the United States District Attorney at Nome, the gambling hall of the "Broncho Kid" at Nome, a room in an isolated tavern outside of Nome and "The Midas" gold mine. "The Spoilers" as a novel proved a most graphic description of conditions existent in Alaska attending the looting of the mines at Nome by a corrupt gang of political highbinders, who, allied with a corrupt judiciary, attempted to take forcible possession, under the guise of law, of the richest mines in the Nome district. The result of the publication of this story was the breaking up of the conspirators in Alaska and the complete overthrow politically of the leaders of the conspiracy in the State in which they had long reigned politically supreme.

Commencing Monday, "The Belle of Mayfair" enters upon the last week of its marvelous run at Daly's theatre, New York, the engagement terminating positively Saturday night, March 30th, when the entire organization of nearly one hundred and twelve people will immediately prepare for a thousand mile run to Chicago where the company opens at the Colonial theatre for an indefinite stay. On Monday night, April 15th, at Wallack's theatre will be produced for the first time in America the new English Lyrical Musical Comedy, "The White Chrysantheum," direct from the Criterion theatre, London, where it was quite the vogue for nearly two years. The play is in three acts and three scenes and tells a pretty love story of English naval officers and English girls in the Mikados Flowery Kingdom. The music is by Howard Talbot who composed a "Chinese Honeymoon" while the book and lyrics are by England's foremost authors. A great cast has been engaged which includes Lina Abarbanell, the grand opera prima-donna, Edna Wallace Hopper, Augusta Glose, Charlotte Leslay, Henry V. Donnelly, Van Rensselaer Wheeler, Edward Garvie, Lawrence Grossmith, Dave Lewis, together with the famous Eight Vassar Girls, a chorus of fifty and orchestra of thirty. Seats are now on sale for the opening and the first month.

CHILD'S NOON LUNCHEON.

Luncheon for the school children should be of good quality and generous quantity. Growing children require nutritious food and plenty of it to supply brain, nerve and muscle.

The luncheon should be varied in service. Change the menu three times a week at least. If the child can come home to luncheon so much the better for both child and parent. Mother can then see to the wants and determine if the child is eating enough of the best food.

Beef, roasted or boiled, with dumplings one day and gravy another, with fruit or cake for dessert and an apple to eat on the way back to school, is an ideal luncheon.

Baked beans or tomatoes, soup of corn or peas would make still another good luncheon. Cornmeals cakes or muffins or fried mush is palatable without being expensive.

Rice served with milk or sauce or cooked raisins is much enjoyed by children. Lamp chops or lamb stew with noodles is also nourishing food.

Fish once a week and oysters are also valuable. All chool children love pickles, and they are not injurious if plenty of whoesome food is taken with them.

A luncheon that has to be carried to school should be prepared to look inviting and be nourishing.

Make sandwiches of meat. Cut the bread thin, trim the slices ot crust if crust is distasteful to the child. Chop the meat finely, ham or cold beef, lamb or veal.

Butter the bread lightly, lay a layer of meat, which should be sprinkled with salt, celery salt or mustard, and on this lay another slice of buttered bread. Wrap in white paper and then in a napkin.

Send with this fruit. Apples are always good, so are also bananas and oranges, crackers or cake—the small cakes are the best—vanilla wafers, cookies and ginger cakes.

THREE LITTLE DOLLS.

I have three little dolls in my play room,
Annie and Fanny and May,
And one is witty, and one is pretty,
And one is naughty all day.

And some people wouldn't believe it,
And others would think it queer,
But the third is my pet and my darling,
Naughty, but dearest dear.

And over and over I kiss her,
And over and over i say,
I never could spare the dolly,
Who is often naughty all day.

EARLY AN DLATE.

Go to bed early—wake up with joy;
Go to bed late—cross girl or boy.

Go to bed early—ready for play;
Go to bed late—moping all day.

Go to bed early—no pains or ills;
Go to bed late—doctors and pills.

Go to bed ealy—grow very tall;
Go to bed late—stay very small.
—W. S. Reed, in St. Nicholas.

IF YOU ARE IN LOVE.

Don't make the mistake of thinking your marriage is all going to be paradise. You are going to marry a man who will come home tired, cross, and fagged, and he won't find relief for all his trials in a carees and a few tender words, as he did before marriage, when they were more of a novelty. He would rather have his dinner, though he may not confess it. When he has been fed and comforted, however, he will be ready for this tenderness, and the fact that he did not feel demonstrative when his stomach was empty will be no sign that he is not still in love.

Believe in the man you take as your life's partner; be gentle with him; don't contradict him when he is tired; let him think he is having his own way in his own house; feed him with what he likes and laugh at his jokes. Herein lies the secret of a happy home.—Woman's Life.

DO NOT DRESS IN A HURRY.

Never let it be your boast that you can dress in five minutes. No woman who has any respect for her appearance or her clothes will attempt to dress in even double that time. It is as true in dressing as in anything else that where there is the more haste there is the less speed. It is particularly trying for a woman to dress in a hurry. She gets flurried, and in her attempt to fasten her brooch the pin sticks into her finger, says Woman's Life. She gets cross over this, and then everything goes wrong. Buttons come off shoes or laces break, gloves and veil are not to be found until boxes and drawers have been turned upside down, and then the missing articles have been found on the dressing table. When she does at last get ready she is conscious of appearing at her worst, being hot and angry with herself and everybody else.

ARE YOU AWARE THAT

The fresher eggs are the rougher you will find the shells, and it takes a longer time to boil them?

An egg boiled twenty minutes is more easily digested than one cooked ten?

Eggs fried in grease will not stick to the pan if a few drops of water is placed in the pan, and the lid put on for a few seconds. This covers the top of the yolk with a white coating, and it does not break when removed from the pan.

Stale eggs float in a pan of water, while good ones sink first to the bottom.

The Nicest Way He Knew.

An uptown physician has two young hopefuls, Master Tommy and Miss Jennie, the latter the elder by a year or two. A few days ago Master Tom came in, whimpering, with the complaint: "Papa, Jennie's got my roller skates on, and I want 'em, and she wont' give 'em to me."

"Did you ask her for them kindly, my son?"

"Yes, papa."

"Well, suppose you go back and try again. Ask her just the nicest way you know, and see if you can't get them."

The youngster trotted out and the father from the doorway heard him ask in wheedling tones: "Jennie, for God's sake, let me take them skates?"

The following extracts are from examination papers handed in at a public school in Connecticut:

1. From what animals do we get milk?

2. The hen is covered with feathers. With what is the cat covered?

Ans. The cat is covered with fleas.

3. Name an animal that has four legs and a long tail.

Ans. A mosquito.

4. Name two kinds of nuts.

Ans. Peanuts and forget-me-nuts.

The Machine—The Boss Politics

These are the things of which we hear every day. Add to these romance, passionate love, the wooing of a strong man, and you have the ingredients from which has been compounded, by a master hand, a new serial story we are going to give our readers, entitled:

THE PLUM TREE

DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS

Hon. Albert J. Beveridge:— Plot, action, color, vitality make "The Plum Tree" as thrilling as it is instructive. Mr. Phillips' analysis of character and motive is terribly merciless. He shows us appalling depth but leaves us at last upon the heights. Knowledge of the unworthy and base, and fearlessness in stating it, together with an almost religious faith in the triumph of the good, distinguish all the work of this remarkable young novelist. Everybody ought to read this work of this brilliant writer whose career is only beginning and whose resourcefulness and art assure him a high place among the contemporary novelists of the world.

Corporation Notice.

Public notice is hereby given that at a regular adjourned meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, held on Thursday, the fourteenth day of March instant, an ordinance of which the following is a true copy, to wit:

AN ORDINANCE

To Provide Separate Sewers Or Drains To Carry Off the Surface Water in a Portion of Plainfield Avenue.

WHEREAS, The city finds it necessary, and the Common Council hereby so determines, to provide separate sewers or drains to carry off the surface water in a portion of Plainfield Avenue hereinafter specified, and the water flowing into the brook near the city line, through said portion of said street, and the Common Council has determined, and doth hereby determine that the public good requires the construction of the sewers or drains hereinafter specified:

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby direct and order that separate sewers or drains to carry off the surface water in said portion of Plainfield Avenue and the water flowing into the brook near the city line, as aforesaid, be constructed in and for said City of Plainfield in Plainfield Avenue from Randolph Road to the brook near the city line, as shown for said portion of Plainfield Avenue on a map on file with the City Clerk of the City of Plainfield, entitled "Map for Separate Sewers or Drains to Carry Off the Surface Water in a Portion of Plainfield Avenue, City of Plainfield, N. J., March, 1907," made by Andrew J. Gavett, City Surveyor (to which map reference is hereby made and the same made a part hereof) said separate sewers or drains to be constructed on said portion of Plainfield Avenue between the above mentioned points, as shown on said map, with the necessary manholes and appurtenances to complete the same, and to be of the dimensions and materials, and to be laid along such lines and at such grades and in such manner as indicated and specified on said map.

Sec. 2. That the costs and expenses to be incurred under this ordinance shall be paid with money to be raised by taxation (by general tax for street improvements) pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, as other moneys are raised in said city.

was presented, read and ordered to be considered and acted upon by said Common Council at its next regular meeting to be held at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in said City of Plainfield, on Monday, the first day of April, 1907, at the hour of eight o'clock in the evening of that day, and at such meeting ample opportunity will be given to all parties in favor of or opposed to the improvement contemplated by said ordinance, to present their views with reference to the same, in writing, or otherwise, as the Common Council may at that time direct; and public notice is hereby given of the intention of said Common Council to cause said improvement set forth in said ordinance to be made; and such persons or corporations as may object thereto are requested to present their objections in writing at the City Clerk's office (No. 151 North Avenue, in said City of Plainfield, N. J.) at or before the expiration of ten days from the date of this notice, or to the Common Council at its first meeting held after the expiration of said ten days; and said Common Council at such meeting to be held on the first day of April, 1907, as above stated, or afterward, may proceed to consider and pass such ordinance, notwithstanding any objection.

By direction of the Common Council.
J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.

Another reason—why gas is a home comfort.

It displaces the oil lamp in the bedroom, where it not only adds to ease of illumination, but may be used to heat the curling iron.

To the woman with straight hair this is a boon.

No chimneys to clean each morning; no lamps to fill with greasy oil; no trouble at all if you use gas.

LITERARY.

A short story of far more than ordinary significance serves to open The Red Book Magazine for April. Its title, "The Empty Box," piques one's curiosity but only after the story has been read does the excellence of the title make itself felt. The author, Joseph Altsheler, is well and favorably known through his American novels. Another story, one that is strikingly varied from the foregoing, is "How Jake Went Home" by the famous author of "The Incomplete Amorist," E. Nesbit. It recounts the adventure of a little London street waif on the floor of the ocean, and must strike a responsive cord in the heart of every lover of children. A tensely dramatic tale of army life in the Philippines is Roselle M. Davis' "The Gilt Cap Cord," and a bit of original, if primitive, humor is Campbell MacCulloch's "A Napoleon of the Utes."

A distinct contribution to contemporaneous literature is the epic poem, "At Pilate's Judgment Seat," by Thomas Nelson Page, in the April Woman's Home Companion. In this poem, which occupies two full pages of the magazine, Mr. Page departs from the usual procedure and describes the Judgment from Pilate's point of view. The result is a masterly and novel treatment of the most marvelous trial scene in the world's history. The poem is strikingly decorated by Herbert Paus. Another important feature in this number of the Woman's Home Companion is a characteristic editorial by Edward Everett Hale, "Some Reminiscences of the Nation's Capitol." Homer Davenport, who recently visited the Arabian Desert for this magazine, has a notable article, entitled "The Arab Horse in Legend and Story," in which is given a wealth of first-hand information on a very interesting subject. The ever helpful subject of home building is treated by Henry Harrison Lewis is an article, "Selecting the Site," which describes in detail this important preliminary in home construction. An unusually strong array of fiction headed by a timely short story, "Mrs. Sackett's Easter Bonnet," by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman and including Josephine Daskam Bacon's serial, "The Domestic Adventurers," and short stories by Jennette Lee, Temple Bailey, Lulu Judson Moody and Gelston Spring give added interest to the April number.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Ike Richards, of Somerset street, buys second hand clothing at highest prices.

Contemplate building? If so, consult Titus H. Laury, of East Front street. He contracts only for first-class work.

If you are at all interested in real estate consult with M. F. Gano, of Park avenue. He has information that will be to your advantage.

To the furniture-buyer of Plainfield, the one place above all others is Powlison & Jones' store, East Front street. It contains all that he or she may want at prices that are amazing in their reasonableness.

ELECTRIC LIGHT DON'TS.

Don't let the office boy or any one else who does not understand make changes in electric wiring or lights. They may do the very thing they ought not.

Don't pull a lamp hung by a flexible cord to one side with a wire and then fasten to a gas pipe. A wire may become red hot in this manner. If the lamp hung by a cord must be pulled over, use a strong.

Don't wrap paper around a lamp for a shade. You might go home and forget it and a fire might be started from the heat. Use a glass or metal shade.

Don't try to save a litle by running flexible wires over boxes, partitions and into closets. Have permanent wires installed. These flexible wires used this way are dangerous.—Chicago Daily News.

High Collars.

With her usual perversity, Fashion has decreed that collars increase in height and in comfort, too, strange as that may seem. It is, however, easily explained. Since those little "valleines," or featherbones, that give the necessary support, have for some time reached fairly up to the ears, they could become no higher; but the change is in the transparent covering, which is made of soft lace, entirely or in combination with some filmy material. Instead of being rounded out, as it formerly was, the collar is now made straight, hence it must be a little looser.

Understudy's Hard Lot.

The lot of the understudy, like that of the policeman, is not a happy one. Understudies put in a great amount of hard work for which they gain very little credit. Day after day, in the gloomy shrouded theatre, understudies gather to rehearse their roles, dialogue, "business," and songs. All this in addition to their own work in the evening.—London Bystander.

BOWLING

The P. B. A. team, which will roll the Mutual Life aggregation on McLaughlin's alleys, Monday night, will consist of VanEmburgh, Blatz, Causebrook, John McLaughlin and Kiely. The Mutuals are the winners of the New York city insurance league series and are considered exceptionally strong.

The bowling tourney that has been in progress at McLaughlin's alleys all winter, is scheduled to end on April 5. Games that were postponed at various times are now being rolled off and the conclusion will undoubtedly be made on time. Gaddis and Dilks are now three games ahead of Kiely and Runyon for the lead.

The Shamrock A. C. and the West End bowling teams will have another series of games on the McLaughlin alleys next week. In previous contests to honors have gone to the Shamrocks.

Choir Boys' Ball Challenge.

The Holy Cross church choir boys will have a nine in the field again this year. They challenge all boys' teams in New Jersey. Their age average is 15-16.

A pulpit stand has been donated for the work at Hunter Avenue Tabernacle by George Winans, of Somerset street.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Mr. De Meris will speak at the Plainfield Mission tonight.

Church notices will not be received over the telephone. Ministers are requested to send by mail or messenger such notices as they may desire published.

Three members of the Mission congregation will be with E. C. Mercer of the Water Street Mission when he speaks at the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon.

CLOSED PORTALS.

The Memorial detail from Winfield Scott Post, No. 77, G. A. R., will meet tonight to further plans for the observance of Memorial Day.

D. W. Littell, treasurer of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanm, yesterday received from the supreme treasurer, E. A. Skinner, Westfield, N. Y., two checks each for $3,000, to pay the death claims of their late members, Fred M. Slater and George F. Fisher. The checks were received twelve days from the dates of death and five days after the date of mailing proof.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. William Ebbets Lowe, of Park avenue, who, with her family is stopping in New York for the season, has sent out cards for teas on Thursdays in April at her residence in East Sixty-sixth street.

Mrs. D. M. Jensen, her son, J. Jensen and daughters, the Misses Jensine and Marie Jensen, of Washington Valley, will leave today for Oakland, California, where they will reside in the future.

DOCTOR SAYS LANG HAS NO "BRAIN STORM."

Dr. Evans Declares Murderer Is Not Insane.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, of the Morris Plains Asylum, who brought "brain storms" into the vocabulary of alienists, failed to find that or any other mental ailment in the cranium of Fred Lang, a Hungarian boy, under sentence of death at New Brunswick for the murder of his niece, Katie Gordon.

Lang shot Katie because she refused to marry him, ran away and when recaptured the question of his sanity was raised. Dr. Evans went to New Brunswick and examined the boy in company with Dr. J. L. Suydam, of Jamesburg, on July 12 last. Dr. Evans declared that Lang was sane. The alienist was paid $135 for his services, the county records show.

Lang was convicted without the question of his sanity being raised. Since then he has been showing signs of something very much like "brain storms." Once he set fire to the county jail, another time he made a rope from his ticking, and said he wanted to go outside and hang himself with it. Nearly every night he sits up and makes sleep impossible by shouting at the top of his voice. He has a Hungarian book of sermons and spends the day reading discourses to his fellow prisoners.

"CENTRAL PARK"

Was——Is——Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm.

IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences.

Central Park is that beautifully situated tract bounded by Park, Prospect, Hillside and Thornton Avenues.

OLD DEED'S FIRST TRANSFER IN CENTURY

MORSS FARM WAS HELD FROM THE DAYS OF THE INDIANS.

A noteworthy transfer of property took place last week, when a deed was given by the owners of what is known as the Morss Farm at Linden, to the Tremley Improvement Company, of New York.

This property has been continuously held by the Morss family since Robert Morss purchased it of the Indians in 1657. Its history dates back almost to the time of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers on Plymouth Rock in 1620. Robert Morss, the founder of the family in America, emigrated from England prior to 1644, residing in Boston, Newbery, Rowley and Long Island, finally settling in 1657 on the farm just sold, in what was then part of Elizabethtown, now Elizabeth, N. J. He was Rahway's first settler, and his history is written in the archives of New Jersey, particularly in the town and church records of Elizabethtown, Woodbridge and vicinity, where he is found to have acted a conspicuous and honorable part in founding and conducting the settlement.

The old homestead, still standing, has changed but little in appearance, except from natural decay, since the days when British soldiers, during the time of the Revolutionary war in 1776, made it a stopping place in their numerous raids through this section. A little incident of how Mr. Morss outwitted the British is still related by some of the family:

One night whilst the British were in possession of the house, Mr. Morss overheard some of the soldiers discussing means for driving off the cattle early in the morning, so, late at night, he arose and made his way downstairs to the kitchen. He was obliged, owing to the interior arrangement of the house, to pass through the dining room where the soldiers were sleeping, stretched out on the floor. The sentinel asked him where he was going. He answered, that his wife was not feeling well and he was going to make her some tea. He passed on into the kitchen, made the tea, return through the room apparently going upstairs, but, in reality, slipped out the back door of the hall, went to the stables and drove the cattle away to a place of safety. In the morning the soldiers discovered the cattle gone and inquired of Mr. Morss as to where they could be found, and he told them they had been driven to Elizabethtown during the night and sold to the butcher.

HELD IN $3,000 BAIL ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Elizabethan Arraigned Before Judge Atwater Killed a Negro.

George D. Hollins, of Elizabeth, who killed James Thorn, a negro, two weeks ago, was arraigned before Judge Atwater at a special session of the Court of Quarter Session, Elizabeth, this morning. He was charged with manslaughter and on entering a plea of not guilty, was held in $3,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Thorn with another man was engaged to shovel snow near the home of Mr. Hollins. The two men started on their job at 5 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Hollins was awakened by the noise and believing that there were burglars about his home went to the window and discharged his revolver five times at Thorn.

HAMMERSTEIN OPERA PAYS.

Impresario Makes the Fact Known on Hearing Conried Has Lost $100,000.

A statement having been made by Mr. Conried yesterday that the Metropolitan Opera House had lost $100,000 this season as a result of the San Francisco fire and the "Salome" production, this was issued last night from the Manhattan Opera House:

"Mr. Hammerstein announces that his profit on the season is thus far in excess of $10,000, and with the remaining four weeks of prospective excellent business, judging from the box office demands, the profit will be largely increased. Of course Mr. Hammerstein did not have the misfortune of sustaining losses through the burning of scenery nor through a deplorable intermezzo like 'Salome,' but he had Mr. Conried as a rival."

SHE SAT ON PIANO.

Woman Vainly Tried to Prevent Replevin of Instrument.

When Edgar A. Hartdorn, with a writ of replevin, visited yesterday the home of Joseph Sohl in Milburn to take a piano on which payment had defaulted Mrs. Sohl became very indignant. The official showed his authority and said:

"I must take away the piano."

"Well, I guess you won't take it," Mrs. Sohl said.

She leaped on the piano and called to her husband to come and save the instrument. Mr. Sohl admitted that he had failed to keep up his payments and told the officer to take away the piano. As it was being carried off the woman wept.

PALM SUNDAY SERVICES

Congregations Pack St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Churches at High Mass.

BISHOP AT ST. STEPHEN'S

Episcopal Prelate Confirms a Class of Seven—Candidates From Grace Church Among Those Who Are Confirmed.

Palm Sunday was observed in the churches yesterday, with especial solemnity in the Catholic and Epicopal churches, to which the day was of marked significance as the beginning of what is Holy Week in their calendars. The services in the ritualistic churches were as prescribed by their laws; the Episcopal ministers preached sermons appropriate to the day and the priests of the Catholic churches read the Passion as set forth by St. Matthew, which is required on Palm Sunday. The churches and the altars were decorated with palms, and at the Catholic churches palms were blessed and strips were distributed to the worshippers. Many of the young men among the latter made small crosses of the palm and wore them in their hats or lapels.

In spite of the raw weather the worshippers attended in large numbers. St. Mary's and St. Joseph's churches were crowded at the high mass.

The morning worshippers at St. Mary's numbered not less than 1,500. Masses were celebrated hourly from 6:30 o'clock until 10:30 o'clock; the solemn high celebration was held at the latter hour. Rev. Father Vinvent Sciolla was the celebrant. Edmund Walsh, a bass singer of unusual talent, sang "The Palms" in Latin at that service.

At St. Joseph's church two masses were celebrated, at 8:30 o'clock and 10:30 o'clock. The church was packed at the latter service. Rev. Father William Miller, the rector, was the celebrant. A feature of the service was a procession of 100 children bearing palms.

The usual services were held at Grace and Holy Cross P. E. churches. At the former Rev. E. V. Stevenson, the rector, and at the latter Rev. George A. Warner, the rector, preached Palm Sunday sermons. The monring services were largely attended. The choirs sang special anthems with marked success.

The day was especially noteworthy at St. Stephen's P. E. church by reason of a visit from Bishop Scarborough, head of the diocese, at the high service. It was his regular Episcopal visitation and he found a class of seven adults awaiting confirmation. The church was filled by the congregation.

One of the candidates was from Grace church; the bishop will not visit Grace until fall. The Grace candidate was presented by Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, rector-emeritus of Grace.

Bishop Scarborough preached. He spoke on Palm Sunday lines, dwelling on the necessity for the people to hold themselves in readiness to receive and welcome Christ. The musical feature of the service was the singing an anthem by E. A. Sprowl.

Miss Jessamine Burd Engaged.

Miss Jessamine Burd, of Somerville, contralto, has been engaged by the First Presbyterian church for the coming year, beginning May 1. She has been a pupil of Miss Kate Opdyke, of Somerville, and Mme. Renaud, of New York, and has a contralto voice of exceptional strength and sweetness. Miss Anna Case, of Neshanic, who has been engaged as soprano soloist, is now ill with the grip, but will assume her new position on Sunday, April 7. Miss Edna Nichofl, the present contralto at the church, will remain until May 1, at which time her year is up. Clifford A. Braider, organist, is arranging for a special musical service on April 7, and during the coming year there will be special musical programmes on the first Sunday of each month.

Augustus Dangler to Marry.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Brown, of Long Branch, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Blanche H. Brown, and Augustus Dangler, on Tuesday afternoon, April 2, at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Overton place, Long Branch. Mr. Dangler formerly resided here, where he was engaged as a clerk at B. J. Schreiner's pharmacy.

Assemblyman Tillman Ill.

Assemblyman Peter Tillman is still seriously ill at his home, 175 West Milton avenue, Rahway. Fears are now entertained for his recovery. Mr. Tillman was stricken on Wednesday night last, and his condition grew so alarming that his family physician, Dr. John Randolph, called in Dr. James Green, of Elizabeth. His case was diagnosed as neuralgia of the stomach.

REV. AUDLEY J. BLISS WILL RECEIVE A CALL

RAHWAY PASTOR WANTED TO SUCCEED REV. E. E. ROBERSON

Rev. Dr. Halleron, presiding elder of the Elizabeth District, of the Newark Conference, was in Plainfield yesterday, and in addition to occupying the pulpit at the First M. E. church, took advantage of the opportunity to meet with the official board of the Monroe Avenue M .E. church, with a view to helping that church in the selection of a pastor to succeed Rev. E. E. Roberson, who has been called to the M. E. church at Orange.

The late call from Orange to Mr. Roberson left the Monroe Avenue church in a rather peculiar condition, as there was only a couple of weeks intervening before the meeting of the conference at Morristown and the time was limited in deciding upon a successor.

After the conference between the official board and Dr. Halleron it was decided by a public vote of the congregation last night to extend a call to Rev. Audley J. Bliss, now pastor of the M. E. church at Rahway. A committee from the church will call on Mr. Bliss tonight and formally present the call, leaving the rest to the Bishop. However, there seems to be liittle doubt but that the arrangement will be satisfactory. Mr. Bliss was formerly at Bloomsbury and is now completing his third year at Rahway. He is about thirty-five years old and in the opinion of those who know him and the conditions at the Monroe Avenue church he will be a worthy successor to Mr. Roberson.

TOLD TO KEEP HIS WIFE'S MOTHER FROM HOUSE.

Advice by Judge Runyon for Unhappy Married Man—Health Board to Investigate.

Frank Conger, arrested yesterday on complaint of his wife, who charged him with disorderly conduct, told Judge Runyon in the City Court this morning that his home was upset by his wife's mother. She interfered, and helped his wife get and stay drunk, he said.

Chief Kiely corroborated Conger's statement. The chief said he would have arrested the wife when she came to headquarters yesterday to make complaint, but for the fact that she had a young child with her. The chief said the Conger home was wretchedly kept, and in such condition as to have drawn complaint from the Organized Aid Association agent. He said he intended to bring it to the attention of the Board of Health. The house is at 417 Cottage place. Patrick Kane, the owner, was in court when the chief made his announcement. He said the mother-in-law kept the wife from conducting the rooms as she should.

Judge Runyon told Conger to bar his mother-in-law from the place, and to keep all money from his wife's hands. Conger works steadily. Sentence was suspended.

Tony Creoli Miscalculates.

Tony Creoli, an Italian living on Race street, attempted to catch on the borough chemical engine as it swung around from Somerset street into Lincoln place, Saturday night. Tony evidently miscalculated by about six seconds as instead of catching the step the end of one of the ladder's struck him a terrific crack on the side of the head. He was knocked twenty feet away and when picked up by Frank Neidig and a couple of other bystanders was unconscious. He was taken to his home and finally came to under administrations of a physician. Today Tony has a badly lacerated face to show where it came in contact with the ladder.

$40,000 Fire at Morristown.

A blaze supposed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed five buildings and caused a loss of $40,000 at Morristown, early yesterday morning. The flames started in a barn owned by the Ballentine Brewing Company, then spread to the W. H. Dutton Company's machine shop, two barns belonging to the Kersting estate and anothers owned by Mts. L. O. Stiles. Among the losses, beside buildings, were three automobiles and one horse stabled in the barn which first caught fire.

Sidewalk Rider Fined.

Frank Utszinger, a special delivery messenger attached to the local post-office, was arrested in the borough Saturday for riding his wheel on the sidewalk. Numerous complaints had been made about him and he had been warned to quit the practice but without result. Recorder Dolliver fined him $1.

—Dr. Ralph M. Crane, osteopathist, of 220 Central Park South, New York city, will visit Plainfield Tuesdays and Saturdays. Those desiring appointments for consultation and osteopathic treatment, address, care of Rev. A. C. Nickerson, 768 Kensington avenue. 3 2 tf s m ***

IMPROVING HOLLY TRACT

New York Man Plans Automobile Bus Service to 100 Acre Building Site.

MR. WENDEL PROMOTER

Building a Large Lake—To Divide Property Into Lots—A Club Stable.

Another improvement in the general plan to make Plainfield "the greatest suburban city in the United States," is now underway on the John I. Holly farm on Park avenue, which has been named Holly Park. Milton Mendel, a New York lawyer, purchased this tract of one hundred acres, together with the house and farm buildings, several months ago. Since then the property has been undergoing great repairs. Mr. Mendel is attracting others to the place and already several New Yorkers have arranged to purchase portions of the tract upon which to build homes for themselves. Among those who will locate there are G. W. Adams, cashier of the Oriental Bank, of New York; Mr. Aaron, president of the New York Belting and Packing Company, and Henry J. Sherman, a retired New York business man.

It is Mr. Mendel's intention to build a lake on the property, 1,200 feet long and later 2,000 feet. From the present body of water over 500 tons of ice was harvested last winter. Mr. Mendel not only wants to make the lake a source of profit in winter, but plans to have it used in the summer for boating and fishing. A well has been driven on the place fifty-five feet in depth and there is now forty feet of water in it. There is also a well 130 feet deep near the house, where a fine quality of water is found.

As soon as the proposed new houses are erected fine club stables will be built there where those desiring to keep hores may do so without putting up separate barns. There will be a community of interest in maintaing the stables. Another improvement planned is the operation of two automobiles between Plainfield and Metuchen by the way of South Plainfield. Two men have offered to contribute $5,000 each toward putting these autos into commission. They will be operated on a schedule that will give residents along the line almost as good service as the trolley.

In laying out the grounds and building new houses the park idea will be maintained, it being the object to retain all the natural beauties of the country with modern conveniences. Gas and electric lights are available in that section and Mr. Mendel proposes to lay water mains at least a mile and a half in length through which he will pump water by electricity to adjoining residences.

In speaking of his improvements, Mr. Menday today said, "The trouble is that the people of New York have no idea of the natural beauty and advantages to be found in such a place as Plainfield and vicinity. They will locate in the upper part of New York or Long Island, where they are obliged to put up with all sorts of inconveniences as to train service, etc., while within twenty-five or thirty miles of New York are to be found ideal places for residences. Plainfield is good enough for me and I intend to remain here."

FOR HOME MISSIONS.

Liberal Offering By Congregationalists In Response to Appeal.

Annual offerings for home mission work were received at the Congregational church yesterday. Rev. W. G. Puddefoot, of South Framingham, Mass., one of the field secretaries, was at the church and presented the needs of the worker.

He spoke at the morning service, before the Sunday-school in the afternoon, and at the Young People's meeting in the evening. He told of the field and the labors of the mission workers with graphic force, dwelling especially on the western field. He was so successful in his presentation of the demands of the work as to draw one of the largest collections the congregation has turned in. The collection will be held open for several days.

Women Reading Nasty News.

In an address at the morning service yesterday, Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, said some sharp things of women who appear to relish reading the disgusting accounts of a famous murder trial case now on trial in New York. He declared that he had reliable information that women buy up copies of the New York afternoon papers containing the worst features of the case and take such papers to their homes. The example of Christ purifying the Temple furnished him an opportunity to point a moral in this connection.

GOSSIPERS AS A MENACE

Christianity Impossible while Idle Story Bearers Continue Their Practice.

REV. MR. HOWARD'S TALK

Hope Chapel's Pastor Preached Strong Sermon On "Gossip and Lying" Last Night.

Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, concluded his series of special Lenten sermons on "What to Oppose" at last evening's service, his topic being, "Gossip and Lying." Like its predecessors, it was filled with pointed truths and brought to his congregation a realization of these despicable habits.

Mr. Howard took his text from Proverbs xx:18-20: "As a madman who casteth firebrands, arrows and death, so is the man that deceiveth his neighbor, and saith, am not I in sport? Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out; so where there is no talebearer, the strife ceaseth." The clergyman declared that a lying gossip is worse than a madman as the former is more harmful and more dangerous to control. Madmen may be restrained by law and put away for the good of the community and people would be better off in many ways if the same thing could be done with bearers of malicious tales, concocted for no other purpose than to cause someone an injury.

Mr. Howard compared the gossipers with other trouble-makers that he had mentioned in his preceding sermons and declared that the former are filled with meanness and untruth. Christianity is impossible while the practice continues and the only way to break people of it is by changing their hearts. Gossip he described as any idle story that causes harm and while the kind that is passed from mouth to mouth is the more common, illustrations of the same thing are frequently to be found in the newspapers. Articles built up on the flimsiest kind of a foundation frequently cause international complications and as an instance he quoted the recent Japanese affair in California. Men are sometimes worse than women in being originators of tales and almost anyone can recall an instance where incalculable harm has been done by it.

The pastor asserted that those who hear gossip can do a great deal to stop it as the miserable stories would be short lived if no one passed them on. When one is manufactured and told with malicious intent, he said, it is the duty of the person receiving it to rebuke the author and show by every action how contemptible a thing it is. In concluding, he referred to those who suffer by lying gossip but asserted that nothing untrue can hurt a man's character and that sooner or later a groundless story would redound upon the head of the author.

REV. E. E. ROBERSON GIVES TALK ON AMERICANISM.

Addresses Open Meeting of Martha Washington Council, Daughters of America.

Martha Washington Council, Daughters of America, held an open meeting Saturday night in the rooms in the Babcock building, to which friends of the council were invited. Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, and a member of the Jr. O. U. A. M., was invited to make an address.

He spoke particularly of the principles of the order, which include the aiding of Americans everywhere, relief from depression of foreign immigration, the maintenance of the public schools and no sectarian influence therewith. The principles are chiefly the same as those of the Jr. O. U. A. M., and Mr. Roberson gave an impressive talk concerning them. As a result several new members will be received by the council. A social hour followed the address.

Will of George F. Fisher Probated.

The will of the late George Frederick Fisher was admitted to probate before Surrogate Parrott at Elizabeth, this morning. It names the widow, Mrs. Fisher, as executrix, and bequeaths the property to her. J. Henry Crane is the attorney for the estate.

Lecture On Wrecking.

H. B. Saunders, of New York, who is connected with a marine wrecking company, will deliver a lecture on wreckers and life savers at work before the boys of the Y. M. C. A. on April 2. The lecture will be illustrated.

Frank Bird's Funeral.

The funeral of Frank Bird, who died at his home in Liberty Corner last week, will be held at the house tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock and from the Liberty Corner church an hour later.

K. D. MEMORIAL SERVICE

Benevolent Band Holds Service in Memory of Mrs. Margaret Bottome.

SEVERAL ADDRESSES

Mrs. Mead and Mrs. Myers Sketch History of Local Branches—Mrs. Reed Tells of the Work.

Impressive services in memory of Mrs. Margaret Bottome, for many years the president of the International Order of The King's Daughters, were held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of Benevolent Band of The King's Daughters. There was a large attendance of members and friends of the various circles in this city and borough. The service was also in the nature of a review of the work of the order in Plainfield since its organization in 1886.

Mrs. William Myers presided and the Scripture lesson was read by Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, at one time pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. Mrs. John C. Bliss spoke of the early day of the order here and of the part taken in the organziation by Miss Lucy Myers. Then Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, who has been prominently identified with the work, spoke more especially of the organization in 1886 with the formation of Charity Circle, of which she was the president. Then followed the organization of the other circles until it was decided to form a City Union of King's Daughters. This was accomplished at the Y. M. C. A., and it was the first city union organized. At that time Mrs. Isabelle Charles Davis, who was one of the speakers Saturday, was present and assisted in the details. Mrs. Mead briefly referred to the work for the Children's Home, the hospital bed, the employment of a city nurse, that position now being held by Miss Olive DeLany for seven years, the establishment of a dispensary, the baby camp on the mountain and that of The Day Nursery, the last charity work undertaken by the King's Daughters.

Mrs. Charles A. Reed, president of the City Union, gave a resume of the work accomplished during the past few years. She told of the great result from the baby camp on the mountain, where many sick babies were cured and of the benefit to the mothers who were permitted to remain at the camp with their babies. It was found necessary to restrict the camp to Plainfield children only, although applications were received from Newark, Cranford, Elizabeth and other places in the State.

Many interesting cases were cited in the care of the children and then the speaker referred to the establishment of The Day Nursery, suggested by Mrs. A. E. Faber. This is located at 444 West Third street, and was opened January, 1906. Mrs. Reed stated that 4,000 children were cared for during the past year, there being as many as thirty children there on one day. Mrs. Reed said that there are now eleven circles in the City Union, with a total membership of about 400.

After a solo, Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," by Everett Marshall Waterhouse, of New York, Mrs. Isabelle Charles Davis was introduced and she gave a charming talk on the life and work of Mrs. Margaret Bottome. Mrs. Davis was closely associated with the late leader of the King's Daughters for a quarter of a century and was particularly well fitted to speak concerning her. She related many personal reminiscences and experiences she had while working with Mrs. Bottome, remarking that the latter in all her Christian experience never came to a place where she needed courage to do a certain task. She never knew what physical suffering was and even at the time of her death, when she was past seventy years of age, always appeared as a person of sixteen years.

Mrs. Davis cited an instance showing how Mrs. Bottome was always ready with an answer to defend her Master and the Word of God. She was attending a dinner at which was a scientist. During the course of the dinner, the scientist said to Mrs. Bottome, "Why you don't believe in the Bible, do you?" Whereupon Mrs. Bottome replied: "Why, of course, I do, I know the author." The reply was effective and ended the conversation on that point.

Among the strong points of Mrs. Bottome referred to by Mrs. Davis was that while she might not always have been a leader she was an inspiration. She stood for hope, courage, joy and immortality. She described her last hours on earth most feelingly, and said that not even today do the King's Daughters realize that she is dead, so great is her influence.

DEMENTED NEWARKER IS SENT TO JAIL

TEN DAYS' QUIET, IT IS THOUGHT, WILL RESTORE MENTAL POISE.

The demented young man who was taken to the police station Saturday afternoon after he had tried to undress on Watchung avenue, has been identified as Albert Levy, of Newark. He became rational, Saturday, while under examination by Dr. C. B. Lufburrow and told how he lost his mental balance. He was struck by a train in Perth Amboy several years ago, and injured about the head. He has been in Morris Plains asylum and in a number of hospitals in and about New York. He loses his wits only at times. He is harmless.

He is known to the police of Newark, who have had him on their hands several times.

Levy refused to give the address of his mother and stepfather, beyond saying they lived in Orange Valley. He said he was afraid they might have him put away. He was arraigned before Judge Runyon this morning on a technical charge of disorder, and sentenced to ten days in jail. It is believed ten days of the quiet routine of the jail will restore his balance. He had $6 in his pockets when arrested, and will be able to care for himself financially when released.

PRESIDENT RANDOLPH ADDRESSES THE S. P. C. A.

Tells Members Motto of Local Society Will Be "Tact and Efficiency."

Forty-eight annual members, an increase of thirteen, and nine life members, an increase of one, were reported at the meeting of th S. P. C. A. at the office of Reed & Coddington, this morning. Mrs. Knox Taylor, who is about to remove from Plainfield, resigned her position as secretary, and her place will be filled before the next meeting on April 25. L. V. F. Randolph, president of the society, was in the chair. He made a few remarks citing briefly some of the good things accomplished since organization. He said that the motto of the society should be "Tact and efficiency."

Because of the inability of the society to publish its booklet setting forth the objects, constitution and list of officers, at present, it was decided to keep the charter membership list open until May 15. Several violations of the law were reported corrected in a quiet way, prosecution not being necessary. Mrs. William A. Woodruff acted as secretary at this morning's meeting and before the next meeting is held it is expected that all of the special agents for the society will have been appointed.

JAILED ON WIFE'S COMPLAINT.

Former Plainfielder Gets In Trouble at New Brunswick.

William Ford, a newpaper man who formerly resided in this city, is in the Middlesex county jail on complaint of his wife, Amy G. Ford, of New Brunswick, who charged that he threatened to do her bodily harm. The threats are alleged to have been made several weeks ago.

It is understood that Ford found his wife with a young man of Highland Park and attacked him. Mrs. Ford, who claims that nothing happened to which her husband could have taken exception, says that her husband threatened her and has persistently annoyed her since then, though she has tried to keep out of his way.

Special Officer Conrad Haberman arrested Ford and Justice Housell sent him to jail in default of bail.

Fitzsimmons Home for a Week.

Former Champion "Bob" Fitzsimmons and his company played an engagement in a "Fight for Love" at the New Brunswick Opera House, Saturday night, after which they closed for Holy Week. After the show "Bob" streaked it for Dunellen, where he will remain until the tour begins again next Monday. He was in town today and to a Press reporter declared it made a new man of him to see Plainfield once again. The company was to have played a matinee at New Brunswick, but was prevented by the scenery getting lost on its way down from Columbia, Pa.

Mayor Sells Former Residence.

Through George F. Brown's agency, C. H. Rugg, of the borough, on Saturday purchased Mayor Newton B. Smalley's former residence on Myrtle avenue and also M. H. Cleaves' property at 35 Codington avenue. The Smalley place sold for a figure around $12,000.

Still Without Pastor.

No successor to Rev. Frank Fletcher as pastor of the Baptist church, New Market, has been chosen yet. A candidate was asked to preach yesterday, but he secured a charge last week and couldn't come. Mr. Fletcher occupied the pulpit.

NEW COP'S BUSY NIGHT

Sweeney Foils Two Kinds of Thieves Within a Short Time.

SAVE HORSE AND METAL

Long Chase After Horse Thief, With Pistol Popping, Ends Fruitlessly — A Horse In North Plainfield Gone.

Policeman Frank Sweeney, one of the recent appointees on the force, put in a busy round of thief- chasing early Sunday morning. Within an hour and a half he balked a horse thief and two metal thieves. The thieves got away, but the policeman got their plunder.

Shortly after midnight Sweeney, patroling down Clinton avenue, saw two suspicious-looking men walking up from the direction of South Plainfield. One of them carried a bag over his shoulder. Sweeney started toward them. The man with the bag dropped it, and took to his heels; his companion followed. Sweeney gave chase, but the pair made good their escape.

The bag contained about 100 pounds of melted metal. It was afterwards found to be zink, probably from signal batteries along the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Less than seventy minutes later, while he was still congratulating himself on the way he had foiled the metal thieves, Sweeney saw a man leading a horse. That was at Second street and Grant avenue.

"Where are you going with that horse?" he called.

"He's got a colic," replied the man, "and I am walking him around."

Sweeney couldn't see signs of colic about the horse, and he started across the street. The man dropped the halter and fled. Sweeney chased him to Spooner avenue, through Spooner avenue and on to West Third street, from there across lots, shooting occasionally by way of emphasizing his demands that the man stop. The man kept on, however, and escaped in the cross-lots district.

Sweeney returned to the horse, and started back over the way the man had come to see if he could find trace of the owner. The barn of W. W. Wilson, a grocer, at Grant avenue and Third street, was found unfastened, and investigation disclosed the fact that the horse belonged there. The barn had been forced and the best horse in it taken.

Michael Michaelson, of 23 Warren street, reported to the police yesterday morning that a horse had been taken from his barn, and it is believed that a gang of two or three were at work. No other thefts or attempts were reported.

8,000 POUND SAFE FRACTURED HIS LEG.

Laborer Has Narrow Escape from Death at Manganese Works.

Michael White, employed as a laborer at the Manganese Steel Safe Works, received a fracture of the leg and contusions of the knee this morning, while assisting in moving an 8,000 pound safe from a freight car to the works. Contrary to the custom, White did not use a rope to perform the task, and the safe tipped over against another one catching White's leg between them.

White called for assistance and it required the combined strength of fifteen men to raise the safe and release him. The ambulance was summoned and the injured man removed to the hospital, where an examination showed a fracture and contusions. The injuries are not serious, although White will be laid up for several weeks. He is thirty-seven years old, married and has three children. He resides at 1328 West Third street.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

At the close of the morning service at the Baptist church yesterday a church meeting was held for the purpose of electing deacons, the church having decided to increase the board from three to five, as well as to add to the board three deaconesses, the latter addition being an innovation in the local church. Those elected were Deacons Charles R. Vincent, Edward D. Johnston, Deaconesses Mrs. F. W. Westcott, Mrs. A. D. Beekon and Miss Lydia Hayes.

Palm Sunday was appropriately observed yesterday at All Saints' Episcopal church. Special music was rendered by the choir as well as a strong sermon fitting to the day, being preached by the rector, Rev. William Mulford.

Rev. Mr. Phipps, a student at Drew Seminary, occupied the pulpit yesterday at the Methodist church. The church pulpit will be occupied by supply pastors until the conference meeting appoints a regular pastor for the year.

James H. Buckley, of the Pullman Car Company, returned yesterday from a two weeks' enforced stay at St. Louis, where he was stalled on account of the bad washouts west of Pittsburg.

Saturday's ideal weather started the National game of baseball for the season. The small boy and his ball and bat was very much in evidence.

Mrs. Warren Ackerman, who returned from Ormond Beach, Florida, last week, is seriously ill at her Mountain avenue home, "Hyde Park."

Miss Susie L. Parse spent Saturday with Mrs. Adelie West, of Camp street, Newark, a former old resident of the Plains and borough.

An interesting weekly gathering of the Epworth League was held last night in the class rooms of the church.

Mrs. William Hazels, of East Second street, Plainfield, was the guest yesterday of friends in town.

Mrs. C. M. Mooney, of Valley road, entertained friends from out of town over Sunday.

Miss Agnes Hogan is visiting friends in Elizabeth for the week.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

Palm Sunday services were held in St. John's and Holy Innocent churches yesterday. The palms were blessed and distributed at the 10:30 o'clock mass in St. John's.

Miss Mary Baldwin emphatically denies the report of her engagement which appeared in a Newark paper She has demanded a correction from the paper.

Four candidates are being considered by the trustees of the Baptist church, who have charge of choosing Rev. Frank Fletcher's successor.

George Kuldoshes has planned the erection of a four-family house on North avenue on the lot in front of his plumbing office.

Special music, decorations of palms and a Palm Sunday sermon marked the day at the Presbyterian church yesterday.

Mrs. John Green has moved from Brooklyn into the Titsworth house on Prospect avenue, recently vacated by Mrs. Lance.

A picture of one of E. L. McKenzie's blooded deerhounds appears in the current number of the Munsey Magazine.

The Athletic Club is making arrangements for a smoker. It will be in the nature of a farewell to the old quarters.

P. C. Staats has been suffering several days with an abscess of the inner ear. It is painful but not dangerous.

Miss Frances Addis, of Brooklyn, is spending a week at the home of Mrs. A. V. Charles, of Piscataway.

The Sunday-schools of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches will hold Easter services next Sunday.

Miss Sarah Cole has recovered from her illness.

The G. E. Club will meet tonight.

Their Deer Was Only a Goat.

Meriden, Conn., March 25.—Running through the principal streets of the city followed by a pack of yelping dogs, an animal, which was thought to be a fawn, sought refuge in a barber shop in State street yesterday. Men and boys drove the dogs away and the game warden was summoned. The supposed deer's lack of shyness had begun to arouse the suspicions of its captors, when William F. Hammond, a broker, arrived and said the animal was his valuable Toggenburg goat, which he imported from Switzerland for the medicinal properties of its milk.

Causes of Consumption.

Jersey City, March 25.—Dr. Gordon K. Dickinson, former president of the Jersey City Health Board, in an address, yesterday, before the Young Men's Club of the fashionable St. Mark's P. E. church, declared that consumption comes from two cases, germs and whiskey bugs and booze. He said: "The Polish people and the Jewish people, despite their methods of living, are seldom troubled with consumption, because they are not a drinking race. On the other hand, consumption is prevalent among the Irish."

Mrs. Whitney Frazee, of South avenue, who has been seriously ill, is greatly improved and her recovery is assured.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

V. W. Nash, the Park avenue coal dealer, still continues to sell the best anthracite at lowest prices.

These warm days a shampoo such as you can get at E. B. Maynard's barber shop, is most refreshing. Try it.

John A. Koch, the Watchung avenue butcher, handles only the highest grade meats and he invites a share of your patronage.

William B. Randolph's barber shop on Watchung avenue is the best place for tonsorial attention. Vibraton treatment administered.

J. W. VanSickle's meats and poultry bear a deservedly high reputation. His fowls are particularly fine. Market, North avenue.

Looking for real estate, fire or accident insurance? If so, call on George F. Brown, of Somerset street. He has just what you want.

There is one place, at least, in Plainfield, where meat and poultry of the very finest quality may be purchased—the Grandview Market, Somerset street.

H. W. Marshall, proprietor of the American Steam Laundry on East Front street, turns out the best work. Give him a trial and be convinced. Prices reasonable.

There is, after all, no smoke like a clear Havana cigar. Havana like that sold by M. C. Dobbins, North avenue. Solid and satisfying. All the plugs and smoking tobaccoes.

To Erect 400 Houses.

The erection of almost 400 houses in the vicinity of the Miliken Works, on Staten Island, opposite Elizabeth, for workers in that plant and the Procter & Gamble soap factory, will be begun in the near future by New York capitalists, who contemplate building up of a community there. With the erection of the Procter & Gamble plant, there will be a great demand for houses.

Rev. Charles Fountain, of Crozier Theological Seminary, who has been spending the spring vacation at his home here, returned to Chester, Pa., today.

LEGISLATION BY CAUCUS.

Democrats Adopt That Plan While Republicans Have Only Mutual Understanding.

Trenton, March 25.—Another joint caucus of the Democratic Senators and Assemblymen has been called by Senator Minturn, to be held in the Speaker's room of the House of Assembly this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

It is expected at this conference to finally agree on all pending bills which the members agree to support as a whole, including the modification of the "bishops' law" as outlined in the bill introduced by Assemblyman Klenert. Before the latter reaches final passage the $500 minimum license fee clause will be restored.

Civil service, direct primary, popular election of United States Senators and other election bills, railroad and public utility commissions, insurance and riparian law revision and proposed investigation of State departments will be among the subjects discussed.

The Republicans have not held a joint caucus on pending legislation, or arranged for one, but there appears to be as thorough an understanding as to party policy between the leaders and members of each house as if joint caucuses were of daily occurrence. By following this course and leaving the members apparently free to act it is argued the party will not be subject to censure for any action of the present session which may be open to criticism.

CAN'T GET A SIDING.

As a Result Industry May Leave New Brunswick.

New Brunswick, March 25.—Something of a surprise and considerable consternation has been caused by the announcement of Janeway & Carpender that failure to secure a railroad siding within a reasonable distance of this place may compel the firm's new factory to go away from this city. Since the Pennsylvania Railroad Company elevated its tracks through New Brunswick a policy has been adopted, it is said, of limiting the number and restricting the location of switches or sidings. So rigid has been the rule in the vicinity of New Brunswick that it is necessary for an engine or train to go from here to Metuchen to be shifted from one track to another, there being no "jump-over" nearer to this city.

The wallpaper firm, whose factory was destroyed last week, has an offer of a desirable site in Highland Park, East New Brunswick, and had practically settled upon that, but negotiations have been suspended, pending decision of the railroad company as to whether or not a siding will be built.

BRIDGE SINKS, HALTS TRAFFIC ON CENTRAL.

Structure Between Matawan and Keyport Will Probably Not Be Used for Two Weeks.

Matawan, March 25.—Traffic between this place and Keyport, on the Atlantic Highlands division of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, has been halted temporarily by the breaking down of a bridge between the places. The bridge, which is about a quarter of a mile long, sank about a foot Saturday, and the company ordered that no trains be run over it.

The company is transporting passengers between the places in stages. The ground in the vicinity of the bridge has been what the residents term a mud-hole for years, and to this fact is due the sinking of the bridge. At the present time the railroad company is trying to fill in the "mud-hole." It is expected that trains will be able to cross the bridge in about two weeks.

THREE STAGE-STRUCK GIRLS DESERT HOMES.

Attracted by the glare of the footlights, Loretta Smith, of No. 108 Cross street; Annie Tureckio, of No. 68 North Sixth street, and Irene Jones, all of Paterson, their ages ranging from fifteen to seventeen years, disappeared last week from their homes. The police and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children have been asked to search for them. All of the girls had comfortable homes. They were employed in silk mills.

The mother of Loretta Smith told President Shelby, of the S. P. C. C., that her daughter and the other girls who were her chums, attended a performance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in Paterson three weeks ago, and that one of the men connected with the company told them they could get a position on the stage if they followed his directions. The three girls drew the pay coming to them and started together for New York.

$100,000 for Drew Fund.

Philadelphia, March 25.—The annual Methodist conference opened here Wednesday, with Bishop Goodsell, of Massachusetts, presiding, and was inaugurated by a campaign in favor of the local option bill that is now before the Pennsylvania Legislature. During the course of the session the clergymen agreed to assume the task of raising $100,000, part of the proposed $500,000 fund for the endowment of Drew Theological Seminary at Madison, N. J.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

The announcement is made that Manager Counihan will present the famous Billy Kersands' minstrels at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, and the management claims to have a bigger and better show than ever. It is promised that Billy Kersands will have adequate aid in a very excellent company, which he has personally selected, and splendid scenic and electrical effects furnished by the management. The sensational first part of this year is said to be a great novelty representing a mammoth water-melon, which is discovered upon the rise of the curtain, and which has been favorably commented upon for its originality and peculiar effects. A large and unusually strong olio, consisting of eight clever acts, is promised. Prominent among the colored performers scheduled to take part in this department of the entertainment are the following named: Arthur Maxwell, trick bicyclist; Campbell Brothers, black aristocrats; Alonzo Moore, magician; the Comedy Four, Langford, Smith, Johnson and Cameron, the Imperial Drill by Prof. Thompson; the famous mimic, Billy Nichols; the original and only Billy Kersands and the world-renowned Alhambra Quartette;; L. Johnson, hoop roller and Travelle, the human frog.

At the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night Henry B. Harris will present the now famous comedy drama, "The Lion and the Mouse." Perhaps not in the past ten years and certainly in the last five has there been any play which scored the extraordinary success with which the Charles Klein piece has met. Since the premiere of the play, which took place in the first of last October, 1904, audiences at the Lyceum theatre in New York have almost lost control of themselves in enthusiasm over the great third act scene. Not only has the play been running in New York to capacity business for months but a second company was organized by Mr. Harris some months ago, and after a short Western tour it went into Chicago and had an eight months run there at the Illinois theatre and despite the fact of this long run, which is an unprecedented one in a Western city, Mr. Harris is presenting this play to the fire limits of the theatre. The announcement of the dramatic production here is causing widespread interest and will likely prove the dramatic as well as social event of the season.

That old favorite and ever welcome "Sultan of Sulu" is coming to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night. The author of "The College Widow" has imparted to the comedy a strong flavor of incisive satirical humor, and although this is the fifth season of its career, nothing but kind words has been said about the music, which is of the catchy, tuneful kind that is whistled by the gallery gods. The first scene in this magnificent production is a reproduction of the exterior of the comic potentate's palace. It is true to nature and is simply an artistic reproduction of one of the prettiest views on the tropical isle. The second scene shows the famous hanging gardens of the Sultan's palace. It is a veritable triumph of stage realism and never fails to elecit applause. The original Studebaker theatre production is carried complete, and the company is said to be an unusually good one, numbering fifty, prominent among whom are Octavia Broske, Al. Sykes, Bernice Hart, Harriett Sheldon, Harry Benham, Henry Collignon, Maude Earle, F. J. McCathy, and the famous prize beauty chorus.

With William H. Santelmann as conductor, the United States Marine Band, which is to appear here under the auspices of Plainfield Lodge of Elks next Monday night, has reached a pitch of perfection of execution far beyond its conception at the time of Sousa. Besides this, it is about twice its former size, consisting now of sixty pieces. At the concerts which it will give here, the old organization will have its regular Washington soloists, both instrumental and vocal. The importance of the concerts to the music lovers of this city, is such that it is believed the greeting extended the band on its visit will be the most enthusiastic ever given any organization in this city.

WERE INCENDIARIES AS WELL AS BURGLARS.

Morristown, March 25.—Two burglars raided Alpha, near Phillipsburg Thursday night, entered the only jewelry store in the place, exchanged shots with its proprietor, William Joseph, visited Braney's Hotel and carried out a typewriter and then set fire to the building. The blaze was discovered just in time to prevent its destruction.

The burglars operating on the door of the jewelry store awoke Joseph, who lives up stairs, and seeing two men trying to enter his store he opened fire on them from a window with his revolver. The men made off, but fired back at Joseph as they ran.

The men entered the corridor of the hotel and after taking the typewriter, a coat was taken from the rack and set on fire in a corner of the hallway. A pair of rubber boots was under the clothing and the smell of the burning rubber awoke the proprietor, who ran downstairs and extinguished the blaze.

The burglars escaped leaving the writing machine in the hotel yard.

EASTER APPAREL.

NO STORE IS SO WELL EQUIPPED TO PLEASE YOU AS THIS ONE.

Our Opening Displays scored a positive artistic triumph, satisfying in itself, but, what is of more importance, they made plain the fact that to this house the women of New Jersey must look for apparel that is not only authentic and authoritative in style but diversified and distinctive in character. In many stores opening shows are largely confined to window displays. Here the display extended to the department. No less than fifty figures were dressed with beautiful gowns and suits in our Garment Store. It was a decided treat to our guests and there was no end of favorable comment upon the display.

High quality must of necessity accompany such elegance as is apparent in the Suits and Dresses we present. No maker could afford to use inferior materials or do inferior tailoring on gowns so beautifully designed and so costly in construction. So you find here the height of style, the topmost quality and the most moderate pricings, and when we add to this trio the largest variety—in fact, a variety equaling all other Newark stores combined, we have a claim on your patronage that cannot well be resisted.

New Gowns are being brought out every day, so that there will be a continuous showing well worth seeing at any time.

One of the new arrivals is an exquisite Gown of Foulard Silk, in blue and white stripes, on which are dots as large as a half dollar running very close together at the waist and becoming more widely scattered towards the bottom of the skirt. The waist is a beautiful kimono effect with large Oriental sleeves cut close to the shoulder, with lace undersleeves to the elbow. There is a V-yoke of lace, and the waist is trimmed with blue velvet ribbon, both narrow and wide, and bows of velvet and lace ornament the front. The price is $45.00. We expect soon to have this same gown in brown and black.

Another pretty dress is a Princess Effect of Sheer Batiste and German Valenciennes Lace. It has a fancy yoke and collar of lace, fluffy, lace elbow sleeves, Princess waist of lace and inserts of lace in the waist and skirt. This dress—a charming creation, indeed—may be had in blue, pink or all white, and we are offering it at only $16.50.

There are a number of Suits which we are specializing which we think are not matched anywhere at the prices we have placed upon them. They cover a wide range of styles, are made of the most fashionable materials and the prices range from the very moderate figure of $12.98 to $39.50. We invite your attention to these.

Stylish Suits of Black or Blue Panama—In extremely stylish models, the jackets being semi-fitted and trimmed with braid and fancy vest effects, the skirt nicely plaited; carefully tailored; remarkably accurate in fit; suits that we have seen marked $16.50; offered at.. $12.98

Smart Suits of Broadcloth—In stripes, plaids and overplaids; prettily trimmed with taffeta and fancy braids; jackets in eton and coat effects; skirts neatly plaited; fairly valued at $22.50; priced here as a feature at only..... $16.50

Rich Suits of Broadcloth—in fancy plaids and checks, and blue, black and brown Panama and serge; made with tight-fitting, semi-fitting and box coats; plaited skirts; trimmed with plain or fancy braid, tailor straps and stitching. Two models sure to prove popular; moderately priced $19.50 and $22.50

In conclucion Mrs. Davis spoke regretfully of the fact that there is no State organization of the order in New Jersey, no State secretary, and that while the members in Plainfield are doing a grand work the State is far in the rear among the other States. As a result of this statement some of the members were greatly stirred and a determined effort will be made to form a State organization, the plan being to hold the first convention in Plainfield. Mrs. Davis asked for the privilege of being in charge of the organization. After the preliminary work a date will be set for the convention, which will probably last two days.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Mary A. Knox.

Mrs. Mary A. Knox, wife of Hugh R. Knox, died at her home on Woodbine avenue, early yesterday morning. Mrs. Knox was a native of Montpelier, Vermont, and an earnest worker in St. Stephen's parish. She leaves a husband and three daughters, Catherine, Harriett and Isabel, to mourn her loss. Mrs. Knox was a direct descendant from Joseph Peck, who left Ipswich, England, on the ship Delegent, which landed at Hingham, Mass., in 1638. The funeral services will be held in St. Stephen's church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Andrew Cox.

Following an illness of several weeks with erysipelas and other troubles, Andrew Cox, a well known local resident, died at his home on East Third street early yesterday morning. He was born at Plainsboro sixty-eight years ago, but had lived in Plainfield a long time. He was a mason by trade and had taken part in the building of many of the city's most important structures, among them the Pond, Potter and Scott factories, the Babcock building and three of the schools. He was associated for many years with the late William Pangborn, contractor.

Mr. Cox was a veteran of the Civil War and participated in all the important battles from Bull Run to Gettysburg. He enlisted in Company B, First regiment, at Trenton, and on moving to Plainfield became affiliated with Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R. He leaves a wife and two children, Mrs. John Reed, of Newark, and Albert Cox, of Easton; two sisters, Mrs. John Middleton, of Newark, and Mrs. Mary Mershon, of Louisville, Ky.

The funeral will be held at his late home on East Third street tomorrow night at 8 o'clock when the G. A. R. will conduct its ceremonies.

John T. Martin.

John T. Martin, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, of Harrison street, died yesterday morning. The funeral will be held at the parents' residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Plainfield Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet tonight and receive several applications for membership.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will meet tomorrow night to further plans for the Memorial Day observance.

Plainfield Aerie, No. 866, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will hold its regular meeting in Eagles' Hall, New Plainfield Theatre building, tomorrow night. As this will be the last meeting before removal to new quarters in Findlay Hall, East Second street, considerable business of importance will be transacted.

THE FORUM.

Civil Service.

Editor, The Daily Press:

The proposed civil service law has been widely commented upon in the public press. There seems to be some confusion as to its precise object and the likelihood of its enactment, so in behalf of the State Civil Service Association, I ask space for a brief explanation.

The Colby civil service bill has absolutely no political origin or significance. It was prepared at the instance of our association, as a typical law, embodying the proven features of the Federal and other State laws, which have been in operation many years. So far no one has offered any serious objection to it, as amended, while many representative citizens and societies have urged its adoption. Governor Stokes has spoken in the strongest terms in favor of a proper civil service law and has shown the baleful effects of the "Spoils System," from both the economic and political viewpoints.

Recently items have appeared in the press of the State, expressing doubt of the passage of the bill, before the adjournment of the present Legislature. There should be no trouble on this score, if the friends of the movement will make known their views to their Senators and Assemblymen. Ample time yet remains in which to have the bill passed by both houses. In the Senate, it will be ready for final passage next week. In the Assembly, it has been reported favorably by the committee, and needs only to be made a caucus measure, as is likely to be done next week. The variances between the Assembly and Senate bills are now slight and may be readily reconciled. Hence the outlook for the bill is excellent, if its friends will only see to it that it is not lost in the confusion and haste which usually attend the closing weeks of the legislative session.

We therefore appeal to all good citizens throughout the State to take such personal interest in the measure as will assure its proper consideration upon its merits from now on to the close of the session, in order that no time may be wasted, and that the work so far bestowed upon the measure this year may not be lost.

I shall be glad to hear from any who may be willing to co-operate with us in this movement, and to answer inquiries as to the objects and status of the bill, from any who may be interested in its success.

Very respectfully,
EDWARD K. SUMERWELL,
Chairman Legislative Committee of the New Jersey State Civil Service Association.

Church Trustees Explain.

Editor, The Daily Press:

We notice in your valuable paper of March 23, 1907, a statement of Prine Yettman's denying the statement made by our pastor, Rev. P. T. Morris, in reference to the church having no knowledge of the meeting called to notify the pastor that his service was not required. We would say as trustees of the church that no such meeting has ever been held in the church. At the board meeting of the deacons and trustees on Friday, March 22, 1907, Mr. Yettman promised the pastor and deacons he would be there, but he failed to put in an appearance.

We will state as trustees that the church is in perfect union with the pastor. At the church meeting tonight the church will meet in a body and a committee has been appointed to have Mr. Yettman present. He states that there are eight pillars. But we have never known but two of those that he calls pillars to have been to church to make themselves known to the church. The Ebenezer church consisted of four or five persons, and when Rev. Morris decided to accept the call he had to get four letters from his former church in order to get a sufficient number. And then Rev. Morris proceeded to have them incorporated to be known as a church at which time in our presence Mr. Yettman was put on the board of trustees. We hope Mr. Yettman will prove himself a man and come before the church and that will put an end to his gossip in the newspaper as the pastor has not received any notice from him or anybody else. Thanking you for space, we are,

Yours truly,
The trustees of the Ebenezer Baptist church.

Done by the order of the trustee board:
ERNEST CRITE, Pres't.,
J. C. LUMPKIN, Secretary.

SEQUEL TO AUCTION SALE 50 YEARS AGO.

After fifty years, Mrs. Mary C. Ficklin, of Bloomington, Ill., has requested William H. Woodruff, of South Orange, to find the buyer of two oil paintings which he sold at an auction sale in Elizabeth in 1857. The pictures belonged to John J. Bryant, and were of a man standing beenath a tree and a girl paring apples or turnips.

Mr. Woodruff cannot recall the buyer of the pictures, although he remembers the sale.

The former Elizabeth auctioneer is now 72 years old, and is still in that business, which he combines with real estate. In connection with the request, Mr. Woodruff said that Mrs. Ficklin must have known that he was everlasting, since she wrote the letter in full confidence to find him alive.

PRINCETON DEBATERS WIN FROM OTHER COLLEGES.

Downs Harvard in Affirmative and Yale in Negative of Same Question.

Princeton, March 25.—"Resolved, That the present distribution of power between the Federal and State governments is not adapted to modern conditions and calls for readjustment in the direction of further centralization," was the question for debate Friday night between Princeton and Harvard.

Princeton, in the affirmative, won a decisive victory. Her debaters proved the need of centralization by showing that the present distribution does not admit of proper control in three vital issues, child labor, divorce and productive monopolies. Harvard, in the negative, devoted her time to breaking down the three contentions and endeavoring to show that the Federal Government, at present, has all the power it needs.

R. J. Sterrit, 1907, of Philadelphia, opened for Princeton, showing how State laws are inadequate to prevent child labor as long as the laws of an adjacent State are more lax than her own, in the past, the present distribution has coped with new conditions, and that its principle is sound.

M. H. Fry, 1909, then continued Princeton's argument, showing how, under the present distribution, a man can have a wife in several States at the same time, provided he has divorced each in a separate State, as one State does not always recognize the divorce laws of another. B. M. Nussbaum, 1908, insisted, for Harvard, that social conditions are different in different States, and, therefore, the divorce laws should be different. R. S. Sidebotham, 1907, Princeton, showed that States have only inadequate power over productive monopolies, which must make use of interstate commerce, which is under Federal control. The rebuttal speeches were strong and well delivered. The judges were Professor J. B. Clark, of Columbia University; Rollo Ogden, of New York, and Professor Fred H. Truebord, of the University of Michigan, and the decision was unanimous.

News has just reached the college that Princeton won last night in the debate with Yale on the same subject, but on the opposite side, and the street is full of cheering students.

Father Time Tests All Things

Hallet & Davis Pianos Are Time Tried.

It isn't worth while for you to experiment with unknown makes of pianos and unknown piano quality. Many persons have found it not only vexatious, but costly as well. There is no need or excuse for so doing—not even from a price stand-point. Hallet & Davis Pianos passed the experimental stage many years ago and they have been time tried and tested. This assurance of good quality is fully supplemented in the preference given the Hallet & Davis by many of the greatest living musicians for public and private use.

QUALITY AND PRICE.

Please remember that the "quality" of your piano will be remembered long after the price is forgotten.

The one price at which Hallet & Davis Pianos are sold is lower, quality considered, than can be secured elsewhere. The popular demand making this possible.

Great bargains now in used pianos.

Many old time makes included.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between The Board of Trustees of the Seventh-Day Baptist Memorial Fund, complainant, and Edward Nelson et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above-stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Sheriff's office, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of lands and premises situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, and begins on the southeast corner of Liberty street and on the south side of the main street that leads through Plainfield (now West Front street); thence along the easterly line of Liberty street south forty-seven degrees east one hundred and fifty-two feet to a corner of other lands of James Leonard, thence along his line a northeast course seventy feet; thence still along his line a northwest course one hundred and forty-eight feet to a corner on the southerly side of the main street, now West Front street; thence along the said southerly side of the main street, now West Front street, eighty-five feet to the place of beginning. Containing one-quarter of an acre of land. Granting the one-half part of Main street and the one-half part of Liberty street, opposite the said lot. Being the same premises conveyed to Joseph Nelson, Sr., by deed of Smith W. Parker and wife, dated September 14, 1854, and recorded in book 204 of deeds for Essex county, pages 172, etc., the said Joseph Nelson dying intestate, leaving the above as his only children and heirs-at-law.

CHAPTER I.
How It All Began.

"We can hold out six months longer—at least six months." My mother's tone made the six months stretch encouragingly into six long years.

I see her now vividly as if it were only yesterday. We were at our scant breakfast, I as blue as was ever even 25, she brave and confident. And hers was no mere pretense to reassure me, no cheerless optimism of ignorance, but the through-and-through courage and strength of those who flinch for no bogey that life or death can conjure. Her tone lifted me; I glanced at her and what shone from her eyes set me on my feet, face to the foe. The table-cloth was darned in many places, but so skillfully that you could have looked closely without detecting it. Not a lump of sugar, nor a slice of bread went to waste in that house; yet even I had to think twice to realize that we were poor, desperately poor. She did not hide our poverty; she beautified it, she dignified it into Spartan simplicity. I know it is not the glamour over the past that makes me believe there are no women now like those of the race to which she belonged. The world, to-day, yields comfort too easily to the capable; hardship is the only mold for such character, and in those days, in this middle-western country, even the capable were strangers to hardship.

"When I was young," she went on, "and things looked black, as they have a habit of looking to the young and inexperienced,"—that put in with a teasing smile at me—"I used to say to myself: "Well, anyhow, they can't kill me." And the thought used to cheer me up wonderfully. In fact, it still does."

I no longer felt hopeless. I began to gnaw my troubles again—despair is still.

"Judge Granby is a dog," said I; "yes, a dog."

"Why 'dog?'" objected my mother. "Why not simply 'mean man?' I've never known a dog that could equal a man who set out to be 'ornery.'"

"When I think of all the work I've done for him in these three years—"

"For yourself," she interrupted. "Work you do for others doesn't amount to much, unless it's been first and best for yourself."

"But he was benefited by it, too," I urged, "and has taken life easy, and has had more clients and bigger fees than he ever had before. I'd like to give him a jolt. I'd stop nagging him to put my name in a miserable corner of the glass in his door. I'd hang out a big sign of my own over my own office door."

My mother burst into a radiant smile. "I've been waiting a year to hear that," she said.

Thereupon I had a shock of fright—inside, for I'd never have dared to show fear before my mother. There's nothing else that makes you so brave as living with some one before whom you haven't the courage to let your cowardice show its feather. If we didn't keep each other up to the mark, what a spectacle of fright and flight this world-drama would be! Vanity, the greatest of vices, is also the greatest of virtues, or the source of the greatest virtues—which comes to the same thing.

"When did you do it?" she went on, and then I knew I was in for it, and how well-founded was the suspicion that had been keeping my lips tight-shut upon my dream of independence.

"I'll—I'll think about it," was my answer, in a tone which I hoped she would see was not hesitating, but reflective. "I mustn't go too far—or too fast."

"Better go too far and too fast than none at all," retorted my wise mother. "Once a tortoise beat a hare—once. It never happened again, yet the whole timid world has been talking about it ever since." And she fell into a study from which she roused herself to say: "You'd better let me bargain for the office and the furniture—and the big sign." She knew—but could not or would not teach me—how to get a dollar's worth for a dollar; would not, I suspect, for she despised parsimony, declaring it to be another virtue which is becoming only in a woman.

"Of course—when—" I began.

"We've got to do something in the next six months," she warned. And now she made the six months seem six minutes.

I had at my tongue's end something about the danger of dragging her down into misfortune; but before speaking I looked at her, and, looking, refrained. To say it to her would have been too absurd—to her who had been left a widow with nothing at all, who had educated me for college, and who had helped me through my first year there—helped me with money, I mean. But for what she gave besides, more, immeasurably more—but for her courage in me and round me and under me—I'd never have got my degree or anything else, I fear. To call that courage help would be like saying the mainspring helps the watch to go. I looked at her. "They can't kill me, can they?" said I, with a laugh which sounded so brave that it straightway made me brave.

So it was settled.

But that was the first step in a fight I can't remember even now without a sinking heart. The farmers of Jackson county, of which Pulaski was the county seat, found in litigation their chief distraction from the stupefying dullness of farm life in those days of pause, after the Indian and nature had been conquered and before the big world's arteries of thought and action had penetrated. The farmers took eagerly to litigation to save themselves from stagnation. Still, a new lawyer, especially if he was young, had an agonizing time of it convincing their slow, stiff, suspicious natures that he could be trusted in such a crisis as "going to law."

To make matters worse, I fell in love.

Once—it was years afterward, though not many years ago—Burbank, at the time governor, was with me, and we were going over the main points for his annual message. One of my suggestions—my orders to all my agents, high and low, have always been sugar-coated as "suggestions"—started a new train of thought in him, and he took pen and paper to fix it before it had a chance to escape. As he wrote, my glance wandered along the shelves of the book-cases. It paused on the farthest and lowest shelf. I rose and went there, and found my old school-books, those I used when I was in public school No. 3, too, near 30 years ago!

In the shelf one book stood higher than the other—tall and thin and ragged, its covers torn, its pages scribbled, stained and dog-eared. Looking through that old physical geography was like a first talk with a long-lost friend. It had, indeed, been my old friend. Behind its broad back I had eaten forbidden apples, I had aimed and discharged the blow-gun, I had reveled in blood-and-thunder tales that made the drowsy schoolroom fade before the vast wilderness, the scene of breathless struggles between Indian and settler, or open into the high seas where pirate, or worse-than-pirate Britisher, struck flag to American privateer or man-o'-war.

On an impulse shot up from the dustiest depths of memory, I turned the old geography sidewise and examined the edges of the cover. Yes, there was the cache I had made by splitting the pasteboard with my jack-knife. I thrust in my finger-nail; out came a slip of paper. I glanced at Burbank—he was busy. I, somewhat stealthily, you may imagine, opened the paper and—well, my heart beat more rapidly as I saw in a school-girl scrawl:

Harvey Sayler
Elizabeth Bradley
hait
love

I was no longer master of a state; I was a boy in school again. I could see her laboring over this game of "friendship, love, indifference, hate." I could see "Redney" Griggs, who sat between her and me, in the row of desks between and parallel to my row and hers—could see him swoop and snatch the paper from her, look at it, grin maliciously, and toss it over to me. I was in grade A, was 16, and was beginning to take myself seriously. She was in grade D, was little more than half my age, but looked older—and how sweet and pretty she was! She had black hair, thick and wavy, with little tresses escaping from plaits and ribbons to float about her forehead, ears and neck. Her skin was darker then, I think, than it is now, but it had the same smoothness and glow—certainly it could not have had more.

I think the dart must have struck that day—why else did I keep the bit of paper? But it did not trouble me until the first winter of my launching forth as "Harvey Sayler, Attorney and Counselor at Law." She was the daughter of the Episcopal preacher; and, as every one thought well of the prospects of my mother's son, our courtship was undisturbed. Then, in the spring, when fortune was at its coldest and love at its most feverish, her father accepted a call to a church in Boston, eight miles away.

To go to see her was impossible; how could the money be spared—$50 at the least? Once—when they had been gone about four months—my mother insisted that I must. But I refused, and I do not know whether it is to my credit or not, for my refusal gave her only pain, whereas the sacrifices she would have had to make, had I gone, would have given her only pleasure. I had no fear that Betty would change in our separation. There are some people you hope are stanch, and some people you think will be stanch, if—, and then there are those, many women and a few men, whom it is impossible to think of as false or even faltering. I did not fully appreciate that quality then, for my memory was not then dotted with the graves of false friendships and littered with the rubbish of broken promises; but I did appreciate it enough to build securely upon it.

Build? No, that is not the word. There may be those who are stimulated to achievement by being in love, though I doubt it. At any rate, I was not one of them. My love for her absorbed my thoughts, and paralyzed my courage. Of the qualities that have contributed to what success I may have had, I put in the first rank a disposition to see the gloomiest side of the future. But it has not helped to make my life happier, invaluable though it has been in preventing misadventure from catching me napping.

So another year passed. Then came hard times—real hard times. I had some clients—enough to insure mother and myself a living, with the interest on mortgage and note kept down. But my clients were poor, and poor pay, and slow pay. Nobody was doing well but the note-shavers. I—How mother fought to keep the front brave and bright!—not her front, for that was bright by nature, like the sky beyond the clouds; but our front, my front—the front of our affairs.

"You'd Better Let Me Bargain for the Furniture and the Big Sign."

No one must see that we were pinching—so I must be the most obviously prosperous young lawyer in Pulaski. What that struggle cost her I did not then realize; no, could not realize until I looked at her face for the last time, looked and turned away and thought on the meaning of the lines and the hollows over which Death had spread his proclamation of eternal peace. I have heard it said of those markings in human faces: "How ugly!" But it seems to me that, to any one with eyes and imagination, line and wrinkle and hollow always have the somber grandeur of tragedy. I remember my mother when her face was smooth and had the shallow beauty that the shallow dote on. But her face whereon was written the story of fearlessness, sacrifice and love—that is the face beautiful of my mother for me.

In the midst of those times of trial, when she had ceased to smile—for she had none of that hypocritical cheerfulness which depresses and is a mere vanity to make silly onlookers cry "Brave!" when there is no true bravery—just when we were at our lowest ebb, came an offer from Bill Dominick to put me into politics.

I had been interested in politics ever since I was seven years old. I recall distinctly the beginning:

On a November afternoon—it must have been November, though I remember that it was summer-warm, with all the windows open and many men in the streets in shirt-sleeves—at any rate, I was on my way home from school. As I neared the court house I saw a crowd in the yard, and was reminded that it was election day, and that my father was running for reelection to the state senate; so, I bolted for his law office in the second story of the Masonic temple, across the street from the court house.

He was at the window and was looking at the polling place so intently that he took no notice of me as I stood beside him. I know now why he was absorbed and why his face was stern and sad. I shut my eyes and see that court house yard, the long line of men going to vote, single file, each man calling out his name as he handed in his ballot, and Tow Weedon—who shot an escaping prisoner when he was deputy sheriff—repeating the name in a loud voice. Each oncoming voter in that curiously regular and compact file was holding out his right arm stiff so that the hand was about a foot clear of the thigh; and in every one of those thus conspicuous hands was a conspicuous bit of white paper—a ballot. As each man reached the polling window and gave his name, he swung that hand round with a stiff armed, circular motion that kept it clear of the body and in full view until the bit of paper disappeared in the slit in the ballot box.

Musical Surroundings
may not make a musical genius, but they facilitate the study of music. In every case the instrument should be the best. A good instrument grows better as it grows older. A poor instrument doesn't last long enough to get anything but worse.

The Hazleton Piano
is an instrument of particularly fine construction. No effort has been spared to make it mechanically and musically perfect, etc.

Lessons in Music
on an inferior instrument spoils the ear. Correct tone has much to do with the acquirement of correct touch and method.

The Mullins Piano
is so delightfully sweet in tone, and of such perfect mechanical construction that it enables the beginner to learn much easier. Durability and moderate prices are also atractive features, etc.

PLAINFIELD WITHDRAWN FROM LACKAWANNA LEAGUE.

When Driscoll Gets His Eyes Open He Abandons Plans for This City.

The Y. M. C. A. and Clinton Avenue teams have leased Crescent Oval for the coming year and will use the grounds alternately when games are scheduled with other teams in the Inter-City Amateur League and together when they are scheduled to meet each other. Permission was obtained from the Plainfield Baseball Association and Philip Daab to use the grounds and then a lease was obtained from the owner.

Dave Driscoll, who secured a franchise for Plainfield in the Lackawanna League, was in town Saturday night, and after talking with some of the members of the Plainfield Baseball Association, decided to abandon his project to put a team in this city. He appeared to have vastly different ideas as to the baseball situation here, and when it was explained to him he at once announced his purpose of giving up his plans for Plainfield. It is possible that he may arrange with the Westfield fans for representation in the Lackawanna League.

BOYS' COMPETITION.

Final Standing of the First Ten; Conroy the Winner.

The final standing of the first ten in the boys' athletic championship competition at the Y. M. C. A. is as follows:

Conroy, 436; R. Miller, 366; Vail, 331; Richardson, 292; Lindzey, 281; Cowperthwaite, 192; Carson, 175; Hamilton, 110; Love, 95; Vanderbeek, 81.

The first five get ribbons. Thirty-six boys competed.

Orange the Champion.

Orange won the championship in the Y. M. C. A. basketball league Saturday night, by defeating Montclair in the play-off og a tie at the Newark Y. M. C. A. The score was 31 to 13. Physical Director G. L. Listman, of the Plainfield association, umpired. Plainfield finished with a tie for last place with Rahway. The disputed game with the Rahway team will not be played over.

Y. M. C. A. Ball Meeting.

The candidates for positions on the Y. M. C. A. nine will meet at the association Friday night. They number thirty-three, and include some fine material. The meeting will result in the fixing of a date for first open-air practice. Information as to the probable make-up of the team will be given out Saturday.

Basketball League.

The standing of the basketball teams in the local league is as follows:

	W.	L.	PC.
Mohicans	5	0	1,000
Sioux	3	3	.500
Apaches	3	3	.500
Cherokees	0	5	.000

Y. M. C. A. Competition.

The standing of the leading five in the all-around athletic championship at the Y. M. C. A. is as follows:

Burgess, 805; Banks, 783; Douglass, 673; ueder, 671; Rumsey, 654.

Sunday-school Ball League.

The Sunday-school Athletic League members will have a baseball league to keep them interested during the warm weather. A committee is forming plans for the league now.

Football Club Meeting.

A special meeting of the Plainfield F. C. will be held tonight at Hope chapel at 8 o'clock. All players and members are requested to attend.

Consolidation Meeting.

The bi-municipal consolidation commission will hold a meeting this afternoon at Mayor Fisk's office. The commission is drafting its report.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shepard are at their summer home, "The Gables," Scotch Plains, for the present.

Ida, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Pearson, is ill with pneumonia at her home on East Front street.

The marriage of Miss Rachel Daudt and F. Mortimer Slater will take place Tuesday, April 2, and not April 29, as previously stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, Jr., and son, A. C. Clark, of Jackson avenue, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Moffett, at Rahway. Mrs. Moffett is a niece of Mrs. Clark.

The Misses Henrietta and Elizabeth Winn, of the Jackson building, returned today after spending several days on Captain Winn's vessel, the Tillie Starbuck, made fast at Pier 11, East river.

Small Boy Suggestions.

Give the small boys a room of their own, where they may be allowed to work, play, read or whatever the boyish fancy may dictate. If they be fond of reading, give them plenty of good books and magazines and an easy chair to sit in while they read.

A boy loves comfort just as much as a girl does, and money spent in making him comfortable at home goes a long way toward keeping him off the street.

Some boys are not content to spend a whole evening reading. They should be provided for in some other way. Let them have games and invite their boy friends into their room and feel that they have a share in the home.

If the boy wants to make money and can do it without interfering with his school work, let him do so. It will teach him to be industrious and will cultivate business habits.

Boys like to be trusted, and it makes them manly. If a boy deserves praise, give it to him freely.

There are boys and boys, but there was never yet one who was not susceptible to kindness and who could not be managed if the right course was pursued.

Rossetti's Awful Breakfast.

It was at one time arragned that Dante Gabriel Rossetti, his brother William and Swinburne and George Meredith should live together in a certain house. Meredith happened to see Dante Gabriel Rossetti at breakfast and changed his plans. Meredith himself tells the story. "It was past noon," says he. "Rossetti had not yet risen, though it was an exquisite day. On the breakfast table on a huge dish rested five thick slabs of bacon, upon which five rigid eggs had slowly bled to death. Presently Rossetti appeared in his dressing gown, with slippers down at heel, and devoured the dainty repast like an orge." That meal was too much for Meredith, and he sacrificed three months' rent rather than see it repeated.

The Courtesy of War.

In the battle of Fenghuangcheng the Japanese took among their captures two enormous Chinese vases of thirteenth century workmanship. On learning that they were a present to General Kuropatkin, General Kuroki promptly dispatched them to the Russian outposts with a polite note ending, "May the flowers of friendship blossom high in these vases." In Kuropatkin's reply he referred to the Japanese as "a people of generous friends whom I visited in peace, of magnanimous foes in war, at whose hands even defeat is no disgrace."

"Mad as a Hatter."

What is the derivation of the phrase "Mad as a hatter?" One explanation is that it was originally French, "As mad as an oyster" (huitre), that bivalve being supposed to be extremely unintellectual. Another theory is that the phrase had reference to Collins, the English poet, author of the "Ode to the Passions." He was a hatter at Chichester, and it has been said that the lunatics with whom he was confined at one time called him "the hatter" and that the phrase originated thus.

A Quaint Story.

The Irish solicitor general, speaking the other day upon delusions, told a story of a north of Ireland Protestant who was perfectly sane save on one point. This stanch Protestant harbored the delusion that one of his legs belonged to a Roman Catholic, and therefore when he went to bed every night he used to leave the Catholic leg outside the blanket by way of punishment.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Benjamin LaVere rendered a cornet solo, "The Palms," at Trinity Reformed church, yesterday morning, accompanied by A. L. Titsworth on the organ.

The annual meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held at the church Wednesday night for the presentation of reports and election of officers.

About twenty-five members of the Rescue Mission attended the service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, last night, when workers from the Jerry McAuley Mission, New York, made addresses.

The annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Hope chapel will be held in the Sunday-school rooms at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Miss Emily Tracy will give a talk on "China."

The Hope chapel Christian Endeavor Society will hold its annual meeting at the home of Rev. L. R. Howard, West Fifth street, tomorrow night. Officers will be elected and other business transacted after which there will be a social time.

E. C. Mercer and three others from the Jerry McAuley Mission, New York, spoke to a large gathering at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon on their experiences. One of the speakers was Harold Hadley, son of the late S. H. Hadley, for many years superintendent of the mission.

Under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. a parlor meeting will be held in the Seventh-Day Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson will address the meeting on the World's W. C. T. U. convention at Boston and the work of the local union. A silver offering will be received.

Ash Pit For Every House.

Among the objects that invariably attract the attention of tourists in Denver are the ash pits at every house. These are made necessary by the character of the coal commonly used for domestic purposes and by the high winds that prevail.

The ashes of the ignited coal so extensively burned hold the heat for an extraordinary length of time, remaining red-hot for many hours, or, if kept from the air, for days after passing through the grate bars.

It is evident that if these red-hot ashes were thrown out in back yards or vacant lots the high winds that sweep across the plains would scatter them broadcast, making them a constant menace to the eyes, and clothing of passers-by, as well as to inflammable property of every kind. Every house is therefore required by city ordinance to be provided with an ash pit, shiped like an old-fashioned bake oven, with small openings at the top, through which the ashes are thrown. Another opening in one side at the bottom permits their removal when the pit is full.—Kansas City Times.

The Sphinx's Riddle.

The riddle which the sphinx propounded to the Thebans and the solution of which she made a condition of her withdrawal from the state was as follows: "What animal has one voice, at first four, then two and at last three feet?" Oedipus discovered the answer to be "man," who in infancy, from using his hands and well as his feet in walking, may be said to have four feet (all fours), in after life employs but two, and in old age to those he adds a staff, which may be deckoned a third. Upon this solution being given the sphnix is said to have thrown herself headlong from the citadel.

Captured By "The College Widow."

George Ade's delightful play of college life, "The College Widow," was presented at the New Plainfield theatre before two big audiences Saturday afternoon and night and made one of the hits of the season. The orginal Garden theatre cast with few changes was seen, including Dorothy Tennant as the "widow" and Gertrude Quinlan as "Flora Wiggins." It is hard to recall a play that has been at the local theatre since its opening that pleased the people more or produced any greater quantity of wholesome laughter.

The Simple Life.

In my wanderings on foot when I walk through the provinces of Europe and talk to the people and fish and learn I find that what people lack most in life is simplicity, the poor man is well as the rich. It consists not in plain dress, but in plain living, in simplicity of heart, of personal beliefs and respect for the beliefs of others.—Rev. Charles Wagner.

CITY FIRE DEPARTMENT HAS A STRENUOUS TIME

ANSWERED SIX STILL AND TWO BOX ALARMS IN TWELVE HOURS SATURDAY.

The city fire department had one of the busiest days in its history, Saturday, answering inside of twelve hours six still and two box alarms. Three of the former were received in the morning, two in the afternoon and one in the early evening. After that the boxes were pulled and though all were for threatening blazes none of them resulted seriously.

The first five stills were for grass fires and the last was for a burning tree opposite the residence of Mr. Moore on West Seventh street near Lee place. High tension electric wires put it in flames and it made a dangerous job for the firemen. Chief Doane went to the scene himself with No 3's chemical engine and the men had to work cautiously in order not to get a shock from the existing current. It required a full tank of the chemical engine to kill the flames.

At 7:45 an alarm was turned in from box 41 for a slight blaze at the home of Mrs. Frank on West Second street near Madison avenue. A neighbor across the hall heard a crackling noise and investigating found a couch in Mrs. Frank's kitchen on fire. Edward Townley and James Conklin had lifted it outdoors before the department arrived. The damage will reach $15.

The last box alarm came from No. 23 and was turned in at 10:35 for a curtain blaze at E. E. Ripley's, 307 East Fifth street, but was out before the apparatus reached the scene. The curtains were blown against a gas jet by a sudden gust of wind. The alarm was sounded just as the New Plainfield theatre was discharging a big audience and it required a lot of hustling on the part of the police to get Second street cleared for the apparatus from No. 1 house.

BOROUGH JOINS IN.

Not to be outdone by the activity in the city department, the borough firemen managed to get in on Saturday night's bustle to the extent of two alarms. The first was turned in at 7 o'clok for a blaze in a brush heap on Grove street near Greenbrook road. It looked rather dangerous to surrounding property and the firemen were called to do away with it.

The second alarm came in shortly after 11 o'clock and was for a blaze in a storehouse located in the rear of Charles A. Reed's residence on Myrtle avenue. It was only a small affair and there wasn't much left of it when the department arrived. No explanation has been offered as to how it caught fire as no one was near it all evening so far as known. The flames were first seen by an attendant at the Park Club, who pulled box 151.

A. G. Stevens, of Manning avenue, has returned from a business trip to Boston.

Miss Margaret Finch, of Sag Harbor, L. I., has been visiting local friends.

James F. Buckle, the former mayor, is ill at his home on Westervelt avenue, with the grip. He has been confined to the house for several days.

TO THE PUBLIC!

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company offer for subscription its stock in amounts to suit purchasers from $25 upward.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of erecting a dam to accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, for the purpose of ice cutting, and also erecting houses for storing the same. The lake thus formed will be approximately a mile long and a quarter of a mile at its widest part, and will yield a large quantity of ice.

The company, under the management of a Board of able Directors, will endeavor to reduce the cost of construction, maintenance, etc., to a minimum, and thus be able to fill the demand of the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the remainder of the ice to outside markets at prices which will yield large profits.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors to sell the shares of the capital stock of the Company to residents of Plainfield, North Plainfield and vicinity, and thus allow them the privilege of sharing in the profits of the Company in the shape of dividends at the end of each year. To place this plan within the reach of all consumers of ice and to carry out the idea of a mutual Company, the Company will issue its stock in $25 shares.

As the Company is not to issue any bonds against its property it is obvious that each and all share holders will be doubly secured and will have first claim on the property and the works, the same being free and clear in every respect, and further are assured against loss in each step that the Company takes in bringing the project to completion as follows: First. The Company has already received offers for lake site at a considerable advance on the price that the stockholders will pay for it.

Second. The price paid for building dam will be over four times secured by the lake thus formed, a body of pure water of this size within so short a distance of New York being extremely valuable.

Third. Money expended for icehouses will complete the plant. The completed plant such as is proposed to erect should be worth on conservative estimation three times the total capitalization of the Company.

In securing the Directors of this Company, special effort was taken to get men of financial standing and ability, of character and good repute; men not only at the head of different prosperous corporations but also men holding public respect and confidence. This was done as the Company intends to be a People's Company, and, therefore, wishes to be directed by men of the people and by the people themselves.

The officers of the Company are:

President, Mr. Henry C. Wicker, Treasurer and Secretary of the Nassau Bond Company.

Vice-President, Mr. Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

Treasurer, Mr. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Treasurer, Mr. J. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Secretary, Mr. John J. Lordan, a Lawyer in New York City.

The Directors of the Company are:

Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

J. F. MacDonald, Director of City National Bank.

H. C. Wicker, Secretary and Treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company.

C. M. Wicker, President of the Nassau Bond Company.

E. G. F. du Mazuel, President of the Consolidated Engineering Company of America.

Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock of the Company at the office of Mr. W. dela R. Anderson, 208 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., at which offices subscription blanks and all detailed information relative to the above may be obtained.

The Company has chosen a local bank in which all funds, securities and moneys are to be deposited and through which all the Company's business is to be done.

PRAISES MOTHER'S WORK

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall tells of Life and Achievements of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe.

A WOMAN SUFFRAGIST

Author of Battle Hymn of the Republic Has Done Much to Advance Interests of the So-Called Weaker Sex.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall gave an interesting talk about that celebrated and charming woman, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, who is Mrs. Hall's mother, at the meeting of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at the home of Mrs. William M. Sandford, Jr., on Second place, yesterday afternoon. There was a large and enthpsiastic gathering of members and friends.

In speaking of her mother's interest in women's suffrage, Mrs. Hall said that it was not until she was forty years of age that she was aroused to the importance of the movement. Prior to that time she accepted man's views of women and her sphere. As soon as she began to study the question she became convinced that woman was the equal of man spiritually and mentally and that as such was entitled to just as much consideration as man.

Mrs. Hall said that while her mother was not one of the pioneer women in the suffrage movement, it was not long afterward that she became closely associated with William Lloyd Garrison, Lucy Stone and Thomas Wentworth Higginson in advocating woman's suffrage. She was one of the early members of Sorosis and for twenty years was the president of the Association for the Advancement of Women, the reports of which are to be found at the Astor Library, New York. She was also president of other women's associations. Mrs. Howe still retains her interest in the success of woman's suffrage and whenever possible attends meetings for its advancement. She has planned to attend the Peace Conference to be held at Carnegie Hall, New York, April 14-17. Mrs. Hall read several extracts from her mother's books and gave interesting reminiscences concerning her work.

Action was taken at the meeting approving and urging the passage of several Legislative bills regarding child labor; also a bill favoring the State Reformatory for Women and a bill urging the inspection of slaughter houses. There was an informal discussion about these measures and it was the unanimous opinion that they should become laws.

MASTER PLUMBERS MEET.

No Action Is Taken On Demand for More Pay.

Contrary to expectation the question of granting an increase of wages to the journeymen plumbers was not discussed last night at the meeting of the Master Plumbers' Association. It was believed that a report would be received from the committee regarding the request of the journeymen and that action would be taken. The demand of the journeymen for $22 a week with a Saturday half holiday the year round, however, would not got into effect until May 1, even if granted. Vice President Aldrich and Treasurer Moody, of the State Master Plumbers' Association, were present. Plans were made for the local association to join the State and National bodies.

After the meeting the association enjoyed a "spread" at Timbo's restaurant.

Annual Meeting Presbyterial Society.

The twenty-third annual meeting of the Women's Presbyterial Society for Home Missions will be held in the First Presbyterian church, Rahway, on Friday. There will be morning and afternoon sessions. The morning session will be held at 10 o'clock with devotional service, followed by reports of the year's work, and an address upon the work for the Freedmen. Lunch will be served from 12 to 1 o'clock. The afternoon session will convene at 1:30 o'clock, when the speakers will be of special interest. Miss Lydia Hayes, from the Sitka Training School, Alaska, and Miss Bertha Slavich, the missionary at Ellis Island, representing the Women's Board of Home Missions, will address the meeting.

Will Build Additional Coal Sheds.

Arthur Smith, civil engineer, of this city, has received the contract from the New Jersey Central to erect new coal chutes and sheds at Dunellen. The contract was signed today and the work will be commenced within a couple of weeks. The sheds will be 200 feet long and are intended to provide a greater capacity for the storage of coal at Dunellen. The construction work will be chiefly of concrete.

BOROUGH SCHOOL BOARD RE-ORGANIZES FOR THE YEAR

JAMES R. JOY AGAIN MADE PRESIDENT OF THE BODY.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Borough Board of Education, last night, reorganization for the coming year was effected by the election of the following officers: President, James R. Joy; vice president, Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey; district clerk, Albert Steiner. The new member of he board, Charles L. Nichols, assumed his seat for the first time and with Dr. J. H. Cooley and Mr. Joy, who were re-elected, was given the oath of office by Superintendent Krebs.

After the election, President Joy announced his committees as follows: Supplies—Messrs. Woodruff, McKelvey and Lowe; buildings and grounds—Messrs. Laing, Cooley and Townsend; teachers and text books—Messrs. Joy, McKelvey and Miller, finance—Messrs. Miller, Townsend and Nichols; grievances and truancy—Messrs. Townsend, Cooley and Nichols; auditing, Messrs. Lowe and Laing.

President Joy informed the board that he had received a communication from the State department, asking that the borough schools contribute an exhibit for the Jamestown exposition, which opens in May. He explained that it had not been the custom of the school to participate in this way at any of the big fairs and he expressed the belief that it would be a good thing to have the manual training department represented. Superintendent Krebs spoke in the same vein and added that as there are but a few places in the State where manual training is made a feature as in North Plainfield, he thought an exhibit would give the borough an individuality at the fair. The matter was finally left to the president for decision.

The custodian of school moneys reported a balance of $12,873 on hand and the buildings and grounds committee was instructed to make some needed improvements about the Somerset school property.

Entertainment for Deacons' Fund.

Mrs. Ida Randolph-Smalley, pianist; Miss Justine Roberts, reciter, and Miss Nora Schenck, soprano, will present a fine programme at Trinity Reformed church Tuesday night, April 2, for the benefit of the deacons' fund. Mrs. Smalley and Miss Roberts have appeared before at Trinity Reformed church, where they delighted large audiences with their delightful piano selections and impersonations.

Couple Quietly Wedded.

William W. Walker, of Craig place, and Miss Laura Meyers, of Watchung, were quietly married last night by Rev. J. O. McKelvery, pastor of Warren chapel. The ceremony was performed at the clergyman's home at 7:30 with only the necessary witnesses present. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will make their home in this city. The groom is a plumber and is well known.

Will Perfect Y. W. C. A. Details.

Those interested in the organization of a Young Women's Christian Association in Plainfield will meet at the home of Mrs. Percy H. Stewart, 563 West Eighth street, Thursday night, to plan for perfecting the details of the organization. Addresses will be made by C. C. Michiner and Miss Holinquist, of New York.

FOX PLEADS FOR MINORS

Plainfielder Shows Passage of Bill Limiting Child Labor Would be Beneficial.

HEARING YESTERDAY

Secretary of Children's Aid Society Produces Facts and Figures For Senate Committee.

Armed with statistics on the question of child labor in glass industry, representatives of various charitable organizations, as well as the State Federation of Labor, appeared before the Senate Committee on the Revision of Laws at Trenton yesterday afternoon, to urge the favorable reporting of Assembly Bill No. 90, which prohibits the employment of children under 16 years in factories at night.

Owen Lovejoy, assistant secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, and Hugh F. Fox, of this city, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, were the principal speakers. After stating that the only objection to the enactment of the bill under consideration came from the sections of the State where glass is manufactured, Mr. Fox declared that it was but a fair question to ask how the enactment of such a measure would affect the glass manufacturers.

"Fortunately," said Mr. Fox, "we can get some measure of information from the report of the State Bureau of Statistics of Labor and Industry for the year ending October 31, 1906.

"It seems that in 1905 there were thirty establishments manufacturing window and bottle glass which employed during the year a total of 7868 persons. Of these, 6960 were over 16 years old, besides 174 women. There were 734 children under 16. The average number of persons employed during the year was 6263, showing an increase of 1.6 per cent., as compared with 1904. The total amount paid in wages in 1905 was $381,845, and the average yearly earnings for employes is given as $539.97."

Mr. Fox showed that the wages of children under 16 years varied from $3 to $7 a week, and said that the average wage was but $3.50 a week, and they are employed about forty weeks a year.

The proposed law, he said, does not change the age of the boys who work in the daytime, but, to measure the possible degree of injury to the manufacturer, he would assume for the sake of argument that the average wage is $4 and that the change in the age limit will add 50 per cent. to the wages of all the boys employed without increasing their efficiency.

On the basis of this calculation, which he said was extravagantly liberal, the actural cost to the glass manufacturers of New Jersey would amount to $58,720 a year, and he thought that for the great good that would be accomplished the monetary consideration should be put aside when it was shown to be so small.

Col. Hine's Wife Ill.

Mrs. Edwin W. Hine, wife of Col. Edwin W. Hine, of the Fifth Regiment, N. G. N. J., who is assistant to President Thomas N. McCarter, of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey. She sustained a stroke of paralysis at the Waldorf-Astoria on Saturday night while at dinner with her husband, celebrating the thirty-third anniversary of their wedding.

Honor for W. W. Smalley.

Assemblyman W. W. Smalley, of Bound Brook, has been elected president of the New Jersey Lumbermen's Association. The organization has members in every part of the State and Mr. Smalley's selection as the head is no small honor.

Funeral Service at Faith Chapel.

Instead of taking place at his late home as was originally planned, the funeral of Andrew Cox will be held tonight at Faith chapel at 8 o'clock. The change was made because of the large number of friends who wish to attend the service.

Fire Chiefs In Convention.

The semi-annual meeting of the New Jersey State Fire Chiefs' Association is being held at Trenton today. Plainfield and North Plainfield are represented by Chief T. O. Doane and Chief Howard Woolston.

Sunday Baseball Wins.

Twice defeated by the Republicans, Philip Daab's bill to permit Sunday baseball finally won out in the Assembly last night, by a vote of 32 to 19. Assemblyman Daab owns the Hoboken nine.

NOMINAL DAMAGES FOR RUSHMORE SERVANT

MARY CONNORS GETS SIX-CENT VERDICT IN A TORT CASE.

Claiming recompense for alleged assault and false imprisonment, Mary Connors, the servant whose trouble with S. W. Rushmore, of Putnam avenue, her former employer, has been aired in the city court and the district court on two occasions, appeared again as plaintiff in a case against Mr. Rushmore in the district court this morning. She sued for $300 damages on the grounds of assault and false imprisonment. A verdict of six cents on the latter count was awarded. The court ruled the assault allegation was not sustained.

The testimony was largely the same as at the trial of the servant's suit for wages. A new feature was the testimony of Dr. George W. Endicott, who testified that the plaintiff was an epileptic, the evidence being adduced to show that the girl was suffering from severe excitement and a form of delirium at the time Mr. Rushmore felt called upon to put her out of the kitchen. Mr. and Mrs. Rushmore both testified that the girl had frightened Mrs. Rushmore by threatening motions, that she refused to leave when discharged by Mr. Rushmore, and that he merely seized her by the arms and forced her toward the door, overcoming Mary's testimony that she was seized brutally without cause, choked and thrown down the cellar stairs.

The evidence as to the arrest showed that the officer, Sergeant Overbaugh, had not seen the alleged disorder, and that Mr. Rushmore had ordered the arrest before swearing out a complaint, as it was held he should have done. While the false imprisonment was held to be sustained, the court had no proof of damages resulting from the arrest, so the nominal sum was awarded. The verdict carries the costs with it.

W. S. Angleman was counsel for the plaintiff. G. W. V. Moy defended Mr. Rushmore.

BOARD OF TRADE'S PUBLICITY MOVEMENT BRINGS RESULTS.

Company Wants to Know If Plainfield Would Help It Locate Here.

Attracted by a newspaper article recounting the plans of the Board of Trade for the enlargement and advancement of Plainfield, L. J. Wing Manufacturing Company, of New York, makers of blowers, power fans, turbine engines, exhausters and similar appliances, have turned to Plainfield as a possible site for its new plant. L. J. Wing, the president of the company, has written the following letter to the board:

"I was reading in this morning's Herald about the proposed movement in your city for increasing its population and getting of industrial plants. Would you or your committee or the city itself take any actual interest in an industrial plant, if it was shown that it would be a profitable investment, as well as adding to the working population? If so, I would be pleased to have a personal interview with you or your committee, as we are contemplating opening a factory somewhere near New York city."

An interview with Mr. Wing will be arranged.

SANG "THE CRUCIFIXION" AT GRACE P. E. CHURCH.

Sacred Cantata Well Rendered Under Direction of William E. MacClymont.

The sacred cantata, "The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, was sung by the choir of Grace Protestant Episcopal church last night. The work was splendidly rendered, and its impressiveness was felt by a large congregation. William F. MacClymont, the choirmaster and organist, directed the singing.

The work of the soloists was unusually effective. Mrs. Theodore Mantz, soprano; William J. Tallamy, tenor; Arthur Chamberlain, baritone; W. R. Hill, baritone, and J. C. Martin, bass, sang in excellent voice, and all of them did much to make the rendition so effective.

Drunk Fined.

Arthur Ross, colored, 21 years old, was fined $3 in the City Court this morning for drunkenness and disorder. He was arrested last night by Patrolman Overland, after he had quarrelled at his boarding house.

P. P. A. Committee to Meet.

The executive committee of the Plainfield Protective Association will meet at the Casino, tonight, to discuss several matters of importance which will be brought up later at a meeting of the association.

Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen has returned to their home on Rockview avenue after spending a few weeks at Aiken, S. C.

PASS DIRECT VOTE BILL

Senate Acts Favorably Today on Colby's Direct Primary Measure.

ONLY THREE AGAINST IT

Measure Sent Over to the House—Frelinghuysen Against It, Ackerman For It.

The direct primary bill, introduced by State Senator Colby and known as Senate bill No. 65, with its amendments, went through the Senate at Trenton at noon today with flying colors, the vote being seventeen for its enactment and three against. Senator Frelinghuysen, of Somerset; Senator Hand, of Camden, and Senator Shinn, of Ocean, were the only three to register their votes in the negative. The bill has been sent over to the House and if passed by that body tomorrow will be immediately transmitted to Governor Stokes for his signature.

This important measure provides that in the case of Presidential electors, Governors, members of Congress, members of the General Assembly, members of the State Senate, county clerk, register, surrogate, county supervisor, coroner, mayor, and all elective offices in the State, counties and in the cities, towns and other municipalities to be voted for at the general election for members of the Assembly shall be nominated directly, without the intervention of delegates or conventionism, at primary elections held pursuant to the act.

All political parties, under this act, must hold their primaries at the same time and place from 1 o'clock in the afternoon until 9 o'clock at night. In cities under 30,000 this primary will be held on the second or fourth Tuesday of September and in all cities over 30,000 on the fourth Tuesday of September. Any members of a party can endorse any one member of the same party for a nomination and the endorsing paper must be filed with the Secretary of State or proper officer of the county or city. These endorsing papers are in turn transmitted to the county clerk who must prepare the primary ballots of the particular party with all names on them, which may have been endorsed in a given district. The names must be arranged in alphabetical order. The remainder of the direct primary act is similar in its salient features to the present primary law. The purpose of the proposed act is to do away with county conventions and other indirect methods of nomination.

ALL OVER $50 PIANO.

Jury Decides Dispute in Favor of Mrs. Mirick.

The ownership of a $50 piano claimed by Mrs. Alice H. Sanford and Mrs. Bertha E. Mirick, of New Market, and over which there have been several suits since last summer, was decided by a jury in the Middlesex Court at New Brunswick, yesterday, after a ten minutes' deliberation. According to the verdict the piano is given to Mrs. Mirick, against whom Miss Sanford originally brought the action. Clarence L. Murphy, of this city, and Robert Allain represented the plaintiff and S. F. P. vonMinden and Judge Cowgill the defendant.

The case has been a perplexing one from the first. Mrs. Mirick was the original owner of the piano, when she lived with Mrs. Sanford, but when she moved away she left the instrument there for a time and then Mrs. Sanford claimed that Mrs. Mirick had done so because of a debt her husband owed Mrs. Sanford. This was afterward disputed and Mrs. Mirick had the piano replevined. It was afterward replevined and it has been going back and forth almost continuously ever since. Now Mrs. Mirick is in possession of the piano, but Mrs. Sanford says she is not satisfied and will take the case up higher.

Faults in Colby Bill.

The amendments to the New Jersey corporation laws contained in Senate bill No. 198, introduced by Senator Colby for the New England Society of Orange, are encountering a good deal of opposition. Assistant Secretary of State J. B. R. Smith, who has for many years been at the head of the corporation division of the department, has discovered in the bills several features which, in his judgment, are not only objectionable, and if carried into effect, would tend to accentuate rather than diminish the very evils which they are designed to correct.

Commission Still at Work.

The bi-municipal consolidation commission, after an hour and a half session in Mayor Fisk's office yesterday afternoon, adjourned for two weeks. Little of importance was done.

SUFFERED FROM HURTS THAT WERE IMAGINARY

JOSEPH M'GUIRK FOUND IT HARD TO BELIEVE HE WASN'T HURT.

Under the impression that he was severely hurt, Joseph McGuirk raised a fuss after he had been knocked down by a carriage at Front and Somerset streets Saturday night, and it was not until a doctor had examined him and pronounced him as sound as before the accident would he believe he had not been injured. Even then he was doubtful, and worried over injuries he believed might have been inflicted.

The carriage was driven by Chas. E. Drake, of 916 West Fourth street. McGuirk, whom the police say was under the influence of liquor, stepped against a wheel of the carriage and was knocked down. He said he was hurt and was taken to police headquarters. The policemen could find nothing the matter with him, but he insisted he was hurt and he was taken to Dr. Endicott's office by Drake. The physician said there was nothing the matter with him, and McGuirk reluctantly admitted that he might have escaped injury. He accepted $2 from Drake to pay for his hat, which had been smashed. Drake paid the doctor's bill also.

PLANNING FOR THE ONE-DAY CAMPAIGN

MEN WHO WILL HELP O.S.A. BINGAMAN ON Y. M. C. A. GROWTH.

Further plans for the one-day campaign for 200 additional members were formulated by the membership committee of the Y. M. C. A. last night. Much enthusiasm was manifested, and prospects are bright for the complete success of the supreme effort on April 15. Another meeting of the committee will be held next Monday.

Many preliminary details have to be arranged, and the committee will work at them during the week. The Ladies' Auxiliary will have part in the campaign.

S. A. Bingaman is the head of the campaign. He will be assisted by J. E. Kimball, J. H. Manning, J. W. Gavett, E. C. Martin, Dr. Marc Clawson, F. O. Dunning, A. E. Atwood, C. H. Kinsman, Dr. N. H. Probasco, C. F. Dayton, H. W. Marshall, F. E. Smith, M. C. Van Arsdale, O. S. Rogers, O. W. Dunning and J. A. Powlison.

GOOD FRIDAY PRIVILEGE.

School Children May Go to Church If They So Desire.

Rev. George A. Warner, rector of Holy Cross Protestant Episcopal church, has asked the borough school authorities to allow Episcopalian pupils to leave school on Good Friday, if they desire to attend church service. It is understood the request will be granted. At the city high school this morning it was said that it had always been customary to excuse pupils who wished to go to church on Good Friday.

A bill to make Good Friday a general holiday was introduced in the State Senate yesterday. Senator Minturn, of Hudson county, is its author.

Special Session of the Court.

The Court of Quarter Session was convened at Elizabeth this morning to try the case of the State against John C. Bozunz, of Rahway, charged with assault on a fifteen-year-old girl. The case will probably occupy the entire day. It was the intention of the prosecutor to call at this time the case of Agnes Bushman, charged with the robbery of a jewelry store at Westfield, but owing to the illness of the defendant's attorney it has been put off for the term.

Trustees Re-elected.

The annual election of trustees was held at the First M. E. church, last night, when George M. Rittenhouse, James C. Peck and John Cory were re-elected for a term of three years and Samuel Bingaman was elected to fill the unexpired term of George H. Burgess, who resigned because of ill-health.

Fixing Up Budget.

The finance committee of the Common Council held a protracted session in Mayor Fisk's office last night. The budget will be arranged in time for presentation at the April meeting of the city fathers.

Re-enlists in Newark.

John M. Lewis, who recently resigned as first lieutenant of Co. K, 2nd regiment, of this city, has re-enlisted as a private in Co. K, 1st regiment, in Newark.

—Lovers of fresh vegetables and fancy fruits should not fail to see the large assortment at Neuman Brothers' new consignments received daily.

MACHINISTS' CELEBRATION

Plainfield Lodge, I. A. of M. Hears Enthusiastic Addresses of Labor Leaders.

400 IN ATTENDANCE

Joseph R. Buchanan and Joseph Sonnobend Makes Speeches—Refreshments Are Served.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 167, International Association of Machinists, celebrated the sixth anniversary of its organization, last night, by conducting a meeting and social time in Trades' Council Hall. It was attended by 400 members and was one of the most helpful and encouraging affairs the lodge has ever held.

The principal speakers for the evening were Joseph Sonnabend, of Newark, business agent for the association, and Joseph R. Buchanan, labor editor of the New York Journal and a pioneer in the movement. Mr. Sonnabend was first called upon and made a brief address in which he complimented the members of No. 167 on the growth of the lodge and the manner in which its affairs have been conducted. He pointed out the fact that a great deal of power rests in the organization but he advised them not to overestimate it and so become involved in difficulties that could accomplish no good.

Mr. Buchanan was given an enthusiastic reception when he was introduced and talked to the men in a line of thought that gave them renewed encouragement for continued work in the proper channels. He cited his thirty-five years' experience as an upholder of organized labor principles and emphasized the fact that unions are a necessity; that they have not been built up on sentiment but on the contrary were forced upon the workers by the concentration of capital in the large plants that have replaced the individual employer.

He urged upon the members the necessity of strengthening their organization, not by unreasonable demands but by watching the interests of the employers and preserving harmony in their own ranks; meeting the shop owners on an equal footing and demanding only what justly belongs to them. He stated that prior to the recognition of the trades unions, every man had a right to state the price of his product with the exception of the laborer. Since the unions have compelled recognition the wage worker has been granted the right to fix the price for which he sells his labor. In the past few years, he said, conditions have changed in organized towns by from twenty-five to forty per cent., both for the business man and the mechanic. He stated further that the trades unions have done more to build up this country than any other institution. He urged upon the members the necessity of attending meetings of their lodges, performing all duties devolving upon them and not to allow small matters to turn them from the ultimate purpose that the organized movement is aiming at. He concluded by advising the men to work in such a way that they could at least "leave the world a little better than they found it."

After the remarks refreshments were served and an informal discussion of machinists' affairs and conditions took place. At the present time they are beter than they have ever been but the craft is still behind other trades in several ways. The International Association is making great strides in membership and by proper concentration of effort has been steadily securing concessions for the great body of machinists.

To Commemorate Agassiz.

The one hu th anniversary of the birth of L Agassiz, which occurs on May 28, will be observed in the Plainfield High School when Franklin S. Smith, a graduate of the class of 1880, will give an illustrated lecture. Mr. Smith was at one time an instructor of science in the high school and was a member of the Agassiz Science Association. He has recently presented to the school a collection of shells, star fish and minerals.

Nelson—Hughson.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Kathryn O. Hughson, of Orchard place, to Frank Taylor Nelson, of Roselle. The ceremony was performed in New York at the Church of the Transfiguration on October 24, 1906, by Rev. William W. Davis. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will take up their residence in Roselle Park on April 1.

Tax Appointments Confirmed.

At an executive session of the State Senate, yesterday, the appointments of P. V. D. VanDoren, Stewart A. Kenney and Mayor Newton B. Smalley as members of the Somerset county Board of the Equalization of taxes were confirmed.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The members of the Baptist Sunday-school surprised the board of trustees of the church in an agreeable manner at the session of the school Sunday morning. Superintendent Charles R. Vincent, on behalf of the school, presented to the church as an Easter gift one hundred dollars ($100). The large pipe organ in the auditorium of the church has been sadly in need of repairs for some time. The Sunday-school treasury is in a flourishing condition and the members decided to appropriate a sum sufficient to put the organ in condition once more.

The local school will not indulge in the pleasure of a week's Easter vacation; the only pupils who will enjoy the week will be those who attend the Plainfield High School from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mooney, of Rahway, were the guests over Sunday of relatives and friends in town.

Summons has been issued in Justice Clark's court in the contract case of Goodman against Sternhem.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Ryno, of Alton, who have been visiting friends in town, have returned home.

Frank Corrona has resigned his position with the Aluminum Press Co., at Lincoln.

Fanwood Council, R. A., meets tonight in the library rooms.

NEW PROVIDENCE.

TO THE PUBLIC!

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company offer for subscription its stock in amounts to suit purchasers from $25 upward.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of erecting a dam to accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, for the purpose of ice cutting, and also erecting houses for storing the same. The lake thus formed will be approximately a mile long and a quarter of a mile at its widest part, and will yield a large quantity of ice.

The company, under the management of a Board of able Directors, will endeavor to reduce the cost of construction, maintenance, etc., to a minimum, and thus be able to fill the demand of the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the remainder of the ice to outside markets at prices which will yield large profits.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors to sell the shares of the capital stock of the Company to residents of Plainfield, North Plainfield and vicinity, and thus allow them the privilege of sharing in the profits of the Company in the shape of dividends at the end of each year. To place this plan within the reach of all consumers of ice and to carry out the idea of a mutual Company, the Company will issue its stock in $25 shares.

As the Company is not to issue any bonds against its property it is obvious that each and all share holders will be doubly secured and will have first claim on the property and the works, the same being free and clear in every respect, and further are assured against loss in each step that the Company takes in bringing the project to completion as follows: First. The Company has already received offers for lake site at a considerable advance on the price that the stockholders will pay for it.

Second. The price paid for building dam will be over four times secured by the lake thus formed, a body of pure water of this size within so short a distance of New York being extremely valuable.

Third. Money expended for icehouses will complete the plant. The completed plant such as is proposed to erect should be worth on conservative estimation three times the total capitalization of the Company.

In securing the Directors of this Company, special effort was taken to get men of financial standing and ability, of character and good repute; men not only at the head of different prosperous corporations but also men holding public respect and confidence. This was done as the Company intends to be a People's Company, and, therefore, wishes to be directed by men of the people and by the people themselves.

The officers of the Company are:

President, Mr. Henry C. Wicker, Treasurer and Secretary of the Nassau Bond Company.

Vice-President, Mr. Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

Treasurer, Mr. J. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Secretary, Mr. John J. Lordan, a Lawyer in New York City.

The Directors of the Company are:

Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

J. F. MacDonald, Director of City National Bank.

H. C. Wicker, Secretary and Treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company.

C. M. Wicker, President of the Nassau Bond Company.

E. G. F. du Mazuel, President of the Consolidated Engineering Company of America.

Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock of the Company at the office of Mr. W. dela R. Anderson, 208 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., at which offices subscription blanks and all detailed information relative to the above may be obtained.

The Company has chosen a local bank in which all funds, securities and moneys are to be deposited and through which all the Company's business is to be done.

A Word to Men About Our Clothing.

Most men are more concerned about the cut and fit of the clothes they wear than of quality or price. Style is the thing. Some men crave only quality.

But every man is mighty glad when he finds clothing
Just right in style,
Just right in fit,
Just right in quality,
Just right in price
—and these he gets in the exceptional clothes sold in our popular Clothing Store on the Second Floor.

Not only do we show the latest, smartest models, but we have our clothes built on a system that enables us to fit men so perfectly that they are simply astonished, especially those who have always considered themselves hard to fit.

Men's Suits, Top Coats and Raincoats. The variety of styles is very large indeed—more varied than ever. Many exclusive fabrics are shown and the suits presented plainly exhibit the careful tailoring that adds so much to the life of the clothes we sell.

At $9.98 we can sell you a splendid wearing suit or Top Coat; such as most stores would ask you $12 to $15 for.

At $12.98 we show a large range of styles in the most fashionable fabrics—suits that we question whether you can duplicate elsewhere under $16.

At $15 we sell Hand Tailored Suits and Top Coats of the swellest sort; fine in appearance; maintaining their shape permanently and wearing as long as you care to have a suit wear.

At $18 we show Suits and Top Coats of the most carefully tailored sort. These suits are cut separately and are bench made, and are really superior to most of the custom tailoring that you get about town. Other suits in this sumptuously tailored class run as high as $35.

OUR GREAT NEW SERIAL BEGAN IN YESTERDAY'S ISSUE.

"The Plum Tree," By David Graham Phillips, Author of "The "Deluge."

When we tell you that "The Plum Tree," which is now running in The Daily Press, stands for political graft and that a love romance of exceptional runs through the story you will at once understand that we are offering something that will appeal to all of our readers, the man of affairs as well as the young who revel in a love story.

As a picture of American politics alone it is well worth reading.

Hon. Albert J. Beveridge says of it: "Plot, action, color, vitality make 'The Plum Tree' as thrilling as it is instructive. Mr. Phillips' analysis of character and motive is terribly merciless. He shows us apalling depth but leaves us at last upon the heights. Knowledge of the unworthy and base, and fearlessness in stating it, together with an almost religious faith in the triumph of the good, distinguish all the work of this remarkable young novelist."

Hon. Champ Clark says: "'The Plum Tree' is a great story, strong and interesting."

Do not fail to read it. See the second instalment in this issue.

OF COURSE IT PAID.

Judge tells a story of a boy who wrote on the blackboard at school "John Jones can hug the girls better than any fellow in the class." A stern inquisition conducted by the teacher fastened the authorship of this declaration upon John Jones himself, and the culprit was commanded to remain after school was dismissed. His sympathetic classmates lingered in the vicinity to learn his fate. "Well, did she lick you?" they inquired, when he finally appeared. "Nope," said John. "What did she keep you in for, then?" they asked. "I ain't a-goin' to tell," he answered; "but it pays to advertise."

Mr. Merchant, don't you possess some advantage over the general run—some particular point of superiority—which it would pay to advertise?—Philadelphia Record.

Struck an Editor.

Charles A. May, president of the Trenton Water Board, took offense at something in the editorial column of the Trenton True American of yesterday morning, and yesterday afternoon he punched Editor H. S. Reilly when he met him on the street. May was arrested and held; he faces a suit for $5,000 damages.

Leon Moran will soon occupy the house recently purchased by him at Mercer and Rockview avenues. The family of James P. Northrup now residing in it will remove to Truell Court.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold a parlor meeting at the Seventh-Day Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson will speak concerning the local temperance work and the last national convention held at Boston.

THE FORUM.

Expel Mr. Yettman.

Editor, The Daily Press:

A business meeting was called by the deacons and trustees of the Ebenezer Baptist church last night to hear from Mr. Prine Yettman, and the charge he had made against the church and pastor. Fully three-fourths of the members were present. After hearing the report of the committees who were appointed to have Mr. Yettman present the deacons and trustees reported that every effort to have Mr. Yettman meet them had failed. Whereupon the church took a vote that the name of Prine Yettman be erased from the board of trustees and the same be published in the daily paper. There was not a dissenting voice.

We feel that Mr. Yettman has damaged the church and pastor. J. W. Lewis was nominated to be elected at the next meeting to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Yettman. The trustees reported that William Boyd had said that they could not rent the present place any longer for church service and that they had secured Reform hall for services until they can purchase a place in the eastern part of the city and build a chapel. We hope that our friends and well-wishers of the Ebenezer Baptist church will continue with the church. Done by order of the church. Thanking you for space.

Yours truly,
EBENEZER BAPTIST CHURCH.
J. C. Lumpkin, Church Clerk.
E. Trite, Chairman Trustee Board.

House Committee Gives Hearing—No Opposition Heard.

Trenton, March 26.—The House Committee on Judiciary gave a hearing yesterday afternoon on House bills Nos. 298 and 300, known as the initiative and referendum bills. The former measure provides that whenever 10 per cent. of the electors of the State shall present to the Secretary of State a petition for a law or a constitutional amendment, the petition shall be referred to the Legislature and if the Legislature fails to vote on the desired legislation then the voters can at the next general election vote on the question. No measure, however, so voted on shall become a law until it has been regularly enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor.

House bill No. 300 provides that whenever 5 per cent. of the voters of the State shall petition the Secretary of State for a referendum vote on any measure passed by the Legislature then the Governor shall issue a proclamation ordering the reference of the measure to a vote at the next general election, the result of such vote to be regarded only as an expression of public opinion.

Only the advocates of the measures were heard yesterday, and after an hour had been consumed in explaining the various features of the proposed statutes the Judiciary Committee decided to report them. Ex-Assistant Attorney General Duffield and Recorder Fort, of Orange, were listed to speak against the bills, and they were present when the hearing opened, but when their turn came to speak they had disappeared.

Miss Helma Bergaland, of Elizabeth, was entertained here Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nelson and family, of Elm street.

"The White Store" is one of the busiest in the city and the spring trade has opened most auspiciously. Every department is attractive, especially the one where carpets and rugs are shown. Mr. Force has arranged a novel scheme for showing rugs, swinging arms being fastened to the sidewalls. The women as well as the men will find a large assortment of spring and summer goods of the best manufacture at the lowest prices

—Daily Press want ads. pay.

—P. H. Latourette, auctioneer, will hold an auction sale of household furniture, at 510 Madison avenue, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock sharp. These goods are of special value and are sold because the family is giving up housekeeping.

Good Music.

Everybody thoroughly enjoys good music. With the melody stops on the Great Hallet & Davis Playerpiano, permitting individual accentuation of notes or runs at will anyone in an hour's time can produce "good music."

Other well known player pianos feature special devices which our melody stops include.

The Melody Stops in the Hallet & Davis Playerpiano are a most remarkable development in playerpiano construction.

We ask you to come and play it yourself. We'll leave it to your judgment if we have not the best player-piano made. Then, there's a saving in the price, too. A fine library of music goes with each player.

The purchase of such an instrument would bring added joys to your home life. Would educate in the best music; entertain the family and friends alike. Why not look into this now? Free concerts daily.

Amos H. Van Horn, Ltd.

"Here 47 Years"

Hardly necessary for us to say anything about the liberal, straightforward way we have been treating the public in the PAST! It's already well known! Right here in Newark 47 years, meeting the wants of every patron, carrying largest stocks, running the largest store in the State (floor space amounting to 5 acres), it's NATURAL we're recognised as leaders.

This Spring and ALL seasons to follow you'll not only find all departments carrying the latest and best, but you'll find, if ACCOMMODATION is wanted, NO house will offer it more liberally—if you PREFER to pay money down NO house will do more for your cash!

All We Want is a Call—Our Splendid 47 year Record GUARANTEES You Good Service!

Go-Carts and Carriages
—the best makers in the land (Heywood & Wakefield) contribute to this leading display—all new patterns, attractive and original; every uniform device—all grades, from the modest to most elaborate—but ALL at lowest prices in town!

Carpets and Rugs!
There's not another showing of floor coverings to beat this one of ours when variety, beauty and genuinely low prices is the question! An immense carpet department, fine display facilities and ability of obliging salesmen to "show" you 'round—whether you buy or not!

THE PLUM TREE

BY DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS

AUTHOR OF THE COST. THE DELUGE. Etc.

COPYRIGHTED 1906 BY BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY.

I wished to ask my father what this strange spectacle meant; but, as I glanced up at him to begin my question, I knew I must not, for I felt that I was seeing something which shocked him so profoundly that he would take me away if I reminded him of my presence. I know now that I was witnessing the crude beginnings of the money-machine in politics—the beginnings of the downfall of parties—the beginnings of the overthrow of the people as the political power. Those stiff-armed men were the "floating voters" of that ward of Pulaski. They had been bought up by a rich candidate of the opposition party, which was less scrupulous than our party, then in the flush of devotion to "principles" and led by such old-fashioned men as my father with old-fashioned notions of honor and honesty. Those "floaters" had to keep the ballot in full view from the time they got it of the agent of their purchaser until they had deposited it beyond the possibility of substitution—he must see them "deliver the goods."

My father was defeated. He saw that, in politics, the day of the public servant of public interests was over, and that the night of the private servant of private interests had begun. He resigned his leadership into the dextrous hands of a politician. Soon afterward he died, muttering: "Prosperity has ruined my country."

From that election day my interest in politics grew, and but for my mother's bitter prejudice I should have been an active politician, perhaps before I was out of college.

Pulaski, indeed all that section of my state, was strong of my party. Therefore Dominick, its local boss, was absolute. At the last county election, four years before the time of which I am writing, there had been a spasmodic attempt to oust him. He had grown so insolent, and had put his prices for political and political-commercial "favors" to our leading citizens so high, that the "best element" in our party reluctantly broke from its allegiance. To save himself he had been forced to order flagrant cheating on the tally sheets; his ally and fellow conspirator, M'Coskrey, the opposition boss, was caught and was indicted by the grand jury. The reformers made such a stir that Ben Cass, the county prosecutor, though a Dominick man, disobeyed his master and tried and convicted M'Coskrery. Of course, following the custom in cases of yielding to pressure from public sentiment, he made the trial-errors necessary to insure reversal in the higher court; and he finally gave Dominick's judge the opportunity to quash the indictment. But the boss was relentless—Cass had been disobedient, and had put upon "my friend M'Coskrey" the disgrace of making a sorry figure in court. "Ben can look to his swell reform friends for a renomination," said he; "he'll not get it from me."

Thus it came to pass that Dominick's lieutenant, Buck Fessenden, appeared in my office one afternoon in July, and, after a brief parley, asked me how I'd like to be prosecuting attorney of Jackson county. Four thousand a year for four years, and a reelection if I should give satisfaction; and afterward, the bench or a seat in congress! I could pay off everything; I could marry!

It was my first distinct vision of the plum tree. To how many thousands of our brightest, most promising young Americans it is shown each year in just such circumstances!

CHAPTER II.

At the Court of a Sovereign.

That evening after supper I went to see Dominick.

In the lower end of Pulaski there was a large beer garden known as Dominick's headquarters. He received half the profits in return for making it his loafing-place, the seat of the source of all political honor, preferment and privilege in the Third, Sixth and Seventh congressional districts. I found him enthroned at the end of a long table in the farthest corner of the garden. On one side of him sat James Spencer, judge of the circuit court—"Dominick's judge;" on the other side Henry De Forest, principal owner of the Pulaski Gas and Street Railway company. There were several minor celebrities in politics, the law and business down either side of the table, then Fessenden, talking with Cowley, our lieutenant governor. As soon as I appeared Fessenden nodded to me, rose, and said to the others generally: "Come on, boys, let's adjourn to the next table. Mr. Dominick wants to talk to this young fellow."

I knew something of politics, but I was not prepared to see that distinguished company rise, and, with not a shadow of resentment on any man's face, with only a respectful, envious glance at me, who was to deprive them of sunshine for a few minutes, remove themselves and their glasses to another table. When I knew Dominick better, and other bosses in this republic of ours, I knew that the boss is never above the weakness of the monarch class for a rigid and servile court etiquette. My own lack of this weakness has been a mistake which might have been serious had my political power been based upon men. It is a blunder to treat men without self-respect as if they were your equals. They expect to cringe; if they are not compelled to do so, they are likely to forget their place. At the court of a boss are seen only those who have lost self-respect and those who never had it. The first are the lower though they rank themselves, and are ranked above the "just naturally low."

But—Dominick was alone, his eternal glass of sarsaparilla before him. He used the left corner of his mouth both for his cigar and for speech. To bid me draw near and seat myself, he had to shift his cigar. When the few words necessary were half-spoken, half-grunted, he rolled his cigar back to the corner which it rarely left. He nodded condescendingly, and, as I took the indicated chair at his right, gave me a hand that was fat and firm, not unlike the flabby yet tenacious sucker of a moist sea-creature.

He was a huge, tall man, enormously muscular, with a high head like a block, straight in front, behind and on either side; keen, shifty, pig eyes, pompous cheeks, a raw, wide mouth; slovenly dress, with a big diamond as a collar button, and another on his puffy little finger. He was about 40 years old, had graduated from blacksmith too lazy to work into prize-fighter, thence into saloon keeper. It was as saloon-keeper that he founded and built his power, made himself the local middleman between our two great political factors, those who buy and break laws and those who aid and abet the lawlessness by selling themselves as voters or as office holders.

Dominick had fixed his eyes upon his sarsaparilla. He frowned savagely into its pale brown foam when he realized that I purposed to force him to speak first. His voice was ominously surly as he shifted his cigar to say: "Well, young fellow, what can I do for you?"

"Mr. Fessenden told me you wanted to see me," said I.

"He didn't say nothing of the sort," growled Dominick. "I've knowed Buck 17 years, and he ain't no liar."

I flushed and glanced at the distinguished company silently waiting to return to the royal presence. Surely, if these eminent fellow citizens of mine endured this insulting monarch, I could—I, the youthful, the obscure, the dependent. Said I: "Perhaps I did not express myself quite accurately. Fessenden told me you were considering making me your candidate for county prosecutor, and suggested that I call and see you."

Dominicy gave a gleam and a grunt like a hog that had been flattered with a rough scratching of its hide. But he answered: "I don't give no nominations. That's the province of the party, young man."

Easter Outer Garments

The strongest garment values in the city of Newark. A broad assertion and cold, but one which we fully substantiated during our recent opening, and one which we would take pleasure in proving to you in person tomorrow. Our assortments this season are broader, and, if possible, more comprehensive than ever before, and the same inimitable grace which has always characterized outergarment displays at the Bamberger store, finds in this one its fullest expression.

A NOTABLE SUIT OFFERING—At the price which we offer these dainty frocks they are positively the most notable values in the city of Newark—an assertion that we would take great pleasure in proving. The newest and by all means the smartest styles of the season—swagger new mixtures in French gray—Prince Chap model with silk and pique trimmed collar and cuffs—full plaited skirts, and pretty styles in Eton and pony effects of Panama and mixtures—suits of distinction and exclusive design that we are proud beyond measure to offer you at this price. By all means see them $29.50

WOMEN'S SUITS—This splendid assortment includes Eton, pony or hip length jacket suits, made of fine quality Panama cloth in black and most fashionable colorings; all lined with taffeta and tastefully trimmed—skirts come in newest plaited effects $19.75

What is more entertaining, funnier and exhilaratory than a good old-time minstrel, the kind that our forefathers were wont to see in the days gone by. Such is the class of entertainment that will be brought to the New Plainfield theatre tonight by the one famous and popular Billy Kersands' Minstrels, headed by that king of fun producers, Billy Kersands himself, who has the support of thirty colored artists of untold merit.

In "The Lion and the Mouse," which Henry B. Harris will present here at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night, Charles Klein, the author, has written a play that promises to be of enduring popularity. Indeed, it may be said that the success already achieved by this drama is beyond anything known in America in the past ten years. The theme is most pertinent to the present day when everyone is keenly alive to the machination of trusts and kings of finance. Mr. Klein has displayed excellent judgment in presenting a phase of American life with which the public has become familiar through the newspapers and magazines of the times. He depicts a king of finance as he is, robbed of melodramatic attributes. In opposition to him he places a true figure of American womanhood; it is their struggle with the final victory for the girl that constitutes the basis upon which this powerful drama of emotion is built. From this complication arise a series of situations of strong emotion, and admirably as they are written they gain in power of conviction from their adroit handling by the exceptionally fine cast which Mr. Harris has selected for the presentation of this drama. The announcement of the play here cannot fail to elicit the keen interest of all classes of theatregoers.

A rare treat is in store for the patrons of the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night, when George Ade's celebrated comic opera, "The Sultan of Sulu," will be presented with the original gorgeous scenic and costume equipment, which has characterized its successful career for the past five seasons. "The Sultan of Sulu" was long ago recognized as the standard for American light opera. It is a delicately prepared mixture of delightful music, beautiful scenes in dreamy tropic islands, dainty girls and remarkably clever dialogue. A little plot is thrown in to give the thing a flavor and the production is complete. You like it all because it is light enough for you to enjoy without having to sit and think. The situations are surprising—to attempt to describe them is impossible. The Sultan has eight wives, is dethroned, and divorced by American invaders, pines in a prison because he fails to pay the alimony, and finally is triumphant as the monarch of all. He assimilates with civilization and the cocktail and feels for the first time in his life "such a head in the morning." "Remorse" is his pathetic song then and it is even too realistic to many in the audience to enjoy. Prominent in this season's cast are Octavia Broske, Bernice Hart, Harriett Sheldon, Maude Earle, Al Sykes, Harry Benham, F. J. McCarthy, Harry Collignon and George Alexander. The unusual beauty chorus will be in evidence, and the orchestra will be augmented for this engagement.

For the third time in fifteen years, permission has been granted for the famous Marine Band of Washington, the band that made Sousa famous, to leave the Capitol. It will be heard here next Monday afternoon and night at the New Plainfield theatre under the auspices of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E. It has been common comment in musical circles that the better the grand old organization becomes the more difficult it is for it to get a leave of absence for a tour of concerts.

RAHWAY.

At the home of George E. White, of St. George avenue, Saturday, the trustees and the pastor of the Baptist church, Rev. N. E. Merritt, Jr., were entertained by the president of the board, Mr. White. The first of the evening was devoted to the business of the church, after which supper was served.

A break of the water main on Cherry street left that thoroughfare without water from Friday evening until Saturday.

Charles Brooks has returned to Rahway to reside, after an absence of several years in Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McCann have returned from a week's visit in New York.

CHATHAM.

The Athletics have been able to secure the grounds for the baseball games this season. The property on which they have formerly played has been sold, but the new owner has allowed them to use it.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tyson, who were married at Orange on Saturday, are expected home this week from Connecticut, where they are spending their honeymoon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church will hold a sale of cake, candy and Easter novelties in the church parlors Thursday afternoon.

The monthly conference of Bible readers of the Ogden Memorial church will be held this evening.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Inter-City Amateur Baseball League season will open on Saturday, May 18, for four of the five teams. All but Dunellen will play. Later on there will be off dates for other teams to make up for the loss of the opening game to Dunellen. Bound Brook will open up at Crescent Oval with the Y. M. C. A., while Clinton Avenue will meet Scotch Plains the same day.

The five teams in the amateur league are all so evenly matched that the race should be an exciting one. Each aggregation has a strong battery, while the infield and outfield positions will be filled with strong players.

The Clinton Avenue Baseball Club has scheduled three games this season with Somerville for off dates. These contests should bring about the old-time rivalry. Last year it was impossible to arrange games between these teams.

Heyniger, of Princeton, upon whom will depend most of the box work on the 'varsity baseball team, has a younger brother, John Heyniger, a student at Lawrenceville, who promises to be the star twirler on the academy team this season. Those who have watched his work predict that in time he will be as good as his brother. They are the sons of William Heyniger and formerly resided here.

GOLF.

"Marty" O'Loughlin, the professional at the Plainfield Country Club, and E. B. Shoemaker, a member of the golf committee, were on the curse Saturday and found it to be in fine condition. The greens are especially good. If the present weather continues the course will be opened by April 15.

There is some talk of cnanging the starting of play at the Plainfield Country Club from the first to the seventh tee, the broad open space at the latter tee being considered an advantage over conditions at the first.

Workmen are now engaged in putting the course at the Plainfield Country Club in shape for the season. The greens committee is already busy directing the various improvements to be made.

Inspection of the Park Golf Club course shows that with little repair it will be in the best of condition. The greens are reported to be particularly good.

GOLF PRO STARTS IN.

O'Loughlin Begins to Get Ready for the Season's Round.

"Marty" O'Loughin, the Hillside golf professional, was out on the links Saturday for the first time this season. The course was slow, but Marty was in rare shape, for all of his long lay-off, and played to within two strokes of the record for the course.

He will practice hard all this week in preparation for the round of competitions. He intends to enter all the latter he can get into. Marty says he was never in better shape.

ADELBERG THE MAN WHO DOES THINGS

MANAGER OF PEOPLE'S CLOTHING CO. BUILDING BIG BUSINESS.

With characteristic energy, H. Adelberg, manager of the Peoples' Credit Clothing Company, has taken steps to meet the great volume of spring and summer trade that is promised, by leasing the entire three upper floors of the building at 131 East Front street, which the firm has been occupying. For the past six weeks, carpenters, paperhangers and decorators have been at work remodelling the lofts to conform with the present quarters so that in a short time the company can boast of having one of the largest and finest display rooms for men's suits and women's cloaks in this part of the State. The branching out is a confirmation of Mr. Adelberg's hustling proclivities as but four years ago the firm had only a few hundred square feet of floor space while now it will have over 4,000.

Special attention has been paid in the remodelling to make the women's cloak department the most prettily decorated and best equipped in the city; in one way it is a "pioneer" of its kind in the State. The department set aside for the little folks is also in splendid shape and can be classed with the best. The same may be said of the men's display room and will greatly facilitate the work of the employes in aiding purchasers to make selections.

In speaking of the company's rapid advancement, Mr. Adelberg ascribed it to the method of doing business, "no misrepresentation and a square deal to everybody." The strict following of this motto has proven to the buying public that they handle nothing but the best of goods and coupled with the giving of liberal credit it has satisfied local people that they are getting "a square deal." As the company's business is transacted on upper floors and not with the street level, this feature has also proven a source of profit for the firm and satisfaction to the patrons, as business of a confidential nature can best be transacted in this way than in a store. **

Danish Lutheran services will be held tomorrow night in the W. C. T. U. rooms at 8 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Kaer will preach.

P. B. A. BOWLERS DEFEAT THE CHAMPION MUTUALS.

Winners of New York Insurance League Tourney Fail to Get a Game On Local Alleys.

In the words of the bowling enthusiast who is always on hand to do the rooting, "there was nothing to it" when the Plainfield Bowling Academy team and the Mutual Life five, of New York, met on McLaughlin's alleys in a match series last night. Though they came with a big reputation dangling at their belts and as the announced winners of the New York insurance league tourney, the Mutuals failed to get a game and in one score the Plainfielders were 134 pins to the good. The nearest the visitors got to even equalling their opponent's figures was in the second game when the totals were 860 to 849.

Chief Kiely was the star roller for the home team, in fact, he was the only one beside Causebrook to go over the 200 mark. Garrison carried off the honors for the New Yorkers by getting two double centuries, the only ones on his side. The winners are to play a return match on the Mutuals' alleys within the near future.

SUES FOR 20 MILLIONS

WANTS SURPLUS FUNDS

Complainants Lost Suit In England and Jersey Chancery Court Will Decide Matter of Jurisdiction.

Paul Charles William Sohege, of Paris, the third husband of the late Isabella Eugenie Sohege, whose first husband was Isaac Merritt Singer, the founder of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, is complainant in a suit, the jurisdiction of which was argued in Newark yesterday before Vice Chancellor Pitney.

Joseph Ignatius Ryan, of Jersey City, is the co-complainant. Among the defendants named in the papers is Princess de Polignac, a daughter of Duc de Composelite, of Belgium, who was the second husband of Singer's widow. The others named as defendants are the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Singer, the Singer Manufacturing Company, Adam M. Singer, Washington M. G. Singer and Louis Rendell. The last three named are the trustees of the estate.

The suit is brought to recover from the trustees the major portion of $20,000,000 which Sohege alleges he is entitled to under the will of his wife. He alleges in his suit that the amount named is a surplus that had accrued from the income of the estate, whereas the trustees have been handling it as part of the principal of the estate.

The case has been tried in England and a decision by the highest court there was against Sohege, Ryan figures as a co-complainant because he alleges that Sohege has assigned a one-fifth interest in his claim to him.

Counsel for the defendants assert that none of the interest parties are residents of this country and that the courts of New Jersey have no jurisdiction.

PURDY—HOPPER.

Former Pastor of Marconnier to Wed.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Rev. Marinus Seymour Purdy, pastor of the Reformed church at Athens, near Passaic, and Miss Laura Kathryn Hopper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ferris Hopper, of Hackensack. The event will be celebrated Wednesday evening, April 10, at 8:30 o'clock in the First Reformed church, Hackensack.

Mr. Purdy, who was graduated from the Theological Seminary, New Brunswick, is well known here, where he has many friends. He was pastor of Marconnier chapel for two years, while preparing for the ministry and on several occasions he occupied the pulpit at Trinity Reformed church, where his preaching was greatly enjoyed.

Clifton Building Sold.

Charles B. Clifton has sold his property at Park avenue and West Fourth street, to L. W. Weiss, of Ossining, N. Y., the latter making the purchase for speculative purposes. The deal was made by John P. Emmons, acting for Mr. Clifton. Mr. Weiss is a brother-in-law of Mrs. M. Weinberger, of Sandford avenue. The building, a brick structure, contains a number of flats and several stores. The consideration is not known, but Mr. Clifton held it at $30,000 and it is understood that the property sold for almost that figure. Mr. Clifton has gradually been disposing of his Plainfield property, it being his intention to live in the South the greater part of the year.

Lenten Recital.

The following programme will be given at the First Baptist church, tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock. No cards of admission will be required and the public is invited. Adante in A Flat, Beethoven, string quartette; Messe Sollennelle, Credo, Sanctus, Agnus Dei, Gounod; Meditation, Bach-Gounod, violin, harp and organ; contralto solo, Inflammatus, Dvorak; a—Aria, Bach; b—Adagio, Bohemian Melody, string quartette; The Seven Last Words, Dubois.

Conway Settled Claim.

The claim of Mrs. Caroline Ohl against Edward Conway, owner of the trained mule troupe, for damages alleged to have been done to the Ohl barn, and to cover which Mrs. Ohl secured an attachment against the mules, has been amicably settled out of court.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pomeroy, of Park place, who have been spending some time at Rochester, N. Y., have returned to Plainfield. They are planning to reside at Rochester during April and May and will probably spend the rest of the summer here.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS OF LOCAL G.A.R. POST

EXERCISES IN REFORM HALL AND DECORATIONS OF GRAVES AS USUAL.

Past Commander I. L. McVoy, of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., who is chairman of the Memorial Detail, will call a meeting for Saturday night, when matters pertaining to the observance of Memorial Day will be taken up. The public exercises will be held at Reform Hall, as usual, and there will be the customary visitation to the cemeteries to decorate the graves of soldiers.

Because the veterans are getting well along in years many of them believe that the parading should be limited to a shorter line of march and that younger persons should take up the task of decorating the graves.

Co. K will be invited this year, as usual, to assist in the observance of the day and will no doubt accept. The committee will arrange an attractive programme for the public exercises and some well-known speaker will be engaged. The officers of the post will hold their exercises, which includes the reading of Lincoln's address at Gettysburg and the general orders issued by the National Commander of the G. A. R., and the decoration of the graves in memory of the unknown soldiers who died in the Civil War. There will also be a programme of instrumental and vocal music, a feature being a chorus of school children.

NEWARK LAWYER IS MADE VICE-CHANCELLOR.

James E. Howell Named by Chancellor to Succeed the Venerable Mr. Pitney.

Chancellor Magie, of New Jersey, appointed yesterday James E. Howell, of Newark, Vice-Chancellor, to succeed the venerable Vice-Chancellor Henry C. Pitney, who has resigned and will retire to private life next April 9.

Mr. Howell has been practising law in Newark since 1874, and since 1876 has been a member of the firm of Cault & Howell, one of the best-known legal co-partnerships of the State.

Mr. Howell was born in Wantage township, Sussex county, June 25, 1848. He studied law at the University of Michigan and in the office of Joseph Cault, with whom he later became associated. He was admitted to the bar in 1872. Mr. Howell has practised extensively in the Court of Equity and his appointment was received with satisfaction by the lawyers of the State.

Mr. Howell is a trustee of the Newark Public Library and president of the commission that built the new $2,500,000 City Hall for Newark.

A Dangerous Grass Fire.

A still alarm was received at fire headquarters at noon today for a grass blaze on property at Waynewood place and West Front street. No 3 hose was sent out from the West End house but neighbors had extinguished the flames before their arrival. It was in a very dangerous place and would undoubtedly have set fire to a barn but for the intervention. The alarm was telephoned in by Counsellor W. S. Angleman, who owns the property threatened.

Dr. Schenck's Plans.

Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, who is slowly convalescing from an attack of paralysis, plans to spend a few weeks at a sanitarium, believing that the change will be beneficial. He will either go to Galen Hall, Atlantic City, or Clifton Springs, N. Y., and will likely leave here some time next week.

Discussed Library Appropriation.

Members of the Board of Governors of the Public Library and the finance committee of the Common Council held a conference in Mayor Fisk's office, yesterday, relative to the appropriation for the library the coming year. It has not been stated as to whether the amount would be increased or remain the same as last year.

Strong Reappointment.

Governor Stokes sent to the State Senate yesterday afternoon the nomination of Theodore Strong, of Middlesex county, to succeed himself as a member of the State Board of Assessors. Under Senatorial courtesy, the appointee being a former Senator, the nomination was immediately confirmed by a unanimous vote.

Arwitt Sammark at the Hospital.

Arwitt Sammark, of 316 Lee place, employed as a moulder at the Pond Machine Tool Works, was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, last night, suffering from severe burns about the foot. He was assisting in the making of a casting, when some of the melted iron run over the foot.

—Strictly fresh vegetables and fancy fruits are always to be had at Neuman Brothers'. Their assortment is the largest to be found in the city.

ABANDONED WHEEL HE STOLE FROM CHILDREN

QUEER PRANK OF AN UNIDENTIFIED MAN WITH ADELBERG'S WHEEL.

As the two young children of Hymen Adelberg were riding his bicycle up and down the street before the Credit Clothing Company's place, on East Front street, where Mr. Adelberg is manager, early last night, a strange man asked them for a ride. They allowed him to mount the wheel and he rode off. He did not come back.

Mr. Adelberg waited for a time after his children told him of the occurrence and then he reported the matter to the police. The latter sent out a general alarm for the supposed thief. About two hours later Patrolman Florence McCarthy found a bicycle lying at the curb at Central avenue and Second street, and brought it to the station house. Mr. Adelberg identified it as his. How the man came to abandon the bicycle where he did the police are trying to figure out. It is assumed he was tipsey and took the wheel in repsonse to a drunken notion.

JERSEY SOLONS DINE IN HONOR OF STOKES.

Complimentary Dinner to Governor Last Night by Senator Bloomfield Minch.

Political differences of all kinds were forgotten last evening when the members of the New Jersey State Senate gathered at the Bellevue-Stratford in Philadelphia with United States Senator John Kean and Frank O. Briggs and speaker Edgar E. Lethbridge, of the House, as the guests of President Bloomfield H. Minch, of the Senate, at a dinner complimentary to Governor Edward C. Stokes.

It was a veritable love feast without a discordant note of any kind. Mr. Lethbridge was toastmaster, and toasts were responded to by Governor Stokes, United States Senators Kean and Briggs, State Senators Everett Colby, William J. Bradley and Edward S. Lee.

The others present were Ernest R. Ackerman, J. Boyd Avis, Oliver Brown, Johnson Cornish, Joseph Frelinghuysen, William C. Gebhardt, Robert E. Hand, Thomas J. Hillery, John Hinchcliffe, Barton B. Hutchinson, James Minturn, William Plummer, Jr., Jacob Price, B. Frank Bock, Samuel K. Robbins, George L. Shinn, George Silzer, Edmund L. Wakelee, Abram Klenert, Alfred N. Barber, James W. Trenchard, William C. Murphy, Howard L. Tyler and Secretary to the Governor Edward Gray.

Immediately after the dinner and the responses to the toasts the party left for Trenton on the midnight train, and will be at the Capitol early this morning all ready for the consideration of affairs of State.

NEVIN—McDUFFEE.

Naval Lieut. Takes Descendant of Charlesmagne for His Bride.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Florence Mead McDuffee, of Boston, to John Denison Nevin, lieutenant, U. S. Marine Corps, which took place quietly in New York on Wednesday, March 20. Only the sister of the bride, Miss Alice McDuffee, and Effingham Pinto, the latter of this city, were present. The ceremony took place sooner than expected because of Mr. Nevin being ordered to the Far East.

The couple is well known here, having visited Mrs. William A. Pinto frequently. Mrs. Nevin comes of a famous line of ancestors, including Alfred the Great, Charlesmagne and the Thanes of Sise. Her father is of the well known firm of Jones, McDuffee & Stratton. Mr. Nevin's father is the oldest living Admiral of the U. S. Navy and is a cousin of Ethelbert Nevin, the composer. He is a graduate of Yale, Class '04, Sheffield.

Will Start Whist Tournament.

Plainfield Council, No. 77, Royal Arcanum, will hold a whist tournament at the meeting to be held tomorrow night, after the initiation. About twenty members have signified their intention to enter a duplicate whist tournament which will be commenced at that time. A euchre tournament will also be started at the same time and in addition there will be a pool match, checkers and dominoes.

Engagement Announced.

Captain and Mrs. B. A. Cole, of New Market, announce the engagement of the former's sister, Miss Kate May Cole, formerly of Bayonne, and Frank Broshart, of Dunellen. The wedding will take place shortly. Mr. Broshart is a musician well known in this section.

Frank E. Drake, of Watertown, Conn., is spending a week at the home of his uncle, Charles Prentiss, of Clinton avenue.

Executive Committee Decides P. S. C. Is Not to Be Harassed.

LOOKS INTO COMPLAINTS

Electrician Will See Whether Unsatisfactory Bills Do Not Come From Defective Wiring In Houses.

The executive committee of the Plainfield Protective Association held an enthusiastic meeting at the Casino last night, eight members attending. The session was quite long, and plans for future activities were discussed. Preliminary reports of statements to be made at the annual meeting were received, and the activities of the association were reviewed with satisfaction.

A number of communications were received from people who are dissatisfied with the bills they have been receiving for electric lighting. Mayor Charles J. Fisk, who is a member of the committee, suggested that defective wiring might be at the bottom of the trouble. A. H. Atterbury moved that an electrician be hired to examine the wiring in the houses from where the complaints came. The committee agreed that the association was not in existence to harass the Public Service Corporation, but merely to see that it gave the consumer a square deal. It was recognized that defective wiring, with its consequent leakage, was probably at the bottom of many complaints, so it was decided to have the electrician make his examination before the complaints are acted upon.

The annual meeting of the association will be held on April 15, at the Casino. At that time full reports of the year will be made and officers will be elected. The following nominating committee was named last night: H. W. Beebe, S. St. John McCutchen, W. C. Kinney, F. E. Kirkman and George T. Rogers.

TOURNEY LEADERS GET THREE MORE GAMES

MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF SERIES WITH VAN EMBURGH AND BLATZ.

Gaddis and Dilks, the leaders in the bowling tourney at McLaughlin's, added three more games to their list last night, by taking that many from VanEmburgh and Blatz. The winners put up a bunch of good scores and had plenty of pins to spare in two of the games. Dilks came to the front with an average of 201.1, his figures being 200, 213 and 191. Van Emburgh failed to find the grove in his first game and finished with 120, but surprised himself in the next by getting 234, the highest for the night.

In other tourney games, Leland and Thompson took two from Nash and Skelly and Radin and Ackor turned the same kind of a trick on Mullen and Conklin. In their first try, Mullen and Conklin lost out through the latter missing a one pin spare in the last frame, the first break he made. Leland and Thompson got high team score for the night, a 412, one getting 222 and the other 190.

Gaddis and Dilks are now six games ahead of their nearest opponents, Kiely and Runyon. The latter will roll Meyer and Mack on Friday night and next Tuesday night they meet Woolston and Cunningham, the last games they are scheduled for outside of a few that have been postponed.

APPROPRIATE MONEY FOR THE NEW SCHOOL

BOARD OF SCHOOL ESTIMATE SET $90,000 ASIDE YESTERDAY.

The Board of School Estimate met yesterday afternoon in the mayor's office and appropriated $90,000 for the erection of the proposed new school at Essex street and Darrow avenue. The school is to be built of brick, and on lines of complete fireproofing. It will have twelve rooms and an assembly room.

Certificates of the appropriation will be sent to the school board and the Common Council. The budget will not be available until May, and so nothing will be done in respect of the new school until then. Work on the structure will begin early in the summer.

There is great need for the new school. The Irving School is so crowded that several classes are on half time and the Bryant School, also, is pinched for room. It is estimated that the new school will relieve the pressure all over the city.

WOMEN EARN MONEY FOR CHRISTIAN WORK.

Much Amusement When Contributors Tell How They Made a Dollar.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society, of Trinity Reformed church, held an informal social in the lecture room, yesterday afternoon, the object being for the members to contribute a dollar each to the society's treasury and tell how they earned it. In this way $27 was received. There were $22 given by those present and $5 sent in by members who could not attend. The various ways explained as to how the dollars were earned afforded much amusement. Some of the women pressed their husband's trousers, while other lined their coats, and still others said that they had the dollar for the society because they had not spent it for other things.

Mrs. Edward T. VanWinkle presided in the absence af the president, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parse, and it was she who proposed a novel way to raise money for the society. The scheme she announced was called "A Mile of Pennies," each member pledging to contribute as many pennies toward the mile as possible, and to give at least sixteen pennies a month. If the members can get others to help them so much the better. The scheme was received with much enthusiasm and will be put in effect April 1. The society hopes in this way to raise at least $200. After the meeting yesterday a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served, Mrs. Edward T. VanWinkle, Mrs. Virginia Chickering and Mrs. Edward Cooley being in charge.

HOPE C. E. ELECTION.

Reports for the Year Read at Annual Meeting Last Night.

The Hope chapel Christian Endeavor Society held its annual meeting at the home of Rev. L. R. Howard, last night, and elected the following officers: President, Frank Rimmer; vice president, Hugh Sweeney; financial secretary, Miss Bertha Jones; corresponding secretary, Miss Elsie Rimmer; treasurer, Morris Hunter; chairman of prayer meeting committee, Walter Firstbrook; chairman social committee, Miss Edna Eckert; chairman missionary committee, Donald Mortimer; chairman flower committee, Miss Eunice Eckert.

Reports were read that showed the society had enjoyed a good year and that the prospects for the ensuing twelve months are exceptionally bright. The usual donations were made for church work and the society has a balance on hand. Following the business session the members enjoyed games and an informal programme of music.

Membership Committee Dinner.

The members of the committee in charge of the Y. M. C. A. one-day campaign for membership increase will hold a dinner in the small hall of the association next Monday night. The affair is planned to draw all the members together, and the rest of the evening following the dinner will be devoted to a discussion of plans for the prosecution of the campaign. The dinner will be served by the Women's Auxiliary.

Invited to Dinner.

S. S. Swackhamer hac been invited to attend a Jefferson dinner to be held by the Young Men's Democratic Club of New Brunswick on April 2, as the guest of the club. Mr. Swackhamer expects to attend. James E. Martine will be one of the speakers.

Lecture On Life Saving.

An illustrated lecture on marine wrecking and the work of the lifesavers will be given for the members of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A. and their parents on April 2.

STANBERY WILL FILED DISPOSES OF $80,000

IF GRANDSON DIES BEFORE 21 DEAD SON'S PARENTS-IN LAW INHERIT.

William R. Codington, executor for the estate of William C. Stanbery, offered the will of the latter for probate in the office of Surrogate Parrott, Elizabeth, late yesterday afternoon. The value of the estate is not given, but it is estimated to be about $80,000.

The will first provides that all debts be paid and then the sum of $2,000 is bequeathed to Jane Ryan, who was a servant in the Stanbery household for many years, and $250 is given to Elias Darby, who was also employed by Mr. Stanbery.

The most important provision of the will is that William F. Stanbery, grandson of the deceased, is to have the use and income of the estate until he becomes twenty-one years of age and at that time the entire estate is to come into his possession. In case he should die without issue prior to or after attaining his majority, the estate goes to William R Codington, as trustee, for the use and benefit of Samuel B. Field, his wife and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Field were the parents of Mrs. William R. Stanbery, whose husband was the only son of William C. Stanbery. Since the death of the parents and the grandparent, William F. Stanbery has made his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Field. The use and income from the estate will be used for the boy's education. He is now twelve years of age.

ANDREW COX'S FUNERAL.

Service Conducted in Faith Chapel Attended by Large Gathering.

In the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends that filled Faith chapel, the funeral of Andrew Cox, who died at his home on East Third street, Sunday morning, was held last night. The members of the Bricklayers' Union and Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., to which he belonged, attended in a body.

Rev. A. C. McCrea, pastor of the First M. E. church, was in charge of the service and the customary G. A. R. exercises were also conducted, led by Commander Berg and Chaplain Nathan Pennington. Two selections, "Abide With Me" and "Some Day We'll Understand," were sung by E. E. Runyon.

The floral tributes were numerous and included handsome set pieces from the Bricklayers' Union, Winfield Scott Post, the Women's Relief Corps and the W. C. T. U.

Interment was made this morning at Millstone, the pall bearers being I. L. McVoy, E. E. Townley, H. C. Smith, S. B. Struthers, Edward Vanderweg and Captain William Hand, all members of Winfield Scott Post.

Dwight—Brush.

Invitations have been issued by the Rev. Alfred H. Brush, of New Utrecht, N. Y., for the marriage of his daughter, Miss Margaret Dexter Brush, to Ellsworth E. Dwight, of New York city, in the South Presbyterian church, Morristown, at half-past twelve o'clock on Thursday, April 4. Miss Brush has made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Morris Sutphen, of Morristown, since the death of her mother. She has relatives in this city. Mr. Dwight is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Dwight, of Mt. Morris Park, New York, who resided in this city for a number of years, having their home on Rockview avenue.

Missionary Society Elects.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society, of the First M. E. church, held its annual meeting in Vincent chapel, yesterday afternoon, and elected these officers: President, Mrs. Mary Winter; first vice-president, Mrs. D. E. Davis; second vice-president, Mrs. Nelson Y. Hull; third vice-president, Mrs. A. C. McCrea; secretary, Miss M. B. Sharp; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Maurice McGrath; treasurer, Miss Susie E. Jackson. The reports showed a membership of thirty-two and that during the year $99 was raised for foreign missions, which includes the support of a Bible reader.

All-Day Sewing Meeting.

The Women's Home Missionary Society, of the First Baptist church, held an all-day sewing meeting in the lecture room of the church, yesterday, when several rugs and a quilt were completed. It will not be decided until August just where these things will be sent. At noon luncheon was served under the direction of Mrs. George H. Batchelor and Mrs. S. W. Dunning. Mrs. Harold Serrell and Mrs. J. B. Probasco comprised the committee in charge of the work.

Sesame Club Meeting.

The next meeting of the Sesame Club will be held tomorrow morning at the residence of Mrs. J. H. Doane, 425 East Seventh street.

BUDGET TO BE BIGGER

Amounts For City's Maintenance Total About 15 Per Cent. More.

FOR STREETS $36,000

Fire Department Wants $29,000, An Increase of $4,000—Police Department Seeks the Same Increase.

While the finance committee of the Common Council has not yet completed its labors of making of the annual tax budget which is to be presented at the April meeting on Monday night, enough is known concerning it to show that there will be a substantial increase in the amount of money to be raised this year. Taking three of the most important items—police, fire and streets, it is estimated that the total amounts desired for these departments alone will mean an increase of 15 2-3 per cent. over last year.

Last year the police department was given $22,000 and this year it wants $26,000, an increase of $4,000. This is due to the fact that a 10 per cent. increase was given to the men in the department and four new men have been added to the force. The balance is needed for improvements.

The fire department wants an increase of $4,000 over last year, when it received $25,000. This department also gave the 10 per cent. increase in wages to the firemen and improvements are planned. The poor department received $4,500 last year and it is thought that the same appropriation will be made this year. The street department received $31,000 last year and this year it wants $36,000, an increase of $5,000. It is hoped to extend the macadam this year and the street committee has also other improvements in mind. If the permanent brick pavement for the business part of the city is undertaken that cost will be provided for through the issuance of street improvement bonds. These figures quoted do not include appropriations for the library, Board of Health, Muhlenberg Hospital and to meet the notes issued by the city, as well as the expenses for street lighting, which is sure to be considerable as many additional lights are needed.

The committee will probably have another meeting or two before Monday night before completing the budget. It is the desire of the committee as well as the entire Common Council to keep the expenses down and the tax rate as near the present figures as possible. It is not expected that the increased valuations in the city will come anywhere near off-setting the increased amounts asked for. Of course, under the new assessment law there has been an increase in valuations of certain properties, but as Mayor C. J. Fisk explained in his annual message the system is not what it should be and is far from being satisfactory.

CHAMPION BAD BOY.

14-year-old Clubs Mother, Holds Up and Robs Brother.

The champion bad boy of Westfield is George Boffer, 14 years old, son of Charles Boffer, of Clark street. Yesterday morning he cut his mother over the eye with a club, and shortly afterward held up 7-year-old Kenneth Keegan, grandson of Deputy Sheriff John M. Marsh, and robbed him of 25 cents.

He was taken to the police station and his father was notified. Mr. Boffer said that the lad was incorrigible and that he would put him in the care of a relative in New York who would endeavor to discipline the wickedness out of him.

Col. John Dietrich Stricken.

Col. John Dietrich, of Arlington avenue, one of the best known Friends in the country, being identified with one of the oldest families, suffered a paralytic stroke on Monday, his entire left side being affected. He is confined to his bed and is under the care of Dr. Carman. Today he is reported as being slightly improved. Col. Dietrich is eighty-six years old and owing to his advance age his chances for recovery are not so favorable.

Dan S. Roberts Condition.

The condition of former Councilman Dan S. Roberts, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, continues to remain the same. Previous to the time the present trouble became manifest, he was possessed of a strong constitution despite his years and it has enabled him to withstand the inroads of the malady.

The Home Mission Study Class of the Christian church will meet tonight. Tomorrow night the young men of the church will meet for the formation of a club.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

NERVOUSNESS.

Nervousness makes people miserable, blue, and unhappy. They think something terrible is going to happen. At night they toss and worry and are not rested. They tire easily and havn't much energy. They think many things are the matter with them---Consumption, Kidney trouble, or twenty other diseases. It's just stomach trouble, nothing else in the world. Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape in three weeks. I know this because I've seen it tried a thousand times. Then all nervousness will disappear. I know this too, because I've seen it happen a thousand times. Here's a letter I got the other day:

MRS. W. J. SCHAUKER.

"My system was badly run down and my stomach and nerves in an awful shape. I could not digest my food, was always tired and would often feel faint and dizzy."

"I had heard so much of your New Discovery medicine that I began taking it. Relief and strength and happiness were found in the very first bottle and the benefit I have received from it has been truly wonderful. I am no longer nervous, my appetite and digestion are good and I eat everything and sleep well." Mrs. W. J. Schaurer, 220 Guthrie St., Louisville, Ky.

We sell Cooper's New Discovery. It makes tired, worn out, nervous people happy.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

A business meeting of the baseball club was held last night, and the prospects for the season were thoroughly discussed. Manager Johnston expects to have the team begin spring practice within a week or two if the weather will permit. The available timber the club has should give the 'Plains as strong a lineup in the Inter-City League as any of the clubs.

A horse attached to H. C. Myers' delivery wagon created some excitement in town yesterday afternoon, by taking a notion to return to the store before the final delivery was made. The animal started from the Henderson house on Union avenue and ran all the way into town without breaking even a strap on the harness.

Township Committeeman Theodore Bruchmann has started the work of repairing the Park avenue sidewalk. A top dressing of crushed stone has been spread and when rolled and packed will make a decided improvement in the walking.

Mrs. Otto Peterson, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Clark, of Prospect avenue, has returned to her home in Newark.

Augustus L. Frentz and daughter, Miss Jennie, who have been spending the winter with relatives in Georgia, arrived home today.

Fanwood Council, R. A., held its regular meeting last night in the library rooms.

William Spiegel, of Bartle avenue, has been entertaining out of town friends.

TO THE PUBLIC!

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company offer for subscription its stock in amounts to suit purchasers from $25 upward.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of erecting a dam to accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, for the purpose of ice cutting, and also erecting houses for storing the same. The lake thus formed will be approximately a mile long and a quarter of a mile at its widest part, and will yield a large quantity of ice.

The company, under the management of a Board of able Directors, will endeavor to reduce the cost of construction, maintenance, etc., to a minimum, and thus be able to fill the demand of the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the remainder of the ice to outside markets at prices which will yield large profits.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors to sell the shares of the capital stock of the Company to residents of Plainfield, North Plainfield and vicinity, and thus allow them the privilege of sharing in the profits of the Company in the shape of dividends at the end of each year. To place this plan within the reach of all consumers of ice and to carry out the idea of a mutual Company, the Company will issue its stock in $25 shares.

As the Company is not to issue any bonds against its property it is obvious that each and all share holders will be doubly secured and will have first claim on the property and the works, the same being free and clear in every respect, and further are assured against loss in each step that the Company takes in bringing the project to completion as follows: First. The Company has already received offers for lake site at a considerable advance on the price that the stockholders will pay for it.

Second. The price paid for building dam will be over four times secured by the lake thus formed, a body of pure water of this size within so short a distance of New York being extremely valuable.

Third. Money expended for ice houses will complete the plant. The completed plant such as is proposed to erect should be worth on conservative estimation three times the total capitalization of the Company.

In securing the Directors of this Company, special effort was taken to get men of financial standing and ability, of character and good repute; men not only at the head of different prosperous corporations but also men holding public respect and confidence. This was done as the Company intends to be a People's Company, and, therefore, wishes to be directed by men of the people and by the people themselves.

The officers of the Company are:

President, Mr. Henry C. Wicker, Treasurer and Secretary of the Nassau Bond Company.

Vice-President, Mr. Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

Treasurer, Mr. J. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Secretary, Mr. John J. Lordan, a Lawyer in New York City.

The Directors of the Company are:

Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

J. F. MacDonald, Director of City National Bank.

H. C. Wicker, Secretary and Treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company.

C. M. Wicker, President of the Nassau Bond Company.

E. G. F. du Mazuel, President of the Consolidated Engineering Company of America.

Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock of the Company at the office of Mr. W. dela R. Anderson, 208 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., at which offices subscription blanks and all detailed information relative to the above may be obtained.

The Company has chosen a local bank in which all funds, securities and moneys are to be deposited and through which all the Company's business is to be done.

OPEN 8:30 A. M., CLOSE 5:30 P. M. UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE. SATURDAY 10 P. M.

Bewitching Easter Gowns.

NEW JERSEY'S GRANDEST DISPLAY.

It is difficult to be modest and to keep from boasting when telling about the truly magnificent display of Springtime Frocks now on exhibition here. It is a fashion show of surpassing interest, embracing as it does authoritative models of gowns for evening wear, for afternoon social affairs, and for ordinary carriage or street wear, and in a variety of styles really wonderful.

Why! there seems no end to the variations of treatment which can be given the season's modes.

Few stores in New York show as great a variety of suits and dresses as are seen here, and we strongly urge the women of New Jersey to see this splendid collection if only that they may make an intelligent comparison with the shows made in New York.

A new Jumper Suit with Jacket, just in, is attracting much attention. It is made of Chiffon Cloth in white and black stripes with wide bands of taffeta around the kimono sleeves, braided taffeta straps caught with brass buttons ornamenting the front. There is a wide band of taffeta around the skirt which is nicely plaited. The Gibson Jacket is of black chiffon taffeta with Persian trimming over lace. It has an Oriental lace collar and is prettily trimmed with braid and taffeta ties; a particularly effective suit; priced at $89.50.

A charming Gown of Light Blue Chiffon Voile is made in the fashionable kimono style, is heavily embroidered with fine braid dotted with tiny yellow French knots with panels in front of Baby Irish lace. The sleeves are very pretty, made of chiffon and edged with lace, and there is russet brown trimming about the collar and vest. The skirt is nicely plaited with three graduated tucks and is made over white taffeta. Truly a beautiful creation that every woman will admire and covet. Price $98.00.

One of the Opening Gowns that was much admired is this one of Brown Dotted Net made over chiffon and taffeta, trimmed with brown velvet bands. The waist has a yoke of heavy Irish lace, bands of velvet forming the yoke. There is a ruffled shoulder falling over the sleeves, and the sleeves are prettily touched with lace and velvet bows. The front of the bodice is beautified with graduated rows of velvet and exquisitely trimmed with lace and velvet. The skirt is nicely plaited, has three narrow bands and one wide band of velvet close to the bottom. The price of this gown is $75.00.

A pretty Three-Piece Suit—smart looking yet very simple and clean-cut, is made of Plaid Voile in Brown and Green over silk. The Eton Jacket is trimmed with fancy buttons and edged with lace and Persian trimming. Modestly priced at..... $45.00

Very pretty Suits in Fancy Eton, Gibson, Three-Button, Cutaway Coat and Vest Effects of Voile over silk and of fancy Cheviot and Panama, with trimmings of braid and taffeta, are here at..... $39.50

Box Coat, Cutaway Coat and Eton Suits of Panama, Imported Plaids, Overplaids and Plain Cheviots, prettily trimmed with braid, taffeta and tailored straps, lined with taffeta, may be had at..... $29.50

Smart Cutaway Coat Suits of fine Serge in black, blue and brown, are here at..... $25.50

Broadcloth Suits, Fancy Plaids and Checks, and black and brown Panamas and Serges in Tight-fitting, Semi-fitting and Box Coat effects are here at..... $22.50

Smart Broadcloth Suits in Stripes, Plaids and Overplaids, Eton Coat effects, prettily trimmed with taffeta and fancy braids are offered at the unusual price of..... $16.50

Suits of Black or Blue Panama in the most stylish models—Semi-fitted Jackets, trimmed with braid and Fancy Vest effect, are here for as little as..... $12.98

White Waists, Dainty Models, worth 3.98, at $2

The story is briefly told in the headlines. These White Waists are of Batiste, very soft and fine with embroidery round the entire front with insertions of lace and embroidery; collars and sleeves lace trimmed; truly beautiful styles which look to be worth a great deal more money than you will have to pay us for them; sizes 34 to 44; valued easily $3.98; to be sold at..... $2.00

Really Pretty Easter Hats.

More Trimmed Hats are now on view than at any time since opening day. Our forces have been steadily at work and have introduced many new and novel things. There are still very elaborate hats running to as high as $55 and there are many beauties in the $12.50 class and the $9.75 collection and in the $7.75 group. You don't have to pay much unless you choose. Of course the more exclusive hats and the hats made of the finer materials and the imported products cost in proportion to their quality, novelty and beauty.

Trimmed Hats in very pretty shapes and colors in a variety of styles most amazing, may be had here for as little as $4.75, and at this price we sell you hats that in almost any other store would cost you double the money. We know of stores selling hats no better for as much as $10. It will be worth your while to see these if you want a hat for dress for general wear.

Ready-to-Wear Mushroom Hats, prettily trimmed with silk, velvet, quills and pompons in many pretty shapes; values $2.95; priced special at..... $2.45

Tailored Ready-to-Wear Hats of fancy braids; stylishly trimmed, at $1.95, $2.45, $3.95, up to $5.95.

Untrimmed Hats of fancy chip, in all wanted shapes and colors including navy, champagne, brown, gray, black and white; value $1.69; selling here at..... .98

Satin and Chip Hats in 10 of the season's best shapes in black, navy, brown, champagne and burnt; regularly $1.87; selling at.. $1.69

Imitation Hair Hats in black only, in fifteen of the most desirable shapes; $1.49 value at..... .98

Fancy Chip Flats, interwoven with fancy lace braid, in white, black, brown, maize and navy; $1.49 value at..... .95

Fine June Rose Half Wreaths with foliage; largely used for trimming children's hats; Pink and Jack Roses; should sell at 87c; marked at..... .69

Large Clusters of Half Blown Roses with foliage in pink, lavender, tea and Jack; the 69c kind for..... .49

Natural Wings, Marabout combinations in all the newest shades; value 87c, at..... .69

We carry without doubt the most complete line of Untrimmed Hats in Newark.

GERMS CAUSE DYSPEPSIA

IF YOU DON'T KILL THE DISEASE GERMS THEY WILL KILL YOU. PEPSOIDS DRIVE THE GERMS OUT OF THE STOMACH AND REBUILDS IT. WRITE FOR A FULL SIZED BOTTLE—FREE.

A noted physician of Pittsburg, Pa., in a recent letter to Dr. Oidman says:

"In your prescription known as 'Pepsoids' you have given the medical world the greatest and most valued discovery in medicine of the present century. You have at last solved the problem that has baffled the skill of the best physicians of recent times, how to cure permanently all Acute or Chronic Stomach Diseases known as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Catarrh of the Stomach and Digestive Weakness. I have used your prescription, 'Pepsoids,' in hundreds of cases without a single failure. I attribute the success of your treatment mainly to the fact that the disease germs of the stomach cannot resist Pepsoids. Your theory that most Stomach Diseases are brought about by multitudes of nefarious disease-breeding germs must be correct, judging from the remarkable results attained from the use of your 'Pepsoids.' I consider 'Pepsoids' the best and most valuable remedy yet discovered for the treatment of stubborn stomach ailments."

Pepsoids cure Dyspepsia and all Stomach Diseases, in a new way, by repairing the wornout lining of the Stomach and at the same time, destroy all disease-breeding germs. Dyspepsia and the worst forms of Stomach Disorders once cured in this way never returns.

Pepsoids are sold at drug stores at 50c. a bottle on an absolute guarantee or money refunded.

If you have not used Pepsoids before, we will send you a 50-cent bottle FREE. Send us your name and address and you will receive promptly, a full sized bottle.

You do not obligate yourself to pay a cent. All we ask, after Pepsoids have cured or greatly benefitted you is, that you recommend Pepsoids to your friends. Try Pepsoids to-day—they will cure you. The Vio Chemical Co., Chicago, Ill. 9

In the "small," right over the hips?

That's the home of backache.

It's caused by sick kidneys.

Plainfield people endorse this. Read a case of it:

Adolph Thomas, machinist, living at 206 Spooner avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I have suffered with a most severe form of rheumatism. Having heard that Doan's Kidney Pills were good for rheumatic troubles arising from the kidneys I got a supply at Randolph's drug store and began using them. I have taken in all three boxes of this remedy and must say that they have acted like a charm in my case, and I have been relieved of the pains that troubled me."

CIVIL SERVICE PASSED IN THE STATE SENATE.

Upper House Puts Through Colby Measure—Three Against It and Eleven for It.

Senator Colby got his Civil Service bill through the Senate at Trenton yesterday after a long debate.

Senator Avis offered an amendment, which was adopted, exempting physicians in State institutions from the act. The bill applies to employees in first class cities, counties and the State service. It does not include officers elected or personal appointments. School teachers and laborers are also exempted from its provisions. The bill creates a commission of three members to be appointed by the Governor, with terms of six years. Senator Colby spoke for the bill, and said it had been drafted by the New Jersey Civil Service League.

Senator Frelinghuysen opposed the bill. He said it gave the commission too much power and that it costs too much, giving an estimate of $50,000 a year. He also said that New Jersey did not need civil service.

Senator Lee alluded to the society back of the bill as a "parlor society."

Senator Minturn spoke in favor of the bill. He said that Aaron Burr was the first to advocate the spoils system. He alluded to the buttonholing of Senators for the removal of men from office simply because of political exigencies.

Senator Gebhardt also spoke in favor of the bill.

Senator Hillery, chairman of the Civil Service Committee, favored it. He expressed a few doubts as to the need for the bill just at this time, but said that he would vote for it. The vote was as follows:

Ayes—Ackerman, Avis, Bradley, Brown, Colby, Cornish, Gebhardt, Hillery, Hinchliffe, Hutchinson, Lee, Minch, Minturn, Plummer, Price, Robbins, Silzer, Wakelee—18.

Nays—Frelinghuysen, Hand, Shinn—3.

OUGHT TO HAVE KNOWN ABOUT JERSEY LIGHTNING.

Man Intoxicated by One Drink of Applejack Advised by Court to Mount Water Wagon.

Isaac Hopper, sixty years old, of Wykoff, Morris county, was arraigned yesterday before Justice Connell in Belleville on a charge of being drunk. He was taking a nap on the coping of the Second River bridge in Washington street, and in danger of falling to the rocks below when he was taken into custody.

"I had only one drink of applejack," he explained, "and it knocked me out. If I had known what the stuff would do to me I wouldn't have touched it."

Justice Connell fined him $3 after asking him how long he had lived in New Jersey. "All my life," came the reply.

"Well, you ought to know the effects of Jersey lightning," the Magistrate responded, "especially when you come from Morris county. You had better stick to the water wagon hereafter."

In Muddle on Liquor.

Trenton, March 27.—A caucus by Democratic Legislators did not materalize yesterday as expected. It is said that they are hopelessly muddled on the liquor question as well as on the proposition to change the taxing of railroad main stem to local assessors at local rates for local purposes. After being amended so that prize fights can take place only in physical culture schools incorporated at the present time, the Hahn bill allowing limited-round contests with eight-ounce gloves passed the House.

Spring Election Act Passed.

Trenton, March 27.—After being defeated in the morning, the Spring Election act passed the House yesterday afternoon. This is the measure expected to divorce State from local issues.

ONE SIDE OF KING'S DAUGHTERS WORK HERE

UNDERTAKINGS OF A WORTHY ORGANIZATION—PLAN "FLORAL FETE."

About eighteen months ago a question was agitating the minds of some of Plainfield's King's Daughters. Did we want a Day Nursery? Was there really need for it? Finally, on January 22, 1906, the Nursery was started at 444 West Third street, the City Union renting the house and employing a Matron to look after the children. It prospered from the first. Mothers or fathers would leave the children there on their way to work, and call for them on their way home. The older children would go to school but would come back to the Nursery when school was over. The charge for each child was five cents a day and in exchange for this the child got good care and two square meals. Dinner now consists of nourishing soups, or beans, or meat stews with vegetables, and plenty of good bread. For supper they have cereals and milk. The children are as a rule good and contented and have fine times playing together. Before the Nursery was started many mothers who would work, could not, because there was no one at home to leave the children with, or else they would have to lock them up in their rooms, leaving food for their dinner within reach, and no doubt would do a lot of worrying during the day about them. Now all this is changed. The child or children, in some cases, as many as seven from one family, can be left at the Nursery and the mother go to her work with a light heart, feeling sure that all will be well During the year ending January 22, 1907, 3,356 children were taken care of. The largest number for one day was 29, and during the month of December 423 were looked after. They now have a woman in the kitchen to help the Matron, and money, or rather the lack of it is the only thing that bothers us. One baby stayed at the Nursery five weeks, while her mother was ill in a hospital. What a comfort it must have been for that mother to know that her child was being well cared for both day and night. Other children have been there for a night or two, or longer, when there have been good reasons why they could not go home. We think if the working mothers of Plainfield could add their word, they would express nothing but gratitude to the City Union for opening the Nursery.

Last May the Union had a very good offer from the owner of the property to buy the Nursery building. As the City Union, in order to hold property, would have to be incorporated, papers were drawn up and this was done. The sum of six hundred dollars was raised and paid when the deed was passed, the owner taking a mortgage of two thousand dollars for the balance, one thousand dollars becoming due in one year. In order to meet this obligation, due next May, The King's Daughters of Plainfield have united in a "Floral Fete" to be given in the Casino, on the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth of April. Each circle has a booth and each booth will be decorated with a flower chosen by the circle. If more than one thousand dollars is raised the surplus will be used in the work carried on by the City Union.

There is one thing very much needed in the Nursery, and that is a bath-room. Most of the children are washed every day, and how much better it would be if they could have a warm bath in a tub instead of a sponge bath, and how much easier for the Matron, with no water to carry or empty. On the Treasurer's table at the fete will be a mite box, and all contributions will go toward a bath-room. Every little counts, if it were not for the pennies there would be no dollars, and all donations, no matter how small, will be gratefully received.

Finally, your kind consideration and co-operation is asked to help make this fete a great success, for what must appeal to the heart of every man and woman because it helps the children, the Day Nursery.

Graft on Woman of 106.

Philadelphia, March 27.—Skin grafting in a remarkable case was performed yesterday in the Hahnemann Hospital when two of the resident physicians gave portions of cuticle to Mrs. Sarah Flannery, who was badly burned several months ago. Mrs. Flannery, who is 106 years old, was taken to the hospital suffering from burns covering the greater part of her body. The doctors had but little hope of her recovery. She rallied from the shock, however, and new skin began to grow with the exception of a spot as big as the palm of a man's hand. This place did not heal fast enough, and the doctors decided to resort to skin grafting. Two of them bared their arms, and skin was taken from them and placed on the woman. It will take at least six days for the psysicians to know whether the operation has been successful.

LITERARY.

Is there a more independent position in this world than that of a childless widow left with just enough money for her not to have to think about it? "Love's Undertow," the complete novelette in Lippincott's April number, by Anna A. Rogers, tells the story of such a woman. Interest is divided between the brainy, well-balanced and womanly widow, and her Amazon girl friend "Dione," who refuses to acknowledge that she loves a young physician because she is at outs with "things as they are" relating to the sex question. The reasons for her captiulation to the cause of love, are ingenious and by no means overdrawn. Though the author declares in the first paragraph of this fascinating tale that the foundation of Mrs. De Ro's second marriage was laid during the lifetime of her first husband, the reader is kept guessing which of four men is to carry off the prize.

What promises to be another of Everybody's notable series is begun in the April number under the title of "Romances of Success." James J. Hill is the hero of the first romance—a fascinating life-story of the man whose intelligence and driving power have lifted him to the pinnacle of railroad achievement. Carl Snyder goes to the bottom in a study of our daily railroad wreck horror. In "Growing Railway Death Roll: Who Is Responsible?" he answers his own question, sparing no one, and he offers a remedy—in fact three remedies, all efficacious and practicable.

That the railroad interests of the country have long had a stranglehold on the Government, issuing their orders to the highest authorities without fear of disobedience, is the assertion made by Gilson Gardner in Success Magazine for April. The representatives of the railroad sit in Congress and have been prominent in the national conventions of both parties. In this second article of his series on "The Third House." Mr. Gardner devotes his attention to the railroad lobby at Washington, outlining the work of some of the leading lobbyists and describing the expensive and highly-organizeld campaigns conducted against the Rate Bill and other measures proposed in behalf of the people.

Mrs. L. W. Randolph, of Myrtle avenue, has recovered from an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Fred Canfield, of Somerville, has been visiting relatives in town for a few days.

Mrs. George Schaefer, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Somerville, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Manchester, of Lafayette place.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

The sale of seats for the return engagement of Henry B. Harris' production of Charles Klein's drama of financial and political life, "The Lion and the Mouse," has been very large. It will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre Friday night. This will be an event of unusual interest to all playgoers, in view of the fact that Plainfield had the honor of witnessing a previous performance of this great play last fall. The stamp of approval which the patrons of the Lyceum has placed upon the play has been repeated throughout the country, and it is now being played the second year in New York. It had a run of eight months in Chicago, and the same length of time in Boston.

One of the chief reasons for the long successful career of "The Sultan of Sulu," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night, is the splendid work of its chorus. The Kansas City Star of recent date in commenting on this feature says: "But it was the men and women of the chorus who left the happiest recollection. The music they sent across the footlights was more than musical comedy music. Their ensembles sang true every time and their marches showed days of hard work. Yes, the chorus of the 'Sultan of Sulu' is one of the best we have had. It was a relief to see an entertainment in this class come back in its second or third season with fresh and new looking costumes, and adequate scenic environment. Mr. Corey has kept the piece up to a high standard, and it is worthy of patronage, for it is one of the really good entertainments of the year."

The greatest musical treat Plainfield has had for many years will be the concerts of the United States Marine Band of Washington, which, under the auspices of the local Elks, will appear at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday afternoon and night. Only those who have heard the United States Marine Band under its present leader, Lieutenant William H. Santelmann, can fully appreciate the treat that has been secured for lovers of good band music by the Elks. Fewer still can appreciate the amount of dogged persistence necessary on the part of its manager, Frank Gerth, to obtain a leave of five weeks for the present tour. It is written in the gospel of band men that when a band is good, it should be popular and that when it is popular it is never off tour. Excepting in the instance of the United States Marine Band, this rule holds. For the wider the reputation of the century old band spreads, the closer the government compels it to stay in Washington and attend to its business there.

Why She Turned Vegetarian.

An English countess who has many American friends recently became a vegetarian. The other day in a letter to New York she accounted for her abandonment of flesh food.

"Not long ago," she wrote, "I visited a slaughter house.

"I can't tell you how everything was stained deep with blood; how there arose from the drenched, dark floors the peculiar odor of blood.

"As I was hurrying away three beautiful lambs were led in by a man with a long, shining knife. Filled with pity and indignation, I said:

"'How can you be so cruel as to put those innocent little lambs to death?'

"'Why, madam,' said the man, 'you wouldn't eat them alive, would you?'"

THE PLUM TREE

BY DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS

AUTHOR OF THE COST. THE DELUGE. Etc.

COPYRIGHTED 1905 BY BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY.

"But you are the party," was my reply. At the time I was not conscious that I had thus easily dropped down among the hide-scratchers. I assured myself that I was simply stating the truth and ignored the fact that telling the truth can be the most degrading sycophancy, and the subtlest and for that reason the most shameless, lying.

"Well, I guess I've got a little something to say about the party," he concluded. "Us young fellows that are active in politics like to see young fellows pushed to the front. A good many of us boys ain't stuck on Ben Cass—he's too stuck on himself. He's getting out of touch with the common people, and is boot-licking in with the swells up town. So when I heard you wanted the nomination for prosecutor, I told Buck to trot you round and let us look you over. Good party man?"

"Yes—and my father and grandfather before me."

"No reform germs in your system?"

I laughed—I was really amused, such a relief was it to see a gleam of pleasantry in that pernicious mass. "I'm not better than my party," said I, "and I don't desert it just because it doesn't happen to do everything according to my notions."

"That's right," said Dominick, falling naturally into the role of political schoolmaster. "There ain't no government without responsibility, and there ain't no responsibility without organization, and there ain't no organization without men willing to sink their differences." He paused.

I looked my admiration—I was grateful to him for this chance to think him an intellect. Who likes to admit that he bows before a mere brute? The compulsory courtiers of a deputy may possibly and in part tell the truth about him, after they are safe; but was there ever a voluntary courtier whose opinion of his monarch could be believed? The more distinguished the courtier

"Well, Young Fellow, What Can I Do for You?"

the greater his necessity to exaggerate his royal master—or mistress—to others and to himself.

Dominick forged on: "Somebody's got to lead, and the leader's got to be obeyed. Otherwise what becomes of his party? Why, it goes to hell, and we've got anarchy."

This was terse, pointed, plausible—the stereotyped "machine" argument. I nodded emphatically.

"Ben Cass" he proceeded, "believes in discipline and organization and leadership only when they've elected him to a fat-job. He wants to use the party, but when the party wants service in return, up goes Mr. Cass' snout and tail, and off he lopes. He's what I call a cast iron—" I shall omit the vigorous phrase wherein he summarized Cass. His vocabulary was not large; he therefore frequently resorted to the garbage barrel and the muck heap for missiles.

I showed in my face my scorn for the Cass sort of selfishness and insubordination. "The leader has all the strings in his hand," said I. "He's the only one who can judge what must be done. He must be trusted and obeyed."

"I see you've got the right stuff in you, young man," said Dominick, heartily. "So you want the job?"

I hesitated—I was thinking of him, of his bestial tyranny, and of my self-respect unsullied, but also untempted theretofore.

He scowled. "Do you or don't you?"

"Yes," said I—I was thinking of the debts and mother and Betty. "Yes, indeed; I'd esteem it a great honor, and I'd be grateful to you." If I had thrust myself over-head into a sewer I should have felt less vile than I did as my fears and longings uttered those degrading words.

He grunted. "Well, we'll see. Tell the boys at the other table to cobe back." He nodded a dismissal and gave me that moist, strong grip again.

As I went toward the other table each man there had a hand round his glass in readiness for the message of recall. I mentally called the roll—wealth, respectability, honor, all on their knees before Dominick, each with his eye upon the branch of the plum tree that bore the kind of fruit he fancied. And I wondered how they felt inside—for I was then ignorant of the great foundation truth of practical ethics, that a man's conscience is not the producer but the product of his career.

Fessenden accompanied me to the door. "The old man is in a hell of a humor to-night" said he. "His wife's caught on to a little game he's been up to, and she's the only human being he's afraid of. She came in here, one night, and led him out by the ear. What a fool a man is to marry when there's a chance of running into a mess like that! But—you made a hit with him. Besides, he needs you. Your family—" Buck checked himself, feeling that drink was making him voluble.

"He's a strong man, isn't he?" said I; "a born leader."

"Middle-weight champion in his day," replied Fessenden. "He can still knock out anybody in the organization in one round."

"Good night, and thank you," said I. So I went my way, not elated, but utterly depressed—more than depressed when I won the first case in which I knew my client's opponent was in the right and had lost only because I outgeneraled his stupid lawyer. I was, like most of the sons and daughters of the vigorous families of the earnest, deeply religious early-west, an idealist by inheritance and by training; but I suppose any young man, however practical, must feel a shock when he begins those compromises between theoretical and practical right which are part of the daily routine of active life, and without which active life is impossible.

Good Music.

Everybody thoroughly enjoys good music. With the melody stops on the Great Hallet & Davis Playerpiano, permitting individual accentuation of notes or runs at will anyone in an hour's time can produce "good music."

Other well known player pianos feature special devices which our melody stops include.

The Melody Stops in the Hallet & Davis Playerpiano are a most remarkable development in playerpiano construction.

We ask you to come and play it yourself. We'll leave it to your judgment if we have not the best player-piano made. Then, there's a saving in the price, too. A fine library of music goes with each player.

The purchase of such an instrument would bring added joys to your home life. Would educate in the best music; entertain the family and friends alike. Why not look into this now? Free concerts daily.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Junior League of the First M. E. church will meet in Vincent chapel this afternoon.

There will be baptism at the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday night in connection with the Easter services.

The Rev. A. C. McCrea's class will meet at the parsonage, 610 Central avenue, Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The work of improvements at the First Baptist church whereby extra class rooms for the Sunday-school will be provided, will be started April 1.

There will be the election of officers, together with the presentation of reports and other business at the annual meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church, tonight.

Miss Louella C. Harris, soprano; Miss Gertrude Hinz, contralto, and Howard M. Case, organist, will have charge of the special Easter music at Faith chapel Sunday night.

The annual all-day meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist church will be held at the church on Sunday, April 7, when officers will be elected and reports presented by all the societies.

Deacons will be elected, reports presented and the question of holding communion services every month decided at the annual business meeting of the First Baptist church tonight.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Officers will be elected and reports presented.

The mission work at the Hunter Avenue Tabernacle is progressing favorably under the direction of W. C. Leek, Fred Lounsbury, Jr., and Robert Love. It is expected that later on the Christian Endeavor Union will take charge of the mission and conduct the work.

The choir of the First Baptist church will give a Lenten musical service at the church tomorrow night to which the public is invited. "The Last Seven Words," by Dubois, and Gounod's "Messe Solonnelle," will be given, assisted by the Schill String Quartette and a harpist. Howard M. Case, organist, will be in charge.

A prayer and conference service, entitled "In Committee of the Whole for the Good of the Order," will be held at the First Baptist church, tonight, after the business meeting. It is intended to receive helpful suggestions which might tend to make for the improvement of the church life in spirit or methods. There will be several two-minute talks and papers.

Elaborate plans have been made by the authorities of the Protestant Episcopal church to raise $1,750,000 for missions as a thank offering for three hundred years of Christianity in America. The general convention of the denomination meets this year in Richmond, and it was in Jamestown, on Virginia soil, that the first English settlement in America was made, in 1607. It is proposed that the fund be presented at the general convention. The thank offering is to be used for church extension. The bulk of it is demanded outside of the home field, in China, Japan, Mexico, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and elsewhere. The work is being undertaken by a central committee, which is acting under resolution of the general convention. The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer, coadjutor bishop of New York, is chairman; George G. Thomas, of Philadelphia, is treasurer; George W. Pepper, of Philadelphia, is secretary, while the Rev. H. R. Hulse, of No. 101 Lawrence street, New York, is general secretary.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church has elected these officers for the coming year: President, Fred. C. Lounsbury, Jr.; vice president, Miss Beatrice Miner; recording secretary, Stanley Karner; corresponding secretary, Miss Mabel Conover; treasurer, George Ballantyne. These committees have also been appointed: Lookout—Miss Leah Hammond, chairman; Miss Lizzie Wilcox, Miss Rita Meeker, Mrs. Ogden Meeker, Edward Burroughs, Arthur Dunning and Miss Sarah Hopewell. Prayer meeting—A. V. Searing, Jr., chairman; Miss Bertha Wilcox, Miss Mabel Conover, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hummer. Missionary—Mrs. George Ballantyne, chairman; Miss Beatrice Miner, Miss Marion Englehardt, Miss Mamie Mehl, Miss Helen Burroughs, Miss Anna Korff, Rev. C. E. Herring. Social and music—Miss Cornelia Lounsbury, chairman; Miss Winifred Hammond, Miss Bertha Hill, Miss Susie Farland, Miss Anna Hopewell, Miss Barbara Peacock, Miss Beatrice Miner, Wilbur Dunning, Stanley Karner. Flower and visiting—Mrs. John S. Johnston, chairman; Miss Ricker, Miss Winifred Hammond, John S. Johnston. The society besides contributing $50 to home and foreign mission work, has a balance on hand of $40.

Miss Mary Judson, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is visiting her brother, John Judson, of John street.

Mrs. A. M. McKee, of Westervelt avenue, who has been visiting relatives in Worcester, Mass., since the first of the year, has returned home.

C. W. Merrill, who has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Lehigh and Susquehanna Division of the New Jersey Central, is a son of F. W. Merrill, of Carlton avenue.

DIAMOND DUST.

The ghost of what-happened-in-the-past has been out and about Westfield. It wore a spring overcoat, eye-glasses and smoked a pipe. With a gum-shoe secrecy it had been whispered about the down-the-line real estate boom that a meeting was to be held to warm up the old-time sport-for-sport's sake spirit in baseball. The ghost was in with the other seekers for information and the curiosity of the corners was boosted a notch by the appearance of "Old Hoss" George Mallen also wearing a spring overcoat and a smile, not a mobile.

The dialogue between the ghost, George and the curious started a trifle jerky, but ironed out into—"Lackawanna League." "They want Westfield." "Plainfield? Well! They thought enough of the proposition to refer it to a lunacy commission and their chance of real ball couldn't be traded for a meal at Timbo's." "Say! We were going some for five years and would have kept the old gait if Merity hadn't dealt the cards face up." This line of talk was enough to bring out the real baseball itch and by the time Jaky Wall closed up his news-stand there were enough enthusiasts about to fill the bleachers. The meeting place was located and the ghost, Mallen and the crowd had a real old-time fan-fest which got so far as to agree that the Westfield team of 1907 would wear cream suits trimmed with green.

The team:—that's the easy part of it. It was brought out that the real reason Hal Chase is backing against the fence with the New York Americans is that one Sunday last summer Hall played at Elizabeth with the permission of his manager. The National agreement, (where have we heard of this before?) somehow caused Hal to be fined $100 for the infraction of the agreement and Hal won't sign this year until that penalty is refunded. Again Hal has a fiancee living at Bayonne and she dislikes professional ball of the big league variety and would love Hal just as well if he played Saturdays at Westfield. "Red" Pastor is available. Seattle drafted him from Lynn, Mass., and as Seattle is a long way from Hoboken and "Red" is frugal who knows. "Red" Waller secured his release from Bridgeport and has signed with Wilmington, of the Tri-State League, but "Red" has signed lots heretofore.

Recreation Park still holds its own as a beautiful spot and contrary to reports the team of 1905 did not injure any of the fence boards. Somehow Saturday nights' enthusiasm wasn't of the variety that required soaking in a pail of water before the match was applied. It went off with a loud bang and before the butcher shops closed it was all over town and will reach farther preparatory to a permanent organization of affairs which will be effected next Saturday night at a meeting to be held at Gale's Clubhouse.

Before another week, it is expected, the teams of the intercity league will be out for practise. All the combinations are getting ready.

George E. Firstbrook, of Grant avenue, who is a sporting writer on the Newark News, is at Lakewood for the purpose of sending reports of the training trip of the Newark Eastern league and baseball team to the News.

Smith's Contract.

Philip Smith will pitch for the Atlantic League Elizabeth team if the contract he has submitted to Manager Neubeck is signed by the management. Smith, in other words, will sign the contract he has prepared if the club signs it. Manager Neubeck has said that he intends to signs.

BASKETBALL.

The North Plainfield High School basketball five will play an alumni five at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Primary Bill Defeated.

Trenton, March 27.—The Colby Direct Primary bill was defeated after a spirited debate in the Senate. Colby stated that under his bill bossism in New Jersey would cease. Senator Hillery answered that bossism in its worst form existed in Wisconsin, where the Colby Direct Primary act was law.

BOY OF 13 DIES AFTER FIGHT WITH HIS CHUM.

Morris County Prosecutor Orders Coroner to Hold an Inquest.

Morristown, March 27.—After a fist fight with another lad, Edgar Carr, 13 years old, is dead at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Carr, of Water street. The boy got into a fight a few days ago with a lad who lives near him in the Collinsville section of Morristown.

Young Carr was whipped by his adversary and went home and soon became very ill. The physicians who were called diagonosed his case as one of concussion of the brain.

Prosecutor Charles A. Rathbun has directed the coroner to hold an inquest.

J. B. DUKE MAY TRY AGAIN.

Gossip Has Tobacco King Paying Court to Mrs. Inman.

James B. Duke and members of his family are at present in Atlanta, Ga., and the New York millionaire is a feature of the social life of that city.

By close friends it is believed the tobacco king's visit has more significance than a preference for Southern climes during the severity of March. Mrs. Inman is assumed to be the magnet, and there are prophecies that she may be induced to change her widowed state.

Mr. Duke's devotion has been known for some time, and the fact that Mrs. Inman wears a magnificent diamond bracelet, his gift, is held to be evidence that his admiration has touched an answering chord.

For Peace in Central America.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—Some headway was made yesterday in the efforts of the United States and Mexico to bring about peace in Central America. The capture of Tegucigalpa by the Nicaraguan forces has had the effect of clearing the atmosphere and gives promise of an early ending to the struggle. To what extent Honduras has made known her willingness to discuss terms of peace is not known, but the fact that the Washington government has been sounded President Zelaya yesterday as to the conditions upon which Nicaragua will discuss a settlement with her enemies indicates that the latter are peacefully inclined. Mexico is taking the lead in the efforts to effect a truce, but her every step in this direction is with the moral support of the United States. The centralized form of government of Mexico and the proximity of that country to the scene of war make it possible for her to act more swiftly and with greater independence than the United States.

Four Die in Race Riots.

Muskogee, I. T., March 27.—As a result of a fight between members of an organization of negroes known as United Socialists on one side of the city and government officers on the other yesterday afternoon, John Cofield, a police officer, will die. Gus Fisher was wounded, Sam and Elbert Barker and a man named Scott, all negroes, are dead, and two other negroes whose names cannot be learned were badly wounded and are in hiding with friends and six negroes are in jail. The fight took place at a house occupied by the organization. Cofield went there to serve a warrant on Elbert Barker and was shot down, and a general fusillade followed. All the white men in the city are armed. The United Socialists are known as "money finders" because it was their custom to travel about at night and hunt for buried money.

Toes Crushed by Casting.

William Wendell, eighteen years old, an apprentice at the Scott Press Works, had two toes of one foot badly crushed while at work in the plant Monday. He was helping to lift a casting from an elevator when the heavy mass slipped and fell on the member. The injury was dressed at Muhlenberg Hospital after which he was sent to his home on Richmond street.

In descending from a ladder at his drug store on Park avenue, yesterday, Dudley Miller, of Orchard place, made a misstep and sprained his ankle. He has since been detained at home under a physician's care.

—Neuman Brothers have always had the reputation of having the largest display of fancy fruits and fresh vegetables to be found in the city and they live up to it. New consignments reach the store every day.

Foraker Wants Primary Test.

Washington, March 27.—Senator Foraker last night made a statement which is regarded by Ohioans as amounting to a declaration of his own candidacy for the Presidency. Evidently inspired by the call to arms of friends of Secretary Taft published yesterday morning, Senator Foraker announces his purpose of asking the Republican State Committee to issue a call for primaries to select delegates to the National Convention. This will give the opportunity for choice between Secretary Taft and Senator Foraker as Ohio's choice for the Republican Presidential nomination at the hands of the Republican National Committee in 1908. Inasmuch as Senator Foraker and Senator Dick control the Republican State Convention there is no doubt that the primaries will be called as requested and a spectacular fight initiated. Senator Foraker is willing—even anxious—that his differences with President Roosevelt be made the issue and he will go to Ohio personally to begin the fray as soon as the Brownsville investigation is completed.

Mrs. A. E. Leggett and daughter, Miss Margaret Leggett, of Madison avenue, go to Atlantic City on Friday for a week. They will register at "The Scarborough."

PASS THE PLAINFIELD BILL

Measure Allowing Borough to Make Sewer Disposal Contract with City.

IS AN ENABLING ACT

Drawn By Corporation Counsels and Presented By Senator Ackerman—Goes Over to House.

Senate Bill 287, which was passed yesterday in the State Senate at Trenton, enables Plainfield and North Plainfield to jointly construct a sanitary sewer for the disposal of the sewage matter of the two municipalities. The bill was introduced at the suggestion of Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, of this city, and Charles A. Reed, counsel for the borough, it being found that there was no law which would give the city and the borough power to make this improvement, if it was deemed necessary.

Mr. Marsh informed the Plainfield members of the sewage commission that before the city could enter into any contract to provide for the sewering of the borough, a law would be necessary to give the legal authority to the plan. Therefore, at the suggestion of Mr. Marsh and Mr. Reed such a law was passed.

The Plainfield bill has been sent over to the House and will be looked after there by Assemblyman Perkins. As there is no opposition to the measure, it will become a law within the course of a very few days.

PRIZE ESSAY TOPICS ASSIGNED AT THE P. H. S.

Pupils to Compete for The Daily Press and Babcock Prizes.

Principal Ira W. Travell, of the Plainfield High School announced the subjects for compositions for the Babcock prizes in English today. The compositions must contain between 600 and 1,200 words and must be signed with a fictitious name. The compositions must be handed in before 6 o'clock on April 22. Those under the first three subjects may be submitted by the seniors in competition for both the Daily Press prize of $10 in gold, and the Babcock prizes in English. These essays may be continued to a length of 1,500 wards.

The subjects are: How Plainfield Cares for the Health of its People; Plainfield Should Own Its Own Water Works; Fighting a Fire in the Twentieth Century; Some Curious Superstitions; A Story of Bird Life; An Oroginal Poem (in ballad form or otherwise); An Oroginal Story; A True Story; A Story of Personal Experience; The Warfare of the Woods; The Life History of a Molecule of (anything you wish); The Man or Woman with a Hobby; A Walk in the Spring Woods; The Wonders of Coal Tar; People's Moods and Characters as Shown by the Way They Walk; Joan of Arc; Heroism in Every Day Life; States' Rights Doctrine in 1907; The Many-Sided Roosevelt; The New Russia; The Many With the Lamp; Invictus; Following the Gleam; Historic Pretenders.

AMENDS SCHOOL LAW.

Bill Introduced By Mr. Ackerman at Mr. Marsh's Suggestion.

At the suggestion of Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, State Senator E. R. Ackerman yesterday introduced a bill in the Legislature amending the public school laws so that bonds issued for schools shall run not more than forty years, instead of not less than that time, as the law now stipulates. The bill was referred to the committee on education.

In the near future bonds will likely be issued by Plainfield to cover the expense of erecting a $90,000 school house at Darrow avenue and Essex street.

Safeguarding Children.

Declaring that children in skating rinks, dance halls, etc., were things contrary to good morals, the Assembly yesterday passed the Brady bill, house No. 290, which forbids children to visit such places unless accompanied by their parents, when under the age of 14 years.

To Move Salesroom.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH HOLDS ANNUAL SESSION

THREE DEACONS ADDED INCREASING NUMBER TO TWELVE.

By a unanimous vote the members of the First Baptist church, at the annual meeting held last night, voted to change the communion service from twice a month to once a month, and it was decided to hold this service on the first Sunday in each month. The matter of a change was spoken of at a previous meeting and the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, as well as many of the officers and members favored it for the reason that it is the rule in Baptist churches throughout the country, with few exceptions, as well as in most churches of other denominations, and that a more frequent observance would better promote the chief ends of the institution.

Remarks favoring the change were made by Charles W. McCutchen, George H. Batchelor, Thomas C. Aldrich, Henry Osgood, while a letter was received from L. V. F. Randolph in which he expressed a sentiment for the custom that has been followed since 1818, however, he said that if the majority wanted the change he would not oppose it. When the vote was taken the motion offered by Deacon Aldrich providing for the change was adopted without a dissenting voice. The next regular communion service will be held Sunday, April 7, and after that will be held on the first Sunday in each month.

Three additional deacons were elected, making twelve in all, it being the wish of the pastor that the number be increased owing to the large membership. A nominating committee composed of Dr. J. B. Probasco, Deacon Aldrich and Clerk O. B. Leonard presented the names of M. C. Dobbins, Robert W. Barnes and Frederick Thompson and they were elected by unanimous vote.

Clerk O. B. Leonard presented the annual report of the beneficience committee, showing the receipts for the year to be $3,421.85 and the expenditures almost the same. There is a balance of $9.51. This does not include the amounts raised during the year by the women's societies, and special gifts not passing through the church treasury, which will total about as much again. Dr. J. B. Probasco presented the report for the deacons' fund. The receipts were $748.38 and the expenditures $704, leaving a balance of $44.38.

Miss Mary J. Thickstun was re-elected a representative from the church on the board for the Baptist Home for the Aged at Newark.

GEORGE O. STEVENS HEAD OF LOCAL ELKS.

Elected Exalted Ruler at B. P. O. E. Annual Meeting.

George O. Stevens, who has been filling an unexpired term as exalted ruler of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., was elected to the office for the ensuing year at the annual meeting, last night. Stevens took the chair at the time of Judge Runyon's withdrawal and he has discharged the duties in a manner that has been a factor in the growth of the lodge.

The other officers elected were as follows: Esteemed leading knight, Clarence Teel; esteemed loyal knight, Maze Edwards; esteemed lecturing knight, Joseph Noonan; treasurer, Harry McDonald; secretary, William Townsend; tyler, Edward C. Searing; trustee, Charles A. Reed. With the exception of two, all these officers were re-elected. The newcomers are Harry McDonald, who succeeds L. B. Woolston, and William Townsend, succeeding Walter Freeman. The installation will take place next week.

The business meeting was followed by an enjoyable social session during which an informal programme was given in charge of the exalted ruler.

Annual Moving Time.

J. B. Medhurst is moving today from Fanwood to Yonkers, N. Y.; Edward V. French from First place to Watchung avenue; J. D. Macnaab from Park avenue to First place; H. G. Adams from Watchung avenue and East Front street to Elm place; H. C. Bye from West End avenue to Clinton avenue; John Peacock from Mountain avenue to Clinton avenue; Nelson A. Miller from Myrtle avenue to Washington avenue; W. E. Smith from West Second street to South Plainfield. H. C. Smith, of East Second street, has the contracts for the moving work.

Pastor Tendered a Surprise.

The members and friends of the Ebenezer Baptist church tendered a surprise to their pastor, Rev. P. T. Morris, and his wife, last night. Several hours were passed enjoyably and during the evening the pastor was presented with a purse.

Rescue Mission Meeting.

Henry Osgood will speak at the Plainfield Rescue Mission tonight in the W. C. T. U. rooms on Madison avenue.

DR. LUFBURROW MADE DEPARTMENT SURGEON

BUSY SESSION OF POLICE BOARD—M'DONALD GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE.

The Police Board last night appointed City Physician Charles Lufborrow as fire and police surgeon and added about $250 on to his salary for the extra work he will be required to do. The Board held a meeting at the office of Mayor Fisk and in addition to creating the new office considered and disposed of a charge against one of the policemen. Incidently a half dozen or more citizens appeared before the body in the capacity of witnesses, but what the nature of their testimony was could not be learned.

Dr. Lufburrow, who received the appointment of police and fire surgeon will be required to examine all the men in the two departments from time to time. Should any one of them be injured while on duty it will be necessary for him to give his service promptly whether he be called upon in day or night. In his capacity as city physician he has been doing this work free of charge for some time and the Board felt that it was only fair that he should receive compensation.

At the police hearing, Patrolman Daniel McDonald faced a charge of not hanging up boxes. The Mayor gave him one of his heart-to-heart talks and on the policeman's promise not to offend again the latter was ordered on duty again.

THOUGHT HE WAS JUST ILL DOCTORS FOUND HIM CRAZY

HOSPITAL TURNS CHARLES BANCER OVER TO THE POLICE.

Charles Bancer, an employe at the Rushmore Dynamo Works, went to Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday morning to be treated for declining health. Early in the afternoon the hospital matron telephoned to police headquarters that Bracer was crazy. She said the staff was terrified, and there was nobody at the place capable of proper watch over the man.

Chief Kiely sent Patrolman Chas. Flynn in the patrol wagon after the man and he was brought to the station house. He was not violent; he seemed to be suffering from abnormal dullness more than anything else. The police learned through the Rushmore works that the man lived in Newark, and that his people there had been notified. Early last night Charles Gibler, with whom Bancer boarded, took him from the station house. He said he would care for the man until his people came after him.

WAY STATION FOLK MARVEL.

Elizabeth Folk Impressed by Speed of Plainfield's Fast Train.

A writer for the Elizabeth Journal was impelled to pen the following after watching the 8:30 special from Plainfield skid through his city:

"The Plainfield special, from that city to New York, runs at an average speed of sixty miles an hour, and goes roaring through this city much faster than that in order to climb the stiff grade at the Central Railroad freight house—from that point to Keighry Head—which causes the speed to drop to about fifty miles an hour at the top of the grade. Recently an old railroad man undertook to cross the track at the freight house, but, looking up, saw this train coming down the line about a thousand feet away. The man paused a short time, considering his chances, and turned to look again, when he saw the train right on top of him, so to speak, and had barely got out of danger when she thundered by. At the speed of sixty miles an hour a train goes eighty-eight feet a second, nearly a city block's length, so in ten ticks of a watch a man has no time to lose if he wants to keep out from under it. No one can guess at the speed of a flyer; half a block away from it on the sidewalk is the safest place to wait for it to pass."

Back From Southern Climes.

William L. Saunders, former mayor of North Plainfield, returned to his home on Rockview avenue yesterday afternoon after an absence of two months abroad. He reached New York early in the afternoon on one of the German steamers from Jamaica, W. I. Mr. Saunders spent several weeks on the Isthmus of Panama, and learned considerable of the canal work at first hand. He was in Mexico for a time and in Cuba. His daughter, who accompanied him South, returned home two weeks ago, from Havana.

Mr. and Mrs. William Littrick will conduct the Young People's meeting in the Salvation Army Hall this evening.

PLAYING WITH PET DOG CAUSES AN $800 BLAZE

IN CHASING CANINE, WOMAN SHOVED LIGHTED TAPER INTO A CURTAIN.

Mrs. William Dunn, of Norwood avenue, playfully attempted to scare a pet dog that frisked about her as she was lighting the gas in the parlor at her home, last night, and as a result started a fire that caused at least $800 damage. The city department worked at the blaze for over an hour and by using the chemical engine only kept the loss from reaching a much higher figure.

The dog came running up to Mrs. Dunn as she stood in the parlor with a lighted taper in her hand and in a spirit of fun she poked it at him. The animal jumped away from her and Mrs. Dunn followed. Before she realized where she was she had brushed against a lace curtain and the flimsy material caught from the burning taper.

In an instant the flames had ascended to the ceiling and before Mrs. Dunn could give the alarm, they spread to the dining room and were hungrily reaching all about. The fire department was called from box 16 but before the apparatus arrived the blaze had crept between the floors and was making its way about two bedrooms. Captain Daley directed the men pending the arrival of Chief Doane and by attacking it from above and below they stopped the progress of the flames. They were in a bad place under the flooring, however, and it required considerable tearing up to get at them. There was no damage outside of the parlor, dining room and bedrooms.

The loss is fully covered by insurance.

BURGESS LOOKS LIKE THE Y.M.C.A. CHAMPION

LAST EVENT IN THE ALL-AROUND ATHLETIC COMPETITION TONIGHT.

The last event in the all-around athletic championship competition, the running high jump from springboard, will be run off at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. Burgess has a big lead and looks like a sure winner of the title. Banks has second honors cinched. The leading ten competitors will go into the event with the following standing:

Burgess, 878; Banks, 833; Douglass, 732; Rumsey, 703; Lueder, 703; Odell, 666; Viebrock, 578; Templin, 421; Collier, 314; Spear, 204.

The newly designed Y. M. C. A. medal will be the prizes awarded the winners. It is the first time a standard medal has been designed for the local association.

HOPE MISSION SOCIETY ELECTS.

Organization Raised $119 For Home Missionary Work During Year.

The Ladies' Home Missionary Society of Hope chapel held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon and re-elected the incumbent officers as follows: President, Mrs. G. Herbert Condict; vice president, Mrs. L. R. Howard; secretary, Mrs. M. W. Clark; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Brown. The treasurer reported that $119 had been raised during the year and that the greater part of it had been sent to missions in various parts of the country.

Following the business session, the members were addrseed on "Japan" by Miss Emily Tracy. She told of mission work in the Land of Sunshine and Flowers" and showed pictures sent her by her sister, Miss May Tracy, who is a missionary at Yokohoma. In conclusion refreshments were served by a committee in charge of Mrs. James Bushby.

Adjournment of Legislature.

The Assembly, yesterday, passed a compromise adjournment resolution, which provides that the Legislature take a recess Friday, April 12, until Tuesday, June 18, and that on the latter date the Legislature meet only to act on the bills vetoed by the Governor. The latter favors the resolution and it is not thought the Senate will defeat it.

State Parole Agent.

State Senator Ackerman introduced a bill yesterday, providing for the appointment of a State prison parole agent who shall have the power to arrest without warrant any convict at liberty under parole who violates the agreement made at the time of his release.

Bankers Fail.

The Corbin Banking Company, private bankers at 192 Broadway, assigned this morning for $1,700,000. The firm was unable to meet a number of maturing obligations as a result of inability to dispose of real estate properties except at a heavy sacrifice.

LIBRARY ASKS COUNCIL FOR BIG APPROPRIATION

DIRECTORS WANT $7,500; AN INCREASE OF $2,400.

In fixing the tax budget for the coming year the finance committee of the Common Council is confronted with the problem of meeting the request of the Plainfield Public Library for an increased appropriation from $5,100 of last year to $7,500 this year. The law provides that the library shall receive a half a mill on the dollar and the only hope of the finance committee is in persuading the directors of the library to be modest in their demands. If they insist on asking for what is considered an unreasonable appropriation, the only redress is in having the State law changed. It is said to be the general opinion of the members of the Common Council that $7,500 is a too generous sum for the library and efforts will be made to shave it down.

The light department received $14,250 last year and this year an appropriation of $14,500 is desired. However, it is possible that a new contract will be made with the Public Service Corporation so that the lighting for the coming year will not exceed that of last year. Efforts are now being made in that direction. Wherever possible the appropriations will be cut down to what the committee believes to be a reasonable sum.

OUTDOOR BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT PLANNED

TEAMS OF SUNDAY SCHOOL ATHLETIC LEAGUE WILL COMPETE FOR TROPHY.

The Y. M. C. A. athletic team is ready for the State meet at Paterson Saturday night and in trim to capture the championship. The Plainfield contestants have been assigned to the various events, according to a statement given out by Physical Director Listman this morning, as follows:

Fifteen yards dash, Douglass, Banks, Templin, Spear, Manning; running high jump, Adell, Lueder, Burgess, Steiner; 12-pound shot-put, Lawrence, Collins, Collier, Payne; fence vault, Niebrock, Luder, Lawrence; standing broad jump, Lueder, Burgess, Lawrence; 220-yard run, Douglass, Odell, Banks, Viebrock, Templin, Burgess, Spear, Manning.

The Payne who is to try for honors in the shot-put is Jack Payne, the Ajax of the police force. He hurled the shot 41 feet 4 inches in practise this week, and is apt to make a great showing in the meet.

Mr. Listman has been assigned as timer by the meet management. That is a bit of luck, for he has only two events to serve in, and will be free to coach his men in jumping and shot hurling. He was chuckling over that this morning.

WESTFIELD CLUB AGAIN TALKS OF DISBANDMENT.

Meeting of Members Will Be Held April 6, When Definite Action Will Be Taken.

A special meeting of the club members of the Westfield Club was held Tuesday night to consider the question of disbanding the club. The subject has been discussed before. Lack of interest in this once wideawake organization indicates that something must be done and at once. At present the club has a membership of ninety and the finances are in good shape. The club could disband and pay every penny owing.

Interest has been on the wane at the club for many months past and of late the building has looked dark and uninviting at night. There have been no social events at the club during the winter season just ended and the bowling tournaments, or pool tournaments, such as attracted large crowds in years gone by, were not even thought of this winter.

The Westfield Club was organized under the boat club act in 1896, and reorganized a year ago. Its location and accommodation compare favorably with city clubs, and the building contains everything for the amusement and comfort of members. Should the club disband it is highly probable that a new club will be started along entirely different lines.

The meeting Tuesday night decided to call a meeting of all the members, to be held on Saturday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock, at which time definite action will be taken.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PARK AVENUE CHURCH

DEED TO THE PARISH HOUSE ACCEPTED—ENCOURAGING REPORTS RECEIVED.

The annual meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church was held last night. Deacons and officers were elected, and reports were received from the various funds and organizations.

Following the reading of the minutes, the following reports were handed in: Treasurer's report, by L. R. Schofield; Sunday-school, by Treasurer J. M. Hawkins; Deacons, by J. H. Cuming; Fellowship Fund, by D. M. Runyon; Benevolent Fund, by E. F. Vail; Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, by Mrs. S. A. Krom; Ladies' Aid Society, by Mrs. W. A. Freeman, the president, and Mrs. J. W. Johnson, the treasurer; Women's Home Missionary Society, by Mrs. Nelson Runyon; Young People's Christian Endeavor Society, by Miss Florence G. Hawkins, the president, and Miss Bessie Giles, treasurer; The King's Daughters, by Miss Olive Delanay. All the reports were of an encouraging nature. The funds all showed a small balance.

The elections resulted as follows: Deacons, William M. Tallman, I. R. Giles, Charles F. Dayton; treasurer of Benevolent Funds, E. Frank Vail; church clerk, H. C. Runyon. J. H. Cuming was named for deacon, but he asked to be excused. The election was laid over for a month.

The deed for the parish house, which has been given to the church on very nominal terms by Mrs. Frances Saunders, of Elmira, N. Y., who is a generous friend of the church, was accepted. Notice to that effect will be sent to Mrs. Saunders. The house is at 11 East Ninth street. It has been occupied by the patsor and his family for two years. It was the home of Mrs. Saunders for a number of years.

The annual meeting of the congregation will be held next month.

BETHEL CHAPEL'S FAIR OPENED LAST NIGHT.

Paintings of Cabin Scenes Attract Attention at Earnest Workers' Affair.

The annual fair under the auspices of the Earnest Workers opened last night at Bethel chapel, with a large attendance. The chapel was draped and trimmed with bunting and crepe paper and the tables containing useful and attractive articles were well patronized. Alfred Voorhees entertained the audience for an hour with selections on the phonograph.

Following is a list of the table committee in charge: Fancy—The Misses Addie Ford, chairman; Cecelia Ford, Grace Miller, Clara Lane, Lizzie Dunham, Mrs. Amanda Nixon, Mrs. Eliza Miller and Mrs. Josephine Kelso. Refreshment—Miss Hattie Post, chairman; Miss Bettie Dixon, Mrs. Anne Robinson, Mrs. Emma Smith, Mrs. Ida Robinson. China—Mrs. F. D. Tildon, chairman; Mrs. Jennie Peterson, Mrs. Mary Hopkins, Mrs. Anthony Lane, Mrs. Lizzie Davis, Miss Emma Jackson, Miss Sadie Graham. Candy—Miss Euphemia Dorsey, Miss Charlotte Dorsey, Miss Hattie Dorsey, Miss Montros Holmes. Japanese—Miss Elveta Marcellus, Miss Lizzie Bouzer. Fruit—Miss Hattie Brown, Miss Daisy Robinson. Lemonade—Miss Pattie Hinton, Miss Lottie Smith, Miss Mary Young. Souvenir—Miss Mabel Peterson, Miss Mildred Lane and Miss Cora Shipley.

Most of the articles displayed on the tables by the committees are the products of their own labor and skill. Among these are a number of lowly cabin scenes painted by Miss Peterson, of the souvenir table. The fair will continue for three nights.

Recognized Car Thief.

While two New York officers were looking through the New Brunswick jail, Tuesday, for men who had broken Randall's island paroles, they discovered the identity of one of the three freight car thieves captured at South Plainfield last week by Justice T. A. Linaberry. They recognized him as Michael Demino, a former inmate of the island, who broke parole several years ago. He is now past twenty-one years of age and for that reason could not be taken back. Demino's companions have not been identified as yet.

Best Booms Baseball.

Lindsey Best gave a chapel talk at the Plainfield High School this morning in the interest of baseball. He explained that a school is well represented by its athletic teams and that it is the duty of the pupils to support baseball. The nine, this year, said Mr. Best, is largely made up of new material.

Pall Bearers at Interment.

The pall bearers who officiated at the interment of Andrew Cox at East Millstone, yesterday, were Henry C. Drake, Edward Vanderweg, Edward E. Townley, Worth Coddington, Job Codington and Henry Mollison.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS MOTHER'S INJUNCTION

Forbidden to Attend Social Affair, Pretty Ellen Burns Drinks Carbolic Acid.

LINGERED EIGHT HOURS

Physicians Sought In Vain to Save Her Life—Was Only Nineteen Years Old and Had Many Acquaintances.

After being unconscious for nearly eight hours from the effects of carbolic acid she had swallowed with suicidal intent, Miss Ellen V. Burns, the nineteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burns, of Pemberton avenue, died at the parents' home at 2:20 this morning. The girl was discovered soon after she had taken the deadly stuff and Drs. Buchanan and Pittis were quickly at her side but their efforts were of no avail. The dose she took was a large one and her mouth, throat and stomach were fearfully burned by it.

Miss Burns was an exceptionally pretty and popular young woman and why she should have killed herself has not been made clear. It is stated with some positiveness, however, that she had become morose and moody because her mother forbade her to attend a social function that she had been looking forward to with no small degree of pleasure. She had set her heart on going but the mother believes in a strict observance of Holy Week and so informed her. Yesterday afternoon, Ellen dressed herself in a becoming gown and without saying anything as to where she was going, left the house. She evidently came direct to town and purchased the acid, after which she returned home.

Mrs. Burns noticed nothing peculiar about her actions but on going to her room to call her at 5:30, the mother found the girl lying on the bed and writhing about in great pain. Almost the same instant, the mother discovered the half-emptied acid bottle and the truth flashed upon her. Realizing that quick action was necessary she telephoned for the physicians and then adopted what relief measures she could think of before they arrived. Dr. Buchanan was the first to reach the house and he did everything possible despite the fact that the case looked hopeless from the start. When he was joined by Dr. Pittis, the two physicians doubled the effort to ease the pain while seeking to prevent the life from slipping away and did not give up until shortly before she died.

Miss Burns was a member of St. Mary's parish and the various societies connected with the church. She had a wide acquaintance in the city and borough and was known as a girl with a sunny disposition and fond of social gatherings. She is survived by two brothers, Thomas Burns, who was formerly a letter carrier at the local postoffice, and Joseph Burns, a mason, and one sister, Mrs. Edward McCarthy, of West Sixth street.

MR. McCUTCHEN CHAIRMAN OF FAITH CHAPEL BOARD.

Annual Meeting of East End Baptist Congregation Held Last Night.

Charles W. McCutchen was re-elected trustee for three years and chairman of the board at the annual meeting of Faith chapel, last night, and reports were presented for the year. These show a marked growth in every department with bright prospects for the coming year.

The membership of the chapel was reported to be seventy-four and that of the Sunday-school about 108. The membership of the Baraca Class is forty-five and that of the Women's Bible Class twenty-nine. During the year there was raised approximately between $1,200 and $1,400. Among the improvements made during the year was the installation of the baptistry, the expense of which has been paid. Aside from the financial sidt special mention was made of the spiritual growth at the chapel under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. J. W. Musson, and the superintendent of the Sunday-school, L. W. Randolph.

An Interesting Catalogue Of An Interesting House.

Folks always like to look over the guide boog or catalogue of a big store, especially when the store has been before them for nearly half a century as in the case of Amos H. Van Horn, Ltd., concern (73 Market street, Newark, N. J.), a wonderfully attractive effectively illustrated book has just been issued for gratuitous distribution to the people of New Jersey. Over 40 pages are given up to brief descriptions of the goods in the many departments in this five-acre establishment and before one gets half through its pages, a pretty comprehensive idea is gained of the immensity of the Van Horn stocks, which embrace everything imaginable in the way of furniture, carpets, rugs, bedding, stoves, refrigerators, carriages, go-carts, pictures, lamps, clocks, etc. All in all, it will repay everyone possessing or contemplating the possession of a home to call or write for a free copy of the Van Horn catalogue at 73 Market street, Newark, N. J.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

The enagement of "The Lion and the Mouse," which takes place at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, will be the means of attracting very heavy patronage from outlying towns. The fame of Charles Klein's play and of Henry B. Harris' production is widespread, and for the first time in this city mail orders have been received from many points that will involve a journey of a hundred miles or more to witness the great American drama. The local management will give special attention to mail orders from suburban towns, when they are accompanied by a remittance covering the full price of the seats ordered. Experience everywhere this season has proved the wisdom of mailing orders in advance, as the company is playing to all the people the theatres will hold and in most instances turning hundreds away.

George's Ade's perennial successful musical satire, "The Sultan of Sulu," is coming to the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night. "The Sultan of Sulu" is neither comic opera nor musical comedy, but a clever combination of almost everything conceivable in the musical and amusement line. It is light, witty and brilliantly satirical, but moreover filled with liltingly tuneful atmosphere music, and is said to be an ideal entertainment for the brain fagged man or woman in search of recreation. Musical numbers that have had much to do with the increasing popularity of "The Sultan of Sulu," are: "Ki-Ram's Wedding March," "The Smiling Isle of Sulu," "The Military Hike Song," "Since I First Met You," "Engaged in a Sort of a Way," "The U. S. A.," "My Sulu Lulu Loo," "R-e-m-o-r-s-e" and "Rosabella Clancy." The words were supplied by George Ade, the Hoosier humorist, and are written in the happiest vein; and the music, which is of the kind that is destined to be whistled, was composed by Alfred G. Wathall.

Ollie J. May, the euphoniumist of the United States Marine Band, which is to appear here next Monday afternoon and night under the auspices of the local lodge of Elks, astonished the critics of the New York dailies on September 30th last at the concert of the band in the huge Hippodrome. The concert was only a Sunday affair, given while en route to the Boston Food Show, but May's execution was pronounced the most wonderful ever heard in New York.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Timbo's restaurant on North avenue is the ideal place to eat. The menu is varied and the cusine the best.

Putnam & DeGraw, the West Front street dry goods merchants, invite a share of your patronage, believing that from their large stock they can please you.

Time to think about painting and papering and Charles Conover & Co., of Elmwood place, is the firm to do the work right. Get estimates before giving the contract.

Don't forget that C. M. Nagle's pharmacy on West Front street is the place to purchase reliable drugs, medicines, toilet articles, while the prescription work is a specialty.

Go to O. M. Dunham's store in Park avenue for men's furnishings. Everything from a hat to the smallest article worn by men can be found at the store and at reasonable prices.

Farmers will find the H. E. Gayle Hardware Company store the place to get their tools and implements of the best make at lowest prices; also all kinds of hardware and builders' materials, as well as housefurnishing goods.

The best meats in the market are obtainable at Roth & Co.'s shop on East Front street every business day at the lowest prices. If you are not now a patron of the firm commence at once and you will never be sorry. Poultry and fresh fish are specialties every week.

Don't delay in getting your Easter outfit but go at once to Weinberger's clothing store and you will find everything there from a fine suit of clothes to all the furnishings, including handkerchiefs, ties, shirts, collars, etc., at lowest prices. Inspect these goods before going elsewhere and you will be more than pleased.

One of the most attractive Easter decorations is to be found at L. W. Randolph's West Front street pharmacy. The appropriate colors purple and white are used with good effect in the show windows and in other ways the pharmacy is made the center of interest, where everything in the line of drugs, toilet articles, etc., can be found.

SPRING MILLINERY.

Our recent opening of Smart and Chic Millinery created a sensation by reason of its superb superiority. The unexampled beauty of the exquisite hats for spring has been proclaimed from the housetops in stentorian tones.

It has been freely acknowledged by visitors the models displayed, taken individually and as a whole, are the most exquisite exhtbited in Plainfield. Prices, too, are remarkably low. Be convinced—comparison.

WOMEN'S SPRING SUITS AND JACKETS.

Our new line of Suits and Jackets are ready for inspection. Our styles are the newest and most up-to-date only.

$12.50—Our new line of suits in black, brown, navy blue and fancy checks and plaids are the best value ever offered for the money and would be good value at $15.98.

$5.00—Women's Spring Jackets, the best value ever offered for the money, cut in the newest styles and really worth $7.98.

EASTER DRESS for Men.

Suits of Black are really the only appropriate thing for Easter Day wear, but men may choose from the fashionable Frock Coat or more conservative Cutaways and the modest sack. We have a most satisfying collection of all these styles, perfectly tailored and accurate in fit, so that those who desire to be neatly and nicely dressed on Easter Day can step into the store and in a few hours we will fit them perfectly and please them beyond measure and at a price very much less than the custom tailor who has to make you wait a week or two for the suit will ask you.

Prince Albert Coats and Vests of fine Thibets, silk faced, serge lined, are here for $20.00.

Prince Albert Coats and Vests of Thibet and unfinished Worsteds, silk faced and lined, may be had for only $25.00.

Other Prince Albert Coats and Vests at higher prices.

Black Cutaway Suits of Thibet and unfinished Worsteds, beautifully tailored; splendid models; perfect in fit; may be had for $25.00.

Black Sack Suits of Thibet and unfinished Worsteds, cut in the most up-to-date patterns; as smoothly tailored as the best custom work; at prices ranging from $10.00 to $30.00.

Trousers for wearing with Prince Albert or Cutaway Coats, of pure worsted in neat striped effects; splendid fitting; perfectly tailored, are here at from $4.00 to $10.00.

Men's Top Coats in the latest models, made of Worsted or Cheviot, soft Mixtures, Vicunas—stripes, woven checks and plain colors—at $9.98, $12.98, $20.00 and $25.00.

At these prices we believe these coats to be at least 20 per cent. less than you will pay at most stores or at most tailors.

BOYS' CLOTHES

For Easter and After.

If the boy is to have a new suit soon we would urge you to have him freshly garbed for Easter Day even though you have to stretch a point to do it.

We offer many inducements to parents to buy their Boys' Clothing here. The clothing we sell is made of excellent materials, cut in snappy styles and made in a way that will please the most particular, the stitching being particularly strong and the suits built for service thruout.

Most of our suits are now sold with two pairs of Knickerbockers, and the prices are rarely as high as you will pay in most stores for suits with a single pair of pants.

Handsome Suits of All-wool Serge, in sailor and Russian styles—brown, red and navy, and double-breasted and Norfolk styles in neat mixtures and natty Reefers and Overcoats of tan covert cloth, scarlet, navy blue, brown and gray; 2½ to 16-year sizes, at the diminutive price of $2.98

Boys' Suits and Spring Coats—Our most popular lines, most of the suits including an extra pair of knickerbocker trousers; all made of excellent all-wool materials; exceptionally well tailored inside and out, at these popular prices, $4.98 and $6.98

Double-breasted Norfolk Suits, with knickerbocker or straight trousers; Russian Blouse Suits, Sailor Suits, Auto Reefers, Top Coats, ¾ Length Coats—all the newest effects in most remarkable variety at from $5.98 to.... $14.98
Combination Suits, $1.98 to $9.98.

Boys' Reefers in red, brown, tan and gray checks of various sorts at from $2.98 to $9.98

Youths' Suits—Specially designed and tailored for young men who are particular about their dress, different from boys' clothes, yet not so mannish as to make them look old; here at prices beginning at..... $4.98
Boys' Suits here for as little as $1.50.

Boys' Straight and Bloomer Trousers—Made with taped seams thruout; patent waistbands; garter supporters; in neat mixtures; 3 to 16 year sizes; at the little price of..... .50

Boys' New Spring Blouses—With collars, the stitching on which is far superior to any other make at equal prices, at 25c, 48c, 75c.
Boys' Wash Suits beginning at 49c.

SPECIALS

Fresh Jersey Eggs

At this season of the year almost every grocer makes a special drive on eggs. Many people wonder why there is such a variety of prices. Here is one reason—The prices of eggs are made according to their freshness upon arrival at the market. Most of the eggs in this market are received from the West, South and nearby Jersey. Now suppose I bought a case of each kind. I would receive the Westerns and Southerns in twenty to thirty days, while the Jerseys would be in my store and on sale tomorrow. Do you see the point? There would be a dozen shipments of Jerseys sold and consumed while the others are in transit. We receive all of our eggs direct from Flemington every day or two. We will make you a special price for Saturday of 23c per dozen.

Fine Potatoes

We have done a lot of talking this winter about our potatoes. We have the quality to back it up. Fine mealy cookers, "Finest in town," is the verdict from all the buyers.

Distributing Big Fund.

New York, March 28.—At a meeting of the General Education Board, held yesterday at its offices, No. 54 William street, $625,000 was subscribed to five educational institutions from funds contributed to the Board by John D. Rockefeller. This distribution of $625,000, which includes $300,000 for Yale University and $200,000 for Princeton University, is the first that has been made since Mr. Rockefeller on February 7 pledged $32,000,000 of income bearing securities to the General Education Board, the income of which is to be used for educational purposes. The other three educational institutions to which subscriptions were made are Bowdoin College, of Brunswick, Me., which was given $50,000 toward a fund of $250,000 to be raised by that institution; Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Col., also received $50,000 toward a fund of $500,000, and Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss., gets $25,000 toward a fund of $100,000 which is to be raised by that institution.

Right Rev. Mgr. John A. Sheppard, rector of St. Michael's church and Vicar General of the Cahtolic Diocese of Newark, it was announced yesterday, will not return home before May 1. With him is Father Whelan, of Newark. At present they are at Nice.

Problem for Mr. Taft.

Washington, D. C., March 28.—One of the ticklish tasks confronting Secretary Taft during his approaching visit to the Isthmus of Panama—and it is doubly delicate because of his Presidential candidcy—is that of considering the demand of the steam shovel men for increased pay. The steam shovel engineers have made a demand for $300 a month, the steam shovel cranemen for $250 and the steam shovel firemen $110 a month. To rumors that they will strike unless this advance is granted it is stated here that no threat of that kind has been made.

New Gen. Mgr. for P. S. C.

Thomas N. McCarter, president of the Public Service Corporation, yesterday appointed Richard E. Danforth, general manager of the Rochester Railway Company, to a similar place in the street railway department of the corporation. Mr. Danforth is to succeed Albert H. Stanley, who will sever his connections with the Public Service Corporation on April 1, to take charge of the London Underground United Railways.

Mrs. A. D. Edgar, of East Front street, who has been visiting relatives at Lebanon, Hunterdon county, has returned home.

CORNELL CENTENNIAL AT UNIVERSITY, APRIL 26 & 27.

Andrew Carnegie To Be Dne of the Principal Speakers.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 28.—Arrangements for the celebration of the centennial of the birth of Ezra Cornell, founder of Cornell University, and the delication of the new buildings of the New York State College of Agriculture, on April 26 and 27, have been completed. Friday, April 26, will be devoted to the Cornell centennial celebration, and Saturday, April 27, to the dedication of the new college buildings. On the evenings of both days, as well as on the evening preceding and on Saturday afternoon, the annual musical festival of the university will be held.

The centenial celebration will be purely a domestic affair. No invitations will be sent to other institutions. Andrew Carnegie has been selected to make the first and principal address on Ezra Cornell. This will be delivered on Friday afternoon and will be followed by a luncheon to invited guests. In the afternoon Dr. Andrew D. White, first president of the Uniiversity, will speak for the faculty. Senator Joseph Benson Foraker, of the class of '69, and President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford Junior University, of the class of '72, will speak for the alumni, and W. W. Taylor, president of the senior class, will speak for the undergraduates, who will parade with characteristic exhibits and displays.

At the dedication of the new buildings for the State College of Agriculture Governor Hughes will be the first speaker, and he will hand over the buildings to the university. They will be accepted by President Schurman. The other speakers will be Professor L. H. Bailey, director of the New York State College of Agriculture, and Lieutenant-Governor Chanler. At the close of these exercises the president and Mrs. Schurman will give a luncheon at their house in honor of the speakers and of the board of trustees of the university.

MACHINISTS WANT A SHORTER WORK DAY.

Will Demand Either a Fifty-Hour Week or an Eight-Hour Day.

A meeting of the delegates of the various lodges of the International Association of Machinists in New Jersey was held at the headquarters of the association in Newark last Friday. Nearly 100 delegates were present, representing Newark, Elizabeth, Plainfield, Perth Amboy, Paterson, Passaic, New Brunswick and other sections of the State, for the purpose of requesting a shorter work day for machinists throughout the State.

Reports were heard from the various delegates, and all came instructed to vote in favor of demanding the shorter work day and the establishment of a minimum rate of wages for machinists in this State.

Perhaps one of the most important points that came before the body was the strict enforcement of the apprentice system in the various machine shops.

It was alleged by some of the delegates present that many of the employers hire boys to learn the machinists' trade, but as a matter of fact use them for handy men with no intention of ever making machinists of them, because they can be hired so much cheaper than handy men, which is the cause of the scarcity of competent machinists in this country.

The date for getting the reduction in hours was left open for the membership to decide, and nothing definite could be stated as to demanding a fifty-hour week, composed of nine hours per day and five hours on Saturday or the establishment of the eight-hour flat day.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Men's Club of the First Baptist church will meet on Monday night, April 8.

Rev. A. S. Peck, rector, will be the preacher at St. Stephen's church tomorrow night.

The Christian Endeavor Society meeting will be omitted at the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow night on account of the Good Friday service in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

The Union Good Friday service will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow night, when the various ministers of the city will take part. The offering will be for the Children's Home.

The thirty-fourth anniversary meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will be held in the church tomorrow afternoon, for the election of officers and presentation of reports. Miss Mina A. Reade, acting field secretary of the Women's Board of Boston, will speak on "Home Toughts from Abroad."

—Mr. and Mrs. Knox Taylor, of this city, will soon move to a point near High Bridge, for the summer, Mr. Taylor being connected with the Taylor Iron and Steel Works at that place.

—George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place, the artist, has been named as one of the jury for the annual exhibit of the Art Club to be held about the middle of April at the club gallery on Nineteenth street, New York.

FIND MUSTY ROLL OF $1,000.

Sons of Aged Miser Discover His Hidden Hoard.

Beverly, March 28.—While searching their former home yesterday, Richard and George Swanson came upon several piles of old but genuine greenbacks, to the amount of $1,000. "Uncle" John Swanson died last week in the house. He was 91 years old. For many years he lived alone and was considered very poor, depending on charity.

When Swanson was stricken two months ago he was taken to the home of his son George, where he died. Twenty dollars, which he gave to his son, was thought to be all the money the old man had.

Can't You Spare 100 Cents?

The first contribution towards the fund being raised by The King's Daughters for a bath tub for the Day Nursery was made this morning. A well disposed woman met one of the active workers in the organization while out shopping this morning.

"I saw your appeal in The Daily Press yesterday," said the contributor, "and I want to be the first to help along your worthy cause. Here's a dollar; hope 100 others will do likewise."

And the representative of The King's Daughters is hoping the same thing.

Arrested for Being Flush.

James Coleman, John Farino and Frank Margentino, boys who live in this city, were arrested in Westfield yesterday afternoon, by Chief of Police O'Neill, for spending money freely. The police chief thought there might be something questionable back of their flush state. He made inquiries here, and the boys were vindicated. They had gotten the money at home. They were released.

Jury Failed to Agree.

The trial of John Bozung, the Rahway young man charged with criminal assault on a child, was concluded in the court house at Elizabeth yesterday afternoon. The case went to the jury at 2:19 and they returned at 9:47 this morning without reaching an agreement. It is understood that eight were for conviction and four for acquittal.

Wings and Flies

By Tom Muir.

Assistant Treasurer Texier and the ushers at the New Plainfield theatre are leaving no stone unturned to make their benefit on the night of April 15 a big success. Advance reports indicate that Bickel, Watson and Wrothe are "excruciatingly funny" in their new version of "Tom, Dick and Harry," and the young men at the playhouse are letting their friends know of the fact. The show played to capacity nearly every night at Philadelphia last week.

"Mrs. Warren's Profession," the Bernard Shaw play which caused so much discussion in New York last year, is coming to the New Plainfield theatre Friday night, April 5, with Miss Virginia Drew Trescott and an exceptional supporting company.

There is to be another Daly's theatre in New York. It is to be built in Broadway, near Forty-second street, at a cost of $500,000 by Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, and the estate of the late Augustin Daly is to take an interest in the future of the new house, which is to be as nearly a replica of the famous building in Broadway between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets as skill and money can make it. Every piece of woodwork, every picture, all the interior furnishings hallowed by long association with the old house will be transferred to the new. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday. The lease on the old theatre expires May 1.

The ever welcome "Sultan of Sulu" is coming this way after a very successful tour of the Pacific coast. This excellent attraction has been before the public now for five successive seaons, and its popularity seems to increase with the march of time. There are several reasons for its continued prosperity. George Ade put into this, his first work for the stage, his best wit and humor, and the music of Alfred Wathall contains several of those haunting melodies which have lasting qualities. "The Sultan" has never been allowed to deteriorate, but the cast and production have been kept up to high grade always. Thus it goes on season after season winning new friends, while the loyalty of old remains unshaken. This season's company is said to be one of the best ever engaged to interpret the opera, and includes Al Sykes, Harry Benham, F. J. McCarthy, Octavia Broske, Harriett Sheidon, Bernice Hart, Maude Earle, and the famous beauty chorus.

Operations in the New Wayburn Training School for the Stage were temporarily suspended the other day right after lunch, so was the family of Wayburn, father and son, the latter in the little two by six elevator that hoists the aspiring young actor or acress to the preparatory school for future Sarah Bernhardts and Chauncey Olcotts. Ned and his father had dined rather freely after their strenuous morning's labors and were returning to the noble work of teaching the young idea to shoot—or rather—to act, when they unwisely entered the cute little car designed for the Lilliputian City of Dreamland. As the combined weight of the Wayburns, senior and junior is something like 700 pounds in addition to the elevator boy's extra pounds, the lift which is only made to icarry a trifle over six hundred pounds naturally balked at th imposition on its strength and with all the peevishness of Opper's mule Maud, stopped half way between the first and second floors, refusing to go another inch. Threats and entreaties were in vain, and it was only when in response to the frantic telephone calls of the Wayburn offices, a corps of safe movers arrived, that the family of Wayburn were lifted out of their difficulty and allowed to continue their educational functions. Mr. Wayburn vows that he will have the elevator enlarged if he has to purchase the adjoining property to do it.

BAND OF BARN-BURNERS.

Morristown Police Think There Is a Band of Incendiaries at Work.

Morristown, March 28.—In the opinion of the police, who are investigating the origin of the fire which burned a block of wooden structures in the heart of the city early Sunday, entailing a loss of $20,000, a band of incendiaries are at work.

Several mysterious fires have occured recently, and only by promptness in sending in an alarm and efficient work by the fire department, were they extinguished before much damage resulted. The fires were in the centre of the town, and discovered after midnight.

Sergeant John Morrison and Policeman Edward Brennan, who did a little sleuthing, are saisfied that some one set fire to the barn of Daniel McKeef, which was first found in flames Sunday. Two men, it is said, were seen about the barn when the fire was discovered, but suddenly disappeared. The police are on the lookout for all suspicious characters, and hope to round up somebody who can give some clue to the barn-burners.

Mrs. J. L. Bradley, of Watchung avenue, is ill with an attack of the grip.

DIED.

BURNS—Suddenly, on Thursday, March 28, 1907, at the residence of her parents, Pemberton avenue, Plainfield, N. J., Ellen V., daughter of Thomas and Ellen E. Burns. Notice of funeral hereafter.

J. B. DUKE WILL TOUR EUROPE.

Not Known Whether Mrs. Inman Will Be in Party.

Following the rumor from Atlanta, Ga., of the engagement of James B. Duke, of Raritan, president of the American Tobacco Company, to Mrs. Margaret VanDyke Inman, widow of the late William Inman, of New York, is the statement given out that Mr. Duke is now preparing for an extensive trip through Europe with a party of friends.

The party will start in May, and Mr. Duke will take his collection of costly touring cars along for the accommodation of his friends. It is not known whether Mrs. Inman is to be a member of the party.

Mr. Duke, contrary to his custom, has not laid out any new work on his 2,000 acre estate for the summer. The extensive improvements started last season will be completed during his absence and the place will be put in shape for his reception on his return from Europe.

The million-dollar mansion which Mr. Duke planned to build after his marriage to Lillian M. Duke, has never been started, although an elaborate site surrounded with Italian gardens, lakes and fountains has long been prepared for it.

Tax Collector John W. Murray, Jr., went to Atlantic City today to remain until Monday. Mrs. Murray has been at the shore for a week or more.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

Asbury Minister Accused of Having Two Wives.

Asbury Park, March 28.—Charged with having two wives living, the Rev. Edward D. Drumgoole, pastor of the Mt. Pisgah Baptist church, of this city, was taken before Justice Borde Tuesday and held for the grand jury. William H. Minyard, a West Side grocery man, discovered Rev. Drumgoole's original wife, and a certified copy of the minister's marriage certificate. She is said to be living in seclusion near the pastor's home, where he resides with wife No. 2, whom he brought here from Washington a year ago.

The pastor's congregation is all agog over the scandal. Of late his flock has been divided, and Minyard, the complainant, is said to be one of his bitterest opponents.

His friends claim the charge is intended to force his resignation.

The pastor asserts his innocence, and has employed a lawyer.

"GOING ON" A HUNDRED.

Elizabeth Man Passes Ninety-ninth Milestone, Hale and Hearty.

Elizabeth, March 28.—The oldest man in this city is Edward VanPelt, of 223 Oak street, where he is living with his second wife and his eldest son. He is now in hisc 100th year, having celebrated his 99th birthday anniversary Monday.

Mr. VanPelt has been married twice, and is the father of fifteen children, six of whom are living. Notwithstanding his great age Mr. Van Pelt is hale and hearty, and enjoys excellent health. His hearing is unimpaired.

Mr. Van Pelt was born on Staten Island almost opposite the present ferry, and has lived in this city about fifty-five years. He knew every man, woman and child in the lower section of the city, when there were very few houses below Union Square. In his younger days he was a shad fisherman.

Tenebrae Sung at St. Mary's.

Following the annual custom, the Tenebrae was sung in St. Mary's church by the altar boys and male choir. Fathers Delehanty and Sciola conducted the service. It will be continued tonight and tomorrow night.

March 31 (Easter Sunday—Missions): "New Life For the World."

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

Rom. vi, 4-14; Jer. xvi, 19-21; Hos. ii, 23; II Tim. i, 9, 10.

This is the gladdest, brightest day this world has ever seen because more men are clearly seeing that there is new light for all the world and are setting themselves more resolutely than ever before to carry that light to all who sit in darkness and are also finding out more practical means of doing that work of enlightening the darkness.

Then, again, we are a little nearer the consummation of all things. The end is actually a little nearer. The judgment hastens, and this world age is closer to its termination, when the Master shall return according to His promise to receive us unto Himself.

The Christian church has been slow in recognizing her mission to carry the gospel to all the world. She is not yet fully aroused to the task; has not fully put forth her strength and adopted the wisest means to accomplish her Christ appointed mission; but she is farther advanced than ever before.

We begin to see it clearly at last. Christ died for the race, for all men. He came to seek and save the lost. The most degraded are as much within the reach of His mercy as the more cultivated. He saved us. He saved our fathers. What were our ancestors a few generations back but half naked, painted savages? The only thing which lifted us out of our savagery was the gospel of Jesus Christ preached by faithful Christian missionaries. If God could in the course of a few generations, comparatively, lift us from the hole of that pit and put us on the high places of power in the earth, can He not lift up the other people who are now sitting in degradation?

One lesson we are beginning to learn from the story of the past—the people to whom the light comes must either rise and follow or forever perish from the earth. This has been the fate of all peoples in the times gone by. It is today going on in the world with the inexorableness of fate.

The fresh spirit of brotherliness is kindling as never before in the hearts of men and finding new ways of expression not only through their lips, but in their deeds. We can no longer sit down in contentment when we know the truth, when we are blessed with peace. We are constrained to go out and find our brother who has been stripped by thieves and is half dead and bring him in and care for him. Our heart is in this. The Master has been here.

It means that even a king cannot with impunity treat with cruelty a degraded savage people in the wilds of Africa for his own gain and be left alone. Does some one ask whose business is it? Well, wait a bit and you may see that it is the business of the church of God, and that means it is the business of the whole civilized world, and they will attend to it also.

Whoever is in the dark must have the light. The Christ has come. He walks this earth today in power. The old mountains are being brought low, the valleys are beginning to fill, the rough places are getting a little less rough, some stones have been dug out and on the whole the highway is coming along in good shape.

Light for all the world! Are you helping to spread it as well as you can?

May this present year see the morning mount all up the sky as never before. God hasten the perfect day, the day of earth's full redemption!

Carrying Our Sorrows to God.

As thou learnest this lesson, to carry all thy sorrows to God, and lie at thy Saviour's feet, and spread thy grief before Him, thou wilt find a calm come over thee, thou knowest not whence. Thou wilt see through the clouds a bright opening, small perhaps and quickly closed, but telling of eternal rest and everlasting day and of the depth of the love of God. Thy heart will still rise and sink, but it will rise and sink not restlessly nor waywardly, not in violent gusts of passion, but resting in stillness on the bosom of the ocean of the love of God. Then shalt thou learn not to endure only patiently, but, in everything against thy will, humbly and quickly to see and to love the loving will of God. Thy faith and thy love and thy hope will grow the more thou seest the work of God with thee. Thou wilt joy in thy sorrow, and thy sorrow will be turned into joy.—Edward B. Pusey.

A Simple Measure.

God measures our work for Him by one simple measure—not by how large it is or how long it takes to do it or how much it is noticed, but by the love for Him that makes us do it. A great love for God is the secret of every great Christian life from Augustine to Livingstone.—Forward.

Right Thoughts For the Mind.

Fill your mind with the hosts of health thoughts, beauty thoughts, achievement thoughts, and you will become physically strong, mentally vigorous, worldly successful and spiritually happy.—John Rumley Askin.

I Will Not Worry.

I will not worry; I will trust.
God knows I am a child of dust;
He knows I long to do His will,
Though darkness closes round me still

I will not worry; I will hope.
Perhaps upon some sunny slope
The flowers are waiting for me there,
While here the hills are bleak and bare.

I will not worry; I will pray.
I know God cares for me today.
And, trusting ever in His love,
I'll tread the path that leads above.
—Hattie Dusenbury in Christian Messenger.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 31.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Home missions; the progress of the Afro-American.—Ps. cxvi, 15-19.

According to the census of 1900, there are in round numbers 10,000,000 Afro-Americans in our country, 9,000,000 in the south, mostly the descendants of former slaves, and 1,000,000 in the north. The number of this race in our land emphasizes the great problem that presents itself in their presence here. This is especially true of the race problem in the south, which is becoming more serious as time passes by. The negro question once endangered the life of the nation, and it is still so serious a problem as to enlist the interest and assistance of all who have the welfare of the nation at heart as well as the interests of humanity and the progress of the kingdom of God. The soul of a negro in America is as well worth saving as one in Africa, and while we should send missionaries to Africa, we are not to neglect the Afro-Americans. The American nation is in debt to the negroes of our land. They came here not of their own accord, but were forcibly brought and for over two centuries lived as bondsmen and slaves. But God "has loosed their bonds." He has set them free. But freedom was not their only need. It was the first step in real progress, but it is not the last, and in this work Christian missions must bear an important part.

That there is need of progress among the freedmen is not to be wondered at. The descendants of Africans, held for over 200 years in slavery, could not be expected to have attained to high standards along any lines. We are not, therefore, surprised that at the close of the war they were in a most pitiable condition and needed a helping hand if they were to be a blessing rather than a curse to our land. The negro character is a strange mixture. It is mild, yet often ferocious; innocent and again most vicious; strong in natural religious tendencies, yet largely devoid of the great essential of true religion, stability of moral character. In addition, the average negro is shiftless, lazy and improvident. The negro is very literal in "not caring for the morrow." These are the things that placed a great problem before church and state when 3,000,000 such people by the stroke of a pen passed from slavery to freedom. They were more like children than full-grown men and women and needed careful training, and this is still more so today, since the 3,000,000 in the southland have increased to 9,000,000.

But the God who loosed the bonds of the freedmen has blessed them. They have made and are making progress. And in this work of development the church of Christ has taken and still must take a prominent part. They are the greatest in numbers of our exceptional populations, next to the foreigners in our land, and they must be led to higher ground along all important lines.

The needs of the negro indicate the lines along which he has progressed and should continue to do so. The three most important of these are industrial, intellectual and religious. And in all three they have made progress. (1) The negro is progressing industrially. This is the special feature of the work of Booker T. Washington at Tuskegee. But years before our mission schools were doing the same kind of work. Negro boys were being taught all kinds of trades and negro girls the domestic arts. The results are most satisfactory, and still greater fruits will be reaped in the future. (2) The negro is progressing intellectually. The work of education is being rapidly pushed. The purpose of an education is also being better understood. It used to be supposed that all educated negroes should be ministers or politicians, but today the educated negro is not above manual labor, is entering all the professions, and, above all, many are giving their service for small remuneration for the education and betterment of their own race. Girls graduating in our mission schools go back to their homes and teach the children of their own race, many of them at great personal sacrifice. (3) The negro is progressing religiously. Character is the essential need of this people. The development of head and hand is not enough. The heart also must be reached. The negro's religion consisted formerly largely in emotion. Morality had practically no place in it. But under the influence of a better class of missionaries and ministers the negro is coming to understand that character is an important part of religion.

But, while progress has been made, there is still a great work to be done, and as Christian and American citizens we should be intensely interested in this work. No race or sectional prejudice should interfere with interest in this problem. It is a gigantic one, but "with God all things are possible." Let us therefore do all in our power to make this people free indeed and worthy of their freedom.

THE PLUM TREE

AUTHOR OF THE COST. THE DELUGE. Etc.

I had said nothing to my mother, because I did not wish to raise her hopes—or her objections. I now decided to be silent until the matter should be settled. The next day but one Fessenden came, bad news in his face. "The old man like you," he began, "but—"

I had not then learned to control my expression. I could not help showing what ruins of lofty castles that ominous "but" dropped upon my head.

"You'll soon be used to getting it in the neck if you stay in politics," said Fessenden. "There's not much else. But you ain't so bad off as you think. The old man decided that he can afford to run one of his reliable hacks for the place. He's suddenly found a way of sinking his hooks into the head devil of the reformer's and Ben Cass' chief backer, Singer—you know him—the lawyer."

Singer was one of the leaders of the state bar and superintendent of our sunday school.

"Dominick has made De Forest give Singer the law business of the Gas and Street Railway company, so Singer is coming over to us." Buck grinned. "He has found that 'local interests must be subordinated to the broader interests of the party in state and nation.'"

I had been reading in our party's morning paper what a wise and patriotic move Singer had made in advising the putting off of a reform campaign—and I had believed in the sincerity of his motive!

Fessenden echoed my sneer, and went on: "He's a rotten hypocrite; but then, we can always pull the bung out of those reform movements that way."

"You said it isn't as bad for me as it seems," I interrupted.

"Oh, yes. You're to be on the ticket. The old man's going to send you to the legislature—lower house, of course."

I did not cheer up. An assemblyman got only a thousand a year.

"The pay ain't much," confessed Buck, "but there ain't nothing to do except vote according to order. Then there's a great deal to be picked up on the side—the old man understands that others have got to live besides him. Salaries in politics don't cut no figure nowadays, anyhow. It's the chance the place gives for pickups."

At first I flatly refused, but Buck pointed out that I was foolish to throw away the benefits sure to come through the "old man's" liking for me. "He'll take care of you," he assured me. "He's got you booked for a quick rise." My poverty was so pressing that I had not the courage to refuse—the year and a half of ferocious struggle and the longing to marry Betty Crosby had combined to break my spirit. I believe it is Johnson who says the worst feature of genteel poverty is its power to make one ridiculous. I don't think so. No; its worst feature is its power to make one afraid.

That night I told my mother of my impending "honors." We were in the dark on our little front porch. She was silent, and presently I thought I heard her suppress a sigh. "You don't like it, mother?" said I.

"No, Harvey, but—I see no light ahead in our direction, and I guess one should always steer toward what light there is." She stood behind my chair, put her hands on my shoulders, and rested her chin lightly on the top of my head. "Besides, I can trust you. Whatever direction you take, you're sure to win in the end."

I was glad it was dark. An hour after I went to bed I heard some one stirring in the house—it seemed to me there was a voice, too. I rose and went into the hall, and so, softly to my mother's room. Her door was ajar. She was near the window, kneeling there, praying—for me.

I had not been long in the legislature before I saw that my position was even more contemptible than I anticipated. So contemptible, indeed, was it that, had I not been away from home and among those as basely situated as myself, it would have been intolerable—a convict infinitely prefers the penitentiary to the chain gang. Then, too, there was consolation in the fact that the people, my fellow citizens, in their stupidity and ignorance about political conditions, did not realize what public office had come to mean. At home they believed what the machine-controlled newspapers said of me—that I was a "manly, independent young man," that I was "making a vigorous stand for what was honest in public affairs," that I was the "honorable and distinguished son of an honorable and distinguished father." How often I read those and similar eulogies of young men just starting in public life! And is it not really amazing that the people believe, that they never say to themselves: "But, if he were actually what he so loudly professes to be, how could he have got public office from a boss and a machine?"

I soon gave up trying to fool myself into imagining I was the servant of the people by introducing or speaking for petty little popular measures. I saw clearly that graft was the backbone, the whole skeleton of legislative business, and that its fleshly cover of pretended public service could be seen only by the blind. I saw, also, that no one in the machine of either party had any real power. The state boss of our party, United States Senator Dunkirk, was a creature and servant of corporations. Silliman, the state boss of the opposition party, was the same, but got less for his services because his party was hopelessly in the minority, and its machine could be useful only as a sort of supplement and scapegoat.

With the men at the top, Dunkirk and Silliman, mere lackeys, I saw my own future plainly enough. I saw myself crawling on year after year—crawling one of two roads. Either I should become a political scullion, a wretched party hack, despising myself and despised by those who used me, or I should develop into a lackey's lackey, or a plain lackey, the lieutenant of a boss or a boss, so-called—a derisive name, really, when the only kind of bossship open was head political procurer to one or more rich corporations or groups of corporations. I felt I should probably become a scullion, as I thought I had no taste or instinct for business, and as I was developing some talent for "mixing," and for dispensing "hot air" from the stump.

I turned these things over and over in my mind with an energy that sprang from shame, from the knowledge of what my mother would think if she knew the truth about her son, and from a realization that I was no nearer marrying Betty Crosby than before. At last I wrought myself into a sullen fury beneath a calm surface. The lessons in self-restraint and self-hiding I learned in that first of my two years as assemblyman have been invaluable.

When I entered upon my second and last winter I was outwardly as serene as—as a volcano on the verge of eruption.

CHAPTER III.

Sayler "Draws the Line."

In February the railways traversing our state sent to the capitol a bill that had been drawn by our ablest lawyers and reviewed by the craftiest of the great corporation lawyers of New York city. Its purpose, most shrewdly and slyly concealed was to exempt the railways from practically all taxation. It was so subtly worded that this would be disclosed only when the companies should be brought to court for refusing to pay their usual share of the taxes. Such measures are usually "straddled" through the legislature—that is, neither party takes the responsibility, but the boss of each machine assigns to vote for them all the men whose seats are secure beyond any ordinary assault of public indignation. In this case, of the 91 members of the lower house, 32 were assigned by Dunkirk and 17 by Silliman to make up a majority with three to spare.

My boss, Dominick, got wind that Dunkirk and Silliman were cutting an extra melon of uncommon size. He descended upon the capitol and served notice on Dunkirk that the 11 Dominick men assigned to vote for the bill would vote against it unless he got $7,000 apiece for them—$77,000. Dunkirk needed every one of Dominick's men to make up his portion of the majority; he yielded after trying in vain to reduce the price. All Dominick would say to him on that point, so I heard afterward, was:

"Every day you put me off I go up a thousand dollars a head."

We who were to be voted so profitably for Dunkirk, Silliman, Dominick, and the railroads, learned what was going on—Silliman went on a "tear" and talked too much. Nine of us, not including myself, got together and sent Cassidy, member from the Second Jackson county district, to Dominick to plead for a share. I happened to be with him in the Capital City Hotel bar when Cassidy came up, and hemming and hawing, explained how he and his fellow insurgents felt.

Dominick's veins seemed cords straining to bind down a demon struggling to escape. "It's back to the bench you go, Pat Cassidy—back to the bench where I found you," he snarled, with a volley of profanity and sewage. "I don't know nothing about this here bill except that it's for the good of the party. Go back to that gang of damned wharf rats, and tell 'em, if I hear another squeak, I'll put 'em where I got 'em."

Cassidy shrank away with a furtive glance of envy and hate at me, whom Dominick treated with peculiar consideration—I think it was because I was the only man of education of any pretensions to "family" in official position in his machine. He used to like to class himself and me together as "we gentlemen," in contrast to "them muckers," meaning my colleagues.

Next day, just before the voting began, Dominick seated himself at the front of the governor's gallery—the only person in it. I see him now as he looked that day—black and heavy-jawed and scowling, leaning forward and both forearms on the railing, and his big, flat chin resting on his upturned, stubby thumbs. He was there to see that each of us, his creatures, dependent absolutely upon him for our political lives, should vote as he had sold us in block. There was no chance to shirk or even to squirm. As the roll-call proceeded, one after another, seven of us, obeyed that will frowning from the gallery—jumped through the hoop of fire under the quivering lash. I was the eighth on the roll.

Sayler!" How my name echoed through that horrible silence!

I could not answer. Gradually every face turned toward me—I could see them, could feel them, and, to make bad enough worse, I yielded to an imperious fascination, the fascination of that incarnation of brute-power—power of muscle and power of will. I turned my eyes upon the amazed, furious eyes of my master. It seemed to me that his lips must give passage to the oaths and filth swelling beneath his chest, and seething behind his eyes.

"Sayler!" repeated the clerk in a voice that exploded within me.

"No!" I shouted—not in answer to the clerk, but in denial of that insolent master-to-dog command from the beast in the gallery.

The look in his eyes changed to relief and contemptuous approval. There was a murmur of derision from my fellow members. Then I remembered that a negative was, at that stage of the bill, a vote for it—I had done just the reverse of what I intended. The roll-call went on, and I sat debating with myself. Prudence, inclination, the natural timidity of youth, the utter futility of opposition, fear, above all else, fear—these joined in bidding me let my vote stand as cast. On the other side stood my notion of self-respect. I felt I must then and there and for ever decide whether I was a thing or a man. Yet, again and again I had voted for measures just as corrupt—had voted for them with no protest beyond a cynical shrug and a wry look. Every man, even the laxest, if he is to continue to "count as one," must have a point where he draws the line beyond which he will not go. The liar must have things he will not lie about, the thief things he will not steal, the compromiser things he will not compromise, the practical man of the pulpit, in politics, in business, in the professor's chair, or editorial tribune, things he will not sacrifice, whatever the cost. That is "practical honor." I had reached my line of practical honor, my line between possible compromise and certain demoralization. And I realized it.

When the roll-call ended I rose, and, in a voice that I knew was firm and clear, said: "Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative by mistake. I wish my vote to be recorded in the affirmative. I am against the bill."

Amid a fearful silence I took my seat. With a suddenness that made me leap, a wild and crazy assemblyman, noted as the crank of that session, emitted a fantastic yell of enthusiastic approval. Again there was that silence; then the tension of the assembly, floor and crowded galleries, burst forth in a storm of hysterical laughter.

I wish I could boast how brave I felt as I reversed my vote, how indifferent to that tempest of mockery, and how strong as I went forth to meet my master and hear my death-warrant But I can't, in honesty—I'm only a human being, not a hero, and these are my confessions, not my professions. So I must relate that, though the voice that requested the change of vote was calm and courageous, the man behind it was agitated and sick with dread. There may be those who have the absolute courage some men boast—if not directly, then by implication in despising him who has it not. For myself, I must say that I never made a venture—and my life has been a succession of ventures, often with my whole stake upon the table—I never made a venture that I did not have a sickening sensation at the heart. My courage, if it can be called by so sounding a name, has been in daring to make the throw when every atom of me was shrieking: "You'll lose! You'll be ruined!"

DIAMOND DUST.

The announcement in The Daily Press yesterday of the doing at Saturday night's baseball conference at Westfield, has been the sole topic of town talk. Even the preserves in the pantries about town have been jarred.

A hasty meeting has been called to appoint a committee to select bat carriers, an official knocker and distribute passes to all the job office printers throughout the county. It is reported that special privileges will be extended to barber shops, where the boss makes it his business to talk up the team.

A rumor that hasn't been chained is that George Mallen has had a collect telegram from Matty McIntyre asking that a left-fielder be not selected at present. Recreation Park is to be massaged and manicured to remove the wrinkles and creases of the 1905 campaign.

Tommy Barry has written that Westfield sounds good to him and welcome to the league has been received from both Dover and Summit. Suggestion has been advanced that no player be signed who has the habit of asking in the fifth inning what time the next train leaves for New York. Games with colored teams will be tabooed. The indications are that the enthusiasm will bound on and on and that by Saturday night's organization meeting there won't be even a frog's croak in opposition.

GOLF.

The board of governors of the Park Golf Club will probably arrange to hold a meeting next week for the election of officers. Charles W. McCutchen is now the president and it is understood that he will be re-elected.

David Shay, who has been at the Jekyl Hyde Club, Augustine, Fla., all winter, is expected to return to the Plainfield Country Club early next month.

So that golfers may keep their clubs swinging while the public course is resting a short nine hole round has been laid out on the parade ground at Van Coltlandt Park. It affords good practice and over 200 players used it on Sunday. Park Commissioner Berry is having the weeds and coarse grass ripped out by the roots on the putting greens of the public course, and after spreading them with prepared loam the greens are to be seeded. Meantime the course will be closed until May, but if the promised care is devoted to the putting greens the hundreds who use the links will not complain. The Forest Park course comes to hand earlier and will probably be in public use again by April 15.

The Canadian amateur championship will be held at the Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto, July 1 to 6, the week before the national amateur championship at the Euclid Country Club, Cleveland. George S. Lyon, winner of the title last year at Ottawa, has revealed his calibre here by twice beating H. Chandler Egan and by his finish against Eben M. Byers at Englewood. Lyon beat Douglas Laird, the Princeton long driver, in the final at Ottawa by 5 up and 4 to play.

Y. M. C. A. ATHLETES ASSIGNED TO EVENTS

HOW THE LOCAL TALENT WILL BE APPLIED AT STATE MEET.

Arrangements are being made by the basketball committee of the Sunday-school athletic league for an outdoor basketball tournament among teams representing the schools in the league. The games will be played in the yard back of the Y. M. C. A. building.

The weight of the players will be unlimited. Entries will close on April 3. James McClymont is in charge of the entry lists. He sent notices to the schools in the league today.

The winning Sunday-school will receive a trophy. If interest enough is manifested, each of the winning players will get individual prizes.

The field is to be rolled and levelled, and put in first class shape.

HOPE VS. Y. M. C. A.

Chapel Basketball Team to Play Association Five Next Monday.

The newly developed Hope chapel basketball team, captained by Walter E. Cahoone, the physical director of the Hope gymnasium, will play the Y. M. C. A. five on the association floor Monday night. Capt. Cahoone was a member of the Y. M. C. A. several years ago, when it ranked as one of the fastest teams in the State.

The fives will line up as follows: Hope—Cahoone, McNiece, Farrow, Craig, McComb; Y. M. C. A.—Aalholm, Collier, Gilmore, Gavett, Miner.

P. H. S. '08 Wins.

The junior class of the Plainfield High School defeated the sophomores in basketball yesterday by the score of 22 to 13. This is the first in the series of inter-class games that the sophomores have lost. Two more will decide which class receives the cup. The classes now stand: Sophomores won 4, lost 1; Juniors won 3, lost 2; Seniors won 2, lost 2; Freshmen won 0, lost 4.

FOR MORE EQUITABLE STATE FUNDS DIVISION.

Silzer Resolution Provides for Senate Commission to Investigate and Report.

Trenton, March 28.—Senator Silzer introduced a resoloution in the Senate yesterday providing for a committee of three Senators to investigate and report to the next session a more equitable disposition of State funds and a plan to obtain a higher rate of interest.

This was preceded by a preamble setting forth that, excepting in three cases, the average of these deposits in the banks of the State last year is $13,000. The exceptions are the Mechanics' National Bank of Trenton, $470,000 the Trenton Banking Company $500,000 and the Fidelity Trust Company of Newark $400,000.

Elizabeth Democrats' Outing.

Elizabeth, March 28.—Standing committees for the year were appointed Monday night at the meeting of the Democratic City Committee. In addition the report of the special outing committee was received, in which it was said that a contract had been made with the Iron Steamboat Company for the use of the steamboat Sirius for the outing, which is to obe held at Witzel's grove on August 22. The special committee was discharged with a vote of thanks. The committee adopted resolutions on the death of eGorge A. Ford, formerly a member of the city committee.

38 Markets in the State.

TO THE PUBLIC!

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company offer for subscription its stock in amounts to suit purchasers from $25 upward.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of erecting a dam to accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, for the purpose of ice cutting, and also erecting houses for storing the same. The lake thus formed will be approximately a mile long and a quarter of a mile at its widest part, and will yield a large quantity of ice.

The company, under the management of a Board of able Directors, will endeavor to reduce the cost of construction, maintenance, etc., to a minimum, and thus be able to fill the demand of the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the remainder of the ice to outside markets at prices which will yield large profits.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors to sell the shares of the capital stock of the Company to residents of Plainfield, North Plainfield and vicinity, and thus allow them the privilege of sharing in the profits of the Company in the shape of dividends at the end of each year. To place this plan within the reach of all consumers of ice and to carry out the idea of a mutual Company, the Company will issue its stock in $25 shares.

As the Company is not to issue any bonds against its property it is obvious that each and all share holders will be doubly secured and will have first claim on the property and the works, the same being free and clear in every respect, and further are assured against loss in each step that the Company takes in bringing the project to completion as follows: First. The Company has already received offers for lake site at a considerable advance on the price that the stockholders will pay for it.

Second. The price paid for building dam will be over four times secured by the lake thus formed, a body of pure water of this size within so short a distance of New York being extremely valuable.

Third. Money expended for icehouses will complete the plant. The completed plant such as is proposed to erect should be worth on conservative estimation three times the total capitalization of the Company.

In securing the Directors of this Company, special effort was taken to get men of financial standing and ability, of character and good repute; men not only at the head of different prosperous corporations but also men holding public respect and confidence. This was done as the Company intends to be a People's Company, and, therefore, wishes to be directed by men of the people and by the people themselves.

The officers of the Company are:

President, Mr. Henry C. Wicker, Treasurer and Secretary of the Nassau Bond Company.

Vice-President, Mr. Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

Treasurer, Mr. J. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Secretary, Mr. John J. Lordan, a Lawyer in New York City.

The Directors of the Company are:

Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

J. F. MacDonald, Director of City National Bank.

H. C. Wicker, Secretary and Treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company.

C. M. Wicker, President of the Nassau Bond Company.

E. G. F. du Mazuel, President of the Consolidated Engineering Company of America.

Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock of the Company at the office of Mr. W. dela R. Anderson, 208 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., at which offices subscription blanks and all detailed information relative to the above may be obtained.

The Company has chosen a local bank in which all funds, securities and moneys are to be deposited and through which all the Company's business is to be done.

ON AN ALLIGATOR HUNT

Former Mayor Saunders Had Thrilling Experiences while at Panama.

A DANGEROUS SPORT

One Member of Party Got Frightened and Threatened to Kill Guide If He Got Near the 'Gators.

Former Mayor W. L. Saunders, of the borough, who returned home Wednesday from a trip to Panama, gained a wide knowledge of conditions in the isthmus country during his stay but experiences which he encountered on the side were the sort that make the ordinary man feel like remaining in prosaic New Jersey.

There was something new every day to vary the monotony of business matters but the former chief executive of the borough had one experience which stands out above all the rest and makes his eye flash when he tells about it. It was an alligator hunt, a pastime common to the Panamanians and one which they always try to get visitors interested in but as a rule without success. Looking for grizzlies in the Rock Mountains and chasing catamounts in the North woods are child's play compared with it as there is nothing more dangerous on land and water than a wounded saurian. The gigantic tail swinging about would crush a boat like an egg shell and woe betide the luckless adventurer who gets hurled within a hundred feet of it.

Mr. Saunders reached the isthmus at the same time the Congressional party did and it was while going through the canal zone that some of the more venturesome spirits suggested the alligator hunt. He agreed to go with several other northerners and they sallied out under the guidance of Captain Stanton, U. S. A., a Spanish War veteran of Rough Rider fame. The boat was sent up one of the deep streams that abound in that section and it hadn't gone a great distance before the excitement was encountered in big chunks.

A sudden turn in the stream brought the party within sight of all the 'gators they cared to look after in one day. The ugly mouths with their rows of gleaming teeth gaped at them and the eyes flashed angrily as they approached within firing distance. A native guide propelled the boat about so that four of them could be shot, three departing for the 'gater hereafter without any especial fuss but the fourth admitted defeat only after a furious struggle, during which everyone of the amateur hunters would have given his last dollar to be a thousand miles away.

He was an unusually big fellow—his actual measurement being twelve feet six inches. A bullet struck him in the eye and almost the same instant he gave a leap out of the water and made a complete turn in the air. It brought him within striking distance of the frail boat and the danger made more than one face blanch for the time being. The saurian thrashed the water until it boiled in white foam and threatened every instant to capsize the craft. It was impossible to land another shot in a vulnerable spot as the convulsive leaps were too fast and anyway all the hunters cared about was getting as far away as possible.

The native guide was complacent all through the excitement and wanted to go nearer but was halted in a manner he hadn't counted on. One of the Congressmen who was the more badly frightened, jumped toward him in a white heat of anger and shouted:

"If you go a step nearer I'll shoot you dead."

The guide wasn't taking any chances and got away from the huge tail beating about like a windmill in a Kansas gale. The 'gator's struggles ceased a moment or so later and he was gotten on shore. The carcass was photographed with the members of the party behind it to show that when the size was mentioned the truthful camera would corroborate the story.

"The Panama canal is a great undertaking," said Mr. Saunders in speaking of the trip last night, "but there are others and alligator hunting is one of them."

Sir Knights Will Attend Funeral.

The Sir Knights of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will attend the funeral services of the late Sir Knight Harry A. Smith, former captain general of Trinity Commandery, at St. John's Episcopal church, Somerville, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Sir Knights will attend in citizens dress.

Mrs. Martin's Funeral.

In the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends, the funeral of Mrs. Marietta E. Martin was held at her late home on Clinton avenue, yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. C. Blauvelt was in charge. The interment was made privately.

FINE LENTEN RECITAL AT BAPTIST CHURCH

MUSICAL SERVICE OF A HIGH ORDER ENJOYED BY A LARGE CONGREGATION.

The Lenten musical service given by the choir of the First Baptist church, last night, was beautiful in its simplicity, and impressive in its rendition. Howard M. Case was at the organ, while Edward J. Fitzhugh was the conductor. The opening number was "Adagio," in A flat major, Beethoven, by the Schill Quartette, and then the choir sang "Messe Solonnelle," Gounod, followed by "Sanctus" and "Agnus Dei." In these selections the full strength and exceptional training of the chorus were possibly heard to the best advantage. The various parts were well balanced, the volume and tone being noteworthy.

The rendition of "Meditation," Bach-Gounod, violin, harp and organ, was most effective. "Inflammatus," ("Stabat Mater,") Dvorak, was the only solo number given to Miss Gertrude Hinz, the contralto soloist, and it afforded an excellent opportunity to hear her rich and powerful voice at its best. Her interpretation was perfect.

The first part of the programme was concluded with two numbers by the Schill Quartette. "Air," Bach, and "Adagio Lamentoso," Bohemian-Melody, which were given in a charming manner.

The last half of the programme was devoted to the rendition of "The Seven Last Words," by Dubois. This is not new to music-lovers here, as it was given a year ago by the choir on a similar occasion. However, it was fully enjoyed throughout. Special mention is due to Miss Louella C. Harris, soprano; William Holmes, baritone, and George Smith, tenor, for their work, as well as the entire chorus. Upon the soloists devolved most of the work and their singing was faultless.

From the first word, "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do," until the seventh, "It is finished," true appreciation was shown. Nothing was left to be desired in the work of Miss Harris, Mr. Holmes and Mr. Smith. They were in fine voice and displayed that true spirit so necessary to such a work. It was doubly impressive by the accompaniment of the string quartette and harp, bringing out effectively all the finer lines of the composition.

The soloists were Miss Louella C. Harris, soprano; Miss Gertrude Hinz, contralto; William Holmes, baritone; George Smith, tenor. The quartette was composed of Otto K. Schill, first violin; Ernest Roentgen, second violin; Carl Schoner, viola; Udo Gossweiler, violincello. Mr. Setaro was the harpist; Howard M. Case was at the organ and Mr. Fitzhugh conducted.

"THE JUMPERS" JUMP.

Peculiar Sect Leap From Reform Hall to Marsh Building.

"The Jumpers," or "Pillars of Fire" people, who have been holding services in Reform Hall during the past two weeks, have moved to the large hall on the second floor of the Marsh building at Park avenue and Second street, where the meetings will continue as before.

Since coming to Plainfield the peculiar sect has not made much progress and few, if any, converts have been reported. Their strange and unusual form of worship has attracted a few people, who have been more interested in the "jumping" than the preaching. It is said that the reason a change of meeting place was made was due to the heavy expense incurred at Reform Hall.

Constable Withdraws Charge.

Robert L. Pierce, the New Market constable, withdrew his charge of assault against Preston LaBaw, in the court of Justice vonMinden, at Dunellen, yesterday. The hearing had been adjourned twice on account of Mr. Pierce's illness. He sent word yesterday that he had a real estate deal on, and could not take the time to appear. Harry C. Runyon was in court ready to defend Mr. LaBaw against the charge.

Rev. A. J. Bliss Accepts Call.

Rev. Audley J. Bliss, pastor of the M. E. church at Rahway, has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, provided the Bishop consents. He was waited upon Monday night by a committee from the Monroe Avenue church, who extended him a call. Yesterday he informed the committee of his acceptance. Mr. Bliss was also wanted by the Methodists of Somerville.

Planning for Plainfield's Exhibit.

Dr. Henry M. Maxson, superintendent of the Plainfield Public Schools, was in Trenton on Wednesday conferring with officials in the office of the State Board of Education about sending work from the Plainfield schools to the Jamestown Exposition.

CITY CLERKS' RICH HARVEST IS CUT OFF

BILL PASSED BY LEGISLATURE REGULATES THEIR ELECTION FEES.

For the purpose of fixing a uniform price for the services of clerks through the county on election day, a bill introduced by State Senator E. R. Ackerman in the Senate of the New Jersey Legislature, and passed without opposition, allows clerks the sum of $10 in each election district, which is according to the provision made in Essex county. The charges made by clerks, heretofore, have varied from $5 to $30.

The question of a change was brought about as a result of the bill presented to the Board of Freeholders of Union county by the clerk in Elizabeth, following the last election. His bill was for $900 and at once there was opposition to paying it. It was then planned to have a bill introduced making fixed charges of $10 for the services of a clerk in each election district.

The Board of Freeholders is behind the bill and it is believed that it will pass the House and become a law. If the change is made it will mean quite a saving to the taxpayers throughout the county, besides it will provide that all clerks receive the same fee, thus eliminating any possibility for complaint on the part of the clerks.

BURGESS, CHAMPION Y. M. C. A. ATHLETE

WON THE FINAL EVENT IN COMPETITION-BANKS SECOND, DOUGLASS THIRD

Burgess won the running high jump from the springboard, and with it the championship, in the Y. M. C. A. all around athletic competition, last night. He leaped six feet six inches. Douglass was second, six feet four inches.

Burgess had a big lead, and didn't need the first to win out. He has shown himself to be the best all-around athlete in the association, his victory being clean-cut and decisive. He is one of the men on whom Physical Director Listman places great reliance for telling work in the State meet at Paterson Saturday night.

The two men next in rank to Burgess in the competition, Banks and Douglass, held their standing in that order. Burgess will receive a gold medal, Banks a silver medal, and Douglass one of bronze.

The meet has been very successful in developing athletic material. It brought out the men who have won three dual meets.

Y. W. C. A. Meeting.

Miss Holinquist and C. C. Michiner, the latter associated with Y. M. C. A. work for fifteen years, addressed a meeting of those interested in the organization of a Young Women's Christian Association, held at the home of Mrs. Percy H. Stewart, on West Eighth street, last night. There were no definite results from the meeting, it being chiefly for the purpose of informal discussion of the subject. No reports were presented by the various committee now engaged in attending to the various preliminary details, but the outlook appeared encouraging. If a sufficient amount of money is subscribed and the membership reaches a certain number, the committees will feel warranted in going ahead.

Funeral Will Be Private.

The funeral of Miss Ellen V. Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burns, who drank carbolic acid with effect Wednesday afternoon, will be held at the parents' home and will be private. The family is grief-stricken because of the girl's action and it has cast a gloom over her large circle of acquaintances.

Mrs. Whitenack's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Whitenack, who died suddenly yesterday morning, will be held at the home of her brother-in-law, John Whitenack, of Grandview avenue, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Whitenack was seventy-three years old and had lived in Plainfield for a long time.

Funeral of Infant Son.

The funeral of Chester A. Higgins, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron M. Higgins, was held at the parents' home on Liberty street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, was in charge, and interment was made at Hillside.

High School Reception.

A seception for members and former members of the Plainfield High School will be held in the auditorium on Saturday night, April 6, from 8 to 10 o'clock. An admission fee will be charged and the proceeds will go to the Athletic Association fund.

OBSERVING GOOD FRIDAY

Catholics and Protestants are Appropriately Keeping Day on Which Christ Died.

SERVICES IN CHURCHES

Union Service at Crescent Avenue Church Tonight—Episcopalians and Catholics Held Services Today.

Good Friday is being observed in this city by all denominations of the Christian church. The usual services are being held by the Catholic and Protestant Episcopal churches, and the evangelical churches will unite tonight in an annual service.

At the three Episcopal churches, Grace, Holy Cross, and St. Stephen's, meditations, starting at 12 o'clock, will go on until 3 o'clock. At Grace church, communion was celebrated at 7 o'clock, a children's service was held at 9, morning prayer was held at 10 o'clock, and evening prayer will be said at 5. At Holy Cross church morning prayer service was held at 9:30 o'clock, a children's service at 10:30, and evening prayer and sermon will be held at 7:45 o'clock. Service was held at St. Stephen's at 12 o'clock, and evening service will be held at 7 o'clock.

All the evangelical churches will unite in a service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church at 7:45 o'clock tonight. Seven clergymen will speak.

The observance began in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church at 8 o'clock, with the Veneration of the Cross, in which a full congregation took part. The mass of the pre-sanctified followed, the responses being sung by the chancel choir. In the procession of the blessed sacrament a number of very small girls, wearing white dresses and black veils, accompanied the altar boys. After the mass the altar was stripped of ornaments and the tabernacle doors were left open. This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, there will be the Way of the Cross, for the children and those who cannot conveniently attend the service tonight. At the latter service there will be the Adoration of the Cross, the Tenebrae, with the harmonization of the Lamentations of Jeremiah by the men of the senior choir and the chancel choir. Father Bogan will preach on the Passion.

The service at St. Joseph's church this morning began at 7:30 o'clock. Prayers for the conversion of the world were offered, and a reading of the Passion followed. There was a procession of 100 children, who sang hymns and the responses proper to the day. The mass of the pre-sanctified was celebrated. Father Miller, the rector, will preach on the Passion at the service tonight.

The day brought the usual sale of hot cross buns. All the bakers made large quantities of the toothsome cakes, and all that their ovens turned out were snapped up.

Of secular interest in connection with the day is the fate of the bill to make it a legal holiday. Following the lead of the State Senate, which had already passed it, the House yesterday rushed the bill through, without a dissenting vote. Mr. Alexander, of Hudson, moved that the bill be hurried to the governor for signature, but it was pointed out that, as the hour was near 2 o'clock, the financial institutions would not hear of the law until too late to regulate their business in accordance with it, and the motion was withdrawn. The measure will probably go to the executive on Monday. It will be enforced next year.

Union Service Tonight.

The Union Good Friday service will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tonight at 8 o'clock. A number of the city pastors will speak on "The Seven Last Words," according to the annual custom. Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will preside and the offering will be for the Children's Home.

Berwind's Estate Settled.

The final accounting of the estate of John Berwind, the aged recluse who was found dead over a year ago in his home back of Scotch Plains, was filed with the court at Somerville, yesterday, by Francis J. Blatz, the administrator. The money goes to two nieces. The estate is small.

To License Counsellors.

The bill providing that attorneys who have practised for five years should be licensed as counsellors by the Governor on the recommendation of ten counsellors of ten years standing, which was defeated on Wednesday in the House at Trenton was reconsidered yesterday and passed.

—In the Easter rush don't forget that Neuman Brothers have an exceptionally fine lot of fresh vegetables and fancy fruits at this time of the year. Prices low but the quality the best.

CONTRACTOR KELLY THROWS UP THE JOB

FINDS HE CAN'T BUILD BRIDGE WALLS FOR AMOUNT HE BID.

Joseph E. Kelly, the lowest bidder for the work of constructing four wing walls on the new West End avenue bridge, his bid being $2,460, has written County Attorney W. R. Codington that he will be unable to execute the contract and withdraws his bid. Mr. Codington has informed the freeholders of Mr. Kelly's action and arrangements will be made to award the contract to the next lowest bidder.

By some it was thought that because Mr. Kelly refused the contract it would necessitate the re-advertising for bids, but Mr. Codington says that the freeholders have the authority to give the contract to the next lowest bidder, if they so desire.

At the time the contract was awarded to Mr. Kelly for $2,460 it was generally believed that his figures were too low for the work and it was the opinion of some contractors that he could make no profit. Other estimates were used as a basis. The next lowest bidder to Mr. Kelly is Arthur E. Smith, of this city, whose figures for the work according to plans No. 2 were $2,545 and he will probably get the contract.

SAVED FROM SURRENDER TO MOSQUITO HOST

SENATOR ACKERMAN COMES TO THE RESCUE OF HIS COUNTY.

Through the efforts of Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, Union county has been saved from abandonment by the forces that are lined up against the mosquito evil. When the appropriation was first reported, Union county was not included. Those in charge of the measure said there were not mosquitoes enough to combat in Union county, and the county did not need funds for that purpose. Senator Ackerman, knowing the conditions here, vigorously opposed such a proceeding. He pointed out that there were breeding places for the insects about Rahway and Elizabeth, and he insisted that money be given the county to clean them of the pests. He argued to such good effect that $9,000 was apportioned to Union county.

The campaign against the mosquitoes will be headed by State Entomologist John B. Smith. The fight has been carried on by him for several years with growing success. Telling results are expected this year.

JEWISH FEAST BEGINS TODAY.

Will Celebrate for Seven Days the "Festival of Freedom."

The Jewish feast of Passover, or "Festival of Freedom," begins at sunset tonight, and will be observed for seven days by those of the reformed and eight days by those of the orthodox faith. It is celebrated in commemoration of the deliverance of the Jews from the bondage of the Egyptians, or as the Bible has it, "the deliverance of the people of Israel from the bondage of Egypt." It is a time of rejoicing and thanksgiving in all Jewish homes, temples and synagogues.

In the homes tonight the paschal lamb and the unleavened bread will be served, and the elders will tell the children what their ancestors suffered for their religion in former ages, and how the God of Israel delivered them from the persecutions and tryannies of their enemies.

Suggestion For Easter Present.

"They can say what they like about women talking too much," remarked a member of The City Union of The King's Daughters this morning, "but if I hadn't told a friend this morning about our need of a bath tub at the Day Nursery, goodness gracious, I don't know when we would have gotten it. Why my friend said she would be delighted to give us a large porcelain tub. And you know we have the first dollar towards putting it in place. What we want now is enough money to put in the proper furnishings in the bath room." The Daughter in question is wondering whether some kind citizen won't send an Easter present to the Nursery in the shape of a check large enough to complete the furnishings of the bath room.

Surprise Tendered Mrs. Richter.

The Ladies' Kaffe Klatsch tendered a surprise to Mrs. George Richter at her home on Pearl street last night. Thirty members were present and spent the hours enjoyably with games, music and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Hermance, of Truell Inn, leave today for Atlantic City, where they will remain for a time.

DIED AS A RESULT OF TRYING TO SAVE ALIENS

CONDUCTOR M'CABE STRUCK BY TRAIN WHILE RESCUING ITALIAN.

In an effort to save an immigrant from death in the Communipaw station of the New Jersey Central, last night, Conductor Thomas McCabe, of Elizabeth, who had scores of friends in this city, received injuries from which he died as he was being taken to a hospital.

McCabe was in charge of the immigrant train which passes through Plainfield shortly after midnight, and was standing on the platform as it started to leave the terminal. Two immigrants who had bought tickets for a Pennsylvania town imagined they were on the wrong train and made a dash to leave it. The one in the lead jumped off but McCabe grabbed the second one and held him back.

He struggled desperately to free himself and finally the two rolled from the platform to the ground. An incoming train struck both as they were attempting to get up, killing the immigrant instantly and cutting off both of McCabe's legs.

McCabe lived on Orchard street, Elizabeth, and was a member of the Y. M. C. L. A. bowling team, which rolled a series of games in this city with the old Crescent League pin hitters for the county trophy. He also rolled individual matches with Harry VanEmburgh, Dr. Theirs and other well known bowlers. He was a member of the Elizabeth Knights of Columbus and came to Plainfield frequently with delegations to attend social sessions of Watchung Council.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

Only One Change Will Be Made at Local Churches.

The Newark Conference will convene at Morristown on Tuesday and will hold sessions for one week. In view of the fact that the occasion will mark the fiftieth anniversary of that body it will be of more than ordinary interest. So far as changes are concerned, the members of the Methodist churches here will not be greatly affected.

The only change will be at the Monroe Avenue church, where Rev. E. E. Roberson is now pastor. He has been called to the M. E. church, Orange, and Rev. Audley J. Bliss, of Rahway, has been called to the local church. It is believed that these appointments will meet with the approval of the Bishop.

Rev. A. McCrea, it is expected, will be returned to the First M. E. church, and Rev. Dr. C. W. Parsons to Grace M. E. church.

At Impressive Ceremony.

Rev. Father William Miller, of St. Joseph's church, was one of twelve priests who acted as witnesses at an impressive ceremony commemorating the institution of the Blessed Sacrament in St. Mary's cathedral, Trenton, yesterday morning. During a solemn pontifical high mass, the holy oils to be used in the church during the year were blessed by Rt. Rev. Bishop McFaul, assisted by Mgr. Fox, the arch priest of the mass. All the priests throughout the diocese were present and took part in the procession, wearing vestments of the richest silks. One hundred little girls strewed flowers ahead of them and the same number of boys carrying lighted candles preceded the bishop.

Improvement of Business Property.

George J. Tobin has plans out for extensive improvements to his business property. As soon as Marchant Brothers remove to Second street and Watchung avenue, Mr. Tobin will combine that store with his present place, cutting an arch-way through. Mr. Tobin will also build an entire new front to the building, making it one of the most attractive on the avenue.

Sings In Rockefeller's Church.

Miss Etta Raybert, of East Second street, soprano soloist, sang at an entertainment given in the First Baptist church, Tarrytown, N. Y., Tuesday evening, and she was encored several times. John D. Rockefeller attends this church when at his beautiful summer home. Miss Raybert was entertained by Mrs. Minnie Starr Krich, formerly of this city.

Reception for Gen. Collins.

The officers of the Second Regiment are making elaborate arrangements for the reception to be given by them to Brig. Gen. Dennis F. Collins at Trenton on Wednesday night, April 3. A sword will be presented to him at that time.

Will Demonstrate Invention.

William M. Miner, of this city, the inventor of a device which records a conversation over a telephone, will give an illustrated talk concerning the invention before the Men's Club of the First Baptist church on Monday night, April 8.

RUSHING SEWER MEASURE

Frelinghuysen Bill for North Plainfield Passed by Senate Will Go Through House.

C. A. REED DRAFTED IT

At Suggestion of Borough Sewer Commission—Will Allow Borough to Make Contract With City.

It is expected that the House will act favorably on Monday night on the bill passed by the State Senate at Trenton a few days ago providing for North Plainfield to make an arrangement with Plainfield, should it so desire, to dispose of its sewage. Senator Frelinghuysen, of Somerset, introduced the measure at the request of the North Plainfield sewage commission. The measure was drawn by Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed and the Senate passed it without a dissenting vote. Assemblyman Randolph Perkins has it in tow now and it is expected that by Tuesday the Governor will have it on his desk. There is no opposition to the measure in the House.

The text of the bill follows:

"First. Bonds hereafter issued by any borough under the authority of the act to which this act is a further supplement, for the purchase or construction of sewers or drains or of a system of sewers or drains, shall be payable at such time or times, not more than forty years from the date thereof, as the council of such borough may decide.

"Second. In order that such bonds may be paid at maturity the council of such borough shall provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay such bonds at maturity, but not less than one per centum of the face value of the bonds shall be raised annually, and at the time and in the manner provided for the raising of other moneys to be raised by taxation in said borough; the moneys so raised for sinking fund purposes shall be paid to the commissioners of the sinking fund of said borough to be used by them for the purposes herein mentioned.

"Third. It shall be lawful for the council of any borough in which there shall have been or may hereafter be presented to the council the consent in writing that sewers or a system of sewers or drainage for such borough shall be constructed or purchased, signed by the owners of a majority of the real estate in said borough according to its assessed valuation as contained in the latest assessment for the purpose of taxation made in said borough preceding the presentation of such written consent, to contract with the authorities of any other municipality or municipalities, without regard to the form of its incorporation, (a) to construct any out-let sewer or drain or sewage disposal plant at their joint cost within or without the territorial limits of the contracting parties; or (b) to contract for the privilege of connecting its sewers and drains or system of sewers or drains with those of such other municipality or municipalities constructed or to be constructed; or (c) to contract to have its sewage received and disposed of by any other municipality or municipalities; or (d) to receive and dispose of the sewage of any other municipality or municipalities; and any such contract for any one or more of such purposes shall be in writing and may be made upon such terms and for such length of time and consideration as may be mutually agreed upon."

Talented Artists Will Appear.

Mrs. Ida Randolph-Smalley, who will give piano selections at the entertainment to be held Tuesday night at Trinity Reformed church, for the benefit of the deacons' fund, is an accomplished and talented musician. She is now one of the teachers at the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music. Miss Justine Roberts, who will give readings, is associated with the Lyceum Bureau. Miss Nora Schenck, soprano soloist, is well-known as a singer and has appeared at a number of entertainments.

Easter at First Baptist.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss will occupy his pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday morning, preaching an Easter sermon in connection with the special programme of music by the choir. There will be no evening service, but the Sunday-school will hold its special service in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. In the evening Dr. Chambliss will preach in the First Baptist church, East Orange, where he was formerly pastor, and baptize two of his grandchildren who reside at that place.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

DEBILITY.

E. MC DADE.

Many people who talk to me say: "I feel half sick all the time. I dont just know what's the matter with me." This is general debility. It's very common. People who get in this shape have my sympathy. They arn't sick enough for bed so they drag around and their families get exasperated with them.

There are two causes for this condition; bad habits and a weak stomach. By bad habits I mean eating irregularly and too fast and not chewing the food thoroughly. The stomach gives out and loss of appetite, billiousness, constipation, and general debility result. First get the stomach in shape and then be more careful in the future, and the worn out, despondent, half sick feeling will be a thing of the past.

Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape. Common sense will do the rest. There are fifty thousand people in this country who know this to be true because they've tried it.

Here's a letter from one of them:

"I was all run down from overwork, lost ambition and energy and could not sleep. It was difficult for me to attend to my work owing to that tired-out feeling. I secured two bottles of the New Discovery medicine and determined to try it. The result delighted me for renewed strength and vigor and energy came with the first few doses. It's effect was different from anything I had ever taken. I finished the two bottles now and feel well and strong again." E. McDade, 839 Dix Ave., Detroit, Mich.

We hear favorable reports of these famous medicines every day. Ask us about them.

STATIONARY ENGINEERS' BILL BEATEN IN SENATE.

Pay Raisers for Two Officials and Election Allowance Limit for Municipal Clerks Passed.

Senate 202, the Minturn bill for the licensing and examination of stationary engineers, was defeated in the Senate at Trenton and a number of other bills were passed, including these:

Senate 232, increasing the salary of the State commissioner of charities and corrections from $3,000 to $4,000, and that of the State architect from $2,500 to $3,500.

Senate 226, limiting the allowance for municipal clerks on account of elections to $10 for each polling precinct. Senator Ackerman, who introduced the bill, said that in the city of Elizabeth, with only thirty election districts, the compensation for the last election was $900.

Dickinson Must Wait.

Governor Stokes announced last evening that he would not name a successor to Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson, of Jersey City, as secretary of State, until next Monday afternoon. This will mean the office of secretary of State will be vacant for one day, as under the constitution the secretary of State does not hold over until his successor is named, and the term of Colonel Dickinson expires with the end of the present month. The reason for delaying the matter is to give the governor an opportunity to have sifted the formal charges that have been made against Colonel Dickinson by Mayor Mark M. Fagan, of Jersey City.

$388 Grows to $6,000.

New York, March 29.—After being a dormant account for more than seventy years, the balance of Stephen Skeer in the Bank of Savings, originally $388, but which, with interest, now is about $6,000, will be divided among more than twenty-five heirs who have been found. Skeer in 1832 deposited $400, but drew $12 in 1833 and then disappeared. From time to time the bank advertised for his heirs, but without success, and in 1901 George A. Smythe, of No. 964 St. Nicholas avenue, made an investigation, with the result that heirs have been found in Maryland, Illinois, Pennsylvania and this city. Evidence is now being taken before Edward G. Whittaker, as referee, on the rights of the grand-nephews to inherit and on the right of Mr. Smythe to enforce a contract with heirs to receive half the award.

Soap Man a Suicide.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 29.—William A. Procter, philanthropist, known the world over as the president of the Procter & Gamble Company, soap makers, ended his life yesterday afternoon by shooting himself. He fired while holding the muzzle of the revolver between his teeth, and the bullet was buried in the top of the head. The act was committed in the bathroom of his palatial home in Glendale, a beautiful residence suburb. Members of the family attributed the deed to a depressed state of mind and general illness that had been Mr. Procter's condition for almost a year.

—Mr. and Mrs. John McCann and son, Lawrence, of Summit avenue, will leave for Colorado May 1, having disposed of their property in the borough.

—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Volk will remove from Watchung avenue to Elmwood place, next week, to the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brownell.

The House that GIVES the BEST Values on the Lowest Terms Without Deceptive Advertising.

Our rapidly increasing Furniture business shows conclusively the values we are giving. Nowhere else are such values seen—and nowhere else are the terms so liberal.

Many furniture houses deceitfully advertise: "No Money Down"—but you soon find a deposit is required—that this is simply a bait.

Our customers ALWAYS find that we advertise only what we can actually fulfill—that every word is true.

We frankly say "A small deposit" will send your purchase home—that

OUR TERMS ARE THE MOST ACCOMMODATING OBTAINABLE.

That you can pay in small amounts that suit your circumstances—and all without "red tape" or other nuisances.

And we MEAN IT—EVERY WORD OF IT.

The one thing that has built up this tremendous business is our STRAIGHTFORWARD, HONEST METHODS—AFTER you buy as well as BEFORE you buy.

A GREAT ADVANTAGE

ONE ACCOUNT INSTEAD OF TWO AND THREE.

Here you can buy EVERYTHING—Clothing, Millinery, Shoes, Hats, Dry Goods, etc., and have only ONE creditor to satisfy, a splendid proposition when you are prosperous and still better when you meet with reverses.

We guarantee satisfaction to every customer and will at any time take back or exchange any article not satisfactory.

Black Cutaway Suits of Thibet and unfinished Worsteds, beautifully tailored; splendid models; perfect in fit; may be had for $25.00.

Black Sack Suits of Thibet and unfinished Worsteds, cut in the most up-to-date patterns; as smoothly tailored as the best custom work; at prices ranging from $10.00 to $30.00.

Trousers for wearing with Prince Albert or Cutaway Coats, of pure worsted in neat striped effects; splendid fitting; perfectly tailored, are here at from $4.00 to $10.00.

OTHER SUITS AND TOP COATS.

At $18.00 we show Suits and Top Coats of the most carefully tailored sort. These suits are cut separately and are bench made, and are really superior to most of the custom tailoring that you get about town. Other suits in this sumptuously tailored class run as high as $35.

At $15.00 we sell Hand Tailored Suits and Top Coats of the swellest sort; fine in appearance, maintaining their shape permanently and wearing as long as you care to have a suit wear.

At $12.98 we show Suits in a large range of styles in the most fashionable fabrics—suits that we question whether you can duplicate elsewhere under $16.

At $9.98 we can sell you a splendid wearing Suit or Top Coat; such as most stores would ask $12 to $15 for.

SPECIALS

Fresh Jersey Eggs

At this season of the year almost every grocer makes a special drive on eggs. Many people wonder why there is such a variety of prices. Here is one reason—The prices of eggs are made according to their freshness upon arrival at the market. Most of the eggs in this market are received from the West, South and nearby Jersey. Now suppose I bought a case of each kind. I would receive the Westerns and Southerns in twenty to thirty days, while the Jerseys would be in my store and on sale tomorrow. Do you see the point? There would be a dozen shipments of Jerseys sold and consumed while the others are in transit. We receive all of our eggs direct from Flemington every day or two. We will make you a special price for Saturday of 23c per dozen.

Fine Potatoes

We have done a lot of talking this winter about our potatoes. We have the quality to back it up. Fine mealy cookers, "Finest in town," is the verdict from all the buyers.

Price per ½ bushel basket 39c
Price per 3 bushel barrel 2.30

Fancy Butter

We have as fine a piece of butter as comes to this city, 100 per cent. better than you get from most dealers. We buy from one of the largest receivers in New York and pay them a premium to ship us from their finest lots. Quality is the first consideration and then the price. We will quote you special prices for Saturday only.

Finest table butter, per lb 37c
Very good butter, per lb 32c
Pullman Print Butter, per lb 40c

SNUFF SPRINKLERS.

Mischievous Boys Cause Dismissal of Atlantic City Schools.

Atlantic City, March 29.—The "Chinese Snuff" nuisance has grown to such proportions here that Council will be asked to adopt an ordinance prohibiting its sale in the resort. Rerectly several classes in the high school had to be dismissed because mischievous pupils used it in the class rooms.

One of the girls in the high school was seized with hemorrhage of the nose after reaching her home and had to be attended by a physician. Several boys who were in the class room at the time and who are suspected of having blown the snuff about have been suspended.

EXPECT M'CURDYS HOME.

Report in Morristown That Mutual's Ex-President Will Soon Return.

Morristown, March 29.—Gossip that Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. McCurdy are coming from Paris has started up among the society people here since Robert H. McCurdy, son of the deposed Mutual Life president, arrived from Europe Saturday.

It is said by those who have seen Robert McCurdy that he reclared his father was coming home soon and would occupy the McCurdy mansion in South street. Nothing about the palace, however, indicates any expected arrival of Mr. McCurdy. It looks as bleak as an abandoned barn on a side hill.

LOCAL OPTION BILL OUT.

House Committee Report It with Help of Perkins.

Trenton, March 28.—The Buck "local option" bill was reported without comment yesterday by the judiciary committee. Assemblyman Archibald Alexander refused to have anything to do with the bill, as did Chairman Abram Klenert.

Assemblyman Randolph E. Perkins held the balance of power, and Assemblyman Edward H. Wright, Jr., of Essex, and Samuel P. Jones, of Camden, who were in favor of reporting it, got busy with Mr. Perkins. At first, it is said, he was in favor of reporting it adversely, but he was finally prevailed upon to have it reported without comment.

—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Murphy moved yesterday from the Stirling building to their newly-purchased home on East Second street, formerly owned and occupied by Thomas Hughes, and the latter has moved to another one of his houses.

—As the upper floors of the Woodhull & Martin building on East Front street have been leased to the Plainfield Business College, all of the families occupying rooms there will be obliged to move out within a short time.

POSTMASTER AWAY AND OFFICE IS CLOSED.

He had Acted as Banker for Many Foreigners, and They Are Much Excited.

Phillipsburg, N. J., March 29.—Richard Applegate, Postmaster at Alpha, a small cement town near here, disappeared last night and the Postoffice has been closed all day. Excitement prevails among the foreign element because Applegate was intrusted with their savings in large amounts.

Besides being in charge of the postoffice, Applegate was agent for a steamship company, a commissioner of deeds, real estate broker and fire insurance agant.

Applegate, accompanied by his wife and two little daughters, left Alpha last evening. He told friends he was going to Easton, but instead it has been learned that he and his family went direct to Washington, N. J. It is generally believed they boarded there a Lackawanna train.

Notice was sent today to the authorities at Washington, D. C., and an inspector is expected here to examine the accounts of the postmaster. Applegate recently received word of the death of a wealthy relative in Kansas and that he is heir to a large sum of money.

AGAINST PROFIT DIVISION.

Special Commission Thinks It Would Be Unfair to Municipal Corporations.

Governor Stokes sent to the Legislature at Trenton yesterday the report of the special commission appointed to investigate the question of the division of profits between public utility corporations and municipalities.

The commission reports against any change in the present method of taxing these corporations on the ground that a division of profits based on dividends would discriminate against independent corporations in favor of those leased to holding companies. This opinion is the opposite of that expressed by Governor Stokes in his message of 1906.

The commission investigated this matter in other states, and found that legislation had been enacted only in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. In these states the income has been less than has accrued to New Jersey under the law here, which taxes these corporations on gross receipts.

Killed During Rescue.

New York, March 29.—Abraham Helfman, five years old, one of nine children of Solomon Helfman, a cloakmaker, of No. 416 East Tenth street, was crushed to death under a trolley in front of his home last night. Isaac Gotthelf, the motorman, quickly stopped the car and found the boy alive, wedged under the fender. From a nearby car shop a jack was procured, and the front of the car lifted. Before the rescuers could drag the boy out the jack slipped, and the front of the car fell on him. When, finally, the child was taken out he was dead. The motorman, when arrested, said the boy was alive when the car fell on him.

Stand By Hughes' Bill.

Albany, N. Y., March 29.—Governor Hughes' friends in the Legislature are "standing pat" on the Utilities bill. They indicate today that they will not consent to a single important change out of the many requested by the public service corporations at Wednesday's hearing. The Governor's friends say they would rather see the bill killed than grant the sweeping concessions demanded by the steam and street railroads, and the bill will be killed if the Legislature tries to get away from the Governor's policy and grant the requests of the railroads. The Governor will veto the bill and call an extra session to pass the original measure.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR JERSEY RIFLE SHOOT

COMMITTEE FIXES TOURNAMENT FOR SEP GIRT ON LABOR DAY, SEPT. 2.

The committee having charge of the programme for the seventeenth annual rifle tournament at Sea Girt this year, has decided that the tournament of 1907 shall begin Labor Day, September 2, and continue one week. The committee consists of Major-General P. Farmer Wanser, Brigadier-General G. E. P. Howard, Lieutenant-Colonel Nelson Y. Dungan, Major Arthur Rowland, Major W. S. Price, Captain W. A. Tewes and Captain John Nolan.

Matches will consist of the famous Dryden trophy match, which is now held by New Jersey; this cimpany team match (Tyro); the match for the Columbia trophy; the carbine team match; the veteran organization team match; the individual rapid-fire match; the all-comers military match; the Hayes match; the Meany match; the Spencer match; the New Jersey trophy match; the members match; the consolation match; the off-hand match; the Hale match; the press match, and the usual revolver matches.

In addition there will be a new match called the Governor's match, open to everybody. There will also be a new match for a prize to be given by United States Senator Frank O. Briggs, for regimental teams, consisting wholly of rapid-fire and skirmishes, a new match for a prize to be given by Colonel Anthony R. Kuser, and a slow fire match for regimental teams for a trophy to be given by former Governor John W. Griggs.

Industrial Peace Body.

Washington, D. C., March 29.—At a meeting of the trustees of the foundation for the promotion of industrial peace, established by President Roosevelt with his Nobel Peace Prize, yesterday steps were taken of great importance for the future preservation of peace in the industrial world. The trustees effected a permanent organization, and under the act of Congress approving the f oundation they appointed a committee of nine men, to be known as the Industrial Peace Committee, representative of capital and labor and the public. This committee will be the administrative force for the commission, and its by-laws will outline the powers and scope under which it is to operate in settling industrial disputes. The committee will be called together soon in Washington to organize. Its members are Archbishop Ireland, Marcus M. Marks, of New York, and Ralph M. Eeasley, of New York, representing the general public; E. H. Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation; Lucius Tuttle, president of the Boston and Maine Railway, and J. Gunby Jordon, of Columbus, Ga., represent the employers' class. Representing labor are Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Daniel J. Keefe, of Detroit, president of the Longshoremen's union, and Warren S. Stone, of Cleveland, Ohio, grand chief of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

DRAKE MADE STATE AUDITOR.

Long Fight Over Place Won By Man Who Aided Murphy.

The State Controller at Trenton yesterday appointed William E. Drake, of Orange, State Auditor. Mr. Drake held the office for several years and then resigned. The office had been vacant ever since. There was a fight over the appointment originally. Drake was an Assemblyman from Hudson when Sewell and Murphy were rival Republican candidates for United States Senator some years ago. He bolted the caucus for Sewell and voted for Murphy. When the latter was Governor he requested Morgan to name Drake for State Auditor. The Controller did so under protest. Secretary of State Dickinson fought the appointment to the end. Yesterday Drake was named, with the indorsement of both Morgan and Dickinson.

Malady Puzzles Doctors.

Boston, Mass., March 29.—After puzzling physicians for a long time, Irwin Brooks, a Malden football player, died yesterday morning. His malady caused his eyes to project from their sockets. Specialists recently decided the young man was suffering from cancer of the brain and eye. He underwent an operation in the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary early in the month, but a week ago he was sent to his home, as there was no chance for his recovery. Brooks was eighteen years old and a member of this year's graduating class of the Malden High School.

HOTEL FOR CHORUS GIRLS AT NEW BRUNSWICK.

To Provide Building for Their Use Near Opera House.

A new hotel with thirty-two rooms is to be erected next to the opera house at New Brunswick. Ever since the new opera house was opened last August and the big shows commenced to come this way there has been a mighty wail from the chorus that the city had bad hotel facilities.

At first the women who conduct little boarding houses opened their doors to the c horus girls and actresses, but the theatrical people always came in so late at night that the slumber of the school teachers and college professors, regular boarders, was disturbed, and these houses were closed to the theatrical profession.

This week a burlesque show played there. The girls of the chorus hunted around all morning for boarding places and were turned away from place after place. It seemed as if there had been a mutual understanding among the boarding house peoplethat burlesque people must be barred. The girls decided to turn their dressing rooms at the theatre into a hotel and swamped down on the theatre in a body. Manager Samuel Miller met them.

"We want to get into our room and we want some light," demanded the girls.

"Not till 7 p. m.," replied the manager. "That's the rule here and I wouldn't break it for Richard Mansfield."

The girls pleaded and coaxed and then marked down the town as a "jay village" in their diaries.

Bills Passed in the House.

The House at Trenton yesterday passed the following bills: House No. 3228, permitting towns to fund their floating indebtedness; House No. 313, permitting the shooting of deer every Wednesday in November; House No. 322, the Madison Sewer Bond bill; House No. 375, amending the Fire and Police Pension act; House No. 431, increasing the power of legislative investigating committees by making it contempt for a witness to refuse to answer questions; House No. 340, concerning sewer assessments; House No. 376, making it illegal to fish through a hole in the ice; House No. 124, requiring every naturalized foreign born person to take out a license before he can hunt or gun in this State; House No. 258, preventing theatre ticket scalping; House No. 288, regulating the use of power vessels on inland waters; Senate No. 154, appropriating $2,000 for a Revolutionary monument at Orange House; Senate No. 101, prohibiting the use of the name of any fraternal organization in advertising without having the consent of the organization.

Made a Great Speech.

United States Senator John Kean's speech at the dinner given by President Minch to his colleagues in the State Senate, in Philadelphia a few days ago, has attracted much favorable comment. Senator E. R. Ackerman in discussing the dinner said today that it had seldom been his privilege to listen to so entertaining and timely talk as that given by the Sage of Ursino on this occasion.

Marshall & Ball Clothing---the Highest Type of Ready-to-Wear

EASTER CLOTHING

Of Individuality Attractively Priced

The man or young man who is mindful of his personal appearance—and most men are, will want to step out on Easter Morning with an outfit that will distinguish him as above the ordinary in attire.

Marshall & Ball Garments Possess those elements of individuality and refinement that stamp the wearer as being particularly well groomed. Men of every walk in life are equally well provided for here. Whether your ideas be radical or conservative, or whatever the condition of your purse, you can come here with the assurance of getting the correct Easter Attire from top to toe.

Worthy of first mention among the Easter Toggery are the Suit and Overcoat. Our collection of handsome and exclusive fabrics was never so wide. And never in all our history as Manufacturing Clothiers has unusual tailoring skill been so strikingly demonstrated as in our present Spring Showing.

Spring Suits, Overcoats and Raincoats, $12.00 to $35.00.

Attractive Easter Garments for Boys

Lives there a mother in the land who will not want her youngster to look spic and span on Easter? The same attractive features that have made our men's garments the highest type of ready-to-wear are inherent in M. & B. Clothing for Boys, and discriminating parents will find their appreciation keyed to the highest pitch when they lay eyes on our Spring provision for Boys of every age.

Boys' Suits, $3 to $10. Boys' Overcoats, $4 to $10.

SHOES, HATS AND FURNISHINGS FOR BOYS.

Shoes--Hats--Neckwear--Gloves

These must of necessity be in keeping with the Easter Suit and Overcoat.

THE SHOES—The Style, distinctiveness, shapeliness and comfort of M. & B. Footwear need no introduction. And how can a man be well dressed on Easter without faultless foot covering?

The Nassau. $3.50 and $4.
M. & B. Tru-Treds. $5 and $6.

THE SCARF—The problem of dressing the neck becomingly for Easter is best solved here. Our showing of 50c Ties is unusually inviting. All the new Spring colorings.

Silk Neckwear, 50c to $1.50.

THE HAT—Would you think of making your old hat pass muster on Easter? It would mar the whole costume. M. & B. Hats possess character as well as quality.

Softs and Derbies, $2 to $6.
Silk Hats, $5 and $6.

THE GLOVES—Soiled gloves are barred out of the Easter Costume. You can slip your hand into a glove that will do credit to your Easter attire.

ANNUAL REPORT ON STATE'S GOOD ROADS.

The annual report of Elijah C. Hutchinson, State commissioner of public roads, has just been issued from the printer. It is neatly bound in ornamented black cloth and contains 175 pages.

Besides the thirteenth annual report of Commissioner Hutchinson to Governor Stokes and the Legislature the book contains much other valuable information. Samples for all necessary forms and blanks for state-aid road construction are shown, and a digest of the road laws of the State is presented. Another section gives a table showing the number of tons of stone per mile required to build roads of certain specified widths and depths.

There is a detailed description of every road improved under State aid during 1906. Commission Hutchinson has a special article on road repairs, and this is followed by another by State Supervisor Robert A. Meeker on "The County Supervisor." Other articles are "Road Maintenance," by John J. Albertson, county engineer of Camden county; "The Future of Our Road Improvement System," by Peter Forman, engineer of Monmouth county; "Construction and Maintenance of Oyster Shell Roads," by Josiah Miller, engineer of Salem county, and "Meadow Roads in Cape May County," by R. Fendall Smith, engineer of that county. Detailed statements from each county engineer are included.

One feature that will make the volume a valuable one is the good roads map. This measures 37 by 27 inches and is an accurate chart made from the original surveys of the New Jersey geological survey, which are based on the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. By means of red lines every improved road in the State is prominently shown.

The pictures are in pairs, showing various highways before improvement and after transformation into fine stone roads.

TO SUE FAGAN FOR LIBEL.

Colonel Dickinson Retains E. R. Walker as Counsel.

Trenton, March 29.—Colonel Dickinson announced last night that he had retained Edward Robert Walker as counsel, of this city, to institute libel proceedings in the Supreme Court against Mayor Fagan, and also that criminal proceedings would be instituted against him in this county, it being here that the alleged slanderous statements were made.

The colonel has also written a letter to Governor Stokes, denying specifically the various charges and inuendoes. The libel suit against the Mayor will be commenced tomorrow. The colonel declared that the Fagan charges are false and are the work of his prolitical enemies.

To Be Called to Elizabeth Church.

Elizabeth, March 29.—At a parish meeting held Wednesday night in the First Presbyterian church, Rev. William C. Rommel, presiding, the report of the committee appointed to recommend a pastor was received. The committee unanimously recommended Rev. Dr. William Force Whitaker, of the First Presbyterian church, of Albany, N. Y., and a ballot was at once taken, with the result that 126 voted to extend a call to Dr. Whitaker, four voted "no" and there were five blanks. The vote was subsequently made unanimous. Dr. Whitaker was for fifteen years pastor of the St. Cloud Presbyterian church, West Orange, before going to Albany.

New Lamps For Old.

Almost every lamp needs boiling occasionally when the light burns dimly, and no attention to oil or wick will make any difference.

Take the lamp apart, remove the wick and then boil both burner and wick in hot water in which has been thrown some washing soda.

When every part has been thoroughly cleaned and as thoroughly dried, put in the wick, trim it, fill the lamp with oil and the light will be brilliant.

LITERARY.

There is much in the April McClure's that you do not want to miss. The leading article by George Kibbe Turner is a study of the sale of dissipation, and, the ruin and disaster that it has brought. "The City of Chicago" is the title, and Mr. Turner shows the tremendous forces that are working to destroy the social organization in every American city. His viewpoint is entirely new. "Mary Baker G. Eddy, the Story of Her Life and the History of Christian Science" continues to pile up its interest arousing facts—the various and many wanderings of Mrs. Eddy, while she was hazily evolving her Science and teaching the art of Quimby's healing, are graphically told.

Ray Stannard Baker, "the great reporter," begins his series on the negro in the April American Magazine. "Upon the ocean of antagonism between the white and negro races in this country there arises occasionally a wave, stormy in its appearance. Such a wave was the Atlanta riot," says Mr. Baker, who then proceeds to describe that spectacular disturbance and the disaster incident to its fury. Great full-page portraits of negro types—and a wonderful black mammy on the cover—illustrate the first article. The first authoritative and complete story of the Wright brothers, who after years of experimenting have made flying practicable, is tld by Herbert N. Casson.

The April number of The Metropolitan Magazine is an ideal one for the early spring evenings, when the fireplace and the reading lamp are man's best comforts. "The New Criminal," by Broughton Brandenburg, furnishes an interesting resume of the working plans of the modern housebreaker, and the methods by which the flat dweller or the one who lives in a lonely house may protect himself and his property against his attempts. Captain Charles T. Boyd, of the United States Army, contributes a valuable paper on "China's Military Awakenin," and what it may mean to the world. Captain Boyd visited China's great modern armies, watched them at work in the field, and he draws from what he saw a valuable forecast.

The April number of The Poular Science Monthly contains the following articles: "Pioneers of Science in America" (illustrated with full-page portraits of each: "Benjamin Franklin," by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell; "Alexander von Humboldt," by Baron Speck von Sternberg; "John James Audubon," by Dr. C. Hart Merriam; "John Torrey," by Dr. N. L. Britton; "Joseph Henry," by Dr. Robert S. Woodward; "Louis Agassiz," by the Rev. Edward Everett Hale; "James Dwight Dana," by President Arthur T. Hadley; "Spencer Fullerton Baird," by Dr. Hugh M. Smith; "Joseph Leidy," by Professor William Kieth Brooks; "Edward Drinker Cope," by Professor Henry Fairfield Osborn. "Notes On Development of Telephone Service," by Fred DeLand; "The General Economic Importance of Mosquitoes," by Professor John B. Smith; "How Shall the Destructive Tendencies of Modern Life Be Met and Overcome?" by Dr. Richard Cole Newton; "The Value of Science," by M. H. Pioneare; "A Defence of Pragmatism," by Professor William James; "Civology—A Suggestion," by Professor Lindley M. Keasbey; "The Reclamation of the North Platte Valley," by W. S. Coulter; "A Vocabulary Test," by E. H. Babbitt; "A National Department of Health;" "The Research Departments of the Carnegie Institution;" "The Sage Foundation;" "The Problems of Astronomy."

THE WRITERS.

A. W. Pinero, the playwright, does his best work while traveling.

Irving Bacheller finds the most pleasurable exercise to consist in the chopping of wood.

W. J. Locke, the new secretary of the Institute of British Architects, is a writer of plays and novels.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett wrote her first story at the age of fifteen. It was accepted, and she received for it a check for $17.

Apart from his extensive library, John Morley has no amusements whatever, but to be surrounded by his books is his ideal of happiness. He is a capital walker, but from his youth upward games have never had any attraction for him.

The Jap Baby.

How do you suppose the babies in Japan take an airing? In baby carriages, you say? Of course not. The Japanese never do anything the way we do it. When the baby's about three days old it goes out for its first glimpse of the world strapped on somebody's back, and that's the way it goes every day till it can go on its own feet. Sometimes its mother or its nurse takes it, but very often it rides on the back of a brother or sister, who is perhaps not more than four or five years old. These little nurses don't seem to be troubled at all by their charges, as you would suppose. They play ball and tag and run races and fly kites in spite of the heavy loads on their backs. What is more remarkable, the babies are perfectly happy and hardly ever cry, though when their young nurses run with them the poor babies' faces bang back and forth against their caretakers' shoulders till an American baby would howl with pain and rage.—Bertha Runkle in St. Nicholas.

WHY

World's Largest Credit House

Because Credit, As We Extend It, is the Greatest Boon to ANYONE. It Would be Just That to YOU.

THERE ARE THREE GOOD REASONS WHY:

FIRST—Because then you have a chance to buy the BEST, since you can take plenty of time to pay. And the BEST is always the CHEAPEST in the end.

SECOND—It is not necessary for you to understand quality or value—for could we WAIT FOR OUR MONEY if we did not give you BOTH?

THIRD—Thinking and progressive people always find it far better not to use their savings, but rather to leave them intact for a "rainy day"—By paying with their future earnings.

In a word it PAYS to buy here simply because we treat you RIGHT and because of our HONEST, STRAIGHTFORWARD METHODS.

Nowhere else can you get such liberal terms. Nowhere else is there such a total lack of "red tape" or fuss of any kind.

CONSTIPATION CURSE OF MANKIND

Dr. Oidman's Liv-r-oids never fail to cure Constipation, Billiousness and all Liver Complaints. They destroy the germs and thus remove the cause.

You May Try a Full-Sized Bottle Free.

Constipation is the starting point of all kinds of dangerous and distressing diseases, such as Appendicitis, Piles, Billiousness, Sick Headaches, Dyspepsia Female Troubles and scores of others. If your bowels are strong and healthy they will act properly and disease cannot enter or remain in the system. A sound Stomach means sound lasting health.

The true way to cure constipation, Billiousness, Sick Headache and all those diseases arising from a Torpid Liver, has been discovered by Dr. Oidman, and his prescription is known as Liv-r-oids. We ourselves know that Liv-r-oids will cure the worst forms of constipation and all the dangerous diseases of the Bowels and Liver, which are such a great menace to life. If you have never tried Liv-r-oids before, we will send absolutely free to every one sending name and address, a 25 cent bottle of this great remedy. Liv-r-oids make you feel right, and make you look on the bright side of life. Liv-r-oids are not a patent medicine but an eminent physicians prescription in tablet form (formula on bottle). There is no element of doubt in the curing power of Liv-r-oids. They are not a miracle, but only science working along on natural lines assisting nature. We want you to try Liv-r-oids to-day, they sell at 25c. a bottle, but if you have not tried them before, send your name and address and you will receive a full-sized bottle free—no obligations—nothing to pay—merely recommend them to your friends if they do what we claim. An Achievement in Women's Easter Suits.

WOMEN'S AND GIRLS'—Far better than average $20 suits, and it will not take more than a glance to see where the superiority begins—that air of distinctiveness and refinement is evident at every point; choice mixtures, light checks, and stripes, one an eton model that pleases at sight; neatly arranged side pleats over shoulder; richly trimmed in contrasting color; also semi-fitted coats back, of broadcloth and worsteds; one of the values of which we are extremely proud—one of the "living" proofs of the store's leadership—an achievement at $17.50

WOMEN'S BLACK PANAMA JACKETS—If you need a lightweight Spring coat to go with your Panama skirt, we have a remarkably good one of black Panama, semi-fitted, vest effects, fancy trimmed, satin lined; also a fine broadcloth jacket; both especially attractive as two of our leaders, that help to indicate this store as the best in town at which to buy jackets; do not fail to see these at $10.00

FETCHING STYLE SILK DRESSES—Pretty handy little suits, will be more used than ever; one natty model has a lace yoke, triple stitcht pleats either side or front; fancy buttons, very full skirt, kilted high up on hip; striped and solid color taffeta silk—fresh from Fashion's bandbox—and only $15.00

INVITING VALUE DRESS SKIRTS—Specially attractive—beautiful Panama and choice mixtures; several full pleated models, nicely finisht; cut full, some pleated in groups—you will not be disappointed if you expect skirts unusually good at the price—better material, colors, styles, workmanship and fit, big $6.00 value at $5.00

CHAMPION SILK PETTICOATS AT $5.00—Nearly every woman knows that we sell the best $5.00 silk petticoat in Newark; New York shops sell the same skirt at $6.75 and they are worth it; besides the saving, the inducement is an endless veriety of colors, including light shades and black; two styles flounce, one has all silk under, the other nearsilk foot ruffle $5.00

"HEATHERBLOOM" TAFFETA PETTICOATS—Brand new models—Just placed on sale—pretty ones; one has two ruffles, the other a flare hem; stitcht and tuckt ruffle, and underpiece, all cut full; fabric looks like taffeta silk—wears better; black only; the best petticoat investment we know of at the price, better than many stores offer at $2.00—see these at $1.50

TO THE PUBLIC!

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company offer for subscription its stock in amounts to suit purchasers from $25 upward.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of erecting a dam to accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, for the purpose of ice cutting, and also erecting houses for storing the same. The lake thus formed will be approximately a mile long and a quarter of a mile at its widest part, and will yield a large quantity of ice.

The company, under the management of a Board of able Directors, will endeavor to reduce the cost of construction, maintenance, etc., to a minimum, and thus be able to fill the demand of the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the remainder of the ice to outside markets at prices which will yield large profits.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors to sell the shares of the capital stock of the Company to residents of Plainfield, North Plainfield and vicinity, and thus allow them the privilege of sharing in the profits of the Company in the shape of dividends at the end of each year. To place this plan within the reach of all consumers of ice and to carry out the idea of a mutual Company, the Company will issue its stock in $25 shares.

As the Company is not to issue any bonds against its property it is obvious that each and all share holders will be doubly secured and will have first claim on the property and the works, the same being free and clear in every respect, and further are assured against loss in each step that the Company takes in bringing the project to completion as follows: First. The Company has already received offers for lake site at a considerable advance on the price that the stockholders will pay for it.

Second. The price paid for building dam will be over four times secured by the lake thus formed, a body of pure water of this size within so short a distance of New York being extremely valuable.

Third. Money expended for icehouses will complete the plant. The completed plant such as is proposed to erect should be worth on conservative estimation three times the total capitalization of the Company.

In securing the Directors of this Company, special effort was taken to get men of financial standing and ability, of character and good repute; men not only at the head of different prosperous corporations but also men holding public respect and confidence. This was done as the Company intends to be a People's Company, and, therefore, wishes to be directed by men of the people and by the people themselves.

The officers of the Company are:

President, Mr. Henry C. Wicker, Treasurer and Secretary of the Nassau Bond Company.

Vice-President, Mr. Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

Treasurer, Mr. J. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Secretary, Mr. John J. Lordan, a Lawyer in New York City.

The Directors of the Company are:

Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

J. F. MacDonald, Director of City National Bank.

H. C. Wicker, Secretary and Treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company.

C. M. Wicker, President of the Nassau Bond Company.

E. G. F. du Mazuel, President of the Consolidated Engineering Company of America.

Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock of the Company at the office of Mr. W. dela R. Anderson, 208 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., at which offices subscription blanks and all detailed information relative to the above may be obtained.

The Company has chosen a local bank in which all funds, securities and moneys are to be deposited and through which all the Company's business is to be done.

DIAMOND DUST.

Captain Gil. Kinney, of the Yale baseball team, passed his special examination yesterday, was reinstated and left later for Washington to join the baseball squad.

The Clinton Avenue team will hold its first practice at Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon. All the members have been ordered to appear.

Patrolman John Payne is a candidate for the position of first base on the Y. M. C. A. team, and stands a good chance of getting it. Payne will go to Passaic tomorrow night with the Y. M. C. A. athletic team to engage in the State meet.

Jack Scott, one of the best pitchers on the Clinton Avenue team, has received a flattering offer from one of the Tri-State League teams. He will probably accept.

George Allen, formerly of the Scotch Plains and Safe Works' teams, will catch for the Washington (Pa.) team in the P. O. M. League, this season.

Lou Wiltse, who will pitch for Johnstown, of the Tri-State League, this season, has been visiting his sister in town for a few days.

Plainfield will be well represented in the college baseball world this season. Fred VanAuken will do most of the twirling for the Naval Academy team, while Heyniger will be depended upon to pitch Princeton to victory.

The Hudson River League, composed of Yonkers, Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Paterson and Newburg, has decided to play five games a week this season. The dates will be announced later.

John H. Scully, the crack third baseman of the Syracuse University baseball team, has been declared ineligible by the faculty committee on scholarship and the team will be weakened by his loss.

The N. P. H. S. and P. H. S. ball teams will cross bats on Crescent oval Saturday afternoon, April 6, at 3 o'clock.

GOLF.

Golf enthusiasts are anxiously waiting an opportunity to play the game and they hope to be able to get on the local courses by April 1.

From present indications the present season will be the best in the history of golf. A great many tournaments are being arranged for and the prospects are exceedingly bright.

George Anderson is expected to return to the Park Golf Club this season, where he will fill the position of steward.

—George B. Zimmer will move tomorrow from 931 West Front street to 934 West Fourth street.

BOWLING TOURNEY GAMES.

Good Scores Put Up by Nash and Skelly and Mack and Meyer.

In bowling tourney games, last night, Koons and Skinner took two from Causebrook and McLaughlin and Mack and Meyer won two out of three with Nash and Skelly. The scores made by the first two teams were on the average but the others did some nice shooting. Skelly got a 247 and a 204, Mack got a 225 and Meyer ended up with 247. The last game was one of the kind the gallery likes, the scores standing 403 to 418.

Mack and Meyer are now within striking distance for second place and the winning of a few more games will put them ahead of Kiely and Runyon.

Last night's scores:

McLaughlin	158	149	134
Causebrook	191	170	147
	349	319	281
vs.
Koons	153	168	170
Skinner	184	195	158
	337	363	328
Nash	156	186	199
Skelly	247	183	204
	403	369	403
vs.
Mack	225	189	171
Meyer	136	192	247
	361	381	418

SOMERSET A. C. REORGANIZES.

Name Changed to Mono F. C. and Officers Elected.

The members of the Somerset A. C., the organization prominent in borough athletics last season, met at the Hotel Iroquois last night, and decided to reorganize for the coming year. The old name was dropped and it will hereafter be known as the Mono Field Club. Herbert Conover was elected manager, Eugene McLaughlin assistant manager and George Conover temporary captain.

Twenty players made applications for places on the team but the lineup will not be selected until after Saturday, when the first practice will be held. The club proposes to put a strong nine in the field and is getting a schedule in shape that will include many of the best known teams in the metropolitan section. Most of the games will be played out of the city. The uniforms will be selected and other details taken care of at a meeting to be held at the Iroquois Tuesday night.

$125,000 CONCERN.

Company Incorporated to Make Cigars Here.

The Union Cigar Company has filed incorporation papers in County Clerk Calvert's office at Elizabeth. The head offices of the concern will be in this city. The authorized capital is $125,000, represented by 1,250 shares at $100 each.

The incorporators are William J. Herren, of this city; Elbert L. Carney, of Edgewater, N. J., and Leonard S. Wieland, of New York.

Will Start Tournaments Later.

The proposed whist and euchre tournaments were not started at the meeting of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, last night, owing to the small attendance of members. Those present spent the evening playing billiards, whist, euchre, dominoes and checkers. It is expected that the tournaments will be started next month.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The annual meeting of the Sabbath-school of the Seventh-Day Baptist church will be held at the church Sunday night.

The Wesleyan Glee and Musical Clubs will give its annual concert at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church Tuesday night, under the auspices of the Men's Association of the church.

The Ebenezer Baptist church will move from 602 East Third street and will hold their service, commencing Sunday, March 31, at 11 a. m. in the Reform Hall and continue services there.

The devotions at St. Joseph's church tomorrow will begin at 6:30 o'clock a. m. There will be the lighting and blessing of new fire, and the blessing of the paschal candle, which will be lighted until Ascension Day.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. A. C. McCrea, of Central avenue, is visiting relatives in Carlisle, Pa.

W. G. Delele, of Somerset street, left today for Atlantic City, where he will remain for a week.

Carman Emmons, of Somerset street, who has been seriously ill for sometime, is improving.

Miss Anna Runyon, of East Sixth street, is home from Mt. Holyoke College for the Easter vacation.

Miss Elsie Brokaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Brokaw, of Sycamore avenue, has sent out invitations for a bridge and euchre party in honor of Miss Barlow and Miss Howell, on Saturday afternoon, April 4.

HE VOTED FORTY TIMES, THOUGH NOT A CITIZEN.

Former Morristown Alderman Discovers Mistake and Wants to Be Naturalized.

Joseph York, of Morristown, has just discovered that he is not a citizen of the United States, and has filed an application for naturalization papers in the county clerk's office. Mr. York is a former alderman and has voted regularly for forty years. He went to Newark from England when nineteen years old, and was told by his fellow workmen that being here before he was of age made him a citizen.

A few years later he went to Morristown and was told that he must take out naturalization papers. He received his first papers in 1872, but as no one told him about second papers he kept on voting without getting them. In 1880 he was elected to the Board of Aldermen in Morristown, serving for four years.

When returning from Europe a few days ago, the surgeon who examined him was uncertain as to his eyes, and when Mr. York said he was an American citizen, the surgeon asked to see his papers.

Carnegie Raps Wall Street.

New York, March 29.—His voice much of the time shaking with earnestness and emotion, Andrew Carnegie last night in an after dinner speech in the Hotel Manhattan denounced Wall street methods of money making as gambling—no more entitled to respect than winning money with cards—and called on all business men, like himself, who produce something, to ignore them in every way possible. Speculation, he said, is a parasite feeding on values and giving none in return. The occasion was the reunion of the United States Military Telegraph Corps, which Mr. Carnegie organized in the early days of the Civil War. "A few gamblers in Wall street," he said, "are in trouble. The man who is winning is happy, but he who has sold short and hasn't the stock to deliver thinks the President has gone a little too far. It's a good thing for the country that these gamblers come to grief. I wish I could invent a system that would bring them to grief on both sides of the game. If I could control it I'd see that both sides suffer."

—Michael White, who was injured at the Manganese Steel Safe Works, is improving rapidly at the hospital.

—S. Scheuer & Co. have just received 100 cases of fresh eggs from Hunterdon county, which they are selling at a reduced price. **

—In order to insure their payment at the regular meeting next week, all bills against the borough should be in the hands of Borough Clerk Frank Romley tonight.

"CENTRAL PARK"

Was — Is — Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm.

IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences.

Central Park is that beautifully situated tract bounded by Park, Prospect, Hillside and Thornton Avenues.

I did not see Dominick until after supper. I had nerved myself for a scene—indeed, I had been hoping he would insult me. When one lacks the courage boldly to advance along the perilous course his intelligence counsels, he is lucky if he can and will goad some one into kicking him along it past the point where retreat is possible. Such methods of advance are not dignified, but then, is life dignified? To my surprise and alarm, Dominick refused to kick me into manhood. He had been paid, and the $77,000, in bills of large denomination, were warming his heart from the inner pocket of his waistcoat. So he came up to me scowling, but friendly.

"Why didn't you tell me you wanted to be let off, Harvey?" he said, reproachfully. "I'd 'a' done it. Now, damn you, you've put me in a place where I've got to give you the whip."

To flush at this expression from Dominick was a hypocritical refinement of sensitiveness. To draw myself up haughtily, to turn on my heel and walk away—that was the silliness of a boy. Still, I am glad I did both these absurd things. When I told my mother how I had ruined myself in politics she began to cry—and tears were not her habit. Then she got my father's picture and kissed it and talked to it about me, just as if he were there with us; and for a time I felt that I was of heroic stature.

But as the days passed, with no laurels in the form of cases and fees, and as clients left me through fear of Dominick's power, I shriveled back to human size and descended from my pedestal. From the ground-level I began again to look about the matter-of-fact world.

I saw I was making only a first small payment on the heavy price for the right to be free to break with any man or any enterprise that menaced my self-ownership. That right I felt I must keep, whatever its cost. Some men can, or think they can, lend their self-ownership and take it back at convenience; I knew I was not of them—and let none of them judge me. Especially let none judge me who only deludes himself that he owns himself, who has sold himself all his life long for salaries and positions or for wealth, or for the empty reputation of power he wields only on another's sufferance.

A glance about me was enough to disclose the chief reason why so many men had surrendered the inner citadel of self-respect. In the crucial hour, when they had had to choose between subservience and a hard battle with adversity, forth from their hearts had issued a traitor weakness, the feeling of responsibility to wife and children, and this traitor had easily delivered them captive to some master or masters. More, or less, than human, it seemed to me, was the courage that could make successful resistance to this traitor, and could strike down and drag down wife and children. "I must give up Elizabeth," I said to myself, "for her own sake as well as for mine. Marry her I must not until I am established securely in freedom. And when will that be?" In my mood of darkness and despair, the answer to that question was a relentless: "Never, especially if you are weighted with the sense of obligation to her, of her wasting her youth in waiting for you."

I wrote her all that was in my mind. —"You must forget me," I said, "and I shall forget you—for I see that you are not for me."

The answer came by telegraph: "Please don't ever hurt me in that way." And of the letter which came two days later I remember clearly this sentence: "If you will not let me go on with you, I will make the journey alone."

This shook me but I knew only too well how the bright and beautiful legions of the romantic and the ideal could be put to flight, could be hurled headlong into the abyss of oblivion by the phalanxes of fact.

"I see what I must do," was my answer to her letter. "And I shall do it. Be merciful to me, Elizabeth. Do not tempt me to a worse cowardice than giving you up. I shall not write again."

And I did not. Every one of her letters was answered—sometimes, I remember, I wrote to her the whole night through, shading my window so that mother could not from her window see the reflection of my lamp's light on the ground and become anxious. But I destroyed those long and often agonized answers. And I can not say whether my heart was the heavier in the months when I was getting her letters, to which I dared not reply, or in those succeeding months when her small, clear handwriting first ceased to greet me from the mail.

CHAPTER IV.

The School of Life-as-it-is.

A day or so after I lost the only case of consequence I had had in more than a year. Buck Fessenden came into my office, and after dosing me liberally with those friendly protestations and assurances which please even when they do not convince, said: "I know you won't give me away, Sayler, and I can't stand it any longer to watch you going on this way. Don't you see the old man's after you hammer and tongs? He'll never let up. You won't get no clients, and, if you do, you won't win no cases."

These last five words, spoken in Buck's most significant manner, revealed what my modesty—or, if you prefer it, my stupidity—had hidden from me. I had known all along that Dominick was keeping away and driving away my clients; but I had not suspected his creatures on the bench. To this day, after all these years of use, only with the greatest reluctance and with a moral uneasiness which would doubtless amuse most political managers, do I send "suggestions" or "intimations" to my men in judicial office—and I always do it, and always have done it, indirectly. And I feel relieved and grateful when my judges, eager to "serve the party," anticipate me by sending me a reassuring hint.

I did not let Buck see into my mind. "Nonsense!" I pooh-poohed; "I've no cause to complain of lack of business; but even if I had, I'd not blame Dominick or any one else but myself." Then I gave him a straight but good-humored look. "Drop it, Buck," said I. "What did the old man send you to me for? What does he want.

He was too crafty to defend an indefensibe position. "I'll admit he did send me," said he, with a grin, "but I came on my own account, too. Do you want to make it up with him? You can get back under the plum tree if you'll say the word."

I could see my mother, as I had seen her two hours before at our poor midday meal—an old, old woman, so broken, so worn! And all through the misery this Dominick had brought upon us. Before I could control myself to speak, Buck burst out, a look of alarm in his face: "Don't say it, Mr. Sayler—I know—I know. I told him it'd be no use. Honest, he ain't as bad as you think—he don't know no better, and it's because he liked and still likes you that he wants you back." He leaned across the desk toward me, in his earnestness—and I could not doubt his sincerity. "Sayler," he went on, "take my advice, get out of the state. You ain't the sort that gives in, and no more is he. You've got more nerve than any other man I know, bar none, but don't waste it on a fool fight. You know enough about politics to know what you're up against."

"Thank you," said I, "but I'll stay on"

He gave over trying to persuade me. "I hope," said he, "you've got a card up your sleeve that the old man don't know about."

I made some vague reply, and he soon went away. I felt that I had confirmed his belief in my fearlessness. Yet, if he could have looked into my mind, how he would have laughed at his credulity! Probably he would have pitied me, too, for it is one of the curious facts of human nature that men are amazed and even disgusted whenever they see—in others—the weaknesses that are universal. I doubt not, many who read these memoirs will be quite honestly Pharisaical, thanking heaven that they are not touched with any of my infirmities.

It may have been coincident, though I think not, that, a few days after Fessenden's call, a reform movement against Dominick appeared upon the surface of Jackson county politics. I thought at the time that it was the first streak of the dawn I had been watching for—the awakening of the sluggish moral sentiment of the rank and file of the voters. I know now that it was merely the result of a quarrel among the corporations that employed Dominick. He had been giving the largest of them, Roebuck's Universal Gas and Electric company, called the Power trust, more than its proportional share of the privileges and spoils. The others had protested in vain, and as a last resort had ordered their lawyers to organize a movement to "purify" Jackson county, Dominick's stronghold.

I did not then know it, but I got the nomination for county prosecutor chiefly because none of the other lawyers, not even those secretly directing the reform campaign, was brave enough publicly to provoke the Power trust. I made a house to house, farm to farm, man to man, canvass. We had the secret ballot, and I was elected. The people rarely fail to respond to that kind of appeal if they are convinced that response cannot possibly hurt, and may help, their pockets. And, by the way, those occasional responses, significant neither of morality nor of intelligence, lead political theorists far astray. As if honor or honesty could win other than sporadic and more or less hypocritical homage—practical homage, I mean—among a people whose permanent ideal is wealth, no matter how great or how used. That is another way of saying that the chief characteristic of Americans is that we are human, and, whatever we may profess, cherish the human ideal universal in a world where want is man's wickedest enemy and wealth his most winning friend. But as I was relating, I was elected, and my majority, on the face of the returns, was between 1,000 and 1,100. It must actually have been many thousands, for never before had Dominick "doctored" the tally sheets so recklessly.

Financially I was now on my way to the surface. I supposed that I had become a political personage also. Was I not in possession of the most powerful office in the county? I was astonished that neither Dominick nor any other member of his gang made the slightest effort to conciliate me between election day and the date of my taking office. I did succeed in forcing from reluctant grand juries indictments against a few of the most notorious, but least important, members of the gang; and I got one conviction—which was reversed on trial-errors by the higher court.

The truth was that my power had no existence. Dominick still ruled, through the judges and the newspapers. The press was silent when it could not venture to deprecate or to condemn me.

But I fought on almost alone. I did not fail to make it clear to the people why I was not succeeding, and what a sweep there must be before Jackson county could have an real reform. I made an even more vigorous campaign for reelection than I had made four years before. The farmers stood by me fairly well, but the town went overwhelmingly against me. Why? Because I was "bad for business," and, if reelected, would be still worse. The corporations with whose law-breaking I interfered were threatening to remove their plants from Pulaski—that would have meant the departure of thousands of the merchants' best customers and the destruction of the town's prosperity. I think the election was fairly honest. Dominick's man beat me by about the same majority, by which I had been elected.

"Bad for business!"—the most potent of political slogans. And it will inevitably result some day in the concentration of absolute power political and all other kinds, in the hands of the few who are strongest and cleverest. For they can make the people bitterly regret and speedily repent having tried to correct abuses; and the people, to save their dollars, will sacrifice their liberty. I doubt if they will, in our time at least, learn to see far enough to realize that who captures their liberty captures them, and, therefore, their dollars, too.

By my defeat in that typical contest I was disheartened, embittered—and ruined. For, in my enthusiasm and confidence I had gone deeply into debt for the expenses of the reform campaign. At midnight of the election day I descended into the black cave of despair. For three weeks I explored it. When I returned to the surface, I was a man ready to deal with men on the terms of human nature. I had learned my lesson.

For woman the cost of attainment of womanhood's maturity is the beautiful, the divine freshness of girlhood. For man, the cost of the attainment of manhood's full strength and power is equally great, and equally sad—his divine faith in human nature, his divine belief that abstract justice and right and truth rule the world.

Even now, when life is redeeming some of those large promises to pay which I had long ago given up as hopeless bad debts; even now, it gives me a wrench to remember the cruelest chapter in that bitter lesson. So certain had I been of reelection that I had arranged to go to Boston the day after my triumph at the polls. For I knew from friends of the Crosbys in Pulaski that Elizabeth was still unmarried, was not engaged, and upon that I had built high a romantic hope.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, January 3, 1907, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present—20.

The minutes of the previous meeting were, on motion, approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From A. W. Hicks, of Summit, N. J., and addressed to Freeholder Cady, calling attention to the fact that his mare had, in the early fall, "fallen through the plank flooring of the Mt. Vernon Avenue bridge over the Passaic, near the old New Providence station, and had cut and strained herself quite badly;" that "after a drive over rough roads she invariably goes lame, but recovered in a few days." The mare had cost him $175, was sound and in good condition when she went through the bridge. He thought that $50 would be a reasonable charge for damages.

On motion of Freeholder Woodruff, received and referred to the Legal Question Committee and County Attorney, with power.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the Committee on Collector's Bond, as follows:

To the Board of Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Collector's Bond beg leave to report that we have examined the bond of N. R. Leavitt, County Collector, and approve the same as to form and sufficiency of surety.

Peter R. Meisel, J. Hervey Doane, Robert C. Maurer, Committee.

The sureties in the above bond were John Kean, Louis F. Hersh and John W. Whalen.

No objections being offered, the bond was accepted and ordered on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Krouse:

Resolved, That the Director appoint a committee of three on legislation to look after the interests of Union County at the coming session of the Legislature.

On motion of Freeholder Gruener, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

The Director appointed on the said committee, Freeholders Krouse, Smith and Pierson.

The Director also announced the following committee, appointments to fill existing vacancies, viz.: On bridge over Van Winkle Brook, Springfield, Freeholder Donahue in place of former Freeholder Murphy. On South Ave. Bridge, Westfield, Freeholder Doane in place of former Freeholder Westphal.

By Freeholder Jones:

Resolved, That labor for removing snow on the county roads, in case they become impassable to the traveling public from heavy storms, be fixed at 20c. an hour.

Freeholder Swain moved the adoption of the resolution, and after considerable discussion the motion to adopt was lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Director King and Freeholders Cady, Fay, Jones, Meisel, Perry, Pierson, Swain and Woodruff—9.

Nays—Freeholders Adams, Cladek, Darby, Doane, Donahue, Gruener, Krouse, Maurer, Robison, Smith and Wilbur—14.

Freeholder Woodruff then moved that for work work as mentioned in the foregoing resolution the sum of 20c. per hour be paid on week days, and 25s. per hour on Sundays, which was so ordered.

By Freeholder Wilbur:

Resolved, That the County Collector be, and he is hereby, authorized to pay the amount appropriated for hospitals, as follows, viz.:

Elizabeth General Hospital	$7,500
Muhlenberg Hospital	4,800
Alexian Brothers Hospital	2,700
	$15,000

Freeholder Gruener moved the adoption of the resolution and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

A bill of Frederick Ayers in amount $211.63 for repairs to Milton Avenue Drawbridge, Rahway, was read. The warrant attached to said bill was signed by Freeholders Gruener and Chandler, two members at the time of committee on said drawbridge, and the bill was approved by County Engineer Bauer.

Freeholder Cladek, the third member of said committee, objected to the payment of the bill, claiming that the charge for labor ($94.50) was exorbitant, he had examined the work done, and was of the opinion that the said charge for labor was excessive.

Freeholder Gruener said that when repairs were ordered he had not expected the cost to be as much as charged in Mr. Ayers' bill, but after work was begun, it was found necessary to make considerable repairs to both wood and iron work under the bridge, and the expense was thereby increased.

County Engineer Bauer said that he had also examined the bridge, and as compared with work of a similar character done in the county he thought the bill was a fair and proper one.

After some further discussion, a motion that the bill be paid was lost by the following vote, viz.:

Ayes—Freeholders Adams, Cady, Darby, Doane, Gruener, Krouse, Meisel, Robison, Smith and Wilbur—10.

Nays—Director King and Freeholders Cladek, Donahue, Fay, Jones, Maurer, Perry, Pierson, Swain and Woodruff—10.

Freeholder Pierson moved that the bill re referred to a special committee of five, together with County Engineer Bauer, for investigation, report to be made at next meeting, which was so ordered.

The Director appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Pierson, Krouse, Smith, Fay and Meisel.

Freeholder Krouse moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The Director declared the Board adjourned until Thursday, February 7, 1907, art 2:30 p. m.

LAUNDRY SUGGESTIONS.

Things to remember in washing:

That flannels are washed first.

That white things come next.

That colored things are done while white things are boiling.

That dirty kitchen aprons and cloths come last of all.

That soaking is done in tepid water.

That rinsing is done in tepid water.

That extremes of heat and cold cause shrinking.

That soap jelly is necessary for woolen things.

That soap must be thoroughly rinsed out before bluing.

That blue must be well mixed through the water.

That wringing well after bluing is most important.

Things to remember in drying:

To have the lines, pegs and clotheshorse scrupulously clean.

To hang things up wrong side out.

To hang colored things in a shady place.

Not to hang woolen things in too great heat.

How to Properly Boil Water.

When water is put into a kettle over the fire, bubbles rise to the surface. These are expanded air, and this is why the kettle "boils over" if filled to the brim when the water is cold. As the water grows hotter it changes to steam at the bottom of the kettle, where the heat is most intense, and bubbles of steam take the place of air bubbles. At 185 degrees the steam bubbles rise and drop back and the water is said to simmer. If the water rises yet higher in temperature, the bubbles escape, and at 212 degrees the water boils and steam escapes. Now, a thermometer will show that no matter how much the heat is increased under the kettle the water will become no hotter than 212 degrees, but it will be turned into steam faster, and in that way it is said to "boil away." Therefore unless food is to be cooked in steam it is a waste of fuel to bil water so fast that it disappears rapidly in steam. The violent agitation will also break into pieces whatever is being cooked.

Plainfield High School Glee Club. —Courtesy, The Oracle.

The musical clubs organized at the Plainfield High School early in the year have attained an efficiency that is encouraging not only to the students themselves but to the school authorities. Plans are now being completed for the annual concert to be given this month at the High School. The material is especially strong in the glee club, where several solo voices have been developed, and the orchestra is also well balanced, several good violin players having joined this season. The male glee club recently organized continues to show improvement and will make its first appearance at the March concert.

Now that recognition of the value of systematic and regular work along these lines has been secured, giving credit of points for graduation for such work, several pupils find it a pleasant method of making up one point a year in addition to enjoying the social recreation of the rehearsals. The various clubs are constituted as follows:

Glee Club—Sopranos, The Misses Brousse, Brouwer, Carman, Collins, Eckert, Fitzgerald, Jones, C. and F. Kanen, Jewett, MacNiff, H. M. Rogers, Smalley, Stutsman, Tillotson, VanTuyle; altos—The Misses Brown, Carr, Cuming, Dunham, Delany, Pound, Radford, Winn; tenor—Messrs. Briggs, Henry de Brigard, Doane, Fountain, Woodhull; bass—Messrs. Bond, Bogardus, R. W. Dutcher, G. S. Fisher, Hardcastle, Caldwell, Leggett, Reid, Thickstun, Lindaberry; accompanist, Miss Rittenhouse.

Mandolin and Banjo Club—Mandolins—Miss VanNorden, Messrs. Howe, Leggett, Bond, Smith, Williams; banjos—Messrs. Briggs, Leland, Lindaberry; guitar—Messrs. Weston Gavett; traps, H. de Brigard; piano, Miss Margaret Leggett.

Orchestra—Violins, the Misses Brouwer, A. Brown, M. Brown; Messrs. Doane, R. Dutcher, Brick, Knowlton, Taylor; viola, S. B. Howe, Jr.; cornet, Mr. Mygrant; traps, Chester Briggs; piano, Miss Knowlton.

Male Glee Club—First tenor, Guion Fountain, H. de Brigard, Clyde Doane; second tenor, William Briggs, Roy Woodhull, S. B. Howe, Jr.; first bass, G. S. Fisher, Albert Hardcastle, E. Bogardus, Leslie Bond; second bass, Fred Reid, Walter Caldwell, R. W. Dutcher, D. Thickstun.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

When Henry B. Harris presents his company in "The Lion and the Mouse," at the New Plainfield theatre tonight Plainfield playgoers will be given their second opportunity of seeing the play which has been more extensively commended than anything known to the native stage and which has been given the credit of meriting everything enthusiastic word uttered in its favor. Charles Klein is the author and the play has recorded a success that will bring lasting fame to its creator even though he never writes anything else. Treating with high finance and the evils of money influence Mr. Klein followed an original idea and worked his story out with marvellously well planned detail. Mr. Harris did the rest by selecting a company of splendid ability and the American playgoers are testifying their appreciation by crowding the theatre wherever "The Lion and the Mouse" is offered. The play is now in its second year in New York, Boston liked it immensely for months and Chicago literally raved over its fascinations during the four month run in that city.

Miss Maude Scaly, Starring in "The Illusion of Beatrice," Which Will Be Seen at the New Plainfield Theatre In the Near Future.

"The Sultan of Sulu" comes to the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night. This acknowledged success by George Ade, author of Fables in Slang, will be rendered by an excellent company of singers and an entirely new equipment of costumes and scenery will be used. The author has expressed with emphasis all the sanity and flavor of Anglo-Saxon wit. From a pictorial point of view, nothing has been left undone. The tropical scenery is admirably exploited and the eye is delighted with a foreground of tasteful costumes and modern millinery. The story deals with the American occupation of the Philippines.

Coming direct from its run at the Manhattan theatre in New York "Mrs. Warren's Profession," the most noteworthy dramatic production of a decade, will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night by Manager Joseph M. Gaites. "Mrs. Warren's Profession" is not only of interest because it is the masterpiece of George Bernard Shaw's literary output, but on account of its sensational theatrical history. In 1893 in England the close censorship put upon plays by the Queen's Reader kept "Mrs. Warren's Profession" from public judgment. A few years ago its presentation in New York was suppressed by a political conspiracy on account of its alleged immoral aspect; and it was not till its production this season that the press and public were allowed to decide fairly the real dramatic and literary worth of the play. The piece is not what might be called "tame." Shaw, as in all his work, does not hesitate to call things by their right names. He puts ideas into the mouths of his actors that are of common discussion to every thinking man or woman. He handles a subject of vital importance in our economic get up. In a masterly style he gives both sides of the question and works up his arguments in furious crescendo, always skillfully avoiding any peachments upon or moral therein."

There are few bands that receive the close attention from their director as the United States Marine Band of Washington, "The President's Own," receives from its leader, Lieutenant William H. Santelmann. Every year he spends his vacation abroad, visiting one city after the other, studying bands, music, organization and equipment. Every new idea worth having he brings back with him. The result is that every season Washington is treated to a novelty either in the instruments themselves, the music or the methods of production or interpretation. The band will appear at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday afternoon and night under the auspices of the local Elks.

ELABORATE SERVICES TO MARK EASTER FEAST

Splendid Musical Programmes to be Rendered in Catholic and Protestant Churches.

CHIEFLY IN MORNING

Children's Services in the Afternoon and At Night In Some Edifices —Arrangements for the Day.

Eastertide will be welcomed in all the churches of Plainfield tomorrow with music and flowers. Special musical programmes will mark all the services, and the ministers will draw inspiration for joyous messages from the colors and scents of bright flowers about pulpits and altars. Fair weather is promised for the Easter church parade. The weather experts say cooler winds will blow, but sunshine aplenty is expected and that is all the womenfolk ask of the meteorological sharps.

The programmes in the churches will be as follows:

St. Mary's Church.

Services at St. Mary's church will begin at 6:30 o'clock, five masses being held hourly. The 10:30 o'clock mass will be a solemn high celebration. Father Vincent Sciolla will be celebrant, Father Delehanty, deacon, Father Bogan, sub-deacon; the latter will preach the sermon. The musical programme will be as follows: Processional, "Rejoice, Rejoice," Laporte; Vidi Aquam, Pecher; Kyrie, Giorza; Gloria, Giorza; Veni Creator, chancel choir; Credo, Giorza; Regina Coeli, Dachauer; Sanctus, Giorza; Benedictus, Giorza; Agnus Dei, Giorza; recessional, "Holy God;" finale, organ, grand march, De Triumph, Dudley Buck. The soloists will be Miss Anna Daly, soprano; Miss Elizabeth Day, contralto; Albert Matthews, tenor; Edward J. Walsh, bass.

St. Joseph's Church.

Masses at St. Joseph's church will be at 8:30 and 10:30 o'clock. At the high mass a Passionist father will be celebrant, Father Miller, deacon, Father Tirrell, sub-deacon. Father Shanley will also take part. The music will include the plain chant and the Cecilian harmony, under the direction of James E. Bailey and Mrs. Alfred LaPorte, the organist. Before the mass there will be a procession of 100 children, who will sing hymns. James Bailey and Alfred LaPorte will sing duet parts. The choir will be augmented. The programme: Processional, "Christ the Lord is Risen," choir and one hundred children; Kyrie, plain chant; Gloria, Preis-Messe Stehle; Credo, Stehle; Regina Coeli, Gurza; Sanctus, Stehle; Agnus Dei, plain chant.

Holy Cross P. E. Church.

At Holy Cross Protestant Episcopal church the services will be as follows: 6:00 a. m., early celebration of Holy Communion; 8:00 a. m., early celebration of Holy Communion; 9:45 a. m., Children's service; address by rector and mite box offering for missions; 11:00 a. m., Holy Communion, preceded by morning prayer, and sermon by rector; 7:45 p. m., evensong, with sermon by rector.

The musical programme at Holy Cross will be as follows: Morning prayer; "Christ Our Passover," Schilling; Te Deum (in C), Lutkin; Jubilate (in F), Woodward; Introit, "As It Began to Dawn," Coons; offertory, "Come See the Place Where Jesus Lay," by Parker; communion service (in F), Steane. Evensong: Magnificat, Mann; Nunc Dimittis, Elvey; offertory, "Awake Up My Glory,' Barnaby.

First Baptist.

The choir at the First Baptist church will render a special programme of Easter anthems tomorrow morning under the direction of Howard M. Case, organist, and the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, will preach a sermon appropriate to the day. There will also be violin, piano and organ selections.

In the afternoon at 3o'clock the Sunday-school will hold its Easter exercises, the programme being as follows:

Prelude, "Simple Aveu," Thome, violin, piano, organ; carol, "Awake, Awake, Glad Easter Morn," school; invocation, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss; responsive Scripture reading, led by F. W. Jones, assistant superintendent; anthem, choir; carol, "Blessed Easter Time," Junior Department; recitation, "Message of the Angels," Junior Department; carol, "The Easter Story," school; primary session; offertory, "Meditation," Massenet, violin solo, Miss Florence Wohlfert; annual report, P. Newton Drake, secretary; carol, "The Heavens Are Resounding," school; benediction, postlude, organ. There will be no evening service at this church.

Trinity Reformed Church.

Prelude, "Arie," violin and organ, J. Sebastian Bach; Old Hundred, "Doxology," Ken Burgeois; "Te Deum in F," H. Kotzschmar; response, Gounod; Gloria, Juan Alzamora; anthem, "Why Seey Ye," Caleb Simper; anthem, "O Death, Where Is Thy Sting?" Walter Spinney; chant, "The Lord's Prayer," Chas. H. Hoyt; offertory, "The Lord Is Risen," Arthur Sullivan, contralto solo; anthem, "A Day of Christ," J. C. Bartlett, with violin obligato; postlude, "Marcia," Joachim Raff, violin and organ. Miss Ethel Moore, soprano; Miss Winifred Carroll, contralto; E. D. Young, tenor; F. S. Cutter, bass; Mrs. Violet Truell Johnston, violin; A. L. Titsworth, organist.

The evening service will be in charge of the Sunday-school, which will render an Easter choral service, entitled "Resurrection and Life," by Gale and Lowden, with special orchestral accompaniment.

First Presbyterian Church.

While the quartette choir at the First Presbyterian church will sing Easter anthems, tomorrow, morning and night, the regular Easter service will be held on Sunday, April 7, at which time Miss Anna Case, the new soprano, will assume her position. Clifford A. Braider, organist, is now preparing an elaborate programme for the service. The quartette tomorrow will include Mrs. Gillpin, of Cranford, soprano; Miss Edna Nichcil, contralto; Elmer D. Cutting, tenor, and F. C. Iglehart, Jr., bass. On May 1, Miss Jessamine Burd, of Somerville, the new contralto, will succeed Miss Nicholl. The Sunday-school will also have Easter exercises tomorrow afternoon.

First Methodist.

J. Edmund Skiff, organist and choirmaster at the First M. E. church, has prepared special programmes for the morning and evening services, tomorrow, and the pastor, Rev. A. C. McCrea, will preach appropriate sermons. The musical service in the morning will be as follows:

Anthems, "Christ the Lord," Wilson; "Awake Ye Saints," Schnecker; soprano solo, "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth," Handel, Miss Bertha van Nuise Willis. The evening programme will be as follows:

Anthems, "Awake Up My Glory," Barnby; "Christ the Lord Is Risen," Buck; "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," Spinney; "Lift Your Glad Voices," VanLaer; "Christ Has Won the Victory," Hawley; solo, "Christ the Lord," Sullivan, Miss Suzanne Zimmerman.

Faith Chapel.

Music appropriate to Easter will be rendered at Faith chapel tomorrow morning by a chorus choir, and in the evening there will be a special programme by Miss Louella C. Harris, soprano, and Miss Gertrude Hinz, contralto, with Howard M. Case at the organ. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Musson, will preach morning and evening.

The Sunday-school will also hold its exercises in the evening. Miss Justine Roberts, of Brooklyn, will give recitations, and Whitney Frazee will assist on the cornet.

St. Stephen's Church.

The services at St. Stephen's church will begin at 6:30 o'clock with a low celebration of the communion. Another celebration will be held at 7:30 o'clock. Matins, without music, will be held at 10:30 o'clock. The high celebration will be held at 11:00; at that service the musical programme will include two anthems, in which Miss Emily Lacey will do the solo work, and sing a duet with Miss Christine Sorensen. Rev. A. S. Peck, the rector, will preach. A carol service for the children will be held at 4 o'clock. Flowers will be distributed at that service. George Bennett will play a cornet offertory solo. The music will be under the direction of organist Charles Suhr.

Congregational Church.

Two services will be held at the Congregational church tomorrow, the regular church service at 10:30 o'clock and Sunday-school service at 12 o'clock. At the church service the choirs of the church and Sunday-school will be combined and will render the following anthems: "Come Sing with Exultation," Spence; "Christ our Passover," Woeltge; "They Have Taken Away Our Lord," Harrington; and "Unfold Ye Portals." In addition there will be violin solos by Arthur O. Berg, of the New York Symphony Orchestra. The Sunday-school will hold general exercises in place of the lesson, with special music and an address by the pastor. There will be

SCHOOL ROMANCE HAS HAPPY CLIMAX

MISS ROSS AND MR. DAVIS, CLASSMATES AT COLLEGE, ARE TO WED.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss May Ross, daughter of Postmaster Richard Ross, of Bound Brook, and Eugene Davis, who is now completing his course of study in the theological seminary at Alfred University, in preparation for mission work in China. The event will be celebrated at the home of the bride, at West Fifth street and Arlington avenue, in June.

The marriage will be the termination of a romance begun while Miss Ross and Mr. Davis were students at Alfred University, from which both were graduated. Mr. Davis was the star player on the football team while in the university, and also stood high in his studies. After Miss Ross was graduated Mr. Davis continued his studies in the seminary, and the friendship formed at college has continued. It is expected that the couple will go to China after their marriage, where they will take charge of a mission station under the auspices of the Seventh-Day Baptist denomination.

TO RUN MORE CARS.

Public Service Corporation Will Improve Service in Elizabeth.

Elizabeth, March 30.—District Superintendent Getting, of the Public Service Corporation, has announced that in the future the First and Third street lines, regarding the service upon which there has been so much complaint, would be run under a twelve-minute headway, with only ten minutes between care during the rush hours of the morning and evening.

This change is pursuant to a promise made the City Council by Colonel Hinchman a few weeks ago, when that body threatened a revocation of the company's franchise unless better service were given over these lines.

Easter Music at P. H. S.

Easter was observed at the Plainfield High School yesterday by a musical programme. Three numbers were sung by the school, the solo parts being taken by the instructor, Charles Lewis, and Miss Queena Tillotson. There was also music by a quartette consisting of the Misses Queena Tillotson, Louise Andrews, Henrietta Winn and Elizabeth Pound. The numbers were "See Now the Altar," "They Have Taken Away My Lord," and a Lenten cantata, "Story of Calvary."

Worried Over Husband.

Mrs. Victor A. Kane, who lives at 1003 Park avenue, telephoned to police headquarters late yesterday afternoon and asked for help in searching for her husband, who had left the house shortly before. Mr. Kane has been ill, and she was afraid he might not be able to care for himself. Early in the evening officers found Mr. Kane walking on Belvidere avenue and took him home. He said he felt like taking a walk.

Joseph Complains.

Joseph Zgrzybarz, which is his real name and not the work of a soused linotype operator, appeared in the city court this morning as complainant against Frank Rafanello, whom he accused of hitting him with a bar of iron at the Scott Press Works shop, where they both work. After listening to a tangled string of testimony Judge Runyon wearily suspended sentence.

Dr. Lewis Preaches.

Special Easter services were held this morning at the Seventh-Day Baptist church. Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis preached on "Personal Resurrection." He gave a short history of the changes undergone in the celebration of Easter since the birth of Christ, saying that no year since the children of Israel were led through the Red Sea had it been neglected.

More Grass Fires.

Two alarms were received at fire headquarters this morning for burning grass. The first was on South avenue, near the Keely coal yard, but was extinguished before a hose wagon sent out reached the scene. The second was for a blaze at Third street and Monroe avenue and gave the men from the West End house quite a fight.

Miss Florence Long Injured.

Miss Florence Long, of Dunellen, aged sixteen years, who is employed to operate one of the presses at the Crescent Embossing Works, caught her hand in the press yesterday afternoon badly lacerating it. She went to the hospital and had the hand dressed. She will remain at the hospital for the present.

P. H. S. Seniors' Play.

The senior class of the Plainfield High School has selected "Twelfth Night" for the play to be given by them this year. The cast is being coached by Miss Goddard.

GOOD FRIDAY OBSERVED

Protestant Churches United in Service at Crescent Avenue Church.

MANY ADDRESSES MADE

Six Ministers Spoke — Rev. Mr. Finn In Charge—Rev. J. S. Zelie Pronounces Benediction.

According to the annual custom, local congregations united in a Good Friday service at the Crescent Avenue church last night. Eight clergymen, representing five denominations, took part in the proceedings and the attendance was one of the largest noted in several years. This fact was commented on by Rev. Dr. Erskine M. Rodman in the course of an address during the evening. He remarked that at previous gatherings the number of people present had been so small on one or two occasions that it seemed as if the devil had been providing some counter attraction.

The service was in charge of Rev. A. E. Finn, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, and the pastors who spoke on "The Seven Words from the Cross" were Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, of Grace church; Rev. Dr. Charles W. Parsons, of Grace M. E. church; Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, rector-emeritus of Grace church; Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. J. W. Musson, of Faith chapel, and Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church.

Rev. A. C. McCrea, pastor of the First M. E. church, read a short Bible lesson following congregational singing, and Rev. Mr. Stevenson spoke on the first words: "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do." The lesson to be derived from this text, he said, was that the pain and suffering of Christ made him look out beyond it to the poor unconscious instruments of the tyant's power. He remarked upon the unconsciousness of self embodied in the prayer and stated that the keynote of the text was "renunciation."

The second words, "Verily I say unto you, this day shalt thou be with me in Paradise," were spoken upon by Dr. Parsons.

"It is not all of life to live now, it is not all of death to die once," he said, in prefacing his remarks. There was a lesson, he added, in the fact that God stooped to intimacy with a common thief.

Rev. E. E. Roberson had been assigned the third words but was unavoidably detained and they were omitted. The next remarks were made on the fourth words, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" by Dr. Rodman. He spoke briefly, his main thought being that in that awful hour, Christ was bowed down by a sense of all the sins of the human race, past, present and future.

"I Thirst," the fifth words, were spoken of by Rev. Mr. Herring, who took occasion to remark in connection with the lesson that he believed that in the course of a few years, the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist denominations would have stricter views regarding Holy Week.

The sixth words, "It is Finished," was discussed by Rev. J. W. Musson. When these words were uttered, he said, it was the supreme moment in the life of the Master.

Rev. Mr. Goodrich spoke of the seventh words, "Into Thy hands I commend my spirit." In discussing them he mentioned the statement of an English scientist who said that Caesar died like a man but Jesus died like a God. Mr. Goodrich added that Christ died like a man and that the crucifixion was not only a spectacle for the angels and the ages but that it was a human experience.

Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, offered prayer in closing the meeting. The offering taken will be donated the Children's Home, a practice that has been observed since the union services have been held.

Lost Damage Suit.

Charles Tilton failed in his suit for damages against Mrs. Barbara Kean, landlady, yesterday, before Justice A. W. Warden and a jury in Dunellen yesterday afternoon. He sued for $100, on the ground that a leaky roof had damaged his furniture and caused illness in his family. The defense showed that the roof was all right when he moved in and that he had damaged the house himself. The jury decided he had no grounds on which to collect damages. R. P. F. vonMinden appeared for the defense.

—Dr. Ralph M. Crane, osteopathist, of 220 Central Park South, New York city, will visit Plainfield Tuesdays and Saturdays. Those desiring appointments for consultation and osteopathic treatment, address, care of Rev. A. C. Dickerson, 768 Kensington avenue. 3 2 tf s m

MISS READE TALKS OF WORK AMONG HEATHEN

"HOME THOUGHT FROM ABROAD" HER SUBJECT AT WOMEN'S MEETING.

Encouraging reports from the women's missionary societies, together with an address by Miss Mina A. Reade, acting field secretary of the Women's Board at Boston, marked the thirty-fourth anniversary meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, yesterday afternoon. While the society did not raise quite as much money last year as in previous periods, a considerable sum was contributed to the foreign work. Miss Ida Yerkes, treasurer, reported the receipts to be $452.02 with a balance of one cent, all having been expended for the cause. A balance of $1.80 was reported in the contingent fund.

Mrs. B. J. Shreve, who completes her thirty-fourth year as secretary for the society, presented a report of great interest, showing the progress made in the cause of missions which was a source of much encouragement to all.

The Women's Home Missionary Society also reported the work accomplished during the past year. Mrs. Frank W. Jones, treasurer, stated that $878.80 was raised, about $300 more than a year ago, and there is a balance of $1.35. This society has a membership of about 100. Of the amount raised $200 was for the special fund for the Chicago Training School. The report of Mrs. George H. Robins, secretary, was full of interest.

The report of the Young Women's Missionary Society showed that $132 was raised during the year, of which amount $70 was given to the foreign work, $40 to home missions, $10 to the Baptist Home for the Aged, $10 for the Chicago Training School and $2 to the educational fund. The society has a membership of forty-five.

More than ordinary interest was shown in the first annual report of the Junior Missionary Society, of which Mrs. Howard M. Case is the superintendent. The membership is thirty and $35 was raised during the year for missions. The society attended the meeting and took part in the exercises.

Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, as president of the foreign missionary society, presided, and she introduced Miss Reade. The speaker, who has a charming personality, devoted the first few minutes of her time in talking to the children, telling them of what had been accomplished by little ones in some of the foreign fields. She then spoke on the subject of "Home Thoughts from Abroad," emphasizing the importance of the part to be taken in the advancement of mission work by those who are obliged to remain at home. She described the foreign side of missions as being so broad as to be almost beyond the grasp of the workers. She told of the wonderful revivals in India, China and Africa, and read extracts from a letter written by a missionary in India, which showed that the work is most encouraging.

Miss Reade laid great stress on the open door in China, making it possible for missionaries to accomplish great things there, and how western ideas in the establishment of schools are being welcomed. The speaker reported that there are now 612 Baptist mission schools abroad and that during the past year there were 1,200 conversions. There are also 173 native Bible readers, in addition to the training schools for nurses and hospitals. There are now twenty-two distinct calls for mission workers abroad and only five are available.

Miss Reade referred to the anniversary meeting to be held at New Haven soon, and said that it was the sincere wish of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions that the year could be closed free of debt. To do this $25,000 must be secured. In closing she urged most earnest prayer on the part of the women and greater effort for the cause of both foreign and home missions.

A social hour followed and tea was served under the direction of the women, who were assisted in serving by several young women.

Senator Ackerman's Bills Signed.

Two bills introduced by State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman were signed yesterday by Governor Stokes. The first one, No. 40, gives consent of the State to the acquisition by the United States of State land for governmental use. No. 41 gives to government submerged land in the Delaware River, between the States of New Jersey and Delaware for the purpose of aiding in the improvement of the river.

Council Meeting on Monday.

The April meeting of the Common Council will be held Monday night, when among other things, it is expected that the annual tax budget will be presented for adoption.

HENNERY FIRE LEADS TO TWO CASUALTIES

DUNELLEN FIREMAN AND A WOMAN HURT, BUT CHICKENS ARE UNSCATHED

The hennery on the place of Charles A. Coriell, Jr., of Washington avenue, Dunellen, caught fire from burning grass shortly before noon today, and as a result Terence J. Ronayne, a fireman, will not be able to use his left foot for some time, and Mrs. Jacob Fisher will have to get along without her right arm for a while.

While riding to the fire on the truck, Ronayne fell off, and the wheels passed over his foot. No bones were broken, but the foot was badly bruised and wrenched. Mrs. Fisher tripped over the hose stretched from the cart at the fire, and broke her arm. Ronayne, Joe Maier, who keeps a hotel in Dunellen, and Harry Dodwell, were the only firemen in town when the alarm rang. The hennery burned down. None of the chickens were home.

Season of French and Italian Operas.

Oscar Hammerstein announces a season of Italian and French grand opera at the Manhattan Grand Opera House, New York, commencing with Monday night, April 1, which will mark the third appearance of Mme. Calve. "Carmen" will be given the opening night, to be followed on Wednesday night with "Martha," and "Carmen" again on Friday night. Saturday afternoon "Aida" will be presented and in the evening "Rigoletto. On Sunday night, April 7, the fifth Cleofonte Campanini Grand Sunday night concert will be given at popular prices. The subscription sale of seats for these operas is now open at the box office and an early selection is desirable.

Death of Chief Stagg's Son.

Frank W. Stagg, the twenty-year-old son of Chief John Stagg, of the Paterson fire department, died at a hospital in that city this morning. He accompanied the party of New Jersey chiefs, of which T. O. Doane, of this city, was a member, to Dallas, Texas, last year, to attend the convention. His mother, Mrs. Stagg, was stricken in a hotel at Dallas and died within a few minutes. The son was a great favorite with the members of the party and with the friends he had in this city.

Ice Fifty Cents a Hundred.

While the dealers who control the ice out-put in Plainfield and North Plainfield have not yet held a meeting to decide upon the price of ice for the coming season, in the opinion of one dealer it will be fifty cents a hundred. Last year the retail price was sixty cents a hundred. The usual reduction will be made in the wholesale price.

May Smites December.

Christopher Becker, 70 years old, swore out a complaint against his 30-year-old wife, before City Judge Runyon, this morning, accusing her of assault. He said she threw all the dishes in the house at him last night. He had a black eye and a lot of bruises. Mrs. Becker will be arraigned Monday.

New Market Fair.

Success marked the opening, last night, of the fair arranged by the women of the New Market Baptist church, at Friendship Hall, New Market. The booths, prettily decorated, were well patronized by the large crowd present. Mrs. A. G. Nelson is in general charge. The fair will close tonight.

Dribbling Scavengers.

One day this week it was noted that 130 pieces of paper, wood, etc., were to be seen on four blocks of street in the vicinity of Greenbrook road and Harrison avenue. Somebody will pay the penalty if it is continued.

Want Help In Man Hunt.

The Perth Amboy police telephoned to the local police at 3:10 this morning, asking the latter to help in searching for three Italians, who fled from the Middlesex seaport after shooting another Italian fatally.

Dunellen Realty Sale.

Through the agency of Robert L. Pierce a building on North avenue, Dunellen, owned by Bernard Suiski, of that place, has been sold to Fred Weland, of Brooklyn. The building consists of a store and flat.

Patronesses for Easter Dance.

The patronesses for the Easter dance to be held at the Park Club on Thursday night, April 4, are Mrs. Edward H. Ladd, Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Mrs. Walter M. McGee and Mrs. Charles A. Reed.

—John H. Doane has moved his real estate office from 221 Park avenue to 209 North avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Deming Davis, of Lakewood, are spending Easter at the home of Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bowen, of Watchung avenue.

DESCRIBES CANAL WORK

Former Mayor W. L. Saunders Speaks Highly of General Conditions in Panama.

SAW A BULL FIGHT

Butchery Was Too Much for Engineer Who Quit Scene After Three Animals Had Been Slaughtered.

When questioned by a Daily Press reporter, last night, with reference to his observations while on his recent trip to the Panama canal zone, former Mayor William L. Saunders, of the borough, related some interesting details of the great undertaking now being carried out by the government. As president of the Ingersoll-Rand Company, the country's largest concern for the manufacture of rock drills and air compressers which are an important factor in the digging of the big "ditch," he was in a position to note the engineering features and gained a very favorable impression of the pluck and perseverance of the Americans. According to his opinion, the big contract is steadily being completed and the work will only stop when the great waterway is finished and ships are making their way through it.

"In going through Mexico to Havana and thence to the Isthmus," said Mr. Saunders, "I was impressed by the fact that these countries, which we have always known as Spanish America, are rapidly becoming Americanized by the fact that the people from the United States are there in large number; they are investing capital in these countries and their influence is everywhere felt. There are 6,000 Americans in the city of Mexico living in a colony in one of the best parts of the city and they represent the progressive element of the community. American pluck and enterprise come to the front everywhere and while I do not expect to see it, yet it seems plain to me that the progress of events is sure to extend the domain of the United States much further south than the Texas boundary."

"I had expected all along to find the Isthmus of Panama something like a dismal swamp. Instead of that, I found it high and dry. The most striking impression one gets of the canal is that it runs across a pleasant country where the breeze blows all day long and where it is seldom warm except in the sun at mid-day.

"The sanitary conditions are admirable, streets are paved and sewered and the whole community gives one the impression of being a prosperous American colony. A trip on the Panama railroad from Colon to the Pacific doesn't differ in general appearance from a Sunday trip on a way train to the suburbs of Philadelphia.

"The canal is under way and in active operation throughout the line. The organization in charge of the work is a very superior one and the esprit de corps is perfect. During one of the days when I was there, reports came in that 33,642 cubic yards of material had been removed from the Culebra cut that day, this being the high water mark. At that rate the Culebra cut may be completed in seven years.

"As a matter of fact, the Culebra cut of which we hear so much, is nothing more than a great ditch and no serious engineering problem is involved there. This cut can best be understood by referring to the Watchung hills over in North Plainfield. Imagine an excavation through them eight miles in length and down to the level on the Plainfield streets, 200 feet wide at the bottom with sides sloping to a width of 1,000 feet or more at the top. Imagine these things and you have the Culebra cut.

"The Gatun dam is the great problem of the canal. This dam is intended to imprison the waters of the Chargres river, thus producing an inland lake, 110 square miles in area and deep enough to carry the ships over half the length of the Panama canal, the total distance of the canal being fifty miles. This dam is to be built of earth with a concrete core wall and its dimensions are about a mile and a half long, half a mile wide at the bottom, and it is as high as the roadway of the Brooklyn bridge is above water."

While he was in Mexico, Mr. Saunders witnessed a bull fight and his description of what the people in that country call sport is very interesting.

"I went to the affair," Mr. Saunders said, "as is the custom among all strangers and I saw what the people told me was one of the most desperate fights they have had in many years. I am glad I went because what took place would have taken place whether I was there or not and because my experience taught me that I must never go again. The bull never has a show but is brought

A rare treat is in store for the patrons of the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight, when George Ade's celebrated comic opera, "The Sultan of Sulu," will be presented with the original gorgeous scenic and costume equipment, which has characterized its successful career for the past five seasons. "The Sultan of Sulu" was long ago recognized as the standard for American light opera. It is a delicately prepared mixture of delightful music, beautiful scenes in dreamy tropic islands, dainty girls and remarkably clever dialogue. A little plot is thrown in to give the thing a flavor and the production is complete. You like it all because it is light enough for you to enjoy without having to sit and think. The situations are surprising—to attempt to describe them is impossible. The Sultan has eight wives, is dethroned, and divorced by American invaders, pines in a prison because he fails to pay the alimony, and finally is triumphant as the monarch of all.

Much has been written in the United States and abroad of the wonderful ensemble effects of the United States Marine Band of Washington but the real cause of it is little known. It comes from a thorough familiarity with music and musical instruments. It is just as easy for the whole sixty men to turn themselves into an orchestra of strings and reeds, as it is to use the instruments the Government pays them to play. And whatever instrument they play, the ensemble is the same. The band will appear at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday afternoon and night under the auspices of the local Elks.

A foolish New York Police—headed by a commissioner who had no more comprehension of the subtilities of Shaw, Ibsen or Macterlinck than an East side fish wife—elected to stop the first New York performance of "Mrs. Warren's Profession." This was a never-forgotten shock to the free thinking theatre-goers of the great American metropolis, the courageous students of the morbid drama, and most especially to George Bernard Shaw, the originator of the play. Virogous and far reaching work has undertaken and exactly six months after the performers and managers were subpoenaed. Three of New York's most learned judges set in judgment profound, and decided that "Mrs. Warren's Profession" was a play with a mission and its presentation was quite within the jurisdiction and under the protection of the law. As a consequence the doors of the Manhattan theatre were thrown open to the public, who flocked and strove for seats week after week, and the sensation seekers and morbidly inclined, who gathered for live wire jolts went forth to praise one of the best constructed plays they had witnessed in years. The play will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night.

EARNED, NOT BOUGHT.

Such is the Reputation of "The Little Conqueror" in Plainfield.

How hard it often is to earn and maintain a good reputation, and how easy it is to lose one. As with a man's reputation, so it is with other things in life. Some things achieve a reputation which stays with them. They are founded on intrinsic value. They face the public backed up by honesty, and work their wayp quietly but thoroughly. Plainfield people want no better proof of the merit than it contained in the following experience of a citizen:

Oliver H. Voorhees the printer, living at 21 Stone street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I was suffering from kidney weakness for a long time, due, probably, to my being compelled to be on my feet so much of the time. On arising in the morning, I would find myself very weak, and suffering from a severe pain in the back and sides, accompanied with headache. The kidney secretions were of bad odor, and the desire to pass them was too frequent. I could not seem to find either a doctor to cure me, or a medicine that would help me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Randolph's pharmacy. Before I took three baxes I was relieved of my aches and pains, and my kidneys were well again."

The Judge Uses Forceful Language.

Judge W. B. Simmons, of Fincastle, Va., told the reporter that L. & M. Paint was used on his residence in 1882, and held its color well for 21 years; he furthermore said that 3 years ago he was induced to use another paint and is sorry he did, because the other paint didn't make good. The Judge will now always use L. & M., because he knows if any defect exists in L. & M. Paint the house will be repainted for nothing.

The L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes L. & M. Paint wear like iron for 10 to 15 years.

NEW BRUNSWICK BUDGET.

Bonds Will Have to Be Issued in Order to Reduce Tax Rate.

New Brunswick, March 30.—In order to reduce its budget for the next year, so that the tax rate can be reduced ten points, in accordance with the State law, the Common Council has decided to issue five bonds for $11,000 for the purchase of two new fire engines and a hose wagon for the fire department. The placing of this amount in the budget would have crippled other appropriations. At the recent $600,000 wallpaper factory fire here two of the engines of the department, which had been in service forty years, collapsed.

The Council adopted a budget of $117,600, which is $7,400 less than the budget of last year. The Aldermen had desired to increase the appropriation, but owing to other demands it could not be done, and the city police force will not be enlarged this year.

Regarding the complaint that the Public Service Corporation was running castoff flat-wheeled cars in this city, the Council decided not to take any further action, on the promise of the officials of the company to abate the nuisance.

TO THE PUBLIC!

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company offer for subscription its stock in amounts to suit purchasers from $25 upward.

The Watchung Ice and Cold Storage Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of erecting a dam to accumulate waters and form a large lake in the upper basin of the Watchung Mountains, for the purpose of ice cutting, and also erecting houses for storing the same. The lake thus formed will be approximately a mile long and a quarter of a mile at its widest part, and will yield a large quantity of ice.

The company, under the management of a Board of able Directors, will endeavor to reduce the cost of construction, maintenance, etc., to a minimum, and thus be able to fill the demand of the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at a low price, while at the same time it will sell the remainder of the ice to outside markets at prices which will yield large profits.

It is the intention of the Board of Directors to sell the shares of the capital stock of the Company to residents of Plainfield, North Plainfield and vicinity, and thus allow them the privilege of sharing in the profits of the Company in the shape of dividends at the end of each year. To place this plan within the reach of all consumers of ice and to carry out the idea of a mutual Company, the Company will issue its stock in $25 shares.

As the Company is not to issue any bonds against its property it is obvious that each and all share holders will be doubly secured and will have first claim on the property and the works, the same being free and clear in every respect, and further are assured against loss in each step that the Company takes in bringing the project to completion as follows: First. The Company has already received offers for lake site at a considerable advance on the price that the stockholders will pay for it.

Second. The price paid for building dam will be over four times secured by the lake thus formed, a body of pure water of this size within so short a distance of New York being extremely valuable.

Third. Money expended for Icehouses will complete the plant. The completed plant such as is proposed to erect should be worth on conservative estimation three times the total capitalization of the Company.

In securing the Directors of this Company, special effort was taken to get men of financial standing and ability, of character and good repute; men not only at the head of different prosperous corporations but also men holding public respect and confidence. This was done as the Company intends to be a People's Company, and, therefore, wishes to be directed by men of the people and by the people themselves:

The officers of the Company are:

President, Mr. Henry C. Wicker, Treasurer and Secretary of the Nassau Bond Company.

Vice-President, Mr. Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

Treasurer, Mr. J. Fred MacDonald, Director of the City National Bank.

Secretary, Mr. John J. Lordan, a Lawyer in New York City.

The Directors of the Company are:

Newton B. Smalley, Mayor of North Plainfield.

J. F. MacDonald, Director of City National Bank.

H. C. Wicker, Secretary and Treasurer of the Nassau Bond Company.

C. M. Wicker, President of the Nassau Bond Company.

E. G. F. du Mazuel, President of the Consolidated Engineering Company of America.

Applications are being received for the unsold portion of the capital stock of the Company at the office of Mr. W. dela R. Anderson, 208 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., and at the office of Thad. Doane, Jr., 216 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., at which offices subscription blanks and all detailed information relative to the above may be obtained.

The Company has chosen a local bank in which all funds, securities and moneys are to be deposited and through which all the Company's business is to be done.

SAVED MONEY FOR DIVORCE, NOT FOR HUSBAND.

Decree Recommended for Woman Who Says Defendant Frequented Race Tracks.

A report of testimony taken in the suit for divorce of Mrs. Lillian G. Tierney, of No. 243 York street, Jersey City, against John R. Tierney, an alleged follower of the thoroughbreds without a fixed residence, has been filed in the Chancery Court at Trenton by Thomas J. Kennedy, to whom the case was referred.

Mr. Kennedy recommends a decree for Mrs. Tierney. Desertion is alleged. The couple were married in Long Islaid City Sept. 5, 1896. During the Exposition in Buffalo in 1901 they conducted a hotel there. That fall Tierney went to New Orleans to follow the races, leaving his wife in Jersey City.

They corresponded affectionately and Mrs. Tierney saw her husband briefly during the next two years. He had a habit of asking for a few dollars. In November, 1903, Mrs. Tierney wrote to him that she intended to follow him to New Orleans, and she received a prompt answer in which Tierney wrote:

"For God's sake, keep away. Haven't I trouble enough? But if you have any money you don't know what to do with, remember me."

They met again in the spring of 1904, when he came North. He made promises of what splendid things he would do for her at some definite time. Then Mrs. Tierney began to save up for her divorce expenses. They have no children.

KNIGHT TEMPLAR DOCTORS AN UNPRECEDENTED ARRAY.

Thirtieth Triennial Encampment Will Boast the Champion Hospital Corps of Noted Specialists.

Saratoga, March 30.—One of the oddest hospitals ever brought into existence will be established overnight on July 7. The thirtieth triennial encampment of the Knights Templar of the United States will begin its sessions on July 9, and the encampment committee has completed arrangements for the establishment of a hospital for the knights. Several hundred commanderies will be represented, and each body will assign one of its medical members to hospital duty in accordance to a request sent out.

The hospital will not only be perfectly equipped, but from letters already received, it is assured that the hospital will boast the largest staff of specialists ever brought together on one staff. More than one hundred prominent physicians from all over the country have already signified their willingness to serve, and when all arrangements are completed, it is probable that the staff will number some three hundred.

Twenty-five thousand Sir Knights will participate in the parade, and the medical staff will be distributed along the four mile line of march, to offer immediate aid.

TO LAUNCH SILZER BOOM.

His Friends Think He Is Gubernatorial Timber.

It is rumored that the New Brunswick Democratic Club will launch a Gubernatorial boom for Senator Geo. S. Silzer next Tuesday night, when the club will give a dinner at the Mansion House in that city in honor of the birthday of Jefferson.

The fact of Mr. Silzer's carrying a Republican county last year gives him the necessary strength, his friends claim. Politicians in this part of the State believe that the fight between Hudson and Essex Democrats will preclude a candidate from either place. This would eliminate Senator Minturn, Charles C. Black and Speaker Lethbridge.

How City Government Was Saved.

Senator Hutchinson's bill for the relief of conditions in Bridgeton, whereby the city may be governed by five commissioners and a mayor, which applied equally to Plainfield, was prevented from affecting this city by an amendment offered by Senator Ackerman. The amendment made the bill applicable to cities of less than 17,000 inhabitants. Plainfield has passed the 17,000 mark.

The soloists will be Mrs. Theodore Mantz, soprano; William J. Tallamy, tenor; Arthur H. Chamberlain, bass.

Crescent Avenue Presbyterian.

The programme for both morning and evening services at the Crescent Avenue church will not depart to any great extent from those ordinarily arranged, but one or two numbers will be added by the choir. Dr. Zelie will preach and as is customary the pulpit will be elaborately decorated. The musical programmes will be as follows:

Evening — Prelude, Coronation March, Meyerbeer; anthem, "Awake! Put on Thy Strength," Case; chant, "Christ Our Passover; response, "Grant, We Beseech Thee;" offertory, "The Lord is Risen," Sullivan; anthem, "As it Began to Dawn," Buck; postlude, Grand Choeur, Hollins. Evening—Prelude, "War March of the Priests," Mendelssohn; anthem, "Sing Ye to the Lord," Lloyd; response, "Father in Heaven;" offertory, "They Have Taken Away My Lord," Stainer; postlude, "Easter March," Merkel.

Monroe Avenue Church.

Music is to be a feature at the Monroe Avenue services in the morning and evening. Rev. E. E. Roberson will occupy the pulpit and preach sermons appropriate to the day. The Sunday-school will have a programme of carols and recitations in the afternoon.

Warren Chapel.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey will occupy the pulpit at Warren chapel's morning and evening services and instrumental music will assist the congregational singing. The usual Sunday-school exercises will be held in the afternoon at the usual hour.

Hope Chapel.

Rev. L. R. Howard will preach Easter sermons morning and evening at Hope chapel and at both services special music will be rendered by a chorus choir in charge of S. B. Howe. At the morning service there will be baptism of children. The Sunday-school will have its exercises in the afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock.

Park Avenue Baptist.

Special Easter services will be held at the Park Avenue Baptist church, tomorrow morning and evening, the musical programmes being in charge of Charles L. Lewis and a chorus choir, assisted by the church orchestra. In the morning the pastor, Rev. A. E. Finn, will preach on the topic, "Meeting the Risen Christ." The in before, as in this case, 10,000 people, and is simply butchered to make a Mexican holiday. They killed seven bulls this particular day but three was all I could stand.

"The killing of the bull is not so bad as the treatment of the horses. The most desperate bull they had there was a mouse-colored animal of such ferocity that before they could tire him out to the point where he might be approached with the sword, they ran six horses into the ring, each one carrying an armor covered rider. I saw the bull throw two of these horses practically over his head and he gored the other so desperately that their entrails dragged upon the ground."

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

Of unusual importance is the announcement made by Managers Wagenhals & Kemper that a new play of Washington life, called "The Ambitious Mrs. Alcott," is to be produced for the first time on any stage, at the Astor theatre, on Monday. It is a play by Leo Ditrichstein and Percival Pollard, and is particularly notable because its story involves that element of society which is more directly associated with the diplomatic world. The attention that this play will receive is foreshadowed in the remarks of an ambassador, who said: "Many efforts have been put forth from time to time to introduce Washington life on the stage, but to my mind in 'The Ambitious Mrs. Alcott' the atmosphere of what is necessarily a most exclusive set has been preserved in a manner which is reality itself. I cannot understand how anyone who is not a member of the diplomatic corps could have written such a play. There are certain conventional forms that are known to everyone, but there are also certain informals things that are only known to a limited few. How in the world these authors got such exclusive information in the play, I certainly cannot figure out."

Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger will present Mr. Kyrle Bellew at Wallack's theatre for two weeks only, beginning next Monday evenin, April 1, in "A Marriage of Reason," a new drama by J. Hartley Manners, never before seen in New York. This play is frankly a drama of fashion. It deals with noblemen and noblewomen. The action is rapid and intensely interesting, crowded with incident and replete with original situations. Throughout it moves on the very highest plane of life; yet withal, the characters are human, moved by human motives. Miss Fannie Ward comes fresh from London triumphs to play the role of the glorious American girl. Having made a great match herself, and having achieved fame upon the British and American stages, Miss Ward is eminently suited for the exacting role, which requires, in addition to histrionic talent, stunning beauty and wonderful gowns. The cast is the classiest imaginable. A patrician play requires players who have moved in that atmosphere and to whom the club, the boudoir, the opera box and the country house are part of their everyday life. Such have been found in Frederic de Belleville, Conway Tearle, J. K. Adams, C. Russell Sage, R. L. Smith, Master Richard Storey, Miss Julia Dean, Miss Margaret Fuller and Miss Maum Ream Stover.

LITERARY.

Effective variety is what we are accustomed to look for in the make-up of the Atlantic Monthly, but this quality seems especially noteworthy in the current April number. Three, at least, of the articles will make a strong claim upon the attention of men of affairs. "Mutual Life Insurance—The Case for the Agent" is a vigorous and clear-headed defense of the agent's rights against the attacks of his critics. It is written from the inside,—by a man who knows from experience what sound insurance means. In "The New Tariff Era," R. L. Bridgman states the causes that have brought about the present widespread and determined movement against our superannuated tariff system. E. A. Ross, whose recent scathing denunciation of "The Criminaloid" has aroused so much discussion, appears again with an article suggestivel yentitled "The Grilling of Sinners." It is time that truths like this should be uttered, and Professor Ross does not mince words.

Bear hunting in the Rocky Mountains is pretty exciting sport anywhere you find it. Nowhere is it more so than down in the seouthern end of the Rockies in the northern New Mexico, and especially in the heavily timbered canyons of the rugged peaks in the Pecos River Forest Reserve. This country's chief attraction is that it is little known by sportsmen generally, and it is so remote and unfrequented that it is a happy hunting ground for the favored few who invade its fastnesses. There are bears in the Pecos country. In fact the "woods are full of them." This fact will be mournfully attested by the ranchmen who live along the river and the cattlemen who have herds grazing up on some of the grassy slopes of the higher mountains. It is a good place for Bruin. The canyons are deep and dark, and the aspen and spruce and pine forests are dense, and in places almost impenetrable. The mountain streams are lined with thick shrubbery. There are silver-tip grizzlies in plenty, cinnamon bears and black bears. In certain seasons their depredations on stock are frightful. At times they appear to slaughter the stock just for amusement. "Bear signs" are always to be found. Sometimes they are more than mere "signs"—big boulders pulled up on of their sockets and rolled down the mountain side by the hungry animal looking for succulent worms or insects, bushes torn and trampled where he has been pulling down berries, logs torn apart and thrown about where he has been searching for grubs.—E. Dana Johnson in April Recreation.

When Congress was in session during the winter the railroad interests were arguing strongly against the tendency toward centralization. They talked much and eagerly about the sovereignty of the States and the disposition of President Roosevelt to invade the sphere of the several commonwealths. But now that Congress is adjourned, these same railroad interests have been declaiming with equal earnestness against the tendency on the part of the State legislatures to regulate the highways of commerce, and declare that the only proper thing is national regulation. They have not only been asking the States to defer action in order that the national policy may be carried out, but they were even appealing to President Roosevelt to meddle in the affairs of the States by trying to persuade Governors and legislatures to drop pending measures. This, of course, is something that it was manifestly impossible for the President to do. It is obvious enough, meanwhile, that the larger aspects of railway control must belong definitely to the central Government. On the other hand, there will remain a great deal that will lie within the proper sphere of the particular States. There need be no conflict, either in principle or in practice. The general standards of railroad administration must be fixed by Congress and the Interstate Commerce Commission; but there are many smaller lines of railroad lying wholly within States and subject only to State jurisdiction. The States may very properly increase the power conferred upon their railroad commissions and may deal with rate questions and taxation questions as they deem best. The railroads have recourse to the courts in case of arbitrary or unruly severe action; but meanwhile, their best recourse is, in the spirit of candor and frankness, to the people and to the public authorities. They should help rather than hinder honest politics.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for April.

THEATRICAL BAGGAGE IS REMOVED IN BOATS.

Miss Julia Sanderson Has a Watery Experience at the Grand Opera House, Pittsburg, But Wins Out.

Stage people have many funny experiences on the road, buit it is seldom they encounter such an extraordinary one as did Miss Julia Sanderson, the vaudeville artist, at the Grand Opera House, in Pittsburg, during the recent flood in that city.

During the last day of her week's stay at the theatre the water rose with such rapidity that the basement of the theatre, where the actors' trunks were stored, was filled to the brim with water. When the time for moving came, boats were necessary to get them to dry land.

Miss Sanderson had an unusually hard time of it, as she carries six trunks, filled with handsome gowns she uses in her act. The prices charged by the local boatmen soared to the sky, and they made no exception in her case. As it was necessary that she identify her baggage, the little actress was forced to get in a row boat and accompany the men to the theatre.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

The Hon. Mrs. Harbord, of London, has made a successful balloon trip across the English channel. She is the second woman to cross in a balloon.

Miss Bertha W. Becker, of Chalfont, Pa., who recently received a commission as notary public, is one of the youngest in the country. She attained her majority a short time ago.

A professor at Berne university is Mlle. Gertrude Woker. She is twenty-six and passed all her examinations some time ago with great distinction. She lectures on physics and chemistry.

One of the most active women in New England is Mrs. Betsey Coons, of Winsted, Conn., who claims to be ninety-nine years old. She earns her living by doing general housework, washing, ironing, etc.

When Mrs. W. A. Clark, wife of the former Montana Senator, entertains in their Massachusetts avenue home, Mrs. Clark gives her guests a genuine treat in a harp recital. She is a cultured musician, especially skillful on the harp.

Teresa Billington, one of the boldest and most aggressive of London's "suffragettes," was married recently to a Glasgow Scot named Frederick Greig, who is manager of a billiard saloon. In the marriage certificate the bride is described as a "woman suffrage organizer."

Heiress apparent to $200,000,000 Senora Creel, wife of the new Mexican ambassador, is the richest woman of the diplomatic set in Washington, where many are rich. Enrique C. Creel, the ambassador, is far from poor, but his $24,000,000 dwindles to paltry insignificance when ranged beside his wife's huge fortune.

The Utilitarian Age.

The more picturesque the country the more inevitable it appears to be that its beauty must be menaced and in most instances eventually much impaired by the erection of a hideous line of telephone posts, with their relentless reminder that we live in an age in which the beautiful has constantly to be sacrificed to the useful.—Country Life.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, administrator of Amos Moffett, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the twenty-fourth day of April next.

THE PLUM TREE

BY DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS

AUTHOR OF THE COST. THE DELUGE. Etc.

COPYRIGHTED 1905 BY BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY.

I made up my mind that mother and I must leave Pulaski, that I must give up the law and must, in Chicago or Cleveland, get something to do that would bring in a living at once. Before I found courage to tell her that which would blast hopes wrapped round and rooted in her very heart, and, fortunately, before I had to confess to her the debts I had made, Edward Ramsay threw me a life-line.

He came bustling into my office one afternoon, big and broad, and obviously pleased with himself, and, therefore, with the world. He had hardly changed in years since we were at Ann Arbor together. He had kept up our friendship, and had insisted on visiting me several times, though not in the past four years, which had been as busy for him as for me. Latterly his letters urging me to visit him at their great country place, away at the other end of the state, had set me a hard task of inventing excuses.

"Well, well!" he exclaimed, shaking my hand violently in both his. "You wouldn't come to see me, so I've come to you."

I tried not to show the nervousness this announcement stirred. "I'm afraid you'll find our hospitality rather uncomfortable," was all I said. Mother and I had not spread much sail to our temporary gust of prosperity; and, when the storm began to gather, she straightway close-reefed.

"Thanks, but I can't stop with you this time," said he. "I'm making an inspection of the Power Trust's properties, and I've got mother and sister along. We're living in the private car the company gives me for the tour." He went on to tell how, since his father's death, he had been forced into responsibilities, and was, among many other things, a member of the Power trust's executive committee.

Soon came the inevitable question: "And how are you getting on?"

"So, so," replied I; "not too well, just at the present. I was beaten, you know, and have to go back to my practice in January."

"Wish you lived in my part of the state," said he. "But the Ramsay company hasn't anything down here." He reflected a moment, then beamed. "I can get you the legal business of the Power trust if you want it," he said. "Their lawyer down here goes on the bench, you know—he was on the ticket that won. Roebuck wanted a good, safe, first-class man on the bench in this circuit."

But he added nothing more about the Power trust vacancy at Pulaski. True, my first impulse was that I couldn't and wouldn't accept; also, I told myself it was absurd to imagine they would consider me. Still, I wished to hear, and his failure to return to the subject settled once more the cloud his coming had lifted somewhat.

Mother was not well enough to have the Ramsays at the house that evening, so I dined with them in the car. Mrs. Ramsay was the same simple, silent, ill-at-ease person I had first met at the Ann Arbor commencement—probably the same that she had been ever since her husband's wealth and her children's infection with new-fangled ideas had forced her from the plain ways of her youth. I liked her, but I was not so well pleased with her daughter. Carlotta was then 22, had abundant, noticeably nice brown hair, an indifferent skin, pettish lips, and restless eyes, a little too close together—a spoiled willful young woman, taking to herself the deference that had been paid chiefly to her wealth. She treated me as if I were a candidate for her favor whom she was testing so that she might decide whether she would be graciously pleased to tolerate me.

Usually, superciliousness has not disturbed me. It is a cheap and harmless pleasure of cheap and harmless people. But just at that time my nerves were out of order, and Miss Ramsay's airs of patronage "got" on me. I proceeded politely to convey to her the impression that she did not attract me, that I did not think her worth while—this, not through artful design of interesting by piquing, but simply in the hope of rasping upon her as she was rasping upon me. When I saw that I was gaining my point, I ignored her. I tried to talk with Ed., then with his mother, but neither would interfere between me and Carlotta. I had to talk to her until she voluntarily lapsed into offended silence. Then Ed, to save the evening from disaster began discussing with me the fate of our class-mates. I saw that Carlotta was studying me curiously—even resentfully, I thought; and she was coldly polite when I said good night.

She and her mother called on my mother the next morning. "And what a nice girl Miss Ramsay is—so sensible, so intelligent, and so friendly!" said my mother, relating the incident of the visit in minute detail when I went home at noon.

"I didn't find her especially friendly," said I. Whereat I saw, or fancied I saw, a smile deep down in her eyes—and it set me to thinking.

In the afternoon Ed looked in at my office in the court house to say good-by. "But first, old man, I want to tell you I got that place for you. I thought I had better use the wire. Old Roebuck is delighted—telegraphed me to close the arrangements at once—congratulated me on being able to get you. I knew it'd be so. He has his eyes skinned for bright young men—all those big men have. Whenever a fellow, especially a bright young lawyer shows signs of ability, they scoop him in."

"I can't believe it," I said, dazed. "I've been fighting him four four years—hard."

"That's it!" said he. "And don't you fret about it being a case of trying to heap coals of fire on your head. Roebuck don't use the fire shovel for that sort of thing. He's snapping you up because you've shown him what you can do. That's the way to get on nowadays, they tell me. Whenever the fellows on top find the chap especially one in public office, who makes it hot for them, they hire him. Good business all around."

Thus, so suddenly that it giddied me, I was translated from failure to success, from poverty to affluence, from the most harassing anxiety to ease and security. Two months before I should have rejected the Power trust's offer with scorn, and should have gloried in my act as proof of superior virtue. But in those crucial two months I had been apprentice to the master whom all men that ever come to anything in this world must first serve. I had reformed my line of battle, had adjusted it to the lines laid down in tactics of Life-as-it-is.

Before I was able to convince myself that my fortunes had really changed, Ed Ramsay telegraphed me to call on him in Fredonia on business of his own. It proved to be such a trifle that I began to puzzle at his real reason for sending for me. When he spun that trifle out over ten days, on each of which I was alone with Carlotta at least half my waking hours, I thought I had the clew to the mystery. I saw how I could increase the energy of his new enthusiasm for me, and, also, how I could cool it, if I wished to be rash and foolish and to tempt fate again.

"Oh, the business didn't amount to much," was my answer to one of my mother's first questions, on my return. She smiled peculiarly. In spite of my efforts, the red came—at least I felt red.

"How did you like his sister?" she went on, again with that fluttering smile in the eyes only.

"A very nice girl," said I, in anything but a natural manner. My mother expression teased me into adding: "Don't be silly. Nothing of that sort. You are always imagining that every one shares your opinion of me. She isn't likely to fall in love with me. Certainly I shan't with her."

Mother's silence somehow seemed argumentative.

"I couldn't marry a girl for her money," I retorted.

"Of course not," rejoined mother. "But there are other things to marry for besides money or love—other things more sensible than either. For instance, there are the principal things—home and children."

I was listening with an open mind.

"The glamour of courtship and honeymoon passes," she went on. "Then comes the suber business of living—your career and your home. The woman's part in both is better played if there isn't the sort of love that is exacting, always interfering with the career, and making the home life a succession of ups and downs, mostly downs."

"Carlotta is very ambitious," said I.

"Ambitious for her husband," replied my mother, "as a sensible woman should be. She appreciates that a woman's best chance for big dividends in marriage is by being the silent partner in her husband's career. She'll be very domestic when she has children. I saw it the instant I looked at her. She has the true maternal instinct. What a man who's going to amount to something needs isn't a woman to be taken care of, but a woman to take care of him."

She said no more—she had made her point; and when she had done that, she always stopped.

Within a month Ed Ramsay sent for me again, but this time it was business alone. I found him in a panic, like a man facing an avalanche and armed only with a shovel. Dunkirk, the senior United States senator for our state, lived at Fredonia. He had seen that, by tunneling the Mesaba range, a profitable railroad between Fredonia and Chicago could be built that would shorten the time at least three hours. But it would take about half the carrying business of the Ramsay company, besides seriously depreciating the Ramsay interest in the existing road. "And," continued Ed, "the old scoundrel has got the capital practically subscribed in New York. The people here are hot for the new road. It'll be sure to carry at the special election, next month. He has the governor and legislature in his pocket, so they'll put through the charter next winter."

"I don't see that anything can be done," said Ed's lawyer, old Judge Barclay, who was at the consultation. "It means a big rake-off for Dunkirk. Politics is on a money basis nowadays. That's natural enough, since there is money to be made out of it. I don't see how those in politics that don't graft, as they call it, are any better than those that do. Would they get office if they didn't help on the jobs of the grafters? I suppose we might buy Dunkirk off."

"What do you think, Harvey?" asked Ed, looking anxiously at me. "We've got to fight the devil with fire, you know."

I shook my head. "Buying him off isn't fighting—it's surrender. We must fight him—with fire."

I let them talk themselves out, and then said: "Well, I'll take it to bed with me. Perhaps something will occur to me that can be worked up into a scheme."

In fact, I had already thought of a scheme, but before suggesting it I wished to be sure it was as good as it seemed. Also, there was a fundamental moral obstacle—the road would be a public benefit; it ought to be built. That moral problem caused most of my wakefulness that night, simple though the solution was when it finally came. The first thing Ed said to me, as we faced each other alone at breakfast, showed me how well spent those hours were.

"About this business of the new road," said he. "If I were the only party at interest, I'd let Dunkirk go ahead, for it's undoubtedly a good thing from the public standpoint. But I've got to consider the interests of all those I'm trustee for—the other share holders in the Ramsay company and in our other concerns here."

"Yes," replied I," but why do you say Dunkirk intends to build the road? Why do you take that for granted?"

"He's all ready to do it, and it'd be a money-maker from the start."

"But," I went on, "you must assume that he has no intention of building, that he is only making an elaborate bluff. How do you know but that he wants to get this right of way and charter so that he can blackmail you and your concerns, not merely once, but year after year? You'd gladly pay him several hundred thousand a year not to use his charter and right of way, wouldn't you?"

"I never thought of that!" exclaimed Ed. "I believe you're right, Harvey, and you've taken a weight off my conscience. There's nothing like a good lawyer to make a man see straight. What an infernal hound old Dunkirk is!"

"And," I went on, "if he should build the road, what would he do with it? Why, the easiest and biggest source of profit would be to run big excursions every Saturday and Sunday, especially Sunday, into Fredonia. He'd fill the place every Sunday from May till November, with roistering roughs from the slums of Chicago. How'd the people like that?"

"He wouldn't dare," objected Ramsay, stupidly insisting on leaning backward in his determination to stand straight. "He's a religious hypocrite. He's afraid."

"As Deacon Dunkirk he wouldn't dare," I replied. "But as the Chicago & Fredonia Short Line he'd dare anything, and nobody would blame him personally. You know how that is."

Ed was looking at me in dazed admiration. "Then," I went on, "there are the retail merchants of Fredonia. Has it ever occurred to them, in their excitement in favor of this road, that it'll ruin them? Where will the shopping be done if the women can get to Chicago in two hours and a half?"

"You're right, you're right!" exclaimed Ed, rising to pace the floor in his agitation. "Bully for you, Harvey! We'll show the people that the road'll ruin the town morally and financially."

GOLF.

A meeting of the State Committee of the New Jersey Golf Association was held this week to discuss matters relative to the championship tournament to be held at the Baltusrol Golf Club the first week in June. A year book is to be brought out, small, but brimful of fact, and J. Whitney Baker, of this city, a member of the committee, will edit it.

P. H. S. '08 Wins Again.

The basketball five of the freshmen class of the Plainfield High School met the juniors yesterday in a game on the P. H. S. court and were defeated by the score 34 to 6. The series of inter-class games are drawing rapidly to a close this one being the last for the freshmen. The line-up:

Referee, Matthewson; umpire, Parsons; timer, Kyte.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Suburban Baseball Club, of which James Penney is the manager, has received its new uniforms and will hold its first practice this afternoon on the old Clinton Avenue grounds. The team has about completed its schedule, a majority of the games being away from home.

PERSONAL.

David J. Carney, of the Monarch Printing Company, left today to spend Easter with friends in New Haven.

The arrival of an eight-pound boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John VanHorn, of Duer street, this morning, is the cause of much rejoicing, ing, is the cause of much rejoicing.

Misses Blanche and Daisy Randolph, of New York, formerly of Central avenue, have been spending the past few days with their sister, Mrs. Judson Bonnell, of East Front street.

"CENTRAL PARK"

Was——Is——Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm.

IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences.

Central Park is that beautifully situated tract bounded by Park, Prospect, Hillside and Thornton Avenues.

Lots selling rapidly—Prices very low—Great investment or speculative opportunities.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

VACUUM CLEANER COMPANY

427 FIFTH AVENUE

NEW YORK

THE VACUUM CLEANER COMPANY has quadrupled its portable wagon service for 1907, owing to the immense popularity of the Vacuum Cleaner during 1906.

The people of New York and vicinity recognize the Vacuum System as the only quick, thorough and sanitary method of removing dust from carpets, tapestries, etc.

With our new automobile portable wagons we will contract for removing dust from carpet, etc., by Vacuum System within thirty miles of New York.

All cities within thirty miles of New York will enjoy the advantage New York has in having carpets, rugs, tapestries, furniture, etc., cleaned without removal.

We will clean your country house before you occupy it in the Spring and your town house before you return in the Fall. Call, write, phone or wire
